Santa Anna Schools

WELCOME NEW STAFF

When you are new, you deserve a proper welcome. So, Santa Anna, let's get our hands extended to the new staff at the Santa Anna Schools.

The new High School Principal is Mr. Dale Freeman. He will be the new Girl's Basketball Coach.

We have three other new coaches this year. Mr. Dean Bass, known locally, will be teaching High School Social Studies. Mr. Joe Young will be teaching Junior High Social Studies. Mr. Dale Ash will be teaching all levels of Physical Education.

Mr. Bill Hightower, a well known teacher from Coleman Schools, will be the Vocational Agriculture Instructor.

Ms. Janet Neff, also known locally, will be an elementary teacher.

Mr. Eric Wharton will be the new band director.

We welcome you all and wish you the best in the coming year.

In an effort to make a more personal introduction to this staff, my feature this week covers the new high school principal, Mr. Dale Freeman.

Mr. Freeman attended Bronte High School in a rural area of San Angelo. He is a graduate of Angelo State University. He comes to us from Deweyville High School near Beaumont.

On the educative side, he enjoys speech and drama contests. But on the fun side, having taught for twelve years in west Texas and on the coast, Mr. Freeman enjoys coastal fishing and stated that it was hard to give up to come here. None the less, he is excited about being here.

Mr. Freeman has taught high school math the majority of his career. His coaching experience is in girl's basketball, boy's football and cross country track.

On the family side, Mr. Freeman comes from a family of teachers. His father is a retired school superintendent. His mother teaches elementary reading at Presidio. He has two brothers, Jesse and Leon.

Jesse teaches chemistry at Seminole and officiates basketball and softball games.

Leon is principal and basketball coach at the Lohn School. Dale is looking forward to basketball season when he and his brother's teams will compete. This is the first time that they have been in such a situation.

Mr. Freeman stated that his personal goal is that in addition to quality work in the classroom he wants to stress involving as many students as possible in the total curriculum. There is a place for everyone to be involved other than classroom.

Chief of Police Attends Emergency Management Seminar

Local officials from throughout the state, including Russ Ellis, Chief of Police of Santa Anna, received an overview of Texas emergency management at a seminar July 17-19, 1984.

The Governor's Division of Emergency Management, Texas Department of Public Safety, sponsors the seminar to familiarize local authorities—mayors, county judges, emergency management coordinators and fire and law enforcement personnel with the components of emergency management. Local program development, funding, disaster relief and recovery, flood plan management and insurance, nuclear civil protection, and hazard mitigation are some of the topics covered.

The three-day session was held in the State Emergency Operating Center at DPS Headquarters. The EOC is a 12,000 square-foot nuclear blast shelter located 26 feet below the ground.

Following the session, Mr. Ellis was awarded a certificate recognizing his participation in the workshop.

DPS Director Colonel James B. Adams serves as State Director of the Division of Emergency Management. Robert A. Lansford is State Coordinator of DEM.

Months of hospitalization could not cure the paralysis of Murphy's legs, but that didn't dim the will to live that sparked Murphy's soul as he lay wounded in the thick heat of Vietnam. And that determination has since carried him to a prominent position of leadership among South Dakota's handicapped citizens.

Murphy's accomplishments were recently recognized by the Disabled American Veterans (DAV), which chose him as 1984's national Disabled Veteran of the Year. The stocky Vietnam vet received the award at the opening of the DAV's national convention in Washington, DC, August 26.

When he first returned from Vietnam, Murphy was angry, demanding that doctors and clergyman stay away, but that mind-set didn't last long. 'I guess I've had a positive attitude all my life,' he remarked. 'Looking around and seeing others worse off than I has made me feel very lucky to be alive.'

Even so, he was apprehensive about returning to his hometown, White, SD, in a wheelchair. But before long, he was out hunting from a standing vehicle with his brothers and cruising around with his buddies. And he decided to enroll at Dakota State College in Madison, SD, where he majored in business administration.

There he met a nursing student named Eldine, whom he married in 1972. Today, they enjoy swimming and playing computer games with their perky, 7 year old daughter, Erin.

After his marriage, Murphy continued his studies at Augustana College in Sioux Falls and became active in the DAV. He's held just about every elected position in Sioux Falls DAV Chapter 1 and the DAV Department of South Dakota, currently serving as commander of the state DAV organization.

That rise to prominence brought new responsibilities as he was appointed to various boards and committees charged with improving conditions faced by disabled South Dakotans. He also lobbies before the South Dakota legislature, advocating the needs of disabled vets, veterans generally, and handicapped people.

But most meaningful, personally, to Murphy is the one-on-one counseling he's often called upon to do with others who've recently undergone spinal cord injury.

'Some of them want to give up entirely,' he noted with concern. 'They don't even want to live anymore. I try to encourage them, tell them of their potential, their abilities. There are still so many things they can do.'

BINGO

State Comptroller Bob Bullock is warning Texas bingo operators they can say good-bye to their state licenses and hello to local police if they ignore state laws governing the game.

'When bingo people stray outside the Texas Bingo Enabling Act, they risk charges under the state's criminal laws against gambling,' Bullock said. 'All the Comptroller's Office can do is take away their licenses, but local police and prosecutors can treat them just like they'd been caught in a back alley crap game—just like any other two-bit gambler.'

Comptroller agents have recently visited 500 bingo games and found nearly a third are violating some section of the bingo law.

'Most of these violations were minor mistakes made by honest charity groups running their own games,' Bullock said, 'but that doesn't mean we can sit still for them. We have warned these groups and sent copies of the warnings to local police.'

A more serious problem is with commercial promoters who dupe charitable groups into letting the promoters run the game, count the money and give the charity what's left—if anything. The Texas Bingo Law just won't allow this. Where we find it, we're jerking licenses faster than you can say B-10. We suspended two licenses for this violation this week and we've got a hearing on a third set for next week.

'We'll be continuing to visit bingo games and our auditors will be looking closely at the books of everybody involved in bingo—the promoters, bingo organizations, supply distributors and manufacturers. These people can expect to hear from us and they can also expect us to share evidence of whatever violations we find with their local district attorney,' Bullock said.

DAV's National Disabled Veteran of the Year

Gene Murphy didn't have to go on that patrol into the jungles of Vietnam just 30 days before he was scheduled to return to the United States. But the 20 year old sergeant wanted to be with the men of the squad he led.

'Six of us were hit by small arms fire,' recalled the Sioux Falls, SD, man 15 years after that harrowing day.

'After being hit, I felt a burning and stinging feeling. I thought I'd bought the farm,' he remarked, meaning that he believed he would die.

'I couldn't feel my legs when I fell, so I moved to see if my legs were still there. When I moved, they opened fire again, and I was hit in the ankle. So I quit moving.'

That was the beginning of a day and a night of anguish and pain as Murphy waited for military choppers to get close enough to lift him out of the dense Vietnamese jungle. For 14 hours, he waited.

Gold Medalist not an Olympian

Her efforts as First Lady to beautify our nation led her on a journey of 200,000 miles, revealing to millions of Americans an even deeper meaning of beauty...one they could see reflected in her commitment, energy and caring.

It is in honor of this work, and of her many other contributions, that United States Senator, Lloyd Bentsen, introduced and won unanimous Senate approval of legislation authorizing the President to award a special gold medal to Lady Bird Johnson. President Reagan has signed this legislation into law.

There is no argument, from across the entire political spectrum, that this remarkable and gracious woman has given generously of her talents and time to make ours a more beautiful and just land.

Because of Lady Bird Johnson's efforts, our nation's capital is one of the most attractive cities in the world. And her artistry is echoed in cities and along the vast stretches of highways across our land.

'As First Lady, she took on tougher issues as well. She worked to promote the Head Start Program, which has given so many children a chance, that they might otherwise have been denied, of getting a quality education.'

President Johnson's decision not to seek reelection removed Lady Bird Johnson from the political visibility of the White House, but it did not dampen her concern for the landscape of America and the people who inhabit it.

She has worked hard and effectively to improve the education of the young people of Texas through her service as a regent of the University of Texas. She has led the effort to preserve and protect the beauty of Texas wildflowers. She is a successful business woman and a valued political counselor.

Lady Bird Johnson also finds time to be active at the LBJ Library and School of Public Affairs. She manages her communications interests and is involved with the National Park Service and the National Geographic Society.

But even with all this activity and devotion to public service, Lady Bird Johnson has not lost sight of what she feels is most important in her life. 'The core of it all is my two daughters and seven grandchildren,' she says.

Truly, in her lifetime, Lady Bird Johnson has served as a bridge between the traditional role and the contemporary roles of women in the United States.

She richly deserves this tribute from the American people in appreciation of her life's work. It exemplifies that which is finest and most noble in our American experience.

Passionsspiele 1984 Oberammergau

By Mrs. Hunter

I have recently had a wonderful tour, the 1984 Alpine Odyssey. I visited Switzerland, Austria, Germany, Bavaria and Italy.

I went with a group from Fredericksburg. We went by plane from San Antonio to Switzerland, stopping to refuel at Ganer, Newfoundland. We arrived at Zurich, Switzerland and transferred by bus to Ischgl, in Tyrol, Austria, a beautiful mountain village surrounded by Silveretta Alpine Mountains.

We spent four nights there attending a series of lectures at the Hotel Madlein. Each day was more exciting. Harry, the guide, was special as was the marvelous driver.

We then crossed the German border at Reutte and visited the Castle Neuschwanstein. From there to Wies to visit the famous Rococo Church. We also visited a famous castle, the Linderhof, and drove on to the Monastery Ettal for a brief visit. We made a short visit to Garmish.

On the fourth day of the tour, we visited the Monastery of Stams, founded in 1273, and saw the largest Baroque Church in Tyrol. We continued to Innsbruck, the capital of Tyrol.

The dream of a lifetime was fulfilled when we attended the Passion Play at Oberammergau 1984. The people on the Ammer River were intensely religious. In 1633 so many of them were dying of the plague and the whole community made a vow, before Christ on the Cross, to perform the play of his suffering, death and resurrection. During the thirty year war, more and more people were dying and the community vowed to give the Passion Play every ten years. The first one was in 1634. It has been faithfully performed for three and a half centuries. 1984 is Oberammergau Jubilee Year.

It is such a magnificent sight to have survived to our time. It is known the world over. The whole setting is so inspiring with hundreds of actors, a choir of 48 members and 65 orchestra members.

Each day and each mile showed more breathtaking scenery. Snow on the distant mountains, driving through tunnels, seeing tiny hay houses on hillsides. Nothing was wasted. The cattle had been driven up into the mountains for the summer. Things were very clean. In each little village there was a church. There was very little traffic and the cars were small, because of the price of gasoline. All roads were paved and in excellent condition. Flowers were everywhere and among the prettiest were the gorgeous rose gardens.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Bruce attended the Goat Show and Sale in Rock Springs on Saturday. They visited in Chrystal City with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kingsbery on Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon.

Couple Recite Vows

Miss Debra Ann Brister of Fredericksburg became the bride of Bennie Gus Rathke of Fredericksburg in an afternoon wedding at the First United Methodist Church in Lampasas, June 2.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Brister of Santa Anna, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Blackburn and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Brister, all of Lampasas.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rathke of Junction.

Rev. Hammond officiated the double ring ceremony. Wedding music was provided by Mrs. Jerry Jenkins of Fredericksburg, organist, and soloist Miss Marcie Jenkins of Fredericksburg. Special selections included 'If' and 'Up Where We Belong.'

A floral arrangement of silk gladioli and daisies of pastel colors centered between two 15-candle spiral candleabras decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white gown of chantilly lace and organza with a modified Queen Anne neckline and long sheer lace sleeves gathered at the wrist. Chantilly lace accented with tiny pearls complemented the bodice. The full organza skirt fell from a slightly raised waistline to a chapel length train, trimmed with chantilly lace.

To complement the gown she wore a Princess Di style hat which featured an embroidered crown accented with tiny pearls and pleated organza brim.

White daisies and baby's breath adorned with white ribbon made up the bridal bouquet.

Miss Debra Brister of Santa Anna, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Mrs. Edmund Rathke, sister-in-law of the groom, of Kerrville, and Mrs. Larry Smart of Lometa.

The bridegroom's attendants included his brother, Edmund Rathke of Kerrville, as bestman and brothers Arnold Rathke of Kerrville and Wayne Rathke of Brownwood as groomsmen.

Ushers were Marvin Rathke, nephew of the bridegroom, of Brownwood and David Rathke, nephew of the groom, of Kerrville.

Candlelighter was Dirk Wynne, cousin of the bride, of Nixon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Rathke

Following the ceremony, a reception hosted by the bride's parents was held at the annex of the church. House party members were Lisa Knopp, Lisa Schandua, Amy Wieser, Becky Dittmar, Susan Deike and Marla Pohler, all of Fredericksburg and students of the bride.

A three tiered cake decorated with daisies and topped by a trio of satin wedding bells highlighted the bride's table that was decorated in her chosen colors and centered by a floral arrangement of daisies and gladioli.

The bridegroom's table featured a chocolate cake decorated with an outdoor scene and a floral arrangement of daisies.

Following a wedding trip to Galveston, the couple returned to their home in Fredericksburg where both are employed as teachers and coaches at Fredericksburg High School.

The bride attended Lometa High School and graduated with honors from Angelo State University.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Junction High School and Howard Payne University where he was a member of the HPU football team.

A luncheon honoring the bridal couple was held prior to the wedding at the Feed Trough Restaurant in Lampasas, hosted by the bride's parents.

Soup and Salad Bowl

Though there is no sign on the building at the present time, business has boomed for the new Soup and Salad Bowl.

The Soup and Salad Bowl opened for business on July 16, 1984. The restaurant is located at 201 East Liveoak Street, one block east of the Courthouse in Coleman. Hours are 11:00 a.m. until 7:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The property is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Baird and leased to the operators, Walter and Arlene Stratton.

The greenery and plants that decorate the Soup and Salad Bowl are all for sale, courtesy of The Third Day.

A buffet style salad bar has all the goodies imaginable to prepare a delicious salad, including a few of the traditional already prepared salads. To top your pretty salad leaf plate are four varieties of dressings.

If you prefer a warm meal, a beautiful hollowed out lettuce leaf bowl may be filled with the delicious soup of the day. The homemade soup, which changes every day, is rumored to include chili and beef stew this winter.

For that small spot of hunger left or that sweettooth, three puddings are included on the salad bar.

THE STATES PATCHWORK QUILT PARADE

Arkansas Traveler

If for lack of space we are unable to run a quilt pattern every week stay tuned for the following week.

Quilt

The quilt block described is one of 48 that form a States Patchwork Quilt. (This was before Hawaii and Alaska became states.) The pattern was originally printed in a 1934 Ft. Worth Star Telegram. With increased interest in this activity in our area, one block of the quilt pattern will be found in the paper weekly.

QUILT FOR ARKANSAS
The Arkansas Traveler

From the gay old tune of like name, some happy quilt maker of the early '60's called her masterpiece 'The Arkansas Traveler.' It is a rollicking block, sometimes called the 'Travel Star' and again 'Cowboy's Star.' We can well imagine its being a favorite with the 'punchers' as it appears really intricate, especially when developed in four colors as the yellow, orange, gray-blue or ecru and white as suggested on the patterns. Blocks piece four diamonds to a large diamond, then four of these together with four white triangles to form the center, and the last four units A seam in to complete a 12-inch square. This block may repeat solidly over the quilt center to desired size, or a center 4 blocks wide by 5 long (48 x 60 inches) then a 6-inch band of white for fancy quilting and another row of blocks all around would complete a lovely top about 84 x 96. Allow 2 1/4 yards each of orange and ecru, 1 1/4 of yellow and 2 1/2 of white.

HAY

Buyers and sellers of hay now have access to a vast new hay market via their own telephone. The country's first electronic hay marketing system, National Hay Exchange, Inc., was introduced June 15. Results have been very encouraging.

Based in San Antonio, Texas, National Hay Exchange is the first marketing service to match buyers with sellers via a toll free telephone number (1-800-428-2002), experienced hay marketing specialists and a central computer. With instant access to a broad, consistent hay market, callers to the Exchange may list hay to sell or place orders to buy hay. For hay producers or users, such as feedlots, dairies, ranches or horse owners, the potential is unlimited.

In its first month, National Hay Exchange traded hay in a wide range of prices, reflecting the individual type of hay, quality, form (bales, etc...) and location. Alfalfa hay traded at $60 per ton to $120 per ton. Grass hay traded from $35 per ton to $80 per ton.

'Volume of early trading on the Exchange is greater than we expected,' says Bert Morris, president of the National Hay Exchange. 'Normally, something involving a computer takes awhile to be understood and accepted.'

'But recent unusual weather-droughts and heavy rains in different parts of the country--has made buyers and sellers look for a wider, national hay market. They appreciate having their trading handled with a single telephone call.'

'Using the National Hay Exchange is almost as simple as placing 'want to buy' or 'want to sell' ads in your local newspaper,' Morris says. 'But the ad gets national exposure, and the trader gets the service and financial security of dealing with an organization dedicated to efficient hay marketing.'

The Exchange accepts calls 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

A typical National Hay Exchange transaction begins with a seller phoning the toll free number to list at least one truckload of hay. (Before buyers or sellers can use the Exchange, an application for membership must be submitted. There is no charge or obligation for membership.)

An Exchange hay marketing specialist asks the seller for an accurate description of the hay, ranging from hay type, to bale size, how the hay is stored, maturity at harvest, color, smell, any chemical treatments and laboratory analysis results, if taken.

The seller also sets a price for the hay lot. This information is encoded into the National Hay Exchange computer.

Upon delivery, the buyer pays the following: total cost of hay, the transportation charge and half of the Exchange commission. The seller pays the other half since the Exchange serves both the buyer and seller. The sales commission is the only fee paid for using the Exchange. There are no dues or initiation fees, and there are no charges for listing or ordering hay. Listings and orders can be changed or cancelled at no cost.

The National Hay Exchange also provides an arbitrator for any dispute in which the buyer contests the quality of hay delivered, saying it was not as described by the seller.

'We offer sellers a better chance of finding buyers wanting a particular quality of hay who are willing to pay the asking price,' Morris says. 'We also offer them a better chance of selling all of their hay, even that of lesser quality, as long as it is fairly described and priced accordingly. For the buyer, we offer more choices of quality and prices, and a better chance of locating specific quantities.'

For more information, buyers and sellers should call or write to Membership, National Hay Exchange Inc., 888 Isom Road, Suite 250, San Antonio, Texas 78216.

Whon News

By Mrs. Tom Rutherford

Here we are again this week bringing you a few happenings from our little community. We did not receive very much moisture during the past week. But for sure every drop was appreciated and did help. Possibly from 1 inch to a little over.

A portion of the Taylor Ranch received over 2 inches of moisture on one rain. We are trusting more will fall in the near future.

Sunday we enjoyed a long telephone visit with our son, Thomas, in New Hampshire. All were well there. We also visited with our daughter, Lynda. Mrs. Rick Wheeler at LaGrange. All was well there only after effects of an electrical storm. She stated they received 3 inches of rain or more during the week. On Wednesday lightning hit some electrical appliances in the house. One was the TV and appliances in the house.

Another was a stereo. The girls were home and no one was injured in any way. Damage was done to electrical appliances and probably the loss of a TV Antenna.

Mrs. Lorene Wynn of Coleman and son, Herschel from Granbury visited in our home briefly on Saturday afternoon and checked on graves in the cemetery here.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham Fitzpatrick returned home Thursday afternoon after being with Mr. and Mrs. Ken Bowker of Santa Anna in Ruidosa, New Mexico for several days. They reported a wonderful few days vacation and sightseeing in different places where Mr. Fitzpatrick lived in his younger years. They had a nice journey but reported it was nice to be home even if the weather was much warmer here than there.

We are sorry to report Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Morris have not been feeling well at all the past week. They seem to have the summer flu and can't shake it. They are not in bed all the time but seems the bed really feels good. We hear of quite a lot of illness similar to this.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham Fitzpatrick daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jacky Bullion, have the past week moved their mobile home from O'Donnell to Glen Rose where the Bullions will be working with the Glen Rose School District. Mrs. Fitzpatrick drove to Glen Rose today to help her daughter celebrate her birthday. She will return home this afternoon. Seems we can guess as to how many birthdays Cheryl has had.

Mrs. Lorene Wynn of Coleman and her son, Mr. Herschel Wynn of Granbury visited with Mrs. Pearl Avant and Mrs. Fannie Alsop in Santa Anna Saturday afternoon.

K. K. Valdez is visiting her great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Vinson. Mr. and Mrs. Vinson will take K. K. to Abilene on Tuesday to her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Berry. Then she will soon be leaving for her home in Arizona.

Mrs. Pearl Avant of Santa Anna, Mr. and Mrs. James Avant of Coleman were on the Avant farm here Sunday.

Our thoughts and the thoughts of other friends and neighbors are with Mr. and Mrs. Joe C. Barnes of Santa Anna who are at the bedside of their youngest daughter, Bobby (Mrs. Church Perkins) in Fairbanks Alaska who is seriously ill. When they were in Grand Junction, Colorado in April, Mrs. Barnes has not been home and they are all now in Fairbanks. When the Perkins family return there, Mrs. Barnes plan to be in Alaska as long as needed.

Mrs. Floyd Morris reports their daughter in law, Mrs. Jamie Lee (Lydia) Morris has returned home following several weeks with her parents and other relatives in the Dominican Republic. Mr. and Mrs. Jamie Lee Morris have recently moved to Smithville from La Grange. Mr. John David Morris of Santa Anna was with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Morris on Saturday.

Mrs. Reba (Elvis Cozart) and her daughter in law, Mrs. Phillip (Cindy) Cozart and Bob Kellye of Round Rock visited briefly Saturday with Mrs. Tom Rutherford. They were checking on the Cozart farm here.

Hilary Rutherford of Coleman was with me Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Amon and Darla Otts visited with us late Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Bob (Patsy) Smith of Abilene was with me Wednesday night. We visited with Mr. Loyd Rutherford his son Todd and Mr. Leon Carter Thursday afternoon. Loyd is with me this week.

Mrs. Don Scarborough of Santa Anna visited with her granddaughter, Mr. and Mrs. Amon Otts on Friday.

Mr. Floyd Morris reports he hears from his brother, Mr. Clarence Morris of Brady who has recently undergone back surgery in Shannon Hospital in San Angelo. He is steadily improving and is able to walk a little with assistance and hopes to be dismissed from the hospital before too long.

Mr. Don Fitzpatrick of Santa Anna visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Fitzpatrick Saturday.

Mr. Gene Dotery and son, Cooper from Lake Dallas visited with Mr. Loyd Rutherford Saturday afternoon.

Loyd's son, Todd, returned to his home in Bangs Saturday following being with his dad on the Taylor Ranch since school was out.

Watermelon

For some people, picking the 'perfect' watermelon is a favorite summer rite that involves thumping and shaking and looking for telltale signs of what could be inside.

But, judging the quality of a watermelon is very difficult unless it's cut in half or quartered, says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service food and nutrition specialist, Mary K. Sweeten.

In fact, one recent produce industry study showed that about forty percent of consumers find melons the most difficult fruit to judge for ripeness and freshness, she adds.

According to Sweeten, there are a few appearance factors which may be helpful—but not totally reliable—in guiding you to a good, ripe, juicy watermelon.

The surface of the watermelon should be relatively smooth, she says. The rind should have a slight dullness, neither shiny nor dull. The ends of the melon should be filled out and rounded, and the underside of the melon should have a creamy color.

It's easier, but usually more expensive to buy a cut melon, says the specialist. Even then, you may not get the best melon for your money unless you inspect it well. The best melon has firm, juicy flesh with good red color, she says. Look out for white streaks and whitish seeds since these indicate immaturity.

Also avoid a melon with dry, mealy flesh or watery, stringy flesh, she says. These are signs of overmaturity or aging after harvest.

The peak watermelon season is here so there are plenty of delicious melons to choose from at the supermarkets and produce stands. With prices low and likely to get lower as the season progresses, you may have several chances to pick the 'perfect' melon.

Mary L. Clifford returned home from a three week trip to El Paso and Chrystal City. She visited family and friends in El Paso. In Chrystal City she visited with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kingsbery, formerly of Santa Anna.

After visiting in July with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crews, Jimmie Crews has returned to New York. Other recent visitors with the Crews have been Mr. and Mrs. Tom Crews and Frances Kiker of Coleman, Onnie Edens of Gouldbusk, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Aylor, Arin and Jodi Gibbs of San Angelo, Mr. and Mrs. James McDonald, Pam Amanda and Adam Lohse and Susan Driskill of Houston.

Lacy Culpepper's granddaughters, Sandy and Jody Watson, spent the night this weekend. Another visitor in this home was James Culpepper, Lacy's son, from Irving. He stayed on Saturday night and went home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bryan of Oskaloosa, Kansas, spent the weekend with her brother, Michael Hosch and Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Hosch. Spending the day on Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Hosch and son, Bryan, was Mrs. Bessie Pallett. Calling that morning was Lauera Keeney. Mrs. Bryan will be remembered by most as Mary Ann Tupin.
