Joyce Holmes; Dedicated ToHelping Area Youth

(Editor's note: Every once in awhile, someone comes along who proves to be friendly, understanding, helpful and inclined to work very hard for his or her community. This week, 'In Profile' would like to introduce you to another of these very few, but very special people -- let's get better acquainted with Joyce

One of the very first things you notice about Joyce Holmes is her very open, wide and meaningful smile -- it reaches all the way to her eyes -- and you can tell you're going to be meeting someone who is a potential friend and confidant.

In July, 1974, Joyce Holmes left Virginia to move to Muleshoe to make her home with her husband, Wayne, and their four children.

A native of Ohio, Joyce moved from there to Virginia after graduating from Anthony Wayne High School at Whitehouse, Ohio.

Her father, who is now deceased, worked at a factory in Ohio, and her mother, also deceased, raised a total of six girls and four boys. Joyce met Wayne Holmes, who was to become her husband, 23 years ago in Norfolk, VA, where he was stationed in the U.S. Navy.

After spending a few years in Virginia, Wayne retired and they made the long move to Mule-

Rather shy when she first moved to Muleshoe, Joyce did not immediately get involved in community affairs, except for the Muleshoe P-TA, and she was fully involved there while she had children attending school in Muleshoe. She received a lifetime membership in P-TA for her

This was followed by becoming a member of the now defunct Llano Estacado Civic Club and was very active in that organi-

In 1977 was a big 'step' for Joyce Holmes. As both she and her husband are very active workers with all area youth, they became involved with the Muleshoe Youth Activities Committee Inc. -- and did they ever become involved.

At that time, she worked night after night after night, helping with youth dances and various youth activities, trying to keep local and area youth busy.

At the time, the youth dances were so popular, they were drawing several hundred youth from throughout the area.

This spurred another activity. Several meetings were held and it was decided to construct a miniature golf course.

At first, there were willing workers, but soon, they all started dropping by the wayside, all except for Joyce and Wayne Holmes, who were often the only persons out digging, pouring concrete, putting up fences and gates, putting in grass and trees, and everything else that has gone into the Mule Putt Miniature Golf

Working on a 'pay as you go' plan, she also helped hostess youth dance after youth dance, with all the proceeds earmarked for the golf course.

It took between 3-4 years to complete the golf course, working when possible, and when funds were available. Many clubs and organizations contributed funds to help complete the golf course, and the Kiwanis finally stepped in to help complete the very popular summer sport for all

After it was completed, Joyce then worked two summers keeping it open on a voluntary. basis. She was not paid for any of the work she did, except to see the happy people taking advantage of the facility all summer

She still works there from time to time, still on a voluntary basis -- and you can see her husband, Wayne, out there frequently.

The third hole at the golf course was constructed and is maintained by the entire Holmes family -- who all helped Joyce and Wayne construct it.

In 1980, Joyce became the manager of the Bailey County Exhibition Center and Coliseum.

A piece of cake& Hardly!! She works as much as 66 hours a week, depending on the activities being neld there -- and it's busy a lot of the time.

When she first went to work as manager, that included all the cleaning chores -- and she still does the majority of the heavy cleaning. This includes having the floors so sparkling clean you could just lay your food right on the floor and eat it from there.

Joyce doesn't like dirt, and she doesn't like dirty corners -- so you always find the Coliseum spic and span spotless -- that's just the way she is.

She does all the booking, cleaning and minor repairs

Miss Mia Jennings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hoppy Jennings of Lazbuddie, was selected as her school's representative for the Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation Leadership Seminar (HOBY), held in Amarillo, May 13-15. The seminar seeks to inspire positive leadership roles in high school sophomores in the hope that these students will strive to meet their potential as leaders in their schools, communities, and the nation.

Miss Jennings is a sophomore honor student at Lazbuddie where she is active in sports, band, National Honor Society, cheerleading, and the honors academics program. She is an accomplished musician, having won many awards for her vocal and piano talents.

HOBY was established for the purpose of finding those students with leadership potential, bringing them together for a seminar to encourage those qualities that make outstanding leaders. During the seminar, students were treated to inspiring talks by some of our nation's most successful leaders from all walks of life and from all ethnic groups.

Some of the program conducted in this year's seminar were: "The Business of Health Care," "Profit is a Clean Word," "Farming in the 90's," "Free Press," "The Vital Role of the Arts," and "At What Price Energy?'

Miss Jennings was also invited to enter the talent show which was offered during the seminar. She performed a piano solo.

Graduation 1988

The American graduate of 1988 enters a world of challenge and a world of opportunity. He, of course enters a society which is not perfect.

Every generation's graduates. idealistic and reform minded, critical of the nation's shortcomings, hopes improve society. Often they do. But it's often a discouragingly slow

This year's graduates should try to keep in mind, with normal zeal for reform, that they enter a world which offers them more treedom, economic, political, and social opportunity than any other.

They enter a society at peace, without required military service, a society with equal protection under its laws for all. Looking back through history, comparatively few graduates have been blessed with all these advantages.

CELUBRATES ANNIVERSARY --- Mr. and Mrs. John Latham of Bula celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with a private dinner on May 1 in their home. The event was hosted by their daughter, Beverly Ann DeSautell, and grandsons Mr. and Mrs. Chris DeSautell of San Angelo and Cliff DeSautell of Bula. Two family friends were all in attendance, Harl Smith of San Angelo and Tresia Polson of Lubbock. The couple were married on May 2, 1938 by the Rev. Issac, pastor of the First Baptist Church at O'Donnell. They have made their home in the Bula community for the past 50 years. Latham is a retired farmer and they are members of the Bula Baptist Church.

SHEILA GARNER

Sheila Garner Receives National Achievement Honor

Shelia Garner has been named a United States National Award winner as a Scholastic All-American by the United States Achievement Academy.

Very few students can ever hope to attain this prestigious honor, in fact the Academy recognizes less than ten percent of all American high school students.

A freshman at Muleshoe High School, Shelia was nominated for this National Award by Ms.

Linda Marr, counselor. Sheila's name, picture and biography will appear in the United States Achievement academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history" said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy. "Certainly United States Achievement Academy award winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement.

"The Academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors or other school sponsors and upon the Standards of Selection set forth by the Academy.

"The criteria for selection are student's academic formance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability and recommendation from a teacher or director."

Sheila is the daughter of Ronnie and Vickie Garner and the granddaughter of Evelyn Freeman of Ruidoso, N.M., formerly of Muleshoe, and Ed and Marie Garner of Muleshoe. Sheila also received the United States Achievement Award for Science earlier this year.

Country Club Report

By Chaudine Elliott

The Muleshoe Women's Country Club Association met Wednesday, May 18th for their monthly meeting.

The ladies enjoyed another delicious lunch prepared by Barbara Marlow.

Helen Templeton, our president, presided over the business meeting. She recognized our birthday ladies for May. They were Lisa McElroy, Jerry Mayo and Pearl Gupton. We also were proud to have Mary Crane as a new member.

All committees made their reports. Analita Haley, our Hi Plains Director, reported on our meeting in Muleshoe this month. We had 55 ladies from eight of our surrounding towns here. Muleshoe had the honor of getting the most points that day. Our ladies getting those points for their good play were: Jeanetta Precure for low net and low putts in the flight, Argilee Millen for low gross in her flight, Helen Templeton for low gross and low putts in her flight and Mary Francis Holt for low putts in her flight. The next playday will be in Olton, Wednesday,

Marlene Martin, our Ways and Means Chairman made her reports and had our drawing for our monthly door prize. Claudine Elliott, was the lucky winner this month. She won a hand made cross stitched Welcome picture done by Sharla Henry Bruns. Our thanks to Sharla for the beautiful Jeanetta Precure, our Tournament Chairman, has the date for our annual Partnership Tournament this year. It will be September 17th. So we are all looking forward to that.

Argilee Millen, our Playday Chairman, gave golf awards to the following, April 27th, Bingle, Bangle, Bungle, Neats Foster, Jeanetta Precure, Jo Rempe; May 4th, three worst holes, minus handicaps to Neats Foster and Dorothy St. Clair.

After the meeting, the ladies played for their annual Naomi and Marie Memorial Tournament. This tournament honors Naomi St. Clair and Marie White, two great ladies that were loved by all their friends. We had a tie between Jeanetta Precure and Analita Haley, with a sudden death playoff. It was real exciting to watch with Jeanetta Precure winning in the play off. Congratulations to Jeanetta on her win. This is always a fun day for us all. Ruby Hart did a lot of remembering good times with Naomi and Marie as did Mar, F. Holt and Melzine Elliott, just mentioning a few who remembers these two great ladies.

The price of microwave ovens has fallen sharply in recent years. If about to buy, shop around and compare prices.

Microwave ovens today can be obtained for about $100, on sales and special promotions. That puts this fast and convenient form of cooking within range of most American families.

And, as the reader knows, there are units which fit over the range, so that extensive installation often isn't necessary. In some cities, microwave ovens today sometimes sell for less than $100.

In fact, here are some of the requirements for the manager --Maintain office hours from 9-12 and 1:30-4:30; and be present at the coliseum during all functions.

Schedule all functions of the coliseum in advance.

Be responsible for maintenance, repairs, and cleanliness of coliseum building and grounds.

Enforce rules established by Commissioners Court set out for coliseum.

Collect all fees for use of coliseum; remit to the County Treasurer daily; and, prepare a monthly report of coliseum revenues.

Prepare and furnish to County Judge weekly report of hours worked, sick leave, and vacation time taken.

Report janitor hours to Judge on the 23rd of each month for issuance of pay check.

And, such other duties as may be prescribed from time to time by the Commissioners Court. So as you can see, she stays busy, busy, busy. But, she's never too busy for one of her favorite projects -- and that's taking time to listen to

When she and Wayne were raising their own four, their house was like Grand Central Station, because the young people felt at home there, and knew Wayne and Joyce genuinely care for them. Joyce has spent many hours listening to troubled youth -- who find her an easy listener -- yet knowing at the same time that when they're talking to her -- she's the only one -- as she keeps her counsel about what they discuss with her.

Her friendly, open way draws people of all ages, and when asked how she maintains such an open attitude, she said, "It's just something we do.

"It makes you feel good inside when you're doing for other people, whether they're teenagers or not."

And time and again, she has proven she really means it.

A basic and simple, "We love kids," is her answer when asked why they spend so much time helping young people. "Wayne believes that if you give kids something to do, they will be better kids."

That's a basic philosophy with Joyce Holmes, as well as her husband, as she further explains, "I don't even mind the livestock show, with all the dirt. All the kids look so happy showing all their animals.

"And, take a look at the banquet and prom, with all the happy, smiling faces. That makes all the hours worthwhile." One of the lesser known facts about Joyce Holmes is her cake decorating. She can put any of her cakes up against the most experienced commercial cake decorator in the city -- but Joyce, who does such a beautiful job -doesn't decorate any cake commercially.

She smiled and said, "That's my favorite relaxation. I love to create pretty cakes." The cakes have been seen some around town, but since they aren't commercially done, not too many people are aware of the creative talent possessed by Joyce. Another relaxation for Joyce is sewing. What a lot of people may not know is that she has been making cloths to fit all the tables in the meeting room at the Exhibition Center.

She makes many of the clothing worn by the family -- and now sews for her granddaugh-

The 1988 Junior-Senior banquet was a tremendous success, according to Norma Jean Del Toro. "The beautiful decorations and lively entertainment depicted the 'Mardi Gras' theme very well, and the junior class members would like to express their gratitude to their parents for the ideas, hard work and the time that went into the preparation of the banquet. Without the assistance of our parents, the banquet could not have been such a success.

"Again, the junior class and their sponsors: Mrs. Denise Keeling, Mike Summers, Mark Heidel and Mrs. Jean Allison would like to extend their appreciation to the parents of the junior class members."

Dimmit Sets City-Wide Garage

Sale Day

The Dimmitt Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring its first City-Wide Garage Sale Day on Saturday, June 4th. Over 100 family garage sales as well as a flea market and 33 sidewalk sales are all planned.

A map and list of all sale locations will be passed out at the stoplight (Intersection of U.S. Hwy 385 and State Hwy, 86).

Residents of Dimmitt have been gearing up for the big day for several months" said Delores Heller. "Some of the more unusual items listed are: antique furniture, a pick-up, printer's type trays and type, collector's barb-wire, and appliances. There will be the regular items of clothes, gadgets, and collectibles---meaning bargains galore!

'Businesses, individuals, and organizations will be holding sales. Each participant pays a $10 fee which goes directly toward publicity of event.

"An easy to recognize sign will be displayed at each location. Hours and prices will be set by each individual. It will be a full day of shopping and heaven for hagglers.'

Mary Tollett gave the invocation. Mary Smith brought the program, "Hope". She was assisted by members.

They hymn, "My Hope Is Built" was sung.

Eloese Curry presided at the business meeting. Nellie Williams read the minutes. The meeting adjourned with the Guild Benediction.

The hostess served refreshments to Anita Wallace, Thettie Walker, Frances Potter, Eloese Curry, Mary Smith, Nellie Williams, Mae White, Jennifer Horn, Mary Tollett and Dorothy Drake.

Meeting FocusesOn Sulfa Testing For Swine

New testing procedures for detecting sulfamethazine and other sulfa products in slaughter hogs will be discussed at a series of educational meetings in the coming weeks.

Scheduled at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, June 2 at Ollie Liner Center in Plainview, the meetings will be conducted by the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service to brief swine producers and veterinarians on a new sulfa screening program that uses the sulfa-onsite (SOS) test, said Spencer Tanksley, county Extension agent. The SOS test a quick, in-plant urine screening test. By May 28, federal inspectors in each major U.S. packing plant will use the SOS test to screen urine from up to six hogs per day. The new testing procedures will affect most Texas producers who sell marketweight hogs, said Tanksley.

Sulfa residues can be a particular problem in slaughterweight hogs fed on dirt or collected for sale at gathering points or auction sales on dirt because sulfa products stay in the environment for years.

In addition to the new SOS test, information will be presented on proper methods for using sulfa products and on procedures for dealing with positive SOS tests. Extension Service Veterinarian Dr. Bruce Lawhorn will be on hand to led the discussion and to answer questions.

EVERYONE LOVES

To hear the band, to see the uniformed soldiers, to see the might of our tanks, to see the strength of our country, these things stir the heart and make us proud to be an American. Our God has made us strong and blessed us greatly, however our greatest strength is in the Lord. "GOD is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble." In these unsettled times we need to show our faith in the Lord, and speak with the courage of one whose father can do all things. Renew your strength each week by attending services in the Lord's house.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Justine Hanes Junior THE KEY

"Education is the key to the future." This famous quotation has led many students to open the door to their future. School is the red carpet that leads to opening the door; without school, no mind is able to find the key. The schools of Bailey County reflect this opportunity for all students regardless of race, religion, or economic status.

In the past, the school house was the little, red, one-room house on the hill. The age level of students ranged from seven to fourteen years old. All students were taught the original golden mark of education: reading. writing, and arithmetic. The goal for students was to learn to read and write accurately. Modern comforts were not included within the one-room house. The air conditioner was an open window in the summer and the heater was a good sweater and the black potbelly stove.

With the years came improvement in technoloby, resources, and over-all functioning. Today's little school house, Muleshoe High School, covers one city block from three subjects to many. So many subjects are offered at Muleshoe High, one could never consume all in the required four years. The school has also changed with society, offering courses involving computers. Muleshoe High School offers the DECA program which gives students the opportunity to work. This allows the student to have work experience and also a chance to earn money for his "open door" future. Muleshoe High School also has all the modern conveniences including indoor facilities, conventional air conditioning and heating.

Due to the concern and dreams of others, Muleshoe High School contains the elements to provide for the key to the future. Because of the dedication of many people through the years, our school is what it is today: an advanced opportunity to learn, "The Key."

Sue Haire SENIOR AGRICULTURAL IRRIGATION: THE FIRST SEVENTY YEARS IN BAILEY COUNTY

Over seventy years ago, when a young man picked up a mule shoe off the land on which

Nancy Lorena Mendoza

El Nuevo Leal's

Restaurant

1542 W. American Blvd

we would establish his ranch, he did not know that this region, soon to be known as Bailey County, would flourish into a thriving agricultural community. He had no idea that underneath the fertile soil on which he stood was an aquifer that would be able to provide an abundance of water to irrigate the virgin land. Irrigation water, more than any other single factor, determined the destiny of Bailey County and of those who have chosen this area for their homes. The extent of recognition of this fact is illustrated by the masthead slogan used by the Bailey County Journal. It reads, "The Community of Opportunity--Where Water Makes the Difference."

Since the average annual rainfall in Bailey County is only eighteen inches, the introduction of supplemental irrigation in agriculture to Bailey County proved to be a turning point in the economy of the area. This was accomplished by increasing the total use of agricultural products and services. Power companies, fertilizer dealers, irrigation equipment and service suppliers, farm laborers, and individuals and companies providing all other types of agricultural products prospered as a result of agricultural irrigation. From the time of its establishment in 1918 until now, Bailey County has grown and flourished into a community based upon a strong agri-business economy.

Although many changes have taken place during the first seventy years of Bailey County, none has had an impact equal to that of the initiation of agricultural irrigation. The development of irrigation techniques was responsible for turning a dusty, desolate ranch area in the Texas High Plains into a prosperous farming area known as Bailey County. As long as the correct conservation measures are taken in the future as have been taken during the past seventy years, Bailey County will continue to bloom for the years to come.

> David Quintana, Jr. 8th Grade BAILEY COUNTY THE PAST: 1900

The population of Bailey County now reaches four people. Now in 1907, a town called "Old Hurley" has been created and in honor there has been the first Bailey County Fair. In just ten years the county population has risen to 312 people. Now, in 1918. Bailey County has been pronounced an independent county. By now there has been a Post Office and a school established. This new county will grow and change in the years to

THE PRESENT: 1980's

The town once as "Old Hurley" by now has long been changed to the town of Muleshoe. The county population has now risen from the 1900 census by a couple of thousand people. There are now many restaurants. Most of the people around here are ranchers and farmers. There are four different schools in Muleshoe, but all ran by MISD (Muleshoe Independent School District). Muleshoe has grown in size, population, and wealth. It is now the county seat of Bailey County. Many people are proud of the way this county has grown.

THE FUTURE: 2010 Surviving over 100 years-Bailey county is strong and still growing stronger.

> "OLD" HURLEY By Troy Watson

The census report in 1900 on the population of Bailey County showed the number of inhabitants as four, with only one as a qualified voter. Ten years later, 1910, the cheap school lands, free Federal Lands and enterprising land companies had enticed three-hundred-twelve venturesome pioneers into the county: This number included fourtynine children of scholastic age.

The Coldren Land Company was one of the enterprising land companies which formed in 1907 for the purpose of promoting sales of the land they had acquired north and northeast of Muleshoe. It is clear that Coldren and the people he represented saw the possibilities of selling the land to farmers who were looking for cheaper land than they could find in the more settled areas of the northern states. They were even accused of "A conspiracy and a deliberate design on the part of Steven A. Coldren and others to organize said Bailey County and establish the town of Hurley as the county seat for the purpose of giving an enhanced or speculative value to lands in or pear Hurley."

We Wish To Thank Adrian's Photography For The Use Of The Senior Pictures In This Years Senior Supplement!

Muleshoe Publishing Co.

The Coldren Land Company had its home office in Kansas City. It pitched its sales toward middlewestern states farmers who were worrying about high land prices there. Land prices had risen from twenty-five to ninety dollars per acre. The land company sold Bailey County land for ten to twenty dollars per acre. The abundance of shallow water helped sell the land.

"Old" Hurley had six build ings. They included a church, a post office, a store, a school house, livery stable, ice house, and hotel. In that year, James Johnson bought the section which included the townsite, Section 42, Block Y, State Capitol Lands. He built a home which in 1922 or 1923 was moved one mile north of the northeast corner of "Old" Hurley.

The first post office in Bailey County was established at "Old" Hurley. John Metcker was the postmaster. The office was in Metsker's General Store. The mail was picked up at Bovina, and carried to "Old" Hurley three times a week by Josha Blocker. He did this for three months until a star route was established. His first means of transportation for carrying the mail was a bicycle. Later he used a cart. This early mail service probably began in 1908.

In Bailey County, Methodism was first started at "Old" Hurley. This was the first building used for a church only. The building was built by Steven A. Coldren of the Coldren Land Company. He used heavy oak timbers that were cut and sawed in Michigan. It was used as a community church. There were nine families that met with a circuit preacher, Rev. V. N. Trammel, once a month. They were W. M. Wilterding, John Wilterding, R. B. Cantield, J. T. Lindsay, Elmer Grush, A Mrs. Miles, Edward Barnhill, A. C. Gaede, and Mrs. W. H. Kistler.

Later the building was moved to Muleshoe by teams of horses or mules, where it was used for Muleshoe's first school. Today it is used as a Latin-American Methodist Church.

Beginning in the year 1908,

Bailey County was made one large school district centered around "Cid" Hurley, and the school was given the name "Mardis". The school was opened in September with twenty-five students attending with a sixteen year old teacher, Miss Leota Bearden, who later became Mrs. Leota Wilterding. She was hired for forty dollars a month, but the bank at Dimmitt discounted her salary voucher to thirty-five because the school was without funds at that time.

She taught first through eighth grades, and had thirty-five classes each day. The room had double desks, a strip of blackboard, crayons, erasers, and a water jar. School was dismissed in January when the teacher and some of the students fell ill with scarlet fever.

In "Old" Hurley, the Coldren Land Company erected the hotel. The Hurley Hotel was a two-story building, thirty feet by sixty feet. It had a dining room forty feet long. It had a porch all the way. across the front. The hotel was later moved from Hurley to Janes, after being sawed in half. In Bailey County, the town of "Old" Furley and others like it have faded away, mainly because a railroad did not pass through, or because other towns shoved them aside. But the memories of their existance remain, mainly because of historical research on the part of students, or persons, interested in knowing from whence we came.

"Old" Hurley, according to a statement by Russell Bearden on November 20, 1976, was laid out in 1908 or 1909: Location: Sec. 42. Blk Y. Hotel: SE corner of NW1/4, Store: NF corner of SW1/4. School: center of SE1/4, Church: center of NE¼, Garage: NE of hotel, Livery Stable; NO hotel.

The store and the post office were moved to New Hurley. The other buildings were moved to Muleshoe when it started.

H.B. Bearden had charge of the ice house. Joe Ratherford ran the wagon yard. The population was approximately twenty-five people. There was no doctor.

Steve Coldren founded the town of Hurley, but before he could obtain a charter, the Fairview Land and Cattle Company had established a new townsite about three miles west of the original Hurley, and they immediately obtained a charter. The loss of the charter ruined the Coldren Town of "Old" Hurley.

No record of this town appears in Bailey County Legal Records.

Stephanie Quintana 6th Grade No. 1 THE HISTORY OF BAILEY COUNTY

I have lived in Bailey County for quiet a few years, and its history has been very great. This counties history has been around for many years. Its history may be pretty long. But it's also pretty exciting!

In 1918, just two seventy years ago, Bailey County was organized as an independent county. In this same year the first officials of the county were elected in a November general election.

Just two months later, in 1919. Muleshoe was selected county seat by a specially held election. and the first jail cell was purchased from Palmer County. The first newspaper "The Booster", was published, But was soon replaced By the "Bailey County Bugle".

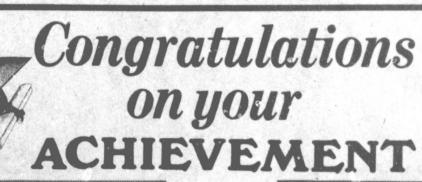

In 1924 "The Muleshoe Journal" was born, and the Muleshoe Independent School (MISD) was completed with the Fairview, Watson and Stegall schools. By 1926 Muleshoe was organized. It received electricity and the first telephones.

In less than 50 years Bailey Counties population rose to more than 8,000 people, the Christian Church was organized, and the National Mule Memorial became a reality.

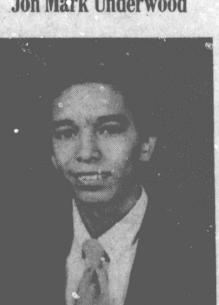

A few thousand years ago beast called Mammoths roamed this area. In a few thousand years the same kind of beast will probably roam this area again, and even though beast might take over Bailey County in a couple of thousand years at least the citizens know that until that time comes Bailey County is OURS".

Lisa Noble Junior A SCHOOL'S IMPACT ON BAILEY COUNTY

Many aspects of Bailey county life are favorable. The churches provide a spiritual strength; the "good earth" provides a living; the people provide companionship. The single most important aspect, however, is the one which unites this community. This is the school system which supplies not only jobs and entertainment but also a sound education for the future.

The Muleshoe school system is the largest employer in Railey County. Many people work as either cooks, bus drivers, janitors, nurses, teachers, aids, or administrators. Approximately 1,600 youth now attend Muleshoe schools which is about one-third of the community's population. Without such a successful school system, the tewn would suffer both economically and educationally.

Schools are also a vast entertainment source. Sporting events are attended by many people who come to cheer on the local team. They often spend their Friday nights at football or basketball games supporting the youth. Besides the sporting events, there are many other school activities that the community enjoys. The fall plays, the various band concerts, the Sweetheart Festival, and the Dinner Theatre in the spring are very entertaining also.

Schools offer a promise of growth and prosperity to any community. It brings a hope that Bailey county will continue to thrive. Into the school pour an endless stream of young faces and these bring a look of perpetuation into Muleshoe.

The most important asset a school has is its main objectiveeducation. Education betters not only Bailey county but also the nation. It is an effort to acquire and maintain greatness and it is one step taken to achieve perfection. Therefore, our school system has a great impact on the place I am proud to call home.

Dry Weather Limiting Mesquite Control

Dry conditions over Texas are not only limiting forage growth but are also putting the damper on mesquite control with foliar applied herbicides.

With below pormal rainfall over most of the state since last fall, trying to control mesquite with foliar herbicides may be a questionable practice this spring, said Dr. Tommy Welch, a range specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

"Soil moisture is essential for acceptable control of mesquite," Welch said. "Ranchers should look at their situation to determine if mesquite plants have sufficient foliage and are not severely stressed for moisture before using foliar applied herbicides."

Soil moisture is only one factor influencing the degree of optimum, and plants are not severly moisture stressed.

Foliar herbicides should be applied when mesquite leaves are fully extended and have changed from light green to dark green in color--about 40 days after budbreak. Control is poor when seed pods are elongating, said Welch.

Regarding soil temperature, mesquite control is best when soil temperature at 12-18 inches of depth at the time of spraying is 75 degrees F. or above.

Conditions that mesquite foliage just prior to and during the spray season will

What I really started to write about is the plight of many banks and savings and loan institutions that have gone broke.

An economist good at statistics has pointed out that for every lending institution there must be at least 10,000 farmers, so if you compare the number of banks and savings and loans going under in this country to the number of farmers going under, alone or mixed have provided you'd find that statistically the lenders are way ahead of the borrowers when it comes to going busted.

effect control results, Welch said. Frequent rains during the spray season may result in the development of new leaves. For optimum control, new leaves should be allowed to mature before spraying. Foliage damaged by insects, disease, hail or a late frost must have time to mature or control results will be poor. This means delaying spraying of herbicides in some

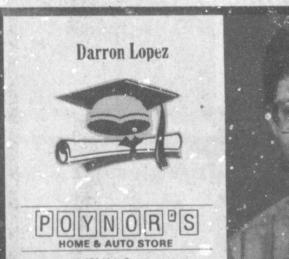

Several choices of herbicides and mixtures of herbicides are available for mesquite control, said Welch. This provides an opportunity to better match ranch objectives and economics with the herbicide or herbicide mixture. Also, the need to control undesirable brush and weed species associated with mesquite may influence the herbicide choice.

Herbicides currently registered and effective for controlling mesquite by foliar application are Grazon ET (triclopyr), Banvel (dicamba), Reclaim (clopyralid) and Grazon PC (picloram). Grazon ET, Banvel and Reclaim may be used alone.

Research information indicates the highest degree of control with Reclaim. Grazon ET and Banvel may be mixed with Grazon PC in a 1:1 mixture (on an active ingredient basis) for greater control than when these herbicides are used alone. Grazon PC may be mixed with Reclaim in a 1:1 (active ingredient) mixture to provide control equivalent to or slightly better than when using Reclaim alone. Reclaim does not provide good control or brush species other than mesquite, Welch said. Thus, for control of mesquite and associated species. the Reclaim-Grazon PC mixture should be used.

Grazon PC and Reclaim are now labeled for use with the carpeted roller for mesquite control. Both herbicides applied excellent mesquite control when applied with the carpeted roller. Welch said.

To obtain the maximum benefit from money spent on mesquite control, herbicides should be applied at the proper time with the proper method and followed with good range management, said Welch.

Jones Heads Ag Communications Department At Texas A&M

Barry W. Jones has been named head of the Department of Agricultural Communications at Texas A&M University effective May 16.

The Department is a unit of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, two agencies of the Texas A&M University System.

Jones is serving as managing editor-news for the information Department of the Cooperative Extension Service at Mississippi State University, Starkville.

Jones expects to complete all requirements for the Ph.D. degree at the E.W. Scripps School of Journalism at The Ohio State University this August. His doctoral work is in journalism with emphasis on history, legal and social responsibility, and his minor is in management.

Before going to Mississippi State in 1980, Jones served with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service as a communications specialist for the 19-county Southwest Texas area that comprises District 13, with headquarters at Uvalde.

In his new assignment, Jones will hold a joint appointment with the Extension Service and Experiment Station.

'We are fortunate to have an individual with such a broad background in communications technology to head this important unit for our agencies," said Dr. Zerle L. Carpenter, Extension Service director.

"Leadership in providing innovative communication strategies to more effectively reach our many clientele groups is critical, and we believe Mr. Jones is extremely qualified for this high technology role," said Dr. Neville P. Clarke, Experiment Station director.

Other positions previously held by Jones include those of editor with Georgia's Cooperative Extension Service's Rural Development Center at Tifton from 1971-1976, and city editor for the Daily News at Athens, Ga., from 1969 to 1971. Earlier, he was director of public relations and alumni affairs for Norman College of Norman Park, Ga., for a year, and also served as a copy editor at the Waco News Tribune for a year. As a student, he served summer internships with a number of other newspapers in Texas and Georgia.

Jones also served for 14 years in the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve where he headed a 40-man motor transport section as chief warrant officer.

Jones has an M.A. degree in journalism from the University of Georgia and a B.A. degree in journalism and history from Baylor University, Waco.

The Austell, Ga., native is activo in numerous professional career organizations.
