Parents Requested To Attend Annual Football Meeting

Parents of all boys who are expecting to come out for football this season are urgently requested to attend a meeting of the boys and the coaches on Friday night, August 28, at the high school gym. This will be the annual first meeting of the boys and ice cold watermelon will be served to all who attend and arrangements are now being made to get a movie picture of one of last year's high school football games to show the group. The meeting is scheduled to get underway at 8:00 p. m.

In making the announcement, Coach D. W. Behrens said, "This year we especially want all the parents to attend the meeting with their boys. We are setting up a new policy for training this year and we must have the cooperation of all parents and boys alike in order for the new program to succeed."

The coach did not say just what the new program will be, but it is expected that a lot more rigid training rules will be set up for the boys and they will be expected to adhere more to these rules than has been the custom in the past.

The coach said he was not expecting as many boys out this year as there have been in some past years, but prospects for a better team are good. He is expecting about 20 boys out at the beginning of the season.

The Mountaineers have the toughest schedule this year they have ever had. Ranger has been added to this district for this year and Dublin, Eastland and De Leon are all still in this district. Each of these schools have a much larger enrollment than Santa Anna and some of the other teams in the district and they are expected to be battling for top positions. However, Santa Anna is expected to have a much better team than they did last year and will be near the top when the season is completed.

The schedule for the coming season is as follows:

- Sept. 11 - Junction, here
- Sept. 18 - Open
- Sept. 25 - Early, here
- Oct. 2 - Dublin, there*
- Oct. 9 - Cross Plains, here*
- Oct. 16 - DeLeon, here*
- Oct. 23 - Ranger, here*
- Oct. 30 - Wylie, here*
- Nov. 6 - Eastland, there*
- Nov. 13 - Bangs, there*
- Nov. 20 - Rising Star, there*
- *Conference games

This gives us six games on the local field and four games away from home. During September and October there is only one game away from home and then the last three games are away. It was impossible to arrange a better schedule for this season, but prospects are better for a little more varied schedule next year.

Santa Anna Stores Get Face-Lifting

The Service Cafe and Speck's Barber Shop are getting a face-lifting this week. Both stores are receiving new paint throughout the interior of the businesses. The Santa Anna Hotel is still undergoing major remodeling and is also being repainted throughout. The Phillips Drug Co. has just about completed a complete remodeling and is now one of the most convenient drug stores in this section of the state.

The Santa Anna Tile Co., Inc. is still progressing about on schedule. The kiln has about been completed and most of the equipment has arrived and is being put in place. They do not know yet definitely just when the plant will begin operation, but it is expected sometime about the middle of September.

Mrs. Hardy Blue and Miss Betty Blue are attending the annual school of Missions, being held this week at Mount Wesley near Kerrville.

Lions Leading Drive For Walking Blood Bank

The Santa Anna Lions Club is leading a drive for a "walking blood bank" at the local hospital. The bank will consist of more than one hundred names of persons who have had their blood typed that they might contribute blood in case of an emergency. While the Lions have initiated the drive, other organizations have expressed their cooperation. Already the local National Guard Unit has agreed to participate and the local Volunteer Fire Department expects to approve the plan at its next meeting.

Dr. Charles Henner and the Santa Anna Hospital have agreed to blood test all prospective members of the blood bank. Dr. Henner has offered the services of the hospital for that purpose without charge.

Serving on the committee for the Lions Club are: Ford Barnes, Tilden Jones, Jack Payne, Carl Gilkerson, and W. B. Griffin. Dr. Henner and Jim Riley, members of the Health and Welfare committee are ex-official members.

Good Rains Fall In This Area Of Coleman County

Reports from areas near Santa Anna Wednesday morning indicate good rains fell in most parts of the county Tuesday evening and night. The Coleman Gas Co. gauge reading was 1.10 inch for Santa Anna with slightly more being reported on the edges of town. Mrs. Virgil Newman reports just over one inch on their farm south of town and Mrs. Claude Langford reports 2.50 inches north of town near the city lakes. Mrs. Lewis Newman at Gouldbusk reports .8 of an inch and she said they received over an inch about two weeks ago. Northwest of Santa Anna over three inches were reported.

This apparently is just what the cotton crop has been needing. With no underground moisture, the cotton has been suffering some through the past few days that have been so hot. This rainfall should give the crop the needed moisture and should also be beneficial to other fall crops and pastures.

Indications are that we will get more rain before the end of the week.

News From The State Health Department

Beat by the heat? Is this torrid weather sapping your energy from every body pore? Then State Health Officer George W. Cox has news for you.

"Observing a few simple hot weather living rules can mean relief from this sweltering heat," the doctor says. For instance:

Cut down on the amount of food eaten at any one time. Eat a few crackers or some fruit between meals if you get hungry. Many people feel better in hot weather if they eat fewer protein foods such as eggs, fish and meat. Fruit and vegetables in season makes fine "cool comfort" diets.

Water is constantly being lost through perspiration and has to be replaced or painful heat cramps will result. Office workers probably get enough salt through ordinary eating, but laborers may need 2 or 3 extra teaspoonsful each hot day.

Children who play hard and perspire freely need a little extra salt. Salted nuts or crackers is an agreeable way for them to get it. They won't object at all.

Don't wear clothes that hinder evaporation of perspiration, because that's the way body temperatures are kept normal. Wear loose, light clothing, preferably light in color.

Suit your exercise to your strength. Swimming is unquestionably the best summer sport, since it cools rather than overheats the body.

Take a warm bath before bedtime, and get eight hours of sleep regularly. An oscillating electric fan which keeps the air in motion without harmful direct drafts will make sleeping more comfortable and the next day's heat less oppressive.

Sun rays are most intense between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m., so stay out of their way during those hours if possible. If not, be sure your head is covered.

Observing these rules can make for more summertime comfort, Dr. Cox points out. A June-to-October vacation in Alaska would help, too.

Do You Have Your Birth Certificate?

College Station — Do you have your birth certificate? Have you a certified copy in a safe place? Does it give accurate information as to sex, date of birth, and name of parents? If yours is in acceptable form how about those of your children?

Many schools require a copy of the birth certificates for enrollment. Mrs. Eloise Johnson, family life education specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, suggests you check to see if your child's birth certificate is recorded correctly.

Although everyone recognizes the importance of birth certificates, the specialist says a third of the nation's citizens have none. A person who cannot produce a certificate or its legally acceptable equivalent, is stateless, ageless, and often jobless as far as government and many business firms are concerned. In this day of widespread military service, world wide travel and international youth exchange programs, a birth certificate is not only a convenience but a vital necessity. Adults and older people need proof of age and citizenship for retirement, payment of pensions, annuities and social security. This makes the certificate a most valuable piece of paper.

Birth registration is now standardized and compulsory anywhere in the United States. These records become permanent and accessible to those who may be interested. However, now and then, errors occur which cause difficulties later. Parents can take precautions against these errors by making sure the doctor spells all names correctly and fills in all pertinent facts including the exact date of birth of the child. It is wise, too, for parents to obtain a certified copy of the record, and file it carefully with other personal documents and papers.

If you have no birth certificate, write the county clerk at the county where you were born, state health officer or state registrar of vital statistics to request a copy. If none is registered for you, one of the best proofs is legally executed, notarized affidavits from relatives and close friends who will swear to the date, place and your parent's names. Another widely used proof is to check Federal Census rolls for your official record in the first census after you were born.

Check your family files to see that every member has at least one certified copy of this important record — the birth certificate.

Small Towns To Be Studied In Course At University of Tex.

Austin — The University of Texas will offer in February a new course to help businessmen, ministers and professional people prepare for careers in small communities.

The course will be a study of changing economic, social and cultural conditions in small towns, Wilfrid (correct) C. Bailey said.

He will teach the anthropology course, designed to give background information for understanding and solving small-community problems.

Radio, television, new highways, and better cars, trucks and aircraft are breaking down the isolation of small communities and drastically changing patterns of business and living in general, Bailey commented.

For example, better highways and transportation are encouraging location of new industries in small towns, he said. A new industry means a shorter work week, new incomes and new residents who may have social and cultural tastes differing from those of longtime residents.

By studying what is happening in selected small communities, a person will be better prepared to understand and solve problems he may face in his own career, Bailey pointed out.

W. H. Blake came last week from Keesler A. F. Base Biloxi, Miss., where he is a civilian instructor, for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Blake and Dan Jr. On Sunday after church the four went to Marlin and saw Mrs. Blake's old home she had not seen in 36 yrs. CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON-SERMON

"Mind" is the subject of next week's Christian Science Lesson-sermon. It will be brought out that our concept of God determines our holiness, health and happiness.

The Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy, in her textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," expresses this idea in these words: "The understanding that the Ego is Mind, and that there is but one Mind or intelligence, begins at once to destroy the errors of mortal sense and to supply the truth of immortal sense. The understanding makes the body harmonious; it makes the nerves, bones, brain, etc., servants, instead of masters. If man is governed by the law of divine Mind, his body is in submission to everlasting Life and Truth and Love" (p. 216).

Paul said of the Word of God that it "is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any twoedged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart" (Hebrews 4:12).

Jesse Goen and Joan of Austin spent the week end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Goen. Mrs. Goen, Martha and Cathy, who had been visiting here in the Goen home and with her mother, Mrs. M. T. Kight, returned home with him. Louise and Jaunita, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Goen of Grand Prairie came Sunday for a two weeks visit with their grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Smith from San Angelo and S/Sgt. Gene Smith from Goodfellow A. F. Base there, were week end visitors with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith.

Carbon paper and sales pag at the News office.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Brown and sons, Carl and Don, of Riviera, Calif., visited Sunday and Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Edd Jones. They had been visiting in Texas for a week and were to stop at Del Rio enroute home. Herman was reared in Santa Anna and will be remembered as a son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Eluclan Niell have recently built on a room to their home and it is being used as a chinchilla unit, housing their chinchilla ranch. They now have 15 chinchillas and two more litters expected soon. The room is insulated, making it easy to air condition. They keep the temperature at 74 degrees, which seems just right for the little occupants. The Niell's find the chinchilla business very interesting and expect later to be reaping a profit.

A good way to relieve the monotony of your work is to think of ways to improve it.

Men are like steel. When they lose their temper they are worthless.

A dollar may not go very far, but usually it travels far enough so that it never finds its way back.

Considering the fact that so many inexperienced people marry, it's no wonder there are so many divorcees.

The law requires that you have a reason before you can get a divorce. Why not require one to get married?

He said he was so old he could remember when the big dipper was just a drinking cup.

She said she was just a little pebble on the beach of his life, so he asked her to be a little boulder.

Your reputation is like the bubble that bursts when you try to blow it up yourself.

Hospital Auxiliary Has Educational Meeting Tuesday

The regular meeting of the Hospital Auxiliary was held Tuesday afternoon at the Santa Anna Hospital. A fine group of women turned out for the occasion, which Dr. Henner called an educational meeting, which indeed it proved to be.

The doctor showed a large number of X-ray pictures, taken in the hospital of a number of whom would be known to those present, but no names were divulged. His explanations and answers to question were interesting.

The man with 248,404 different names

Idly toying with pencil and paper, we just figured out what it would cost to buy yourself a certain electric manufacturing company. Complete with factories, machines, raw materials in the bins, and so forth.

Write your check for 2 billion dollars, please. (That's at recent price per share quoted on the Stock Exchange.) But don't send the check to the company. It doesn't own the stock.

You'd have to buy back the stock in bits and pieces from 116,000 women share owners. And 83,000 men. You'd have to get in touch with about 25,000 trustees and guardians. And a few thousand insurance companies, universities, hospitals and pension trusts to buy back the stock they own.

We wouldn't blame these people if they didn't sell to you. They don't have to, you know. Maybe they want the stock for the same reason you do.

Not even a thousand millionaires, each putting in a million dollars, could "own" General Electric. The "man" who owns General Electric has 248,404 names. There are that many owners on the books.

Simple mathematics can shoot a large round hole in the childish misconception that America's basic companies are owned by a few lucky people.

Suppose there were the fantastic total of 100,000 millionaires. Even they couldn't buy the "people-owned" businesses on which America depends for goods. But already six and a half million individuals have a direct investment in America's production.

The only thing bigger than America today will be America tomorrow. And the only collection of people rich enough to finance this growth and share in its success is the public.

You can put your confidence in—

Miss Jewel Marie Rouse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Prayer Life

Lesson for August 23, 1953

CAN it be true that some Christians have no prayer life? It is true that some church members have none; but what about Christians? Well, can an airplane be without an engine of any kind, or without any motive power? Can a deep-water diver keep on at his work if his lifeline to the top is broken in two? Of course not. An airplane that cannot move may look like a plane, but it is no more use than so much junk. A diver whose lifeline has broken will be brought to the surface a drowned man. His friends may look at the corpse and say, "How natural Kelly looks!" but it isn't Kelly any more. An airplane with no motive power is a dead plane; a diver with no lifeline is a dead diver. And a Christian without prayer is a dead Christian. For prayer is the motive power, prayer is the lifeline, of the Christian.

Dr. Foreman

Prayer Habits

It is not true that prayer means less when it is a habit. On the contrary, a Christian is much more likely to pray when he has made a habit of it. All Christians, and many who are not Christians, are aware of the great importance of prayer. Most Christians, if interviewed, would say something like "I know I ought to pray more than I do." We do not need to be convinced that praying is important. What most of us need is help on how to pray. We pray only when we are in the mood, and the praying mood cries up on us, so to speak. This is where habit helps us. Breathing is essential to life, and if it were not a habit we would often forget to breathe. Prayer can never be as automatic as that, but it can be so much a habit that we never need to be reminded of it. The first thing to do, if you want to develop your prayer life, is to set aside a definite time every day for it. Make it a "must," not something you do if you have time for it. When prayer is something done only "if" there is time, then there never is time, and there seldom is prayer.

In Season, Out of Season

The mature Christian will pray at regular times; but he also cultivates the habit of praying at irregular times. Do you have a regular time for looking at your watch? Perhaps so; you look at it when you wake up in the morning, you look at it at breakfast time, and so on. But no one who wears a watch looks at it only at regular hours as if it were a medicine. You look at it off and on all through the day, for any number of reasons. So the Christian acquires the habit of looking to God off and on all through the day, also for a number of reasons. When a happy thing happens, the Christian breathes a prayer of thankfulness. It does not have to be long to be real. When something seems too much to stand, the Christian just asks God, then and there, to help him. When he hears about some one in trouble, he does not content himself with saying "Too bad." If there is anything he can do about it, he will do it. But the Christian does not stop there. In the very midst of helping another, he will offer a prayer to God for him. This is most important perhaps when the other person is clear out of reach, when nothing we ourselves can say or do will help him at all.

Praying Like A Christian

A person might pray every day and often and yet not pray like a Christian. For a Christian's prayers are not the "gimme" kind. It is not that we should never pray for ourselves. A study of the Lord's Prayer will show that some of the petitions are for ourselves. But for what? For purity of life, for forgiveness, for daily bread—that is, for necessities, not for luxuries. It is a good thing once in a while to ask one's self: How many other persons could join me in this prayer? Am I praying for something that is going to make trouble for other people? Am I praying for something which if I get it will have to be taken away from others who need it just as much as I do? Unselfish praying and unselfish living go together. Christ lived and died "for their sakes" as he said. "Prayer in his name is prayer in his spirit."

surrender of account for all his property for the benefit of his creditors and in exchange be discharged of his debts.

Any adult who owes debts may become a voluntary bankrupt by having his attorney prepare for him a bankruptcy petition, together with schedules of his assets and liabilities and then filing the same in the proper United States district court.

After he is adjudicated a bankrupt he is required to appear for examination as to his assets in the bankruptcy court, and if he fully accounts for his assets and has not violated any of the bankruptcy laws he will thereafter receive a discharge of his debts.

If he is granted a discharge of his debts, he has started a new financial life as of the date he filed bankruptcy. All wages and assets acquired by him thereafter cannot be reached to satisfy the old debts, nor will creditors be permitted to sue him on the old debts.

Dishonest debtors may endeavor to gain advantages for themselves not allowed by the bankruptcy laws. In these instances on objections to discharge by creditors they not only will be denied a discharge of their debts, but the courts will be prone to deal harshly with the offenders if they have violated the criminal laws.

The head of a family is entitled to claim as exempt any property which is exempt under Texas homestead laws, which in the ordinary case will be his home, household furniture, wearing apparel, the family automobile and tools of his trade or profession. However, if any of this property is covered by a mortgage or conditional sales contract he must pay any balance due thereon, or the owner of such mortgage or contract may repossess.

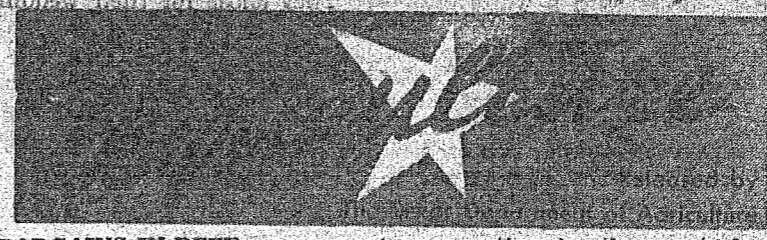

Bankruptcy has a lasting effect upon a person's future credit and in the usual case causes the creditors to lose their entire debt.

Many bankruptcies could be avoided if the "overloaded" debtor would make a timely effort to sit down with his creditors and work out plans for reduced payments over extended periods.

Visitors with Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Yancy and Mrs. D. M. Densman Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. Novel Densman and their son Junior Densman, his wife and their two babies of Eldorado; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Densman and two children from McGregor; Louis Densman and family of Lamarque and Milton Henry Densman of South Carolina; Mrs. Ellis Densman and three children of Santa Anna. A total of 25 were present. Mr. and Mrs. Steve Yancy of Coleman were afternoon visitors. Mrs. Walter Yancy, Sandra and Dave of Haynesville, La., are visiting his week, in the Yancy home.

BARGAINS IN BEEF

Steaks and other good beef cuts rate star billing on the family shopping list the rest of this month and through September.

With beef of all types more plentiful now than during any comparable period in recent years, Texans now can really indulge in their traditional fondness for this home raised product. Prices should be favorable enough to warrant laying away a good supply of meat in the deep freezes, too.

Supplies of beef during August and September will be setting new records. The hot, dry weather that prevailed over much of the cattle-raising region during the early summer has stimulated unusually heavy marketings of range cattle. This movement, allied to the large supplies of fed cattle, means that the consumers are finding meat counters well stocked with attractively-priced cuts.

Judging by the quantity of livestock marketed during the past six months, and estimates of what is expected to come to market the rest of this year, consumption of beef in 1953 may be as high as 73 to 74 pounds per person. This would be a big increase over the 61 pounds per person last year and would equal or top the 1909 record of 73.2 pounds per person.

Housewives will need very little prodding to choose beef and beef products for her family. They know that the protein in beef is needed by young and old alike, and that variety meats in particular are good sources of important vitamins and minerals. Lean beef is a valuable source of B-vitamins and of phosphorus and iron. Protein and minerals are found in beef liver, kidney and heart. And liver, with its iron and copper content, is an important blood builder.

But the best news is that after years of almost prohibitive prices, beef is now coming within the family budget. As a result, week end chefs of both sexes who go for outdoor cookery on summer evenings will be even more active in the next few weeks.

The barbecue baron may rely on easy-to-fix hamburger sandwiches, topped with onion or tomato slices. Or he may choose the ever-popular frankfurter on toasted roll with a generous garnish of relish or sauerkraut. But grilled steaks and other cuts are expected to top the list.

Whatever his preference, beef will score a hit every time.

Mr. and Mrs. Hibbard Polk returning from Mineral Wells, where he had attended a work shop of the National Education Association, spent Saturday night with his aunt, Miss Kathryn Baxter. Hibbard, a former Santa Anna boy, is supervisor of Radio and Television in the El Paso school system.

A son weighing 7 lbs. was born Saturday night, August 15th to Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Palmer in Ft. Worth. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Close of Santa Anna are the grandparents. Mrs. Close left Tuesday for a visit in the Palmer home and to get acquainted with the new grandson.

Mrs. Annie Stovall visited over the week end in Brady with her sister, Mrs. Henry Williams. Mrs. Williams returned home with her for a visit this week with Mrs. Stovall and also with a sister-in-law, Mrs. Turner Oakes.

BANKRUPTCY LAW EXPLAINED

Always, there will be families in the United States who are having financial difficulties. At this time, the number is relatively few. To those few and to their creditors, this article should be of particular interest.

The principal reported causes which throw families into financial difficulties are: Inflation and high taxes, inability to resist "impulse" buying, combined with easy credit, illness or other emergencies, or just plain bad judgment and mismanagement.

Some people in financial difficulty, when threatened with legal proceedings to collect outstanding debts, seek relief offered them by the federal bankruptcy law.

The purpose of bankruptcy laws is to permit an honest, but unfortunate or weak debtor to

Austin — If you want to accept the testimony of two observers who expressed themselves here, there is going to be a downturn in business in the immediate future.

That doesn't mean, the commentators agreed, that there is going to be a crash in the 1953 manner.

It does mean that business men are going to sharpen their sales technique if they hope to get as much business as they have been accustomed to in the last 15 years or so.

One of the speakers was Dr. J. R. Stockton, director of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Addressing a group of Austin business men, Dr. Stockton advised tightening of the belt and holding on for times that may be a little tougher.

"You won't go broke," the speaker told his audience, "so don't get panicky. You might have to polish up your sales techniques, though. You'll have to get out and scramble again."

Business will be somewhat less active than it has been in the period since 1933, Dr. Stockton said, adding: "We've had 15 years of boom. We're not going to bust, but all the signs indicate a slight downturn."

As factors indicating the trend the researcher listed farm income, industrial development, and governmental expenditures. All of those, Dr. Stockton noted, point to a leveling off in business.

"Watch your inventories," the speaker advised his listeners, "and cut down on your credit a bit. If you keep your business on a sound basis, there's no reason for worry."

Also noting the business trend was Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, who said in a statewide broadcast that, while we are not on the verge of another depression, "certain disturbing signs are becoming evident."

Retail business is off in most Texas areas, the Senator reported, and farm income is down 18 per cent for the first five months of this year.

Home builders' sales are declining, and automobile dealers are finding it harder to move cars, Johnson said.

His answer to the problems of threatening bad times is to line up the full force of the government.

The Senator is up for re-election next year. He opened an office here and announced that he would do quite a bit of traveling over Texas in the fall.

Senator Johnson's is one of many political races that will be run next year — but the entries are yet to be posted.

People who try to determine the shape of things to come have their eyes on the Democratic State Executive Committee's meeting at Mineral Wells, September 11.

Not indicate what subjects are to be discussed, but did not indicate what subjects are to be discussed.

Likely there will be some discussion of National Committeeman Wright Morrow, who supported Mr. Eisenhower for president last year.

National Democratic Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell, during a visit to Texas, said his committee does not recognize Morrow.

George Sandlin of Austin, secretary of the State Democratic Executive Committee, put it this way: "You never can tell what might happen when a bunch of Democrats meet."

That's about the way it is — and that's why the politicians have their eyes on Mineral Wells.

Getting back to the political races of next year, and trying to figure out who's going to run for what — the whole thing depends pretty much on what Governor Allan Shivers decides to do.

And if he has decided, he isn't telling.

Some say that the governor will announce his plans at Mineral Wells.

But the best guess seems to be that Shivers will keep 'em guessing.

There is reason in that line of thinking. For example: Should the governor announce that he is going to retire after serving his present term, then his influence with any special session of the Legislature, either late this year or early next year would be lessened.

As it is, Shivers is in a strong position, whether he intends to run for re-election as governor, seek some other office, or retire from public service. He can afford to wait.

But his waiting bedevils other prospective candidates who will run for one office or another, depending on what Shivers does.

Prime business at the Mineral Wells meeting will be plan-making on the part of the Shivers group, as opposed to the so-called Democratic "Loyalists" who have already perfected their organization with Byron Skelton of Temple as chairman.

The loyalists seek to regain control of the Democratic party machinery in Texas by overthrowing Shivers and those who, with him, succeeded in giving Texas to Eisenhower last year.

Not to be overlooked in the political picture are the Republicans, who have been working earnestly toward making Texas a two-party state.

Hearings on ouster charges against District Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin of Alice will delve deep into the dark and mysterious politics of that South Texas area where George Parr is reputed to be the big boss.

District Judge D. B. Wood of Georgetown was designated master in chancery for the hearings, which will develop testimony as to whether or not Laughlin should be removed from his office.

Twelve South Texas lawyers are leading the effort to remove Laughlin from the bench.

Laughlin's court serves, Starr,

Duval, Jim Wells, and Brooks counties, where the Parr influence is felt. Parr was a backer of Laughlin at his last election, in which he defeated Sam G. Reams.

Reams is one of many witnesses called to give testimony at the hearing.

Everett L. Looney of Austin, originally listed as one of the attorneys for Laughlin, removed himself from the case.

Looney, newly-elected president of the State Bar, is in Boston for a medical check.

SHORT SNORTS: The state has on hand a balance of $199,199,868 in all funds, which represents a decrease of $7,900,000 during July, according to the figures of State Treasurer Jesse James. — If you have deductible property damage and bodily injury insurance, that's not enough to satisfy the requirements of the driver responsibility law, says Casualty Insurance Commissioner Garland A. Smith. — Representative Phil Books of Bagwell resigned as a member of the Legislature, giving no reason in his letter to the governor. — New hunting and fishing licenses will be ready for sale about August 20. — The state parks board is distributing a directory showing the location of state parks and showing how to reach them by road. — If you like lamb chops, here's an item: According to the U. S. Department of Agriculture (which is supposed to know) the Texas lamb crop this year is 2,546,000 head, eight per cent higher than a year ago. — The governor appointed District Judge W. P. Hamblen Jr. of Houston to be chief justice of the Galveston Court of Criminal Appeals, succeeding the late Judge Walter E. Monteith. Replacing Hamblen was Spurgeon Bell, Houston lawyer.

to be delivered in September and after all, it is bought in an effort to raise prices. This should do it.

Fort Worth's hog price Monday climbed back to the year's high of $25.25-25.50 for top hogs. This was 25 to 50c higher. Sows were steady to 50c higher, selling $18.00-21.50.

Sheep and lambs ruled steady at Ft. Worth. Top lambs at $20, indicated that strictly choice kinds could bring $1 or $2 more. Medium, good and choice fat lambs sold from $14.00-20.00, cull to medium $10.00-14.00. Feeder lambs were held around $13.00-15.00. Old ewes $5.00-6.00; solid-mouthed ewes $7.00-10.00. Old wethers $7.00-10.00. Old bucks $2.00-3.00. Two's $10.00-12.00. Slaughter yearlings $10.00-17.00.

Good and choice fed steers and yearlings $18.00-23.50; common and medium grassers and short-feds $11.00-17.00; ranny yearlings $8.00-10.00.

Butcher and beef cows $9.50-12.00; canners and cutters $7.00-9.50. Bulls $8.00-13.00. Good and choice fat calves $13.50-16.50, few higher. Common and medium butcher sorts $10.00-13.00; culls $7.00-10.00. (Grassy calves and yearlings are at the lowest time since the third week in June.)

Good and choice stocker steer calves $13.00-18.00, heifers $15.50 down and good and choice stocker steer yearlings $13.00-16.00. Stocker cows $8.00 to $14.00.

Some criticism is being made of the feed-making industry because of their stand against certain practices in the growth feed program. Feed men are being pilloried by some producers for trying to get a program set up whereby the feed making industry can participate.

Much of this is grossly unfair. After all this program will bankrupt many small businessmen (feed dealers) in its present form. We can hardly blame an important segment of our national economy for fighting for its life.

They visited with his sister, Mrs. Charles Allen and family at Albany, took in the sights in New York City and visited the Roosevelt Shrine. They also went through the Empire State Building and the Statue of Liberty. They made side trips into Massachusetts and Vermont and saw many interesting sights enroute, both going and coming.

In the last article I discussed Tapeworms in some detail, as you will remember. Most folks in considering any kind of bowel inhabitant would much rather that the other fellow took care of the feeding and housing problems involved especially since these chummy little neighbors are free boarders and have no intention of putting up any cash for their maintenance.

Hookworm disease is caused by either of two fellows one from the Old World, and one Home-grown. In the former, he parades under the gentlemanly name of Ancylostoma Duodenale, in the latter, Necator Americanus alias Uncinaria Americana. In either case the papa measures about 1/2 inch long while mama is more portly and is about 3/4 inch, cylindrical with a hungry mouth and jaws with two razor sharp hooked teeth. Mother is a fertile producer of 3-4000 eggs per day which pass out in the stool, and if they land on the ground in a few days each little egg hatches into a tiny worm which feeds on the soil for a few days, long enough to build a weather tight sheath, then — when some little unsuspecting barefoot boy or girl, or older one comes by the sheath sticks with the dirt and mud usually to the feet and toes and Bingo! Mr. A. Duodenale, N. Americanus or U. Americana quickly chewing a tiny hole directly into a blood vessel then, whoosh, away he is carried in his little submarine directly to the heart and lungs where he runs aground in shallow current, out he pops and heads for shore. On reaching shore he makes another quick shift and burrows another hole through the retaining wall usually into the large tubes taking air into the lungs, bronchi, from there his irritating presence produces a cough into the throat of the individual who on not bringing much mucus up usually politely and obligingly swallows little mister Hookworm and half a hundred of his companions, and down the chute we go! Yippee! Yay! — through the stomach and into the first part of the small intestine, where "Happy homes were made for all", and "they lived happily ever afterward," and "they had many children and grandchildren."

This disease is most common in warm southern climates, usually in areas where children and adults often times go barefoot either for fun or necessity. In some areas of the South and Southwest, 50% or more of the population of a section of the country will be infested with these hidden varmints. The worms infest the first 618 feet of the small bowel and wherever their teeth cut through the lining an oozing wound is maintained which in turn causes the child or adult to have blood in his stool constantly (usually not bright red but dark, and difficult to determine unless a laboratory test is run.) and the individual in turn to become anemic, run down, irritable, lose weight, suffer from gas or indigestion, lack energy, short of breath, fluttering of heart, bulging or sagging abdomen, swelling of the legs and feet, have poor color, crave only certain foods, usually the ones which do not nourish him, and other common symptoms along the same line. There is some suggestion that these worms produce a poison also which wears the individual down.

One may have just "a few head" of worms or he can have a "right smart herd of these ornery critters," each of which produces thousands of eggs a day, drains considerable food and substance from the person, and lets his life blood ooze away unbeknown to the owner.

The diagnosis is usually fairly easily made by examining three stools taken on different days, and by having a blood count made to see how much blood and strength you have lost.

The treatment must be repeated two or three times a week apart to insure getting the various crops of worms and their immediate kinfolks, but they can definitely and completely be killed out without too much medicine or effort if the individual is aware of what is going on inside him and does something about it. — Then! and then after the enemy until he is thoroughly vanquished. In severe cases death can and has resulted from loss of blood or malnutrition. If no new infestation occurs the average worm will live about 7 years, if you can outlast him and the rest of his tribe. Rapid recovery to good health follows as soon as the worms are all removed.

Social Security Representative In Coleman Tuesday

Everyone agrees that it is a good idea to check his bank balance regularly for accuracy. The Abilene, Texas social security office says that you should also check on your social security account regularly. If you change jobs often, you should do this once a year. The social security office will gladly furnish you, free of charge, a post card form for your use in obtaining a complete record of your earnings as posted to your old-age and survivors insurance account. Remember, if there is an error in your account, delay in checking may prevent correcting it.

Mr. Ralph T. Fisher representative of the Abilene, Texas, Social Security Office will be in Coleman, Texas, at the Dept. of Public Welfare between the hours of 1:00 p. m. and 4:30 p. m. on Tuesday, August 25, 1953. He will be glad to discuss your social security questions with you. Persons who wish to file retirement claims are urged to call at that time for assistance in completing their applications. Persons who need help in connection with applications for survivor's insurance payments can also receive necessary advice and assistance.

Any reader wishing one of the post card forms to use in checking his account should write the Social Security Administration, Post Office Building, Abilene, Texas.

Mr. J. B. Tomlinson of Stephenville is here visiting his daughter, Mrs. Roy Stockard. Leroy Stockard, Jr., of Fort Worth, is expected home Friday, and the three plan a trip to Arkansas for a visit with friends at Little Rock and other sight-seeing in the Ozarks.

New Law For Texas Truckers

Texas Truckers have a pair of new laws to bone up on within the next few days.

Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, has announced that the two measures, which were enacted by the 53rd Texas Legislature, will go into effect on August 26th.

One of the laws provides that if a trucker overloads his vehicle in excess of the gross weight for which it is registered and is caught by the officers; he will be required to apply to the nearest available county tax assessor-collector for additional registration in an amount to take care of his overload before he can continue his trip. If he is over the maximum legal weight, Garrison said, he can still be unloaded on the spot, under the old law, before being allowed to proceed. Exception is made in the case of livestock or perishable merchandise, in which instances the operator shall be permitted to seek the nearest practical point along his route where his load may be protected from damage or destruction before being required to secure the additional registration.

The other law, Garrison explained, provides, generally, that any operator, other than the registered owner or his agent, of a commercial motor vehicle or truck tractor must file with the State Safety Department a copy of the lease or other agreement under which the vehicle is being operated. In addition, he must carry copies of the lease and of the letter of transmittal to the Department in the vehicle.

Kent Odom, Chief of the License and Weight Division of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said that this law is designed to curb "outlaw" truckers who afford no protection to shippers. He said that a copy of a booklet, giving detailed explanations of the laws provisions, will be sent to any trucker who requests it by writing to him at Austin.
