

Claim Ike More 'Vulnerable' On Alger Hiss Case

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (U.P.)—Eight prominent supporters of Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson deplore as "unfair and unwarranted" the use of the Alger Hiss case in the presidential campaign and contend Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is "more vulnerable" on this issue.

Answering attacks on Stevenson, the Democratic candidate, for what has been called his association with the convicted former State Department employe, these supporters say Eisenhower, the Republican candidate, had given "a far greater and more personal endorsement" of Hiss than had Stevenson.

In a statement yesterday, they said: "Criticism in neither case is fair or warranted. But if there is to be criticism, Gen. Eisenhower is more vulnerable than Gov. Stevenson."

In New York City, an Eisenhower spokesman said Stevenson's friends "protest too much."

The Stevenson supporters noted that Eisenhower had become a member of the Board of Trustees of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace in 1948 while Hiss was president of the organization.

They added that in Dec., 1948, the board, with Eisenhower a member, declined Hiss' proffered resignation in the face of charges questioning his loyalty and voted Hiss three months leave of absence with full pay while he defended himself against the charges. The statement said Eisenhower never publicly expressed disapproval of the action.

Supporters of the general have said he did not participate in that action of the board.

Hiss was convicted of lying to a jury in denying that he ever passed State Department secrets to a Communist courier. Stevenson made a deposition in Hiss' first trial saying that so far as he had heard Hiss' reputation was good.

Sen. Richard M. Nixon of California, the Republican vice presidential nominee, has attacked what he called Stevenson's "association" with Hiss. Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin also has made an issue of the Hiss case in criticizing Stevenson.

In Winnetka, Ill., last week, Nixon charged in a campaign speech that Stevenson was "a man who was duped by Communist Alger Hiss and who has apparently never regretted his action in defending him (and) who has never uttered a public word of indignation at Hiss' infamous deeds."

The eight who signed yesterday's statement said that "Eisenhower, of all people, should understand how unjust and unwarranted are the current attacks on Gov. Stevenson for his deposition in the first trial of Alger Hiss."

In New York, James Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary commented: "To paraphrase Shakespeare, we think the gentlemen's friends protest too much."

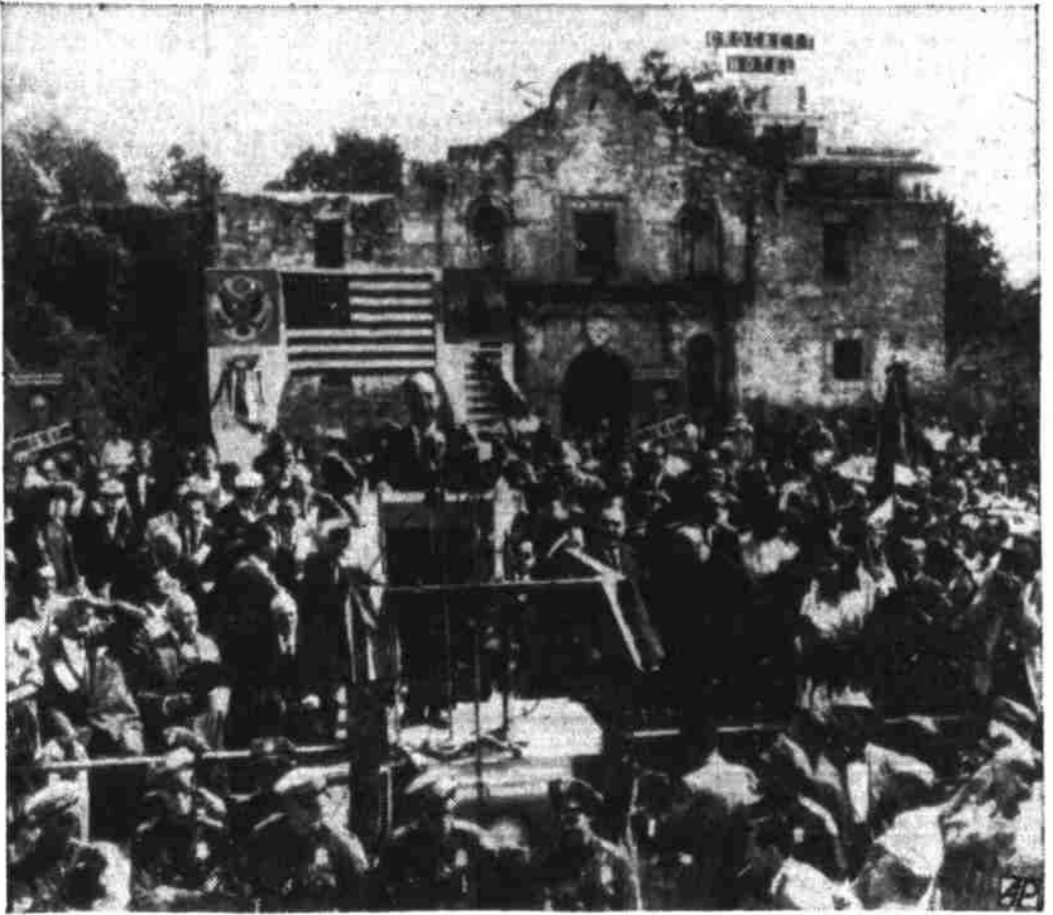

The eight included Herman Dunlap Smith and Mrs. Edson Dick, co-chairmen of the National Volunteers for Stevenson, as well as Publisher Mark Ethridge of Louisville, Ky.; Ernest Auld, New York-City attorney; writer John Hersey, New

Mitchell Cites Fund Disparity

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (U.P.)—Stephen A. Mitchell, Democratic national chairman, cited what he called an "almost unbelievable" disparity in congressional campaign funds today and said that if Republicans win control of Congress the key committee posts will be "monopolized by GOP reactionaries."

Mitchell said in a statement that from Jan. 1 through Aug. 31, the official figures show that the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, which is concerned with House contests, received $471,835, while the Democratic group "took in only $4,000."

WANTS GROUP TO BARE RECORDS

Federal Panel Calls U. S. Reds 'Puppet Of Soviet' In Report

By KARL R. BAUMAN WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (U.P.)—A government panel today called the American Communist Party "a puppet of the Soviet Union" and recommended that it be required to register with the U. S. government and bare its membership roster and its finances.

The recommendation came in a report by a two-member panel of the Subversive Activities Control Board (SACB), which had listened to more than 14 months of testimony.

"Nurtured by the Soviet Union," the panel report said, the party "strives incessantly to make the United States a Soviet America."

The panel recommended that the party be required to register with the attorney general as Moscow-dominated, list its officers and members and give a financial accounting.

This marked the first step in a "you must register" drive directed against the American Communist Party.

It was taken under the Internal Security Act of 1950, better known as the McCarran Act. The law requires that all "Communist front" and "Communist action" organizations register.

The Communists claim the party is not subversive; the Justice Department says it is. And party attorneys challenged the constitutionality of the McCarran Act.

A two-member panel of the SACB, made up of Chairman Peter Campbell Brown and Dr. Kathryn McHale, listened to pro-and-con testimony before issuing their report and recommendations today.

He also said that several of those named as Communists in the hearings are or have been active in other unions and appear to be "professional agitators moving from one area to another, from one union to another as Communist party requirements dictate."

"It would seem obvious that such people owe no allegiance to the union or to its members but only to the Communist party," McCarran said. "To them, the union is nothing more than an actual or potential implement of communism."

By JOHN CHADWIK WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Chairman McCarran (D-Nev.) of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee said today even a few Communists in labor union leadership posts can disrupt defense production.

McCarran's statement accompanied the subcommittee's publication of testimony that Communists were active in various locals of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America (U.E.) in the Cleveland, O., area.

Most of the testimony about the much-investigated U. E.—expelled from the CIO on grounds it was Communist-run—was taken at public hearings in Cleveland last April.

The subcommittee's report listed nine persons who, it said, are active in the U. E. in the Cleveland area and who, it added, were identified in the hearings as Communists. Each of them refused to answer questions about Communist party membership or activity.

They said that to do so might incriminate them.

McCarran said that probably "only a very small percentage of the union membership is tainted with communism" but that the few who are have positions enabling them "to disrupt the operations of scores of plants critically needed in the defense effort."

He also said that several of those named as Communists in the hearings are or have been active in other unions and appear to be "professional agitators moving from one area to another, from one union to another as Communist party requirements dictate."

"It would seem obvious that such people owe no allegiance to the union or to its members but only to the Communist party," McCarran said. "To them, the union is nothing more than an actual or potential implement of communism."

The report went on to say the evidence clearly establishes "the American Communist Party (has) the same principles and goals now which it has fostered since its inception; and has always maintained the relationship of unquestioning subservience to the Soviet Union."

The party "lives for the day when it can install a dictatorship of the proletariat in the United States," the panel said, adding: "Upon the overwhelming weight of the evidence in this proceeding, we conclude that respondent (the party) is directed, dominated and controlled by the Soviet Union; and the respondent operates primarily to advance the objectives of the world Communist movement."

30,000 in Kentucky, 12,000 in Ohio, 8,500 in Indiana, 17,000 in Illinois and 700 in Oklahoma. The walkout came at a time when coal stocks are at a near record high. The estimated 85 million tons of stored coal is the biggest stockpile in history except for 1942 when the supply of coal above ground was around 100 million tons. Ample supplies mean that industry and householders won't feel a coal shortage for two months or more. Most miners said they considered the WSB action as nullifying their contract. Members of the United Mine Workers traditionally won't work without a contract. First positive signs of the walkout appeared in West Virginia when 17,000 miners failed to report for work on midnight shifts at the Grant Town No. 3 Mine of Eastern Gas and Fuel Association, and the Owens and Riversville Mines of Consolidation Coal Company of West Virginia. All are in the Northern area. In Fayette and Greene Counties—heart of the Western Pennsylvania soft coal fields—union heads said 19,000 of 22,000 coal diggers voted not to work until the full $1.90 a day increase is granted. A spokesman for U.M.W. District 4, which covers Fayette and Greene Counties, said workers at mines operated by U. S. Steel Corp., Republic Steel Corp., Weirton Steel Company, Crucible Steel Company, Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company voted against working. George Guber, president of the Nemacolin local, which covers men employed at Youngstown Sheet and Tube's big operation in Greene County, said: "The men simply felt that the Wage Stabilization Board's action leaves them without a contract." Lewis signed a contract with soft coal operators last month. It called for a $1.90 a day wage boost and an increase in royalty payments for the UMW welfare fund from 30 to 40 cents on each ton of coal mined. The WSB okayed this boost. Theatre TV Service Hearing Is Underway

By JACK ADAMS
WASHINGTON (AP)—The motion picture industry, kept waiting in an anteroom for three years, opened its case today for a separate and distinct Theater Television Service.

The proposed service is designed to add new entertainment to local movie house fare, and perhaps woo some TV stay-at-homes back into the theaters.

The project was first presented to the Federal Communications Commission back in 1949 but FCC put it on the shelf until it could complete its program of allotting additional channels for home television and start home video on the expansion which is now well under way.

The theater-TV hearing opening today before the full seven-member commission has as its objective a specific reservation of about 400 megacycles of broadcasting spectrum space, located outside the range of home receivers and dedicated solely to the use of the motion picture industry.

Two weeks of scheduled testimony is strictly on the megacycle level, relating to proposal of the Motion Picture Association of America and the National Exhibitors Theater Television Committee for moving the FCC's engineering and other technical requirements.

The industry has never fully disclosed its plans for use of its requested exclusive channels. However, some hints have been dropped as to the projected operations. These would include such things as Broadway first-nights, viewed by a paid audience of millions. Instead of just a few hundred, and Hollywood premieres, which would be projected into movie houses in every nook and corner of the land.

The specific plan of operations is being saved for presentation at a second phase of the hearings, now scheduled for next January.

However, Marcus Cohn, industry attorney, said as the hearings opened that there is no intention to fight home television viewing. He described television in general as "a great service" but asserted that since Shakespeare's day, the theater has provided the traditionally proper atmosphere "for entertainment without interruptions."

"That," Cohn told a reporter, "is where you are free from the Murph Thorp knows paint. (Adv.)"

Saboteurs Fail To Ruin British Water Pipeline

ELAN Wales (AP)—Police disclosed today that an unsuccessful week-end attempt was made to blow up a pipeline carrying water to Birmingham, England's second largest city.

Saboteurs put an explosive charge against a buttress of an aqueduct which takes the big tube to Birmingham from reservoirs in the isolated Elan Valley in the mountains of Central Wales. The charge blew an eight-foot-deep crater under one arch but failed to damage the pipeline.

Queen Elizabeth II and Duke of Edinburgh are due in the area Thursday to open a new dam.

Another case of suspected sabotage over the week end took place at Armadale, in West Lothian, Scotland, where explosives were used in an attempt to wreck a privately owned coal mine. No one was hurt.

Actress Collapses On Stage In Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—Actress Bette Davis collapsed last night on the stage of the Shubert Theater here during the premiere performance of the new musical revue "Two's Company."

The well-known film star was carried off the stage by two shirt-sleeved stage hands, but returned a few minutes later to finish the show.

"You can't say I didn't fall for you," she told an applauding first-night audience.

Physicians said overwork in preparing for the revue was responsible for the actress' collapse. Miss Davis' stage role is her first in several years.

JOHNS HOPKINS DOCTOR REPORTS

New Vaccine Promises To Be Effective Against All Polio

(This important story on a polio vaccine was written by William Manchester of the Baltimore Evening Sun, who closely followed the United States team of research at Johns Hopkins. With the first public announcement of their work today, the American Public Health Association, the Baltimore Sun papers make their story available to Associated Press members.)

By WILLIAM MANCHESTER

Copyright, Baltimore Evening Sun. BALTIMORE (AP)—Working with little children, a Johns Hopkins scientist has developed and tested a vaccine which gives promise of being effective against all three types of polio.

"I am satisfied that it is possible to produce a satisfactory level of polio antibodies in human beings," Dr. Howard A. Howe, adjunct professor of epidemiology at Hopkins, said today.

Antibodies are specified agents which can be developed in the blood to produce immunity against a disease.

Using a vaccine made of killed polio virus, Dr. Howe found that it made children develop antibodies against the virus. He presented his findings today at the annual meeting of the American Public Health Association in Cleveland.

The preparation of a triple vaccine made Dr. Howe's work especially difficult. Polio is really three diseases. Any one of its three types of virus—Lansing, Brunhilde or Leon—can cripple. A preventive must be aimed at all of them.

Dr. Howe warned that the vaccine isn't ready for use—that he isn't even sure it will be the vaccine to be used in large trials. Further testing will be necessary to improve it.

The children, all 2 to 5 years old, were low-grade imbeciles at Rosewood State Training School. Their parents agreed to the experiment. No child was in danger at any time.

They were inoculated with a vaccine brewed from (1) the spinal cords of monkeys stricken with polio and (2) a chemical rendering the polio viruses harmless but still capable of producing antibodies.

In 1950, Dr. Howe had found that he could immunize chimpanzees.

Eleven bedridden children at Rosewood, in good physical condition despite their handicaps, were chosen for the human trials.

Blood tests showed only one of them had antibodies against more than one type of polio virus, before the vaccination.

Dr. Howe decided to give six of them the vaccine and nothing to the other five. If the vaccine took, the inoculated six would develop antibodies in their blood. The others would not.

That is what happened.

Polio is as common as measles, but most people don't know they've had it.

Antibodies for protection are manufactured in the blood of anyone who gets the polio virus.

Of every 1,000 infections, it is estimated, less than 10 result in paralysis, presumably because the person did not develop enough antibodies in time to halt the infection.

The rest became just as immune to attack, from that same type of virus, as if they had been paralyzed.

At least 90 per cent of all people over 15 have been protected that way.

Gamma globulin, a blood factor from people who have become immune to one or more types of the virus, has been discovered to be useful in battling the illness.

Dr. David Bodian, a colleague of Dr. Howe's, has found that polio viruses stay in the blood of infected chimpanzees for several days before invading the nerves and causing paralysis. If the monkeys are given gamma globulin by or before then, the virus is disarmed.

Gamma globulin was tested this summer in Texas and Iowa to see if it would similarly protect humans.

But gamma globulin is not a vaccine. Any protective effect it has would be temporary, for it decays a few weeks after being introduced into another person's blood.

There are two approaches to producing a vaccine.

One is to develop a mild strain of the disease, which will give a person a mild case and make him immune. Such a mild strain has been developed for the Lansing type of polio. But there are possible risks in using even a mild form of polio virus. And it is very difficult to produce a mild form of all three types of polio. A vaccine must contain all three forms, because all three types of virus are so prevalent.

The other approach is to make the viruses inert, by using a chemical, formalin, which destroys their ability to produce disease yet spares the ability to produce antibodies.

Dr. Howe did that.

He gave each of the three polio types to different groups of monkeys. After they were severely paralyzed, he removed the spinal cords, ground them into a thin broth, and isolated the virus material in a centrifuge.

A large monkey spinal cord, diluted 10 times, produces enough vaccine for 20 children.

The three broths were combined with formalin to kill the viruses. The triple vaccine was given first to monkeys to be sure it was harmless.

The vaccine was injected into the muscles of children. As a double safety factor, they were also given doses of gamma globulin before the experiment to combat any infection that might develop. None did.

The vaccine was administered in two doses, about three months apart, and caused no discomfort or temperature.

The crux of the experiment was the amount of the three kinds of antibodies—to fight the three types of polio—found in the children's blood later.

The amount of Lansing virus antibody in every case compared favorably with the amounts needed to protect monkeys against the Lansing form of polio.

All had more Leon-type antibody than Lansing. The Brunhilde antibody level was poorest—only two children showed any—but in this respect, they were like the chimpanzees.

The amount of antibodies needed to immunize against Leon and Brunhilde strains of virus is not known.

Blood tests six months after the first inoculation showed that the antibody levels or amounts had dropped, but that most of the children still had some antibodies.

There are still problems ahead to be solved in the laboratory. One is to test new chemicals to kill the virus. Another is to learn how much antibody is needed to immunize against the Leon and Brunhilde strains of virus.

Another is to get large amounts of polio virus, if mass vaccinations are ever to become feasible.

Three years ago, Dr. John Enders of Harvard found that viruses could be grown, in test tubes, on several types of tissue. The polio laboratory at Hopkins now has a test farm growing polio viruses.

Dr. Howe stressed that the human trials are the culmination of 10 years of painstaking research, supported by the March of Dimes, by a team of researchers including Drs. Kenneth F. Maxcy, Isabel Morgan and Bodian.

Few Arab Legion Officers Battling British Leaders

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—An exiled former colonel in Jordan's Arab Legion says "liberal" Legion officers have formed an underground group to fight "British domination" of their country and the Legion's British commander, Brig. John Glubb Pasha.

The report came from Col. Abdullah el Tel, who fled to Cairo in June, 1949, and later was sentenced to death in absentia by Jordan for allegedly assisting in the plot that ended in the assassination of King Abdullab.

Tel said he and the officers, along with sympathetic Jordan politicians, had sent nine demands to Premier Tawfik Pasha Abul Huda. These included expulsion of Glubb Pasha and other British officers of the Legion, inauguration of land reforms and a cleanup of alleged government corruption.

The colorful colonel, who commanded the Arab Legion unit which captured the Old City of Jerusalem in the Palestine War, likened his underground unit to the Egyptian Army group that overthrew Egypt's King Farouk.

"Liberal officers and strong political opposition are leagued against the British-controlled administration under Premier Huda," said Tel, adding that "it is high time for the liberation of Jordan through a movement similar to those which have occurred in other Arab states such as Syria, Lebanon and Egypt."

He refused to disclose the identities of the other dissident officers, saying Glubb would take reprisals against them.

The demands which Tel said the group had made on the government also included replacement of the "humiliating" British cash subsidy to Jordan, reportedly $22,400,000 a year, by similar grants from the Arab League and abolition of defense regulations which Tel said give Glubb power to jail without trial any persons suspected of anti-British sentiments.

Battle On Spending Looms In Montana

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—The voting record on administration policies is expected to determine the outcome of Montana's hot senatorial race between administration "trouble shooter" Rep. Mike Mansfield and arch Truman foe Sen. Zales Ecton.

The fight between the Democratic political science teacher and the Republican wheat farmer has drawn a record registration of 304,000.

It has been labeled the battle between the "free spender" and the "no spender."

Mansfield, who has earned a reputation as a global trouble shooter for presidents and as a supporter of government spending projects, is a leader in the Democratic administration.

Ecton, on the other hand, has a reputation as a foe of what he calls "reckless" government spending and as an ardent administration opponent.

The wheat farmer, Montana's first Republican senator since 1912, is the author of a Senate resolution which proposes that government spending be limited to the extent of federal revenue.

The Council of State Chambers of Commerce recently pegged Mansfield, now completing his fifth term, as one of the five House members "voting most consistently for bigger federal spending."

Mansfield, who was professor of history and political science at Montana State University until he went to Washington in 1943, obviously expects his 10-year congressional record to help him unseat Ecton.

That record includes fact-finding trips to Asia for President Roosevelt during World War II and later for President Truman; a successful tangle with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky while a U. S. delegate to the recent U. N. Assembly in Paris; and turn-downs of appointments as assistant secretary of state for public affairs and as under secretary of interior.

Ecton, who says he is the first Montana senator of either party to be seated on the powerful appropriations committee in 40 years, actually is the first Republican ever sent to the Senate by the Montana electorate.

Since the late Thomas J. Walsh was elected to the Senate in 1912, when a constitutional amendment was adopted for a primary election, none but Democrats have served Montana.

TOKYO (AP)—Foreign Minister Katsuo Okazaki refused today for a second time to report to police headquarters to explain his campaign expenses in the Oct. 1 general elections.

He said "pressure of state affairs" prevented his appearance.

Police yesterday arrested two influential members of Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's Liberal party, members of the Diet (parliament).

Yonezo Maeda, 70, prewar commerce and industry minister, was allowed to go home after nearly 12 hours of questioning. Police doctors said he was ill.

Tomejiro Okubo, 65, prewar mayor of Tokyo, was still in custody.

Six other Liberals and one Progressive party Diet member have been arrested on similar charges since.

Japan's election laws limit expenditures to about $1,000 for each candidate. Okubo and Maeda are accused of spending $14,000 to $28,000 each.

LONDON (AP)—The Yugoslav Communist party's official paper, Borba, says the Soviets are beginning to break up their international information web, the Cominform.

One of the main reasons for the move, the paper said was the "complete failure" of the Cominform's campaign against Yugoslavia.

Religious Controversy Comes Up After Truman Criticism Of Ike

NEW YORK (AP)—President Truman's criticism of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower on immigration policies was whipping up a swelling controversy today over racial and religious issues.

Some Republican party leaders, a leading Jewish rabbi and financier Bernard Baruch lined up on Eisenhower's side while a Democratic congressman and at least one other Jewish leader spoke out for Truman.

The controversy sprang up after a Truman statement Friday that Eisenhower "is willing to accept the very practices that identify the so-called 'master race.'"

Eisenhower, the Republican Presidential nominee, has not yet replied to Truman's statement. However, the general's headquarters here believes he will pick it up on a New England campaign trip he is starting today.

Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver of Cleveland visited Eisenhower here Saturday and then told newsmen he was shocked by Truman's statement.

Yesterday, Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY), a Zionist leader, and Irving Abramson, Executive Committee member of the American Jewish Congress, both criticized Silver and praised Truman.

At the same time, Baruch—elder statesman and adviser to Presidents—said he certainly did not agree with Truman's remark.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Sen. Richard M. Nixon, the GOP vice presidential nominee, also came to Eisenhower's defense yesterday and leveled attacks at the President.

Here are some excerpts from the various statements:

Silver—I expressed my feelings of shock (to Eisenhower) that an irresponsible statement of that character could be made. ...The attempt, by implication, to identify a man like Gen. Eisenhower—whose humanity and broad tolerance are known all over the world—with anti-Semitism and anti-Catholicism is just not permissible even in the heat of a campaign.

Celler (in a statement issued in New York)—Silver's "action is in

Coast Guard Saves 40 Stranded People

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—The Coast Guard early today rescued 40 children stranded since yesterday afternoon when a pleasure boat ran aground.

The boat, Ranger II, struck a sandbar at the mouth of the Manatee River in Tampa Bay on the West Coast of Florida.

The children and five adult chaperones—all from St. Petersburg—spent anxious hours waiting to be rescued while the Coast Guard rounded up small craft that could reach the boat, stranded in shallow water.

Times-Picayune Head Dies; New Orleans Funeral Today

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Funeral services for Leonard K. Nicholson, chairman of the board of the Times-Picayune Publishing Company, will be held today.

Nicholson, 71, died here early yesterday. He had been in failing health for some months.

At the time of his death, he headed the company which publishes the morning Times-Picayune and the afternoon New Orleans States.

Nicholson was in the newspaper publishing field nearly 50 years. His father and mother published the old Picayune before a merger with the Times-Democrat was effected, forming the Times-Picayune. He became president of the paper in 1918 after having started as a counter clerk. He became editor in 1922 and board chairman last May.

He was a member of the Board of Directors of The Associated Press from 1933 until 1951, the maximum period allowed under the AP's by-laws. He also served as a director of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association and the North American Newspaper Alliance.

He is survived by a son, Jerry, a law student at Tulane University.

Japan Minister Won't Report His Campaign Costs

TOKYO (AP)—Foreign Minister Katsuo Okazaki refused today for a second time to report to police headquarters to explain his campaign expenses in the Oct. 1 general elections.

He said "pressure of state affairs" prevented his appearance.

Police yesterday arrested two influential members of Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's Liberal party, members of the Diet (parliament).

Yonezo Maeda, 70, prewar commerce and industry minister, was allowed to go home after nearly 12 hours of questioning. Police doctors said he was ill.

Tomejiro Okubo, 65, prewar mayor of Tokyo, was still in custody.

Six other Liberals and one Progressive party Diet member have been arrested on similar charges since.

Japan's election laws limit expenditures to about $1,000 for each candidate. Okubo and Maeda are accused of spending $14,000 to $28,000 each.

Clark Won't Open Truce Talks Again On Red Terms

TOKYO (AP)—Gen. Mark Clark today bluntly refused to reopen Korean armistice talks on Communist terms.

In a strongly worded message he told the top Red commanders in Korea the U. N. Command will never agree to negotiate further on any proposal requiring forced repatriation of war prisoners.

The Communists Thursday submitted a plan for renewing the truce talks at Panmunjom.

Clark told them today it was the "same old package" and contained "nothing new or constructive."

Soviet Breaking Up Information Set-Up

LONDON (AP)—The Yugoslav Communist party's official paper, Borba, says the Soviets are beginning to break up their international information web, the Cominform.

One of the main reasons for the move, the paper said was the "complete failure" of the Cominform's campaign against Yugoslavia.

If Industrial Water Line Is Laid Could It Take Care Of Expansion?

Pipe dreaming is an interesting indulgence, and in this spirit we take note of a development at the last meeting of the city commission.

Commissioners and Cosden Petroleum Corporation representatives talked about rates for raw water in event Cosden should want to tap the city's line from the CRMWD mains. Cosden's demand for more water reflects its expansion, including the activation of its BTX plant. The Cabot Carbon Black plant also could use more water and if it were ever to expand substantially, this would be a must. Cosden has given approval to a project for yet another plant which would turn out a viscous polymer.

Last Two Presidential Votes Have Been Biggest, This May Be Larger

One of the pollsters figures that the total vote in this year's presidential race may run as high as 55,000,000, which would be approximately 7 million more than in 1948, which brought out the second largest vote in history—48,833,680. In that year Truman won his principal opponent, Tom Dewey, was a little better than 2,000,000 votes.

This Day In Texas

By CURTIS BISHOP

An explorer who had set out with every hope of finding vast riches for king and country wrote a discouraging letter on this day in 1541. Burns knew he had the problem licked once the citizenry began to crusade against Georgia's barbarism and came out of the shadows to acknowledge his bows and reap the harvest.

thrown out of the country to dwell wherever they can, or they should be put on an island. Actually, the deportee can laugh at our laws and our courts, because, in such matters, there are no means available to enforce the law.

Attorney General James McGranery has raised two issues: One, that the citizenship of undesirable persons should be revoked and, two, that such persons as Charlie Chaplin, having left this country, must justify their desire to return to it.

Chaplin might have made our soldiers laugh in World War I or in World War II or in the Korean War by clowning before them, but he chose not to do that, although many actors and actresses gave their time and even risked their lives in the war.

Mrs. Sparkman Is Seasoned Campaigner

By REX THOMAS
AP Newsfeatures
MONTGOMERY, Ala. — A seasoned campaigner and a familiar fighter already in Congress is the wife of the Democratic vice presidential nominee.

Mrs. John Sparkman broke into politics with her husband in 1938 when he was elected to the House of Representatives from the Eighth Alabama District.

The daughter of a country doctor, born Ivo Hall at Albertville, Ala., Mrs. Sparkman drove the family car all through the hills of North Alabama helping the future U.S. senator make his first campaign for public office.

She didn't stop at that, either. While her tall handsome husband was making speeches, she rang doorbells in her own house to house campaign in his behalf. She caught the voters he missed.

Ivo Sparkman has demonstrated a keen interest in the senator's work throughout his career in Congress and during the time he sat in the United Nations Assembly as a member of the U. S. delegation.

For the past 10 years the Sparkmans have been a working team in the House and later in the Senate. She went to work in her husband's office in 1942 and has been there ever since.

The Sparkmans were married while both were students at the University of Alabama in 1923. After graduation, they moved to Huntsville where the newly licensed young lawyer set up practice. His wife taught school—English among other things—to help meet expenses. They still call Huntsville their home, although they have been in Washington for 16 years.

A tiny wisp of Southern womanhood, standing barely five feet two, Mrs. Sparkman is one housewife who frankly dislikes house work. She's rather spend her time working in the Senate.

But she has a talent for making clothes, and some of the sports shirts her husband wears were put together on the Sparkman sewing machine.

The country doctor's daughter is known in Washington as a stylish but conservative dresser. Many of her attractive hats are her own creations.

Like her husband, Mrs. Sparkman has no taste for any drink with alcohol in it. Once someone sent her a jar of jelly made with wine, but she wouldn't eat it.

Gambling is another of her pet peeves. Although she likes to play bridge when she gets the time, she won't stay in a game where betting goes on.

The pert, vivacious wife of the vice presidential nominee has a warm, friendly nature and takes the spotlight of public interest with a graceful ease. She poses readily for photographers, but speaks up promptly in protest against any shot she thinks might be undignified.

Since her first campaign in 1938, Mrs. Sparkman has accompanied the hard-working senator in several others, always pitching in and doing her bit. Enthusiasm and a strong faith in her husband have made her an effective campaigner.

Her father, Dr. W. P. Hall, is dead, but her aged mother lives at Silver Springs, Md., with another daughter, Mrs. W. C. Aford.

Some of her friends have referred to Mrs. Sparkman as the prospective "first lady" of the nation even though her husband was chosen for the No. 2 job.

That was because Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the presidential nominee, is divorced and would be without a wife in the White House.

You Can Judge Man's Character By His Hat

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
Want to size up the men in your life?

You can judge their character by their hats, says James B. Lee, men's hat manufacturer of Danbury, Conn.

This can be a great help to the girl who is out shopping for a husband. A young man may put on his best manners for his best girl, but his taste in hats will give the key to his true personality.

There's the Joe College type, who still wears a pork pie hat, wears his fraternity pin. He's an eternal sophomore, and isn't mature enough to be a good husband.

The lad who wears a green plush Tyrolean hat with a whisk-broom in the band for business occasions is a non-conformist, and probably difficult to live with.

The swain who goes in for wide-brimmed Western-type hats in light colors is something of an exhibitionist, but easy-going and open-handed. He's good husband material, if you don't want to exhibit him in a fashion show. Probably will be good to the children and go in for outdoor sports.

The type who wears sport shirts wired for sound and straw hats with blinding bands probably holds himself in all year just so he can get rid of his inhibitions in the good old summer time. He's the mercurial type, who may be in the dumps one day and bubbling over with good cheer the next. Life with him at least would not be dull.

If he wears a derby, he's a rarity these days, and may be worth keeping. He's a boy who reveres tradition and never ventures very far off the beaten path.

The man who wears a homburg is sure of himself, knows his way around, also inclines toward formality and is fussy about his clothes. But he'll be a good provider, make the decisions for the family and probably keep you on a pedestal. If you enjoy pedestals, grab him.

Lee feels that the most promising husband material is the young man who wears a conservative felt hat with narrow brim and tapered crown, teams it with a well-tailored business suit and a restrained tie. If one of these is on your list, rope him in with all speed.

But if he doesn't wear a hat at all, says this hat maker, who could be prejudiced on the point, send him home to mother. He'll never succeed in the world of business, because he doesn't care enough about appearances.

Tickings Add A Style Note To Bedrooms

Bedding is no longer the drab, unattractive bedroom necessity which should be hidden as much as possible under fancy blankets and bedspreads. Bedding has gone glamorous! Today the homemaker can take her choice from gaily covered mattresses and bedspreads in plaids, checks, circles and plain colors, as well as in stripes.

"Back to nature" seems to be the basis for colors now, and greens, browns and beiges are featured prominently in the mattress tickings.

Often the pattern and color of the mattress ticking is the basis for the bedroom decorative theme. The design and colors of the mattress ticking can be carried over to add continuity and interest to the headboard, draperies of the occasional chair.

How many people does it take to make a telephone call?

Here in Texas it takes 28,000 Southwestern Bell people to handle the eleven million telephone calls you make each day.

Move them all into one town with their families and you'd have a city the size of Waco. Add all their pay checks together and you'd have $92 million a year — enough to make them important customers for every retail businessman in the towns they serve.

But even more important than their numbers or their purchasing power, is the good citizenship of the people who make up your telephone team.

On the job, you'll find them working with skill and devotion to give you the very best possible telephone service. Off the job, you'll find them working as scoutmasters, church leaders, civic club members to make their home towns the best possible places to live.

We're glad to have them as members of the telephone team. We believe that you're glad to have them as good neighbors.

Editors See Record Vote On November 4

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—A record vote Nov. 4 is predicted by editors of some of the nation's leading newspapers who agree that this is one of the hottest presidential contests in history.

The editors, who came here for a week-end meeting of the directors of the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE), said this campaign has brought more pressure on the press and more criticism from partisans of both sides than any other pre-election news coverage in memory.

Here are some of the editors interviewed:

James S. Pope, executive editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal and Times, which are supporting Gov. Stevenson:

"I have become convinced of one thing: Readers cannot judge the objectivity of a newspaper in a presidential campaign for the simple reason that they cannot read objectively. Most of them do not want objectivity—they want their side favored."

"Many Republicans complained that our news stories about Nixon were 'democratic propaganda' until Nixon made his television speech; then Democrats started complaining that stories about Nixon were 'Republican propaganda.'"

"Some Democrats think we are trying to hurt Stevenson by putting on Page One accounts of Truman's attacks on Ike; but if we played Truman down, just as many Democrats would scream."

Pope added: "It is fairly easy to keep news even as between Adlai and Ike, but Truman throws things off balance."

J. Donald Ferguson, president and editor of the Milwaukee Journal:

"The only other presidential campaign I can recall which reached so high an emotional level was the Al Smith-Herbert Hoover campaign of '28. The emotions aroused there were of one kind—religious. In this campaign we have numerous emotional currents, ranging from grievances against the Truman administration to resentments within the Republican party because Sen. Taft was not the nominee."

"Newspapers can only print the news as accurately as it comes to us. I suppose that so long as the shadow of Russia falls across the world and fear is in the minds of men, the public is going to be extremely edgy, suspicious and angry temporarily at facts that do not please it."

Ray Service Is Set Wednesday

Isaac Patterson McNeal Ray, 82, a resident of Big Spring for the past 27 years, died in Paducah Sunday afternoon.

He had undergone surgery Thursday, according to reports. He was visiting a daughter, Mrs. Joe Meador, and family when he passed away.

Services will be held at the Nalley Chapel here at 3 p. m. Wednesday. Burial will take place in the Mt. Olive Cemetery. In charge of last rites will be Dr. P. D. O'Brien.

Ray, a farmer most of his life, was born in Mississippi Feb. 21, 1870.

COAL

miners were entitled to only a $1.50 a day raise. That would bring basic minimum daily wages to $17.85.

In announcing the WSB ruling, Board Chairman Archibald Co., 40-year-old Harvard law professor, appealed to the "sound common sense of the coal miners and wisdom of their leaders" to abide by the decision.

Harry Moses, chairman of the Northern Coal Operators Association, did not comment on the WSB ruling.

A UMW official in Western Pennsylvania, who declined use of his name, said:

"No government agency should have the authority to disturb an agreement made in good faith. This agreement was made in good faith by union and industry. The industry has said it was able and willing to pay the increase. What right does a government agency have to upset an agreement made within the rules of our collective bargaining system?"

One of the first mine locals in the nation's 20-odd coal-mining states to vote against working was the big Robena Mine local in Western Pennsylvania.

The Robena mine, operated by U. S. Steel, employs 2,600. The mine is the world's largest mechanized soft coal pit.

The West Virginia survey of a dozen local union heads brought the same reply. They didn't expect the men to work. But like everywhere else the union said it has no word—either to strike or not to strike—from Lewis.

Hugh White, UMW District 12 president in Illinois, said he issued no instructions whatever to Illinois soft coal miners. He added:

"It's up to the miners."

However, 1,600 employees failed to report for work at three Peabody Coal Company mines in the Taylorville-Pana area on the mid-night shift. The men had been out most of last week, though, protesting the WSB delay on a ruling.

In Central Pennsylvania, Frank Hughes, president of District 3 said his 7,500 men are not on strike. He added:

"No strike has been called. I do not believe they will strike. I expect them to continue work."

Other union officials in the Pennsylvania coal field said they did not expect all of the men to walk out immediately.

The government froze all shipments of soft coal from the mines, apparently in anticipation of a strike. Under the freeze, fuel can be channeled to consumers most urgently needing it if there is a long strike.

Enough coal already is above ground to keep most big industrial consumers supplied for 10 weeks.

The WSB ruling did not affect the hard coal miners, who are negotiating a separate contract.

Four Indicted For Evading Of Income Taxes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—The Justice Department announced today that four members of a New York syndicate have been indicted on charges of evading income tax payments on huge profits reaped in the sale of sugar and corn syrup.

One of those indicted, the department said, was a former assistant U. S. district attorney in New York.

Atty. Gen. McGranery said this morning by a federal grand jury in New York City.

The government charged that the four men, associated with the American Brands Corp., owe more than one million dollars in unpaid taxes and penalties.

Indicted along with the company were these men:

Howard Lawn, Long Branch, N. J., longtime assistant U. S. attorney at Newark. Recently he was indicted at Trenton on a charge of evading $8,356.88 on his 1945 personal income.

William J. Giglio, New York businessman.

Frank S. Kivorsi, previously convicted of narcotics law violations.

Louis J. Roth, New York accountant previously indicted on a charge of making false statements to the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

Two Traffic Mishaps Checked By Police

Police investigated two traffic accidents in the city Sunday.

Cars driven by Edward Harrison McConely, 2010 Johnson, and Preston Thomas Bridges, 510 Abrams, were involved in a collision at Third and Main about 9:45 a. m., officers said.

They reported Donna Lynn Nann, 106 Nolan and William Richard Newton, Big Spring Route, were drivers of vehicles in collision at Third and Benton about 4:25 p. m.

No personal injuries resulted from either mishap.

Stray Bull Is Picked Up Close To Ackerly

Sheriff Jake Bruton reported today that a stray bull had been about five miles southeast of Ackerly.

Bruton stated that the bull is a three or four year old Hereford. Merrick picked the bull up in one of his fields after the bull had been there a week.

The owner can contact either Sheriff Bruton or Merrick, and the bull will be returned.

STEVENSON

Haven, Conn.; Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr, New York City theologian, and Mrs. Edith Sampson, Chicago attorney.

They declared that "similar unfair and sinister interpretations could be placed with better cause upon Gen. Eisenhower's connection with Hiss."

Reciting Eisenhower's acceptance of membership on the Carnegie endowment board, the eight said:

"He, too, must have believed that Hiss' reputation for integrity, loyalty and veracity was good, for surely he would not have joined the Board of Trustees if he had believed the reputation of its president to be otherwise."

The statement noted that John Foster Dulles, described as Eisenhower's principal foreign affairs adviser, was serving as chairman of the board when it rejected Hiss' resignation and voted him leave with pay to defend himself.

Observing that Eisenhower had objected to the board's action, the statement continued:

"Surely the refusal to accept Hiss' resignation constituted a far greater and more personal endorsement of Alger Hiss than did Gov. Stevenson's report."

The eight said Eisenhower's acceptance of a place on the board after Hiss became president "simply underscores the opinion generally held at this time regarding Hiss' reputation."

The Stevenson supporters said that so far as they knew, no one in the Illinois governor's camp had "ever used these facts to discredit Gen. Eisenhower," adding:

"Moreover we do not believe that they should, because an attack on him and his advisers on these grounds would be as unfair as the current Republican attacks on Gov. Stevenson."

"Criticism in neither case is fair or warranted. But if there is to be criticism, Gen. Eisenhower is more vulnerable than Gov. Stevenson."

The Hiss case blast came as Stevenson and his aides were making final preparations to take off tomorrow on a 12-state tour including 30 appearances in New York State.

The Democratic nominee will take time out tonight, in a speech at a campaign rally in the National Guard Armory here, to tend to his home state's fences. He will whistle stop through Illinois tomorrow on his way east by train.

Stevenson asked Eisenhower yesterday to join him in a move to get businesses to give their employees time off for voting on election day.

He noted there were reports of big registration from all parts of the country, but said the effects "may be largely frustrated if those who register do not have an opportunity to vote on election day."

AFTER TEXAS VISIT Shivers Answers Stevenson Words

By BO BYERS

AUSTIN, Oct. 20 (AP)—Gov. Shivers said today it's too early to judge which presidential candidate was most effective in Texas—but he found Adlai Stevenson's visit regrettable in several respects.

Shivers challenged Stevenson's stand that Texas Democrats should not vote for Republican Dwight Eisenhower while at the same time Stevenson welcomed the support of Republican Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon.

"I'm surprised that a man who is supposed to be intelligent and sincere should resort to that kind of double dealing," Shivers told reporters at a press conference.

The Texas governor also chided Stevenson for saying he was tired of hearing people whine about their loved ones being in Korea.

Shivers said he has a 21-year-old nephew in Korea and felt that neither he nor the families of "the 250 to 300,000 American troops over there" should be accused of whining just because they want those troops back home.

(Stevenson's quote during his Texas visit was considerably different. The Democratic candidate said, "I have nothing but contempt for those whining politicians who tell us that the American people don't know what they are fighting for and have been fighting for more than 150 years." This was a jab at Sen. Taft, who has said the Korean War was unnecessary.)

The governor said a more appropriate subject for Stevenson would have been an explanation of "his association with Alger Hiss," former State Department official convicted of perjury after he denied giving government secrets to spies.

"I think the American people are entitled to know whether he (Stevenson) will pardon Alger Hiss if he is elected president," Shivers declared.

He again criticized national Democratic Committeeman Stephen Mitchell for implying there would be political reprisals in the future for Democrats like Shivers and U. S. Senator-elect Price Daniel because they have come out for Ike.

"I don't believe Texans appreciate being threatened and told what they have to do by Truman, Stevenson, Mitchell or even Wilson Wyatt, former president of the A. D. A. (Americans for Democratic Action)," Shivers said.

He also said it was "almost unthinkable" that the President should connect Eisenhower's name with race hatred.

Murder Trial To Hear Secretary Involved In Case

BALTIMORE (AP)—The murder trial of George Edward Grammer was expected to hear today from a 28-year-old secretary whom the state contends Grammer was in love with.

She is Miss Mathilda Mizbrocky, former United Nations employee from Halton, Ontario, and a key witness for the prosecution.

Grammer, 35-year-old New York office manager, is accused of beating his wife to death and then trying to make it appear like an automobile accident.

State's Atty. Anselm Sodaro said in his opening statement that Miss Mizbrocky would tell how she and Grammer fell in love after meeting casually in a New York bowling alley last November.

Carpeting Is Damaged

Carpeting around a floor furnace in the Sidney Boyles residence, 1307 Runnels, was damaged by fire early today.

Firemen said the blaze which occurred about 6:30 a. m., was caused by a piece of carpet which projected over the furnace.

Two Fines Assessed

J. B. Hardiman and French L. Wright, Negros, were fined $25 each in County Court today after pleading guilty to charges of an affray. They were arrested Saturday, and Hardiman received treatment in a local hospital.

Released On Bond

James P. Montgomery, arrested Sunday on charges of driving while intoxicated, was released this morning by County Judge Walter Grice on $500 bond after he pleaded not guilty to charges.

Burglary Is Reported At Local Barber Shop

Burglary of the City Barber Shop No. 2 was reported Sunday by Bart Wilkinson, operator.

Thieves took some $20 from the shop, Wilkinson said. Entrance to the building was made through a back window. The break-in, discovered Sunday afternoon, occurred Saturday night or Sunday.

Suit Is Filed Against Cab Co.

James E. Walker filed a suit for debt against the City Cab Company in 118th District Court today. He is asking for $728 in his petition.

Walker alleges that the Cab Company owes him eight months back rent at $75 per month. He also claims $128 due for auto parts.

Search Broadened For Stolen Auto

A new Oldsmobile sedan, stolen here last Thursday night, has become the object of a nationwide search.

National Automobile Theft Bureau broadcast description of the vehicle during the week end, after a state-wide alert Friday failed to turn up the car. Police expect to encounter considerable difficulty in locating the auto since it bore dealer's license plates.

Thieves were sure to change the tags, officers think. The car was taken from York & Pruitt Used Car Lot, 310 W. 3rd.

Bells Ring, Doors Are Found Unlocked

Police found school doors open Friday and Sunday nights when they investigated ringing bells at the Washington Place and Big Spring High School buildings.

Apparently the doors had been left open, officers said. They found no evidence of a break-in or theft. Automatic clocks probably were "out of time" and caused the bells to ring, school officials said.

Three Draw Fines On Assault Charges

Three Latin Americans were fined $50 each and costs of court today by County Judge Walter Grice after pleading guilty to charges of aggravated assault.

They were Gilbert S. Garcia, Jessie, Morlinez and Estanbillo Urive. They were charged with assault upon Marie Garcia Saturday night.

Trucking Firm Is Named Here In Damage Suit

A. E. McCustian filed a $140,000 damage suit in 118th District Court today against the Campbell Trucking Company of Midland.

McCustian filed the suit in behalf of his wife, Vera McCustian, and two minor sons, Alfred E. McCustian and Gaston Lackey. He is asking damages as a result of an accident on June 25 on the Andrews highway about seven miles northwest of Big Spring.

McCustian alleges that he was driving toward Big Spring at 30 miles per hour and that he hit a steel cable stretched across the road by the trucking company.

He alleges that one of the company's trucks was parked in the middle of the road trying to pull another out of the sand on the side of the road. The cable was stretched between the two, the petition said.

The accident occurred at night, and McCustian alleges that there were no lights, lamps, illuminating devices or warning signs, flags or flares up.

The petition alleges that McCustian's car "powed into an unlighted, unmarked, invisible cable." McCustian alleges the value of his car was reduced from $1800 to $200, that his loss of earning power was $60,000, his wife suffered pain and damages totaling $35,000, and that his two sons' damages totaled $15,000.

Bob Huff of Lubbock is McCustian's attorney.

asked for his views on immigration but had given none.

The message was written before Eisenhower in a speech Friday night called for re-writing of the McCarran Law.

The newsmen asked Baruch if he agreed with Truman on this, and he replied: "I certainly don't agree."

Baruch said he did not want to get into the position of attacking Truman "unless he attacks me."

Connecticut, which Eisenhower invades today, has only eight electoral votes. It is regarded by both major parties however, as an important battleground because it will elect two senators on Nov. 4.

One senator will be elected for the regular term and the other to fill the unexpired term of Democratic Sen. Brien McMahon, who died in office.

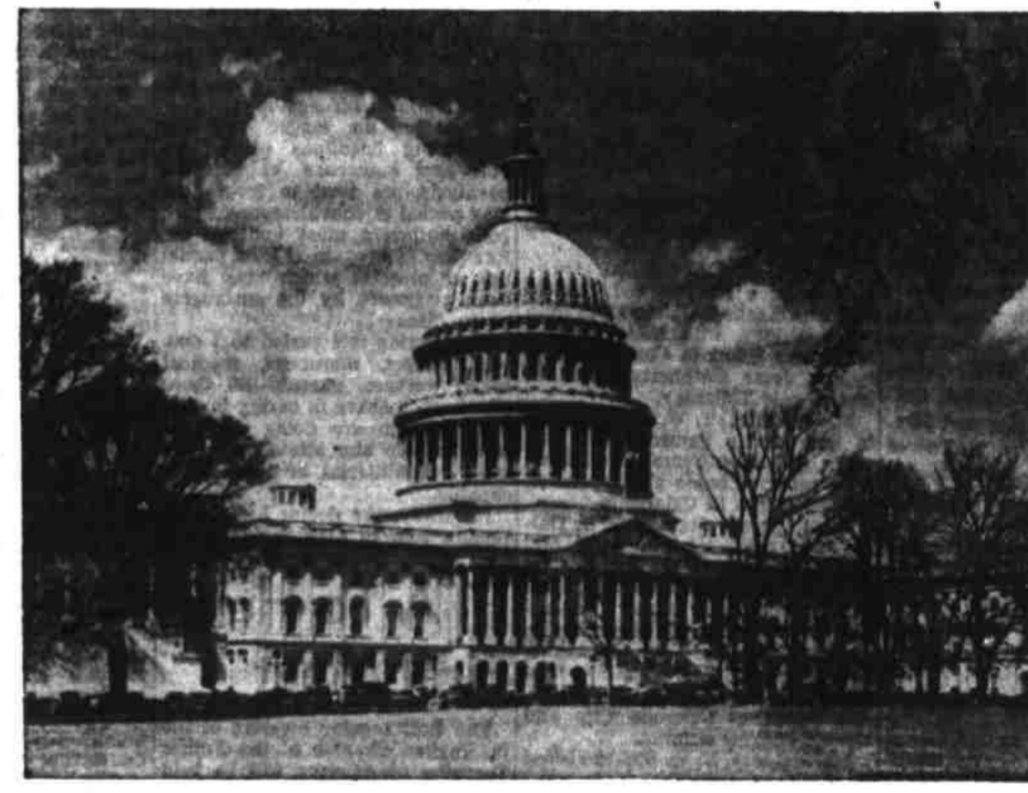

In the 1948 presidential campaign, Connecticut and New Hampshire voted Republican; and Massachusetts and Rhode Island voted Democratic.

Sen. Richard M. Nixon of California, Eisenhower's running mate, visited him at the latter's New York home yesterday and described the call as purely social.

Other visitors were Gov. Earl Warren of California and Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire. Adams is one of Eisenhower's top campaign strategists.

WHICH Party Leads in the Race for Congress?

HOW DO THE TWO political parties stand today in the struggle for control of Congress? Is the Republican party running stronger today than it did in 1948? Will the Eisenhower-Nixon G. O. P. ticket run ahead of the party?

Throughout the years, Gallup Poll surveys have shown the Congressional party preference question to be an excellent index of current political sentiment.

Japan Reds Scream U. S. Mixed In Vote

By FRED SAITO
 TOKYO (AP)—Japanese Communists, smarting from their smashing defeat in the Oct. 1 national elections, are howling that the victorious Liberal party bought "crudely intervening" Americans.

The Red charges, widely trumpeted by the Russian and Red China radio, are falling on deaf ears. Few Japanese believe any American soldiers or officials intervened in the first elections since Japan gained postwar independence.

To impartial observers, the American authorities appeared as shy as burned cats about the elections. In handing the Liberals an absolute majority of seats in the 466-member house of representatives, the voters indicated they did not agree with the Communists, who call American security forces here an "occupation." The Liberals were returned to power on a pro-American platform. "Not a single Communist of 107 candidates was elected."

During the seven-year Allied occupation which ended last April 28, some over-zealous officers of the U. S. military government harangued provincial aidmen on "democratic techniques." Some officers even stumped rural areas urging people to vote. Nothing of that kind happened this time.

No Japanese say that the October general elections were completely clean. But many Japanese claim it was the "freest" election they have had in 15 years.

Japanese police made no discrimination between government party or opposition in cracking down on offenders.

National police headquarters on Oct. 3 announced 10,121 persons, including 18 candidates, both elected and defeated, were arrested for violation of the Japanese election law.

The figures were not to surprising for Japanese voters who know how rigid are the law's provisions.

Of the 10,121 persons arrested on one or more charges, 7,482 were charged with bribery; 1,000 for visiting individual voters homes (which is illegal here); 6,000 for writing or distributing more election literature than the law permitted; 90 for obstructing other candidates; 52 for inserting advertisements in newspapers and publications to an unauthorized extent. The rest were for similar minor offenses.

After Oct. 4 a few hundred more campaigners and several candidates were arrested.

Foreign Minister Katsuo Okazaki, elected from Kanagawa, is having a considerable headache. Some of his campaigners were arrested for "giving a banquet to local aldermen." He will have to give up his house seat if he fails to establish an excuse for the banquet.

Nearly 50 campaigners for Liberal Tomojiro Okubo also were arrested on charges of bribery. Okubo is one of the top aides of Ichiro Hatoyama, who wants to replace Shigeru Yoshida as Liberal party president and Prime Minister.

Kennedy Quits State Dem Unit To Back Adlai

AUSTIN, Oct. 20 (AP)—Vann M. Kennedy today announced his resignation from the State Democratic Executive Committee in an open break with the party machinery's support of Dwight Eisenhower.

The radio station owner and one-time secretary of the Executive Committee said he intends to support all Democratic nominees.

"In order that I may feel completely free to do so, and in order that the governor may have complete harmony in his State Democratic Executive Committee, I hereby resign as committeeman of the 20th Senatorial District, effective immediately," Kennedy said in a letter to Executive Committee Chairman Wallace Savage, Dallas.

The resignation came as the Executive Committee met in Austin to consider among other matters the resignation of National Committeeman Wright Morrow.

Morrow announced his resignation Sept. 20 because he does not agree with and cannot work for policies of the national party.

He said he also could not carry out the functions of the National Committee in view of the action of the recent State Democratic Convention. That convention put Democratic nominee Adlai Stevenson's name on the ballot, then instructed its officers and all Democrats to work for the Republican nominee.

Jap Consul Receives Answer To Complaint Over 'No Welcome'

SINGAPORE (AP)—Japan's first postwar consul general to Singapore, who complained because the British government sent no officials to greet him on his arrival here Saturday, was informed by a government spokesman today that such a welcome is "not normal practice."

The consul, Ken Ninomyia, said he believed Britain's consul in Tokyo had notified the Singapore government of his arrival, but only a small delegation of Chinese and Indian businessmen turned up at the airport.

Costliest Splurge In History Due As Parties Seeking Votes

By ARTHUR EDSON
 WASHINGTON (AP)—The costliest of all political campaigns is winding up with the biggest splurge in history.

Between now and Nov. 4 Republicans and Democrats—and the organizations supporting them—will bombard us voters by eye and by ear, using television, radio and literature.

Each side will argue its case until the last minute.

On Nov. 3, the Democratic National Committee will take over all radio and TV networks from 10:30 p.m. until 11 p.m. (EST).

Then the Republicans move in for their last licks. The Citizens for Eisenhower Committee will have all radio-TV networks from 11 p.m. until midnight (EST).

You'll get some idea of the tremendous costs from this:

More than a million dollars have been or will be spent on national radio and television programs alone for the last three weeks of the campaign.

Starting at the middle of last week, the final three weeks on the networks line up like this:

Programs boosting Stevenson: 12½ hours of radio time, 11½ hours of TV.

Programs boosting Eisenhower: 4-3-4 hours of radio time, and also 4½ hours of TV.

If the parties or other sponsoring organizations pay the listed rates ($24,000 an hour for radio, $50,000 an hour for TV), this would cost Stevenson supporters about $869,000 and Eisenhower backers around $351,000.

Network officials say they expect more time will be purchased. And they point out that their figures do not include spot announcements or programs carried by single stations or by state networks.

So the figures would exclude the costs of a Republican plan to use spot radio and TV announcements in 12 key states.

Democrats have called this an air blitz that would cost two million dollars.

Walter Williams, co-chairman of the Citizens for Eisenhower Committee, replied that the ad agency which drew up the plan recommended a two-million-dollar campaign. But, Williams said, "how much we actually will spend depends, of course, on what money we are able to raise."

Oddly, no one knows for sure how much a campaign costs in a

Lad Nearly Drowns In Bathtub Mishap

COLORADO CITY — Larry Singleton, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Singleton of Ira, was rushed to the Root Memorial Hospital in Colorado City, Sunday afternoon, after almost drowning in his bathtub.

Larry was taking a bath and was overcome by gas from an unvented water heater. He slid under the water and was found several minutes later. A Snyder ambulance rushed him to the Colorado City Hospital, where he was given artificial respiration and oxygen. Nurses say it is "impossible to determine his condition at present," but they believe he is improving. He was able to converse with them late Sunday afternoon.

His father is a pumper employed in the Ira oil field by R. W. McKissick of Ahlens.

October May Be One Of Driest In State History

By The Associated Press
 Old Man Texas felt anything but poetic Monday as he viewed October's "bright blue weather."

The drought stayed on and the weather forecast called for fair skies and little change in temperature the next two days.

October was two-thirds gone and stood fair to be one of the driest months in Texas' history.

Water-short Texas, slowly becoming alarmed at the hiatus in the water supply, looked for water sources that were hard to find.

Dallas water officials made spot surveys at Lake Bridgeport and along the Red River near Galveston for a solution to Big D's critical water shortage. Dallas' Denton County reservoir, Lake Dallas, had only a four-months supply of water. Stringent water restrictions were in force in Dallas with heavy fines promised violators.

Dallas officials said Sunday that water offered by Fort Worth from Lake Bridgeport might be the simplest solution...if enough pumps, pipe and other machinery can be found.

There has also been talk of diverting water from Red River into Lake Dallas. Less than two miles of pipe, one source said, would be needed for such a job.

In Wichita Falls, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce opened its annual convention with the water shortages and drought on almost every tongue.

presidential year. One guess, by Illinois' Democratic Sen. Paul Douglas in his new book, "Ethics in Government": 75 million dollars. This figure includes expenses of congressional as well as presidential candidates.

On one thing everyone is agreed. Whatever the total cost, with television being widely used for the first time, this is the most expensive campaign ever.

By law, a political organization is limited to three million dollars a year. But there's nothing to keep kindred organizations, such as the Volunteers for Stevenson or the Citizens for Eisenhower, from trying to raise three million too.

State and county organizations also raise money on their own. Because of this, figures on the amounts raised by national organizations may not mean too much.

But, as we go into the last lap, here is what the parties are doing:

Republicans: National Chairman Arthur Summerfield says his party expects to spend around $4,800,000. All over the legal three-million-dollar maximum would be handled by congressional campaign committees.

Citizens for Eisenhower group hopes to collect between $750,000 and a million dollars.

Democrats: 800,000 red, white and blue booklets, each having five certificates, have been distributed. Anyone donating $5 gets a certificate bearing a thank-you from Stevenson. Beardsley Ruml, the chairman of the Democratic Finance Committee who thought up the idea, says the results have been "too fantastic for words." No dollars and cents figures, though.

Porter McKeever, national publicity chief of Volunteers for Stevenson, says his organization has spent $280,000, hopes to collect around $270,000.

Organized labor also has been busy raising money.

The CIO would like to raise around a million dollars, with half of the money staying at the local level. Philip Murray, CIO president, says:

"The CIO is doing the same as it has in other campaigns, collecting voluntary dollars from our people in the plants to help our candidates. The response, thus far, has been reasonably good."

The AFL estimated it will raise between $400,000 and $600,000 for its League of Political Education.

Labor's Committee for Stevenson and Sparkman, composed of representatives of about 100 AFL and railway unions, is receiving contributions from individuals but says it has no estimate of how much has been collected. The committee has a get-out-the-vote campaign, with $2,000 in prizes to be awarded to winning locals.

Railway labor's Political League, composed of 19 rail unions, also collects from individuals. It, too, insists it has no figures on how much it has taken in.

Dillon Beats Roden, 4-2, In Fems' Tourney Finals

Wynona French Wins 1st Flight

Billie Dillon succeeded Lois Hodges as women's golf champion of the Big Spring Country Club by defeating Inez Roden, 3 and 2, in the 18-hole final Sunday afternoon.

Tot Stalcup claimed the championship consolation prize with a 5 and 4 triumph over Wanda Garner.

Wynona French humbled Virginia Wright in first flight finals, one up, while Edith Liles trounced Norma Griffin in first flight consolations, 2 and 1.

Lady Linksters Have Day

Lois Hodges, ex-champion of the Big Spring Country Club Women's Golf Tournament, lines up a putt in the 1952 meet, which ended Sunday. Tot Stalcup, left, and Bernice Jordan, right, look on. Billie Dillon copped the crown.

In beginners' flight finals, Mildred Rule declined Faye Morgan, 1 up, in beginners' flight consolation finals, Mary George Orr beat Jane Haller, 1 up.

Mrs. Dillon carried home most of the big trophies in the meet. She had also captured medal honors with an 81 and Sunday finished second to Mrs. Hodges in the putting tournament.

Wanda Garner finished back of Mrs. Dillon in the putting meet. The tournament was the first of its kind held in two years at the Country Club and pronounced a success by Pro Shirley Robbins. The field included 20 members.

LAMESA MEETS STEERS

District 3A-1 Title Play Will Begin This Week End

Stanton Hosts Seagraves 11

STANTON — Victorious in four of their five exhibition starts, the Stanton Buffaloes swing into conference action Friday night, at which time they host Seagraves. Seagraves is coached by the former Stanton mentor, Leo Fields.

The two teams stack up about evenly. Stanton defeated Big Spring B by five touchdowns. Seagraves scored five touchdowns against the same club but was scored on once.

Last week end, Stanton defeated the Midland B team, 13-7. Norman Blocker and Eldon Hopkins scored the Buffalo touchdowns. Scooter Polk ran over the point after touchdown following the first score.

A pass interception set up the final touchdown for Stanton.

They clear the decks for the family feud in District 1-AAA this week end, with three conference hits on tap.

The feature attraction will probably take place in Big Spring, where the Steers host Lamesa.

Lamesa is unbeaten and untied and a heavy favorite to topple the Steers. Big Spring is capable of playing fine ball, though, and could give the Tornados quite a busy evening.

In other games, Plainview goes to Sweetwater and Snyder plays host to Vernon.

Sweetwater is favored to defeat Plainview about as it pleases while Snyder is due to take its lumps in its game with Vernon.

Sweetwater still ranks as the favorite to cop the title but Lamesa might be just the team to bowl over the Mustangs.

Coahoma Junior Team In Action

COAHOMA — Junior high school football teams of Coahoma and Hernleigh tangle in a 7:30 o'clock engagement here this evening.

In two games, the Coahoma Bulldogs have broken even with Big Spring, winning the first, 13-0, and losing the second, 28-0.

Bernard Rains and Babe Lincoln coach the Coahoma club.

NMMI Is Winner

ROSWELL, N. M., Oct. 20 (AP)—New Mexico Military Institute led all the way to defeat Del Norte of El Paso, 8-1, in the first outdoor polo game of the season here yesterday.

The defending national collegiate indoor polo champion scored at least once in every chukker.

McKown And Ochoa At Top In Attack In Southwest

DALLAS, Oct. 20 (AP)—Ray McKown, Texas Christian's do-everything back, took care of the total offense situation last week but he lost his Southwest Conference leadership in passing.

McKown gained 135 yards rushing but only 42 passing against Texas A&M. Meanwhile T Jones, the Texas quarterback, was making hay in the air—he threw for 107 yards against Arkansas and became No. 1 in conference passing.

McKown had a bulge of only 33 yards over Ray Graves of the Aggies before Saturday's game. Today he is 120 yards ahead of Graves in the total offense department, topping the conference with 834 yards on 187 plays in five games. Graves has 714 on 142 plays.

Jones is just two yards ahead of McKown in passing. The Texas thrower has completed 36 of 68 passes for 591 yards. McKown has connected on 45 of 86 for 589. Graves has the best average, however. He has completed 54 of 90 for 538 yards and a percentage of completions of .600.

Dick Ochoa, the Texas line-buster, still is the leading ball-carrier with 356 yards on 88 runs, but Gib Dawson, a teammate, has moved into second place and Jerry Norton of Southern Methodist has topped to third. Dawson has gained 293 yards on 55 carries, Norton 250 on 58.

Norton leads the conference punters with an average of 40.5 yards on 18 kicks. Roy Dollar of Texas A&M is second with 39.8 on 25. Bob St. Pierre of Arkansas, who was the leader last week, fell to third place with a 38.5 average on 10 booms.

Tom Stohlanske, the great Texas wingman, has pushed into first place in pass-receiving, dislodging Bob Blair of Texas Christian. Stohlanske has taken 17 throws for 332 yards. Blair has caught 12 for 274.

Jerry Cody of Baylor has moved from seventh place to the top in punt returns. Cody has taken five back for 61 yards—an average of 2.2. Joe Boring of A&M has fallen to second place with an average of 11.3 on six runs.

In team offense, it's Baylor, with an average of 357 yards per game. Texas is second with 348. Texas is tops in rushing with 219 yards per game to 212.3 for Baylor while Texas Christian leads in passing with 147 per game compared to 86.3 by Southern Methodist.

Texas Christian is No. 1 in team defense, giving up only 214 yards per game. Texas is second with 233.8. Rice is best against rushing, allowing 143.4 per contest. Texas is tops against passing, allowing only 68.4.

LITTLE SPORT

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Big Spring High School is in a good way to harvest a greater amount of football revenue this year than last, which, of course, it can put to good use. The elements are going to have to behave, though.

Last year, the weather went on a rampage when the Steers visited Lamesa and the fans stayed away in droves. The elements were still acting up when Vernon's Lions visited here, and a baker's dozen wasn't in the stands.

Those two big games are just ahead, Lamesa this week end and Vernon Nov. 14. Local school officials hope the wintry winds stay their blasts until Nov. 15, at least, grid expenses being what they are.

A Los Angeles observer, after watching Rice play UCLA recently, said Owl Coach Jess Neeley's idea of a wide open play is a quarterback sneak.

NOT IN KEEPING

The Cotton Bowl game could be the least attractive of the New Year's Day attractions because of the poor intersectional records of the Southwest Conference teams.

Virginia might just be the team to invite, in event the bowl officials are shopping this early. Bowl eligibles are going to be as scarce as hen's teeth around Thanksgiving Day.

Reports from out of Odessa say Tommy Taylor, the ex-Big Spring Junior High grid flash, broke his nose in a football game while playing for the Odessa Bees recently.

Tommy is due to be playing regularly for Odessa's varsity troops before he gets out of school. He's only a sophomore.

Varsity line coach of the Ysleta Indians, who played Big Spring last week end, is J. W. (Red) Coates, the former Odessa Junior College mentor.

Clipper Smith, who was coaching major college football eleven a few years ago, says he wouldn't be a head mentor again, at any price.

Joe Stydahar, until recently head coach of the Los Angeles Rams, is now marketing cellophane package products in Los Angeles.

CITIES ABOUT EVEN

In six seasons of play, the Big Spring Brones have attracted 303,539 paying customers to Longhorn League games. In the same period, the Midland Indians have drawn 301,983.

Midland has always prided itself in being larger than Big Spring.

In six seasons, the Longhorn League, as a whole, has played to 2,312,614 paid admissions, has topped 1,000,000 in attendance in each of the last four seasons.

Texas Now Big Favorite To Win League Laurels

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Texas was projected as the Southwest Conference championship favorite today as a result of happenings of the week end which saw the Longhorns smash Arkansas and Texas Christian drop in the standings as a result of a tie with low-rated Texas A&M.

A much better idea of the situation will come next Saturday, however, when Texas plays Rice at Houston in the top conference game of the week. Southern Methodist whipped Rice, 21-14, last Saturday night to take its first conference game and tie the Texas for first place in the championship race. The Texas-Rice game will offer a comparison between Texas and Southern Methodist.

Baylor, which must win all the remainder of its conference games to have a chance at the title, plays Texas A&M at Waco Saturday. Baylor lost to Arkansas week before last.

Otherwise, the conference gets intersectional gain. Already in arrears in games against outside teams, two conference representatives could almost draw the league even if they won their games. It will, however, be hard to do.

Southern Methodist plays Kansas at Dallas. Kansas lost its first game of the season last week in falling to Oklahoma, 42-20. But it was Oklahoma that crushed Texas, 49-20. Arkansas meets undefeated but twice-tied Mississippi at Little Rock. The Razorbacks certainly won't be favored to trim Ole Miss.

Texas Christian rests this week. Texas' smashing 44-7 triumph over Arkansas made faces blanch all along the line Saturday. It was a Texas team beginning to live up to expectations that had come after victories over Louisiana State and North Carolina. But which dimmed when the Longhorns were beaten by Notre Dame and Oklahoma.

Texas Christian showed little except Ray McKown, probably the greatest back in the league, in the 7-7 tie with a fighting, rebounding Texas A&M team. McKown did everything but couldn't beat the Aggies alone.

Baylor had to come from behind with a flourish to triumph over fired up Texas Tech at Lubbock, 21-10. L. G. Dupre, the talented sophomore, was the difference. He scored the touchdowns that put Baylor over.

Saturday was a day for individuals to shine. Jerry Norton was indeed great in leading Southern Methodist to victory over Rice, running, passing and kicking Rice into defeat. Gib Dawson scored 24 points in the Texas conquest of Arkansas.

Dupre ran his scoring for the season to 36 points to remain in first place but Dawson pulled up on him. Dawson has 31 points.

Zaharias Heads Field In Open

FORT WORTH, Oct. 20 (AP)—The Women's Texas Open started here today with Babe Zaharias heading a field of 150 of the nation's top women links stars.

Medal play starts today and match play begins tomorrow with the finals over the 36-hole route Saturday.

Besides Mrs. Zaharias, Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S. C., and Beverly Hanson of Indio, Calif., are among the favorites to win the tournament, last of the year for the touring women golfers.

Artesia Driller Officers Named

ARTESIA — All officers in the Artesia Baseball Club, a member of the Longhorn League, have been re-named to serve another year.

Steve Lanning is president of the Drillers.

The Driller front office will campaign to sell 300 season tickets in 1953, along with 140 box seats. Only 100 box seats and 150 season ducaus were sold in 1952.

Lanning has announced that Joe Bauman, heavy hitting first sacker, probably would return in 1953.

Rudy Briner, the Drillers' star catcher, may become a manager, however.

Contract of Earl Perry, boss of the team last season, has already been renewed for another season.

CLASS TELLING

Temple Is Top Team In State

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

A slender 40 schoolboy football teams clung to the ranks of the unbeaten and untied today as the campaign rolled into its second half.

Falling at the rate of 30 per cent weekly, it appears there will be few left when November's stretch arrives.

Standing out above them all today is Temple, conqueror of Baytown's mighty Ganders. Considered a certainty for the Class AAA championship, Temple might be able to lay claim to everything. Baytown still is a favorite in Class AAAA.

Temple reached the acme last week in its 20-13 conquest of Baytown.

The defeat of Baytown left only four undefeated, untied teams in Class AAAA—Lubbock, Midland, Pampa and Wichita Falls. And one of those is bound to fall this week since Pampa plays Midland in a conference game in District 1.

Lubbock, Baytown, Highland Park, Wichita Falls and Ray of Corpus Christi are the top-rated teams of Class AAAA although Ray lost some of its glamour last week by playing a tie with Lamar of Houston. Lamar was defeated by Baytown, 28-13, earlier in the season.

Brownwood may be the team to meet Temple in the Class AAA finals after all. Breckenridge is in the same district but there is a growing feeling that Brownwood will take the Buckaroos this time.

Edison (San Antonio) and McAllen are others of the big five in this class which has only six undefeated, untied teams left. They are Brownwood, Lufkin, Bryan, Temple, Edison and McAllen. And this week Bryan plays Waco, of Class AAAA with strong prospects of being shoved out of the list of perfect records.

Top teams are as numerous as ants at a picnic in Class AA where 7 undefeated, untied schools remain. Phillips, Dumas, Floydada, Quanah, Anson, Stamford, Pecos, Terrell, Mt. Pleasant, Center, Huntsville, Killeen and Uvalde are the teams that stand out and Terrell may be the big one. Last week this team slashed Arlington, the defending state champion, 34-6, although Arlington is definitely not the team it was last year. Harlandale (San Antonio) is undefeated but has been tied.

Undefeated and untied in this class are Dumas, Phillips, Floydada, Burkholder, Quanah, Anson, Stamford, Pecos, Terrell, Mt. Pleasant, Paul Hewitt, Center, Killeen, Huntsville, Gonzales, Uvalde and Refugio. Undefeated but tied are La Porte, Memphis, Cleveland, Humble, Diamond Hill and Seminole. The feature game of this class this week matches Pecos with Seminole in a District 8 conference game.

Abernathy, Dublin, Itasca, Van and Floresville appear to be the top teams of Class A.

Conference plays blooms in all except one district of Class AAAA this week. District 6 has an important game with Jefferson (San Antonio) trying to stop Ray. The week's schedule by districts (all conference games except here indicated otherwise):

1—Friday: Abilene at Amarillo, Midland at Pampa, Odessa at San Angelo.

2—Thursday: Bowie (El Paso) vs El Paso High; Friday: Ysleta at Jefferson (El Paso).

3—Thursday: North Side (Fort Worth) vs Poly (Fort Worth); Friday: Amon Carter-Riverside (Fort Worth) vs Paschal (Fort Worth); Saturday: Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) vs Fort Worth Tech.

4—Thursday: Adamson (Dallas) vs North Dallas Friday; Woodrow Wilson (Dallas) vs Crozier Tech (Dallas).

5—Friday: Sunset (Dallas) at Tyler (nonconference), Highland Park (Dallas) at Sherman (nonconference), Bryan at Waco (nonconference).

6—Friday: Jefferson (San Antonio) at Ray (Corpus Christi), Brackenridge (San Antonio) at Austin; Saturday: Laredo at Miller (Corpus Christi), San Antonio Tech vs Central (San Antonio).

7—Thursday: Lamar (Houston) vs Milby (Houston); Friday: Davis (Houston) vs Reagan (Houston); San Jacinto (Houston).

8—Friday: Beaumont at Baytown, Orange at Galveston, Port Arthur at Pasadena.

Quarterback Howard Miller of ASC Flagstaff Lumberjacks, with two touchdowns, led the Jacks in their easy 20-7 victory over Cal Tech of Pasadena at Flagstaff.

The only game counting in conference standings this Saturday is that between the University of Arizona and Hardin-Simmons at Tucson.

Texas Tech and New Mexico Aggies will be idle. Other members of the conference play non-conference games: Houston University at ASC Temple, New Mexico Highlands at Flagstaff, New Mexico University at Texas Western and Abilene Christian at West Texas State.

ASG Flagstaff Lumberjacks, with two touchdowns, led the Jacks in their easy 20-7 victory over Cal Tech of Pasadena at Flagstaff.

The only game counting in conference standings this Saturday is that between the University of Arizona and Hardin-Simmons at Tucson.

MANTLE DRAFT STATUS SHOULD BE CLEARED

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP)—It is to be hoped sincerely that the military will make up its mind once and for all about Mickey Mantle when the great young baseball player is examined for the fourth time on Wednesday.

Not only make up its mind, but if it again finds the Oklahoma flash unsuitable for service, announce to the nation in plain language that it does not want Mickey, now or ever, and explain why it does not wish to swear in a young man who is afflicted with the chronic bone disease osteomyelitis.

In fairness to the 26-year-old World Series hero, this should be his last examination. After nearly two years of living uncomfortably, not to know how many poison pen letters the next mail will bring, the kid deserves a let-up.

Mantle is an unusually fine, quiet boy. He never asked to be deferred from service. The draft board physician looked at his affected left shin, marked him for rejection and said "Next."

The question always asked is, of course, why an athlete who can run like a bullet and hit home runs from either side "isn't" a good enough physical specimen to wear a uniform.

All we know about Mantle's affliction is what doctors have told us—that, so far as they know, it is incurable. The disease could remain dormant for years and Mickey enjoy a long and brilliant career, or he might not be in the Yankee lineup next season. It is quite a mental hazard for a sensitive youngster to carry around. The military, up to now, has wanted no part of the gamble.

IT'S IN THE BOOK

Mary had a little LAMB. But she'd be a lot HAPPIER if she had one of our FINE USED CARS.
1951 BUICK Super 4-door sedan. Why not now? We know this is a good car—it's in the Book.
1950 BUICK Riviera 2-door. Turn to Page 222 and help us sing the good qualities of this one.
1950 BUICK Roadmaster 4-door sedan. Leave them alone and they'll come home—if they have this beauty to ride in.
1951 FORD Club Coupe. Like the book said—everybody is happy about this one.—It's not raining inside tonight.
1949 FORD 4-door sedan. Maroon paint, radio and heater. You can come wagging yourselves home in overdrive.
1950 BUICK Super 4-door sedan. Lots of good grazing left in this one.—We're not wagging our tails behind us.—Just our tongues.
1950 BUICK 4-door sedan. Come in and see. —We'll prove that all we say is true. IT'S IN THE BOOK.

BUT STOCKS ARE HIGH Demand For Fuel Is Said Increased

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—The first snow storms—and the labor unrest in the coal fields—will soothe the nerves of some worried businessmen.

As they contemplate their large stocks of fuel, winter clothing, blankets, heating pads and anti-freeze, many businessmen have been praying for a long, hard winter. Some are betting on one this year—and a passel of weather guessers are, too.

Soft coal stockpiles are much higher than a year ago. Hard coal supplies are about the same as last fall.

A soft coal work stoppage is unlikely to bring much hardship for weeks to come. But it will reduce the stocks and make it easier for operators to pass along in higher prices whatever wage boost Lewis' men finally get.

New natural gas pipe lines have quieted fears of shortages in that industry, but here the pressure toward higher prices mounts steadily.

But if the northeast quarter of the nation has its fourth mild winter in a row, a lot of oil men are going to be unhappy.

Some are worried because stocks of oil in this major oil-burning region are piling up fast—some 20 per cent higher than a year ago.

Another mild winter could topple prices—swell for the home-owner, but rough on dealers who say their distribution costs are up.

Increased industrial production, however, as well as the rows of new homes being built, have increased demand for fuel.

The trade paper Fuel Oil and Oil Heat, reports that in the first eight months of this year, 396,233 new oil burners were installed, nine per cent more than in the same period last year.

The Oil-Heat Institute estimates that fuel oil consumption on the East Coast, where 60 per cent of the nation's oil burners are installed, will rise this winter by 12 to 15 per cent.

To meet this increased demand, the oil industry has piled up more than 120 million barrels of light fuel oil. This compares with 107 million barrels at this time a year ago. And fuel oil production is running at a 10 million barrel a week clip, compared with 8½ million barrels a week last fall.

Feuding Texas Politicians Speak Out On Tidelands

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff

The tough tidelands issue, hit hard by both presidential candidates in major speeches in Texas last week, will be heated up again Tuesday night.

Atty. Gen. Price Daniel announced he would speak on "The Truth About the Tidelands" in a state-wide broadcast answering Gov. Adlai Stevenson's Dallas speech on the subject.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn, Stevenson's top campaigner in Texas, said Sunday that Stevenson's speech had "lifted the tidelands ownership question 'out of the fog.'"

Daniel, unopposed U. S. Senator-elect who is supporting Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, disagreed sharply. He said his speech would correct "erroneous and misleading" statements that were made by the Democratic nominee and would reply to "Truman-Stevenson leaders in Texas who have been calling the tidelands a phony and fake issue."

"It is neither a fake nor a phony issue," Daniel told the Associated Press.

Rayburn forecast that Texas would remain in the Democratic column Nov. 4 and said that Gov. Allan Shivers and other "straying Democrats who are trying to carry Texas for the Republicans have attempted to build it (the tidelands) issue into a fake issue."

The disposal of this issue and the enthusiasm with which great crowds in Texas greeted Gov. Stevenson offers an effective rebuttal to propaganda that the Republicans have a chance to carry Texas," Rayburn said.

Both Stevenson and Eisenhower banged into the tidelands question the first day of their Texas drive, Eisenhower at Houston and Stevenson at Dallas.

Stevenson said the income from tidelands oil for Texas has been so small that "there are some who say these lands are richer in votes than in oil."

Then Stevenson said he would give careful consideration to legislation "providing an equitable arrangement for administration of these lands and the disposition of their proceeds," but that he did not believe an asset such as tidelands oil should be given to an individual state.

Eisenhower got his tidelands stand after praising Daniel for the battle he put up in the Supreme Court defending Texas' claim.

Then he took a firm position in support of state ownership. He traced the history of Texas' claims and said that justice demanded continued recognition of the annexation land agreement. Eisenhower said Texas' claims had not been decided until "the administration decided it wants to get hold of those lands because they have become valuable."

Eisenhower and Stevenson collided head-on in discussion of other Texas issues such as party loyalty.

Throughout his six-city speaking tour, Eisenhower made it clear he wanted the votes of Democrats.

preme Court defending Texas' claim.

He urged them to squelch their urges of traditional Democratic loyalty and cast off their allegiance to a party label. He said Texas was in nobody's political bag and that "nobody can deliver a Texan's vote but the Texan himself."

Several times on his Texas swing, Eisenhower revealed himself as a political stumper able to hand out a home-spun line familiar to and popular with rural voters. At Waco, where he had been coached to talk to a farm audience, the general ridiculed administration pamphlets on dishwashing and "How to Chose and Use Dried Prunes."

The Waco crowd loved it. Stevenson didn't miss an opportunity to aim a hard dig or offer an oblique wisecrack at Texas Democratic leaders who are supporting Eisenhower.

At San Antonio the Democratic nominee was presented with a western gift hat by "Loyal Democrats" from Cameron and Hidalgo Counties. A man who said he represented the "little people" in Gov. Shivers' home area made the presentation.

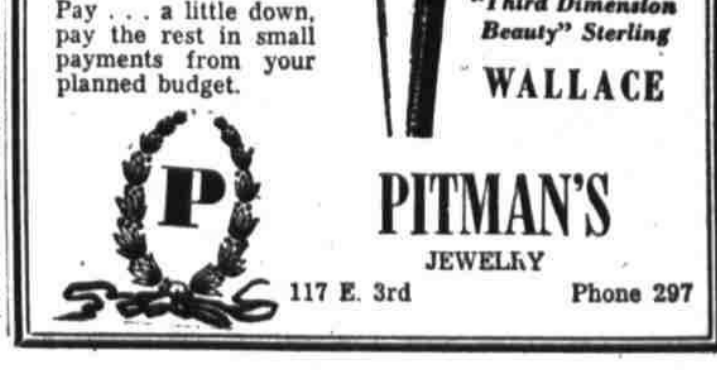

"I personally have never suffered from the Shivers," Stevenson quipped. "I don't think the hat is going to infect me at all. After I wear it awhile I expect to leave Texas walking bowlegged."

This drew a good laugh.
