Firestone Offering 7-Pound Premium For Cotton-Bound Bales

AKRON, Aug. 11.—An important announcement in behalf of the cotton grower is made by The Firestone Tire and Rubber Company. Similar announcements probably will be made by other important consumers of cotton. It is as follows:

The Firestone Cotton Mills will pay for seven pounds additional cotton at whatever price per pound the cotton is bought if put up with 100 per cent cotton wrapping, instead of jute wrapping, and providing the total tare does not exceed the usual cotton terms providing for 43 per cent. The Firestone Cotton Mills will accept cotton so wrapped until July 31, 1932.

of the discussion at the recent meeting of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association, Charlotte, N. C. In suggesting that cotton wrappers be used for the baled cotton, it was brought out that maximum tare on a 50 pound bale is 4.5 per cent or 2.25 pounds. This includes eight bands, weighing approximately 10 pounds, and the balance of the 14 pounds is jute. It is estimated the cotton wrapper will not weigh more than seven pounds, and under the circumstances, the cotton farmer would lose the difference. It is ap-

Little cash was brought into West Texas this season through the sale of grain, as only a few thousand bushels of oats were moved. About ten carloads of wheat went out at 30 to 35 cents a bushel. Most of the farmers are holding their grain to feed and a few have sold to ranchers for feeding purposes. Many have traded grain for livestock, enabling the farmer to get livestock to feed and the ranchman grain for his livestock.

ON HER DRESSING TABLE OR IN YOUR MOTOR OIL? SINCLAIR OPALINE MOTOR OIL

The chief reason why Sinclair Opaline Motor Oil stands up better is that it contains no petroleum jelly—that thick, salve-like substance used in many beauty ointments. If your motor oil drains from your crankcase thin and watery the trouble is probably petroleum jelly. Petroleum jelly is removed from Opaline at as low as 60° F. below zero—a temperature much lower than required for removing wax. Ask the Sinclair dealer for Opaline.

SUMMER SWALLOWS

By Jane Rogers

To revive the hot and dusty tennis players and weary golfers, not to mention the porch brigade who just sit and try to keep cool, there is nothing like a well-prepared iced beverage. Its frosty coolness will quickly drive away thoughts of the oppressive heat, while generous sweetening with sugar will provide renewed energy for the fagged out players and rocking chair athletes alike.

Frosty Mint

Crush one bunch fresh mint. Combine juice with the juice of five lemons. Add one-half cup water, boiling hot, and one and a half cups sugar. Let stand one-half hour. Just before serving add three bottles of ginger ale. Serve in the new, squat glasses, with an ice cube, a maraschino cherry and a slice of lemon in each glass.

Tropical Trees Bearing Fruit To Come In Hot Ship Rooms To Fair

BY W. F. PETERSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO (INS)—Among the novel sights at Chicago's World Fair in 1933 will be brilliantly colored avenues of fruit-bearing trees from tropical lands.

Mature rubber trees from Colombia and Brazil, guava plants from Arizona, breadfruit trees from Panama, orange and lemon trees from California, date and fig trees from the southwest—all will be on display at the exposition.

The tropical exhibit will be only a small part of the fair's horticultural wonders. A special hall will probably be constructed to shelter rock gardens and hundreds of flowers from all parts of the world. There will also be competitive arrays of vegetables, fruits and grains.

How the tropical trees and plants will be brought to Chicago for the exposition is described by Harvey J. Sconce, agricultural director of the fair.

"In the southwest states and in Central and South America we are arranging this summer for the mass planting of the various citrus, rubber, date and fig trees to large box containers," he said. "These plants and trees will grow in the soil in these containers in their respective lands from now until the spring of 1933. During the two years the plants will be come accustomed to living in the containers. In May, of 1933, just before the opening of the world fair, the plants in their receptacles will be loaded on ships and brought in heated rooms across the Gulf of Mexico and up the Mississippi and Illinois waterway to Chicago.

"Then they will be unloaded on the lake front at Grant Park, and they will be transplanted in their containers, directly to the fair grounds. They will be kept in their native soil in this fashion.

"There will be no jarring, because all transportation will be by boat. So these trees will bear fruit here outdoors in natural manner during the warmth of the summer. Dates, oranges, figs and breadfruit will be seen growing with the back of a knife. Bake 12 minutes in moderate oven.

"The flower exhibit in the horticultural hall is to be arranged in cooperation with the Society of American Florists under the direction of Henry Penn, president of the New York City, and George A. Etnus, of Chicago.

Royalty Owner Gets $3 For Car Of Oil

SAN ANGELO, Texas, Aug. 11 (AP)—Being an oil royalty owner is not what it used to be in West Texas. J. M. Nutt of San Angelo recently received as his one-eighth royalty on a tank car of Irion county sweet, high gravity crude $3. It was sold when the price was 15 cents a barrel f.o.b. Mertzon. The producer received $21 for his share of the 166 barrels.

Irion county crude at the time was commanding a premium of 5 cents a barrel over the average West Texas market, and had the oil been sold elsewhere, Nutt's proceeds at a dime a barrel would have been only $2 and the producer's $14.

Enforcement - Not Repeat

AS IT WAS Ralph Waldo Emerson, in his little essay, "Fortune and the Republic," printed in 1878, made this lugubrious statement: The country is governed in bar-rooms, and in the mind of bar-rooms. The low can best win the low, and each aspirant for power vies with his rival which can stoop the lowest, and depart widest, from himself.

That was in 1878, long before prohibition and when the regulation system had been in force for a hundred years.

That was a pretty rotten state of affairs, wasn't it?

Captain Dollar, 87 years old, dean of American shipping men, says prohibition has done a lot of good. He admits he is a "crank on whiskey." He has a right to be for he says it ruined his father. "I hate whiskey because it has caused so many better men than myself to go into the gutter," Captain Dollar explains. Millions of people hate those for the same reason.

SIR HENRY L. DRAYTON, CHIEF COMMISSIONER OF THE LIQUOR CONTROL BOARD OF ONTARIO, CANADA, EXPLAINS IN THE CURRENT SATURDAY EVENING POST THE ONTARIO SYSTEM OF HANDLING THE LIQUOR BUSINESS. IT MUST HAVE BEEN A SHOCK TO THE ENEMIES OF PROHIBITION IN THE UNITED STATES TO READ HIS DECLARATION: "THERE IS NO WAY OF PREVENTING AN HONEST BRIEF FOR THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC."

EVERY PAGE OF THE RECORD IS AN ACCUMULATION OF TESTIMONY TO THE HUMAN MISERY IT HAS CAUSED.

LINCOLN'S GREATEST AMBITION On the last day of his life, a few hours before his assassination, according to the affidavit of Major James D. Bowditch, President Lincoln said to him: "Merwin, with the help of the people we have cleaned up a colossal job. Slavery is abolished, after reconstruction, the next great question will be the overthrow and abolition of the liquor traffic; and you know, Merwin, that my head and my heart and my hands and my purse will go into the work. Less than a quarter of a century ago, I predicted that the time would come when there would be neither a slave nor a drunkard in the land. I have lived to see, thank God, one of those prophecies fulfilled. I hope to see the other realized." —The Voice.

SLERS TO MAKE COTTON MEDIUM OF EXCHANGE HARLINGEN, Aug. 11. (AP)—W. T. Hodge, Harlingen broker, seeking to make cotton a medium of exchange in the Rio Grande valley this autumn, has announced that cotton at 10 cents per pound would be accepted by him in lieu of money to clear indebtedness. A number of other Harlingen business men and companies were considering taking similar steps. Hodge said he hoped to inaugurate a wide movement for holding cotton which might result in boosting its price.

Station Master At Dallas Terminal Is Retired; Still Spry

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 11. (AP)—That spry old 78-year-old Thomas Casey has retired "to the pastures" after 62 years of active railroad service. For the past 15 years he has been station master at the Dallas Union Terminal.

"Going to the pastures," as Casey calls entering a life of leisure, doesn't bother him a bit. He says he wants to rest and get the utmost out of his time. Although he is 78, Casey is spry as a youngster and his hair is still black. In saying good-bye to fellow employees he said he felt like going to a dance and not missing a number.

Casey was born in Pottsville, Pa. His parents were natives of Ireland. At 17 he began railroad work for the Philadelphia and Reading line. After he entered the employ of the Katy railroad in Texas, he was appointed station master here when the terminal was built.

Insects Cut Cotton Crop In Tom Green

SAN ANGELO, Texas, Aug. 11. (AP)—Cotton production will be cut in Tom Green county by several thousand bales from the 12,000-bale figure predicted, as a result of heavy insect infestation now becoming apparent, according to W. T. Marschall, county agent.

The cotton leaf worm is playing havoc with many fields in the eastern portion of the county while a species of chinch bug is common all over the area. The cotton crop is later by about two weeks in this county and if the ravages of insects are checked the production will be under the 10,000-bale mark recognized as an average. The county's production last year was 7,500 bales.

harrow of man. Sheriff Slaughter and his cohorts had more than one to order. The Mexicans back ten men were kept busy for half an hour loading the equipment of a truck to bring it to the county warehouse for storage.

Phosphorus confiscated in a failed pressure tank full of benzene, 100 lbs. of benzene, 200 pounds of gunny, 12 cases of empty bottles, several crates, two strainers, kumbe, knives, chisels, saws, rippers, a suction pump, and hundreds of nails and spuds.

A caravan of automobiles followed the truck to the county jail where a crowd milled around until after ten began to fall. Finally driving them to cover. All these

New Pontiac Custom Sedan

The rubber is so compressed and prepared as to be permanently resilient.

"An outstanding mechanical innovation in Oakland is the new Hyper-Mesh transmission with which shifting is exceptionally smooth and easy. Second gear is 100% powerful. Oakland's wheel base is 117 inches.

The Pontiac wheelbase has been lengthened to 112 inches and its 60-horsepower engine carries numerous refinements. Because of the high road speeds attained by both the 1931 Oakland and Pontiac, an added factor of safety is provided through installation of target brakes. Cars stop very easily and smoothly.

Six body choices are offered in each line; the two and four door sedans, custom sedan, standard and sport coupes and convertible coupe, a new type offering the advantages of both a closed coupe and an open roadster.

Third Degree Charge Denied By Pecos Sheriff

PECOS, Aug. 11.—E. B. Kiser, former sheriff, denied that third degree methods were used to force a murder confession from a Mexican named Hernandez in 1923. He said the Wickham committee had never questioned any of the officers or officials who heard the confession.

Kiser's statement came as a refutation of a statement made in a Wickham commission report to effect that Hernandez' conviction resulted from a "third degree" confession.

Hernandez was given life imprisonment on a charge of slaying W. C. Paddock, 72, at his home near Pecos. Hernandez was killed in 1930 by Mrs. J. W. Duncan, wife of the Pecos jailer, while trying to escape.

Kiser said a dictaphone was placed in Hernandez' jail cell before his trial to hear his confessions. The confession was made in the presence of District Judge J. A. Drake, Henry Russell, an attorney, and a number of officers and citizens.

He later repudiated his confession and claimed at his trial that he was frightened into confession. On cross examination he admitted that he was not frightened.

JUDGE LOSSES CUPID ROLE

CROSBYTON, Texas, Aug. 11 (SP)—Two years of operation of the new state marriage license law have not been very remunerative to the county judge of this county.

"Since the law went into effect a little over two years ago," Judge Edgar Hutchins said, "I have performed three marriage ceremonies."

"In the week before Christmas of 1928 I married 15 couples. Now the boys and girls, and the older folks as well, who want to get married drive six hours over to San Antonio. They would rather drive six hours than wait for three days."

McClaren Rubber Company

Charlotte, N. C.

Note the heavy bars that give powerful traction under the most severe road conditions. These bars hold the road and afford maximum protection against skidding.

The same amount of tough rubber has been placed at every point where the tire comes in contact with the road. This insures slow even wear under varying air pressure—greater protection—longer life.
