Suspended Police Chief Convicted Of Arson

COLEMAN—Santa Anna Police Chief Bill Allen's trial began last Wednesday morning and ended Friday afternoon after the jury found him guilty of arson.

The nine-man, three-woman jury gave Allen a probated sentence of eight (8) years in Judge Don Lane's 42nd District Court Friday night after deliberating two hours. Allen was also fined $10,000.

Allen was suspended without pay as Santa Anna's police chief in March when he was indicted by a Coleman County grand jury for setting fire to a house in Santa Anna on January 19, 1986.

Investigators claim Allen started the fire to frighten away Michael Owen, who Allen suspected in involvement in drug dealing.

During testimony on Wednesday two teenage boys, Salvatore Perez, 16, and Pablo Rodriguez, 15, testified that they had spotted Allen and another man standing alongside a small fire burning next to the home of Mike Owen at 509 S. Houston Street in Santa Anna.

When the boys returned moments later, both boys said, the south side of the house was on fire. Both teenagers said that, though they recognized Allen at the scene, as well as a pickup truck they knew belonged to William Sheridan Watson, who has also been accused of starting the fire and is to be tried later, they did not tell officials until a week after the fire.

Rodriguez said at first, "I thought the fire was none of my business," and "I would get in trouble" for testifying.

He thought the fire "was related to dope," Perez said, and he did not want to get involved.

The boys said that the day after the fire they provided officers with a description of a pickup truck—a two-tone, green crewcab with a white toolbox in the back.

Only when they were warned a week later that they might be implicated in the arson case if they did not come forward, the boys said, did they tell county deputies they had seen Allen and that they believed the truck belonged to Watson.

Both boys said they had received threatening phone calls immediately after the fire.

Though questioned separately, the two gave almost identical testimony.

Perez lives next door to the home that burned, the boys testified. They and two other boys had gone to Perez's home shortly before dark on January 19 to retrieve a friend's clothing, the boys testified.

As they were leaving, the boys said, they saw the truck and a small fire. Allen was standing next to the fire, the boys said. Another man, whom the boys could not identify, was crouched down beside it.

When his friends shouted that the house was on fire, Rodriguez said, he drove the car around the block quickly, then returned to the burning home. The green pick-up was gone.

He and another boy searched the house for victims, Rodriguez said, while Perez and another boy tried to extinguish the fire with a garden hose.

Both teen-agers were questioned about whether they had been coerced or prompted into implicating Allen.

Judge Lane ruled they had not. Also testifying Wednesday morning was D. W. Kelly, a retired Abilene arson investigator, who said the intensity and rapid spread of the fire means an arsonist probably used a "petroleum product" to ignite the blaze.

The blaze started outside near the foundation of the home, Kelly said.

Testifying on Thursday morning was Bobby DeLeon, 15, who said he was with Rodriguez and Perez when the fire started. DeLeon testified that he couldn't see the faces of the two men standing in front of the small fire at Owen's home but recognized the pick-up truck as belonging to Watson.

Texas Department of Public Safety Trooper Jay Moses said he saw Watson and Allen leave the site of a traffic accident together about 4:00 p.m. January 19, the day of the fire. After the fire, he saw Allen and Watson together at Allen's home in Santa Anna.

A married couple, Glenda and Danny Cook, testified that they went to Allen's home about 8:30 p.m. on January 19 to tell Allen he was needed at the scene of the fire.

As they walked to the home, the Cooks said, they saw an oily spot on the sidewalk. They also smelled diesel fuel, the Cooks testified.

Larry Fry, a Santa Anna

mechanic, testified that he and Allen would ride around together in Allen's patrol car late at night, drinking coffee and discussing the city's drug abuse problems. "He told me he wanted to get the dope dealers—one way or another," Fry stated. On "three or four occasions" in the space of a month, the chief talked about plans to shoot four men who were "drug dealers" Fry testified. Fry said the chief wanted him "to drive the car." Allen's plans called for Fry to drop the chief off near the home of a suspected drug dealer, Allen would go to the home, knock on the door, and shoot the "doper," Fry said.

No date for one of the attacks ever was set, and the plan never was carried out, Fry said, but one day, he got a phone call from the chief, "He called me back later and said we'd forget about our little plan because we got rid of two of them (the suspected drug peddlers)," Fry said. The suspects had left town, Fry said.

One of the men Allen wanted killed was Michael Owen, Fry said.

Prosecutor James Eidson rested his case shortly before noon Thursday and Defense Attorney J. W.

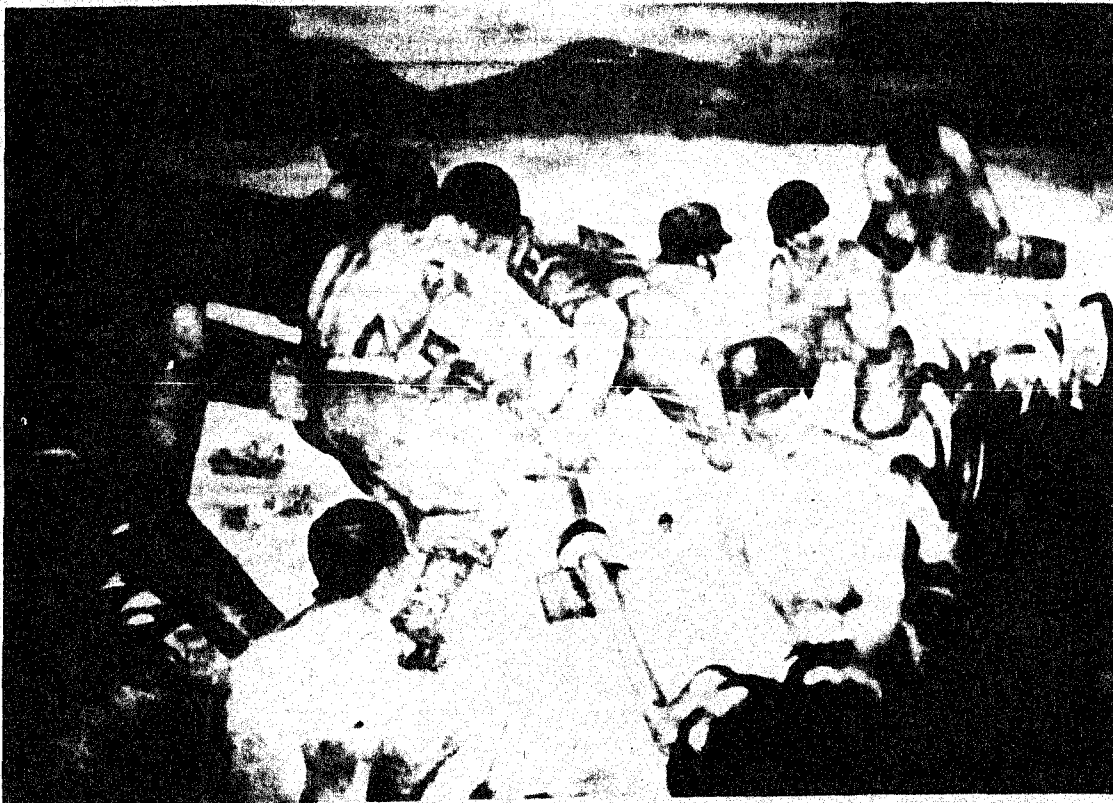

Howeth began calling his witnesses at 8:30 a.m. Friday morning.

Defense witnesses attempted to discredit earlier testimony of the two teen-age boys who saw Allen and another man standing next to a small fire next to Owen's home.

James Morris said that he had been at Bill Allen's home on January 19 and noticed a smell of cooking grease. He said Allen's dog had gotten into the cooking grease and later threw up on the porch.

Pat Rutherford said she saw an older model pickup (possibly a Ford) pull up in front of the house and a tall young man with blond, longish hair got out of the pickup and opened the front door of the house in question while she was driving by. She said she noticed smoke and a hazy look around the house as she drove by, but no flames. While looking in her rearview mirror, she said, she saw the man run from the house and get into an pickup truck.

Rutherford said she reported the fire to the Santa Anna Police Chief Bill Allen before returning to her home. As she drove by the house on her way home she noticed that fire trucks were at the scene.

This is a scene from a painting found on the west wall of the Wagon Wheel Cafe during remodeling work that was done before the restaurant opened. The painting was done by Corporal Loyd Aberman in August of 1943. The painting covers the entire wall.

The building was previously owned and operated as a cafe by Mrs. Erin Day and was purchased from Camp Bowie in Brownwood around the year 1946. The wall was covered up with sheetrock about 1948 and left covered up until the Williams' removed the sheetrock during remodeling. (SA NEWS PHOTO)

WWII Mural Revealed

BY BARBARA KINGSBERY

Patrons at the recently-opened Wagon Wheel Restaurant in Santa Anna have an opportunity to see some World War II memorabilia—an unexpected experience in this small community.

Remodeling work at the old building at the corner of North Seventh Street and Wallis Avenue revealed a life-sized mural of American soldiers in a Pacific battle. The only notation on the painting is "Cpl. Edgar R. Aberman, Aug. 1943."

Located on the busy main street through Santa Anna, the structure was originally purchased by Mrs. Erin Day in 1948 and moved from Camp Bowie. According to Mrs. Day's son, Clint, now owner and operator of the local Western Auto Store, the building was said to have been a portion of the NCO Club at Camp Bowie. Day recalled the painting when the building was moved.

The structure was remodeled for a grocery store, with sheetrock installed on the interior. Shelves for the grocery stock were added.

Several years later the business was changed to the Clover Grill Restaurant, and although the shelving was removed, the sheetrock remained to cover the painting. Mrs. Day later sold the building to Dr. Filemon Cabansag, who added partitions and remodelled the structure for use as his medical clinic. Upon completion of Dr. Cabansag's new building east of town, the structure was abandoned.

Thomas Williams, operator of the Windy B. Cafe, recently bought the building and began remodeling, and when the sheetrock was removed, the painting was revealed. Remodeling was completed with the mural left intact and as a focal point on the large west wall of the dining room.

A great deal of interest was created several years ago by murals at the Camp Bowie Senior Citizens Center at Brownwood, but that artist was of another name and was said to be a German prisoner of war. That building was used as the officers dining room and recreation center while troops were stationed there. Some local army veterans who were stationed at Camp Bowie during World War II have mentioned murals in other buildings at the camp.

After the discovery of the mural recently, information has been requested from the National Personal Records Department of the Department of the Army to locate Edgar R. Aberman or find out more about him.

In the meantime, people visiting the restaurant can only speculate about the artist and his work.

As Many As 45 May Die In

Holiday Traffic

AUSTIN—As many as 45 persons may die in traffic accidents in Texas during the long July 4 holiday period, according to an estimate by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"The mixture of lower gasoline prices and increased travel this summer could prove to be deadly over the July 4 holiday," said Colonel Jim Adams, director of the DPS. "In addition to these factors, travel during the holiday will be made hazardous by the continuing problems of drunken driving and excessive speed."

Last year, 25 persons died as a result of traffic mishaps during the July 4 holiday, but because of the day of the week on which July 4 fell, the holiday period was only 30 hours. This year, the period will be 78 hours, from 6:00 p.m. Thursday, July 3 to midnight on Sunday, July 6.

Of the traffic fatalities during the July 4, 1985 period, 73 percent occurred in accidents involving excessive speed or drinking.

As in years past, in an effort to hold down the number of holiday traffic deaths, the DPS will conduct "Operation Holiday," in which additional troopers from the Department's uniformed services will be placed on Texas highways for heightened traffic law enforcement and to assist motorists.

Additionally, the Department will conduct its "Operation Motorcade" effort, in which periodic releases will be made throughout the holiday to keep the public informed about the number of traffic deaths occurring across the state.

"The philosophy behind this program is to make the public aware of the dangers of holiday travel and what motorists can do to make their time spent on the highways safer," Adams said.

This will be the first July 4 period since the new Texas safety belt law went on the books. Last year, 82 percent of those killed in traffic accidents during the holiday period had not been restrained, either by a safety belt or child safety seat.

"The message in that safety belt statistic is clear," Adams said. "The can't. on p. 5

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I read the article in the paper about my being hired and want to thank you for it. However, there is just one slight error which I would appreciate being corrected for all concerned. It is the part about my being in the M.P. service. You have inadvertently confused myself and Mr. Jerald Sheller in that respect. He is the one that has the M.P. status. I do have an Honorable Discharge from the U.S. Army, however.

My full name is Curtis Craig Terry, and I am married to Marsha Joyce, and we don't have any children. I am 41 years of age and my wife is 34. Sometime during the coming week, she will be joining me here in Santa Anna.

I have some 20 years in law enforcement and during that time, have attended many schools to further my education in this field. I am currently working towards my advanced certificate with T.C.L.E.O.S.E. in Austin, which is the State agency that licenses peace officers.

I would like to take this opportunity to say that the citizens of Santa Anna have been most gracious and warm towards me and have made me feel sincerely welcome in the community since my arrival and I know that it is going to be both a pleasure and honor to work and live here with my wife.

I want to thank you in advance for your courtesy and cooperation in this matter. I remain—

Respectfully yours,
Curtis Craig Terry

Dear Editor:

As we celebrate the 210th anniversary of the birth of our great nation, it is easy to recall those whose names are recorded in the annals of history. However, there are many unsung heroes deserving our recognition and thanks who have namelessly contributed to the strength of the United States of America.

From the days of the first permanent settlement in Jamestown, through the American Revolution, the War of 1812, the American Civil War, both World Wars and most recently, Vietnam, men have borne arms to fight the common foe when occasion demanded.

During peace and during war, committed men have maintained the military strength so vital to the strength of the nation. Today we are blessed with peace and are fortunate to celebrate more than 13 years of draft-free existence. However, we must be prepared to bolster the all volunteer armed forces in the event of a national emergency.

As we take time to celebrate this national day of pride and rejoice in the unveiling of the refurbished Statue of Liberty, let us also take the time to celebrate the commitment of the 18-year-old men who take five minutes of their time to register with Selective Service and thereby continue our efforts to keep America the "land of the free and home of the brave."

Sincerely,
Wilfred L. Ebel

Leroy Pollock's Body Discovered

Business Partner Held In Slaying as Lawmen Follow Up Accident Story

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is taken from the Austin American Statesman dated Tuesday morning, June 24, 1986, and was written by Joe Vargo, of the American Statesman Staff.)

AUSTIN--The way Rolland Lawson told it, boating companion Leroy Pollock vanished earlier this month when he jumped into Lake Travis after his pants accidentally caught fire.

On Monday, law officers found the missing man—he had been shot in the head and his body had been weighted down with an anchor and a rock that weighed about 50 pounds.

Law officers charged Pollock's boating companion, who was also a business partner of the dead man, with murder.

"It's a unique case," said Dr. Robert Bayardo, the Travis County medical examiner, who conducted an autopsy on Pollock. "We've never had another one like it since I've been in Travis County."

Authorities said Pollock's body was discovered not far from where he was reported missing June 6. Pollock, 49, of Leander had been shot point blank in the head. His body and clothing showed no signs of burns.

Authorities said a heavy nylon rope had been used to tie the anchor and the rock to Pollock's body, which was tossed over the side of the boat.

Lawson, 46, of 107 E. Longspur Blvd. in North Austin remained in the Travis County Jail under $35,000 bond. He gave officers a statement about the crime.

Bayardo said Pollock was killed June 6—the same day Lawson reported him missing from a boat about 300 yards from Windy Point on Lake Travis. Bayardo said Pollock was shot once in the right side of the head with a small-caliber weapon.

Sheriff's deputies believe the weapon was tossed into the water.

Pollock and Lawson were partners in Austin Honda, a motorcycle shop at 1901 E. First St., said Gary Cutler, a homicide detective with the sheriff's office. Pollock was reported missing after he and Lawson went on the lake in a 16-foot power-boat that belonged to Lawson, Cutler said.

Lawson "told us that Pollock was interested in buying his boat and they were testing it out," Cutler said. "He said they had been having engine trouble and that the boat had been running out of gas. He said that the victim was changing the gas tank when his pants caught on fire and he jumped overboard."

Lawson told investigators he jumped off the burning boat moments later, Cutler said. Lawson told authorities he could hear Pollock in the water and swam toward him, but that Pollock—who had his right arm amputated at the shoulder after it was injured several years ago in a motorcycle accident—went underwater before he could reach him, Cutler said.

The boat was destroyed by the fire, which authorities later learned was deliberately set. Cutler said five gallons of gasoline was spread over the boat and ignited.

Thoughts From Our Pastors

By James Ford

Pastor of Assembly of God Church

THE PARABLE OF THE SHEEPFOLD, JOHN 10:1-18.

In the 10th chapter of John, Jesus gives us a wonderful illustration about a door for the sheepfold.

In reading in commentaries I run into this information. In Jesus time the sheepfold was a large circular enclosure made of rock about six feet high with no openings except one opening about five feet wide. The keeper of the sheepfold would allow the shepherds to bring their flocks into the sheepfold at night. When morning came the shepherds would return for their sheep. Several shepherds used the same sheepfold. When all the sheep were in the fold the keeper of the sheepfold would lay down across the opening. This protected all the sheep. No wolf could get in without crossing his body. No sheep could get out without crossing his body. He knew the sheep were safe as long as he was on guard. As Jesus said, "I am the door." I hope that we understand that He has a place for us that is very safe as long as we are under His protection. He will not let the enemy or evil things harm us as long as we are in the fold for He is ever on guard. So if we put our faith and trust in Jesus we have no fear for we know in whom we trust. I am very glad that Jesus is that Door for I know that He gave His life for us and will always be an ever present help in time of need. In John 10:10 Jesus says the thief comes to steal, kill or destroy but I am come that they might have life and that they have it more abundantly. I want that abundant life. Don't you?

Encouraging Others

BY DON RUTHERFORD

Another "Great Personality" of the Bible is a man named Barnabas. This man was named an apostle of encouragement. Although he was not of the twelve, he stands out as the most important early apostle to the Gentile world, with the exception of Paul.

Joseph was his real name. He was surnamed or nick-named (Son of Encouragement) because of his personality.

We hear of him first in a financial crisis of the early Jerusalem church. In Acts 4:36, the Bible tells of his generosity. Barnabas was a man of wealth and had property on Cyprus. He sold some of the land and gave the money with no strings attached to the church.

Barnabas belonged to the Diaspora, which were Jews scattered throughout the Gentile world. He was what the New Testament calls a Hellenist, which simply means a Jew exposed to Greek culture and who spoke the Greek tongue.

We hear of Barnabas again in Acts 9:26, when he befriends young Paul. Paul had just returned to Jerusalem from his experience on the Damascus road. The other disciples were afraid of Paul because he had been such an enemy to the Christian faith. They believed Paul was a wolf in sheep's clothing. But Barnabas took him in. He believed in this young man.

When Nathaniel Hawthorne lost his government position, he went home dejected and almost desperate. His wife, instead of flying into him, because he had lost his job, set before him pen and ink and paper, put her arms around his shoulders and said, "Now you will be able to write your book." He took heart and from his pen came such novels as THE SCARLET LETTER and THE HOUSE OF SEVEN GABLES. His wife encouraged him and the world was blessed.

We see Barnabas again in Acts 15:39. John Mark was a young man who went with Paul and Barnabas on a missionary journey. But John Mark became homesick and left. Paul said "Good riddance." But Barnabas wanted to give him a second chance.

A young man stood up to play a violin solo in church one day. After beginning three or four times, he gave up and sat down. How discouraged and embarrassed he was. Some snickered. The boy's father stood up. The pastor thought he was going to scold the people for their rudeness. He didn't however. He walked to where his boy sat. He put his arm around his shoulders and said, "that is alright, you tried." That father gave his son A SECOND CHANCE. And it is a good thing John Mark was given a second chance or the world would not have the Gospel of Mark in our Bibles.

Encouraging others is having faith in others, giving a second chance and seeing the best in others.

Another time we see Barnabas in Acts 15:39. Paul has taken over as the number one person in the missionary enterprise. This Paul whom Barnabas believed in was now taking his job. Wouldn't it be easy for Barnabas to become petty and jealous. But he didn't. Barnabas becomes second place but he doesn't mind, he sees the best in Paul and wishes him the best.

A young man in Naples wanted to sing. He began to take voice lessons. His teacher told him his voice sounded like the wind in the shutters. But his mother believed in him, saw the best in him, encouraged him. This little boy grew up to be one of the world's greatest singers, Enarico Caruso.

Take a minute this week....Encourage someone.

THINK ABOUT IT:

If you have a tender message, or a loving word to say Don't wait till you forget it, But whisper it today.

The tender words unspoken, the letter never sent.

The long-forgotten messages The wealth of love unspent.

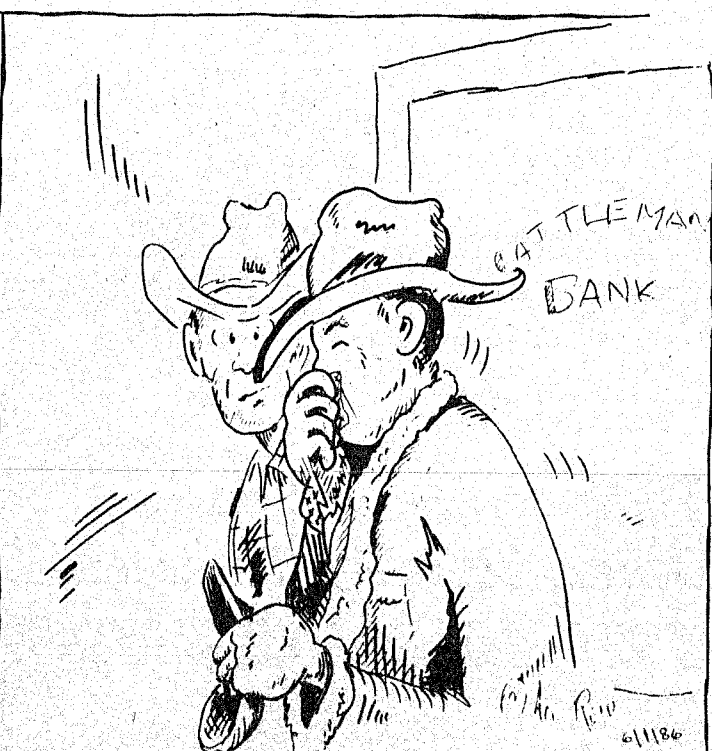

For these some hearts are breaking For these some loved ones wait Then give them what they are needing Before it is too late.

Story Hour Members Design Personal Brand

About 60 children who came to Story Hour on Monday, June 30th were welcomed by a real live cowboy. Mr. Amon Otts has been foreman of the River Bend Ranch for 5 years. The ranch is owned by Cleber Massey of Abilene and is located in Whon. Mr. Otts grew up around Throckmorton. He grew up riding in rodeos and especially liked bronco riding. Now days he participates in Ranch Rodeos. He is part of the Ray McAdams team from No Le Hase Ranch. You can see him in action as pick-up man at the Coleman Junior Rodeo.

Mr. Ott explained why each piece of his clothing and equipment is necessary. Even the chaps and spurs are worn to protect the cowboy. His saddle was a trophy won by a retired rodeo friend. It carried a variety of ropes, saddlebags, and a raincoat. Mr. Ott's wife, Marcy, was a welcomed guest.

Dr. W. T. Gustavus, owner of Gustavus Cattle Co., is a cattle sales manager and broker. He has taught at Baylor University, T.C.U. and Howard Payne University. It is to his credit that he could quite easily explain about the branding of cattle to our group. Dr. Gustavus showed a variety of branding irons and explained their use. He also had ear tags to show. Pictures of brands were displayed.

Jane Gustavus worked with 20 members from 4th to 7th grade.

They designed their own personal cattle brand. Please go by the library this week and see these designs on display.

Every child received a napkin from the Circle C Cowbells of Coleman County. These napkins are covered with brands of local ranchers.

Mrs. Clifford Lowe read "Lyn and the Fuzzy" for members who are in 1st through 3rd grade. The author, James Rice, grew up in Santa Anna and has written and illustrated 9 books for children. Thank you for caring about our children, Mrs. Lowe.

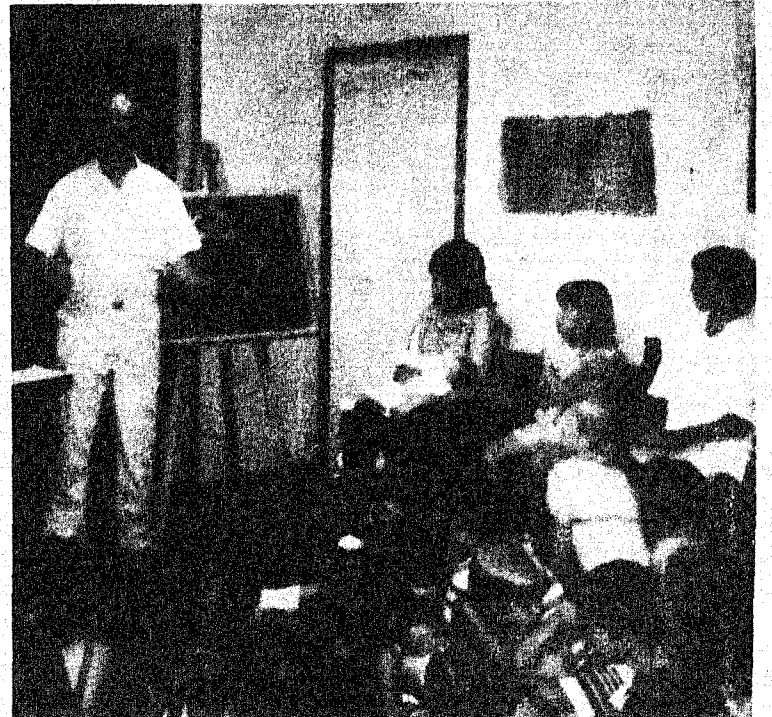

Mrs. Donnie Neff read "The Care Bears and the Terrible Twos" for our Read-to-Me members.

Mrs. A. D. Donham and Mrs. Joe C. Barnes assisted Mrs. Letha Martin, librarian, in book check out. Thanks for the help and we appreciate using the Housing Authority and Telephone Coop rooms.

There are rumors that some club members have read 9 or more books. Come to the meeting on Wednesday, July 9, to find out who is reading. Molly Hunt Will Travel To Russia This Summer

"Surprise! You are invited on a two week trip to Russia with complimentary airline tickets and accommodations." Molly Clett Hunt was very surprised when she received a letter stating that she was the only Texan accepted by the Professional Seminar Consultants of Oceanside, New York to attend the Second Annual Soviet-American Conference on Comparative Education for College, Secondary and Primary School Educators.

The trip is a surprise because Molly did not apply for it. She was recommended by someone else.

Molly accepted the invitation, as did 49 other American educators across the country. This summer they are meeting at Kennedy Airport. They will fly to Ireland where they will spend most of one day. Then they will fly to Russia on a Communist airplane. Besides touring schools and meeting with Soviet teachers, the trip includes going to the opera, ballet and circus and sightseeing in Moscow, Leningrad and the Black Sea area.

Bubble gum is the "extra baggage" Molly is taking to Russia. She says that it is not manufactured there. She plans to use it for tips and as gifts to students.

On returning, Molly will write a research paper comparing problems and challenges facing educators in Russia and in the U.S.A. She will earn extension credit college hours with the University of New Mexico.

Molly has taught reading and homemaking in Bangs Junior High School for 4 years. She is a reading specialist with a masters degree. She has also taught in Laredo, Follett, Marble Falls, and Santa Anna.

Neely, 15, and Daniel, 14, are Molly's sons. James and Evelyn Clett are her parents.

Molly Hunt is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Evans of Santa Anna.

July Is National Ice Cream Month

Can you describe the Statue of Liberty? "Oh sure, she's the lady holding up the ice cream cone," responded an 8-year-old boy.

It is fitting that the unveiling of the renovated Statue of Liberty take place in July—we celebrate our Declaration of Independence and it's National Ice Cream Month.

Americans have always had a love affair with ice cream and its popularity continues to increase with every new innovation and flavor. It's no longer just a hot weather treat—for many devotees it is a staple for calcium, vitamins, and nutrients all year round. The average American will consume 15 quarts of ice cream this year alone. According to historians ice cream was not "invented" but "perfected."

It evolved from flavored ices popular during Roman times and with the return of Marco Polo to Europe with recipes for water and milk ices from China.

Italians put containers of water beverages in dishes of snow with saltpetter for faster cooling and creamed ices were later introduced to France and England. At one time ice cream was the exclusive treat of royalty who kept the precious recipes from common folk, but by 1870, Cafe Procope, the first cafe in Paris, made ice cream available to the public.

By 1776, several American confectioners specialized in making ice cream. George Washington, who had a special fondness for the frosty concoction, installed two pewter ice cream freezers at Mount Vernon. Thomas Jefferson is said to have had a favorite 18-step recipe for an ice cream delicacy resembling Baked Alaska.

In 1880, insulated ice houses were invented making ice cream commonly available, and in 1846 Nancy Johnson from New Jersey invented a hand-operated ice cream freezer.

Ice cream soon became an industry in America pioneered by a Baltimore milk dealer named Jacob Fussell who produced ice cream from an excess of milk and cream at his plant.

The birth of the American soda fountain and the "soda jerk" emerged with the invention of the ice cream soda in 1874. During the late 1890's, however, in response to religious criticism for eating "sinfully" rich ice cream sodas on Sunday, ice cream merchants left out the carbonated water and invented the ice cream "Sunday" later spelled "sundae."

In 1921, the Commissioner of Ellis Island decided to treat all arriving immigrants to a taste of something truly American and served ice cream with their first meal. Ice cream became an edible symbol for morale during WW II and each branch of the service tried to outdo one another in providing ice cream to the troops. In 1945, the first floating "ice cream parlor" was built for the Navy for sailors in the western Pacific theatre.

"LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT"

My overdraft at the bank will go to my wife, she can explain it. My equity in my car goes to my son, he will then have to go to work to keep up my payments and buy gas and oil. Give my good will to the Texas State Bank, they took some awful chances on me, and are entitled to something. My equipment all goes to the junk man, he had had his eyes on it for years. I want six of my creditors for my pallbearers, they have carried me for so long they might as well finish the job. Signed this day by, Bigsby J. Armstetter.

Old Age is just a state of mind brought on by gray hair, false teeth, wrinkles, shortness of breath, and an all over feeling of being constantly and totally pooped.

Fill whats empty, empty whats full, and scratch where it itches.

chances of being seriously injured or killed in a traffic accident are greatly reduced by wearing a safety belt and using a child safety seat for children under four years of age.

Ice Cream Month

Today ice cream comes in hundreds of variations. Exotic flavor combinations, textures and new ways to serve ice cream treats have kept ice cream enthusiasts busy.

In addition to the indulgent qualities of ice cream it is a nutritional addition to meals or alone as a snack. For the person who wants to make every food count, ice cream is a natural for dessert because its caloric value is moderate and its nutrient value helps to meet daily nutrient needs. A half-cup serving of vanilla ice cream provides 10 percent of the RDA for calcium and 7.5 percent for protein and riboflavin.

A few tips on storing and serving ice cream—don't forget that ice cream is perishable. If exposed to fluctuating temperatures above 10 degrees Fahrenheit it becomes subject to adverse changes in body, texture and flavor characteristics. Never allow ice cream to repetitively soften and refreeze as this will cause small ice crystals in the product to melt and refreeze into large, unpalatable lumps. If other foods in the freezer are uncovered beware that odors may penetrate ice cream and affect its flavor. Always store ice cream between -5 and 0 degrees Fahrenheit.

So celebrate—July Ice Cream Month only happens once a year.

"Preliminary figures indicate the number of traffic deaths statewide was down 1.6 percent in the first quarter of this year compared with the first quarter of 1985," Adams said. "We hope that trend will not be reversed this July 4 period with a number of senseless tragedies."
