Funtier Day Committee Begins Plans For 1993 Event Organizations Urged To Be Represented At Meeting Monday Night

The Funtier Day Committee met Thursday, November 5 to begin planning next year's event. Funtier Day 1993 will be held the first weekend of May, on May 1.

The Antique Equipment Committee decided to forego to a show next year because of declining attendance by exhibitors and spectators. It seems that so many shows have started across the state that everyone has about burned out on them. Since Santa Anna started them others have gotten on the band wagon.

In place of the tractor show the Funtier Day Committee has issued a formal invitation to the Comanche Tribe to send a delegation to dance a friendship dance with the people of Santa Anna. Their reply should arrive soon.

The committee has also decided to be strictly local in its exhibits and concessions this year. In order to provide more local involvement a meeting has been scheduled for Monday, November 16 at 7:30 p.m. in the Baptist Church CLC. Representatives of all local organizations are invited to attend. If your group has not been invited to be there consider that this is that invitation.

We hope that Funtier Day will be bigger, better and more fun than ever. We look forward to the meeting November 16 and hope to see you there.

Old Landmark Torn Down

What we in Santa Anna know as "the old Lodge Building" on North 2nd Street is shown here as demolition work began in early October and again as it was seen on Tuesday morning of this week. The building which was constructed in 1907 for use as a Masonic Lodge, is now owned by Santa Anna National Bank. The Lodge and Order of Eastern Star had moved to another location several years ago when the building had been deemed no longer safe. In recent years the building has been used as storage by the bank. After the removal of the building has been completed, the space will be used as a parking lot for bank employees. Through the years various businesses had been located in the ground floor while the Lodge met on the upper story.

School Board Meets Thurs.

The Santa Anna School Board will meet Thursday evening, Nov. 12, in the board room at the administration office. The board normally meets on the first Tuesday of the month, but this meeting had to be re-scheduled to Thursday. The meeting begins at 7:00 p.m. Included on the agenda will be the usual open forum in which the first five persons to sign up will have an opportunity to address the board.

Subjects to be discussed or considered upon which formal action may be taken are:

1. Authorize payment of bills for November.
 2. Consideration of an updated Discipline Management Plan, Student Code of Conduct (first reading).
 3. Consider changes in dates for regular meetings for December, January and February.
 4. Consider early release for December 18, beginning of Christmas Holidays.
 5. Consider setting date and place for school board retreat/workshop.
 6. Superintendent's report.
 7. Personnel (2G).
- If during the course of the meeting, any discussion of any

Local Woman Injured In Accident Monday

Irene Wallace, a Santa Anna resident, was injured in an automobile accident Monday afternoon. The collision between the station wagon she was driving and a pickup driven by a Bangs woman took place at the intersection of Wallis Ave. and 1st street about 3:30 Monday. Mrs. Wallace was transported to Brownwood Regional hospital where she remains a patient. Her son, Terry, who was a passenger in her vehicle, was uninjured. The accident was investigated by Police Chief Carlos Torres and a Texas Highway Patrolman. Although this writer does not know if the wet pavement had anything to do with the accident, several near accidents were observed that day, when vehicles slid on the pavement. (Staff Photo)

Linda Moore Wins Last Frenzy Contest Of The Season

The ladies continue to top the guesses in the Mountaineer Football Frenzy Contest, with Linda Moore winning the last contest of the season. Mrs. Moore had 16 correct picks. She beat out two-time winner Yvonne Kuykendall, who also had 16 picked correct, by coming closer in the tie breaker game where Menard defeated

Santa Anna 47-12 for a total of 59 total points scored. Mrs. Moore's guess showed a total of 54 points scored and Mrs. Kuykendall's 37 points.

Yvonne and Rob Cheaney have tied for the overall winner with each winning two contests and will split the grand prize.

Santa Anna Penatukah Comanche Chief

By Linda Pelon

The earliest evidence I've found of Santa Anna's presence in a council with Texans was found in the Texas Indian Papers, 1844-1845. This was a report of a council held with the Comanche Indians prepared by Agent L. H. Williams dated November 23, 1845. The council was attended by fifteen chiefs, all but two were chiefs or captains belonging to Santa Anna's party. Approximately forty warriors also attended.

Santa Anna spoke following speeches by an "old chief", Col. Williams, and Mopéchucope (Old Owl, or Mopéchucope, was the civil chief of the Penatukah band). The following summary of Santa Anna's speech was recorded in the report:

Santa Anna then said, that he was satisfied with what Mopéchucope had said; that he does not "talk" but that Buffalo Hump, Yellow Wolf, and the other great chiefs wished him to come down to see the white people and attend council, he added that he and his party would now abide by the treaty because he saw that the whites were friendly and he would keep the peace as long as he and his party existed. He wished Colonel Williams to procure him a passport from our great Chief so that he could show the Texian officers on our frontier, when he went to make war on the Mexicans, that he is friendly to the whites. That the cause of the war with Mexico was the Spaniards breaking a treaty that was made some years since. In conclusion he wished to have peace with the whites as long as the sun continued to give light, and he hoped to see our great chief the next time they held council.

Presents were distributed following the council. They included 4 shawls, 8 pieces of blue print, 75 pounds of brass wire, over 4 dozen tin pans and cups, 13 tin buckets, 12 pounds of Vermillion, 10 doz. butcher knives, 5 dozen horn combs, 2 lb. linen thread, red blankets, lead, powder and other supplies.

John Doe's Funeral

Did you ever wonder what was going on in the mind of a minister just before he begins his message to a church full of bereaved relatives?

They have finally gotten John Doe in church. Yes, they have been trying in vain for a long time to get him to start attending church. Well, the day finally has come; he is in church today.

The sad part about his presence is that he is there against his will. He can't see, hear or talk; in fact, he can't do anything. He's dead! Man, what a shame he's already dead. Why, if he had still been alive, the preacher could preach to him about Jesus and possibly get him to trust Christ as Saviour. Now it's too late for any preaching for him; he has closed his ears for the last time.

The minister is on the spot—"between a rock and a hard place." He knows nothing good to say about John Doe, and if he makes up anything, God will not be pleased. If he doesn't say a lot of nice things about him, the minister will look pretty badly in the eyes of the bereaved relatives.

So he has the big question in his mind, "Am I going to please God or man? Am I going to preach this message like God would want me to, or am I going to try to make his wife, children and friends feel better? If I don't say some pretty words, they may never ask me to preach any more of the family's funerals."

The minister thinks for a moment, but now it's time to take the stand for the message. He makes up his mind, "I am going to please God and preach this message as I feel God would if he were here."

Dear wife, children, family and friends of John Doe:

Today I am sure is a very sad occasion for each of you. You have lost a husband, father, or friend. No doubt he was a good provider, good to the children, even maybe a pretty good moral person, but I must say you have done wrong by bringing him here for his funeral service. I am sure if John Doe could come back to life, he would jump up out of that coffin, run down that aisle and out that door and hate every one of you for bringing him here today!

I never knew John Doe very well, but one thing I did know about him was that he never would attend church. Yes, this is one place he never did want to come, and I think you have done him an injustice to bring him here today. To do right by him you should have had his services conducted some place where he would have liked to have been, say down at the beer "joint" or at one of his other favorite places. Why, one of the best friends he had was the bartender. Yes, the bartender would know a lot more to say about John Doe than I. Even his bar buddies could serve as pallbearers. I am sure John would have liked that. Maybe they could have christened his coffin with a bottle of whiskey as it was being lowered into the grave.

Yes, dear friends, I am sure you have brought John here against his will. He used to make jokes about the church. He even said several of the members were hypocrites. According to God's Word, his soul is now in Hell, and there is nothing we can say or do that will change that.

You may say that a preacher would never do a thing like that. That's right; he may not, because most preachers try to please man rather than God. By bringing your John Doe to church for the pastor to preach his funeral, you have done it against his will and made a hypocrite out of the minister.

If you are a John Doe and don't like to attend church while you are living, for the sake of the church and the minister, please tell your family not to drag your corpse to the church when you are dead.

been solved! Marilyn Baxter Williams from Washington, D.C. area dropped by for her first visit to the library. She has sent many beautiful children's books, but hasn't visited before.

Her first comment, "Oh, you have mother's old table!" How did she recognize the table? Each Saturday she cleaned the lions teeth and claws with a cotton wrapped stick. Her mother, Mrs. Stafford Baxter had boarders. Many have eaten around this lovely table. It will be use din the new library and needs oak chairs. Does anyone out there have some to contribute?

Marilyn's family once had a furniture store and Ford car agency here. Some of her kinfolk still in Santa Anna are Modora Gilmore, Lucille Wylie and LaRue Morgan.

Marilyn admired the library bank and dropped in a contribution.

The library welcomes ex-residents anytime--drop-in on your next trip.

Baucom Family Reunion

By Buna Baucom
On September 25, a large portion of Baucom family began arriving at Pirate's Cove on West Galveston Island. We had two large beach houses, one on the beach and the second a block back from the beach. The wind was quite strong, almost too strong for much water sports. The beach has been washed very badly. In fact, there wasn't much beach left in that particular area. Some of the youngsters played in the shallow water.

Our evening meals were the only time we all ate together. The other times everyone did whatever they pleased, except on Sunday morning when I made biscuits for breakfast which everyone seemed to enjoy.

Volleyball was played also the fellows played some card games. There were three great-grandbabies which everyone enjoyed. They were just past a year old then one baby only about three months old.

Those attending were Patsy and Leon Jones and two grandchildren, Sunshine and Travis Lee Sass, Theresa Baucom, Mack and Hilda Baucom and children, Deidre and Carl Beaman, Brittni, Tator and Alexandria, Darren and Susan Baucom, Tyler, Laureen, Ryan and Stephanie, Donna and Gene Walters, Bryon and Derrie, Debbie and Richard Austin, Maxine and Billy Morgan and daughter, Tonya.

Brian and Glenda Baucom, Tina and Glenn Shimek and Aaron, and Kevin Baucom, Barbara and Larry Osborne, and Buna Baucom. George and Lucy Baucom are living in California and were unable to come. Also none of their children came. Mary and Russell Dabbert live in Delmar, New York and were also unable to come and none of their children were able to come either.

Everyone seemed to enjoy the get-together and tentative plans were made to get-together in Colorado next year.

The only award we can offer to our gold medal volunteers is a public thank you in this column. David and Betty key and Tex Wright surely deserve all the praise we can offer. David and Betty worked all day Monday and Tuesday. Tex dropped in to help after work. Then David and Tex worked all day Saturday. A few more days and all the details will be finished for our walls. Someone asked if we couldn't have been in compliance with rules when the first work was done. The answer--Uncle Sam changed the rules. We are lucky to still be in the early stages of building.

Jean McClellan worked through 450 of the childrens books before she stopped to begin her moving plans. Her final gift will be a teaching session for library workers. If any of you have experience with the Dewey Decimal system of library organization, and can volunteer, we need your help. The children are learning to use a card file at school. Chris Lacey was in to pick up books. He asked for the file. Santa Anna schools are to be commended for teaching children to use the library. Soon we too will be organized.

Mrs. Bob (Frances) Pearce brought us more paperback books including westerns and teen books. She also volunteers use of her station wagon to help move the books. Thanks to our friends for "caring enough".

No Meals On Wheels Delivery Thanksgiving

The local Meals on Wheels organization will not be delivering meals on Thursday, November 26, Thanksgiving Day so those working with the program may have time with their families.

Approximately 14 people are now taking advantage of the service provided by Meals on Wheels.

Eudell Copeland, who directs the Meals on Wheels program locally, without a salary, advises that the program is in need of operating funds. Even those receiving the meals are not obligated to pay for the service, there is still a cost to providing the meals that are delivered by volunteers. Most of the cost has been underwritten by private donations and donations from local organizations, but of late gifts have been slow coming in.

It would be well to keep Meals on Wheels in mind when considering making memorial gifts. You might even want to put the program on your Christmas gift list.

Around & About

Don and Joyce Elrod's daughter and grandchildren, Toni Gafford, Jeremy and Hayley, of San Angelo visited over the weekend and attended the Methodist Church Lord's Acre Harvest Festival.

Ray and Betty Moore of Fort Worth were weekend visitors with her uncle and aunt, Chester and Mildred Galloway. Both couples took in the Methodist Church Lord's Acre event.

Stephanie Warnock and brother, Luke Baker of Quanah were Sunday and Monday guests with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hays, while their parents were in Austin to watch the state band marching contest. Stephanie also visited Sunday with her other grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Derriel Warnock.

Lovelle Allen of Fort Worth is visiting in Santa Anna this week with her sister, Katherine Horner.

Tip Leads To Reward And Recovery Of Property

A tip received the latter part of September, 1992, lead to the arrest and indictment of a Bastrop man on charges of Burglary of a Habitation. The information received was on the September 24, 1992, CRIME OF THE WEEK feature and also resulted in the recovery of the property taken in the burglary.

The Board of Directors of Coleman County Crime Stoppers, Inc. authorized a reward payment on the information at their last regular Board Meeting.

Some Tips For Kicking The Smoking Habit

EDITOR'S NOTE: November 19 is the Great American Smokeout.

HOUSTON—When the news reports a killer is on the loose, most people lock their doors. Yet millions of Americans let a killer into their lives every day -- whenever they light a cigarette.

Everyone knows smoking causes cancer. The main problem for smokers, though, is getting themselves to stop. Potential quitters who pledge to stop smoking "next year" often let their best intentions go up in smoke.

"You might have a little more success if you try to make quitting as much fun as possible," says Larry Laufman, Ed.D., stop smoking coordinator at The Institute for Preventive Medicine in The Methodist Hospital in Houston.

"And, the best time to try is the 'Great American Smokeout,' sponsored by the American Cancer Society November 19."

Last year, a record 5.8 million smokers were able to stay off cigarette smoking for longer than 24 hours.

Laufman stresses, to be successful at giving up smoking, people must want to quit for themselves. Nagging a friend or loved one will only defeat the purpose.

However, once you're ready to take the plunge, here are some tips on how to avoid smoking:

* Plan ahead by targeting a quit day;

* Write down situations that make you want to smoke and change your normal habits connected with smoking. For example, leave the dinner table soon after eating to avoid the desire to light up;

* On quit day, throw away all cigarettes, matches, lighters, and ashtrays;

* Stay busy. Hold a pencil or pen instead of a cigarette;

* Drink lots of later and fruit juice to flush out nicotine,

* Go places where smoking is not allowed;

* Reward yourself for successes.

"Remember take one day at a time, and if you slip up that's okay. Just keep trying and remember your goal," says Laufman. "Eventually, you will be able to kick the habit. It's toughest getting through those first few weeks." As part of the Great American Smokeout, Methodist is offering free spirometer (lung capacity) testing -- which measures the amount of air in the lungs on November 19, 10 a.m.

The Methodist Hospital is the third largest cancer center in Texas.

daughter and family, Kathy and John Pearce and children.

Stephanie Grissam, infant daughter of Rick and Jeannie Grissam, is now weighing 3 lbs. 13 ounces and reported to be doing

"just great". She is now expected to be coming home during Thanksgiving week. She has been a patient in Humana Hospital neonatal care unit since her birth in September.

Pastor Don Elrod Presents Jim Laubhan With Winning Ticket
The Santa Anna United Methodist Church announces that Jim Laubhan is the winner of the side of beef given away at last Saturday's Lord's Acre. Jim is owner of Art Fabrics and was one of the many contributors to the event.
The Church says thanks to all the businesses and individuals who contributed and helped to make the Lord's Acre a success with a larger turnout than had been in recent years.
Thanks also to the organizations who loaned tables. It would have been impossible to seat the large number of people attending the evening meal had it not been for the generosity of these groups.

News For And About Santa Anna Mountaineers

Mountaineers Begin Basketball Season Eden And Menard Advance To Playoffs

The Santa Anna Mountaineers begin basketball season next week after falling to Menard 47-12 in what was to be their final football game of the season last Friday in that hill country town.

Menard used a strong ground game to down Santa Anna and end any hopes the Mountaineers might have to make the state playoffs.

Menard, 9-1 overall and 4-1 in District 10-A, is the runnerup team and advances to the playoffs to play Roscoe (9-A champion) at 7:30 Friday at Winters.

Eden advances as the champion in 10-A and will play Robert Lee (9-A runnerup) at 7:30 Friday in Ballinger.

After Menard took an early 7-0 lead in Friday's win over Santa Anna, Billy Wayne Thomas responded with a 68-yard scoring burst to put the Mountaineers on the board. But Menard answered back with another quick touchdown, and the Yellow Jackets moved from there to a 26-6 halftime lead.

Paul Morris cored Santa Anna's second touchdown on a three-yard run in the third quarter.

Thomas led the Mountaineers with 115-yards on 11 carries. Santa Anna picked up all of its 223 yards on the ground. The Mountaineers threw four interceptions and lost one fumble.

Menard finished with 367 yards on the ground and 75 through the air. They also lost one fumble.

The Nation's Rivalry

Known as "the nation's rivalry," the Army-Navy football tradition began in 1890, when midshipmen at the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md., issued a challenge to the U.S. Military Academy in West Point, N.Y. While Navy had been playing football for more than 10 years, only three Army cadets had experience with the game. Through sheer determination, however, Army pulled together a team that faced Navy on Nov. 29, 1890. The game ended with a 24-0 Navy victory.

The academies have met on the football field 92 times since that first game. Navy currently leads the series with 43 victories to Army's 42. The teams have tied seven times.

Numerous traditions surround the Army-Navy game, two of the most popular being the teams' mascots — the Navy goat and the Army mule. According to legend, Navy players on their way to the first game confiscated a goat from the yard of an Army sergeant, thinking it would bring them luck. The goat became an institution after Navy easily defeated Army.

The Army mule made its first appearance during the 1899 game. The original mule had been pulling an ice truck when an Army officer decided the team needed a mascot. According to military academy lore, the first meeting of the mascots ended when the mule "hoisted that astonished goat toward the Navy stands to the delight of the yelling, laughing crowd."

As the 93rd Army-Navy game kicks off Dec. 5 at Philadelphia's Veterans Stadium — the game's traditional site — the mule and goat will meet once again, continuing a unique American tradition. III

Bob and Celesta Steward

Stewards Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Bob Steward and Celesta Runnels were married Oct. 6, 1942, in St. Louis, Mo. Exactly 50 years later, the couple celebrated the occasion by inviting approximately 80 family members and friends to a seafood buffet luncheon at Park Inn International in Huntsville. Margaret Johnson was emcee for a short program honoring the couple. Their daughter, Freida Benedict of Fort Worth, and Celesta's brother, Ralph Runnels of Beaumont, escorted her to the podium.
Marie Underwood, a former Howard Payne University classmate of Bob's presided at the registry table and returned the blessing.
Bob was reared in Rockwood. He graduated from Santa Anna High school in 1932 and Howard Payne University in 1936. He met Celesta in Balmorra. Both were teachers in the school system at Balmorra. Bob is also a retired U.S. Air Force colonel.
House party members included Melvin and Shirley Morgan, Della Sims and Billy Johnson.

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — The Texas Senate will be more conservative when four new Republicans sit in the chamber in January, but this week a share of the reins is still in the hands of a handful of retirees and defeated members.

Texas legislators trooped back to the Capitol this week for a special session on school finance, namely to remedy their plan which the Texas Supreme Court struck down for illegally levying property taxes.

Meanwhile, several Texans may troop off to Washington, D.C. with the Clinton administration, some even mentioned for Cabinet posts.

Texans on Cabinet List

Top names are U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro, and former San Antonio mayor Henry Cisneros.

In one of those whirlwind reversals which sometimes occur overnight in politics, Mauro's future in Washington may have been damaged by late-breaking news of his impending bankruptcy.

In a copyright story, the Houston Chronicle reported Mauro is on the brink of personal bankruptcy and potentially liable to the federal government for more than $4 million in bad loans.

Mauro confirmed much of the story, saying he had been stuck with the debt by three business partners who had already declared bankruptcy.

He said he planned to remain land commissioner and to act as an energy advisor to President-elect Clinton, a long-time friend from their McGovern campaign days.

Bad Debts, Campaign Phones

The news was especially bitter for Mauro's political team: he was Clinton's campaign manager in Texas and speculation placed him in position to be secretary of energy, interior or even agriculture.

Sources in Washington said last week it was more likely that Clinton would not appoint Mauro to any job requiring Senate confirmation.

Exposing Mauro to hostile senators was risky, not only because of his debt problems and a past probe of his agency by the FBI, but because it would reopen complaints that Mauro and his staff used state phones and equipment to campaign for Clinton.

School Reform Plan

Lawmakers in Austin are studying a proposal to replace the "Robin Hood" plan with the "Fair Share Plan," that would redistribute $400 million in local property taxes.

Gov. Ann Richards and Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock are pushing a proposed constitutional amendment, which will send more money from the wealthier districts into the Teacher Retirement System.

State money to the retirement system would be reduced by the same amount, and those funds would be used to guarantee a basic grant of about $2,850 per student at a tax rate of $1 per $1,000 of property value.

For example, if a local district set a tax rate of $1 and that brought in $1,500 a student, the state would guarantee aid totaling $1,350.

Republican leaders call the plan "a money laundering scheme." Other observers say the hidden agenda for the special session is to:

- Allow House Democrats time to build a consensus for a new speaker in the next regular session in January; and

- Allow current senators the opportunity to approve Gov. Ann Richard's pending appointments before new members join the club in January.

New Legislature Tally

Republicans gained four seats in the Texas Senate, giving them 13 — more than the one-third bloc needed to scuttle bills under current Senate rules.

Not surprisingly, Democrats plan to change those rules to void the new GOP advantage.

Republicans claimed a 58th seat in the 150-member Texas House, saying that a late count of 41,000 write-in votes made Robert E. Talton the winner of the 144th district in Harris County.

But Democrats said their nominee, Donald Fogo, was still the winner and began talking about a recount and legal action.

Consolidation of Funds

State Comptroller John Sharp announced that 278 special government bank accounts — including the Barber Examiners Fund and the Confiscated Liquor Fund — are being consolidated for a one-time savings of $540 million.

The plan, authorized by the 1991 Legislature as a budget-tightening measure, will help unravel a costly hodge-podge of special accounts, Sharp said.

Other Highlights

- A baseball autographed by the 1934 World Champion St. Louis Cardinals, a 65-carat opal brooch, coins, jewelry, stamps, guns and art will be sold at this year's unclaimed property auction, State Treasurer Kay Bailey Hutchison announced. The auction will be held Saturday, Nov. 14, 11 a.m., at the George R. Brown Convention Center in Houston.

- Defeated former Texas Railroad Commissioner Lena Guerrero said she will return to college to finish her degree. Guerrero, defeated after public outrage over her false degree claims, said she would write about the experience in an academic thesis.

- Sen. Judith Zaffirini, D-Laredo, says she will make a fourth attempt to pass a bill to automatically suspend the drivers license of anyone who is arrested for drunken driving and fails or refuses to take a blood-alcohol test.

Whon News
By Mrs. Tom Rutherford

Mr. Graham Fitzpatrick was in Brady Monday of last week for the funeral service for his brother-in-law, Mr. Travis Snowden. I am sorry I made the mistake last week because Graham told me when he was telling me about the death that Lovon was going by the name of Travis the past years. I never even thought until I noticed in the report on paper. Was not Lovon. Was my mistake and I am sorry.

My son, Hilary Rutherford of Coleman had back surgery in the Methodist Hospital in Houston on Wednesday morning. He went into surgery at 7:30 a.m. By 3:30 p.m. he was out of recovery and in his room. He is doing fine. He was dismissed from hospital on the past Thursday morning and drove to his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Rick and Lynda Wheeler at LaGrange and spent the night. They came home on Friday, reaching home rather late. When I asked how he felt he replied, "This has been a long day!" I went to see them Sunday afternoon in Coleman is doing real good. He is employed with the General Electric Telephone Co. and the doctor suggested he take off work for a while.

Mr. Graham Fitzpatrick report he really did enjoy a big fish fry supper on Friday night with Mr. Tommy Stansbury and his "deer" hunting buddies.

Mr. James Avant of Coleman and Mr. Douglas Avant of Brady was with their mother, Mrs. Pearl Avant in Santa Anna the past Tuesday.

Mr. Don Fitzpatrick of Abilene was here with his father, Mr. Graham Fitzpatrick on Saturday assisting with work around the place; during the weekend Graham was assisting Bruce Estes with some much needed help.

Mrs. Lorene Wynn of Ranger Park and her son, Joe Alvin Wynn of Fort Worthy were dinner guests of Mrs. Pearl Avant on Saturday.

One thing for sure. People in this area of the world won't have to read the county papers to know we had a drastic change in the weather for a short time. Anyway, Mr. Jack Front paid us an early visit.

I really did enjoy a nice visit from Mr. Bob Knox of San Angelo on Friday morning. He was coming through our community to go to Santa Anna and I really did appreciate him stopping by for a nice visit. He also visited with Mr. Leon Carter and on to Santa Anna to visit relatives there. Bob was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Sid Knox and when living here they lived where the Graham Fitzpatricks now live. All attended school here and Box had some interesting school pictures with him of school days at Whon.

Todd Rutherford of Bangs, and is employed at Kohler in Brownwood, was with his father, Mr. Loyd Rutherford Saturday night. Loyd and Todd had Sunday dinner with me.

TIPS ON STAYING SAFE AND SOUND WITH NATURAL GAS.

For more than 80 years, Lone Star Gas has been providing safe, dependable energy to its customers. By following a few simple rules, you can help make sure you and your family stay safe and sound with natural gas:

- Always have qualified service people install, regularly check and maintain all gas heaters and appliances, following the manufacturer's instructions for installation, ventilation, and operation.
- Always use a gas appliance only for its intended purpose. An oven, for example, should not be used to heat a room.
- Always keep flammable materials and substances away from gas heaters and appliances. Remember, a pilot light is constantly burning.

IF YOU SMELL GAS

in your home, or know you have a gas leak, follow these rules:

- Everyone should leave the house immediately, leaving the doors open for ventilation.
- Do not switch anything electrical on or off.
- Do not use your telephone (telephones use small amounts of electricity).

- Do not strike a match or do anything else that might cause a spark.
- Go to the nearest telephone and call Lone Star Gas Company. Wait until we have found the cause of the gas leak before returning to your home.

If you smell gas while you're outside, contact Lone Star Gas immediately.

CONTRACTORS, BEFORE YOU DIG, call your local Lone Star Gas Office, and we'll help you avoid any potential problems.

SAFETY TIPS. We've put together a brochure that includes safety tips designed to educate your whole family about the proper usage of natural gas. For a copy, or if you have any questions, call us at 1-800-545-3427.
