Thoughts

OF A COUNTRY EDITOR

BY JOHN C. GREGG

AN ENRAGED PUBLIC

We want to express our appreciation to all the readers of The Santa Anna News who have expressed concern over the traffic situation here since we published an article concerning it last week. Actually we did not realize that so many people realized how the situation here has gone uncontrolled for so long. We have had a large number of citizens here in town express concern over the situation and also a large number of our rural population have discussed the situation with us. A number of them have told us that because of the traffic situation in Santa Anna they were avoiding the town as much as possible, a number of local citizens expressed themselves as being very much opposed to our town being without any kind of law enforcement officers being on duty during the daylight hours.

There is something that can be done about the situation and it is up to the general public to see that it is done. If all of you who are so concerned about our traffic will write the City Council and request them to do something about it, most likely they will take the matter up. A better idea is for everyone concerned to attend a meeting of the City Council and request that something be done about it. The Council is due to meet Monday night, August 10, at the City Hall. This would be a good time for a group of local citizens to attend the meeting and make their request.

Something really should be done about it before school starts. A lot of children are going to be crossing the streets going to and from school in the mornings and afternoons and then during the noon period a lot of the students are going to be in town. Must we wait until some person is killed or seriously injured before the traffic is brought under control or will we do what should be done about it now? You, the citizens of Santa Anna, should be the ones to say. The City Council is elected to represent the people of Santa Anna and what you say should be what they do.

It is a duty and a privilege of citizens to attend meetings of their City Council. Every voter should attend at least one meeting a year, whether you have anything to present to the Council or not. It is your town and you should know what is going on in it.

This writer attempts to attend all the City Council meetings and make a report to the public on them, but there are times when it is impossible for me to attend and therefore some reports are not made public after their meetings are over. According to laws governing City Councils in the State of Texas, the Council is supposed to recognize all visitors present and if any of them have anything to present to the Council, they are supposed to be heard before the Council takes up the regular duties to the operation of the city.

So if a large group of citizens would attend the meeting and request the Council to do something about the traffic situation, they would not need to stay at the meeting more than the few minutes it takes to make the request. The primary thing is to let the City Council know that you are interested in getting the traffic brought under control and seeing that it stays that way. If you don't do it, then it most likely will not be done.

One sure way to double your money is to fold it and put it in your pocket.

October 9th Set As Homecoming For Ex-Students

M. L. Guthrie, Jr., president of the Santa Anna Ex-Student's Association, announced this week that the date for the annual meeting of the association has been set for October 9 with a conference football game between Santa Anna and Cross Plains to be played on the local field that night. The speaker for the occasion will be announced at a later date and other arrangements are also in the process of being worked out.

Good returns are being received from names of former students being published in The News. Letters are being received almost every day from some part of the United States with most of the ex-students indicating they would like to attend the home-coming.

Last week Miss Vitgis Brown gave Mr. Guthrie a printed list of all the students of the Santa Anna schools from the time the school started up to the year 1913. Several others are attempting to get names and addresses of the students of their classes. Guthrie has requested two or three persons of each class to do their best in finding all the members of their classes.

This week we are publishing a list of the graduating class of 1930. Anyone knowing the whereabouts of any of these former students is requested to contact M. L. Guthrie, Jr., President Ex-Student Assn., Santa Anna, Texas.

Model Ranch Home To Be Feature Of State Fair of Texas

A model ranch home will be featured in the Edwards Plateau region's colorful "Agriculturama" exhibit at the 1953 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 10-25.

The Edwards Plateau is included in the Texas A&M College System Extension District 7, composed of the following counties: Bandera, Blanco, Coke, Coleman, Concho, Gillespie, Irion, Kendall, Kerr, Kimble, Llano, McCulloch, Mason, Menard, Nolan, Real, Runnels, San Saba, Schleicher, Sterling, Taylor and Tom Green.

The beautiful home will include modern electric appliances for home and ranch and will typify the prosperity which the people of the Edwards Plateau have managed despite low percentage of rainfall in the area.

In the background of the exhibit will be a dam and cattle grazing.

Agricultural leaders of District 7 who cooperated with the fair in working out the Edwards Plateau exhibit include: Miss Ollie Chenoweth and John A. Barton, Ballinger; Miss Laura Tharp, Paint Rock; W. C. Henderson, Merzon; Miss Doris Newman, Marion H. Badger, Thelma A. Casey and R. S. Miller, San Angelo.

The dramatic three-dimensional "Agriculturama" will include individual exhibits for each of the A&M Extension Service districts of Texas. They will carry out the "Water for Texas" theme of the Agriculture Show, explaining the water resources problems of farmers and ranchers in different parts of the state.

A huge central exhibit will depict the hydrological cycle — what happens to water after it falls as rain and how it is returned to the air again. "Old Mother Nature" herself will turn the crank on a "weather machine" that will cause simulated rain, thunder and lightning. The rainfall belt in Texas will be illustrated to show the relation of water to agriculture on a statewide basis.

Water was chosen as the central theme for the show because it is one of the most important single factors in Texas agriculture today, fair officials explained.

Road Condition Bulletin To Be Issued By-Monthly

Every two weeks a highway road condition bulletin will be issued as a special service to the motoring public, D. C. Greer, State Highway Engineer, announced today in Austin.

"We are spending a large amount of money for maintenance and reconstruction this year and feel that motorists should be provided with information on the location of these projects for driving convenience, economy and safety," he said. Greer explained that these road conditions will be reflected on a small map showing the principal highways with symbols indicating the location and type of construction that would be encountered on various routes. These road condition bulletins, he continued, will assist motorists in steering clear of construction work and as a result, keep traffic at a minimum through construction areas. This will enable highway maintenance workers to complete a job in a minimum time with a maximum of safety.

Greer concluded that these road condition bulletins are available free in the Highway District Offices and Travel Information Bureaus, or they can be obtained direct by writing the Traffic Services Division of the Highway Department in Austin.

News From The State Health Department

Polio isn't running wild in Texas this summer as it did in '52, but it is still smart to play safe with the kids, State Health Officer George W. Cox will tell you.

There are several common sense items parents ought to keep in mind during the polio "season." Dr. Cox lists them like this:

Don't get panicky. Keep in mind that half of all polio victims recover completely, and 30 percent of the other half recover with only slight weakness. Only 14 percent have lasting paralysis.

Realize that gamma globulin is not a cure for polio. There is no cure. GG is intended only as a temporary preventive against paralysis. At best it is effective only for 5 weeks, after which it has all been eliminated by the body.

Gamma globulin has been tested on more than 54,000 children and the results are now under study, but once the polio virus has reached the nerve cells, GG cannot alter the course of the disease.

You can find out whether or not your child is eligible to receive gamma globulin by asking the health officer in your county. He is familiar with the formula for GG distribution in effect in Texas.

Meanwhile, don't isolate your youngsters when you hear of a case of polio in the community. There is no point in letting them contact strangers, but they ought to be allowed in their usual circle of friends.

Keep them clean and see that they rest in the afternoon. A nap is fine, but even playing quietly part of the day will help conserve their strength.

Last, but highly important, call your doctor at the first onset of any of these signs: headache, fever, sore throat, upset stomach, stiff neck or back. The earlier a case of polio is diagnosed, the better are the chances for recovery without lasting damage.

Great strides are being made toward the development of a vaccine, but until it is finally developed Dr. Cox believes this opinion is still valid:

"A high level of environmental sanitation and personal hygiene is the individual's best defense against polio."

Three Local Musicians Attending Tarleton State College Now

Stephenville — Three students from Santa Anna are attending Tarleton State College here this summer on music scholarships which pay all of their expenses.

They are Don Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Davis; Dennis Farmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Farmer; and Kenneth Grant, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Grant. The boys are three of 37 outstanding young musicians who have come from 19 Texas towns to form the Tarleton All-Star Summer Band.

During the summer the All-Star Band will present concerts at Mineral Wells, Weatherford, Breckenridge, and other nearby cities, and will be the official band at the World's Championship Rodeo at Dublin Sept. 2-5.

Extremely High Frequency Being Studied At University

Austin — University of Texas engineers are studying the highest known broadcasting medium — extremely high frequency.

EHF is what scientists call the third "band" of radio waves above very high frequency (VHF), the band used for most telecasting. In between are ultra high frequency (UHF), also used for telecasting, and super high frequency (SHF), used by telephone companies in micro-wave-relay transmission. Both UHF and SHF are used in radar work.

So far, University engineers have found EHF waves operate efficiently with smaller antennae than other frequencies, can be "beamed" like microwaves to a certain spot, and can penetrate fog, Dr. A. W. Stratton, project director, said.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Gilliam and children of Dallas were here for the week end visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith. They also visited other relatives in Coleman. Gene Smith from Goodfellow A. F. Base, San Angelo, was home for the week end with his parents.

BOAT SAFETY NEED CITED

Austin — The Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission said recent tragedies indicate the need for greater boating safety by fishermen now that the summer fishing season is at its peak.

He was impressed by two similar tragedies on one day in widely separated parts of the state that cost four lives.

Three persons, who started out fishing and tarried to swim, perished in Lake Whitney near Hillsboro. A man died off Matagorda Peninsula trying to retrieve a boat.

The Executive Secretary said reports indicated all apparently were tricked by a common whim of the elements. No one saw the Lake Whitney tragedy but it seemed likely the trio was bathing in deep water when their boat was blown beyond their reach. The coastal fatality actually resulted when a fisherman took out after a drifting boat that had slipped its moorings.

The Executive Secretary emphasized that an unoccupied craft, riding high in the water, might be easily blown away faster than a person can swim.

GAME HARVEST DATES SHAPED

Houston — Dates for some of the major game harvest seasons not set by state law were shaped by the Game and Fish Commission, meeting here in regular quarterly session.

The Commission recommended that the United States Fish and Wildlife Service divide Texas into north and south zones for the 1953 waterfowl season. It asked for a north zone shooting period beginning October 30 and a south zone season beginning November 13. If zoning is rejected, the Commission seeks November 6 for a state-wide season opener.

The Commission recommended a sixty-day season with bag limits the same as last year — five ducks a day or ten in possession and five geese a day or five in possession.

It recommended seasons for other migratory game also governed by the Fish and Wildlife Service, asking for a mourning dove season beginning in the north zone September 1 and in the south zone, October 1. Bag limits would be the same as last year, ten doves a day or ten in possession.

The Commission suggested a Rio Grande Valley white-winged dove season for September 11, 13, and 15 with a ten bird limit.

The collapse of hog prices all over the country in past few weeks has been a graphic example of the manner in which the consumer controls the price of meats. Pork supplies are currently 15 percent below a year ago. On the basis of short supplies, prices rocketed into sharply higher levels met consumer resistance, and dropped by 25 percent in the month of July.

Earlier predictions that hogs might hit $30 before Summer was over seem to have gone by the boards for good. Folks just won't pay those kind of pork prices.

The American Meat Institute says the wholesale meat price index is now 16% below the August 1, 1952 level.

At Fort Worth Monday hog prices tumbled again, by 75c-$1.00 per hundred. Heavier and lighter weights were $1 to $2 off and sows shared the bigger drop. Top hogs drew $23.00-23.25; lighter and heavier weights sold for $20.00-22.00. Sows drew $17.00-20.00.

Cows and bulls were strong to 50 cents higher at Fort Worth Monday. Steers and yearlings were slow and weak. Killing calves were steady to weak. Stockers and feeders ruled 50 cents or more lower. Good fed steers and yearlings $18.00-20.00, choice to $22.50. Plain and medium grassers $10.00-17.00. Fat cows $9.50-12.50; canners and cutters $8.00-9.50. Bulls $8.00-13.00.

Good and choice fat calves $16.00-19.00; common and medium $12.00-15.00; culls $8.00-11. Stocker steer calves $13.00-19.50; steer yearlings $18.50 down. Stocker cows $10.00-16.00.

Slaughter sheep and lambs were steady at Fort Worth Monday. Stockers and feeders were dull, weak to lower. Good and choice fat lambs $20.00-22.00 and common and medium offerings drew $12.00-19.00, culls from $8.00-12.00. Feeder lambs drew $13.00-15.00.

Slaughter ewes sold from $4.00-6.00; some solid mouthed stocker ewes $7.00-10.00. Old wethers drew $6.00-10.00. Slaughter yearlings $12.00-17.00. Two-year olds $10.00-12.00.

News From The State Health Department

Summer with its abundance of low-calorie fruits and vegetables is a good time to shed those few extra pounds put on during the winter months, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, states.

People do not need as many starchy foods which produce energy in warm weather as they do in the winter, he said, because in the summer the warmth which starchy foods give to the body is not needed.

"Green leafy and yellow vegetables and all types of fruit which are plentiful during the summer months provide an excellent, low-cost diet for the person who is overweight," Dr. Cox said. "Many of these foods can be eaten raw and are very nutritious this way provided the food is carefully washed to remove all dirt and insecticides which may be present."

Dr. Cox stressed the importance of properly storing food during the summer. He explained that certain foods such as cold cuts, cream desserts, potato salad, and sandwich spreads have a tendency to spoil quickly during hot weather. Foods of this type should be kept in the refrigerator until just before they are served.

"By using good common sense in choosing and serving the proper kinds of food, you'll feel better and have a much more enjoyable summer," Dr. Cox concluded.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Herring, Phil and Janice of Austin, visited awhile Sunday morning with her mother, Mrs. A. L. Oder. Later they visited with the Harry M. Oders in Abilene and at Lubbock with Mr. Herring's mother, while on a sight-seeing trip to Colorado and other points west.

Music will be tops with the United States Marine Band and the national champion American Legion Band from Kent, Ohio.

Champions will compete for more prizes than ever before in the Soap Box Derby Chevrolet Motor Division, co-sponsor of the event with America's leading newspapers and civic groups, has increased the college scholarship awards this year to $15,000. This amount will be divided among the first five place winners. There will be a greater number of valuable merchandise awards, too.

The 1953 race again will have a real international flavor with champions coming from United States, Alaska, Canada and Western Germany. Championship finals will be broadcast over a nation-wide network of NBC stations at 4:30 P. M., EDT.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON-SERMON

That God, Spirit, cannot be found in matter or through material sense, but is known to those who turn to Him in prayer and right desire, will be pointed out in the Lesson-Sermon on the subject of "Spirit" to be read this Sunday in Christian Science churches. Selections from the Bible and the Christian Science textbook will be included.

The following verse from Psalms will be read as an illustration of this righteous prayer (143:10): "Teach me to do they will; for thou art, my God: thy spirit is good; lead me into the land of uprightness."

Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, stated that Spirit, God, is wholly good in these words: "In Spirit there is no matter, even as in Truth there is no error, and in good no evil. It is a false supposition, the notion that there is real substance-matter, the opposite of Spirit. Spirit, God, is infinite, all Spirit can have no opposite" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, page 278).

Hamilton County Farmers Boost Yields Through Soil Tests

College Station — The cost was small. The returns large for two Hamilton County farmers who followed the fertilizer recommendations given them by M. K. Thornton in charge of the Soils Testing Laboratory of the Texas A & M College System.

The two farmers, Edgar Sparks and Jack Cates reported to Hamilton County Agent E. R. Lawrence outstanding yields of oats from the fertilized fields on which soil tests had been made before the plant food was applied.

Sparks reported a weighed yield of 79 bushels of oats an acre from the field on which he applied 100 pounds of ammonium nitrate an acre. The adjoining field which was not fertilized produced 37 bushels of oats an acre. That, by simple arithmetic, is five bushels an acre more than double the unfertilized yield and a mighty good return on the dollar spent for a soil analysis and the 100 pounds of ammonium nitrate.

Cates used 100 pounds of 14-14-0 fertilizer an acre on one field and reports the yield as a third higher than for another field which received no treatment. Both, according to Lawrence, are well pleased with their "feeding the soil according to its needs" demonstration.

Thornton, who is also agricultural chemist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, reminds farmers that now is the time to submit soil samples to the laboratory from the fields where small grain and legumes or pasture crops will soon be planted. "Don't wait," says Thornton, "until seeding time to begin thinking about getting a soil analysis. Submit samples now while the laboratory is not too busy. The analysis along with recommendations on how best to handle the field will be available for your use before planting time."

And as a final reminder, Thornton says, all county agents have detailed information on the procedure for taking and mailing soil samples.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Tinkle and Martha of Abilene were week end visitors with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Boardman. Martha remained for a longer

Christian's Fight

Lesson for August 9, 1953

"IT'S a bonny fight," were the last words of a sermon by Rev. Andrew K. Rule; "don't ye want to get in it?" Reverend gentlemen do not always present Christianity in such vigorous terms. One hears more often something to this effect: "It's a water-tight Ark; don't you want to be pulled aboard?" or "It's a wonderful school; don't you want to register?" or "It's a fine laundry; drop in and get clean!" or "It's a great hospital; don't you want some treatment?" Well, of course Christianity can be presented in all these ways. But A. K. Rule being (by Dr. Foreman way of New Zealand) a Scotsman, he would present Christianity in terms of what all Celts dearly love—a fight. This is not an original idea. Paul had it long ago. That Apostle spoke of the Christian life as one that has to be lived in battledress, as we would say. He even spoke of it as a prize-fight (I Cor. 9). At the end of his life he referred to all of it as a "good fight."

The Nearest Enemy

God himself is presented in the Bible as a battling God. The Greeks might think of him as serene above the sky, untroubled and untroubling; but the saints who wrote the Bible knew God as one who has a fight on his hands and who wages unceasing war on a persistent enemy. Not that the issue is in doubt. The great message of the Bible is that God will win. But meanwhile, the fight is on. The Christian is one who has enlisted in the army of God. God's enemies are his enemies. So far as this world is concerned (we have no present concern with any other) our enemies, and God's, are all those forces which tear down and destroy God's purposes, everything that tears and destroys humankind. Now the Christian is bound to fight everything in public and in private life which weakens and corrupts man; but the nearest enemy to every Christian is—himself. It is not true that a man is his own best friend; but it is true that he is his own worst enemy. A man can do himself more harm than any one else can do him. Many a man has lost the outer battle because he never won the fight with himself.

Fight Against Surrender

There are two opposite ways in which we have to battle with ourselves. These correspond to two kinds of temperament, and yet perhaps no man is entirely free from the need to fight on both these fronts. One is the fight with the drifter in us, the tendency to dream, to drift, to float with the tide, to let other people make all our decisions for us. We are surrounded by a pagan society, and it is not easy to maintain a higher standard. We haven't the energy to "buck" popular opinion. It takes a great deal of energy, it calls for a fighting heart, to make headway against the tide of "everybody says," "everybody does." The Christian who knows the harm which alcohol does to personality, the Christian who wants to live a clean life in this or in other ways, will in many places have to be "made of sterner stuff" than most people are. It is the person who has won a victory over himself who is best able to help others.

Fight for Control

There is another kind of inner battle: the fight against our own wills. The other battle was against our lack of will; this is against will itself. We are not born or made in such a way that we can do whatever we feel like doing and always be right. Indeed if we follow our natural inclinations we may end by being oftener wrong than right. And just as some temperaments lean to laziness and don't-care, so other temperaments lean too far the other way. If some people are like putty, others are like gasoline vapor, likely to explode any minute. It may be temper, it may be sex, it may be drink, it may be selfishness in any one of its countless forms. We can put it this way: There is in some of us all the time, and in all of us some of the time, the urge to shove every one else and everything else out of the way and make I WANT the rule of action.

ceedings. Practically everyone pays lip service to this ideal, but many fail to realize that the right to be represented by counsel is a logical and essential corollary of that theory of justice. There is a good deal of criticism of attorneys representing defendants in criminal cases. Much of this criticism is unjust. Should lawyers defend in court persons whom they know or have good reason to believe are guilty of the crimes charged against them? The recent Belden Survey of the attitude of the public in Texas toward lawyers and law problems shows that more than half of all persons interviewed thought it was wrong for a lawyer to defend such a person. Such an attitude on the part of the public is rather startling to thinking people. Surely the guiltiest criminal has a right to a fair trial by the law of the land. Such a trial he cannot have without a competent attorney to see that a fair jury is selected and that only lawful evidence is introduced against him.

With reference to this feeling on the part of the public, District Judge James K. Evetts, of Belton, who served eighteen years as a prosecuting attorney before his election as District Judge, recently offered the following comments:

"The result of this survey is no surprise to me, in that during my eighteen years of prosecuting, this feeling has been made known to me by hundreds of persons.

"The feeling on the part of the general public in this regard is brought about to a great extent by the sincere efforts on the part of the defense counsel to see that his client receives the benefit of every legal safeguard to which he is entitled. These legal maneuvers are often misunderstood by the layman as an unethical effort to defeat justice, by delay of the trial, and by taking advantage of certain defenses that to the layman appear to be trivial technicalities.

"Attorneys are the only ones who can correct the erroneous feeling of the general public regarding the defense of one who appears to be guilty as charged. We attorneys should emphatically state to the inquiring person that it is one of the cardinal rights of the individual in a democratic society to be considered innocent until his guilt is established beyond a reasonable doubt by legal and competent evidence.

"The public must be brought to the realization that all who are charged with crimes are entitled to the expert counsel and aid of an attorney, and that the sworn duty of such attorney is to see that each protective legal right, to which the accused is entitled, is afforded him."

Now and then a lawyer will overstep the bounds of his duty in defending those charged with crime. When that happens, the legal profession is even more indignant than the public generally, and appropriate disciplinary proceedings are instituted where warranted.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform — not advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Mrs. Frank Turner has returned from Freeport, where she has been visiting with a sister.

PREVENTING INSECT DAMAGE THROUGH RESEARCH

Killing insects is a lot like a marriage proposal. A little thought beforehand may prevent a pack of grief afterwards. A fellow rarely has the chance to repeat his pre-marital mistakes. But fortunately, we can profit from our previous errors in insect control. And Texas Department of Agriculture entomologists are under pressure now for some quick answers to our pest problems.

Biological control is very promising. Milky disease has reduced the ravages of the Japanese beetle in the U. S. but we are always looking for ways to breed and distribute more natural enemies of destructive insects. Such research involves a world-wide search for insect predators, parasites, and diseases of the pests we want to control. The more we know about the causes of the rise and fall in numbers of an insect, the better we can forecast and prevent these epidemics and the resultant damage. It is essential that our techniques of survey and identification be rapid, sure, and inexpensive.

Timber losses caused by insects surpass those to fire in many parts of Texas. Some years, our national loss from the cotton boll weevil exceeds 500 million dollars. Other insects that have caused losses exceeding 100 million dollars in a single year include grasshoppers, cattle grubs, corn earworms, greenbugs, bollworms and European corn borers.

In the past 10 years, more than a score of new organic-type insecticides have been tested and marketed. There are hundreds more awaiting further study. Results, thus far, of entomological research have been a big factor in increasing crop yields, yet the above losses demonstrate the need to discover even better control procedures.

Results of research, when applied on farm, ranch, forest, and in the home, will prevent waste and suffering by controlling more than 600 major destructive insects as well as the pests that transmit diseases of plants, livestock and man.

We need research — and plenty of it.

Mrs. G. W. Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Middlebrook and Marthiel of Winters, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rowe on Thursday of last week.

The budget-cutting 1st session of the 83rd Congress has closed shop, the end being shrouded in sadness with the death of Senator Taft. The total amount of money appropriated during this session was $14 billion less than was requested in the Truman Budget given Congress in early January. Even at that the outgo will exceed the income during the current fiscal year.

On the "must" list of bills that were pushed through Congress in the closing days was one to let in 211,000 immigrants during the next three years. This number will be over and above the regular quota of admissions which total not more than 156,000 annually. I voted against this new bill and actively opposed it. Most of the 211,000 will come out of Western Europe and are composed of nondescripts from Eastern Germany and Eastern Europe.

It will be recalled that under the post-war DP bill, we admitted nearly 300,000 and were told at the time that would be our part of the replacement of the displaced persons. I opposed that program because I felt then that it would be but a forerunner of more and more demands to break down our quota system of admissions in an orderly manner whereby each nation is permitted a limited number each year, the number depending upon those of similar origin who were in this country prior to the quota program which began in 1921.

One thing is certain, that this new bill will not begin to meet the clamor for a break-down of our quota system. There are literally millions of displaced persons around the world who want to come in, and their relatives in America spearhead the political pressure to get the doors opened for them. Very little can be known of the background of many of these people. Consequently, many undesirables get through the screening process. That was true under the old DP program. Klaus Fuchs, the atomic spy, for example, was a duly screened DP brought in under the old law. We must — or certainly should — use more care in admitting these people, and we should protect the integrity of our quota system.

The death of Senator Taft was a blow to the nation. He was indeed a great American who spoke his mind fearlessly and with great dignity. While many disagreed with him at times, it seems that those who respected him the most were his adversaries. They knew he was devoted to his country, its welfare and its security. He possessed a great mind and was one of the most able leaders in the history of the United States Senate.

Good Reports From Tourists Vacationing In Old Mexico

Austin — American tourists are enthusiastic about vacationing in Mexico, according to a survey recently completed at the Laredo office of the Texas Division of the American Automobile Association by the International Travel Department of the Three-A.

The survey included interviews with more than 400 motorists returning from trips into Mexico.

The travelers spent an average of 14 days "South of the Border," and spent an average of about $14 per day per person.

Nearly all, 98.9 per cent, visited Monterrey; almost as many 79.8 per cent, visited Mexico City.

Roads were found in "good repair" by three out of four of the travelers who were pleasantly surprised to find automobile repair service, gasoline, oil, tires and car parts readily available.

Of the group, about 100 thought the prices were low, half thought they were medium, while a few said they found prices quite high. Nine out of ten found accommodations to their liking, with good food and service.

About half agreed Mexican hospitality and courtesy were outstanding; opinions of the others ranged from "good" to "just fair."

One interesting sidelight was that three out of four of the tourists said they would be interested in traveling all the way to the Panama Canal or beyond on the Pan American Highway when it is completed.

Finally, the Three-A travel survey showed that 95 per cent of the motorists who had visited Mexico would recommend the trip to their friends at home.

The Texas Division of the AAA maintains border stations for the convenience of travelers to Mexico at Laredo, Brownsville, and El Paso.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Miller and daughters, Peggy and Maylayne of Kermit, and their son, C. O. Miller, Jr., Lackland, A. F. Base, San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Upton and Randall and Mrs. W. J. Stacy of Abilene, were week end visitors in the T. H. Upton home. Mrs. Stacy and Mrs. Upton are sisters.

T. L. Huggins, Mrs. Roy Bledsoe, Mrs. Peggy Isaacs and Mrs. John Perry went to Baytown on Monday of last week and returned home on Wednesday. On Tuesday they attended funeral services there for a relative, Mrs. W. E. Huggins.

The many friends of Mrs. Beula Kingston of Trickham, who had major surgery in the Santa Anna Hospital early last week, will be glad to know she is getting along just fine and will wish for her a complete recovery.

Mrs. Jack Mobley was moved to her home on Wednesday of last week from the Santa Anna Hospital, where she had major surgery the Wednesday previous. She is getting along just fine. Jack's sister, Mrs. Dot Moore of Cisco, is here with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommie McDonnell and their three children of Plains, arrived Monday night for a weeks visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Lowellen and Shirley.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Zachary and daughters, Chiquita, Sheila and Cecile, of Lake Jackson, were week end visitors with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Zachary. On Sunday, their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Parker of Odessa visited with them and left their children, Martha Lynn and Bill for a longer visit.

QUESTION:

Explain the difference between and the cause of tapeworm and hookworm. Can they be cured completely?

ANSWER:

There are four kinds of tapeworms, and all of them are bad, especially if you are giving them bed and board for free. There are pork, beef, fish and a dwarf tapeworm. In the first, like all others, it is composed of segments, each segment having both male and female organs in it. At the one end of the chain there is a head and four sucking disks and a double row of hooks to hang on to you with, while at the other end of the several hundred segments the tail part contains segments each filled with thousands of ripe eggs. These segments are about 1/2 an inch long and about 1/3 of an inch wide. This worm is short being only about 6 feet long but it usually lives for many years daily discharging thousands of ripe eggs in your stool. From you the eggs must go into another human, child or adult, in one way or another, or they must be picked up by a pig. Nowadays, with thousands of pigs being slaughtered and the waste "imperds and outerds" being ground up and fed to hog producers as feed supplements it is easy to see how just even a few worms or eggs could spread through the entire country in a short time: or if one of your hogs had a few worms and scattered the eggs around the feed lot and thereby gave it to all the other snuffing, rooting and grunting inhabitants of the same yard, then you slaughtered and ate a clean looking squealer. Man acquires this parasite by eating inadequately cooked, rare or otherwise, hog. If man acquires a small worm, it finds a nice tender spot in the small intestine; and settles down to a long and happy life provided some nosy doctor or laboratory man doesn't get mean and rout him out. If a few eggs are picked up their shells are digested off in the stomach and tiny little worms with the usual, 6 timer hooks take off for the various parts of the body more secluded such as the liver, muscles, brain or eyes where they can develop into larger bedfellows or form gristly cysts. In this latter form of hard cysts in the pig, the worm is especially resistant to most any kind of external violence including cooking unless it is thorough and well done. Anyway you look at it, this old boy is a hard customer just like his cousins who will be described below.

The beef tapeworm has no hooks but has four large suckers, a big head, and grows up to 15-20 or more feet. He is just as hardy as his kinfolk who prefer pork chops instead of T-bones. This gentleman prefers cattle, whiteface, blacks, scrubs or purebreds. They all taste good to him. His life-span is identical in almost every way except he is found in beef, rare, medium or well done. In the latter however, he merely adds a little seasoning, whereas in the first two he plans on "buddying" with you for a long time.

The fish tapeworm goes through the same general program of hoping to find a "soft touch", namely you. He is the largest and longest usually reaching 25-30 feet in length, has no hooks but two long suckers on either side of his big head. He can be picked up from any kind of fish or caviar that is not thoroughly cooked to destroy him.

One may have one or several kinds of these strange and unwelcome bedfellows. Not uncommon at all is to find both beef and pork tapeworm in the same patient. Recently I found all three in an elderly and retired businessman who liked to go down and fish in the Gulf off Corpus Christi.

There is a dwarf tapeworm which is very tiny, about 1-2 inches long found very commonly in children in the Southern States. Its eggs are immediately infective to man, usually picked up by barefeet or dirty hands in sections where the people practice poor hygiene. Symptoms range all the way from abdominal aching, cramps, a hearty appetite without weight gain, cravings for certain foods, nausea, vomiting, constipation or diarrhea, nervousness, convulsions, weakness, and severe anemias and fainting spells.

Diagnosis is made by examining three stools, each taken two days apart, and using special laboratory stains and filters.

The disease is curable, but the treatment is harsh since the worm is a tough bandit and poison strong enough to make him let go and yet not kill the patient, must be given in adequate amounts. Most treatments are only 80% effective the first time, since it is better to tear the worms up on two tries than to tear both the worm and the patient up on the first and bury them both the following week. The treatment is not without danger but most doctors and patients would rather take their chance with the medicine once or twice and get it over with than play unwelcome host to a couple of twenty or thirty foot worms trying to eat holes in their insides for ten years.

Next week I will discuss hookworms in a similar manner.

Dates Set For New Inspection Law For Autos

Austin — The new period, during which Texas motorists will be required to have their auto inspected under the new modified Motor Vehicle Inspection law which was enacted by the recent 53rd Legislature, has been unofficially set for September 15, 1953, through April, 1954, it was announced today by Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Garrison said that the State Public Safety Commission has advised him that they will confirm the designation of the new period on August 26, the effective date of the new act.

The old law which aroused much controversial argument during the last session of the Legislature will expire at midnight August 25 and no inspection will be made under its provisions after that date.

Garrison explained that this means that no inspections of any sort will be made between that time and the beginning of the new period on September 15th.

The modified law calls for inspection only of brakes, lighting equipment, horns, rear view mirrors and windshield wipers.

"In view of the fact that the inspection stations throughout the state are already set up and equipped to perform this work," Garrison said, "we feel that the full seven months of the new period will afford motorists ample time to have their vehicles inspected."

He urged however, that car owners not wait too long lest they get caught in a last minute rush to meet the inspection deadline.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Priest and family of Olton, came at the week end and brought his mother, Mrs. Annie Stovall home from a visit with them. While Mrs. Stovall was visiting them, all had a pleasant trip into New Mexico.

Relatives Have Get-To-Gether

On Saturday night, Aug. 1st, a group of relatives had a get together at a supper in Coleman park. Most of those attending were nieces and nephews of Mrs. Lela Campbell. Those present were: Mrs. W. R. Golston, Roswell, New Mexico; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Keeney, Betty, Cecil and Donald Ray, Mrs. Patsy Martin and Debra, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Smith, Freddie and Jimmie, all of Coleman; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Keeney and Jimmie Dee from Corcoran, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Dudgeon and daughters, Hazel and Ruth Ann of San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Turner and son Donald of Coleman and Mrs. Lela Campbell, Mrs. Iva Huffman and Mr. E. M. Niell of Santa Anna. It was the first time Mrs. Dudgeon and Bert Keeney, brother and sister, had seen each other in 24 years.

Pastor Pro-Tem To Speak At First Christian Sun.

Prof. Ambrose Edens of T. C. U., temporary pastor of the Christian Church, will be back for the week end and will fill the pulpit at both services on Sunday.

The meeting which closed at the church Sunday night was well attended throughout and Rev. Phil Runner of Brownwood brought some very timely messages. The wonderful fellowship and cooperation of our Brownwood and Coleman congregations was much appreciated. Local cooperation and good will are also appreciated.

"Better School Boards Make Better School"

Austin — "Better School Boards Make Better Schools" will be the theme of the Texas Association of School Boards annual meeting October 8-9 in Austin.

The session will be dedicated to self-improvement of school board members throughout Texas, TASB officials said. The state organization has headquarters at the University of Texas.

New features of the 1953 annual meeting will be reports on area associations organized during the past year and "system-size" sessions, where board members from school systems of comparable size will discuss common problems.

At other group meetings, topic will include personnel, segregation, curriculum, physical education in the schools, school board functions and relationships, public education and the future, school law and school finance.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Williams and children of Harlingen visited several days last week with her mother, Mrs. Lee Tatum and in the Carl Williams home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Steward of San Angelo visited Sunday with her mother, Mrs. T. T. Perry and sister, Mrs. Ione Caton. Mrs. Perry, who has not been well of late, has improved and is able to be out and around more.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hammond and their two children from Carlsbad, New Mexico, visited at the week end with her sister, Mrs. Frank Caldwell and family. They were on their way moving to Fredericksburg, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Weathers and Velda and a girl friend, Miss Hattie Whitehead of Cisco, visited two days last week with his mother, Mrs. J. M. Weathers, who has been sick, but is getting along fine now.
