Funtier Day a success

Judging by the number of people that gathered on the streets of Santa Anna on Saturday and by all the laughter, good times and visiting done around the shady spots, we would have to term the Funtier Day celebration a big success. Those instrumental in the planning and carrying out of the event are to be commended for a job exceptionally well done. The Chamber of Commerce was the sponsoring organization for the festivities.

One of the most popular demonstrations was the model cars of the Abilene Radio Controlled Car Club. The Coleman Playboys furnished musical entertainment of and on throughout the day.

Also among the crowd pleasers would have to be included the Karate demonstrations by a Karate club from Brownwood.

Some of the contests and winners were: Breakdance; 1st place Johnny Kirvin, 2nd place Herbert Jackson, 3rd place Jesse Jerokee.

Pie eating, younger group; 1st Matilda Banda, 2nd Mack Frausto, 3rd Armando Mata. The winners among the older group were; Mike Bowden 1st, Jeff Morris 2nd, Chris Simmons 3rd.

Campfire Girls decorate walks

Downtown Santa Anna was a beehive of activity on Friday as various groups and individuals were making their final preparations for Funtier Day on Saturday.

The sidewalk in front of the bank and the area between there and the drugstore was decorated lavishly on Friday morning by the Bluebirds, the younger group of the Campfire Girls.

The girls used an array of bright colors as they chalkpainted the sidewalk with scenes depicting their various activities and characteristics of the organization.

The paintings provided the citizens of Santa Anna, and others passing, an enjoyable few minutes as they viewed the work of the artists and also gave the young ladies a sense of community spirit as they helped to ready the downtown area for the Funtier Day festivities.

The decorating was done not only in conjunction with Funtier Day, but was also done in celebration of the 75th anniversary of the founding of the Campfire Girls. Among scenes painted on the sidewalk area was a large birthday cake and a 'Happy Birthday, Campfire Girls.'

After finishing their work of painting, the Bluebirds went to the Gary James Memorial Park for a picnic and birthday celebration.

Sponsors working with the group of young ladies were Mrs. Earl Simmons and Mrs. Loyd Halmon.

clause factor adjustment raising the cost of fuel from 3.14 cents per KWH to 3.5949 cents. This means that residential rates, including fuel costs, will go from 6.36 cents per KWH to 7.5649 cents, and commercial rates, including fuel costs, will go from 6.5 cents to 7.77 cents per KWH.

The new base rates and fuel cost factor will be effective for bills rendered during the month of May. The summer rates continue through October.

The seasonal rate differential has been used by many companies for many years. The main reason is that the cost of service is higher during the peak usage season, or summer months. Also, higher rates serve as an incentive for customers to conserve and trim the peak demand.

Charles Wetsel, local WTU manager says that the combined effect of the rate increase will be approximately 18 percent.

Tennis team going to Austin

It's back to Austin for Coach R. C. Smith and his doubles tennis team of Doug Warnock and Chris DeLeon.

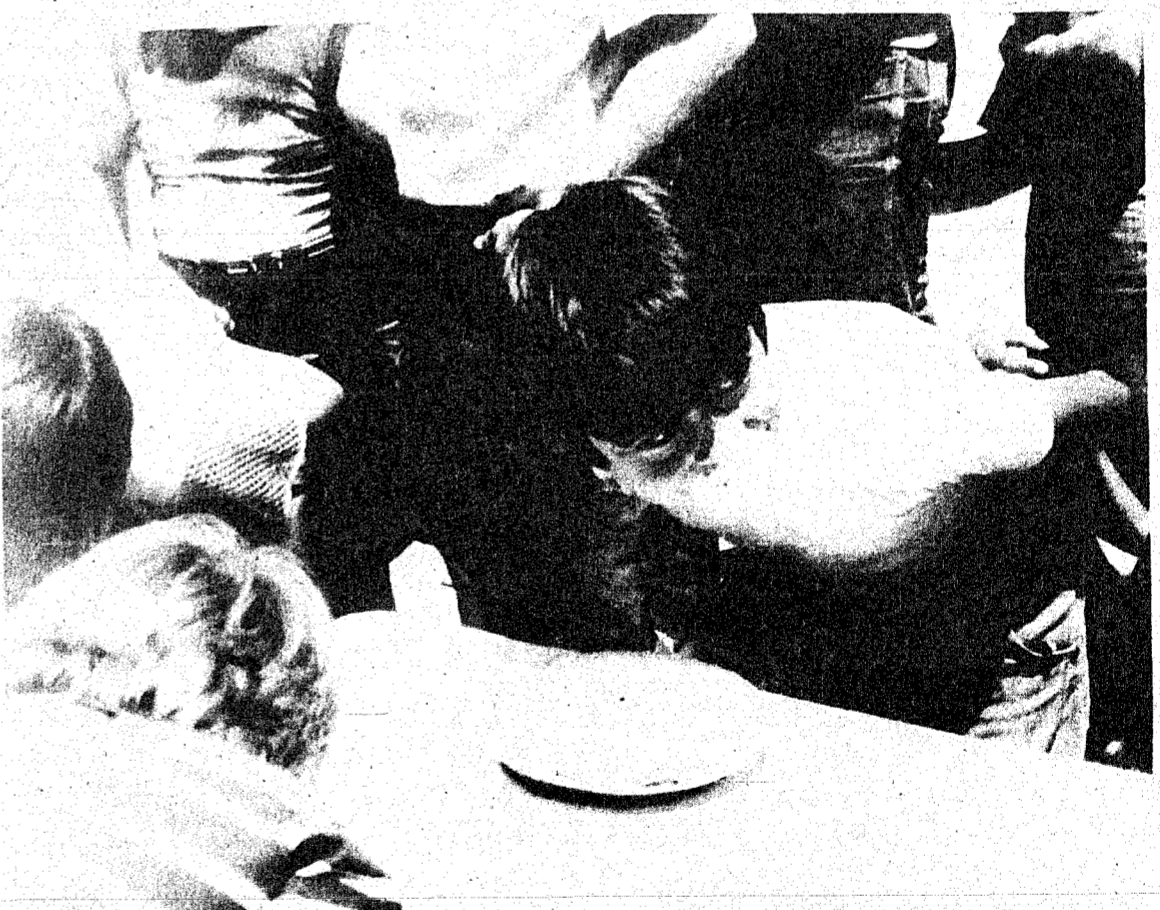

The talented duo came home from the regional tournament in Abilene last Thursday and Friday with the first place medals.

On Thursday, the twosome dropped Aspermont's team of Miller and Hulsey in the first round, to the tune of 6-2, 6-1, and went on to topple Lee and Reynolds of Richland Springs in the second round of play, 6-2, 6-0.

Then on Friday the young men were ready to finish their job and did just that as they defeated the team from Windhorst in the semi-finals, 6-0, 6-0, and capped the day off by taking the final championship match over Estes and McBee of Rochelle, 6-2, 6-3, the same team they defeated in the district tournament to reach the regional berth. Rochelle will advance as the second team from the regional meet.

VIRGINIA SMITH, 63

Graveside services for Mrs. Luke (Virginia) "Shorty" Smith, 63, was at 2:30 p.m. Friday, May 3, at Bangs Cemetery. Henderson Funeral Home was in charge of the arrangements.

Mrs. Smith died Tuesday, April 30, at 6:55 p.m. at her son's home in Lake Jackson.

Born May 7, 1921 in Oklahoma, she married Luke Smith on June 14, 1938 in Brownwood. He died May 24, 1984.

Survivors include three sons, Benjamin Mark of Louisiana, Lonnie L. of Lake Jackson, and Michael L. of Coleman; one brother, Robert L. Although of Sweetwater; eight grandchildren; and four great-grandchildren.

MRS. MAJORIE GREGG

Mrs. Marjorie Gregg, age 66, of Sandy Harbor, Lake LBJ, died Sunday, April 28, 1985. She was a member of the Green Finger Garden Club and a member of Kingsland House of Arts and Crafts. She was retired from USAA. Mrs. Gregg was preceded in death by her son, Roger Alan and her daughter, Helen Louise. Survivors include her husband, Ralph Burton Gregg of Sandy Harbor, Lake LBJ; a son, Joseph Gregg; her mother, Mrs. Frances Watson; sister, Jo Anne Roberts, all of San Antonio; an aunt, Earle Owens of Llano; numerous nieces and nephews.

Services were held Wednesday, May 1, at 1:00 p.m. in the Colonial Chapel of the Porter Loring Mortuary, with Mr. Roy D. Holt and Dr. Bob Pirtchard officiating. Interment was in Fort Sam Houston National Cemetery. The family requests that memorial contributions be made to the American Cancer Society.

Gregg Talented Person

Marjorie Gregg, a multi-talented person, was in charge of special events and parties at the United Services Automobile Association for many years.

She died Sunday, April 28, 1985, at age 64 of cancer. Born on Kelly AFB, she lived in San Antonio until she retired from her position in the personnel department at USAA.

She and her husband, Ralph, were married in 1942. Both retired at the same time about six years ago, sold their San Antonio home and made their recreational home at Sandy Harbor, Lake LBJ, their permanent residence.

"She was a very creative person," said her sister, Jo Anne Roberts. "Christmas was always an exciting time because her decorations were imaginative, gorgeous, and unique. She would begin her plans for Christmas at USAA in June.

"Additional areas in which she worked were purchasing the china used at USAA, buying the career fashions sold in the building, planning the retirement parties and representing the company at various functions," said her sister. "She put on the Arts and Crafts Fair."

Four people are now handling the work she took such pride in doing, Roberts said.

Gregg was actively involved in gardening and was a longtime member of the Green Finger Garden Club.

After she retired, she pursued another interest—Antique dolls. She reproduced porcelain dolls, including pouring the molds, firing, painting, and dressing them.

"She was invited to participate in several doll shows," said her sister, and her work was highly praised. She won ribbons from professional judges. In addition, she taught courses in doll-making.

"In Kingsland she helped with the House of Arts and Crafts, a non-profit venture," she said. "Besides having her work there, she also assisted with shows."

Supremely optimistic about her illness, Gregg always said she was doing fine and would ask about her questioner's health.

"She was a super person, and we all loved her dearly," said her sister. "We valued her opinion on everything. She helped redesign a house we are doing over for our daughter."

"A very supportive person, she had help for any type problem that arose," her sister said.

Additional survivors are her husband; a son, Joseph Gregg of San Antonio; and her mother, Frances Watson of San Antonio.

Tributes to Mothers

This coming Sunday, May 12, we will celebrate Mothers Day, each in our own tradition. We all have special thoughts and memories of our mothers but several individuals have taken the opportunity to allow us to print their tributes to their mothers.

Whether you are still able to share the golden moments with your mother or whether you must rely on memories that grow more precious with time, you can probably relate to those things the writers have shared with us.

A tribute to Mrs. Ollie Wristen by Marie Wristen

The beautiful lady I am writing about is my mother-in-law even though she does not fit into that category.

From the first time that I met her in February of 1963 as a new bride married to her son, she has always been Mom to me. She has treated me like a daughter. She is a warm kind-hearted person who sees good in everyone. She does not raise her voice and she is always there for her kids.

She has raised eight children and four are living; Mrs. James Hipp of Clyde, Mrs. Todd Lee of Odessa, Dink and Wayne of Santa Anna. She still worries about her family. She has always treated me as one of her own. Our main aim is to make Mama happy and try to repay her for all she has done for us.

She keeps her own house, cooks, and works in the yard at 85 years young. We are all so proud that she is to her Mom. There are not enough words to pay tribute to what she deserves. You hear people talking about their mothers-in-law, but if they had mine they would know how lucky I am because she is the best.

Mama, Happy Mothers Day. You are the best. Marie.

A tribute to Mrs. Floy M. Jones by Allene Jones and Margaret Reid of Killeen

This special mother used to live in Santa Anna and still calls it home. She is very dear to her friends and is especially loved by her family.

She has two daughters, two granddaughters and their husbands, plus four great-grandchildren. She stays busy and now that she is over some eye-lid surgery, she will be working with a teacher-granddaughter at an elementary school carnival Friday night.

We love her.....

Honoring Mrs. Henry M. (Maud) Smith by Lila Belle (Smith) White of Odessa.

On Mother's Day last year, we honored our parents when 26 members of their immediate family attended First Baptist Church in Santa Anna on the 100th year of our mother's birth.

This year I would like to share an experience that meant so much to me that I shall never forget it. On that day, Sept. 18, 1932, my parents buried their only son. He died at 23, following an emergency appendectomy. The relatives, our neighbors and friends who had been with us constantly were all gone now as we sat down - just family - for a supper that had been provided by our friends.

As we finished eating, my father asked each of us to tell what those days of grief and loss had meant to us. We were not surprised for Daddy was always looking for meaning in all events that came to him and he taught us to look for the meaning of life.

And so around the table he asked each of us what had touched us most. I think I mentioned how much I would miss H.M. for we had started first grade together and graduated in the same class, and certainly six girls never had a better brother. One mentioned the loving sympathy shown by neighbors and friends. Another mentioned her sympathy for his teenage wife, and one recalled that there was now no one to carry on our father's name for he was named for his Dad. One mentioned the death of our sister six years before.

When it came Mother's time to respond, I wondered what she would say for I knew how close they had been as he was a 'Mama's boy' in the finest sense of the word. But Mother surprised us. She quietly and earnestly began to quote the words of a hymn:

Oh, for a faith that will not shrink
Though pressed by every foe;

That will not tremble on the brink
Of any earthly woe.

That will not murmur nor complain
Beneath the chastening rod,

But in the hour of grief and pain
Will lean upon its God.

A faith that burns more bright and clear,
When tempests rage without.

That when in danger knows no fear,
In darkness feels no doubt.

Lord, give us such a faith as this,
And then what e'er may come,

We'll taste, even here, the hallowed bliss
Of an eternal home.

And, you know, God gave her such a faith!

Tribute to Mrs. Zuda Pearl Coder by her daughter, Patsy Wright

My late mother was all of her grandchildren's "measuring stick". Small of stature, she only stood 4'10 1/2". The children all thought they were getting grown-up when they began to reach a height equal to their grandmother.

It is my greatest ambition for my children—that they continue to "measure up" to all that my little, big-hearted mother was.

In tribute to Florence Stearns by Mrs. W. A. Bolton of Rockwall.

I ran across this some months ago and it is such a beautiful poem that I want to share it with others and with my mother who lives in Trickham. Author unknown.

Who fed me from her gentle breast, And hushed me in her arms to rest, And on my cheeks sweet kisses pressed?—my Mother.

When sleep forsook my open eye, Who was it sung sweet hushaby, And row ckd me that I should not cry?—my Mother.

Who sat and watched my infant head, When sleeping on my cradle bed, And tears of sweet affection shed?—my Mother.

Who dressed my doll in clothes so gay and fondly taught me how to play, And minded all I had to say?—my Mother.

Who ran to help me when I fell, And would some pretty story tell, Or kiss the place and make it well?—my Mother.

Who taught my infant lips to pray, And love God's holy book and day, And walk in wisdom's pleasant way?—my Mother.

And can I ever cease to be affectionate and kind to thee, Who was so very kind to me?—my Mother.

Ah no, the thought I cannot bear,
And if God please my life spare, I hope I shall reward thy care,—my Mother.

When thou art feeble, old, and grey, My healthy arm will be thy stay, And I will soothe thy pains away,—my Mother.

And when I see thee hang thy head, 'Twill be my turn to watch thy bed, And tears of sweet affection shed,—my Mother.

For could our Father in the skies look down with pleased or loving eyes if ever I could dare despise,—my Mother.

Letter to Editor

Dear Editor and Citizens of Santa Anna,

It's hard to put into words the gratitude we feel toward everyone who helped to make our recent Traffic Jam "The Best Ever". A "thank you" just isn't enough to express our thanks for the generous, unselfish support you gave us.

Because of your support, a check for $1,020.00 will be sent to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital from Delta Omicron and the Citizens of Santa Anna. You can be proud to know that your dollars are making it possible for the research to continue so that the cures for cancer and other catastrophic diseases can be found. Because of you, tomorrow may be the day when "no child will ever have to die before his time."

A special thanks to Clint Day, for letting Delta Omicron use Western Auto, and also the The Santa Anna News, local merchants, and our local radio stations, KSTA and KBWD-KOKE. Without your time and cooperation our Annual Traffic Jam would not be such a wonderful success.

defoliate soon after symptoms are observed. At death, there will be only a few leaves left on the tree, the article states.

Insects are a primary culprit in spreading the disease from one tree to another. If your tree has an open wound, caused by damage to the bark or by pruning, insects can carry the oak wilt fungus from an infected tree and deposit in those wounds. Thus, all tree wounds should be treated with a wound paint, according to the article.

Other controls include trenching, which involves cutting the roots between trees to prevent the disease from spreading to one another through roots. Other cultural practices also are outlined in the article, which also discusses oak decline and hypoxylon canker, two other major oak trees diseases.

Oak Tree Decline hits 31 counties

WACO-Oak wilt, a serious fungus disease which can kill oak trees in just four weeks to six months, has been identified in 31 Texas counties, according to an article published in the May-June issue of TEXAS GARDNER magazine.

The article, written by Dr. Jerral Johnson, a plant pathologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says the affected counties can be identified by drawing a line on a map from Dallas to College Station to Cuero to Pleasonton to Bandera to Kerrville to Weatherford and back to Dallas.

"With the chemicals now available, chemical control of oak wilt is not possible. Losses to this devastating disease can be reduced by following a series of cultural practices. The basic principle is to stop the spread of the fungus," writes Dr. Johnson.

And the first step in control is to identify the disease as soon as it moves into an area. Trees infected with oak wilt develop distinct foliage symptoms. The leaves on live oaks turn a brown or yellow color along the veins. Areas between the veins also may turn yellow, or remain green. Also, some leaves turn brown, either all over or just on the margins. Leaf symptoms of Shumard and Texas red oaks are different. Their leaves develop a wilted appearance and then brown tips are formed.

On all tees, symptoms first appear on a single limb, but quickly spread throughout a tree. Leaves
