Sheriffs Of West Texas Organize To Protect Cattle Men

Sheriffs from about thirty counties met in San Angelo Tuesday of this week and organized a West Texas Protective Association for the purpose of trying to stamp out rustlers who are stealing cattle, sheep and goats over this territory.

Sheriff Frank Mills requests the Santa Anna News to state that he desires a copy of each brand in Coleman county, stating that a copy of all brands will be filed in the sheriff's office in Coleman county, a copy sent to the clearing house in San Angelo, and one to Lubbock. This will give the organized forces a better chance to cope with the situation where stealing is being carried on.

Either call at the office and give the information or write it on a post card and mail it to the Sheriff at Coleman, Texas.

SANTA ANNA HDC TO SPONSOR BOX SUPPER

The Santa Anna Home Demonstration Club announces that it is sponsoring a box supper to be held in the W. O. W. Hall next Tuesday, May 26, at 8:00 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend and a special invitation is extended to the candidates.

APPRECIATION

May I use this way of expressing my thanks and appreciation to each one who came (or sent in) for my surprise birthday shower.

This made me think of what Isa. 41:8 says: "And they helped every one his neighbour, and every one said to his brother, be of good cheer."

God bless each one.

Volunteer Fire Co. Makes Appeal

The Santa Anna Volunteer Fire Company wishes to make an appeal to the citizens and property owners for a little aid that will mean a great deal to the welfare and protection of your property.

Let it be understood that no member of the Fire Company draws a salary for his services; instead, they are just an organization of young business men who band themselves together for the protection of life and property in your city, and their services are gratis. Also, let it be understood that certain expenses incidental to keeping the organization in effect and meeting certain requirements in order to receive and hold recognition with the State Fire Insurance department further requires certain incidental expenses. There is no tax or other income designated for the benefit of the firemen, therefore they are left to the mercy of those who, out of gratitude and appreciation, are willing to make donations for the maintenance of the Fire Department.

Now, the members of the organized Volunteer Fire Company find themselves very much in the need of funds to pay the expenses of two delegates to the State Fire Insurance Convention, and also to pay incidental expenses of two firemen to A and M College to take special training in the Short Course offered by the State Department. The city is allowed a credit of 3 percent on the key rate for having two members of the company attending the State School to take the special training.

A committee from the Fire Department will call upon you in the near future and will appreciate any help you see fit to contribute to their support.

Santa Anna should feel grateful toward the members of her Volunteer Fire Company and rally to their support, and we believe you will.

Allred Given Cash Promise

WASHINGTON, May 18. (AP) Governor James V. Allred flew back to Texas today with a "virtual promise" the social security board would allocate about $1,500,000 to match the state's old-age pension fund.

He said he had decided to submit to the Texas legislature recommendations for legislation to permit the state to participate in federal-aid programs for the unemployed, the blind and dependent children. He declined to state directly, however, when that would be done.

"I don't know when I'll do it, but I definitely am going to submit these recommendations to the legislature," Allred said. "There is not going to be a special session in the immediate future and the programs probably will not be submitted until the next regular session."

MORTUARY

Funeral services were held in the auditorium of the First Methodist church at Coleman Sunday afternoon for A. L. (Doc) Pearce, 72, a pioneer farmer and rancher of Coleman county.

Mr. Pearce died in the Overall Memorial Hospital at Coleman early Saturday morning following a short illness of influenza and pneumonia, coupled with other complications, of less than one week duration.

Mr. Pearce was among the best citizens of Coleman county, and enjoyed a large circle of friends. He served in the Texas Legislature for four years under Governor Dan Moody's administration, has served many places of trust in the county, was president of the Coleman county Board of Education for some time, and was always found to be fully trustworthy. He was jovial, clean and interesting in conversation, always exemplifying intelligence and good character.

Mr. Pearce was born January 22, 1864, in Jackson Parish, Louisiana, but lived the greater part of his life in Texas, having been in Coleman county about 36 years. He accumulated considerable land holdings and enjoyed farming and raising livestock. At the time of his death he was among the larger land owners in the county.

New Rulings Announced By State Committee

COLLEGE STATION, May 20. - Land owners having multiple tenants on a contiguous block of farms may fill out a master work sheet instead of separate work sheets for each farm, it was announced by the State Soil Conservation Committee.

They also pointed out that payments will be prorated among all tenants similar to the way old parity payments were distributed and the land owner will be held responsible for compliance.

Of great importance to Texas farmers, members of the State committee commented, is the new rule that two rows of corn or grain sorghum interplanted with one row of cowpeas will count as two thirds soil-depleting crops and one-third soil-conserving. The county committee will determine the percentage of land occupancy.

Sudan grass has been ruled a soil-conserving crop regardless of use and can be harvested for hay or seed, used as a pasture, or left on the land.

The same is true of oats if followed by a summer legume after harvesting. The State Soil Conservation Committee assumed that crops will be grown and compliance will be sufficiently late to allow for this purpose.

It was also announced at the same time that the base rice acreage and production for 1936 will be the base that was established in 1935, except where producers are eligible for upward adjustment.

Upward adjustments will be made where the years of 1929 and 1930 were excluded from the previous base calculations; where the producer did not grow rice in one or more years in base period; where production was below a 10 barrel acreage on account of uncontrollable natural causes.

W. M. U. AND Y. W. A. HONORS MISS GREGG WITH SHOWER

Last Friday afternoon, Miss Queenie Gregg, bride-elect of Rev. Loyed R. Simmons of Brownwood, was profusely showered with gifts at an entertainment by the Woman's Missionary Union and the Young Woman's Auxiliary, organizations of the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. R. R. Lovelady, dressed in a black suit and representing the pastor of the church, opened the meeting which was a mock church ceremony. She took her place at the pulpit and made the regular church announcements for the following week, and also announced the approaching marriage of Miss Gregg, who has served as B. T. U. Director for the past two years and also in various other church works. Pastor Lovelady requested the church treasurer, Miss Gregg, to preside at the table, while each guest stened her pledge with the church, which was the same as registering in the bride's "Bridal Shower" booklet, which was hand-painted in gold by Miss Oita Niell.

After the pledges were signed, Miss Edith Verne Stephens, accompanied by Mrs. L. J. Smith at the piano, sang "Love Is the Sweetest Thing."

The pastor then announced that the Sunday School lesson would be taught, and Mrs. R. E. Dunham and Mrs. Arthur Turner chose sides for a contest in giving the mottoes of advertisement and another contest in which the guests were required to give the name of a song when a short bar of it was played. Mrs. Dunham's group knew their lesson better than the other group.

Following the Sunday School lesson, Misses Rosalie Niell, Doris Spencer, Rubye Lee Price and Mary Lee Combs, accompanied by Miss Lula Jo Harvey, sang a number of songs suitable to the occasion, then Misses Spencer, Price and Combs sang a Spanish love song. Another beautiful number "One Fleeting Hour" was rendered by Mrs. Lee Hunter, accompanied by Mrs. Arthur Turner.

The ushers, Miss Carmilla Flores and Miss Ruby Davis, dressed in black coats and white trousers, brought in the "love offering" to the treasurer, which proved to be many lovely and practical gifts. Miss Gregg graciously expressed her thanks, then another beautiful solo was sung by Mrs. Howard Pittard. After the gifts were passed and admired, refreshment plates of iced tea, pimento cheese sandwiches, pickles, and angel food cake were served to about sixty people. Roses were plate favors.

The registry contained the following names: Mesdames Lee Hunter, Alle Tabor, H. Haynes, Jim Newman, Reba McCreary, G. W. Howard, E. J. CHRONIC PESSIMISTS

It's the easiest thing in the world to knock.

It's the easiest thing in the world to stay away from the primary election and then complain about the nominee of your party.

It's easy to take no part in the parent-teacher association meetings and then knock on the schools.

It's easy to play golf or go picnicking all day Sunday and then criticize the church because it does not draw crowds.

It's just the easiest thing in the world to degenerate into a sour-faced, disagreeable, self-satisfied, chronic grumbler.

Every city, every town, no matter how large or how small, has its chronic pessimists, who see nothing but the bad in everything and do nothing to correct it.

A certain number will always exist, no doubt, as a horrible example for the rest of us, and even though they do no good, they at least forever will stand out as a living manifestation of what forward-looking people should not be.

Ants curl up and die when they have no work to do, and what a great world this would be if there were more human

WILCOX CLUB HONORS MISS GREGG WITH SURPRISE SHOWER

The Wilcox Sunday School Club of Howard Payne College at Brownwood held its regular meeting last Thursday evening with the Tompson House group as hostesses. At the close of the regular program, Misses Mary Lou Dunn and Pearl Jones very cleverly announced the approaching marriage of Miss Queenie Gregg, a member of the club, and Rev. Loyed R. Simmons, in dialogue form. Then packages were brought in for a surprise kitchen shower for Miss Gregg. She was also presented an autograph album in which each girl wrote her message.

Many lovely and practical gifts were received, for which Miss Gregg expressed her appreciation for the thoughtfulness of her fellow club members. She has been reporter of the club since she has been in Howard Payne for the spring term.

CLASS HISTORY

Hello, World, I know you are not going to be content to listen to a whole volume of history being read to you over the radio. You would either snap off the set or tune in on WLS for an old barn dance, or something of the kind. Nor can I blame you, I would do the same thing if any fresh young sap would try to tax me with a whole book of facts.

History is a fascinating thing, however, because it is living. Each day is but another page in the history of the world, and each minute sees new history written in the annals of time. The progress of man sweeps along impeded at times by wars and depressions, but the onward march is ever apparent.

All of us cannot be written about in the history of the world. The space is too limited. Only a few great figures can be etched with anything like fullness. The world must have its Alexanders, its Caesars, its Napoleons, its Lincolns, and its Lees. But each of us in the great roll book of the Eternal Historian has a page upon which are written our contributions to human happiness and to progress of civilization.

So tonight, as Historian of the Class of 1936, I pause for a moment to dip with colorful imagination into the future and prophesy wonderful history for this class when the Eternal Historian has closed the pages allotted to it.

It has been a long journey for these seniors of 1936, but at last we have reached our goal. Eleven years have we traveled, and tonight we are rejoicing because we are almost to our journey's end. Not one of these seniors, however, is sorry he came to this place. Tonight we seniors want to reverse that old adage and say, "For every thorn there's a rose," because for every sorrow we've had during our school days, there have always been many joys. The happy memories of these school days will follow us forever.

Eleven years ago a group of small children gathered in the first grade room of Santa Anna Grammar School. You would hardly believe that those children are these seniors. We were guided in grammar school by many faithful and patient teachers.

At last the year of graduation came. Mrs. Chas. Evans, who had guided us through the fifth and sixth grades, was again our sponsor. How happy are the memories of this year. Shall we ever forget how elated we were when we were allowed to come to high school to practice our graduation exercises. Soon graduation was over, but we passed from the thrill of graduation to the thrill of being a freshman.

How well we remember that day we walked up to the high school building feeling so small and foolish—but not for long. We were advised to act as foolishly as we wished for we would be the object of everyone's ridicule anyhow. We took this advice to heart, much to the sorrow of our teachers. How many funny mistakes we made!

Soon, however, we were no longer "fish." The upperclassmen called us "wise saps," but we secretly were beginning to awaken to the facts about us.

Our sophomore year flew swiftly by. Then came our junior year. With it came one of the greatest privileges of any time in our class history, for this year we had for our sponsors Miss Mattie Ella McCreary and Mr. Clyde Dean. Miss McCreary has worked faithfully with us and shared our sorrows as well as our joys for the past two years. Then came time for the junior play, "The Man in the Moon." Before we could realize it time came for the Junior-Senior Banquet. For every snip of the scissors as we cut out our program booklets or every brush of the pen as we printed the program on them there is a memory so dear to us that we would not part with it. For every bit of work we did as we prepared for that banquet, there is a treasure beyond worth in gold or silver in the heart of every senior. Yes, those are joys never to be forgotten.

Then we were seniors! Seniors—how superior and dignified the very word sounds. Every one was truly proud that he was a senior! We realized as we attended the beautiful banquet given in our honor by the juniors that we were indeed near the end of our journey in public school education. The seniors this year have presented two successful plays, "Second Story Peggy" and "Crushing Society." Soon came the day we had all dreamed of for so long—Senior Day. These seniors, who had so much fun on that day, shall never forget it.

Now we've reached commencement. Tonight we stand together as one class. My duties as Class Historian are over. I have recorded only features that pertain to the life of the class here in school. But tonight also finishes another chapter in the history of the Eternal Historian. Delightful indeed if we could view its chronicles. That being denied, we can only let our imagination run riot again and hope when the book is closed with "Fins" written for the members of this class that records will be recorded there to stand throughout the ages, and may one short line read, "They served their fellow man."

—Emma John Blake, Class Historian

Memories of school days are truly treasured. As our greatest memories of the past, Friendship ties that are tied will never be severed. And our memories forever with us last.

Memories so honorable, great and true. Linger on with the future that arrives. And the vibrating thrill that comes to you. Forever and ever will thrive.

Memories of love, classmates and friends. That in the future we shall recall. Of those who are famed men and women. How greatly we then shall exalt.

Treasure all your golden memories. Keep them stored in your loyal heart. Think of our high school days together. And from them never part.

—Elva Lou Smith, Class Poet

DEMONSTRATOR STORIES

It is very simple and cheap to refinish old floors with a mixture of new lubricating oil, kerosene, vinegar, and paraffin made from a formula that I got from the Home Demonstration Agent's office, said Mrs. Harvey Z. Perry, bedroom demonstrator of the Concho Peak Home Demonstration Club.

The formula used is as follows: 1 qt. new lubricating oil (medium) or linseed oil. 1 qt. vinegar. 1 qt. kerosene. 1 lb. cake paraffin.

This solution is applied to the floor boiling hot with an old cloth or brush. Old floors will absorb all the oil put on, but part of the oil may be wiped off new floors to keep them from becoming too dark. The recipe makes enough of the solution to finish the floors of two medium size rooms.

Plant lice have attached my rose bushes and are destroying the buds before they have a chance to open, said Mrs. E. W. Marshall, yard demonstrator of the Liberty Home Demonstration Club. These plant lice are small, soft bodies, pale whitish or greenish to blackish insects with pear-shaped bodies and possess six rather long legs. They rarely ever kill a plant, but reduce its vigor, curl and distort leaves, harden the buds and otherwise cause malformation of flowers. Honeydew is caused by these insects. As a plant lice or aphids are sucking insects the spray used must be one that will burn them to death when it comes in contact with their bodies. They may be killed by a forcible spraying of a nicotine sulphate (Black Leaf 40) or a soap solution, Mrs. Marshall has found.

Mrs. Vernon Spruell, yard demonstrator of the Gouldsk Home Demonstration Club, finds that a yard looks its best only when it is neat and well kept. She keeps her beds well cultivated with a rake and to make the ground take up and hold more water as well as look better. Shallow cultivation and bed mulched with fertilizer, cotton gin waste, or straw stock leavings will do more to keep shrubs in good condition during the hot summer months than anything else a person can do. When shrubs beds are free from weeds and neatly raked the appearance of the whole yard is improved, as Mrs. Spruell has discovered.

The bedroom is one of the most essential rooms in the house and for that reason it should be carefully planned, decorated, and kept, says Mrs. Edd Pitts, bedroom demonstrator of the Bowen Home Demonstration Club. It is necessary to have sufficient ventilation for healthful, comfortable sleeping and this means good screens on all doors and windows to keep out all insects. The room should provide a comfortable bed, a convenient place to dress, good storage for clothing, places to read and study, and be attractive and restful. The colors used in the rooms should be light, cheerful, and restful, never glaring or bright. Mrs. Pitts feels that her bedroom will suit the needs of her family if it is so planned to include all of these requirements.

R. L. McLaugh, Brownwood attorney who is seeking the position of judge of the 35th Judicial District, was in Santa Anna last Wednesday greeting acquaintances and making new ones.

Misses Vada and Vera Hommer spent the weekend in Brownwood with Misses Aloha Hatcher, Aleene Ripley, and Lillian Winslett, students in Howard Payne.

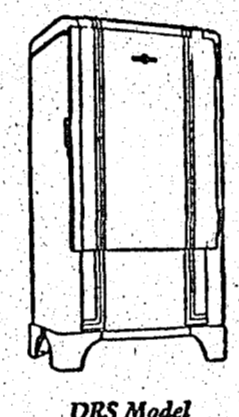

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Edwards and son Charles left early Monday morning for Houston where they will attend the State Bankers' Association.

LET'S MAKE SANTA ANNA GROW!

The following merchants and business interests of Santa Anna want you to join us in making Santa Anna one of the most outstanding business and trading centers in Central Texas. MONEY SPENT IN YOUR HOME TOWN helps to develop greater industries, pay wages, pay taxes, support churches and schools, and create business volume upon which communities prosper. These Santa Anna merchants offer standard goods and courteous services at reasonable prices. Besides, they offer to share the profits with their customers on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month, our designated Trades Days for 1936. Every dollar spent away from Santa Anna for Dry Goods, Bread, Meats, Groceries, Drugs, Gasoline, Tires, Tubes, Furniture, Hardware, Notions, and suchlike decreases the opportunities of Santa Anna merchants and other industries to grow and better serve you; causes the depreciation of stocks and industries in your home town and community; also lowers your property values and lessens Your opportunities. The following Santa Anna merchants and other business people entreat you to join us in promoting a bigger and better community.

Presby'rian Church

There is no better place to go on Sunday, than to church. You will find some good loyal people there. Won't you come and enlarge the number of good people? You will have time, won't you?
 There will be some fine old hymns sung, you will enjoy joining in the singing of them. The brief Scripture lesson can be fine food for your soul. In the quiet moment of prayer you may find how near God is to you. Perhaps the sermon will have a word that will help you. "Come and see." There is no better way to find out.
 M. L. Womack, Minister.

Memorial Day Again

Once more comes Memorial Day—fraction of the twelve months that is fragrant of the forgotten.

Born of love and loyalty, of loss and loneliness and longing, of sorrows that soothe even while they pain, it is at once the nation's expression of grief and its avowal of gratitude.
 Following a custom that reaches back to the childhood of most of us, this community will make ready for fitting observance of the sweetest, saddest day in all the cycle of years.

Out in the orderly avenues of the dead, eager feet will be hurrying, bearing a wilderness of flowers. It is the end of May, the season of buds and blossoms, and there are tokens of remembrance for all who are gone—for all but the forgotten. Almost every grave will glow like a garden.
 It will be an old, old scene to most of us, but in it there will be an eloquence irresistible. There will be no flash of soldier's finery in that column, no glitter of gun, no gleam of sword. But there will be in it something more impressive even than the majesty of a charging host. Cheeks will grow moist with tears in the presence of that column and hearts will grow heavy with an inexpressible ache, but the significance of it will be a thing that in memory's treasure will never grow less. On the heart is written the meaning of the day of flags and flowers.

It is all sentiment of the sort that the people of a nation must have if their institutions are to endure, if the victories they have won are to be kept, if the progress they have achieved is to be made secure.
 In the beginning, Memorial Day was designed as an institution that would bring once a year the nation's acknowledgment of its debt to its fallen defenders. It quickly outgrew its original design. It had in it an appeal that was universal. It has come to be a day on which the American people pay the tribute of love and memory to all their dead. There need be no fear that Memorial Day will ever fall into disuse. There is scarcely a man in all the land who would not be outraged at even a suggestion of its abandonment. It will endure and it will be honored and observed as long as the nation shall keep a place among the peoples of the earth. Its universality makes it secure.

MR. AND MRS. DAY ARE HONOR GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Day were honor guests last Friday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Rex Golston and Dr. and Mrs. L. O. Garrett entertained in the Golston home with bridge and forty-two.

The house was decorated with beautiful pot plants, honeysuckles, and numerous other flowers.

There were six tables of forty-two and bridge. After these games were played, Mr. and Mrs. Day were presented with a double deck of linen playing cards.

One of the most interesting features of the evening was a contest in which flowers had a vital part. Questions were asked, the answers being names of flowers. The first letter of each flower was taken down in order, and gradually the names of "Emmett" and "Louise," the honorees names, were spelled out. Mr. Edwards won high score for the men, and Mrs. George Johnson won high score for the ladies. Mr. Edwards was presented a weighted bridge pencil, and Mrs. Johnson was presented a bridge score set. These in turn were presented Mr. and Mrs. Day.

Refreshment plates of strawberry cream and angel food cake were served, and red rose buds were plate favors.

Those present for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Day, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Purdy, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thate, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Childers, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Schreiber, Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Burris, Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson, Mesdames J. R. Gipson, Sherman Garrett, Minnie B. Pinney, J. W. Riley, Misses Elsie Lee and Ruby Harper, and the hosts and hostesses, Mr. and Mrs. Golston and Dr. and Mrs. L. O. Garrett.

Mr. and Mrs. Day and sons, Robert and George, will soon move to Kaufman, their former home. They have been guests at several other parties, also.

Mrs. T. J. Lancaster returned Saturday afternoon from a three weeks visit with her son in Gouldbusk and her daughter, Mrs. Ples Williamson of the Concho Peak Community.

Mrs. Basil Gilmore and Miss Josie Baxter attended a meeting of the District WPA teachers in Brownwood Saturday.

Diamond-back terrapin meat—a delicacy much in demand during pre-prohibition days—is again becoming a "best seller" among sea foods. With the advent of prohibition repeal, according to the North Carolina state division of commercial fisheries, terrapins have "come into their own" once more, due to their popularity for beer lunches.

GET GULFLUBE— It's "Stripped for action"!

A boxer clad in full evening dress would be fighting under a bad handicap. Cheap, poorly refined motor oils are just as hampered. They can't fight friction efficiently because they're laden down with excess waste.

When the boxer sheds some of his clothes he's like most 25c oils—free from some hampering waste, but not all. Until Gulf perfected its great Multisol process, no refiner of 25c oils could afford to go beyond this stage.

The boxer stripped for action is like Multi-sol refined GULFLUBE MOTOR OIL. It's stripped of all excess waste—ready to do the finest friction-fighting job of any 25c oil made! The only 25c oil matching premium-priced oil! Try Gulflube—at the Sign of the Orange Disc.

Ross K. Prescott For Representative

Added to our announcement column this week is the name of Ross K. Prescott, one of the splendid young men teaching in the Santa Anna High School, in connection with coaching the young men in their athletics. The following was published in the Brownwood Daily Bulletin one day this week, and is repeated here.

Ross Knight Prescott this week made his announcement as a candidate for Representative in the Legislature from the 125th district, Brown and Coleman counties.

Mr. Prescott was reared in Brownwood and is a graduate of Brownwood High School and Daniel Baker College. He was a football star for four years at each school.

He is teacher and athletic coach at Santa Anna High School at present and formerly taught at Gouldsk in this county.

Mr. Prescott first became known in politics in this district two years ago when he campaigned in 22 counties in behalf of Jimmie Allred for Governor. He is an outstanding public speaker and has been urged ever since the campaign to offer himself for public office. He was offered numerous positions in schools of the section at that time also, but chose Santa Anna.

No formal platform was announced by Mr. Prescott. He is now preparing a platform and will discuss it in detail during the campaign. He believes that with his experience, background and public speaking ability he can adequately and forcefully represent the wishes of the people of his district in the Legislative halls.

"I believe in jobs for the young men and pensions for the old men," he said. He has definite views on pensions, relief, law enforcement, conservation of natural resources and will discuss these issues in the campaign. Mr. Prescott believes in strict economy in government; more efficient tax collection and equalization of the tax burden to the end that the man most able to pay will contribute his just share. He believes now is the time for young men to take their places in government as they are well qualified to cope with the new and different problems now arriving.

Mr. Prescott is closing his second year's work in the Santa Anna High School, and has made many friends during his stay here. He is politically minded, democratic and stands for the right things in government. He will make a personal campaign during the next two months, and further place his claims before the voters in the two counties.

Zero C. Ingram For Representative

Zero C. Ingram, a resident of Brownwood the past 21 years, today authorized the announcement of his candidacy for the Texas Legislature as a representative of Brown and Coleman counties. During his long residence in Brownwood Mr. Ingram has been active in the business, civic and social affairs of the city and is well qualified for the high office to which he aspires.

Mr. Ingram was educated in the public schools of Fort Worth and later attended Brownwood College, doing his literary work in Daniel Baker and studying commercial law and business administration in Howard Payne. Mr. Ingram withdrew from college early in 1913 and enlisted in the United States navy, serving throughout the duration of the World War. Since completing this service he has been active in Brownwood business circles and during the time was engaged in ex-service men's organizations, serving in numerous official capacities.

During the past four or five years Mr. Ingram has been an employee of the Texas Railroad Commission in the oil and gas division. While in this work he learned much of the state's greatest industry and has definite ideas as to how oil, the world's greatest natural resource, should be conserved and taxed.

Mr. Ingram plans to conduct an active campaign in the two counties he aspires to represent and from the platform and personal contact will outline his ideas of legislation most beneficial to Brown and Coleman counties, as well as to the entire state. Briefly Mr. Ingram stated today that he favors paying in full and promptly the old age pensions and would raise the money needed for this by increasing taxes on natural resources—oil, natural gas, sulphur, and carbon black. He would increase the per capita school apportionment in an effort to reduce or eliminate local school taxes. He also would favor a more equitable automobile registration tax. Mr. Ingram heartily endorses soil erosion programs now under way and would enlarge and continue this great work.

During the past few years Mr. Ingram has been in close contact with the inner workings of the state government and believes that he is well qualified to render the citizens of Brown and Coleman counties a valuable service in the Legislature and during the next two months will present his candidacy to the voters in language they can understand.

Rev. A. R. Watson For Representative

Rev. A. R. Watson of Brownwood was in Santa Anna this week, and while here placed his announcement with the Santa Anna News as candidate for the office of Representative in the 125th district, composed of Brown and Coleman counties.

Rev. Watson gave the following in an interview with this editor. Moved to Brownwood the first time in 1883. Was educated in the old Coggin Academy and Howard Payne College. Taught in the public schools of Brown county for several years, during the time preached at country and village churches. Later served several churches as pastor in central west Texas, among them being the Baptist church in Santa Anna about 35 years ago. He served as a member of the 33rd and 34th legislatures, being elected from the old 94th district, composed of Hamilton and Mills counties, rendering acceptable service to the people of his district. Rev. Watson feels that, by reason of his experience and training, he is well qualified to render a similar service in this district.

Rev. Watson will make an active campaign, calling on as many of the voters as possible, during the remainder of the campaign, placing his candidacy before you in person.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Watkins are rejoicing this week over the good news of the graduation of their son, Eugene, who will graduate this week with the M. A. degree from Texas Technological college at Lubbock, Texas. He has majored in Civil Engineering. A letter from Eugene informs his parents that he has accepted employment with a factory in Tennessee to begin immediately after the closing of school. We are always proud to announce that one of our Santa Anna boys has made good.

TRICKHAM H. D. CLUB

"Everyone realizes the necessity of watering plants, but it really is surprising how many folks do not water them right. It's possible to do more harm than good at watering. Whatever method used, to be effective, you must get the water down into the soil far enough that the roots will be encouraged to go deep for a drink," said Miss Alice Glenn Young, in the lesson she gave on watering plants when the Trickham Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. B. W. McIver last Thursday. Twelve members were present.

The game played was the spelling of ten words which the majority of the ladies missed. Mrs. Laughlin and Mrs. Smeid spelled the most.

Ice cream and cake were enjoyed by all the ladies present.

Next club meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Carl Sheffield.

WHON H. D. CLUB
