Informational Meeting Here Thursday On Hospital Issue

An informational, "Town Hall" meeting will be held here Thursday night concerning the operations of the Coleman County Medical Center and the up-coming Hospital Tax District election.

Members of the Hospital Task Force, interim hospital board and the interim administrator will be on hand to help inform the public on future plans for the hospital should the tax district pass.

Discussions will include what is being done to get the hospital back on its feet and the process of making the hospital more efficient and better able to meet the needs of the people in the area. Any suggestions for changes in the operation of the hospital will be welcomed.

Everyone, pro or con on the issue, is encouraged to be at the "Town Hall" meeting Thursday, June 11, at 7:00 p.m. in the High School auditorium.

Saying Their Good-byes

The three foreign exchange students that attend school in Santa Anna this school year just completed are now returning to their homelands. Andy Burghardt left this past weekend returning home to Germany and the two girls will be leaving in the next few days. They have all expressed their appreciation with the way they have been accepted into the school and community and wished to say this thru the following letters. Their being here has been a positive experience for everyone who came in contact with them. Everyone who has known them will miss the three young people. We wish each of them well and hope they can visit us again in the future.

The students were sponsored here by the American Student Intercultural Exchange program.

Gary Absher is currently local director of the program and is in the process of making arrangements for other foreign students to be here for the coming school year.

My year as a foreign exchange student has come to an end. It has been an exciting and educational year not only for me, but also the people I have learned to know.

Santa Anna is very different from where I come from, and it took me some time to adjust myself to the new lifestyle and not at least the warm weather and humidity here in Texas.

School has been a big part of my year, and it was at school I met all my new friends. The students at Santa Anna ISD were probably as nervous about meeting; as I was about meeting them. But it did not take long before they made me a part of their lives.

I want to thank my host parents, Gary and Teresa Absher and all the people of Santa Anna for making this a special year for me.

Love Always,
Bodli Arnegaard

Early Voting Opens June 10

Early voting for the hospital tax district election opens Wednesday, June 10, and will continue to June 26. Election day is June 30.

Early voting will be at the Miller Library Building on the northwest corner of the Courthouse square, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Children Can Discover The New World Of Reading

Children ages four and older are invited to discover the New World of Reading at the Santa Anna Public Library Summer Reading Club. The first meeting will be on Thursday, June 18 at 9:30 a.m. The group will meet at the Telephone Office for an interesting program. Sessions will be held for pre-schoolers, lower elementary and upper elementary. Junior High and High School students will serve as junior leaders and participate in the awards program. Each group will have activities suited to their age level and visit the library to check out books. Parents should pick up their children at 11:00 a.m. at the telephone office. Other meeting days will be July 2, 16 and 30.

Children will be given a time sheet to keep a record of the amount of time they spend reading. Pre-schoolers will count the amount of time someone reads to them. A small award will be given for each hour of reading.

A new feature this summer will be a drawing for prizes. Each time a child attends the reading program he can sign-up for the drawing. A drawing will be held each week for small prizes. On July 30, the tickets from all the weeks will be combined for a grand prize drawing. KTXS-TV in Abilene is providing tickets to Fiesta Texas in San Antonio as a grand prize.

Sponsors of the program hope to see a large number of children for the first program on June 18. No pre-registration is necessary. Parents are asked to help small children sign up for the drawing.

Santa Anna. Those working on the project would like to thank people who have helped in planting and donating their time to the community garden. Elena Martinez and Bill Garrett broke the land for the garden but more help is needed to do some more planting. The group is hoping for help from someone with a plow or planter to enlarge the garden. The garden is situated in a 5-acre plot next to Mrs. Pearl Wilson's home on the Rockwood Highway.

City officials have expressed their appreciation of the group who is attempting to re-open the church and establish the garden and have stated they are willing to cooperate in helping with the endeavor anyway that they can.

Camp Meeting Begins 18th

By Lucy Havens

The annual Cowboy Camp Meeting, founded by the late Little George Havens 26 years ago, starts June 19 and runs ten days, through June 28. The location is on Highway 84 at the Flying H Acres, between Santa Anna and Coleman, Texas. It may be one of the last places in the United States where one can be a part of a real Christian camp meeting, just like they used to have throughout the West and especially on the Texas frontier.

People from throughout the nation travel here for this unique event, patterned after early day meetings on the western frontier, where families would gather around a fire and sing hymns. Two or three would preach in the course of the evening of worship under the stars. Now folks bring their campers, trailers, RV's; some sleep in the authentic covered wagons on the site or just bed down under the Texas stars, while others prefer to stay at area motels. But they all arrive for daily services at 10 a.m.

and 8 p.m. under a big tent, plus prayer meetings and special youth and children's classes beginning 7:15 p.m. A bon fire follows the main services at night, and ballads of the Old West, patriotic songs, and hymns are sung to the accompaniment of various instruments.

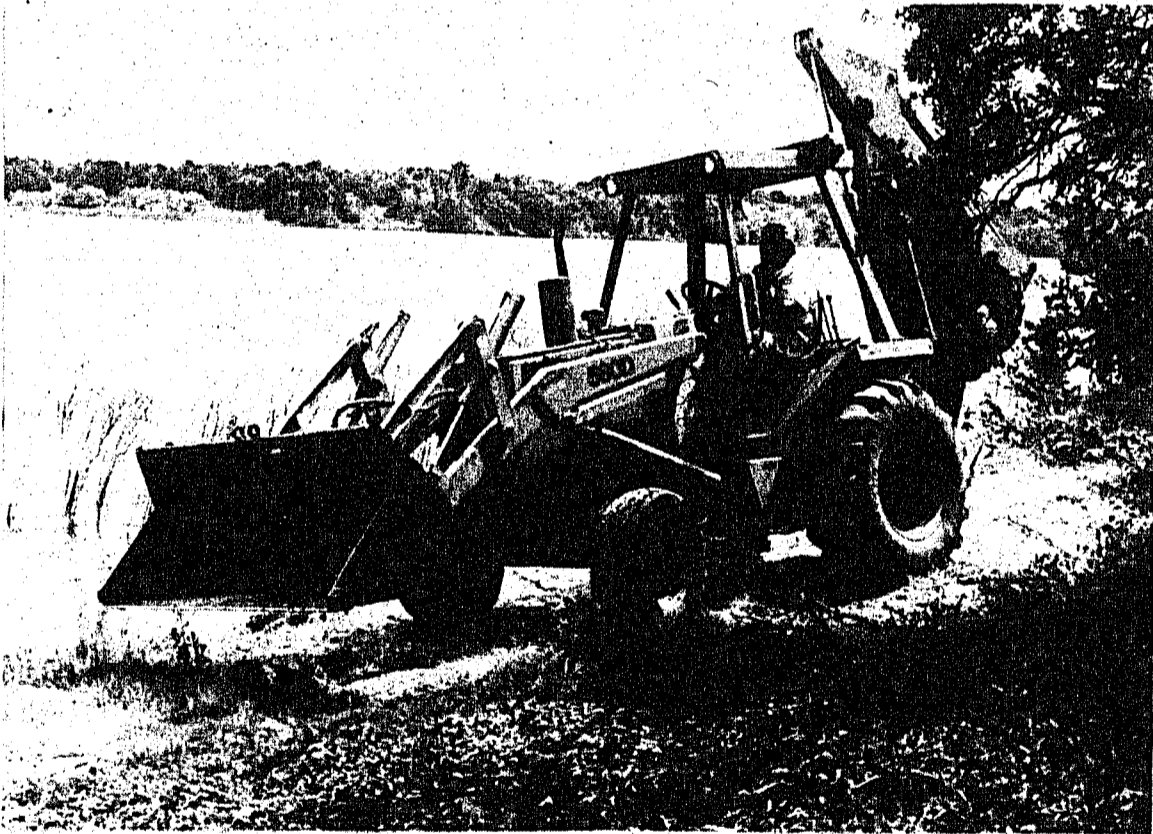

Featured preachers this year are Buck Hatfield, Bob Muncy, Joe Price, Rick Ingle and Orbie Flatt. Nationally famous in the country gospel music field, Jan and Bill Thompson and recording artist, Country Johnny Mathis from Nashville, Tennessee, will be with us again this year. Our own chief wrangler, Bobby McMeans, will be singing and leading in the services.

At 6 p.m. on Saturdays, chuck wagon dinners are served, with the Camp furnishing on the mesquite cooked barbecue, sourdough biscuits, tea and coffee. Our area friends who come usually add salads, vegetables or desserts. On other evenings a pot luck supper is shared by campers and drop-ins.

You who love the true spirit of the Old West will find much of interest here. Come and just browse.

You will find of interest the genuine chuck wagon, built by a Texas ranger and used on a ranch along the Delaware River and later in the Hollywood films. Stories can be recounted of the early means of travel displayed here: the wagons, carriages, surreys, the buckboard; the big conestoga wagon, called by the Camp youth "the Gran' Hotel", will actually house some ten youngsters. Take time to read about our spiritual legacy and the account of lives of pioneer and early day circuit riders in the Pioneer Preachers' Museum, and think about the words inscribed in the plaque of the Monument at the entrance to the Camp, that reads: "In honor of the pioneer preacher, whose call, to the Camp, 'It's cowboy camp Meeting time', brought the Word of God that won the West".

Yes! Here on this mesa, that lay beside the Great Western Cattle Trail, there is fun, nostalgia, history and that the old-timers delighted to call "that ole time religion". I will be looking for you, and do pray for COWBOY CAMP MEETING 1992.

City Crew Member Tommy (Tiny) Jackson is shown here clearing a waterfront area at Lake Sealy. Boys and girls the dates are set. Beginning Thursday, June 18 and every two weeks through July will be Reading Club. Come go on a voyage of discovery with stories, posters and songs. Watch for posters and more information.

You really can't believe the number of books that have been added since last summer. Mrs. Betty Kay has worked every week organizing the books by reading level. Just look for the colored dots to find your section. Mrs. Key has given us several new easy reader books.

I was looking in my garage for a special book requested by Mrs. Gwen Walker. There were several good books for children. This column probably said thanks for the adult ones. Sadly we missed the others. If you gave us a set called The Fun to Read Series. Thank you. These may be used in the reading program this summer.

The books from the Jones family included several good books for our younger readers. Thanks to Mr. Jim Jones, his grandson and a friend for loading and unloading a pickup of books. Some of these also came from Ethel Williams and Mrs. O. P. Strauss.

Robert Pearce did his summer cleaning and brought us two dozen books. These are extra nice books that most children will love. Maybe some other boy or girl can follow Robert's good example. Are you listening parents?

Nell Myers can hardly keep up with Betty and others. She has been cutting the cards for pockets that go in all new books. The library uses envelopes and other cardboard that would be thrown in the trash. Nell cuts these and places two in each pocket. She has been working on an idea for more shelves for paperbacks. The library still needs a stand.

Cam Slagle has been putting these pockets in adult books and all volunteers stamp our name on the new paperbacks. Joe Green repaired some shelves that lost their support and he is repairing a desk drawer. All these volunteers have been faithful for over four months. That's over 25 free hours of labor for the City of Santa Anna. Others in town help deliver Meals on Wheels, work on at the City Park, volunteer for the Fire Department, help with summer baseball programs and other sports, helped with Funtier Days and work to provide eyeglasses for children in need. Do you give any of your time to help Santa Anna be a better town?

By the way we have a new volunteer. Charee Holman has been working about a week. Her help is appreciated. She also volunteers some with Mrs. Dean at the school library.

Come to the Library this summer. Cut off the TV and live an adventure with words. Have you seen the latest studies showing how much better children do all through life if they watch less TV and read more?

Thoughts From Our Pastors

Harvey J. Kornegay Seventh-Day Adventist

God Is Still In Charge Of Planet Earth

"The saints of the most High shall take the kingdom, and possess the kingdom for ever, even for ever and every." Daniel 7:18.

Since the march of history in its broad outline fulfills the divine predictions in the Book of God, we can see that history is, as someone said "His story." In the prophecies of the Bible, especially those of Daniel and the Revelation, we actually have history in advance, and we can read tomorrow's headlines.

No wonder this prophecy is of extreme interest to all of us. God's hand is still upon the nations. He watches them. Remember this: Babylon, the nation that carried Judah captive, is gone; Medo-Persia, which case its terrible laws of genocide against Israel, is gone; Grecia, whose representatives persecuted the people of God, is gone. All these mighty nations had contact with God's representative people on earth, and these four mighty nations are gone. They have sunk in the deep grave of the past, and only their memory and the artifacts of buried cities remain. These raging beasts from the sea have become the ghosts of nations. Though God's people have suffered down through the ages, the "Bride" still lives. The day will come when "the saints of the most High shall take the kingdom, and possess the kingdom for ever, even for ever and ever."

Then we shall have the worldwide peace that all men long for. But we can never have this until we first have the peace of God in our hearts, the peace which passes human understanding or explanation, the peace which comes through surrender and forgiveness.

Even today, while the storms of national strife and hatred are raging in the world, you may have peace in your heart. He said: "Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you...Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid." John 14:27. Invite Jesus into your heart, that you may find this peace of God.

Wheat Harvest May Still Come Out Alright

Grain harvesting was halted again after storms hit late Monday night and early Tuesday morning. Alderman-Cave Milling and Grain Company in Winters reports that its Santa Anna and Coleman elevators had received less than 25 percent of their expected wheat from this season's crop. However farmers were hoping that harvesting could resume by Wednesday.

County Extension Agent Kerry Shropshire says he is still dealing in "ifs", but his position is a bit more positive about the harvest than it was a week ago.

Operators got in a good three to four days of good running last week, and probably got in about a third of the crop. He still thinks the harvest may come out ok, with maybe about a 10 percent loss.

Much of the wheat harvested last week was wheat that had either blown over or was getting in otherwise bad shape. Shropshire believes that the wheat still in the fields is in better shape and the yield will be much better on it.

So we are hoping that area grain farmers get a break from the weather and are able to get the rest of their crop in before more rain or high winds hit and cause them more problems.

Ag — Roundup

By Bruce Kingsbery

Trade was active in the Panhandle area Monday. Slaughter steers and heifers were steady to firm. Feedlots reported good interest and inquiry. Sales were reported on 24,400 head, steers and heifers from $73.50 to 74.50 per hundred.

Last weekend's rain slowed the wheat harvest down and more rain is forecasted. It would be a shame if after raising a good grain crop farmers weren't able to harvest.

Wheat prices rose steadily last week. Price paid at the local elevator opened last Monday at $3.20 per bushel, and at presstime stood at $3.53 a bushel. The price increase is attributed to the untimely rains and freezing temperatures throughout the northern wheat belt over the last several weeks.

According to the Texas Cattle Feeders Association, beef is back as the number one meat in the USDA's May Livestock and Poultry Situation and Outlook. Beef regained its top spot after USDA began to more accurately calculate the amount of chicken used for non-human consumption. The USDA reported that beef consumption in 1991 was 67.2 pounds per capita, retail broiler consumppremises had been invaded, the intruders relieving them of all the bacon and lard they had.

Dear Editor

Dear Editor:

In a recent article in the Chronicle and Democrat Voice entitled "Tax Facts Are Explained" it was reported the new tax would bring in approximately $399,406.00 for the Coleman Hospital. That would equal approximately $33,283.00 a month. This is a large sum for an average household, but when figuring the expenses of a hospital R.N. and L.V.N. wages alone would use this up fast.

Last year when the hospital was reported to need help an article also appeared in your paper addressing the hospital as a lady in need, a lady dying, and remembering her good deeds. Well out of compassion, it may be time to let her die in peace, and with dignity. A new tax will only prolong the suffering of her and many others. I can not help but believe the new tax will not save the hospital. I feel like I am being asked to keep someone else's dream and wishes alive. When this is over there will be others dreams and wishes, and they will want the tax payer to finance them. Whether it passes or not, I am thankful that we can weigh the facts before us, and be free to vote as we please. That is what "Democrat Voice" is about.

How Would The Loss Of Our Hospital Affect The Hunting And Fishing Industry In Coleman County???

Hunting and Fishing is the Number Two Industry in Coleman County, right behind agriculture. In checking with the hospital, we find that during Hunting and Fishing season in Coleman County, there are numerous admissions to our Emergency Room for gunshot wounds, removal of fish hooks, boat mishaps, and many other hunting and fishing related accidents.

Would our out-of-county and out-of-state Hunters and Fishermen feel secure here without a hospital???

state ethics law that allows "fact-finding" trips.

Lunch, a free round of golf and a quick tour of a local business does not constitute a "fact-finding" trip, the Ethics Commission ruled in a legal opinion.

Someone submitted the question confidentially, as allowed by the ethics law, to test the limits of the provisions barring lobbyists from taking state officials on pleasure trips.

"I don't think there is any doubt this is lobbying," said commission attorney Sarah Woelk about a hypothetical golf outing. If it isn't lobbying, nothing is."

The commission deferred a decision on a legal opinion about whether people could donate equipment to the Texas Parks and Dent is lazy and has poor study habits, State Board of Education member Ray Alexander said last week.

Alexander, of Houston, a retired Wildlife Department, Louis Muldrow, a member of the ethics commission, worried that some gifts could be used for personal use.

Texas Students 'Lazy'
The average public school stu-

high school math teacher, said laziness helped cause thousands of students to fail Texas' mandatory graduation exam this year.

In April, 8,138 seniors failed to make a passing score of 60 on at least one portion of the Texas Assessment of Academic Skills. That number represents 5 percent of the state's 158,000 seniors.

"The average student wants something for nothing," Alexander said.

The board is expected to vote this week to eliminate credit toward graduation for fundamental math and language courses.

Prison Lawsuit Back On

Attorney General Dan Morales advised state officials he will go back into the courtroom to force an end to federal supervision of the Texas prison system.

Morales accused lawyers for inmates of undermining settlement talks to create more legal fees; he later told a graduating class that if he goes back to trial he will "kick their $6 million butts."

State prison board members still criticized Morales for not signing a settlement agreement, leading to a collapse of negotiations.

Third Cholera Case

A Houston woman has become the third person in Texas to be stricken with cholera related to the outbreak that is spreading northward out of South America, health officials say.

Harris County Health Department epidemiologist Cindy Kilborn said the woman became ill May 23 after returning by airplane from a visit to El Salvador.

The woman was hospitalized May 24 and is now out of intensive care and recovering, Kilborn said.

The other cases diagnosed in Texas so far this year also have been imported. Two Brownsville patients developed cholera after visiting Mexico over the Easter weekend.

Land Office Sale

The General Land Office is planning to sell 97 tracts of land, ranging from a 1.5-acre lot near downtown Dallas to an acreage in the open country of the Trans-Pecos.

Most of the tracts are isolated from other state lands and cannot be blocked into more marketable form, the land office said.

Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro said the property sales will provide a minimum of $2.7 million to the public school fund.

The sale will be held Aug. 4 at the School Land Board meeting.

Other Highlights

■ Morales settled for $1.1 million the state's lawsuit against a psychiatric hospital chain alleged to have siphoned money from the Crime Victims Fund.

■ Teachers' union in Houston endorsed their presidential nor Arkansas Gov. Bill Clinton named out the rest of their platform.

■ Texas Civil Rights Project director Jim Harrington filed a lawsuit against the state, alleging that mentally ill prison inmates get no help after they are paroled. Harrington, who wants the state to provide mental health services for parolees, said lack of such help contributes to early violations of parolees.

■ The United Negro College Fund credited Texas with leading the way for a nationwide boom in enrollment in private black colleges. Almost 3,200 students from Texas were enrolled in such colleges; five colleges are in Texas.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Former GOP gubernatorial candidate Tom Luce, now head of Ross Perot's petition campaign, was once again on television screens last week.

Luce, whom conventional wisdom portrayed as the most intelligent candidate with the least charisma in 1990, announced the campaign hirings of Democrat Hamilton Jordan and Republican Ed Rollins, former political strategists for Jimmy Carter and Ronald Reagan.

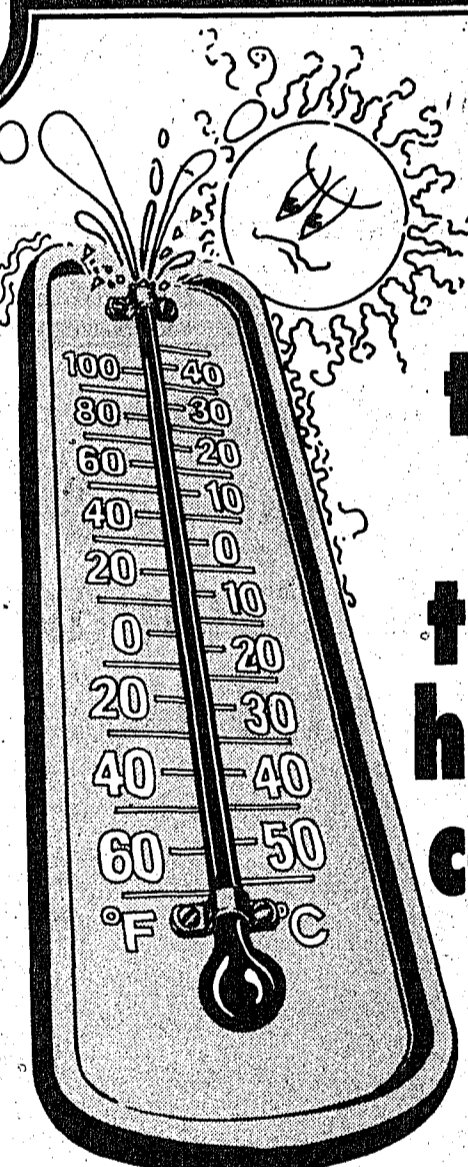

The two will serve as co-managers: Jordan will be in charge of the overall campaign strategy, while Rollins will handle the day-to-day operations.

Symbolically, the hirings attest that disgruntled members of both established parties can find a home with Perot, who seems to gain steam with each passing week.

Speaking of steam, the Texas lottery first-week sales climbed to $90 million, breaking all national records.

When temperatures are on the rise... help keep cooling costs down!

HERE'S HOW:

- ✓ Check your home for adequate insulation — R-30 is recommended in the attic.
- ✓ Help your cooling system's efficiency by caulking and weatherstripping. Infiltration of outside air is your air conditioner's greatest enemy.
- ✓ Help keep the cost of cooled air down by setting your thermostat at 78° or higher and clean your air conditioner's filter regularly.
- ✓ If your present air conditioner needs replacing, consider an all season electric heat pump. It cools in the summer and heats in the winter and saves you money on your energy bills.

Remember REDDY supplies the energy — but only YOU can use it wisely!

Low-Income Households May Be Eligible For Energy Assistance

AUSTIN--Some low-income Texans may be eligible for help in paying cooling bills this summer through the Home Energy Assistance Program, according to Texas Department of Human Services (DHS) Interim
Commissioner Burton F. Raiford.
Raiford said the one-time payment is available to many low-income households. Applications for energy assistance were mailed to households that received food stamps, Aid to Families with Dependent Children, or Supplemental Security Income in May. If those households have at least one member who will be 60 or older in 1992 or a member with a medical condition that is aggravated by heat, they may qualify for assistance. Other low-income individuals may request an application for six.

Households are eligible if the cost for cooling is included in the rent payment or if the household pays part of its home energy costs.
Energy assistance checks are sent directly to the people who are eligible for assistance. However, the checks are made payable to the energy provider.
People receiving an energy assistance check should mail it or take it in person to the energy provider business office with their regular energy bill. The check can be cashed only by the energy provider.
If the check is more than the energy bill, the additional amount will be credited to the person's account for the next month's bill. If the energy bill is higher than the check, the person is responsible for paying the difference.

by calling the toll-free number 1-800-252-8060 during the enrollment period of June 1 through June 30, 1992.

Eligibility is determined by gross income and resources. This year, because of budget cuts and participation rates, the benefits for the cooling program may be lower than last year's. Aid is available for a one-person household having less than $662.49 gross income per month. The gross income limits are $876.49 for households of two persons, $1,090.49 for three,
$1,518.49 for five and $1,732.49

A young schoolteacher was assisting a small boy with his arithmetic lesson. She asked, If you had two dollars, and asked your Dad for three dollars, how many dollars would you have? He answered two dollars. She replied I am afraid you don't know your arithmetic very well. He said I am afraid you don't know my dad at all.

Rev. Sam Bowden brought a good sermon when he preached at our church Sunday. We had one visitor and always welcome anyone.

The Richardson reunion was held Sunday at the Community Center with thirty attending and all reported a real nice time and plans were made to meet there again next year.

Wednesday morning, Chris Fleming and friends Aaron Startz, Gabriel Revela and Steven Startz of Alice visited his grandmother, Mrs. Florence Stearns and other grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Fleming. They returned to their homes Friday. Other visitors with Florence during the week were Arvil Bolton of Rockwall, Winnie Haynes, Anna York and Novella Stearns.

There were six ladies present at the community center on Monday to quilt and they are working on a quilt for Mrs. Leona Henderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Smith of San Angelo visited on Wednesday with Mrs. Annie Lou Vaughn.

Debbie Lansley and son Jeremy came by Santa Anna to visit awhile with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wallace on Thursday. They were moving from Denver, Colorado to Bellville. I had dropped by for a minute and was lucky in getting to see them. Lois said she talked to her mother Ilene Haynes of Hermleigh Thursday night and found her to be feeling quite well but she is expecting to have to have eye surgery before long. We here wish her the best of luck.

Mrs. Clara Cupps visited awhile

one day with Mrs. Winnie Haynes.

The eighty-four party was held Thursday night with twenty three attending. Billy Roy and Mildred Laughlin hosted.

Larry and Kathy Sammons and son Tracy of Savannah, Georgia spent Friday night and Saturday with her aunt, Mrs. Novella Stearns.

Word was received here that Mollie Mittie James of Fort Worth had passed away with the burial on Tuesday at an Arlington Cemetery. Sorry I don't know who she married but she grew up at Trickham and will be remembered by some of you. The family certainly has my sympathy.

The descendants of Charlie and Clara Haynes will have their annual reunion June 14. Come and bring a basket lunch and enjoy the fellowship. That will be at the community center.

Mrs. Janie Eldridge of Corpus Christi returned home on Sunday after spending ten days with her sister, Mrs. Mary Lea Mitchell.

Rodney and Candice Henderson of Coleman were Saturday dinner guests of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hilburn Henderson. And Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Wallace of Coleman were Sunday afternoon visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Smith of San Angelo visited Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Rankin McIver. The McIvers enjoyed home-made ice cream Sunday evening with Sherrie and Jim Blake and Megan.

Rain measurements in this community Saturday night were from one-half an inch up to two inches.

Family Violence Is Preventable

Family violence can be defined as an act of force between family members that would be illegal if it occurred between strangers. The statistics of family violence are shocking:

- * approximately 2 million women, 2 to 4 million children, and 1 million elderly in the U.S. suffer from violence and abuse annually;

- * the incidence of child abuse, pediatric sexual assault, elder abuse, spouse abuse, and rape has increased dramatically during the past five to 10 years; and

- * domestic violence is the leading cause of injuries for women in the United States; according to the Journal of the American Medical Association, 22 to 35 percent of women who visit emergency departments are there for symptoms related to ongoing abuse.

But perhaps the most frightening statistic of family violence is that 30 percent of children from violent households become abusive as adults.

Such exposure to violence in the childhood home is one cause of family violence.

Other factors include unemployment of the family's major breadwinner, alcohol or drug abuse in the family, and isolation of families that are new to a community or involved in few activities.

Symptoms of family violence often are difficult to detect. Physical symptoms, such as bruises or broken bones, may be explained away by the victim. Abused children often react to abuse in one of two ways: they withdraw and develop feelings of low self-worth or they turn their emotions outward, sometimes reaching out for attention or affection.

The effects of family violence are widespread and long-lasting. Besides physical injury, which can be serious or even life-threatening, abuse takes a psychological toll.

Victims of abuse can develop suicidal feelings, depression, substance abuse problems, shame, and the inability to trust or develop intimate relationships later in life.

Families can work to prevent violence in their homes. Parents can create an environment that discourages violence and encourages alternatives for resolving conflicts. Techniques include stress management and self-esteem building. Other factors that lessen the likelihood of abuse include job training, substance abuse treatment, and mental health services. Parents also can consider alternative discipline methods, such as using "time-out," removing the child from the situation, or grounding their children.

If you are concerned about family violence, speak with your physician. Many communities also have resources to address this issue.

Texas Medical Association is a professional organization of more than 30,000 physician and medical student members. It is located in Austin and has 119 component county medical societies around the state. The Association represents 82 percent of the doctors of medicine licensed and residing in Texas and 96 percent of the state's allopathic medical students. TMA's key objective is to improve the health of Texans through professional and personal development of its members.
