Today On The Home Front— Small Butter Cut Faces Civilians

By JAMES MARLOW and GEORGE ZIELKE
WASHINGTON, March 22 (AP)—
Butter set aside for American civilians this year will average 12 pounds per person, or about a half pound less than last year.

Reason for the cut: Expanding military needs.

Do you wonder—
How much of our butter goes to the Russians? Why do we send them any? Does the butter they get from us deprive us of some?

The War Food Administration gives these answers:

The Russians say they need butter for their troops and wounded to make up shortages in their own supply. Therefore, they get it from us. England imports most of its butter from Argentina, New Zealand and Australia.

The butter we send the Russians puts a comparatively slight dent in our stocks. We give them in lend-lease less than 5 percent of our total butter.

In addition the Russians get from us margarine and fats, like lard.

This country's butter supply this year—about the same as in 1943—will be 2,046,000,000 pounds.

To meet the various demands, the butter is distributed this way with the percentage of the total in parentheses:

Civilians: 1,556,000,000 pounds (76 percent); military, which includes the armed services and the war shipping administration: 366,500,000 (18); Red Cross and territories like Hawaii and Puerto Rico: 11,000,000 (1/2 percent); lend-lease, almost all to Russia: 102,000,000 (5); reserves set aside for emergencies: 10,000,000 (1/2 percent).

Margarine production is breaking all records and has soared in the past three years as American butter had to be spread around the world.

In 1942 margarine output was 426 million pounds. It climbed to 614 million pounds in 1943. This year it will be 759,300,000 pounds.

Margarine set aside for civilian consumption will average about four pounds per person.

This is the margarine distribution with the percentage of the total in parentheses:

Civilians: 559,300,000 pounds (75 percent); lend-lease, with most of it divided about equally between Russia and the United Kingdom: 158,400,000 (21 1/2); Red Cross and the territories: 20,400,000 (3); military: 1,200,000 (one-half of 1 percent).

If Fisherman's Story Means Anything Trace Of Amelia Earhart May Be Found that Amelia Earhart Putnam, world famed aviatrix, ran out of gas in the Marshall Islands and was taken to Japan has been revived by a remark of a mission-trained native to Lieutenant Eugene T. Bogan, New York City.

Lieutenant Bogan, a former New York tax lawyer and now a representative of the Marshall Island military governor, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander of the Pacific fleet, said Elieu, the 30 year old native, limited himself to these statements and stuck to them:

"A Jap trader named Ajima three and a half years ago on Rita Island told me that an American woman pilot came down between Jaluit and Allinglupalap Atolls and that she was picked up by a Japanese fishing boat and the trader Ajima heard that she was taken to Japan."

Elieu insisted that he heard of no man being with the "American woman pilot." Fred Noonan flew with Miss Putnam as navigator on her world-circling trip.

Lt. James Toole, 26, Washington, D. C., added "Elieu told me the same story. He was positive in confining himself to what he was told by Ajima, the Jap trader."

Ajima in telling about the "American woman flyer" would be most impressed of course with the woman flyer, and the importance of the man would not amount to much—females are so inferior in Japan."

Great, Hissing Stream Of Lava From Vesuvius Flows Through Two Italian Towns Destroying All In Its Path

By EDWARD KENNEDY
ON THE SLOPES OF MT. VESUVIUS, March 21 (AP)—
The great, hissing stream of lava flowing down Mt. Vesuvius moves pulse-like, each thrust of the huge, molten mass apparently coming with each new belch from the interior of the volcano.

But even between these surges, the torrid gluey mass pushes slowly ahead, destroying everything in its path.

It destroys like a bomb-explosion in slow motion.

I have never seen any man-made device of destruction in a war area so impressively terrifying as this lava, and panic has seized many Italians already sorely tired by the war.

London Again Takes On Aspect Of 1940 Bomb-Ravished Conditions

By WES GALLAGHER
LONDON, (AP)—A large piece of the last big London raid centered near the home of Bebe Daniels and Lt. Col. Ben Lyon, former American film stars who have won new laurels in Britain. Bebe served tea during and after the raid to 150 firemen and had the house filled with wounded civilians.

London is looking like 1940 again on a small scale, with streets roped off and signs reading, "Diversion—Unexploded Bomb."

One of the more tricky German inventions is a fire bomb which explodes several minutes after landing, injuring anyone trying to put it out.

Among those reported called to attend the Stettinius conference in London is Bob Murphy, American member of the Allied advisory commission for Italy and guiding hand in French relations—the London diplomatic colony expects the Polish-Russian dispute to remain in status quo until the end of the war, although no one would be surprised if Moscow announced the formation of a rival Polish government on Russian soil—what with the Turks in a huff and the Yugoslav and Greek internal political turmoil, the Chinese are about the only diplomatic set smiling here nowadays—they are elated over Chinese-American-British successes in Burma.

The latest boner of Goebbels' ministry provided bombed Londoners with a grin. To stress the damage done, the German radio said the pilots could clearly see the targets in "bright moonlight." The raid started and ended before the moon popped up at 10:53 p. m.

"The Luftwaffe has something really good now," grinned an apartment porter. "They bring their own moon with them."

WAC Recruiters To Stage Drive

Another intensive drive for more WAC's from Big Spring and surrounding communities will be conducted from April 3 through April 8. Lt. Cora Lee Morrow, captain of the WAC recruiting team of the recruiting office in the basement of the federal building, announced.

"We are now approaching a crisis in this war," said Lieutenant Morrow, "and the need for more WAC's is far greater than ever before. West Texas has been responding very nicely thus far, but I'm sorry to say that the women in the Big Spring area have not been enlisting as fast as their sisters in other areas. Perhaps many of them are fearful of breaking away from their homes too suddenly. Perhaps they don't understand that WAC's can now choose the Army post of their first assignment, which simply means that they can be assigned for duty to the Big Spring Bombardier school if they wish, and thereby remain close to home."

Members of the team include Lt. Dede N. Cook, Sgt. Paula Edwards, Sgt. Ray A. Noret and Cpl. Mary Jean Kimpel.

Bond Cashing Is Dropping Sharply

If Big Spring and Howard county people continue the trend which set in in the middle of last week, redemption of war bonds here in another week.

Three agencies which certify for redemption of bonds Monday reported that smallest total of certifications in four weeks.

In all there were 218 bonds certified for cashing, having a maturity value of $7,900. This was half of the previous week's total, and most of the cashing occurred by mid-week. After that, requests for certification have dropped to a minimum.

The average man, however, was the worst offender. Of the 218 bonds certified for redemption last week, 202 were $25 issues. There were only 10 $50 bonds, four $100 denominations and two for $1,000. Maturity value of the $25 bonds was $5,050.

With income tax payments out of the way, only emergencies remained as the prompting force for cashing bonds, and the sharp downward trend indicated that there were few of these.

Three Favorites Left In National AAUCage Tourney

DENVER, Colo., March 22 (AP)—Once there were four favorites in the national A. A. U. basketball tournament—now there are three.

Dow Chemical of Midland, Mich., became the first of the most highly regarded clubs to fall when they were scorched out of the tourney in a second round game last night 49-45 by the Colorado Springs army all-stars. The soldiers from Peterson Field, Camp Carson and Camp Hales rounded up into a team just recently for tournament purposes, outscraped the Dows throughout a blistering second half. Ed Beisser, Creighton center last year; Ed Chojnoski, formerly of Howard College, Alabama, shot through the Dow defense and shot over their heads with deadly aim.

Tunny Fisher and Howard Downing ringed goals from far out and the Dows could only stand and watch.

The three heavy teams still in the running, Hollywood Twentieth Century-Fox, Denver Ambrose Legion and defending champion Phillips "86" of Bartlesville, Okla., appear in today's third round schedule.

Twentieth Century was paired with the Portland, Ore., Albina Hellships, the Legions with the San Francisco Athletic Club and the Champions with Lowry Field of Denver.

On their way to the third round, the Athletic club beat the Cleveland East Side Typewriter Exchange 46-34 and Lowry outscored the Beechcrafts of Wichita, Kansas, 66-33 in yesterday's games.

Baseball's Best By Decades—

Wagner's All-Stars Of 1900-10 Include Eight Former Managers

By CHIP ROYAL AP Features Sport Writer

PITTSBURGH — There were many great ballplayers around the turn of the century but the all-star of them all in the hearts of the old-time fans is Honus Wagner of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

So it is fitting that the grand old shortstop should select the all-star team of the 1900-10 era for AP Features. Connie Mack started it by saying all-teams should be selected by decades.

(Mack's selections of the greatest players before 1900 appeared on these pages yesterday.)

"The team I would pick as the best from 1900 to 1911 was made up of players who knew baseball from A to Z," says Wagner. "They fought for every game until the last man was out."

Batting Order Too. "Here's my all-stars with the batting order I would use:

"Johnny Evers, Chicago Cubs.

HONUS WAGNER

2B: Fred Clarke, Pittsburgh, LF: Ty Cobb, Detroit, RF: Wagner, SS: (I'm naming myself shortstop because I would like to have played with such a club). "Frank Chance, Cubs, 1B: Tris Speaker, Boston-Cleveland, CF: Jimmy Collins, Boston, A. L., 3B: Johnny Kling, Cubs, C: Christy Mathewson, Giants, P: Rube Waddell, Athletics, P: Cy Young, Red Sox, P.

"My utility infielder would have to be Tommy Leach of the Pirates with Mike Donlin of the Giants as utility outfielder."

Mack As Manager

I wasn't asked to name a manager but I'm putting Connie Mack in there. He would be an ideal man to handle such a club.

"When the bunch of players I have named stepped on the field, they went out to win. Going over the list of players, the old Baltimore Orioles would be a quiet club compared to this one."

"And what a time the umpires would have had with this all-star team. Every last one of them is a fighter."

Eight Were Managers

"At least eight of the group served as managers at one time or another. They include Evers, Clarke, Cobb, Chance, Speaker, Collins, Mathewson, and yours truly. Yab, I was manager for four days once."

"Speaker didn't break in until 1908 but I saw enough of him to know that he was a great star. Who can ever forget his super speed and judgement out there in center field. He was a powerful left-handed hitter also, and he holds the major league record for 11 consecutive hits."

So there you have the All-Star team of the 1900-10 era picked by the star of them all. Although Wagner said he only selected himself as shortstop because he "would have liked to play with such a club," no one could have selected a more reserving player for the spot.

Today, at 70, Honus is still going strong with his Pirates. He joined the Smoky City team in 1900 and has never been with another club. He was out of organized baseball from 1918 to 1932, but has been active as a Pittsburgh coach since 1933.

Derby Dust—

Jones Makes No Bones About Picking Pensive

By FRANK ECK AP Features Sport Writer

NEW YORK—When Ben Jones makes up his mind that he has a good horse he makes no bones about it. He tells all and sundry, and most of the time the horses he trains for Warren Wright's Calumet Farm win or at least put up a credible performance.

Just before Pensive, one of the four Calumet eligibles for the Kentucky Derby on May 6, turned two years old, Jones was impressed with the son of Hyperion-Penicuik II.

"Here's a yearling that should amount to something," said Jones. He proceeded to bring the chestnut along slowly and did not send him to the races until last September 20 in a maiden sprint at Belmont Park.

Just on the strength of Ben's say-so the public made the first time starter a 6 to 5 favorite despite a fair field of 12 other two-year-olds. Pensive romped home by four lengths and in his next start the colt scored by five lengths. Because his first two triumphs were within the space of six days was all the more reason for veteran horsemen to sit up and take notice.

"Jones has another Whirlaway," many observers said. They remembered how Whirlaway won the 1941 Derby by eight lengths and set a new record.

Here was the good thing for the 1943 Futurity. Pensive was made 6 to 5 but the track turned sloppy and Pensive broke last in the field of 11. And though he finished out of the money, it was the game rush he displayed in the last furlong of the six and a half furlongs that proved to Jones he was right from the beginning.

In his next two stakes he was third, a bit of a disappointment for his followers. But somewhere along the line he spread a hoof and again Jones had to resort to careful handling.

His first two starts on Florida tracks showed that he is ready for the distance events this season. He was third, beaten less than a length, in his initial effort and then placed to African Sun. They even made him favorite in this test against older horses.

Pensive, never better than 2 to 1 in any of his first seven races, probably will be the favorite on Derby Day especially since he may have two solid Calumet fillies escorting him in the leap year run for the roses. Jones' two female acres are Twilight Tear and Miss Keeneland.

Prison System Needs Additional Money

AUSTIN, March 22 (AP)—Unless the governor grants a deficiency appropriation the Texas prison system will have no money for telephone and telegraph and motor vehicle supply expenses until Sept. 1.

The attorney general said in an opinion that the system cannot pay expenses of these two funds — which are now exhausted — out of other funds, including the system's industrial revolving fund. Statutes do not permit such a transaction, the opinion said.

The legislature appropriated $2,500 for each year of the biennium for prison telephone, telegraph and messenger service and $20,000 for motor vehicle supplies. The current fiscal year ends Aug. 31.

O'Daniel To Speak For Republican Candidate

MUSKOGEE, Okla., March 22 (AP) — Senator W. Lee O'Daniel (D-Texas), an outspoken New Deal critic, has accepted an invitation to speak at the city hall here Thursday night in behalf of E. O. Clark, republican nominee for congress from Oklahoma's second congressional district.

Republican leaders said O'Daniel was being brought to Oklahoma as a counter-attraction to Senator Barkley (D-Ky.), who will speak in Muskogee and Okmulgee March 27 for the democratic nominee, W. G. Stigler.

The outcome of the race is being watched nationally for its effect on November elections.

Goldsboro, N. C., already has organized two junior leagues since Judge W. G. Bramham outlined the successful Fayetteville, N. C., plan and the Lockport, N. Five Army Flyers Killed In Crash

San Antonio, March 22 (AP) — Three officers and two enlisted men were killed and three other army flyers critically hurt as the result of the crash of a B-17 plane yesterday 12 miles southeast of Banderia. Home station of the plane was the Pyote Air Base, Pyote, Texas.

Harrison Goes Back To Army

CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 22 (AP)—Sgt. "Dutch" Harrison, winner of the $10,000 Charlotte open golf tournament by one stroke, went quietly back to his Army job today carrying with him two $1,000 war bonds.

Harrison won the 72-hole event yesterday with a closing 73 for a total of 275, 13 under par. In the Army for a year and a half and out of tournament play except for the Texas open last month, he fired remarkable rounds of 66, 70 and 66 in the rain-lengthened five day meet.

Jug McSpaden, closing with a 70 in a bid to resume the winning streak that included three victories this year, missed catching Harrison by one stroke.

Back of the two leaders, Byron Nelson of Toledo took third money by returning to form with a 66 for a total of 279. Craig Wood, of Mamaroneck, N. Y., winner of the last national open played, was fourth at 281 and Sam Byrd of Detroit, the former baseball player, was fifth at 283.

Golf Winners Will Be Invited To Play In Champs Tourney

CHICAGO, March 22 (AP)—Winners of the country's major golf meets in 1944 will be invited to compete in a tournament of champions at the Tam O'Shanter country club, President George S. May announced today.

The tourney is planned for Sept. 3, 4 and 5.

FAVORED TO WIN

NEW YORK, March 22 (AP) — Tippy Larkin ruled a 11 to 5 favorite today to beat New Jersey rival, Allie Stolz, in their 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night. In his last appearance at the Garden, Larkin outpointed Lulu Costantino. Stolz last fought in the Garden a year ago when he lost to Willie Pep.

Plan To Correct Neglect

In looking ahead, in sketching "postwar" plans, we hope that the community will not fail to make provision for correcting a policy of shortsightedness which all of us have permitted to flourish now and in the past.

Reference is to the northwestern part of the city where two underprivileged groups—those of negro and of Latin-American extraction colonize.

Perhaps our situation here is no worse than any average Texas city. Certainly, it is no better. On the whole, it is shameful.

Most of our contact with that part of our city comes through the news columns. We read about this Mexican being involved in a theft case, in a cutting scrape, in a gambling matter, etc. We learn that a negro has been booked for this offense or that, some of them against common decency.

Certainly they have no monopoly on this sort of thing, for we have our share over here, but the proportion is much higher with them.

If one is interested enough to go back of this, the picture of malnutrition, of squalor and in some dangerously unsanitary living conditions becomes clear. It is just the sort of thing that begets the higher percentage of child and adult delinquency that we have grown to expect.

Entertainment and recreation facilities in that area are nil or limited. Educational facilities are sub-standard. The negro school facilities, until recent additions, constituted a public disgrace.

If we don't do something to improve conditions in that part of the city, how in the name of commonsense can we expect to reap a harvest of anything but disease, crime, and unsocial attitudes?

We must be careful not to place ourselves in the attitude of a pious benefactor. Those sections have many fine, conscientious people full of pride and honor. Working through them we can help them help themselves.

It is a field open to every organization that wants to do something worthwhile. It is something that certainly city, school and county should be concerned with. It is something that must be done to protect community health and security. It is something that cries aloud for justice in the name of American fairplay.

Sometimes We Wonder

Senator Wilbert Lee O'Daniel is back in the Southwest, avowedly ready to put everybody on the spot who has served as much as six years in congress. He currently is billed to go into Oklahoma to campaign for a republican as against a democratic candidate in a congressional race. Pappy is somewhat opposed to the president and is taking time out from congress to get in what few blows he can.

When he gets Oklahoma out of his system, he will return to bless Texas, which sent him first to Austin as governor and then to Washington as senator, with his presence. If he does, all he says he intends to do, Washington may have to get along with him until after run-off time.

The senator is quite a character, and on this point his most avid supporters and most bitter critics are agreed. Many look upon him as an egomaniac. To us he really isn't, being rather proof that any person can be accounted wise and even great by failing to adhere to accepted standards of consistency, reason, and propriety. Sometimes we wonder.

Congress Is Nearly Run Down

WASHINGTON — The death undertaker knows who will organize in Congress is becoming alarming. Since the 78th Congress convened a little more than a year ago, ten congressmen and three senators have died. Those according to Dr. George W. Calver, Capitol medical officer, that's only half the story. The incidence of illness has soared in the past year. Some is due to the prevalence of influenza this winter, but not all. And Dr. Calver points out that the recovery period of most members of Congress is alarmingly long.

The only conclusion that can be drawn is that Congress is run down. Congress has been in almost continuous session for more than five years. So-called "vacations" have been occupied mostly with fence-mending and campaigning, which in most instances are far more strenuous than work-filled days on the Hill. Those who have had periods of thorough relaxation have been forced to take them on orders from Dr. Calver or their own personal physicians. Dr. Calver says the toughest job he has to do is to make members agree to rest, even after he has convinced them that a physical crack-up is coming if they don't.

"You would be surprised what a good rest will do, even when it's enforced by a major operation," he says. "I dropped in today to see Congressman Robert Ramspeck of Georgia. About two weeks ago, he had an operation for acute appendicitis. He had to rest and he looks better now than he has in a year."

Although I have been unable to find any year-to-year record of the death rate in Congress, the old-timers tell me that the only year comparable to the present one is 1931, when depression worries were taking a terrific toll. It was just before that that Speaker Nicholas Longworth made his classic observation: "Only the Germany's seizure of Hungary—a move which is partly military and partly political—is smart tactics, although it's a typical Hitlerian act of brutal ruthlessness against a country which has served the Axis well.

It is a logical step in the Nazi dictator's preparations for the final defense of his inner fortress, towards which he is being steadily driven.

On its political side it's calculated to terrorize the Balkans and unhappy little Finland into sticking to the sinking ship.

From the military standpoint Hitler is aiming at two prime objectives: (1) he is establishing a barrier across the great Danubian gateway into his inner fortress, and (2) he is providing himself with a base from which to defend the Balkans against the onrushing Red armies and to keep his Allies in line.

One highly important aspect of the situation is the vital necessity of protecting Rumania's Ploesti oil fields.

Another point is that he must provide refuge for his host of soldiers in his shattered army on the Russian southern front. Some of these are now fleeing into Bessarabia in an effort to reach Rumania; others are struggling in the Red traps, and still further forces are cooped up on the Crimea and will have to be transported by air or by sea to Rumanian ports.

Hungary is the logical focal point for Hitler's operations in southeastern Europe. Not only are there prime rail connections with Germany and with the Balkans, but the great Danube river forms one of the most important communications on the continent.

The Balkan crisis is in a state of flux. Beyond the fact that Hitler has occupied Hungary with troops, reports are confused.

There are indications that some Hungarians are trying to revolt against the Nazi gangster. It's possible that further Russian successes may inspire other resistance to Hitler in the Balkans, since there's small love for Germany on the peninsula.

So far as regards Hungary, while it is highly independent, there are considerable elements there which will support Hitler.

Juvenile delinquency must be met in the home and in the community. All persons who bear the blessed title of parent have the personal responsibility to see that their children are growing up fully appreciative of the rights of their fellow-men.—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

Liberal arts education has in many places disappeared. Men's colleges are today streamlined to the war, a necessity of our time. The education received by men is toward the one vocation of war. It leaves out the philosophy of life.—Dr. Russell Gray Ham, president Mount Holyoke College.

To hell with Babe Ruth!—Jap battle cry at Cape Gloucester.

Some medical observers think much of the irascibility which led to the recent open congressional revolt against the White House may have been due to overworked nerves and sheer exhaustion.

There are few times when the men of good health can't get together to work out differences for the best interests of a nation at war.

So if you hear that your congressman or senator is taking a little "vacation" in the months to come, don't criticize. The chances are he has been ordered to do so by Dr. Calver so that he will be able to serve better when he gets back on the job.

There are few times when the men of good health can't get together to work out differences for the best interests of a nation at war.

Susanna Sleeps Right On The Job

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD — Susanna Foster, the blonde diva of "Phantom of the Opera," has a complete police force about her home these days—but not because of threats, fears, or the usual reasons. She is keeping house on the Universal lot, in a dressing-room bungalow, while she makes "The Climax."

George Wagner's bid for another "Phantom" hit. (The police force—studio—would be there anyway.) Living on the lot saves time, tires, gasoline, and especially sleep, she says.

"I can boil an egg here as well as at home—and open a can, too," she adds. "Besides, here nobody can drop in during an evening when I'm tired and keep me up."

Maybe Susy has heard that too many dropper-inners can cause a girl to drop out of the picture. . . .

"The Climax" follows Wagner's big color musical formula established in "Phantom." Bogeyman Boris Karloff, as the menace, wears no horror make-up, however. He uses hypnotism to thwart Susy's singing, but love and Turhan Bey, standing in the wings, win out in the end. . . .

Richard Lane, the character man, can still claim to be the town's busiest actor. He's been averaging 60 weeks a year by doubling in films, and is now on his 170th movie since starting in 1937, besides time out for 377 one day's work in "The Horn Blows at Midnight" (with a two-week pay guarantee) while working regularly in "Mr. Winkle Goes to War." Other pictures in the first two months of 1944 were "Bernadine Mystery" and "Slightly Terrific."

Reunion: Cary Grant and Joseph Vitale in "None But the Lonely Heart." Both once sang in the chorus of "Golden Dawn," the musical comedy. Kept up the friendship through the years, while Grant was getting famous in movies, and Vitale in stage dramas and musicals. Vitale plays Tiger Collins, the bar-keep, in this Richard Llewellyn novel, which will get attention in picture circles because it brings Ethel Barrymore back to the screen and also is playwright Clifford Odets' first job of direction. Odets did the script, too. . . .

Barbara Stanwyck wants to play "Sister Kenny," role originally assigned Rosalind Russell who is now skittish about it, causing what RKO calls a "postponement" but which might result in a sale elsewhere. . . .

One of the bathing beauties in a swim-musical took home by mistake one of the towels provided by M-G-M for between-scenes drying. In due course she sent it, with other linens, to the laundry. Time passed, and then she got her things back—with a new laundry-mark on all of them, copied from the towel: "M-G-M!"

If you don't believe that one, there was the chorine who was given an evening gown by the wardrobe department, and what she liked most about it was the "beautiful, shining sequences all over the front."

Capital Comment—Pearson Was Christened Andrew

By GEORGE STIMPSON
WASHINGTON, (Sp.) — Drew Pearson, author of Washington Merry-Go-Round, was christened Andrew Russell Pearson. About 20 years ago he dropped the first syllable from the "Andrew" and made it "Drew."

"Government cannot contribute to the development of petroleum resources by taking over the part private industry has heretofore played," says Wallace Pratt, vice-president and director of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey.

W. O. Yarborough, president of the Nueces Coffee Co. Inc., of Corpus Christi, was kind enough to send me and some of my friends a case of fine coffee. Mr. Yarborough was also good enough to include instructions as to how to make it. "If you make it properly," he says, "and then give it the famous 'Yarborough's test, which is to 'pour some in a cup and drink it.' I think it will help you generate your sunshine even on rainy days."

I followed the instructions immediately and the results have been miraculous. It has made a new man out of me. Several meetings, after drinking some of this Yarborough coffee, for breakfast, early risers on Capitol Hill have mistaken me for the rising sun. W. O. sure hit the bull's eye when he shot at my appetite for good coffee.

Lately I have had a hard time keeping lead pencils. A few minutes after swiping one from Jesse Jones' press room it would mysteriously disappear. At first I didn't know what to make of this puzzling pencil problem. But it all came out in the wash. This morning the dry cleaners told me he found seven pencils in the lining of my coat and three more in my vest lining. When I told a bunch of congressmen at breakfast what had happened, they said they had had similar experiences with disappearing pencils.

I solved the problem by cutting a little hole in my coat and vest lining so I can get the pencils out. Sam Rayburn, when I told him about it, suggested it might be better to have the holes in the pockets mended. Just like Sam, always practical. A thought like that would never occur to me.

Farm Tool Problem Is Acute

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON, March 22 (UP)—The farm machinery problem is one that has many people worried, and the solution is one that vitally concerns Texas farmers.

The situation was outlined at an informal dinner given Texas congressmen by the Council of Texas Hardware and Implement legislators questioned E. R. Turner of Navasota, president of the Texas Hardware and Implement Dealers association, about the availability of tractors, combines and other farm machinery.

"The farmers really are getting in a desperate position," commented Turner. "Their sons and hired help have gone to war, draft deferments notwithstanding, and yet they are called upon to produce more than ever."

He said the AAA in Texas had expected between 1,200 and 1,500 farm tractors to be cleared this spring in the state, but that the number was cut down to approximately 600. Turner said he had been in conferences here but that there was little hope of getting anywhere near as much equipment as needed before 1945.

Representative Bob Poage of Waco said he had been told there was plenty of steel available for tractor manufacturers, but that production was held up because of a shortage of bearings.

"They tell us that the bearings are vitally needed in making invasion landing craft and other war equipment," he commented.

It more or less was finally agreed that WPB officials and others high in the government should carefully review the overall picture to see whether production of food might NOT justify a somewhat greater portion of the bearing output. The agriculture department not long ago concluded a survey, made at the suggestion of Representative Lindley Beckworth of Gilmer, to learn the division of cotton crop income as among growers themselves.

The survey showed that seven-eighths of the farmers receive only 30 per cent of the total income; the remaining one-eighth, comprised of large land owners, got the other half of the income.

Beckworth now has asked the department to conduct a similar survey—which would cost about 15,000—regarding other principal crops.

"The farm machinery question is not unlike the farm manpower situation. Representative Wright Patman of Texarkana puts it like this:

"The Army needs men and the country needs food. If the Army gets the men, our food program for 1944 is jeopardized. If the farms keep the men, victory is jeopardized. What shall we do?"

Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham is a proud granduncle again: Patricia Virginia, who was born here to Captain and Mrs. Tom Bolton, is the latest of several grandnieces and nephews of the speaker. Mrs. Bolton is the daughter of the congressman's brother, Dick Rayburn, of Dallas.

Doctor Flays Trend Toward Cent. Medicine

DALLAS, March 22 (AP)—Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association, says a vast majority of persons prefer medical care by prepayment plans—in which the individual is master of his funds and his fate—to any centralized federal system.

"Reports of the social security board dealing with the problems of medical care are an indication of the very stagnation that centralized control would bring into medical service," Dr. Fishbein said Monday night in addressing the first graduating class of the new Southwestern Medical College.

"More than ten years have elapsed since this group was first established to study medical care," he said. "Since that time they have come forward with only one proposal for the distribution of medical care, a nation-wide system of compulsory health insurance."

"In that same period, the medical profession and American industry and insurance have brought forward a variety of methods to aid those in the lower income groups to achieve a high quality of medical care by prepayment plans. Today, these plans grow by leaps and bounds.

"Most persons can handle ordinary illnesses. Insurance that is needed is that against surgical catastrophe and long-continued illness."
