Fellow Ship Meeting Held

The Fellow Ship Meeting met in the home of Mrs. Ivera Byrd at 2:00 p.m. Sunday, June 2, 1985 with the president, Mrs. Roanna Barton, presiding.

The song, Jesus Hold My Hand was sung, followed by scripture reading from 23rd Psalm by Mrs. Ivera Byrd. Prayer was led by Mrs. Claudine Trimble followed by another song, I Need the Lord to Guide Me.

Previous minutes were approved, roll called, and payments of dues made, a thank you note was acknowledged from the Baker family, and a report of committee members sick: Mrs. Sena Brisby, dismissed from Overall Memorial Hospital and doing fair or on the mend.

Various reports and brief talks by each member expressing their feelings for organizer of the club, the late Mrs. Sweetie Hubbard. Mrs. Rosie L. Terrell and Mrs. Sylvia Edwards will host the next club meeting. The meeting was closed and adjoined with friendly hand clasps, and the song God Be With You was sung.

Those present were Mrs. Roanna Barton, Claudine Trimble, Ivera Byrd, Sylvia Edwards, Ruby Edwards, Rosie L. Terrell, Zelma Miller, and Pearl L. Wilson. Roanna Barton is president, Sylvia Edwards is vice president and Pearl L. Wilson is Secretary-Treasurer.

Cowboy Camp Meeting June 21-30

Just what kind of people were the cowboys of the Old West?

According to the Hollywood version, they were men who rolled their smokes from a Bull Durham sack, drank from the whiskey bottle, cursed at the drop of a ten-gallon hat, and came to town every Saturday night to shoot up things.

True, there were some cowboys who were like this. But there were also those who were God-fearing men. The prairie was their sanctuary, the stars at night were their object lessons that God is still in His Heaven, and they sang and picked such songs as "Cowboy's Lament" or "The Great Round-Up in the Sky."

Those cowboys, about once a year or so, would bring their families to what they called "Cowboy Camp Meetin'." They would sit around the fire and sing hymns. Some would testify. Two or three might preach in a single evening. The Lord was felt in the worship of the wide open spaces.

Those were the good old days. But they're not completely over, thanks to Little George Havens and his wife, Lucy, who are planning their 19th annual Cowboy Camp Meetin' June 21-30 at the flying H Acres near Coleman.

Last year as many as 400 persons came under the tent on the Camp grounds to hear some of the nation's finest speakers and singers.

People came in their trailers and campers last year to camp on the grounds, and everyone is invited to do the same again this year.

Night services begin at 8 o'clock, and we trust to have the same outstanding speakers and singers that were there last year.

Little George says that vittles will be served from the chuck wagon as was done last year some evenings; folks will gather around the campfire for informal singing, and refreshments after services each night.

The Flying H Acres is located between Coleman and Santa Anna, Texas, alongside the Old Western Cattle Trail, on Highway 84, which cattlemen used to drive their herds from South Texas to Dodge City, Kansas.

Little George knows both the Hollywood version and the genuine truth about the cowboys of the Old West.

He spent some ten years in Hollywood and participated in a great number of movies, many of which were westerns. He had acting roles in some and was a stunt man in others. He knows the artificial Old West which Hollywood has created.

But he also knows what the True West was like. He learned it from his forefathers who themselves were cattlemen and ranchers in West Texas. Little George has made a study of Western heritage and is working toward the establishment of a museum to honor the pioneer preacher of the Old West.

He wants everything at the Camp Meeting to be authentic. All covered wagons at the Meeting are to be from the Western heritage, as is the buggy and other replicas of the Old West that will be displayed.

But the greatest heritage of the Old West, he says, is not the covered wagon or stage coach, but the gospel of Jesus Christ which many Western circuit riders and others used to preach, and which has been handed down even through today.

Persons who go to the "Cowboy Camp Meetin'" will likely go home with a touch of that "Ole Time Religion."

Wingo Gives Talk & Slide Show

Nancy Wingo, a Baptist Missionary to Lebanon, was guest speaker at First Baptist Church at the Sunday evening service.

Miss Wingo gave a talk on missionary work and missionary life, not just her own, but all missionaries. She told about life in West Beirut, about how the women and young girls dress and cover their hair with scarves. Miss Wingo also showed some slides she had taken while in Lebanon. She had some of the country and some of West

Beirut, where she was stationed and will soon return. She had some slides taken after shooting that is still taking place in West Beirut, one of which was her apartment that had been shot at. She had a slide of the base where the soldiers had been bombed not too long (the slide was taken before the bombing). Miss Wingo told about the Moslem religion and how the Moslem people felt about Christianity. She said that when you were born there your parents registered you in a certain religion and you had to go by that religion, even if you became a Christian. She told of one young couple that she knew and how their parents made them marry in a certain Church although they had both become Christians, but since they were both still living with their parents, they had to follow their parents' wishes, but they vowed to register their children as Christians.

Following Miss Wingo's presentation, the ladies of the WMU had a reception for Miss Wingo and the members of the congregation.

Summer is finally here, I believe. All winter long most of us said (me included) "I can't wait for summer to get here. It is so cold." Well now guess what most of us are saying. You guessed it, "I can't wait for winter to get here." "I can't stand this heat." "I can dress for the winter, but it is hard to dress for the summer."

Well, seeing as how this is Texas, it may just get cold tonight. (I doubt it, but it might.) So be prepared.

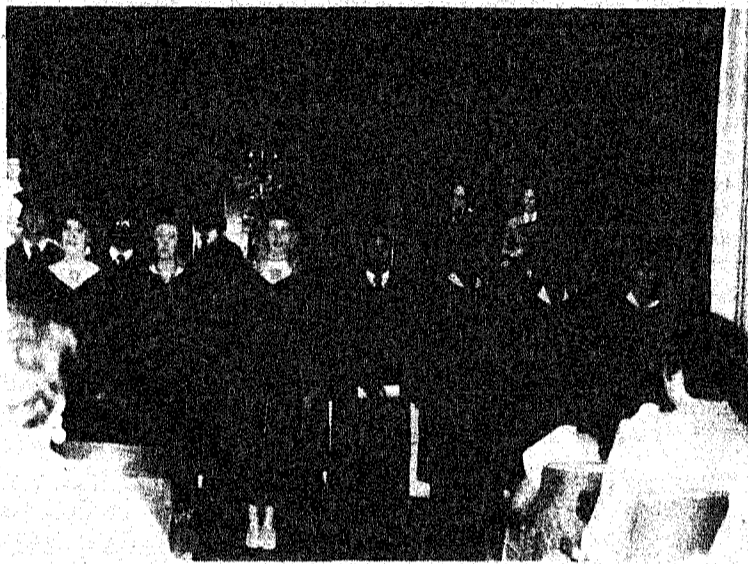

Speaking of weather, it has been rather windy the last several days and it sure looked like rain Monday morning, but it passed us over again, it seems. We would sure welcome a good rain.

People passing by the Alderman Cave Branch on Second Street at the railroad tracks across from H & H Food Mart will see busy people hard at work on the grain harvest of this year.

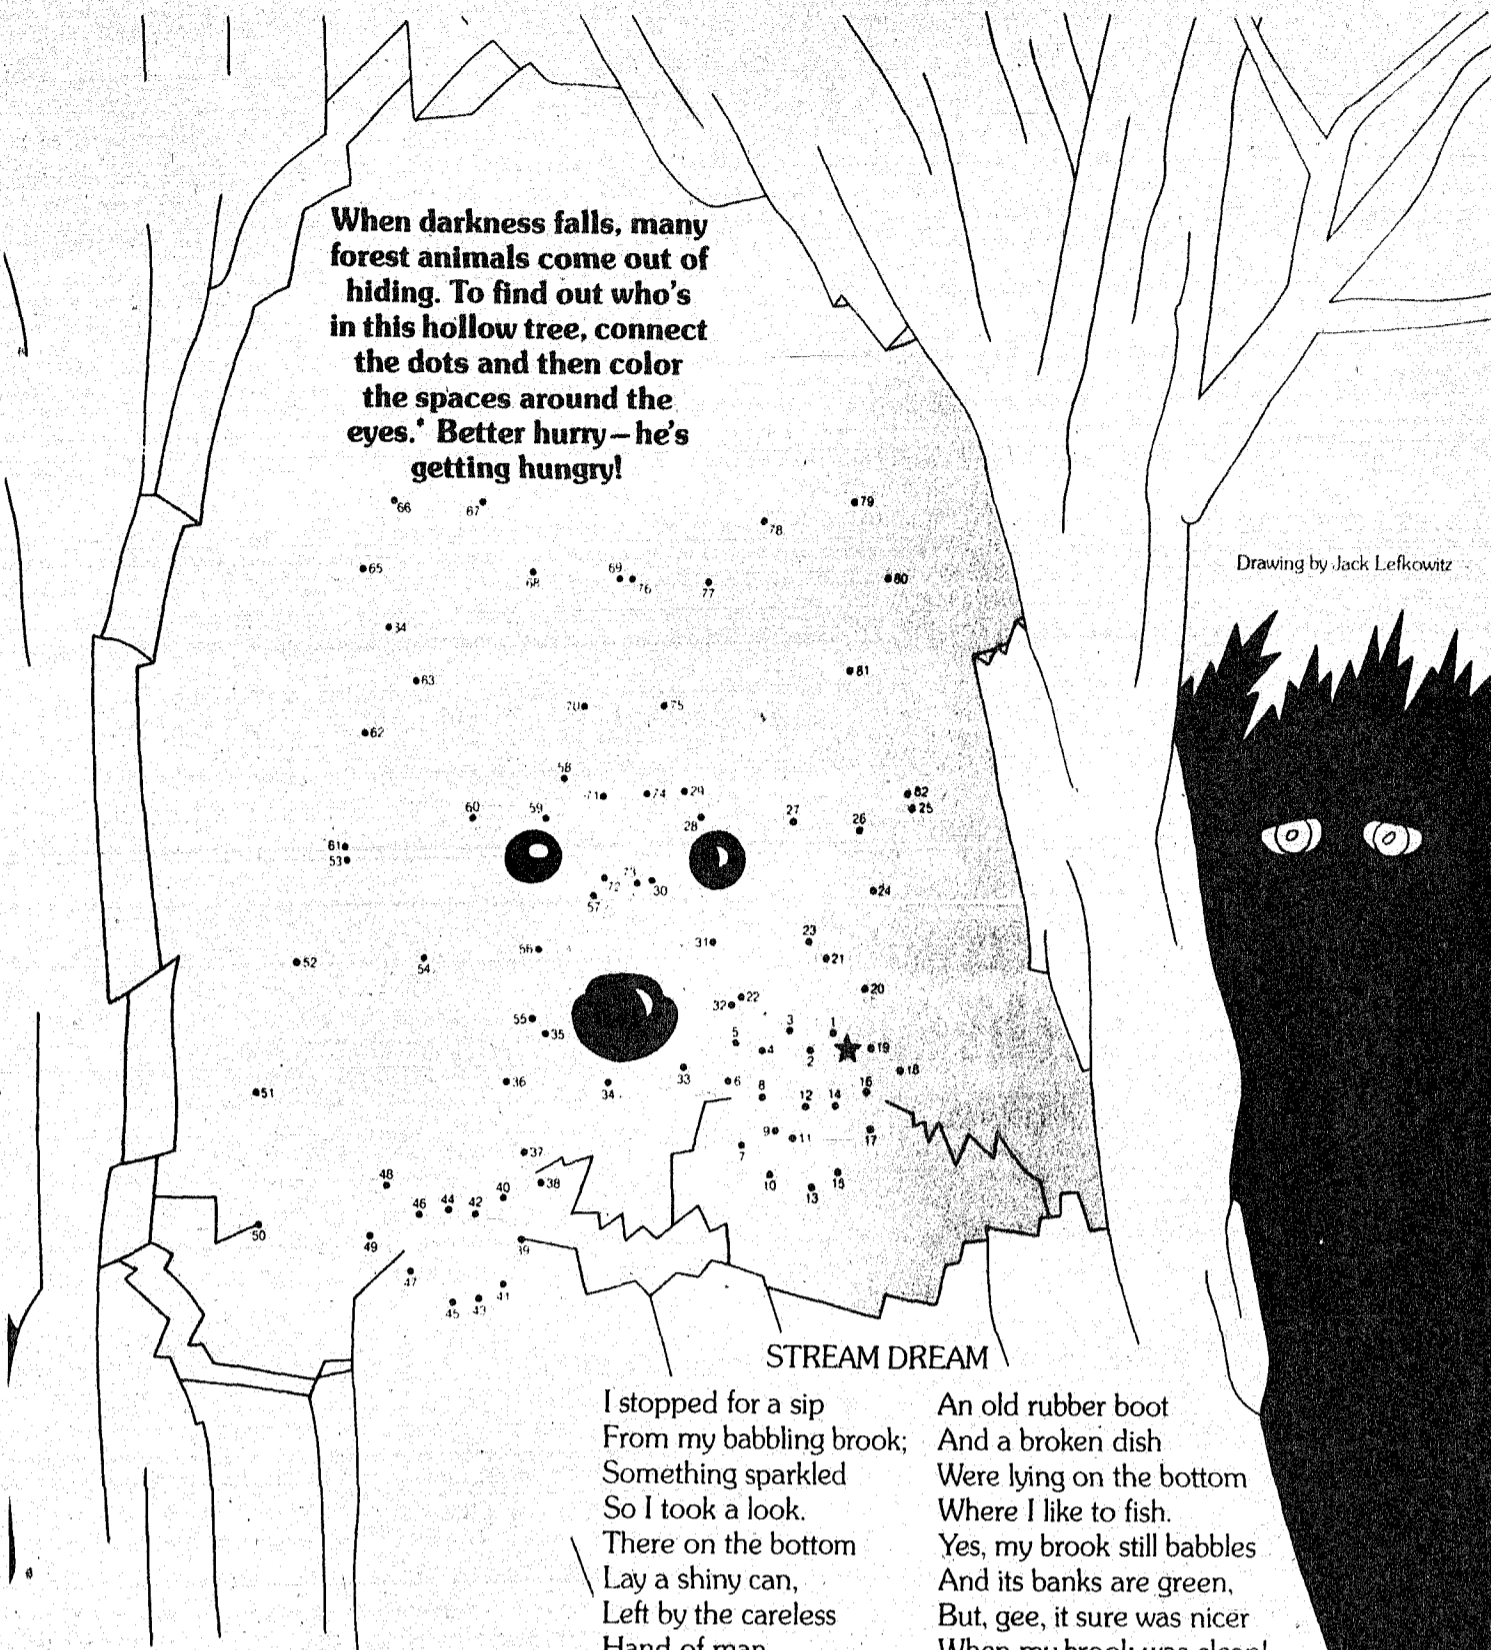

We always welcome items for the paper, and urge you to call or bring us news of visitors, out of town trips, reunions, etc. We want to continue to provide you with many interesting items for your hometown paper—and we need your help.

I was driving around Sunday afternoon and noticed several beautiful gardens. They were such a pleasure to look at. So pretty and green. It is amazing to me to see gardens grow from little seeds. With just a little weeding and a little care and a lot of water anyone could have a garden. I had started a small garden this year around my apartment, but soon gave up, as the dirt was so hard and full of weeds and grass. I tried watering the ground before digging, but that didn't seem to help. I even soaked the ground with water, but that didn't even help. So now I have a little space dug up in front of my apartment, with about three tomato plants (I started with eight, would you believe.). I planted some flower seeds, but they never came above the ground, reckon they knew better. Who knows. Any way I really admire people who take the time and effort to take care of a beautiful garden.

Members of the Santa Anna High School graduating class of 1985 prepare to sing their class song at their recent commencement. Randy Jaugherty spoke to the class about making "Wise Investments." Awards were presented by Dale Freeman, High School Principal. Superintendent of Schools, Gerald Brister, introduced the classmembers as they were presented diplomas by Eddie Hartman, President of the School Board.

When darkness falls, many forest animals come out of hiding. To find out who's in this hollow tree, connect the dots and then color the spaces around the eyes. Better hurry—he's getting hungry!

STREAM DREAM

I stopped for a sip
From my babbling brook;
Something sparkled
So I took a look.
There on the bottom
Lay a shiny can,
Hand of man.

An old rubber boot
And a broken dish
Were lying on the bottom
Where I like to fish.
Yes, my brook still babbles
And its banks are green,
But, gee, it sure was nicer
When my brook was clean!

Heating Baby Food

Microwaves are safe to heat any food, including baby food, says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist Dr. Alice Hunt. But a problem can arise from the speed and unevenness with which microwaves heat food, causing splattering and hot spots. To avoid this problem, some baby food manufacturers put a precautionary statement on the labels of dense, high-protein foods which are most likely to cook unevenly. They don't put a warning label on plain and mixed vegetables or vegetables and meat combinations, since these products have a higher water content and heat more evenly. "Any baby food that is warmed in a microwave oven should be heated on a medium or low setting just to lukewarm. Also stir the food frequently during microwaving to promote even heating and the dispersion of any steam pockets that might be forming," recommends the specialist.

THE STATES PATCHWORK QUILT PARADE

A quilt for Virginia
This delightfully formal bit of patchwork we dedicate to the dames of the Old Dominion a quaint colonial pattern to the most picturesque of colonial states.
We are modernizing the color schemes a bit to go with the daintiest of today's boudoirs, suggesting a delicate tint such as a pale green, primrose yellow, shell pink or very light blue for the background and alternate plain squares, or of course the traditional white may be used if you prefer. A green holder filled with rose and print flowers frilled 'round with white is suggested by our markings, or you could vary the small plain squares as well as the print ones making some orchid, gold, blue, apricot and instead of all rose—the plain color, of course, always blending with its print.

Patterns as here given finish blocks seven inches square or about 10 inches across diagonally, so you can easily figure how many for a top. 80 x 90 is an ample size requiring 72 pieced nosebags. With alternate plain tint square we suggest a border treatment that gives an angle scallop of smaller squares which is original and especially suitable to this design.

For a full sized quilt top allow five yards of pale green or other tint, two yards each of white and darker green, five-sixths yards of rose, and one of flower print, or these latter may be assembled from scrap material in the plain hues with matching prints.

NURSING HOME

We are so grateful the Melody Makers share an hour of their time with us to sing each Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock. We appreciate them coming to sing for us.

The residents enjoyed Bro. P. A. and Mrs. Lindley, Mrs. Nolen, Mrs. Keeney, Neal Smith, and Catherine Rasco singing thirty minutes Tuesday evening. We appreciate your visiting each week.

We sure appreciate the pop corn Helen Taylor brought to the nursing home for Jay McCoy to pop Friday afternoon. The residents enjoyed the corn while they watched the movie "Coping 2, Getting What You Want."

Bro. Charles Mitchell conducted a beautiful devotion Sunday afternoon to a large number of residents. Stena helped with the singing. It is wonderful to have them visit the home every first Sunday of the month. We appreciate them so much.

The flowers are just beautiful the Goen family shared with the residents. We express our thanks and appreciation for this kindness.

It is wonderful to have friends like Helen Haynes to share their fresh vegetables with our kitchen. The residents will sure enjoy the fresh squash. Thanks so much Helen.

BIBLE STUDY
THURSDAY, JUNE 6, 1985
Read Matthew 7:13-26

Jesus said, "Anyone who hears these words of mine and obeys them is like a wise man who built his home on a rock." (Matthew 7:24)

From the depth of my misery, I had cried out to the God I had forsaken. And God provided me with a spiritual teacher from a Sioux tribe. I was led to God by this Native American who practiced his native religion.

According to my teacher, all human lore carries a single important lesson: life on earth is a spiritual journey. The way to a good journey is simple but not easy. We are either guided by God in this journey, or we are not guided at all. Without God's guidance we will walk in error, finding ourselves at last in a spiritual wilderness. I had been in that wilderness. I was advised to pray for guidance every day because the need for it is daily and lifelong.

After several months of devoted prayer, a new direction began to emerge. I had begun to walk the path to spiritual rebirth. Rebirth is all too uncommon in our society, even in our churches. Yet it is the primary task in our lives. God points out the path to those who seek it through patient prayer. Rebirth is the reward for all who walk in God's way.

PRAYER: Loving God, guide us daily. Make us alert to hear Thy voice and courageous to do Thy will. Amen.

The thought for the Day: No day is complete without a prayer for God's guidance.

Heat, Cold & Being Old

As you get older, your body becomes less able to respond to long exposure to heat or cold. In cold weather, some older people may develop accidental hypothermia, a drop in internal body temperature that can be fatal if not detected and treated promptly. During hot and humid weather, a buildup in body heat can cause heat stroke or heat exhaustion in the elderly. This is especially true of those with heart and circulatory disease, stroke, or diabetes.

Heat stroke is a medical emergency requiring immediate attention and treatment by a doctor. Among the symptoms are faintness, dizziness, headache, nausea, loss of consciousness, body temperature of 104°F (40°C) or higher measured rectally, rapid pulse, and flushed skin.

Heat exhaustion takes longer to develop than other heat-related illnesses. It results from a loss of body water and salt. The symptoms include weakness, heavy sweating, nausea, and giddiness. Heat exhaustion is treated by resting in bed away from the heat and drinking cool liquids.

in hot weather--the Best precaution during hot spells is to remain indoors in an air-conditioned room. If your home is not air-conditioned, you might go to a cool public place (like a library, movie theater, or store) during the hottest hours.

Other good ways to cool off include taking cool baths or showers, placing icebags or wet towels on the body, and using electric fans. In addition, it is wise to:

- Stay out of direct sunlight and avoid strenuous activity.
- Wear lightweight, light-colored, loose-fitting clothing that permits sweat to evaporate.
- Drink plenty of liquids to replace the fluids lost by sweating. Try not to drink alcoholic beverages or fluids that have too much salt. Use salt tablets only with your doctor's approval.
- Above all, take the heat seriously and don't ignore danger signs like nausea, dizziness, and fatigue.

Wellness can be ageless, but only if the physical changes that occur in the elderly are countered by reasonable adaptations of basic life styles. And dealing with the special demands of changing seasons is one of the most essential steps in this direction.
