Three Buildings Entered Last Week

Vandals Damage School

Vandals had a busy night last Wednesday, breaking into three school buildings and damaging the buildings and furnishings.

According to City Policeman Kevin Ballard, the high school building, elementary building and homemaking cottage were entered, and damage done in each building.

In an early investigation, nothing was reported missing but a small amount of cash taken from the administration office in the high school.

A window was broken in the auditorium for entry into the high school building, then the office of the school secretary and superintendent were entered and damaged. Windows in the building were broken, Ballard said.

At the elementary school, the principal's office was entered and vandalized, and damage done in the girls restroom and in the lunchroom storage room.

The desk of Sharyl Fuller was vandalized in the homemaking cottage after entry was gained by breaking a window.

The burglary was discovered early Thursday when staff members arrived at school.

Ballard said he was out until after midnight that night, making routine patrol and investigating an attempted burglary at a residence.

He is being assisted in the investigation by Mike Bowers of the Sheriff's Department.

Hotel, and at left background are seen the old school building and the white frame First Baptist Church. The old photo is from the collection of the late E. P. Rendleman, courtesy Mrs. Gladys Day.

Heart Association Benefit Slated at Ranger Park Inn

Santa Anna's only Heart Association benefit is being planned for the third consecutive year at Ranger Park Inn Nursing Home.

A Rock and Roll Jamboree will be held at the local nursing home on Valentine's Day, Monday, February 14, from 2 to 4 p.m. to benefit the American Heart Association. The event will be directed by Mrs. Annie Brimer, activities director, with over 20 of the nursing home residents to take part.

The senior citizens at Ranger Park Inn will be rocking in their rocking chairs or rolling in their wheel chairs during the afternoon, taking pledges for donations to the fund. Others will be walking and pushing their friends in the wheel chairs. The man and woman with the largest amount of pledges will be crowned King and Queen of the event.

Mayor Edd Hartman will be on hand to open the activities Monday, and people of the community are encouraged to go to the nursing home during the event to visit with residents and encourage them as they take part.

Refreshments will be served during the afternoon to residents and guests who attend.

Those wishing to make donations to the Heart Association through pledges for the local event should call Ranger Park Inn, stating the amount of the donation and the resident to whom the pledge is credited.

SAHS Girls District Champs

The Santa Anna High School girls basketball team defeated the Mozelle girls 51 - 20 Tuesday night to win the District Championship. Coach Gerald Brister's Lady Mountaineers will go into the playoffs next week.

The Mountaineers will play Lohm for the district title, the game to be either Friday night or Tuesday of next week. The SAHS boys were winners of the first half of play and the Lohm team won the second half.

If the boys game is next Tuesday, practice games are planned for Friday night.

Officials of the schools were meeting Wednesday to set up the playoff contest.

Former S-Annan Honored By Justice Department

A former Santa Anna resident was among the people recently honored at the annual Attorney General's 32nd Annual Awards Ceremony held at the Department of Justice in Washington, D. C.

Don McCullough of San Antonio, a Santa Anna native, was given the Attorney General's Distinguished Service Award during the ceremony. The award was presented in recognition of McCullough's extraordinary courage and risk of his life in the line of duty while on assignment as a special agent with the Drug Enforcement Administration.

The information stated, "In the early morning hours of February 10, 1982, while temporarily assigned to Cartagena, Colombia, Special Agent McCullough and Special Agent Charles Martinez were abducted from their hotel room by six assailants impersonating Colombian National Police Officers, taken to the countryside, where Special Agent Martinez was shot twice and Special Agent McCullough was shot three times and left for dead. Though gravely wounded in the left knee, right hip and chest and neck area, Special Agent McCullough managed to walk three miles, located a priest, doctor and policemen, and without the benefit of the Spanish language, convinced them to return with him to the scene of the assault to assist Special Agent Martinez, without asking medical attention for himself. His act of unselfish courage is a source of honor to the law enforcement profession, the Department of Justice, and to the United States."

McCullough, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester McCullough of Early, formerly of Santa Anna, was accompanied to Washington by his wife, Jewel Ann.

Mountain

Echoes

By Barbara Kingsbery

Santa Anna has lost one of its best boosters. Ford Barnes, a long-time civic leader, was buried here Saturday, ending a busy and useful 94-year-old life.

Among his accomplishments and credits was an enviable perfect attendance record in the Lions Club, of which he was the only surviving charter member and holder of a Life Membership in the organization. Until recent years he was always at the Tuesday noon meetings, with about 55 years of perfect attendance to his credit.

Mr. Barnes lost few opportunities to praise our town and community, and spent much of his life in community pursuits.

The new year is off to a good start with rainfall, according to a report by R. W. Balke, official rainfall reporter.

A total of 2.60 inches of moisture was recorded last month, larger than usual for a winter month. The majority of the moisture was recorded January 19, 20 and 21 when two inches of rain, snow and sleet covered the community.

It was interesting to note that measurable rainfall was recorded on both the first and last days of the month.

Basketball News

SAHS Girls Are District Champs!

The Santa Anna High School girls basketball team has won the District Championship for 1983, having a perfect 10-0 record and 18-5 for the season.

Gerald Brister's Lady Mountaineers will go into the play-offs in two weeks, but the opponents have not been named.

The Mountaineers were winners of the first half of play, but have lost games in the second half and will be in a district play-off with Lohn for the outright title.

The Lady Mountaineers went into overtime with the Lohn girls Tuesday of last week, winning 35-33.

Connie Culpepper led with 16 points and 10 rebounds, with Holly Smith scoring nine. Others scoring were Cheryl Mitchell, Lesha Eubank, Joann Collins and Yolanda Kirven.

Coach Brister said it was not a good game for the girls, and they were not playing to their usual ability. A 15-foot jump shot by Culpepper won the game in the final second of overtime.

On Friday night, the local girls defeated Novice 51-36, with the girls playing a very good game. Culpepper played her post position well, pulling down 16 rebounds and making 22 points. She also blocked several shots by the opponents.

Yolanda Kirven had 11 points and 12 rebounds, with Holly Smith, Lesha Eubank, Patricia Bible, Dilcy Kirven and Joann Collins adding to the total.

The girls were winners over the Mozelle girls Tuesday night to complete the district schedule.

The Mountaineers had what Coach Charles Brewster cited as the best game of the season last week when they defeated the Novice Hornets 76-42, shooting 55 percent from the field.

Randy Casey led the scoring with 29 points, and Ricky Anderson, back in good form after being injured, scored 24. Casey and Anderson accounted for nine and seven rebounds, respectively, and Doug Warnock led in steals.

Chris DeLeon and Casey had the best shooting average with 67 percent, and Anderson had a 75 percent average on free throws.

The local team lost a game to the Lohn boys last week 51-46, the second defeat of the second half for the Mountaineers.

Randy Casey was leading scorer with 16 points. Anderson and Warnock had 13 and 11 rebounds, respectively, and Warnock led with four steals.

Having the best percentage of field goals was Paulie Vasquez with 50 percent, and Anderson had 100 percent of his free throws.

The Santa Anna team will be in a play-off for the championship, having won the first half of play. The winner will meet Eden or Christoval in the play-offs for BI-District.

The Mountaineers have a 11-10 record for the season.

JHS Boys In Play-off

The Santa Anna Junior High boys basketball team defeated the Broken Smith boys Monday night by a 60-46 score, giving them a tie for the district championship.

The winner of the JHS district will be decided Thursday [today] when the Junior Mountaineers meet the Talpa JHS team at Perry Gymnasium at 6 p.m.

The JHS girls completed their season Monday with a loss to the Brookesmith girls.

Social Security Notes

Future Financing Problems

A great deal has been written in recent years about the financing problems facing the Social Security system. The American people, through their representatives in the Congress, are going to have to make some decisions about the future direction of Social Security, and some background information may prove helpful in evaluating the various proposals that are certain to arise.

The basic equation that regulates the flow of funds into and out of the system is fairly simple. Income is derived from payroll taxes on covered workers and their employers, and on self-employed people, as well as interest earned on the investment of surplus funds in Government securities. Expenditures consist of payments to beneficiaries and administrative expenses. It is not generally well known that these administrative expenses currently amount to about 1.5 percent of taxes paid.

It should be obvious that the basic equation, like any equation, must be kept in balance. An increase in benefit payments, for example, must be balanced by an increase in income, and this invariably means an increase in taxes.

Workers and their employers have always had the same tax rate; self-employed individuals have generally 'although not always' paid one and one-half times the employee rate.

From 1937 to 1940, the employee tax rate was 1 percent. It has increased gradually over the years. In 1983, it is 6.7 percent. The rate is currently scheduled to rise until it reaches 7.15 percent for the years 1986 to 1989.

The tax is applied to yearly earnings up to a given amount—$35,700 in 1983. The figure was $3,000 in 1937. The amount will increase automatically in future years as wages rise.

Additional information about Social Security taxes and benefits may be obtained from any Social Security office.

Almost all Social Security matters can be handled by phone. Medicare questions or filing of medicare claims can be taken care of by calling toll free 800-442-2620. You may file an application to establish your eligibility by calling 915-846-7533 in Brownwood.

A representative of the Brownwood office visits Santa Anna once a month on the 2nd Thursday from 1:00 - 2:30 p.m. The representative can be found at the Mountain City Center.

Combatting Fraud

The Social Security Administration has a dual responsibility: To provide benefits to people who are entitled to them under one of the provisions of the Social Security Act and to protect the Social Security trust funds by denying benefits to those not entitled to them.

Criminal prosecution for fraud may be undertaken under a variety of circumstances—for example, if an individual uses a Social Security number not his or her own in order to obtain a payment or to have a payment increased; or provides erroneous information in an attempt to establish eligibility for Social Security or supplemental security income (SSI) payments; or attempts to conceal information that would affect his or her eligibility for an initial payment or for continued payments; or where the individual uses money received on behalf of another person for some unauthorized purpose.

Prosecution for such fraudulent acts may be undertaken even when the act is discovered before any erroneous payments are actually made. Moreover, even where a decision in a case was supposed to have been final, the case may be reopened at any time if the decision is found to have been based on fraud, whether on the part of the claimant or of some other person.

The penalties for fraud include fines and/or imprisonment. They range from a fine of not more than $500 or imprisonment of one year, or both, to a fine of not more than $10,000 or imprisonment of not more than 15 years or both.

Applicants and beneficiaries who may be uncertain about some aspect of the law can have their questions answered at the Social Security office.

The next meeting of the group will be in the Perry home on Monday, February 28.

Dress For The Weather

COLLEGE STATION—Dress for comfort and protection when planning to spend much time outdoors during winter. Wind or temperature cannot be controlled, but clothing can.

'Select clothing for your activities as well as for outdoor conditions,' says Dr. Ann Vanderpoorten, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Think about your clothing as layers of protection, add Vanderpoorten. By planning the number and thickness of these layers, comfort can be controlled in almost any outdoor climate.

The layer closest to the skin should be a 'breathing layer' that allows body moisture and excess heat to escape. This layer may consist of underwear, lightweight socks, blouses or shirts.

The second layer is an 'insulation layer' that keeps in the warmed air around the body. Bulky fabrics or several thin layers hold lots of air. Examples are sweaters, vests, and heavy socks worn over thin ones. Thermal underwear also acts as an insulation layer.

Blazers, windbreakers, shoes and waterproof pants or jackets make up the 'outermost protective layer.' This layer keeps cold, drafty air out and may also protect inner layers from becoming damp.

A hat or hood is important too, according to Vanderpoorten. Up to 75 percent of body heat may be lost if the head is unprotected.

Remember to protect hands and feet. Vanderpoorten advises to wear gloves or mittens, and thick-soled leather shoes for best protection.

Use scarves and belts to help prevent heat loss. They can be removed when ventilation is needed to prevent overheating.

Plan to stay dry. 'Choose water repellent outer garments if you will be exposed to moisture from rain or snow,' says Vanderpoorten.

Damp garments will dry with body heat. This causes the body to cool and can be dangerous as well as uncomfortable.

Enjoy being outdoors in the winter by thinking ahead about comfort and protection.

Cash Incentive to be Paid For Energy-Saving Methods

West Texas Utilities Co. has announced a new energy savings plan providing cash incentives to encourage its customers to purchase high-efficiency air-conditioning and home heating equipment.

TSTI Charges To Increase

The TSTI Board of Regents approved a price increase for campus housing and board plans on the four TSTI campuses.

Meeting in Waco last week, the board increased rates for the Sweetwater campus' men's dormitory from $250 to $300 per quarter. Student apartment rates were increased from $330 to $390 per quarter.

New quarterly contract board plans are $160 for five meals per week, $280 for 10 meals per week, and $325 for 15 meals per week.

The price increase will take effect September 1, 1983.

According to Sweetwater campus General Manager Herbert Robbins, the increases are necessary to keep up with the rising costs of maintaining the housing units and the cafeteria. Both are operated on a non-profit basis, he said.

In other action, the board also approved the demolition of a 1000-square-foot building deemed unsuitable for use on the Sweetwater campus. The building had served as a maintenance work area prior to the completion of the new physical plant.

The next board meeting was scheduled for March 20 and 21 at TSTI-Amarillo.

PIK Program; To Take Part Or Decline

Whether or not a farmer decides to participate in the new payment-in-kind (PIK) program this year depends entirely on his individual situation, says an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Each farmer must assess his own operation and his current financial situation. He must know his variable costs and his expected profit margin. A producer with a tight profit margin is a good candidate for participation in the program along with one who has low-yielding land. A farmer also needs to consider deficiency payments, which can be made only on planted acres.

Whon News

By Mrs. Tom Rutherford

We have a report this week concerning rattlesnakes. That this time of the year, as for me, I never heard before.

The last day of January, if you remember, was cold, cloudy and misty. Loyd Rutherford was feeding cows on the Taylor Ranch, and enroute to the house from the pasture he noticed a small stump and wondered if it would go in his fireplace. He examined the stump, but it was still in the ground. But lying by the stump was a little rattlesnake, 18 or 20 inches long. When he hit the snake, he heard a faint rattle, but he could not be very loud. But the snake was not too cold to move around. Just a reminder to all, "Beware of rattlesnakes!"

Area Oil News

AUSTIN, TX - Leaders of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association warned Tuesday that proposals to raise Texas oil and gas severance taxes could seriously damage the state's economy.

Harrold E. 'Gene' Wright, Gilmer, President of the 5400-member Austin-based trade association, declared that proposed increases in severance taxes could saddle Texas consumers and oil and gas producers with a burden they and the State can ill afford. 'Higher taxes will raise consumer energy prices in Texas,' Wright declared, 'and will prevent producers from drilling the very wells that fuel the economy and fund a large portion of the state's tax base.'

Wright was responding to a proposed tax increase advocated by the Texas Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO. He said that Texas education certainly needs to be adequately financed, but suggested that oil and gas already provides a disproportionate share of tax revenues.

'I hope that other teacher organizations are able to discern the problems with the AFL-CIO proposal,' Wright continued. 'Producers and royalty owners already shoulder their fair share. The petroleum industry pays 28 percent of all state taxes and in 1981 accounted for over 47 percent of state funds used for public education. We pay pipeline tax, severance tax, ad valorem tax, windfall profit tax, income tax, a wire line service tax, oil regulation tax, sales tax on equipment, and so on,' Wright pointed out.

TIPRO State Issues Chairman, Hans Hansen, Midland, faulted the logic behind TPT's severance tax proposal. 'The teachers' organization argues that their tax increase is needed in order to bring Texas up to the same level as Louisiana,' but they ignore the fact that Texas already imposes several other oil and gas taxes which don't exist in Louisiana. If you are going to compare Texas with other states you have to look at the total burden. On that basis Texas already pay more energy taxes than people in most other states.

Industry representatives say they are particularly sensitive to the severance tax issue at the current time because 'the general business and political climate is a cause for concern.'

Julian Martin, TIPRO's Executive Vice President, explained. 'Our people are not the only citizens worried by declining oil revenues. Difficulties in marketing natural gas, the proposed federal oil tax of $5 per barrel, and other tax proposals aimed at independents and royalty owners, are also a source of worry for banks, individual investors, and industrial users of oil and gas.' Martin stated further that 'adding higher severance taxes to this mix could greatly reduce the capital required for petroleum exploration, leading to serious problems for the entire economy of the state.'

Austin Exhibit is Set For Skeletal Remains, Artifacts

AUSTIN - Visitors to the Capitol in mid-February can view the ancient skeletal remains recently discovered north of Austin.

The find by State Department of Highways and Public Transportation archeologists will be displayed February 12 - 18 in the rotunda.

The Archeology Section, part of the Department's Highway Design Division, is arranging the show in response to hundreds of citizen inquiries and requests to view the bones. Many student groups viewing the exhibit will combine a tour of the Capitol while the Legislature is in session.

Dr. Frank Weir, head of the Archeology Section, said the display would be made up of the skull portion of the remains, projectile points and other artifacts found at the site. A photo display will accompany the materials. A display of the entire skeleton is not possible because of the fragility of some of the bones.

The skeletal remains were removed from the excavation site on January 7, and department archeologists have since been examining them in a laboratory. Although exact dating of the bones will have to await carbon-14 tests, which will take a few more weeks, Dr. Weir estimates they are more than 9,000 years old.

The site, near the town of Leander, was doubly unusual due to the abundance of artifacts found which indicate continuous habitation of the area for a 7,000-year period.

Staked as a proposed 2,400-foot wildcat was Beal Operating Co. of Coleman, No. 9 Shield, located five miles southwest of Santa Anna.

The test is located on a 2,031-acre lease in Wade H. Bynum Survey 272.

No. 10 Shield has also been staked by the same company in the same survey.

Brazos Enterprises Inc. of Fort Worth filed application to plug back to 900 feet an abandoned Coleman County Regular field project one mile northwest of Trickham.

It is No. 3 Boenicke, located on a 160-acre lease in Brooks & Burlison Survey 2, A-1426.

The project was completed in 1981 by the same firm as a gas well in the regular field from perforations at 1,124-26 feet.

Senior Citizens' Domino Tourney

Slated in March

On March 8, 9, and 10, 1983 in the Brownwood Coliseum there will be the sharp "klick, klack" of dominoes being played as the very first World Championship Senior Citizens Domino Tournament gets underway.

The Tournament, sponsored by area businesses and civic organizations, its purposes are to focus on a predominant interest of senior citizens in the Central Texas area, to engage the senior citizens in a worthwhile challenge, and to provide entertainment for all the people of the Central Texas area.

Entertainment by and for the senior citizens will be scheduled at various times during the three-day tournament. Any individual senior citizen or group of senior citizens interested in performing at the gala event is urged to contact Sidney Carlisle at 646-1635 (Monday to Friday, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.), or to send a card to Helen Crews at 901 Oak Park Drive, Brownwood.

Bands, orchestras, choirs, singers, comedy groups, dancers - all my apply.

To provide additional interest and to present a showcase for our senior citizens' varied talents, booths displaying handicrafts, needlework, artwork, etc. will be provided. Highpoint of the three days of domino play will be the crowning of the World Champion and awarding of prizes. Following these events, a senior citizens ball will wrap up the festivities on the evening of March 10, 1983.

City, County Historical Facts Sought For Coming publication

A family history project for Coleman County has been organized, sponsored by the Coleman County Historical Commission.

The project will be a history of families who have lived in Coleman County, listing names and their birth and marriage dates, occupations and other information of interest. Information on succeeding generations will be included, to the present time.

Estill Allen of Early will edit the publication that is expected to take a year to complete. Information forms are available at various places in the county, including the newspaper offices and Chambers of Commerce. A sample form is also available, showing the way in which the information may be prepared for submission to the editor.

Many counties or communities are compiling a history, and much interest is being shown in the Coleman County project.

According to Mr. Allen, the history is to begin with the first of each family who came to Coleman County, listing the parents of the first couple and as definite information as possible as where they lived. This is followed through from there to the present, or to the time they left Coleman County.

Information will be divided into areas of the county, with family history in Santa Anna and that of the Santa Anna community separate. The other categories will be Coleman; Coleman Central - Northeast; Northwest (Novice); Talpa Centennial; and Southwest (Mozelle).

June 1, 1983 has set as deadline for rural community information, and that for the City of Santa Anna is due by December 1 of next year. Families should choose one member to fill out a form and submit the information so that the book can contain history of each family who has previously resided or presently resides here.

Ralph Terry of Coleman is chairman of the Historical Commission, or more information is available from Mr. Allen at Box 3282, Early, Texas, 76801-0046.

Senior Citizens Meals Program Continuing Here

An average of 40 persons have had the noon meal at the local Senior Citizens center during the month of January. The meals are served at the Mountain City Center each Monday, Wednesday and Friday for persons aged 60 or over.

Udell Copeland, director of the program, said this week that response has been excellent for recipes for the book planned by the group. No other recipes are needed, and that those received are being typed and edited for the publication.

Advertising will be sold to pay for the printing, and everyone is invited to help with the cookbook.

Local senior citizens are reminded of the lunch schedule and are invited to take part. Transportation is available for those who do not have a ride to the downtown center.

Brownsville's Gladys Porter Zoo is an elaborate zoological park without bars or cages, and features rare exotic animals living in natural settings on a multitude of islands. For a small annual contribution you can adopt the animal of your choice, thereby helping the zoo defray part of its expenses. TTDA Photo by Michael Murphy.

Local Teacher Judge For Science Fair

Scott Beaver, Santa Anna High School science teacher, will be one of the judges at the Coleman Science Fair to be held February 19 in Coleman.

Sponsored by the Women's Civic League of Coleman, the event will be held for students from throughout the county.

Projects in several divisions will be on display for the event and judged by Beaver, Betty Ballard, science director at Early schools, and Matt Popnoe, chemistry and physical science teacher at Brady.

Several Santa Anna students are expected to take part in the event next week.

Problems For Cattlemen

Nitrate poisoning, grass tetany and bloat are three major problems in cattle grazing on small grain pastures this time of the year, says a beef cattle specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Nitrate poisoning comes from high levels of nitrate in plants, mainly during periods of cloudy, overcast weather. Feeding hay or grain to cattle can help along with avoiding high levels of nitrogen fertilizer on pastures.

Grass tetany results from low blood magnesium and can be prevented with a palatable mineral mix of 8 to 14 percent magnesium. Bloat results when an animal can't belch to get rid of stomach gas because it's entrapped in thick, frothy foam. Adding the chemical agent poloxalene to supplements can help. Removing cattle from pastures is also effective.

Years Ago in the News

The following stories are from the October 6, 1933 edition of the NEWS:

The Santa Anna Football team started the season last Friday with a match on the local grid between Santa Anna and Miles. Santa Anna won by game by a score of 31-0.

The Girls Pep Squad, led by Misses Annie Lee Brown and Louise Wilford, pep leaders, put the zest into the local team, and backed them up for all it was worth.

Christine Zachary, the football sponsor, made the first kick-off against Miles. She was escorted to the field by John David Harper. The drill between halves included all the girls with new uniforms. There were about fifty in all.

Mrs. Milton Binlon was elected unanimously to be sponsor of the pep squad for this year.

Hayes Hefner, Orley Roberts, Walter Taylor and one of the Ellis boys returned last week from Tucson, Arizona where they have been stationed the past four months in one of the Government Civilian Army Corps camps.

Jack Laughlin Post American Legion met in regular session Tuesday evening.

Main topic of the evening was the Community Christmas Tree. The body went on record as favoring the move, and will soon begin to make efforts to put the proposition over.

They also voted to have a social meeting Friday night, October 13. All ex-service men and their families invited.

The slogan is "We stayed together in 1918, let's stay together in 1933."

Mr. Green is an alumnus of McMurry College and was president of his graduating class. He was a member of the famous Abilene High School football team as well as a member of the varsity squad at McMurry. He comes highly recommended.

METHODIST CHURCH Sunday School at 9:45 a.m., Morning worship and sermon by the pastor at 11 a.m. The subject for the hour will be "The Atonement." This will be the third of a series of sermons on the Apostles' Creed.

Epworth Leagues at 6:45 p.m. Winston Hall is leader for the seniors and Georgia Frances Barlett is leader for the intermediates. At the evening hour, 7:30, Dr. R. O. Sory, presiding elder, will bring the gospel message.

G. A. Morgan, Pastor; C. B. Verner, Supt.

over five dollars. This money will be put in the class treasury to be used later.

A news item received from the Journalism department of the Baylor University, Waco, informs us that A. G. Weaver has been designated Vice President of the Junior class for the winter term.

At a called meeting of the Board of Education Wednesday night Mr. William C. Green, son of Supt. R. D. Green of Abilene City Schools and nephew of Supt. Green of Fort Worth City Schools, was elected to a position on the high school faculty.

This additional teacher has been necessitated because of the large number of students enrolled from the rural school districts this year.

The Ward School P-T A has had two interesting meetings this term, led by Mrs. R. R. Lovelady, president.

A motion carried to sponsor another Diphtheria Toxoid Campaign and as most of the children above the second grade were given toxoid two years ago that leaves only children in the first and second grades and those of pre-school age. Dr. Lovelady gave a very instructive talk on toxoid at the first meeting this year.

A motion carried to give Walker's Pharmacy and Phillips Drug Co. a vote of thanks for the ice cream donated thru the courtesy of Banner Ice Co. for the sale of ice cream cones; and also Low Corner Drug Co. and Turner's Drug for the donation of the cones. We realized a nice little sum from the sale of ice cream.

Faulty Regulators Cause Several Propane Fires

AUSTIN—A combination of freezing weather and improperly positioned regulators on home propane and butane tanks has caused five building fires in the last month and prompted the Railroad Commission's Liquefied Petroleum Gas Division to issue a warning to both LP-gas users and dealers.

Regulators control the flow of the propane or butane from the storage tank to the appliances in a home, stepping down pressures of 200 pounds per square inch to a few ounces. Each regulator has a small vent opening which must be protected from dust, dirt, insects, rain or snow.

If the regulator is not covered or protected, rain may collect in the vent opening and later freeze when the weather turns cold. Freezing rain, sleet or snow can also block the vent. When the moisture freezes, it can disable the regulator, allowing the full 200 pounds of pressure from the tank to shoot to appliances in the home.

A normal 3/4 inch blue flame can suddenly become a roaring two-to-three foot torch, igniting walls, ceiling or anything nearby.

That's exactly what happened in the five building fires recently reported to the LP-gas Division. Four occurred on the same day, November 27, as an icy cold weather front moved through the Panhandle.

Two residences and a mobile home office building in the town of Wheeler went up in flames with one injury reported due to smoke inhalation. A residence also burned in Shamrock. On December 8, a frozen regulator vent caused a fire which destroyed a mobile home in the Reeves County town of Toyah, injuring one person.

Investigators in each case found unprotected regulators on LP-gas tanks installed with the vent opening pointing up making it easy for moisture to collect, freeze, and block the vent.

With more winter weather on the way, LP-gas Division safety personnel urge everyone who uses propane or butane from tanks to have the regulator checked for proper positioning. Any certified LP-gas dealer can make the check. It's especially important to check older tanks and regulators. Many of the older regulator installations have exposed vents which can freeze easily.

Ideally, the regulator will be located under a protective dome cover on the top of the tank. Exposed regulators should be positioned with the vent facing down and should have a vent assembly or vent suppressor to protect against freeze-ups. Protecting regulators need not be expensive. A slotted can or modified plastic container can provide adequate protection.
