Kelly Malaer of Santa Anna graduated with honors, August 15, from Ranger Junior College LVN Program, Brownwood Branch. The ceremony was held at Ranger Junior College in Ranger.

Mrs. Malaer graduated with high honors, having been named the top ranking student in the class. She had earlier received the "Outstanding Nursing Student of the Year" award in April.

Kelly is now enrolled at Howard Payne University taking the prerequisite courses to enter Howard College RN School based at Brownwood Regional Hospital where she is currently employed.

Kelly and her husband, Steve, are the parents of one son, Bobby, who is a student at Santa Anna High School. Mrs. Malaer is a graduate of SAHS.

Other Coleman County residents receiving degrees at the ceremony were Gaye Smith, Sharon Castleberry and Donna Guerra, all of Coleman.

Livestock Association Calls Meeting

This meeting is to start off the year and all interested parents are encouraged to attend.

Lane Guthrie is president of the Santa Anna Livestock Association.

ISD Board Acts On Several Items

The Santa Anna School Board met on Tuesday evening of last week to discuss several agenda items and take action on some.

After approving payments of accounts, a public hearing was held concerning the Academic Excellence Indicator System (AEIS). This gives the board a chance to see how the local school compares with schools across Region 15 and across the state. A report will be published in subsequent issues of the Santa Anna News.

The board considered purchase of unitized cafeteria tables. A motion was made to purchase the tables but died for lack of a second.

On the agenda was discussing and possible action on the use of school facilities by others. This was tabled for the time being.

School Superintendent Jim McPherson gave a report on mowing equipment.

Two items brought to the attention of the board by school patrons were on the agenda. One suggestion was to change the date of school board meetings so as not to conflict nominating to Deborah Long, RR1 Box 13-B, Gouldbusk, Texas 76845.

The group is also welcoming suggestions for adding to the agenda of the business meeting to be held on Saturday morning, Oct. 10. Those suggestions may be sent to Mrs. Long.

Those attending this year's Ex-Student Association homecoming will have the opportunity to be right in fashion. In the fashion of their days at Santa Anna High School, that is.

You are asked to dig out your old letter jackets, pep squad uniforms, football helmets or jerseys, band uniforms, cheerleader outfits, whatever you might still have that represents your activities while a student at SAHS.

If you, like many of us, can't wear the same size as you did in high school, or if you just wouldn't feel comfortable being part of a fashion show, there will be local students on hand to model your articles of apparel for you. Of course, those who can or will model their own, are encouraged to

Mountaineers Will Scrimmage Hawley Here Friday, 6:00

The Mountaineers will face another tough scrimmage Friday night at Mountaineer stadium at 6 p.m. when Hawley comes to town.

In last week's scrimmage against Early, the Mountaineers were shut out from scoring while Early scored three times. Coach John Smith, in commenting on the scrimmage, reminded us that a scrimmage is after all just another workout and he was well pleased with the overall performance of the Mountaineers. Both offensive and defensive showed promise in their performance.

with City Council meetings, both being held on the second Tuesday of each month. After much consideration, the board decided to make no changes of their meeting dates. The second matter was that of door to door solicitation by students. It was determined that most of the problems arise from fundraisers being scheduled too close to each other. The board agreed to look into the problem further before taking any action.

No action was taken on consideration for membership in an equity center; and no action was taken on consideration of participating in a TASA (Texas Association of School Administrators) public relations campaign concerning the upcoming elections.

The board set appraisal periods and designated teacher appraisal supervisors. Frank Gray will be supervisor for secondary teachers and Dean Bass for elementary teachers. Mr. Blair, principal at CAP High School, will be available if a third is needed and the Santa Anna super-do so. Get into the spirit of the weekend and have some fun in your old hometown!

Other Homecoming activities will include a parade on Friday afternoon, and the football game that night.

Mary Lee Ford Fields of Dallas is again heading up the entertainment committee and is in the process of making big plans for the Hospitality Room with the local assistance of Monte Guthrie, Barbara Kingsbery and Bobbie Guthrie. A Friday night open house is also planned for those not attending the football game.

Stan Hartman and James Jones are in charge of planning the Ex-Student Golf Tournament.

You can read more about the hospitality room, open house, and golf tournament elsewhere in this issue of the Santa Anna News.

In addition to Mrs. Long, other officers of the Ex-Student Association are Kay Gray, 1st V.P.; Paul Martin 2nd V.P.; and Carole Voss, secretary-treasurer. Directors are Randy Brown and Roberta Tomlinson.

visiting the open house will also have an opportunity to take a look at the improvements to the interiors of the buildings.

The open house will be held from 7:00 to 8:30 p.m.

Coach Smith was especially pleased with the fan turnout at Early, commenting that the Santa Anna fans numbered as many if not more than the Early fans and hopes that enthusiasm will continue this Friday at Mountaineer stadium.

Coach Smith and his Mountaineers are looking forward to the opening game of the season on September 4 at home against Bangs. They are referring to it as "green lizard time". The annual clash between the Mountaineers and the Bangs Dragons is a long running rivalry.

visors will be available to help at CAP if needed.

Approval of site based decision making was given by the board and will be sent to TEA (Texas Education Association) for approval by Sept. 1. Mr. McPherson explained that the premise of the site based decision making is to give the operation of the school back to the local staff, principals and school district patrons. In other words, to decentralize the administration of school districts. This, of course, is of much more concern in larger school districts where local people don't have as much say in the operation of their school as we in small towns. McPherson says we will not be able to tell too much difference here in Santa Anna where school patrons have always had good input.

The board considered a health plan and workman's comp plan for school personnel and accepted a bid from Hibbs-Hallmark and Company. The school contribute $50.00 per month per employee

Mountaineer Coaching Staff

Mountaineer Head Coach/Athletic Director, John Smith, at the right, was well pleased with his football squad's performance in the scrimmage with Early last Friday and is looking forward to the scrimmage here Friday, 6:00 with Hawley, that will help prepare the team for their opening game with traditional rival Bangs. Coach Smith says the Sept. 4 opening game will be "Green Lizard Time". The rest of the coaching staff shown here are, from the left, Ray Lowe, Ray Findley, Barry Kimball and David Robinett. SAHS Students And Teachers Getting Acquainted With Eight Period Block Schedule

Teachers as well as students at SAHS are having to get used to a new schedule this year. They are attending classes on an eight period block schedule. Classes are scheduled for 1-1/2 hours rather than the 50 minute classes to which the students and teachers at SAHS are accustomed.

According to high school principal Frank Gray, who devised the schedule, the classes are set for eight periods of 1-1/2 hours each. The first through fourth classes are held Monday, Wednesday and Friday of one week and the fifth through eighth classes are held Tuesday and Thursday. The following week the classes are rotated so that the fifth through eighth classes are held Monday, Wednesday and Friday; and the first through fourth, Tuesday and Thursday. Essentially, the students are attending a given class every other day of the school week, rather than each day, but are able to accomplish more because more activities can be incorporated into a class that lasts 1-1/2 hours.

Mr. Gray says the new schedule allows for an honors program along with the academic program and the regular high school program. At the present time students in the honors program have classes available in Advanced World Problems; Trig and Calculus; and honors English on all four levels. It is expected that more honors classes will be included next year.

Those students who's grades rank 90 percentile, qualifying in 5 of 6 of their classes can be admitted to the honors classes where there is considerable more work involved, thereby challenging the student to achieve even more.

Mr. Gray says that if there is another school in Region 15 that is operating on this type of schedule, he isn't familiar with it. In fact, personnel from Region 15 have inquired about the program as other schools are interested in perhaps following suit.

McClintock Reunion

By LaVelle Haynes
Again the McClintock clan gathered at the Llano County Community Center in Llano, Texas for the 16th annual Earl McClintock Memorial Reunion. The three day event was held August 7, 8 and 9.

Nineteen month old Brittney Sellers enjoyed being a fifth generation family member during her visit with her grandmother, Glenna (Russell) Nickerson, her great-grandmother, Yvonne (McClintock) Walls, and her great-great grandmother, Lena McClintock.

Lyndon Haynes prepared a hotdog and hamburger supper on Friday night as family members arrived from California, Oklahoma and many points in Texas. On Saturday, Becky (Haynes) Widner welcomed everyone to the luncheon at 1:00 and made announcements of events for Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning. Debbie (Leffingwell) Jordan gave the blessing for the food.

The traditional "White Elephant" gift exchange got underway immediately after lunch. This event is enjoyed by the old and young alike and more people participate each year. One gift in particular made its fourth appearance.

Following the white elephant gift exchange, special recognition was given to the youngsters for their accomplishments during the past year. We have some very outstanding children and their efforts were recognized.

The arts and crafts table held many interesting and unusual items. A drawing was held for these items which consisted of homemade jam, jellies, chocolate cake, hand-knitted afghan, videos of previous reunions, decorated sweat-shirt and t-shirt, pillows and home interior decorations of all kinds. These items were made by various family members.

On Sunday morning everyone gathered at 9:00 for the worship service. Lyndon Haynes gave the invocation. Congregational singing was followed by a narration by Lyndon Haynes using John 3:16 as the scripture reference.

A special song consisting of lines from America The Beautiful and Battle Hymn of the Republic was sung by a group of family members. LaVelle (McClintock) Haynes brought the devotional using the book of Jonah as her text. Joyce (McClintock) Leffingwell gave the benediction and the blessing for the brunch.

Glenna (Russell) Nickerson and her husband, Nick, along with their brunch crew, prepared the traditional Sunday morning brunch that was

The old oak tree in front of the house, where the children played while growing up, furnished a nice shade for the descendants of the late Bill and Elva Cope for their second reunion. They started gathered at the Loss Creek family farm by mid-week. The main day was Saturday, August 1, 1992, with a bar-b-q supper. Just after dark Ray and Jean Findley entertained with a beautiful fireworks display.

Library Notes Check It Out

Alice Anna Spillman

This weeks story hour for pre-school children will be about cats. Each boy and girl can try to tell the story with a puppet. Time: 10 a.m. Place: The Library. Date: Thursday, August 27, 1992. Betty Key and I are sharing this time and it's my day.

We received a nice note from Mrs. Lucille Wylie. She sent a memorial for Mr. J. E. Williams. Mrs. Wylie remembers the good people of Santa Anna and wishes she could be here. If you would like to send her a note, call for the address. Things were always a little brighter when Lucille was around. People here miss her.

A lot of our western paperbacks are getting well worn. If you have some in good condition that you don't need, drop them off. These are our most requested books.

Mr. Troy Ray has been bringing the weeks Saturday Evening Post and Time magazines. Each month, The Yankee Magazine. If you like the Maine-Vermont area, you will enjoy these articles. I have mentioned other interesting magazines. Drop by to read in a cooler, comfortable place. Thanks, Mr. Ray. Others would bring more magazines, but we lack space. There's a spot planned for magazines and newspapers in the new library.

One of the paperbacks from Mr. Harpers estate is one of the Earth Children series. We have others. If you want to take a trip through prehistoric times in Europe, start this series. These books are fiction, but the author Jean M. Ariel has researched most of the "known" about this time. The Plains of Passage is the second of the series.

Did you know that a Mammoth leg bone was found near Coleman? That is the time frame of the 4th book of this series. Do you think those ancient hunters used the Santa Anna Mountain—perhaps one of the caves? Thoughts like these must have lead Mrs. Schuler of Brownwood to write her Indian Series?

Mrs. C. D. Bruce owned astirrup of a Spanish conquistador that was found in this area. Much history has passed this way.

The library has one paperback of James Herriots books. He has written several including a new one, "All Living Things." These are delightful, easy to read stories, of an English veterinarian. Don't let the setting put you off. If you have ever been around animals or farms, you will enjoy these stories.

Start off your fall by reading one of these series of books.

Thoughts From Our Pastors

Joe Frausto
Cordero Baptist Mission

"Nomas Un Camino Hay"

Jesús le dijo: Yo soy el camino, y la verdad, y la vida; nadie viene al Padre, sino por mí.

Jn. 14-6

Jesucristo es "el camino" el camino que conduce al cielo. No es solamente guía, maestro y legislador como Moisés; sino también el camino por el cual podemos acercarnos a Dios. Por medio de la expiación hecha en la cruz. El abrió el camino que conduce al árbol de la vida y que había sido cegado cuando cayeron Adán y Eva.

Jesucristo es "la verdad" es decir, toda la esencia de esa religión verdadera que exige el entendimiento humano. Sin el los paganos mas sabios anduvieron a tientas en medio de las tinieblas y no llegaron jamás a conocer a Dios. Cristo es la verdad y el satisface todo deseo, todo anhelo, toda aspiración de la mente humana.

Jesucristo es "la vida" mediante El es que el pecador puede recibir el perdón y obtener un título para recibir el don de la vida eterna. El es, además, la fuente de la vida espiritual y de la santidad del creyente, y por El es que este tiene seguridad de su resurrección, El que cree en Cristo tiene vida eterna. El que se adhiere a la vida, producirá mucho fruto. El que confía en El, aunque estuviere muerto vivirá.

Nadie viene al Padre, sino por mí, De nada sirve al hombre ser inteligente, ilustrado, amable, caritativo, de buen corazón, y celoso en materias religiosas, si no se acercare a Dios implorando la mediación de su Hijo.

Mama Mia! Kids in the Kitchen

If you're looking for creative projects you can do with your kids, why not spend time with them in the kitchen? Hands-on fun with foods can stimulate their interest and appetites. Not only a necessary skill for their later lives, cooking is a creative experience for a growing child.

An easy pizza recipe using a pizza crust mix is a great recipe to start with. The kids can make and knead the simple dough, then form the crust circles. Let them use their own imaginations when it comes to the toppings.

- Kiddie Pizzas
1 package (6.5 ounces)
Martha White Pizza Crust Mix
½ cup hot tap water
1 teaspoon oil
Pizza sauce
Grated mozzarella cheese
Toppings such as browned ground beef or sausage or sliced pepperoni, mushrooms, green peppers, onions or black olives

Preheat oven to 500°F. Lightly grease 2 large baking sheets. Combine pizza crust mix with hot water in mixing bowl. Stir vigorously with a fork until blended (about 30 strokes). Form into a ball and grease with about 1 teaspoon oil. Cover and set in a warm place for 5 minutes. Place on a lightly floured board or pastry cloth. Knead dough a few times. Divide dough into 10 equal portions. Pat or roll out each piece into a 3-inch circle. Place circles on prepared baking sheets. Spread each with a thin layer of pizza sauce, top with favorite topping and sprinkle with cheese. Bake on lowest oven rack 8 to 10 minutes or until crust and cheese start to brown. Makes 10 snack servings.

When kids are in the kitchen, follow these helpful tips:

- Have adult supervision at all times and encourage kids to ask questions about things they don't understand.
- Use as many plastic and wooden items as possible—they're less likely to break and are easy to handle.
- Be sure hot pads are readily available. Oven mitts don't fit tiny hands.
- Teach children to clean up spills immediately so no one slips.
- Show kids how to slowly open the oven door so that the hot air doesn't burn them.
- Teach children that cleaning up is as important as preparation.

CED Proposes 26-cent Tax Increase

In spite of the fact that Santa Anna ISD has been able to hold the line on the local school tax, your school tax package will see an increase of 26¢ due to state demands on the Coleman CED (County Education District).

A $7 million drop in appraised value of minerals in Coleman County is one of the reasons for a proposed 26-cent tax increase in the Coleman County Education District.

The Coleman CED is comprised of Coleman, Santa Anna, Panther Creek and Novice school districts.

According to Skip Casey, Coleman School Superintendent, the number of dollars that Coleman CED is required by the state to raise is about $1,600,000.00. This gives the board no option except to set a tax rate that will raise the necessary amount of money. The tax rate this year is computed to $1.04, therefore making a 26-cent increase for the CED tax rate which will cause a significant increase if districts are not able to reduce their local tax rates by close to 26 cents.

Bill Jones, chief tax appraiser said, "Coleman County lost approximately $7 million of appraised value from last year. The majority of the loss came because of low natural gas prices and a drop in mineral values."

According to information from the CED, taxes on the average home in the Coleman County (valued at $21,108) would increase by $31.43 because of the higher CED tax rate.

Erickson Weds Allen At Wimberley

The beautiful and rustic hill country at Wimberley, Texas was the scene of the August 14, 1992 wedding of Debra Anne Erickson and Wesley Arlen Allen. Justice of the Peace J. A. Stowe, Jr., of Wimberley, Texas, conducted the moonlight ceremony at the rural home of Dr. and Mrs. Michael Sheffield.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Erickson, Canton, Texas, and the granddaughter of Mrs. Ida Helen Erickson, Waco, Texas, and Mrs. Jim Ben Chapman, Houston, Texas. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arlen Allen, Temple, Texas. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cooper, Rockwood, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Allen, Santa Anna, Texas.

Native Texas plants, pots of greenery and flowering plants and Ficus trees with tiny white lights surrounded the altar. Candelabra at each side held burgundy and pale pink tapers. Tiki torches, candles, and natural moonlight provided the lighting for the ceremony.

The traditional Wedding March was played by Tracy Sheffield, pianist, as the bride was escorted by the native stone walkway by Jack Cooper, grandfather of the groom. The bride wore a three-piece street length suit of beige linen with an ecru silk blouse trimmed with lace and pearls, with pearl earrings, a gift of the groom, and a pearl and gold necklace, borrowed from Quincy Allen, as accessories. Her bridal bouquet was fresh daisies, alstromaria lilies, carnations and trailing ivy with burgundy streamers. She also carried her Bible and a white linen handkerchief, belonging to the groom's great-aunt, Mrs. Denver Ellis. A lucky penny in her shoe and a blue garter rounded out the wedding traditions. Tracy Sheffield, cousin-in-law of the groom, and Elizabeth Gregory, sister of the groom, were her matrons of honor.

The groom was attired in a charcoal gray, pin-stripe suit, with a burgundy tie and alstromaria lily boutonniere. Dr. Mike Sheffield and Monte Sheffield, cousins of the groom, were the best men. Immediately following the exchange of vows, a reception was held in honor of the couple by the wedding party. The couple's table was covered by a white lace tablecloth. A centerpiece of the same fresh flowers as in the bridal bouquet was flanked by burgundy tapers. The wedding cake was a double-tiered white cake, covered with white icing and burgundy and soft pink roses. The cake was topped with double crystal bells, used by the groom's grandparents at their fiftieth wedding anniversary, the groom's sister in her wedding, and the groom's cousin in his wedding. Dr. Mike Sheffield provided the toast to the couple as champagne was served to the bridal party.

After a honeymoon trip to New Braunfels and San Antonio, the couple will live in Temple. A graduate of Canton High School, the bride was an associate's degree in child care from Trinity Valley Community College. She is presently employed by Manpower in Temple. A Belton High School graduate, the groom will graduate from the University of Central Texas with the degree in Business Administration in December. He is presently employed by Sherwin-Williams Distribution Center in Waco.

Coleman County Medical Center Board Announces Plans

Following weeks of meetings by the Holiday Hill interim board and the hospital tax district board, plans for the new operation of Coleman County Medical Center are shaping up.

Don Rhone, board chairman, has announced that a five year contract has been signed with Medevac of Brownwood that will bring on line the finest ambulance service ever offered here. There will be two MICU ambulances stationed at the hospital. MICU means there will be a paramedic on board, and the paramedic can give medication on board. In the past ambulances here have either been basic life support or advanced life support. By January 1, 1993, the ambulance operator plans to have two new ambulance units.

The backup unit at the hospital will have hospital personnel aboard when available. There will be a paramedic stationed at the hospital around the clock and this person will also be of assistance in the emergency room.

Rhone also announced that a permanent administrator has been employed. Nick Blythe, who has been administrator at Van Horn for the past two years will assume duties on September 15. He is also a certified respiratory therapist. Mr. and Mrs. Blythe have three children, ages 10, 8 and 5.

Interim administrator John B. Martin will continue here through the transition period.

According to Rhone, the Board anticipates that in two weeks they will have Home Health, Hospice and physical therapy service, all located in the hospital.

Negotiations are in progress and outlook good to secure one or more new doctors here within 30 to 60 days.

SAHS Drum Major Attends Flag Camp

Also attending the flag camp this summer was the 92-93 Drum Major Shelly Carter. Shelly also received ribbons for her efforts at the camp and received instruction on marching styles, musical score reading, leadership and conducting. Shelly, the 92-93 flags and the Santa Anna High School Marching Band will begin performances September 4 at the first scheduled game between the Mountaineers and Bangs High School.

SAHS Color Guard Attends Camp in San Antonio

The 1992-93 Santa Anna High School Color Guard recently spent a week of their summer at a flag camp in San Antonio. The camp sponsored by Marching Auxiliaries of America drew drill teams, twirlers, drum majors and color guards from all over Texas. The S. A. flags proceeded to have an exceptional week by receiving 12 blue ribbons (1st division), daily spirit batons, a weekly spirit baton, and a grand champion trophy for their efforts. In addition to the group awards, Candi Daniel received a ribbon for an outstanding performance and a medal for admission to the camp honor list. The members of the color guard are Candi Daniel, Jeannie Patterson, Brandi Horner, Tai Musick, Marixa Longoria and Melonie Smith.

Homecoming Happenings

By Mary Lee Ford Fields
The Entertainment Committee Mary Lee Ford Fields, Chairman and assisted by Barbara Kingsbery and Montie and Bobby Guthrie are in the process of planning another exciting entertainment for those that will be attending Homecoming on Friday and Saturday...October 9 and 10.

The Golf Committee...Stanley Hartman and James Jones have worked out arrangements to change the Golf Tournament from Friday until Saturday morning. The reason for their change is that there has been any number of the golfers asking to change as not only the local players but the several of the out of town alumni are working on Friday and this way they will have an opportunity to participate. The tournament will be held at Coleman Country Club and the players are to meet at the Santa Anna News Building at 7:15 a.m. Please refer to other articles in this paper for further information and details.

The Open House will be located at the Mountain City Community Center (across from the bank and telephone company). The room will be open from 10:00 a.m. until 4:00 o'clock. The last three years we have had an excellent attendance and we would love to see more of you attend this event. Just make your plans to come and visit as long as you wish...you will be totally surprised to see many of your friends and "ole schoolmates" and have a golden opportunity to reminisce over the past.

Also on Friday, for those who are not attending the football game, there will be an open house at Ethel Jones Williams' home assisted by Chris and Jim Jones, Frances Strauss, Margaret Reid and Allene Jones. Her home is one block south from the McClellan home which is what we remember as the Barnes house.

We are truly appreciative of Ethel opening her home each year and all those involved making this another eventful gathering... the time is 7:00 until 9:30 p.m.

After lunch on Saturday there will be another open house at the Mountain City Center so that we can accommodate those that do not get to attend Friday and this will give them an opportunity to spend some time and visit. The time will be from 1:00 to 3:30 p.m. I want to apologize for the decision last year to have the open house at the school...but this year we hope to see many of you drop by for a visit at the Center.

We truly hope that more of you from Santa Anna and the area will come to be with us...you just as well come and join in the fun. These open houses are just not for the ones of us that do not live here... all of you that are Alumni.

We previously have written about the request of Bed and Breakfast volunteers and we surely hope there will be offers. But for the ones that are not lucky in getting to spend some time in their home of the past, recently the Shiloh Inn has opened in Coleman on Highway 84 Bypass. Telephone number (915) 625-4175 and fax number (915) 625-4179 for reservations.

The Pharaoh of ancient Egypt was so-called from the Egyptian words for "great house."

Plans Made For Homecoming Golf Tourney

The Homecoming Golf Tournament has been planned for Saturday, October 10. The tournament has been changed from Friday to Saturday to accommodate players who must work on Friday.

The scramble will be played at the Coleman Country Club beginning at 8 a.m. and finishing up in time for the business meeting of homecoming. Teams will be announced at tee time.

Players are asked to meet at the Santa Anna News office at 7:15 a.m. where they will all proceed to the golf course together. It should be noted that the News office is the former Chamber of Commerce office.

Golfers who want to get their names in early may write to Billie Gay Abernathy, Santa Anna Ex-Students Association, P. O. Box 421, Santa Anna, Texas 76878. Fee for each player will be $15.00, which includes green fees and golf cart rental.

Presentations of the trophies will be made at the business meeting. Jim Jones has volunteered to furnish the trophies for the fourth year.

Stanley Hartman and James Jones are in charge of the Homecoming Golf Tournament.

Look Out, Drunk Drivers! Higher Education Will Get You!
Colleges and universities are helping get drunk drivers off the streets and highways and otherwise working with law enforcement agencies to reduce traffic accidents.

The programs--cooperative efforts with the Texas Department of Transportation--already are paying for their costs many times over in lives saved and reduced injuries and property damage.

The effort to reduce drunk driving is especially effective. It accomplishes this by providing 65 state law enforcement officers with instant computer information as to where intoxicated drivers are likely to be cruising. It is attracting attention across the nation.

The device is known as TRASER--short for Traffic Services Microcomputer System. It was developed by Martin Crouse, principal programmer for the Texas Transportation Institute at Texas A&M University.

Since San Antonio began using the system in 1989, traffic fatalities there have been reduced almost 50 per cent a year, and arrests for DWI have soared.

Before the Aggies developed TRASER, statewide traffic deaths averaged 3,840 annually. In the last two years, the average has dropped to 3,161--a decline of 17.1 per cent--and is still falling.

Since the National Safety Council estimates that each traffic death represents an economic loss of $410,000, TRASER is credited with saving Texas $278,390,000 each year. The software works by law enforcement agencies feed into the central computer statistics on all DWI arrests. The system then details days, times and streets where officers are likely to find drunk drivers.

Special mobile units are assigned to patrol at specific times and places. If they spot a car being driven erratically, they stop it and test the driver for intoxication. They have found that almost one-third of all DWI arrests occur in the areas and during the times that TRASER has indicated.

The effort has been so successful that it won a national biennial award from the Federal Highway Department for outstanding highway safety improvement. Because of its results in saving lives in Texas, TRASER has been adopted in 40 other states.

Devising such computer programs, however, is only one example of the cooperation between the Texas Department of Transportation and the state's colleges and universities. The "Kid Safe" program developed at The University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio is another.

U.T. Health Science Center--San Antonio, recognized for its efforts to educate parents on the proper use of infant and child care car seats, now will devise materials to teach children under age nine to be aware of dangers to pedestrians. The Texas Department of Transportation is providing a $12,500 grant for first-year funding.

The "Kid Safe" staff at the San Antonio medical complex already is preparing printed lessons that will identify and discuss many dangers to children pedestrians such as darting into traffic from parked cars or school buses. These will be distributed throughout the state.

CLEAN TEXAS 2000

QUESTIONS TO THE CLEAN TEXAS 2000 HOTLINE: 1-800-458-9796

Q: I pass by an abandoned tire dump every day and it doesn't look as if anyone has started cleaning it up. Whom do I tell about it?

A: Call the Clean Texas 2000 Information Line to report the tires. If a Texas Water Commission District Office is listed in your telephone directory, it would be best for you to call that office, because the people there will probably be more familiar with your area. If none is listed, then call the Clean Texas 2000 number or call our tire specialists at 512/834-6683. We've identified about 350 abandoned tire sites in Texas. We're tackling the worst sites first, so it's possible that we know about the site you have mentioned. Nevertheless, we encourage you to call about any sites you know of. We'd rather hear about them twice than not at all.

Q: What's the single most important thing I can do to reduce waste?

A: If you are a homeowner, the most immediate thing you can do to reduce what you send to the landfill is to cut back on yard waste through mulching and composting your grass and leaves. But the single most important thing you can do to reduce total waste produced by our nation is to learn to buy products that don't produce waste by-products in their manufacture. It's not always easy, but you can look for products that don't require much wasteful packaging, for products that can be reused and for natural products that don't use petroleum as a base. When you shop, keep in mind the motto, reduce, reuse, recycle! And you could consider adding "repair" to that list as well.

Your newspaper runs this column as a public service in cooperation with the Texas Water Commission. If you have questions about reduction, reuse or recycling of waste, call the Texas Water Commission Environmental and Recycling Information Center at 1-800-458-9796, or write CLEAN TEXAS 2000, P.O. Box 13087, Austin, Texas 78711-3087.

State Capital

HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — As expected, polls at the close of last week's GOP national convention in Houston indicated rising support for President Bush and slippage for Arkansas Gov. Bill Clinton to below 50 percent.

In Austin, a three-judge federal panel was expected to decide this week whether to stop Texas Secretary of State John Hannah from voiding primary elections to install a Democrat-favored Senate redistricting plan.

Attorneys for the Texas Republican Party argued that Hannah's orders to disregard the primary elections and to allow top party committee members to choose candidates is blatantly unconstitutional.

Lawyers for Attorney General Dan Morales, a Democrat, said Hannah doesn't have authority to order new primaries.

Democrats Request Primary
Morales' stand-in, Renea Hicks, asked the federal judges to order new state Senate primary elections to validate the plan imposed by Hannah.

"Are you inviting us to order you to have another primary?" asked one federal judge; the state's attorney said it would be preferable to using a "tainted" redistricting map.

Still unanswered is how much a new statewide primary election will cost Texas taxpayers.
Because of his election ruling,

Starts Next Week In The Santa Anna News

On the negative side, Clinton's loss could hurt the dimming political futures of these two. Mauro has been plagued by bad press about agency mismanagement, and Cisneros' rising star was dimmed by media reports of adultery and on-and-off divorce rumblings.

Perot: Still A Player
Lest any nominees forget, Ross Perot is still on the ballot in 45 states, and last week his staff said he has political TV ads in the can and volunteers ready nationwide for his 11th-hour return to the presidential arena.

Perot apparently is considering endorsing Bush or Clinton, or re-entering the race — as spoiler, kingmaker, whatever — if neither addresses his issues.

One Insurance Commissioner
In a surprising move, the three-member State Board of Insurance recommended the Texas Legislature abolish their positions and empower a single commissioner to run the agency.

But state Sen. John Montford, D-Lubbock, said he didn't want to create "an insurance czar," prompting board member Allene Evans to remark: "I guess there's not too many public officials that encourage government to look at eliminating their jobs." Score a point for Evans, whose state salary is $72,828.

Other Highlights
■ Camille Miller, Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock's research and policy director, is the new acting executive director of the Texas Protective and Regulatory Services Agency. Miller is a candidate for the permanent position.
■ Ken Bentsen, Harris County Democratic Party chairman, commented on Rick Perry's speech to GOP delegates: "Two years ago, I saw him at a Rolling Stones concert. That didn't make him Mick Jagger."
■ Gov. Ann Richards' chief of staff, Mary Beth Rogers, has left to teach at UT's LBJ School of Public Affairs.

Hannah's plan has been sent to the U.S. Department of Justice for approval, as required by the Federal Voting Rights Act.

Rising GOP Stars
Political conventions always shoot off rising stars, and a new stable of Texas Republicans are on the up escalator.

One is Texas Treasurer Kay Bailey Hutchison, who as temporary convention chairwoman addressed the nation and ribbed Gov. Ann Richards about her hair.

Another speaker was Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry, who cast the Texas delegation's votes for Bush.

Perry said Texas agriculture and livestock industry is changing, not declining, and predicted $2 billion in exports to Mexico under the proposed free-trade agreement.

And, a serious look is directed at Dallas entrepreneur T. Boone Pickens for governor, who isn't through flexing his impressive fund-raising muscles for Bush and party.

Clinton's Texas Cabinet
As speculation rose over which cabinet members Bush might replace, it spread to guessing which Texans, if any might be tapped for a President Clinton cabinet.

Surest bets: Land Commissioner Garry Mauro, Clinton's Texas campaign manager, and former San Antonio Mayor Henry Cisneros, who recently resigned from the Dallas Federal Reserve Bank board and is now stumping for Clinton.

Mauro, as overseer of one of the nation's largest portfolios of public lands, has the training for U.S. Secretary of the Interior, according to his staffers.

In terms of political reward, few would stand higher with Clinton than Mauro, a lawyer, who personally could want a higher post, say U.S. Attorney General.

As for Cisneros, his metropolitan savvy and Hispanic ties suggest U.S. Secretary of Commerce. He would be helpful if the free-trade pact with Mexico is inked.

Ranger Park Inn

By Dorothy York

Employees of the Month: Becky Balderas was chosen for the month of July. Gwen Washburn for the month of August.

Becky has worked at Ranger Park for two years. She has three children. Her hobbies are dancing, sewing and cooking. Becky works in the Dietary Department. When asked what she likes about working at Ranger Park, she says I enjoy working with the elderly. She likes to help people. When you see Becky she always has a smile and hello for residents and staff alike.

Gwen is an LVN and has been at Ranger Park four months, but is already a big part of the team. She has two children and her hobbies are fishing and camping. Gwen has been an LVN for some time, and will tell you that working with the elderly has rewards that you can't put into words.

Both of these ladies are a fine example of team work is all about. Congratulations to both of you.

Thursday was our birthday party. Those residents having birthdays in the month of August are Doris Mathis, Vanda Hill and Preston Cude. Mrs. Pat McFadden, Doris Cupps and Linda Moore made birthday cakes for the party. Mrs. McFadden and Mrs. Billie Wheatley assisted with the party. Mrs. Pat DeWitt entertained the residents with several selections of the piano during the party. On many of the songs our residents sang along. My daughter, Patsy Smith of Abilene came Thursday night and took me to the doctor in Abilene on Friday and am awfully glad to report the doctor gave me a good report on my leg that was torn up so much. Seemingly the graft is taking real well. My knee doesn't hurt but can't say where the flesh was taken off the side of my leg and grafted over the wound. That remains awfully sore but is doing good. Patsy returned home Saturday afternoon. My sons, Loyd and Hilary Rutherford were with me some over the weekend. Loyd was over daily.

Graham for the nice okra.

Mr. Fitzpatrick has been away from home on vacation for a week or so and reports he had a wonderful time visiting with his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Katie and Brad Haloman, went on a sightseeing tour and attended a reunion in Hobbs visiting relatives and meeting lots of friends of years past.

He told me when he attended school as a boy in and near Hobbs and he and his brother rode donkeys to school. Of course when they reached the reunion location seemingly he knew no one. He noticed a certain lady. Had not seen her in over 50 years. But really deep down felt like he knew who she was. Later the woman walked up and said "Well did you ride your donkey here?" Not going to be out down, he said, "No, I never. But I don't see your saddle pony tied to the tree right out there. In fact even the tree is gone. He really enjoyed meeting school friends back in early school days. they also visited both going and returning with his son, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Fitzpatrick and family near Odessa and on Saturday p.m. attended a big bar-b-que supper with a son, Mr. and Mrs. Don Fitzpatrick in Abilene and back to Santa Anna for the telephone meeting Saturday night. Then home.
