WTU Rate Increase Sought

West Texas Utilities Company has filed for a general increase in its electric rates for retail customers.

Local manager Charles Wetsel said the application, filed Friday, is a systemwide request for higher rates. Simultaneous filings were made in all incorporated towns and with the Public Utility Commission of Texas at Austin for an increase in rural areas, unincorporated towns and in incorporated towns which have ceded jurisdiction over electric rates.

So far, a total of 19 municipalities served by WTU have opted to let the PUC analyze rate requests and to make decisions for them. These are Albany, Chillicothe, Dickens, Eldorado, Goree, Hedley, Lakeview, Matador, McCamey, Mertzon, Moran, Paint Rock, Roaring Springs, Robert Lee, Roby, Rotan, Rule, Trent and Weinert. WTU has filed complete information about the rate request with each of these towns.

The principal reasons cited for the new rate proposal is that the present rates are not adequate to support the investment WTU has made in necessary new facilities since the last rate increase, Wetsel said.

WTU's current construction program, the core of which is the coal-fired power plant at Oklaunion, is the biggest and most expensive in the Company's history. By the time the proposed rates become effective, WTU will have invested more than $84.4 million in new facilities and must spend considerably more in the years ahead to satisfy the growing

bk
Rainfall during the past week has not been enough to measure, but enough to keep temperatures pleasant. The grain harvest has been slowed in some areas by occasional drizzle and dampness, but generally got back into full swing this week.

Butch Perry, manager at Alderman-Cave Co. elevator here, said the grain was coming in well this week, and if the weather cooperates, the harvest should be completed in about a week.

About 20 railroad cars of wheat have been shipped from the local elevator, and several million pounds of oats have been purchased at the local facility.

The grain is of good quality this year, despite the damage of the yield by rain and wind in many areas.

CAPITOL UPDATE

by Jim Parker

While the 68th Legislative Session is now history, I want to continue, to the extent your gracious editor will allow, to delve into areas of present and future interest concerning my representation of you.

I think perhaps the most misunderstood mechanism in state government is the appropriations process whereby all state revenue over a two-year "biennium" period is allocated to various agencies and services for expenditures. Of course, any consideration of Texas appropriations process must be predicated upon our state's very unique constitutional concept that prohibits deficit spending. This could most aptly be analogized to the absolute prohibition against me, as an individual, writing a check that would overdraw my bank account.

For any appropriations bill to ultimately pass in to law and expenditures authorized actually be made, the State Comptroller must certify that there will be sufficient state revenue to fund the expenditure made.

The actual appropriations bill must originate in the House of Representatives and, in reality, commences with recommendations made by a group called the Legislative Budget Board (LBB). This board is comprised partially of elected officials with LBB staff such as full time accountants, examiners, statisticians, etc. to pass them. As a practical matter, each entity in the state which must have state dollars for operations submits a proposed budget, their budgets are scrutinized and the LBB determines the merits of the requests.

This procedure commences almost immediately after the close of any given regular session, and the LBB recommendations are ready at or shortly after the commencement of the next session.

On the House side, the Speaker of the House appoints an appropriations committee from the House Membership (the number was 29 members this session) and they, aided by the LBB recommendations and the Governor's budget recommendations, determine who gets what slice of the pie - the pie being the total $30B plus of state revenues generated over the two-year period. A seat on the appropriations Committee is a very powerful position, if somewhat thankless, and was, prior to this session, determined to a great extent by seniority. This session, the Committee was made up of the vice-chairmen for appropriate matters from the other substantive committees (27) plus a chairman and vice-chairman.

I had significant problems his session with the fact that 29 people were able to make these most important decisions for the people of the state of Texas with little or no practical input from the other 120 members. While it may not be the intent of this mechanism to create inequity, it invariably does; a typical example being the fact that the Governor's Office received a 54.3 percent increase in spending ability for the coming biennium over last biennium. On close scrutiny I discovered that a sizable portion of this increase was to fund and staff a Governor's Commission to study women's issues. I think we could virtually unanimously agree that, while the program might be good if sufficient funds were available, our state is faced with many issues and needs of significantly greater importance where funding is desperately needed.

I have quite probably told many of you more than you ever wanted to know about the appropriate process but I am convinced that the absolute key to the success of our system is an informed electorate that knows what the elected are doing so they can better judge their level of performance. In the coming weeks I will humbly attempt, through this column, to shed some light where I, at least, had always found darkness prior to your allowing me to serve you and become aware of the forces at work.

ASCS News

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service is formulating plans for the 1984 wheat program and is asking for public comments by June 6.

Although the statutory deadline for announcing the program is August 15, details of the program should be given well in advance of that date to allow farmers more time to make program decisions.

Because the public is increasingly called-upon to help establish food and agricultural policy, it is in the interest of all farmers and other interested citizens to play a role in developing the programs that affect them directly.

The written comments should contain opinions regarding whether or not there should be an acreage reduction, payment-in-kind, or land diversion program, and if so, the extent of such requirements.

Other program features open for public comment include: the grain reserve program, methods for determining 1984 crop acreage bases, provisions governing allowance of haying, grazing and conservation usage of set-aside acreage, offsetting compliance requirements for an acreage reduction program, the wheat loan level, target price, and national program acreage.

Farmers and consumers can directly influence the 1984 wheat program if they let their views be known to Washington by June 6.

Wheat comments should be mailed to the Director, Analysis Division, USDA-ASCS, Room 3741-S, P. O. Box 2415, Washington, D. C. 20013.

Area Men Take Part in Two-week Session National Guard Camp Held

Several Santa Anna men took part in the annual training session for Texas National Guardsmen, held May 28 through June 11 at Fort Hood. The area group is the 2nd Brigade of the 49th Armored Division, with the 3rd Battalion comprised of units from Brownwood, Brady, Coleman, Ballinger and San Angelo.

Capt. Larry Rutherford of Brownwood, a Santa Anna High School graduate and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Rutherford of Rockwood, is the command administrative assistant in Brownwood. The 3rd Battalion consists of the headquarters Company HHC in Brownwood, combat support in Coleman CSC; and Companies A, B and C, located in San Angelo, Ballinger and Brady respectively.

The Brownwood unit provides support in the form of cooks, truck drivers, mechanics, clerks and other personnel. Combat support from Coleman provides scout, reeye missile, ground surveillance and radar platoons.

A highlight of the two-week training was a visit by Texas Governor Mark White on Wednesday of last week.

During the annual camp, guardsmen were involved in tactical training, night road marches and combat and survival skills training. This year the battalion was headquartered in the relative luxury of 100-man brick stucco barracks. The accommodations alternate every three years between the barracks and metal, shed-like buildings.

Members of the Texas National Guard train throughout the year, in addition to the two-week camp, to maintain a state of readiness and efficiency. Most of the members have full-time jobs in their communities, with the men subject to the same standards and regulations as the Army, and under the supervision of active Army advisors with the Dept. of Defense.

Santa Anna had its own unit for many years, but now local men are combined with others in the area.

TEC Detects Fraud In Unemployment Benefits

Unemployment Insurance payments will be under closer scrutiny, as a new Random Audit system begins operation in March of this year.

According to the Texas Employment Commission, this new method will uncover improper payments resulting from Agency error, claimant or employer error or fraud, by randomly selecting for investigation claimants who have received employment insurance benefits in the previous week. This computerized selection process should, much like similar surveys conducted by independent groups such as Neilson, indicate the percentage of payments being made in error by looking at only a small number of actual cases.

Although the system is not specifically designed for overpayment and fraud detection, previous studies indicate that this is one of the most efficient methods of detecting such activity. The TEC auditors will approach their investigations assuming that each payment studied is a legitimate claim. If an error is found, either in favor of the Agency or the claimant, a report will be filed and corrective action taken.

Because of the potential for increased efficiency in benefit payments, employers, claimants and union representatives are encouraged to cooperate in every way by providing requested information.

The Texas Employment Commission has always had an overpayment and fraud detection system, which works well to uncover errors in unemployment insurance payments. In 1982, TEC collected $4.6 million in overpaid benefits where it had been determined that payments had been made in error. Currently, TEC matches employers' wage reports and individual claims for benefits, and investigates all discrepancies. Since employers now file only quarterly wage reports, there is sometimes a short delay before an investigation is initiated. This new Random Audit will augment the Texas Employment Commission's current overpayment system by allowing earlier detection of benefit payment inconsistencies.

Pond Turnover Familiar To Most Country Folks

Most rural Texas folks are familiar with the term "pond turnover," but misconceptions abound as to how this natural phenomenon occurs and its effects on fish and fishing, says Billy Higginbotham, fisheries specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Turnover is simply the mixing of layers of water that have attained different temperatures in a pond.

This stratification occurs in ponds during the summer months when a warmer, lighter surface layer of water is found above a cooler, heavier bottom layer of water. These two layers do not normally mix as long as the pond remains stratified.

In fertilized ponds or where fish are being fed, an organic waste deposit builds up in the lower layer. As this material decomposes, most or all of the oxygen is depleted in the bottom layer of water.

A rapid drop in temperature, cool rain or a strong wind can cool the surface layer and result in mixing or turnover of the pond water. A sudden loss of oxygen in the water may result when the oxygen deficient bottom water mixes with the oxygen rich surface layer.

If the turnover is severe, fish may die from this lack of oxygen. Generally, fishing is poor in a pond following the turnover, but as oxygen levels return to near normal, fishing success should increase.

Pond turnover is usually accompanied by an unpleasant smell of the water, a well-known hazard when using ponds and tanks.

Social Security Notes

Women and Social Security

Every American is affected either directly or indirectly by Social Security, but certain elements of the program are particularly relevant to women.

While we occasionally read about a man remaining at home to care for his children while his wife is employed outside the home, these are not the usual roles; it is almost always the woman who interrupts her career to raise the children. These women should realize that the work credits they have already earned remain on their work record and are added to any additional credits they earn after returning to work. Some women, like men, work throughout their adult lives. These women are earning credits toward their retirement benefits. In addition, those who are married and have children are also earning protection for their families, including disability and survivors insurance.

For example, a woman who becomes disabled and is unable to work for at least 12 months may be eligible for disability benefits if she has worked long enough and recently enough under Social Security. Those who receive disability payments for 24 months also become entitled to Medicare protection. The disabled woman's unmarried children may also be entitled to benefits. Monthly checks are payable to children under 18, children who became disabled before 22 and remain disabled, and children under 19 who are attending elementary or high school full time. The disabled woman's husband may also qualify for payments if he is at least 62. Even if he is under 62, he may qualify if he is caring for a child under 16 or disabled and entitled to benefits.

Additional information about the particular relevance of Social Security to women may be obtained from any Social Security office. Almost all Social Security matters can be handled by phone. Medicare questions or filing of medicare claims can be taken care of by calling toll free 800-442-2620. You may file application to establish your eligibility by calling 915-646-7533 in Brownwood. A representative of the Brownwood office visits Santa Anna on the first Wednesday of each month from 10-12 a.m.

Health Notes...

Many Diets Unacceptable

HOUSTON—The 80 million Americans who are overweight will spend millions of dollars this year in the search for slimmness, most of it directed towards turning "will power" into "won't power."

However, a specialist in behavior modification at Baylor College of Medicine believes the overweight would be better off to forget about the concept of will power completely.

John P. Foreyt, Ph.D., associate professor of medicine and psychiatry, said that in today's society it is almost impossible to eat without gaining weight, particularly as people get older and their metabolism slows down. Rather than fight a constant state of self-denial, they should try to understand what causes them to eat too much relative to their exercise level. The key to losing weight is to expend more calories through exercise than are consumed in the food eaten each day.

Many things cause people to put on weight, including when they do most of their eating. "Most people with weight problems tend to eat the bulk of their calories in the evening; they generally skip breakfast and eat a light lunch," Foreyt said. "People who tend to eat when they're bored, lonesome, anxious or depressed — they're not eating because they're hungry. The mood state is telling them 'I'm bored, what can I do?'" Eating is usually the easiest thing to do.

Other major reasons why people eat focus on the role food plays in our society. People meet for a business lunch, or get together with friends for dinner. Foreyt also said that lifestyles are so built around labor-saving devices people simply don't burn off enough calories anymore. "Most people who maintain lost body weight do it by exercising. Aerobic exercise (that which speeds up the heart beat for a sustained period of time) not only burns off calories while we're active, but is also speeds up the metabolism for up to six hours afterward. That burns off even more," he said.

The Number 1 reason people give for not exercising is a lack of time, Foreyt said. "What we say is: the first priority should be exercise. Then find time for other things." "You must begin any exercise regimen slowly and build gradually, increasing the distance you walk each day is a good starting point."

Dealing with the moods behind eating is more complex. The only way to combat eating out of loneliness and depression is to get active.

People who use self-denial to lose weight need to be realistic. The woman who gives up cheesecake until she loses 10 pounds need to recognize she can never go back to her former way of eating.

Foreyt recommends stepping up the level of exercise, rather than cutting back on food intake too drastically. A diet of no less than 2000 calories a day is needed for a healthy lifestyle.

Individuals should first try to diet on their own. If that doesn't work, they should seek inexpensive weight control programs, such as those offered by church groups or Weight Watchers, before trying expensive practitioners trained in weight control or going to expensive clinics.

Former Santa Annan Retires From Teaching

Mrs. Clarence (Anna Fae) Laws has retired as an educator after 40 years service to education.

The former Anna Fae Burgett, daughter of Mrs. J. W. Burgett of Weatherford and the late Rev. Burgett, has returned with her husband to Coleman after being associated with the Kermit Independent School District the past three years. She served as diagnostician in the Kermit-Wink-Loving Special Education Cooperative.

Mrs. Laws began her teaching career at Glen Cove while her parents and family were residing in Santa Anna. At that time Mr. Laws' sister, Mrs. Maud Storey, was principal. After that she taught in the Coleman Independent School District for 32 years. She was with the Brady-San Saba Special Education Co-op two years before moving to Kermit.

A graduate of Floydada High School, Mrs. Laws attended Tarleton State University when it was a junior college, and received her bachelor of science degree from North Texas State University. She has a masters degree in education from Hardin-Simmons University and has additional certification from Texas Women's University.

She and Clarence Laws were married in August 1945 at the home of her parents. The Rev. Burgett was serving as pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church at that time and also Principal of Santa Anna Elementary School.

Mrs. Laws was honored with several events at her retirement, including the Kermit ISD dinner and awards program. She and her husband were honored

ANNA FAE LAWS

A. S. Wilson was painfully scalded on one of his arms by escaping steam from a thresher engine one day this week. He was working about the engine when a liberal quantity of the hot vapor came in contact with its arm. He applied the proper treatment and continued to manipulate the throttle as if nothing had occurred to disturb him.

Members of the Mountain camp Woodmen of the World had a lively time in their forest last Saturday night. The camp fires burned brightly until past the midnight hour, and in the meantime a crowd of sovereigns from Shield were made acquainted with the mysteries of the Morning and Noon degrees of the order. An abundance of cold, refreshing drinks were provided for the occasion and notwithstanding the weatherman furnished an overplus of heat the crowd managed to keep cool.

The meeting will be remembered a long time by the home boys as well as by the visitors who are cordially invited to drop in and "chop" with us any time they feel like it.

At the tabernacle yesterday the local Masonic lodge installed their newly elected officers and celebrated the event with a basket picnic. T. C. Yantis of Brownwood acted as installing officer. There was plenty to eat, an abundance of ice water and every provision possible made for the comfort and pleasure of all present. Music for the occasion was furnished by the Santa Anna orchestra. The following officers were installed: Allen Poe, W. M. Chas. W. Woodruff, S. W. Comer Blue, J. W. Burgess Weaver, Treas. E. M. Critz, Secy. O. W. Parris, S. D. C. G. Erwin, J. D. Z. A. W. A. S. Cobb, Chaplain After the installation ceremony the crowd was entertained with a baseball game between the druggists and doctors and the "Tigers." The score was 46 - 4 in favor of the latter team.

Town loafers have donned their overalls and gone to the fields, where their services are in demand.

The city calaboose should be converted into an ice house. It would be so convenient for the News force.

M. H. Keith Jr., after a considerable tussle with typhoid fever, is on foot again and will soon be able to resume his former position at the jeweler's bench.

Jeff Polk is leisurely building his rock house in a substantial manner so if he concludes to add on two stories it will have a good foundation to rest on. Next fall there will be a big demand for store houses.

Will Mills and Comer Blue went to Home Creek Friday evening on a fishing expedition. They returned home at midnight empty handed, swearing by the Rock of Gibraltar and Cayote Peak that no fish was in that stream or they would have caught them.

J. W. McClellans Feted

June 10 On Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McClellan were in Abilene for the weekend to celebrate the 57th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. McClellan and also Mrs. McClellan's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Simmons were hosts for a dinner in their home honoring the couple. Other guests were Dr. and Mrs. C. F. Konze, Mr. and Mrs. Jasper McClellan and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Cockerell, all of Abilene and Mrs. Norman Walters of Santa Anna.

Several cases of hydrophobia are reported in the state, caused by dog bites and scratches from cats. There is a superabundance of these animals in every community. Their numbers should be reduced by slaughtering them, as human life is too valuable to be jeopardized by the presence of such worthless animals.

W. W. Johnson has disposed of his farm situated on Home Creek and left yesterday with his family for Concho County where they will reside in the future. Mr. Johnson has purchased a ranch near the town of Millersview.

When strangers come here boost Santa Anna. We have one of the best towns on the Santa Fe, and expect to materially increase our population by adding on Bangs and Brownwood as suburbs.

Historical Notes

By Ralph Terry

It's good to know that many people do read this column... sorry about not having an article in last week's paper, but due to the number of family histories that came in during that time, there was no time left over to write.

I had calls as far away as Fort Worth and Houston asking if they missed the column. Due to the history book that the Historical Commission is working on, history on the local level is very much a subject these days. In fact, the response from members of families that are writing and have written their stories has been so great that we haven't yet caught up on processing those already turned in.

We have had a number of people needing more time to complete their work and some are just now finding out about the project, so we are setting a FINAL DEADLINE of August 1, 1983 to have your histories in.

We hope that you who have rushed to finish yours by the initial deadline date understand that without your response, we would not be extending this deadline at all!! The histories that you have brought have made it possible for us to have plenty to do between now and August 1. But by extending this deadline, it will allow those who found out about the project late to be included. This new deadline will also give those that need a bit more time to finish their work. So, if you have any friends that wanted to do their history but felt that they did not have enough time, get them on the ball!! They should have plenty of time now!

We also hope to get all of the community, church and school histories in by August 1. Then those that are working on the processing of the material for the book will have some time to complete proofing, etc. We hope to get the material to the publisher some time in September. If we can meet these deadlines, the book should be in everyone's hands by February or March 1984.

If you wish to buy a book, this should be paid for by the end of August... We will be running a final notice for buying a book at that time. If you know that you want a copy of the book, it would make us feel better, knowing that we will have an adequate book sale as early as possible... so buy yours today. We are hoping to print a minimum of 1,000 books and have sold about 300 to date. We are very happy with this figure. If you do want a book, don't forget to order yours before you forget. We still do not plan to overprint very many over the figure actually ordered in advance. The book is $42 in the county and $45 out of the county (will be mailed).

We have received histories from a few people who have gone overboard in writing... these have included too much about the family prior to coming to Coleman County or too much about descendants after they have left the county. I want to apologize now to those, but we will have to cut down stories of this nature. We simply cannot use a lot of information not relating to Coleman County. It tends to make the book too long and is not fair to those who have stayed within the guidelines. If you are still working on a history, keep this in mind, as it makes more work for us.

Our list of schools that have not been spoken for follows (we have some information on some of these buy no one committed to writing the story!): Mayo, Glen Cove, Oak Grove (Atoka), Madge, Independence, Cotton, Blackwell, Rough Creek, Live Oak, Comal, Santa Anna, Cleveland, Rae, Spring Creek, Leaday, Milligan, Turner Ranch, Mt. Vale, Whon, Jackson, White Chapel, Echo, Rockwood, Red Bank, Line, Novice, Grape Creek, Longview, Goldsboro, Midway, Miller, Elm Creek, Robinson Peak, Volentine, Bee Branch, Morris Ranch, Pleasant Valley, Herring, Harper, Howe, Water Valley, New Castle, Winn, Washington, Mt. View, Success, Peabody, Vaughn.

If you want to write anything on one of these, let me know. If you have told me that you will do a story and I still have uncommitted, sorry for the oversight.

Please write a story if you have any knowledge of any of these.
