Basketball Season Begins

Santa Anna High School basketball got underway this week, with games on Tuesday with the teams from Early High School.

The Santa Anna boys and girls are defending champions of District 22-A and are expecting to have another good season.

Gerald Brister is coach of the girls team and expecting some fine action from the ten on the varsity squad. They include last year's starters Holly Smith, a senior, Connie Culpepper, a junior, and Lesha Eubank, a sophomore. Moving up from the junior varsity team and other newcomers are Gayle McCreary, junior, and JoAnn Collins, senior, on the starting lineup, and also Patricia Bible, junior; Yolanda Kirven, Cheryl Mitchell and Brenda Jackson, sophomores; and Dilcy Kirven, freshman.

Those gone from last year's varsity team are Julie Jones, Robbie Clifton and Patricia Jackson.

Although the lady Mountaineers are not as tall as last year, they have added some speed and experience. The team will have good depth this season, Brister says.

Coach Charles Brewster will coach the boys varsity team. He led the Mountaineers to two previous district titles since coming to Santa Anna.

Randy Casey, a senior, is the only returning starter. Others returning from the 1981 varsity team are senior Ricky Anderson and sophomore Doug Warnock. Moving up from the junior varsity squad are juniors Johnny Casey and Paille Vasquez and sophomores Don Warrick and Chris DeLeon. Other newcomers are senior Steve Hughes, sophomores Ike Garza and John Morris, and freshmen Ramon Vasquez, Shelby Tuttle, Russell Williams, Johnny Harrod, James Wray and Shawn Harper.

Those who graduated or moved away since last season are Brad Wardlow, Mike Simmons, Albert Collins, David Strickland, Tony Culpepper, Ernest DeLeon and James Bass.

The Mountaineers will entertain Cross Plains Tuesday, November 30, with a girls junior varsity game starting at 5:30 p.m. Other games on the immediate schedule will be tournament play at Talpa December 2-4.

The Mountaineers are in the district with Novice, Lohn, Brookesmith, Mozelle and Talpa. Rochelle was re-assigned to a new district this year.

District 8-A Teams Lose In Playoffs

District 8-A failed to get a team into the football playoffs as both representatives lost in bi-district action last Friday night.

Goldthwaite, the champions of the district, lost to the Eden team 35-20, while runner-up Gorman was soundly defeated by Roscoe 47-0. Roscoe was leader in District 7-A and Eden was runner-up for the district title. The two teams will play for the Bi-District title this weekend.

For the first time, a playoff series is held for the two top teams in each district, giving the runners-up a second chance to advance.

Goldthwaite and Eden were ranked in the top ten in Class A. Meridian, the second ranked team, lost to Knox City in the Friday night playoffs.

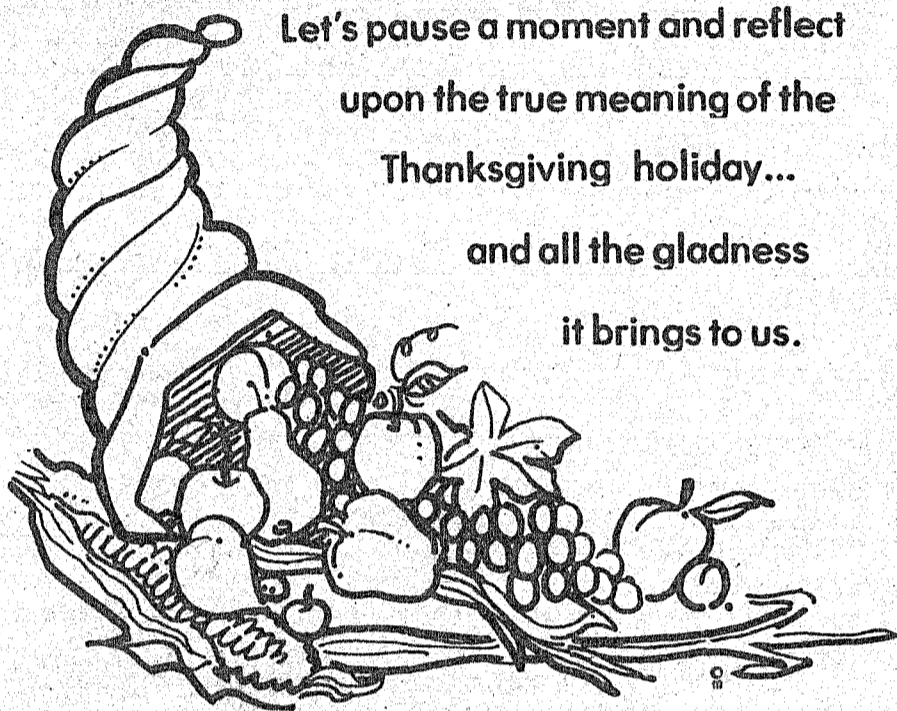

School Holidays For Thanksgiving

Santa Anna school students will resume classes Monday, November 29, after a long holiday weekend. School was dismissed at the close of classes Wednesday for the observance of Thanksgiving.

Most businesses in town are closed today in observance of the holiday.

We Are Thankful FOR ALL OUR BLESSINGS

Let's pause a moment and reflect upon the true meaning of the Thanksgiving holiday... and all the gladness it brings to us.

Ex-Student Football Game Slated in Bangs Next Saturday

The 1982 Central Texas Super Bowl will be held at the Bangs Football Stadium Saturday, November 27, to climax the local football season.

The annual contest between ex-students of the two schools is a benefit for the Athletic Booster Clubs of the two towns, and will begin at 3 p.m.

With this year's game the fourth to be held, Santa Anna has won two of the previous three games. The first time the two teams met was in 1979 in Santa Anna, and the team playing on their home field has won each year.

Referees for the game will be volunteers from the Brownwood S.O.F.A. chapter, with the game played as a full-contact sport with the same rules and equipment as the high school games.

Wiburn Bible and Derriel Warnock will be coaching the 1982 Santa Anna squad. Quarterbacks will be former Mountaineer stars Tommy Harris and Rusty Buzzard.

A long list of former students makes up the roster, with some of the group including the following: Dwayne and Mike Warnock, Bruce Pape, Mike Pritchard, Mike Salazar, Marty Warnock, Roddy and Rocky Dean, Jody Day, Albert and Wallace Collins, Albert and Arthur DeLeon, Salvador Salazar, Jeremy Holbrook, John Rendon, Billy Diaz and Lynn Loyd. Several others are expected to take part, according to Booster Club spokesman Jim Spillman.

Admission to the game will be $3 for adults and $1.50 for students. A concession stand will be operated by the Bangs club.

Proceeds from the game will be divided between the two clubs to be used for their projects during the year.

According to Spillman, practice sessions for the Santa Anna teams have been scheduled for 9:30 Thursday (today) and again at 10 a.m. Saturday.

The game promises to be an exciting one with lots of good football action. All football fans are encouraged to attend and support the local team.

Vandalism is one thing I don't understand. From the earliest age I was taught to respect and care for my property and that of others, and in turn expected others to do the same. But more and more frequently we are seeing property defaced and destroyed for no apparent reason.

Just this week more acts of vandalism have occurred in our community. Several highway signs have been pushed down or uprooted - left for the Highway Department to repair or replace at the taxpayers' expense.

I can't imagine what amusement there might be in pushing down signs along the roadway. Or for that matter, breaking windows in vacant buildings, painting obscenities in public places or other destructive action.

Our coldest weather of the season arrived this week, and local folks were bundled up against the chill as they went about their activities in town.

Except for being very, very dry, we have had beautiful autumn weather and are due this cold spell. Now if it would just rain.....

Mark your calendar for the Christmas opening in Santa Anna Friday of next week. Several events will be taking place, and there will be lots of activity for everyone during the day.

Local Gril to Take Part In Coleman Pageant For Mrs. Darrel Cupps, 53

The annual Coleman Christmas Pageant will be held Saturday, December 4, in Coleman High School auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Entry deadline was November 24 for the two divisions.

All Coleman County high school girls who have never been married are eligible to enter the "Miss Spirit of Christmas" portion of the pageant. Boys and girls aged three through five will compete for the "Little Miss and Mr. Spirit of Christmas" titles.

The contestants will take part in the Coleman Christmas parade Saturday, November 27, at 10 a.m. Cash prizes will be awarded the winning decorated cars on which the contestants ride, and the younger group will ride on a float.

A panel of judges will select the high school winner, and the children's winners will be chosen by the audience at the pageant.

Nola Hughes, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hughes of Santa Anna, will compete for the title. She is a freshman at Santa Anna High School and cheerleader mascot and member of the Mountaineer Band. She is sponsored by the Coleman Senior Center.

NOLA HUGHES

A total of nine entries were listed Monday, with several more expected before the Wednesday deadline.

Mrs. Darrel (Lucille) Cupps, 53, passed away Tuesday, November 23, at 1 a.m. at Brownwood Regional Hospital after a sudden illness. Funeral services were held Wednesday, November 24, at First Baptist Church with the Rev. Raymond Jones of Sidney, formerly of Santa Anna, officiating. Interment was in the Cleveland Cemetery under the direction of Henderson Funeral Home.

Mrs. Cupps was born in Trickham November 4, 1929, the daughter of the late John Richard and Emer (Shields) Wells. A lifetime resident of Coleman County, she attended the Trickham and Santa Anna schools. She married Darrel Cupps at Trickham March 13, 1953. She was a Baptist and a housewife.

Survivors are her husband; one daughter, Mrs. Bob (Sydney) Burleson of Coleman; and one son, Richard Cupps of Santa Anna; a sister, Mrs. Maggie Leonard of Coleman; a brother, Richard Wells of Coleman; two grandsons, Justin Darrel Cupps and Rickey Arcel Burleson of Coleman; a step-granddaughter, Bobbie Jo Burleson of Brownwood.

Hunting Mishap Kills Man Near Novice

A 37-year-old Clute man was killed Sunday when he accidentally shot himself with a shotgun during a turkey hunt on a ranch about four miles north of Novice.

Bernhardt Ruf was pronounced dead at 8:23 a.m. by an Abilene Justice of the Peace after being transferred to Abilene by private vehicle.

Ruf had arrived in Coleman County Friday night, apparently in response to a hunting advertisement, and met with four strangers with whom he spent the weekend.

One of them, George Stilwell of Bowie, said Ruf disappeared after the men split up Sunday morning. Stilwell eventually found Ruf lying on the ground. Ruf told Stilwell he had shot himself.

The injured man was taken to the ranch home by a four-wheeled vehicle, then to Abilene to meet an ambulance.

Stilwell said Ruf was a native of Germany, coming to the United States a few years ago to work as an instruments engineer. He was not an experienced hunter.

October Traffic Accidents Down From Last Year

During the month of October, nine persons were killed as the result of six fatal rural motor vehicle traffic accidents in the 25 counties of the Abilene District of the Texas Department of Public Safety, according to figures released by Captain G. J. Matthews, Texas Highway Patrol in Abilene.

This brings the totals for the year to 97 traffic-related deaths as the result of 80 fatal traffic accidents. Captain Matthews stated that the totals for the year are down from last year. For the first ten months last year, 119 traffic deaths had occurred from 98 traffic accidents.

Troopers in Coleman County investigated no traffic accidents during the month of October, according to Sgt. Hugh Lillie of the Texas Highway Patrol in Brownwood. The figures show that a total of seven traffic accidents were investigated in Coleman County. He also stated that the figures for the first ten months of 1982 are below the figures for the same period in 1981 in all categories except fatalities.

A total of 63 traffic accidents have occurred in Coleman County this year through October as compared to 85 for last year. Sgt. Lillie stated that two deaths have resulted from two fatal accidents this

Is Your Investment Plan Tax Efficient?

A lot of individual investors will be more sensitive to taxes since President Reagan's new tax bill has come out.

One of the key provisions of the bill affects most investments that pay interest or dividends. This is the automatic ten percent withholding tax on all dividends and interest at the time of payment. Though it does not represent an actual increase in taxes (the Federal government is merely collecting a portion of its tax payment in advance), it does have an impact on individuals' savings and retirement programs.

"The tax package is going to cause people to stop and think a little harder about what they invest in and how the investment will be taxed," says Dan Perkins, a vice president of Merrill Lynch Life Agency, a subsidiary of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, Inc. "I believe the emphasis will shift to safe investments that combine attractive rates of return with tax efficiency."

One investment less affected by the withholding provision is the annuity. Earnings on assets deposited in an annuity will continue to accumulate tax free until the money is withdrawn. When individuals begin taking payments, they will be subject to the withholding tax. However, since most will start taking payments during retirement, when they are often in a lower bracket, they will probably pay less income tax and, therefore, less withholding tax on income payments.

Annuities have always been a practical choice for many retirement and savings needs. They can, for example, be used to fund a retirement plan which shelters from taxes a lump sum distribution from a pension or profit sharing plan. They are also suitable for providing funds for a college education or other major goals.

The new tax bill creates yet another use for annuities. It includes a provision that will limit the amount of money contributed to a pension sharing plan for the benefit of an individual or corporation. It places no limitations, however, on the amount of money that can be tax sheltered in an annuity. Investors who are interested in how annuities can fit into their personal investment plans can get that information by calling a Merrill Lynch office.

FREE HEARING TESTS SET FOR THE SANTA ANNA AREA

Free Electronic Hearing Tests will be given in Santa Anna on Friday, Dec. 3, from 9:30 - 11 a.m. The tests will be given by Randy Estess of Brownwood Hearing Center, at the Recreation Room of the Housing Authority.

Everyone who has trouble hearing is welcome to have a test using electronic equipment to determine if he has a correctable loss. Everyone should have a hearing test once a year if there is any trouble at hearing clearly. Most hearing problems gradually get worse. An annual test will help you keep track of a progressive loss. Treating the Common Cold Many Home Remedies Known

How do you treat a cold? Bundle up next to a roaring fire? Sweat it out by running several miles? Immerse yourself in a tub of homemade chicken soup? Or, do you run out to your local pharmacy and buy all the cold remedies you can find, hoping that one will provide relief?

If you do the latter, you're not alone. In fact, you contribute to a half-billion-dollar-a-year industry...and that figure doesn't include what is spent on aspirin.

A cold is caused by one or more of 120 different viruses and affects your body in many different ways. Viruses are usually short-lived and resist virtually all forms of medication. Most colds run their course in about a week.

with or without cold medication—including antibiotics.

To treat a cold, doctors suggest the following:
-get plenty of sleep
-drink more fluids than normal
-eat well-balanced, light meals
-avoid stress

Using cold remedies sold over the counter may provide temporary relief, which is important, but they won't "cure" or even shorten the stay of your unwelcome visitor, physicians say.

Oral antihistamines (tablet and liquid) act the same way. However, they can also restrict blood vessels in other areas of the body. People with high blood pressure, hyperthyroid conditions, diabetes, glaucoma or other eye diseases, should consult a physician before taking any cold medications, especially antihistamines. They may also cause drowsiness, and or blurred vision.

Decongestants, which are found in a variety of cold medications, act differently than antihistamines—they reduce the stuffed-up feeling that may accompany a cold. They are often mixed with other cold remedies instead of being marketed as a separate product.

Coughing is an annoying aspect of a cold. However, it does serve a function. Coughing is a natural defensive reaction against fluid buildup in the lungs. Therefore, trying to stop a cough is not advised. There are a variety of cough medications on the market designed to do different things for different types of cough...expectorants induce coughing, while antitussive syrups restrain them. Before purchasing a cough remedy, ask your pharmacist which is best for your type of problem.

Last, and certainly not least, is aspirin. Americans take more than 20 billion aspirin tablets a year—a daily consumption rate of more than 20 tons. Although aspirin is the most commonly used drug, it can be harmful unless label directions are followed. Because of its wide use, aspirin leads over-the-counter medications as a cause of adverse reactions leading to hospitalization or other problems such as gastric irritation.

Aspirin is mainly used to reduce the aches and pains that can accompany a cold. It is an anti-inflammatory drug. Thus, it reduces swelling in the joint tissues of the body. Aspirin effectively combats fever as well. However, like a fever, a cold can be an important body reaction to your cold. It is important to treat the cause of the fever, not just the rise in body temperature alone. If a fever persists more than three days while taking aspirin, consult your physician.

Aspirin substitutes, know as acetaminophen also work to reduce fever, but they do not contain the anti-inflammatory ingredient found in aspirin. The lack of this ingredient makes the substitute less irritating to the stomach lining. In some instances of a cold accompanied with an upset stomach, the acetaminophen may be preferred. Regardless of which you choose, doctors strongly recommend taking only the recommended dosage—two tablets every four hours if you're over 12 years old.

To repeat—sleep, get plenty of fluids, eat a balanced diet and avoid stress—they are your best bet in the battle against the common cold. If your symptoms last longer than seven days, consult your physician right away. Always remember to read prescription drug and cold remedy labels carefully. When used wisely, over-the-counter cold medications and aspirin can provide welcome temporary relief from your cold.

WHERE DID WE GET THAT TERM?

Q. "Pennsylvania Grade" motor oil is widely advertised. What is it?

A. Pennsylvania Grade oil is a term associated with an organization of marketers of lubricants manufactured from a crude oil produced in Pennsylvania and West Virginia called Pennsylvania Grade Oil. Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil Association members, say experts at Gulf Oil, are allotted a permit number and the right by the association to display the association's emblem called the "Pennsylvania Grade Emblem" which carries the guarantee that the oil is made up 100% of Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil. The guarantee does not include the element of quality.

keep homes warmer at a fraction of the cost of oil.

Now there's good news for wood stove owners and those thinking of joining the crowd. A major advance in technology—a catalytic combustor—has been developed that actually burns smoke, increasing stove efficiency and safety as it lessens pollution.

The combustor, explained in simple terms, consists of a ceramic "honeycomb" coated with a noble-metal catalyst for lowering the combustion point of smoke and creosote ingredients from their normal burning temperature—about 1300 degrees F.—to about 500 degrees F., approximately the temperature at which wood in stoves burns.

The new stoves improve heating efficiency by up to 20 percent, cut air pollution by as much as 70 percent and reduce creosote by 90 percent, nearly eliminating creosote-caused chimney fires.

The combustor was developed by Corning, creators of Pyrex and Corning Ware Cookware. More than 100 wood stove manufacturers in the U.S. and Canada will be offering stoves with the catalytic combustor.

Wood stoves are coming out of the woods. In fact, they're finding a warm welcome in the sophisticated homes of a lot of people who are wise in the ways of energy costs and saving heat dollars.

Recent surveys indicate that solid-fuel stoves, once popular only in rural areas, are making their way to the cities and suburbs.

A growing number of homeowners have discovered wood stoves can

Trickham News

By Mrs. O. R. Boenicke

Thursday will be Thanksgiving Day. We have so much to be thankful for. We still have peace, and if we have good health, we have everything to be thankful for.

Saturday night at 6:30 p.m. Brad Brewster and Sherri Swetkovich were married at First Baptist Church in Abilene. Those attending from here were Grady and Genia McIver, Terry and Orabeth McIver, Reece, Grady Clay, Betsy and Sally, Rankin McIver, Mary Boenicke and Betty Henderson and Mae Blue of Santa Anna. Sally McIver was one of the ringbearers in the wedding. It was a very pretty wedding and a lot of young people there from Abilene Christian University where they are both in college.

Her parents, brothers and grandmothers from California were there, and Brad's parents, grandparents and other kin were there. A reception was held after the wedding there at the church, and it was all very nice.

Wednesday Lou Vaughn cooked a good dinner with deer meat, and Walter and Carrie Stacy, Russie James and Mary Boenicke all had dinner there. We all enjoyed it. Marvin and Ruth Smith and Oma Lee Dockery visited Lou on Saturday night.

Cindy and Kelly Hoffman and Danny Mufey of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Freddy Moore of San Angelo and Pat Jr. and Shannon McShan and Erica of Andrews and Roberta and Pat McShan of Brownwood spent the weekend with Russie James. Sunday all of Pat and Roberta's family went to Kingsland to have Thanksgiving dinner with Mr. and Mrs. William Cobb, Pat's sister and husband. Russie went with them. This Monday Lura Lee Davis from Sweetwater came and she and Russie are visiting Yette Cole in Brownwood.

R. C. Stearns of Sweetwater visited his mother, Florence Stearns, two days last week.

Mary Lea Mitchell went Sunday afternoon to Baird to visit Doug Mitchell and wife Sunday evening.

Oma Lee Dockery and Anna Laura York visited Ilene Haynes last week. Ilene Haynes had dinner Sunday with Oma Lee.

Last Monday Oma Lee Dockery, Ilene Haynes and Lou Vaughn went to Eden to celebrate birthdays of Lou Vaughn and Traci Dockery. They spent the night with the Ray Dockery family and came home Tuesday morning.

Grady and Genia McIver and Keetie Haynes went with the Terry McIver family to the Doyna McIvers' home in San Angelo Sunday and celebrated Keetie Haynes, Grady McIver, Mindy McIver and Grady Clay McIver's birthdays Sunday. They all had birthdays during the week.

Visitors with Natalie and Rankin McIver over the weekend were Janet and Mark Thomson and girls, Joy and Crystal of Abilene, Christi and Ami Beal are visiting several days while their mother, Daris

Beal, went to California to her grandfather's funeral. Also Natalie had her Thanksgiving dinner on Saturday and Ricky Beal had dinner with them that day.

Mrs. Artie Fry and Dr. Norman Fry and his wife Sara, Susan and Jeff and a friend from Midland and Sara's mother, Margaret Garner, and a friend from Dallas were all here at the Fry home over the weekend. I visited Mrs. Fry Saturday evening. Some of them went to Brownwood that evening.

We are having some warm weather for this time of the year. We sure need a good rain.

Bill Talbert knows how to help during a disaster.

Do you?

Bill is an auto mechanic. He's also a Red Cross Disaster service volunteer.

Last year, Red Cross volunteers, like Bill, responded to over 40,000 disaster situations requiring on-the-scene assistance. More than 136,000 families were helped.

"Fortunately, floods, hurricanes and tornadoes don't happen every day, but fires do," warns Bill. "And for a burned-out family that's a major disaster. We can help these people obtain the things they'll need to resume normal living."

Red Cross emergency disaster relief provides everything from food, clothing and a place to stay to first aid, counseling and communications.

If your neighbors were burned out of their home, wouldn't you want to help?

We'll show you how. Join us.

Hunters Beware Of Diseases

AUSTIN— Hunters taking part in the hunting seasons in Texas should be aware of the "big four" diseases they might encounter in the field.

They are Rocky Mountain spotted fever, tularemia, plague and rabies.

Dr. Tom Betz of the Texas Department of Health's Bureau of Epidemiology said exposure to ticks and fleas is seldom dangerous, but a few easy precautionary measures should be used to reduce the potential for diseases sometimes transmitted by these organisms.

Here is a capsulized description of the four diseases, their causes and preventive measures:

- Rocky Mountain spotted fever is transmitted by ticks, and while most cases occur in Northeast Texas there have been incidences of infected ticks in other sections of the state. The best protection against the disease is to inspect for ticks on the body after going afield. Attached ticks should be removed carefully to avoid crushing the insect's body, since the disease bacteria can penetrate intact skin. Any individual with a known tick exposure should check his or her temperature in the morning and evening for two weeks and report any rise above 100 degrees F. to a physician. The disease usually can be treated effectively with medication, especially if detected early.

- Tularemia is another bacterial infection which can be carried by ticks. In the case of hunters, however, exposure often occurs when skinning and dressing infected animals, especially rabbits, squirrels and occasionally deer. Its symptoms include fever, chills, malaise and sometimes an ulcerated skin lesion and painful swelling of the lymph nodes. The best preventive measure is to wear rubber gloves when skinning game, or at least be sure to have no cuts or sores which could provide easy entry for the bacteria. Also, quick removal of any ticks or fleas which the hunter might have attracted from the animal carcass is essential.

- Plague is a fairly rare but lethal bacterial infection which is similar in its symptoms to tularemia. It usually is caused from the bite of an infected flea. However, just as is the case of infected ticks in other sections of the state, the best protection against the disease is to inspect for ticks on the body after going afield. Attached ticks should be removed carefully to avoid crushing the insect's body, since the disease bacteria can penetrate intact skin. Any individual with a known tick exposure should check his or her temperature in the morning and evening for two weeks and report any rise above 100 degrees F. to a physician. The disease usually can be treated effectively with medication, especially if detected early.

- Rabies is perhaps the most familiar of the four diseases. It is a viral disease which usually is fatal, and it normally is transmitted through the bite of an infected animal rather than from parasites such as ticks. A vaccine is available if exposure has occurred. Wild animals with rabies often exhibit unusual behavior, such as a lack of fear or unusual aggressiveness. Skunks are the most common carrier of rabies in Texas, although the disease can occur in a variety of animals. Any hunter who is bitten by a wild animal should kill it (avoid damaging the animal's head) and submit the head to the Health Department labs for rabies testing as quickly as possible.

Winners and Losers

SUCCESSFUL ADVERTISING

Back in 1951, a shirt company became a real winner in the business world, thanks to newspaper advertising. Over eight years, the company spent a total of $500,000 in advertising in newspapers and magazines. In that period, the company's sales increased from $5 million to $13 million — a gain of 160 percent.

Merchandise ads without illustrations are usually losers. Some guidelines for getting the most out of ad illustrations include showing the product large and in use, show the benefits of using the product and show news about the product.

Many businesses still owe their success to advertising in newspapers. There are four simple rules for writing winning copy: 1. Describe the merchandise in terms of benefits—what it does for the user. 2. Give complete, specific information. 3. Use simple language. 4. Tell the reader to buy now.

Whon News

By Mrs. Tom Rutherford

Thanks to Mrs. Jack Dockery and Mrs. Oline Haynes for the donation to the Whon Cemetery in memory of Mrs. Hettye Turney. Thanks.

Recently Graham Fitzpatrick answered his door bell at the time to a man whom he did not recognize. But introduction he learned he was a former pastor of the Whon Baptist Church, Rev. David Holmes. They enjoyed a nice visit together along with Mrs. Fitzpatrick. Rev. Holmes is pastor of a Baptist Church in Cross Plains and also operates a dairy there. Rev. Holmes came by our little community to visit with former church members here. Seems some were not home. Also the interesting thing, he was enroute home following attending the burial service of Rev. Lester Roloff in Corpus Christi.

Mrs. Floyd Morris and Mrs. Jamie Lee Morris were shopping in Brownwood the past Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Branch of Willis and another couple spent several days the past week on the Bible farm here. Mrs. Branch is the former Juanita Bible. She visited with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rutherford Thursday afternoon. The couples returned home Friday.

Weekend guests with M. and Mrs. Tom Vinson were Mrs. Jim Vinson, their son from Hurst, Jack Watts and son, friends from Benbrook, and a niece, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lee of San Angelo.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham Fitzpatrick were in the home of a son, Mr. and Mrs. Don Fitzpatrick and children in Santa Anna Sunday night. They attended the first birthday party for their granddaughter, Stefanie Fitzpatrick. The little one-year-old daughter of the Don Fitzpatricks. Other family members were present, enjoying a nice hour together.

Friends will be glad to hear that Etoile Cozart is doing reasonably well and would really enjoy hearing from friends. Mr. Cozart is making his home in the Colonial Acre Nursing Home, 301 West Taylor, Room 15, Round Rock, Texas 78664.

Mrs. Janice Cozart and her mother, Mrs. Carmen Donham, and Mrs. Cozart's daughters of Santa Anna have recently visited Mr. Cozart and he seemed to enjoy the visit.

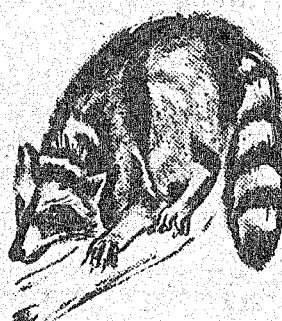

Norman Floyd Morris of Brownwood visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Morris Sunday.

Mrs. Pearl Avants and her sister, Mrs. Fannie Alsop of Santa Anna and Mrs. Avants' grandson, Dougy Avants of Odessa, were on the Avants farm here Saturday. Mrs. Avants' son, Douglas, of Brady and a grandson, Jeremy of Odessa joined the ones here Saturday afternoon. Dougy Avants spent Saturday night with his grandmother in Santa Anna. On Sunday they went to Brady where they had a nice Thanksgiving dinner together in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Avants.

Our granddaughter, Tonna Rutherford of Bangs, and her girlfriend, Pam Johnson of Abilene, visited in our home Saturday afternoon. They also visited with Loyd Rutherford and his son and houseguest, Jeffery and Jennifer Regardless of age, you must have a trappers license in order to legally sell pelts. Our local wardens will be making regular checks for persons without license to sell or hunt fur-bearing animals. It's best to be safe than sorry later. So buy your license today. Check with the local Game Department as to where license can be obtained.

Again, as in the past, we invite each and every one of you to stop in and visit with us where you are in the area, whether it be with your lot of fur or for all you trapping supply needs or just a cup of coffee and tale swapping.

if you are caught without license. The person selling the pelts must have a license in their name to do so. In other words, if the wife sells fur for the husband, she must have a license in her name to legally sell the pelts or vice versa.

Fur Prices Expected To Be Down At First

By Nancy Stanley

Attention Trappers and Hunters: It's only days until the 1982-83 Fur Season opens and everyone is calling for the market prices. There's not a fur buyer in the area that can tell you for sure where the prices will start. They can only make an approximate guess. I've spoke with the New York people, the foreign people, and the local state people and the story is the same.

The raw fur outlook for the 1982-83 season does not look as good as the rumors have it, nor as it has been the past several years. Reason being, New York still has furs from the past season in storage, fur dressers on strike, high interest rates on money borrowed to finance purchase of furs and for manufacture of garments, and an abundance of average and below average quality furs.

The top quality, prime, well-handled pelts will bring the best prices and those that are considered culls, blues, or semi-blues (took before season) will be very, very depressing. In fact, they may be hard to sell. Only the fully prime pelts should maintain strong values in our present market situation.

All pelt prices are off 10 to 30 percent from last year. Good prime, furred, good colored pelts are what the market is looking for and where the better prices will range.

Fox, mainly reds, should be fairly good since there is very little carry-over of the pelts in northern markets. Coyotes are expected to open well under last year prices, however as the season advances, the market should improve. Bobcat is ??????. The ban has been lifted and they can be exported, but due to all those thousands still in storage from the past seasons, the opening prices are expected to be at 30 to 40 percent under last year and fluctuation in prices can be expected as old catches are sold and the fresh catches come in. So, it's possible that Bobcat will bring more during the last half of the season than the first, but again they must be prime, well-furred, and the spotted type for good prices. All Bobcat must be tagged before you can sell.

Bobcat Tagging: Many area fur buyers will be offering this service as well as the local Game Department. We have our tags and offer the service free to the public. Just because we tag your cat doesn't mean you have to sell your cat to us. Heads are not required to obtain tags.

It is our thinking and feelings after much research, the outlook for this area is that the markets will open low in the country to start, and then gradually gain strength. We certainly hope this will be the case. Then the market should hold for the entire season and not drop as it has in years past, bottoming out. If prices should start high, the market will flood and prices will drop. You can mark my words on that.

Again let me remind you that only good prime, well-handled, good furred, good color pelts will bring good prices. Be sure you have the proper license to sell you pelts. A legal operating Fur Buyer will require that you present this license with the sale of your furs each time. A Fur Buyer is required to record every pelt with you license number on Game Department records furnished by the Texas Game Department. The fines come steep

Social Security Notes

New Year Brings Benefit Changes

The Social Security Administration has announced that, effective January 1, 1983, there will be an increase in the amount of money a beneficiary can earn and still get benefits, increases in the amount of earnings subject to Social Security tax, and an increase in the amount of earnings used to determine whether a person is insured for monthly benefits.

The changes are required by the 1977 Social Security Amendments, based on an increase in national wage levels.

The increase in the earnings base and other program amounts are determined under automatic adjustment provisions in the law. These provisions specify formulas that automatically keep the base and other program amounts up to date as average wage levels increase nationally.

The maximum amount of earnings that a beneficiary aged 65 to 69 may earn in 1983 without losing any Social Security benefits will increase from $6,000 to $6,600. The exempt amount for beneficiaries under age 65 will increase from $4,400 in 1982 to $4,920 in 1983. Also beginning in 1983, beneficiaries 70 or over may earn any amount without losing benefits, starting with the month in which they are 70. Prior to 1983 beneficiaries had to be 73 or over before they could have unlimited earnings without losing any benefits.

The amount of earnings required for a quarter of coverage will increase to $370, up from $340 this year.

The maximum amount of earnings that are taxable will increase from $32,400 to $35,700. As a result of these changes, the maximum Social Security tax on wages will rise by $21.10 to $2,391.90. For self-employed persons, the maximum Social Security tax will be $3,337.95 in 1983 based on the new earnings base, an increase of $308.55 over this year. Workers who earn less than $32,400 are not affected by the higher earnings base.

Almost all Social Security matters can be handled by phone, with Medicare questions or filing of medicare claims taken care of by calling toll-free 800-442-2620. Applications to establish eligibility may be made by calling Brownwood 846-7533.

A representative of the Brownwood office visits in Santa Anna once each month at the Mountain City Center, on the second Thursday from 1 - 2 p.m.

Some Foods May Lessen Odds of Getting Cancer

Although we have heard plenty about foods that appear to increase the chances of getting cancer, a recent study also cites foods that seem to reduce the odds, says the Texas Medical Association.

A scientific committee of tin, Bill Lawrence, Ida and Carson Walker visited with Lydia Haynes.

Georgia, J. D., Steve and Nola Hughes visited her mother, Mrs. Nola Hopper.

Doris Morgan and Laverne Simmons have visited with Bessie Thomas.

Mabel Burrage's visitors have been Dorothy and Elgean Harris and Tommy, Selma Hasserodt, Amanda Perry, Imo Herring, Ethelene Stewart, Hazel McCrary, Mrs. Lou Storey, Lula Jo Holcombe and Ruby Howard.

Visiting with Maude McCarrell have been Garland and Carolyn McCarrell of Odessa, Edgar McCarrell, Gus Morgan, Edmond McCarrell, Hazel McCrary, Selma Hasserodt and Mrs. Lou Storey. Also here was a daughter-in-law, Gertrude McCarrell of Fort Worth and a friend, Emma Behrens of Kerrville.

Mildred Strother and Erin Day visited their sister, Myrtle Ward.

Nita Gilbert of Bangs visited her grandmother, Bessie Wesson.

Visiting with Ethel Matthews as a daughter, Marie Lancaster of LaVista Ranch, and a son, Dwane Matthews of Fort Worth.

Dale and Cindy Howard, Mark and Terry Norris of Lubbock visited Dale's father, Herman Howard.

Laytha Haggard of Austin visited her mother, Cleo Moon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mikeska of Bangs visited his sister, Cora Mikeska. Visitors with Pearl Abernathy and Susie Snider have been Mrs. John Hunter, Vicki Green, Herman Estes, and Marie Britton.

Ima Boenicke's visitors have been Sarah Barnetsky, Mrs. Ray Denhart, Ima Pricer, Mrs. J. B. Lewis and Mary Boenicke.

The National Academy of Sciences says in a report that diets rich in fruits, vegetables and whole-grain cereals seem to reduce the chances of getting certain kinds of cancer. The panel specifically urged daily consumption of produce high in vitamin C and carotene, which the body changes to vitamin A.

The committee noted that vitamin C in foods can inhibit the formation of cancer-causing substances. It said foods rich in vitamin C, such as citrus fruits, tomatoes and peppers, appear to lower the risk of stomach and esophagus cancer.

Foods high in carotene are associated with a reduced risk of many cancers, including lung, breast, bladder and skin. These foods include dark-green leafy vegetables and deep-yellow fruits and vegetables, such as carrots, spinach and broccoli.

The study also cited vegetables in the cabbage family - cauliflower, kale and Brussels sprouts - for their natural cancer-inhibiting substances.

But the committee advised against taking large doses of vitamin and nutrient supplements. It cited a lack of proof that this is healthful and noted possible toxic hazards.

The study also urged people to cut back on foods that may increase the risk of getting cancer. They include:

-Salt-cured and smoked foods such as bacon, bologna, smoked fish and ham, sausage and hot dogs. -Foods high in fat such as fatty cuts of meat, cooking oils and whole-milk dairy products.

Finally, the report urged moderation in drinking alcoholic beverages. It noted that heavy drinking has been associated with an increased risk of cancer of the upper gastrointestinal and respiratory tracts, particularly when combined with smoking.

Enjoying Disney on Home Video Systems

Youngsters of all ages may cheer the news of a new addition to the home video entertainment market.

Walt Disney Home Video has announced the release of ten feature titles on laser videodisc, including some of the most popular films and cartoons.

Laser videodisc is one of the newest innovations in the home video market. A laser beam is used to reproduce both video and audio information. This system combines the advanced technologies of laser, microcomputer and ultra-high-density storage to produce a high-quality picture and a stereophonic sound in a format that is both durable and inexpensive.

The ten new titles are: The Black Hole; The Love Bug; Escape to Witch Mountain; The Many Adventures of Winnie the Pooh; Pete's Dragon (double album); Dumbo; Davy Crockett and the River Pirates; The One and Only, Genuine, Original Family Band; and Mickey Mouse and Donald Duck Cartoons, Collections One and Two.

The discs will be distributed through authorized dealers as Disney now distributes its videocassettes. The laser-optical discs are manufactured in Japan by Pioneer, a leading maker of hi-fi components.

Tips on Buying a Turkey

If you choose carefully, your traditional holiday turkey can be more than a great feast. It also can be nutritious and a good buy, says the American Heart Association.

Turkey is an ideal food for most of us, even those on low-calorie diets, because it's relatively low in cholesterol and fat. When a turkey is roasted, much of that fat drains off. The white meat is especially low in fat and calories.

Frozen, plain turkey is usually the most economical and nutritious. In contrast, frozen, self-basting turkeys contain injections of a solution of broth and butter or cooking oil. The basting oil adds calories, and the broth is often high in salt (sodium chloride). Another drawback: the basting fluid makes the turkey weigh more and thus cost more. You must pay for the basting fluid at the same rate as the turkey meat.

If you want a self-basting turkey, avoid the ones injected with oils containing saturated fats, such as those found in butter and palm and coconut oils. Eating saturated fats tends to raise the level of cholesterol in the blood. Choose self-basting turkeys that contain unsaturated vegetable oils such as corn, cottonseed or safflower. Read the label.

You will also want to read the label if you are buying a pre-stuffed turkey, to find out how much salt and other ingredients are in the stuffing. Never thaw a pre-stuffed turkey. Put it in the oven still frozen and cook as directed. It will take longer, but it's much safer. Bacteria love a warm, moist environment and will thrive in an uncooked, pre-stuffed turkey if it is thawed.

With a plain turkey, fresh or frozen, you can control what goes into the basting fluid and the stuffing. You can baste the turkey in its own juices, and thus avoid unnecessary fat, cholesterol and salt.

Turkey leftovers can be made into many delicious dishes, including turkey salad and curried turkey with water chestnuts. Of course, there's nothing better for lunch than a cold turkey sandwich.

When we consider cost per serving, taste, and the good nutrients our friend the turkey provides, it's easy to understand why we invite him to our holiday dinner every year. We should consider eating him year-round.

Facts About "Reye Syndrome"

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following information on the Reye syndrome, released by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services was furnished for publication in the Santa Anna News by Ken Fitzgerald of the Bangs Drug Mart. We suggest that all parents clip this article and keep it in a convenient location for ready reference.

Reye syndrome (pronounced "rye") is an acute condition that may follow influenza and chicken pox infections in children from infancy to their late teens. It is characterized by sudden vomiting, violent headaches and unusual behavior in children who appear to be recovering from an often mild viral illness. It requires immediate diagnosis and admission to a hospital where emergency care can be provided. Reye syndrome is rare, but when it does occur, it is considered life-threatening.

Q. What is the problem with giving aspirin to children who have influenza and chicken pox?

A. There seems to be an association between children under age 16 taking aspirin and their developing Reye syndrome. State health officials in Arizona, Ohio and Michigan have done studies of Reye syndrome cases that tend to show this.

Q. But does it mean that aspirin can cause Reye syndrome?

A. It means that studies show a link between aspirin and Reye syndrome. Many medical experts consulted by the U.S. Public Health Service agree that this apparent relationship cannot be ignored. Therefore, the Food and Drug Administration, an agency of the Public Health Service, has proposed that aspirin and other salicylates, and medications containing aspirin, be labeled with a warning against giving them to children under age 16 with influenza, chicken pox (varicella) or other flu-like illnesses. The American Academy of Pediatrics has independently recommended against using aspirin products in such situations.

Q. What are salicylates?

A. Salicylates are compounds used in medicines to lessen pain, reduce fever or cut down on inflammation. Products containing salicylates are also used in external analgesics, such as body rubs.

Q. Does this mean that aspirin should not be given to children during an influenza epidemic to help them with headache, fever and other symptoms?

A. The Surgeon General of the Public Health Service, Dr. C. Everett Koop, and the American Academy of Pediatrics advise against giving aspirin and aspirin-containing products for such illnesses. Dr. Koop pointed out that childhood illnesses are usually minor and self-limiting, meaning that they will go away without treatment. In most cases, it is unwise to give aspirin to a child with a viral illness, and it is also unnecessary. Your doctor is the best person to decide when medication is needed.

Q. Then should aspirin and other salicylates be avoided altogether for children?

A. Get your doctor's advice. There are times when they should be used. For example, aspirin is often the recommended medication for rheumatic fever and rheumatoid arthritis. It is also recommended for simple pain. But for influenza and similar viral illnesses, leave the aspirin on the shelf until you check with your doctor.

Q. Is Reye syndrome a new disease?

A. No, it is not new. As early as 1825 it was considered a form of meningitis, an "inflammation of the brain area." It was named Reye in 1963 for the Australian pathologist who more accurately described it as edema (swelling) of the brain, combined with liver malfunction and blood chemistry disorders, usually resulting in death. Also, it is not a disease but a "syndrome," meaning a combination of signs and symptoms.

Q. Since Reye syndrome seems related to influenza, does it follow any seasonal pattern?

A. Yes, it occurs most often from October to March, during what is called the "flu season" and seems to cluster in those states reporting the most cases of influenza.

Q. What are signs that a child with influenza may be developing Reye syndrome?

A. The symptoms usually appear as the child should be recovering from the flu. The first sign is persistent vomiting. The child may be sleepy and lethargic, but still responsive. Within half a day, the child can become disoriented, combative and delirious. If untreated, the child can go into a coma and die.

Q. Can a Reye syndrome patient be treated at home?

A. No. Reye syndrome is a medical emergency. An ill child who shows signs of developing Reye syndrome must be taken immediately to a hospital. There the necessary medications can be given, blood and body fluids can be monitored and corrected, a respirator used if breathing is falling and, if necessary, surgery performed to relieve pressure on the swollen brain.

Q. How long is the treatment period for Reye syndrome?

A. The usual hospital stay is three to ten days. The patient must be closely watched and will likely be in an intensive care unit. The patient is considered out of danger when blood chemistry, respiration and other signs have been stable for 48 hours. This could happen at any point during the hospital stay.

Q. Has the cause of Reye syndrome been identified?

A. No. Research is being done by the Public Health Service and other research organizations throughout the country, but the cause is not yet known. It is a complication of common viral illnesses that affects only a small minority of patients, but does not affect the hundreds of thousands more who contract these illnesses. Why these few children are susceptible, no one knows.

UNDERSTANDING YOUR HOLIDAY BLUES

It happens to Mary K. every year. The wreaths, Christmas carols and gift-giving trigger painful memories and depression. As friends and family members anticipate the festivities, Mary's depression grows. The holiday season becomes a burden almost, too great for her to bear.

holiday season. If your mood is not joyous, you are considered a scrooge at best. Most holiday depressions are mild enough that they do not require medical attention. Positive changes in your life, such as new friendships to replace missing ones, may eliminate your blues completely. But for some the depression is severe and persistent enough to require psychiatric care and even hospitalization. Appropriate attention and pre-holiday counseling is recommended. By reaching the root of your depression, you may lead a happier and more satisfying life all year round.

Mary's case is not an isolated one. Psychiatrists know the number of documented cases of depression rises significantly during the Christmas and New Year's period. They point to a number of reasons which explain why the holiday season is an emotional hurdle for many.

Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's are "time machines" because they take us back to childhood feelings of hostility, resentment or insecurity. Increased time spent with family members during the holidays may cause you to dwell on these feelings, especially if your childhood memories are not happy ones.

The absence of a family member due to death or separation is painfully obvious during this time of year and can also result in anxiety and depression.

If you are a person who is often "down," you may be unable to cope with the pressure exerted by society to enjoy oneself during the Medicines, such as tranquilizers and antidepressants, have greatly enhanced treatment of severe depression. Since the introduction of these drugs in the mid-fifties, the number of patients confined to mental hospitals has decreased by more than half. Pharmaceutical advances help keep people out of hospitals, allowing them to continue to be active, productive members of society in spite of their illness.

The National Pharmaceutical Council, a nonprofit organization, provides information about health topics as a service to consumers. If you have questions about your health, or medicines you take, always follow the advice of your doctor or pharmacist.
