Thoughts

OF A COUNTRY EDITOR

BY JOHN C. GREGG

IS OUR TRAFFIC UNDER CONTROL

Monday afternoon an accident occurred under the signal light at the intersection of Wallis Avenue and North 2nd Street. As luck would have it no one was injured seriously and not too much damage was done to three automobiles involved in the accident. The accident occurred as a car going north on North 2nd Street was hit by a car going east on Wallis Ave. The car going east was pulling another car and the car being pulled broke loose and crashed against the curb. Luckily no one was in the street at the time. However one person had just stepped upon the sidewalk as all this took place. Had the accident occurred a few seconds sooner, disaster would have been the result.

During the past few months the traffic in Santa Anna has not been under control at all. It seems that we have a good number of vehicle drivers right here in Santa Anna that do not pay the least bit of attention to the signal lights and the longer the streets go unpatrolled the through traffic is getting more and more to where they pay little or no attention to the signal lights.

So far as this writer can see, there are ways this traffic can be controlled. During the day time the city does not have a law enforcement officer on duty. The nightwatchman is also the city marshal and is on call, but he sleeps during the day and is very seldom in town to even attempt to control traffic and take care of minor offenses that occur. We believe the city should either hire a regular City Marshal, to be on duty at all times or else take the signal lights down completely and let the traffic continue to go through the town at break-neck speeds.

There are warning signs on all the roads coming into town warning drivers that the speed limit through Santa Anna is 30 miles per hour. However, very few drivers pay any attention to them and go through town at any rate of speed that happens to suit their fancy, and they know that there is very little likelihood of them being stopped, even for a warning.

Another thing to think about is school will be starting again in about a month. There is a large number of children who live on the north side of Wallis Avenue who will have to cross the street to get to school. If the signal lights are removed all these children will just have to risk their necks getting across the street as will all the older people who depend to a large degree on these signal lights to give them an opportunity to cross the street.

What shall we do? Wait until someone is killed or badly injured before something is done about our traffic situation or will it be taken care of before this happens. When an average of three to four vehicles out of ten run through the red signal light, and usually at a high rate of speed, sometime or other, two of these vehicles are going to meet and when they do, someone is going to be badly mangled.

It is up to the City Council to do something about this. But it is up to the citizens of the town to inform the City Council that you want something done about it before a tragedy strikes the town.

Bob Stephenson, who was quite sick for a time, has improved of late. On Thursday of last week his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Cheaney, took him to Breckenridge, where he will stay awhile with his other daughter, Mrs. Jodie Baker and family.

Addresses Of Former Students Still Wanted

M. L. Guthrie, Jr., president of the Santa Anna Ex-Student Association, is still needing the names and addresses of former students of the Santa Anna High School. During the past few weeks we have carried a number of the names of former students of some of the earlier years. Good response has been received from a large number of these persons. However, we are not going to have time to run all the names of former students before time for the association to meet again this fall. So we are skipping a few years and this week we are listing the students of the class of 1929. A number of these students are still living here and several have already joined the association. However, the association wants a complete list of all addresses. Anything you can do to help will be appreciated. Just address your information to M. L. Guthrie, Jr., President Ex-Students Association, Santa Anna, Texas.

The Class of 1929 is as follows: Annie Stiles, Wayne Durham, Graham Hensley, Avis Chaffin, Lois Moore, J. L. Keeling, John William Burden, Ruby Rhea Bolton, Alvin Burden, Helen Hall, Fern McCaughan, J. E. McDonald, Grady Lowe, Juanita Bible, Queenie Gregg, Floyd Blair, Eugene Richardson, Velma Sealy, Merle Polk, James Penny, Jack Brusenhan, Bernice Crossland.

Vada Horner, Darwin Watson, Clara Pope, Douglas Burris, Pollock Wise, Pauline Williamson, Fannie Mae Estes, Vernon Johnson, J. B. Richardson, Annie Lou Dockery, Agnes Atkinson, Lonella Taylor, Inez Parker, Ellen Folk, Mary Folk, Raymond Bays, Virginia Pieratt, Edith Pittard and Nadyne Horner.

New Telephone Directories Ready For Delivery

New telephone directories for the Santa Anna Telephone Company are just about ready for delivery and plans for them to be delivered to each subscriber beginning on Saturday, August 1st. Deliveries will continue into next week until every telephone subscriber has received a new directory.

The new directory is printed on the same order as has been the custom the past several years. The telephone company requests that subscribers make as good use of the directory as possible and keep it near the telephone at all times.

The entire directory is a product of The Santa Anna News with nothing going into the directory from out of town except the raw materials it took to produce it. The News is proud of this fact and hope each of the subscribers are equally so.

Used Bicycle Needed By Missionary

Anyone who has a used bicycle which they would like to contribute or sell reasonably, can do a real Christian Service, if they will call Rev. Jack Payne, Red 168.

A letter was received recently by Rev. Payne from Rev. Felix Grospe, expressing thanks for help given by local people in his work as a native preacher in the Philippines. Rev. Grospe mentioned the need for a bicycle as a means of travel in his work and as a means of his son getting to school. He serves a circuit of seven small inland churches on the Island of Isabella in the Philippines. He is a graduate of Texas A & M College and teaches better methods of farming to the natives of his area.

He reported in his letter of the great ends the Communists are going to win the natives to their cause.

Be sure, if you have a bicycle you would like to either sell or give for a good cause, to contact Rev. Payne.

Local Methodist Named To Central Conference Board

R. K. Green was named last month to the Central Texas Conference Board of Temperance as one of the ten lay members who with an equal number of ministers afford leadership for the cause of abstinence in Methodist churches of this area. Mr. Green's nomination was approved by the meeting of the Annual Conference in Ft. Worth with more than one thousand delegates present and voting. In addition to this conference office, Green is Lay Leader of the local church and was its delegate to the conference.

The Conference Board of Temperance cooperates with the Methodist General Board of Temperance with headquarters in Washington, D. C. Its efforts have been responsible for alerting the public both Methodist and otherwise, to all pending legislation concerning the beverage alcohol industry and it has been outspoken in its efforts to curb crime and corruption in government and society by stamping out the liquor traffic.

Lions Den

A very good attendance was present for the weekly meeting of the Lions Club this week. Lion Harry C. Wigger had as his guest Brian deGraffenried, an employee of the tile company now in the process of being built here in Santa Anna. Lion Cullen Perry was back after being out for several weeks attending school.

Members of the club voted unanimously to increase the regular monthly dues from $4.00 per month to $5.00 per month, with the increase taking effect on the August dues. Upon recommendation of the directors this was presented to the club last week and voting on the proposal was delayed until this week.

Lion Tilden Jones was program chairman for the day and presented a plan for the club to sponsor a walking blood bank for the local hospital. Lion Jack Payne suggested that the Lions Club take the lead in a program of this kind and encourage members of the local National Guard and Fire Department to join the Lions in this endeavor.

After a motion was voted on and carried, the president appointed a committee composed of Ford Barnes as chairman and Tilden Jones, Carl Gilkerson, W. B. Griffin and Jack Payne, to arrange the details and set the times for members to go to the hospital to be typed. The hospital will not make any charge to persons typed to be used as blood donors.

Spring flowers were used in decorations when Mrs. C. D. Bruce was hostess at a coffee honoring her daughters, Mrs. Tom Robin and Mrs. Jack Kingsbery. This pleasant affair took place on Thursday, July 23rd, from 9 to 10 in the Bruce home.

Mrs. Vernon Herring opened the door for guests and in the receiving line were the hostess and honorees.

Mrs. John R. Banister, grandmother of the honorees, was at the register.

The dining table was covered with an imported Italian cut work cloth and centered with red rosebuds in a crystal vase.

Mrs. Bill Burney poured the coffee from a silver service and Mrs. Earl Erick, Jr., served the frosted punch from a crystal bowl.

Others in the house party were Mrs. Howard Kingsbery, Mrs. Charles Wristen, Mrs. Willard Allen, Mrs. Billy Joe Harvey, and Mrs. Tom Kingsbery.

Fellowship Enjoyed By Youth Of Two Local Churches

The Christian Endeavor and the Methodist Youth Fellowship enjoyed a combined after church fellowship Sunday at the home of the Norval Wylles. About twenty-five young people and eight adults were present to participate in fellowship and directed games led by the youth.

The youth of both churches enjoy the after church recreational periods each Sunday night. Frequently they are invited to the homes of the congregation; on other occasions they have the fellowship in the basement or on the lawn of the church.

Your Hospital . . .

Dr. Charles M. Henner answers questions submitted to the hospital. Each week one or two questions will be answered. Please address all questions to Dr. Charles M. Henner, Santa Anna Hospital, Santa Anna, Texas.

QUESTION

I enjoy your answers in the paper. Here is my question: What happens to the kidneys when over a period of time have occasional pus, epithelium with acid reaction? Blood count 14 gr. (93%) 5,200,000 red and 9000 white blood cells. Should patient have medical care?

ANSWER

I presume you mean a woman and probably middle aged, from your description. The commonest cause is a falling down of the bladder on the inside causing a small pool of urine to stagnate and form a source of constant or recurrent infection to the bladder and kidneys. Prolapse sagging bladder is usually due to bearing children. The only cure for this is a relatively simple surgical operation without any external incision.

Other common causes are chronically infected and decayed teeth, bad tonsils, chronic sinus trouble, lack of adequate water to flush the kidneys and bladder or finally lowered resistance due to a run down condition, anemia, serious illness.

Each and all infections or chronic kidney diseases damage the kidney filters and leave the kidney and the patient with decreased capacity to handle body wastes. Thus in turn predisposes the individual to more diseases with less resistance to combat them. Often the individual with a chronic kidney impairment feels sluggish and out of sorts with the world.

Every effort should be made in these cases to determine the cause of their recurrent urine infections whether small or severe. I would suggest that this patient have a thorough examination by either her family physician or a competent urologist, then take their advice.

Miss Kathryn Baxter is leaving this Thursday, for a visit with her sister, Mrs. E. E. Polk, and family at El Paso.

Virginia Wilson of Coleman, came Sunday for a visit of several days with Diane Williams. On Monday night Mrs. F. C. Williams entertained for them with a supper at her home with Martha Ray, Janice Donham and Elizabeth Knowles being present, after which she took all the girls to a show in Brownwood.

During Mr. O. J. Albro's two weeks vacation, he and Mrs. Albro have been getting about quite a bit. They visited almost a week with Mrs. Albro's people at Clarksville, two days at San Angelo, two days at Junction, and one day they were in Abilene on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Dudgeon and children, Johnnie and Ruth Ann of San Antonio, were week end visitors here with Mrs. Dudgeon's aunt, Mrs. A. E. Campbell. The others returned home but Mr. Dudgeon remained for a longer stay.

Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Priddy accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Mark Davis to Stephenville Sunday afternoon, when they took Don Davis back to Tarleton State College, where he is attending a band school.

Christian Home

Lesson for August 2, 1953

YOU can have a Christian town more easily than a Christian nation. You can have a Christian one-man business more easily than a Christian corporation. You can have a Christian church more readily than a Christian school. But you can come closest to a Christian group, 100 per cent, in a Christian home than anywhere else in the world.

Home Has Its Problems

A good Christian home is not automatic. Its praises can be sung too loudly. In sentimental moods people talk and write poems and even preach about the home as if it were just naturally a heaven on earth. Nonsense!

Dr. Foreman

Like all good things it has to be planned and worked out. Or again, they talk about the Great American Home as if it were a special product of this American nation. But there were homes before America was discovered. There are good homes wherever Christians are—in China, Africa, India, Fiji. There is no magic about America that makes an American home the best on earth. It is Christianity, not race or geography, that makes the best homes. A Christian home in Madagascar is likely to be better than a non-Christian home in Memphis.

But even a Christian home has its problems. How can old and young live happily under the same roof when "happy" doesn't mean the same thing at six, sixteen and sixty? How can you have an Executive Committee (husband and wife) with no one to break a tie vote? How can a father steer between being too strict and not being strict enough? How can a growing child learn independence without wrecking the place? Of course home has its problems. Life has its problems, and you don't get rid of them even when every one concerned is a practicing Christian.

Some Christian Intentions

One reason why a home can be more nearly Christian than any other social group, is that you can come nearer sharing the same basic intentions in that group than in any other. One intention that must be woven into a true home is that of permanence. Homes cannot claim to be Christian if they are no more than campsites. If husband and wife are not in it for keeps, they lack the first of all intentions that keep a home together. Further, a home that is Christian will welcome children. If children are accepted grudgingly, if they are thought of mainly as "mouths to feed," "brats," it is not a Christian home. Another Christian intention is the Golden Rule. "Be done by as you did" is somebody else's rule, not Christ's. If you go looking for slights and insults, if you go around insisting always on your "rights," if you have a chronically unforgiving spirit, you don't fit into a Christian home.

Christ in the Home

There is a motto sometimes seen on a wall: "Christ is the Head of This House." What does it mean to have Christ in the house? His picture on the wall won't do it, though it may help. Pious mottoes won't do it unless they express the real heart of those who live there. What does it mean to have Christ, not as an obscure occasional guest, not a stranger, but as Head of the house? He is Head when his ideas are known, followed and loved. He is Head when every one has the habit of thinking. Is this what He would do? He is Head when his spirit is in every heart. He said himself that he came not to be served but to serve; and the Christian home is one where every member of it carries out that purpose of Christ. When in a home there is prayer each day in His name—that is to say, when all the daily prayers of the family are not just "Gimme" prayers but such as Christ Himself would endorse, when time is taken out every day for prayer and all together at least once in the twenty-four hours think quietly about what it means to be Christian, then it is more and more likely that Christ will be truly the Head of that house. The problems will be there, and they will not be easy even for Christians; but no problem of Christian living, even at close range, is impossible when Christians work them out together in His name.

(Based on outlines copyrighted by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. Released by Community Press Service.)

"Sure, I know John Jones," said Joe. "Do business with him all the time — good as gold. I'll be glad to cash it for you. Just scribble your name on it."

Two weeks later the bank returned the check. The stranger who had signed the name "Ray Gar" on the back of the check was not Ray Gar. Joe had failed to identify the endorser of the check, and had no idea where the stranger could be found. As a result, he was out one tire and $38.10.

The next week a taxi driver friend, Rex Fenders, came in, ordered $3.00 worth of gas, and handed Joe a $50.00 check payable to Pete Smith, and signed "Miller Aluminum Company, Inc. James P. Pope, president." On the back, across the top, were the signatures: "Pete Smith, Rex Fenders."

Having completely forgotten his recent unfortunate experience, Joe shelled out $47.00 change. The check turned out to be worthless, there being no Miller Aluminum Company, Inc., in existence.

But this time, Joe was protected. He collected the $50 back from Rex Fenders.

An ordinary check, legally known as one form of negotiable instrument, is merely an order by its signer to the bank upon which it is drawn, to pay the specified amount to the person named on the check, or to the order of that person. The bank must pay only as directed by the signer of the check, or stand the loss itself.

What is meant when it is said that a check is a "negotiable instrument?" The ordinary check — that is, one payable to a designated person or order, or bearer — is negotiable, and by that is meant that any good faith or bona fide holder for value takes the check free from any defenses that may exist against it in the hands of the named payee.

When is the holder of a check an "innocent, good faith, or bona fide" holder? When anyone receives a check from a person other than the drawer of such check, for value and without knowledge of any defenses which such drawer may have against the payee named in the check, he is said to be an innocent, good faith or bona fide holder.

For instance, if the drawer should find, after delivering the check, that the consideration received by him had been misrepresented to him, this would be a good defense against payment of the check in the hands of the payee, but a third party receiving the check without knowledge of this defense would be an innocent, good faith or bona fide holder.

Anyone who indorses a check thereby warrants that the check is good and that all signatures thereon are genuine. Where it turns out that a check is worthless, or where the signature of the maker or one of the indorsers has been forged, the person holding the check may collect back the amount of the check from the last indorser. But obviously, if the holder doesn't know the last indorser, or where he is, his chances of collecting are very poor.

Know your indorser.

CATTLE PROSPECTS

Texas farmers and ranchmen, surveying their parched, brown earth and gaunt cattle, can very easily get a distorted picture of their future prospects. The situation is bad — but not hopeless.

Cattle owners must carefully consider their long-range plans. If you rush stock to the market which could be held, you may be cutting your income unnecessarily.

A larger part of our cattle back-log has been wiped out through quick marketing than many persons realize. Over 3 1/2 million more cattle and calves were slaughtered during the first six months of 1953 than at the same time last year. In many cases, even the foundation herds of cattlemen have been cut drastically or eliminated entirely.

There is always the danger of going too far. Although the extremely favorable prices of the last few years may not return soon, measures are being put into effect which should add some strength to the market and encourage conservation of our foundation herds.

Some relief is on the way in the form of drought hay purchases, reduced railroad fares for transportation of necessary fodder, and loans. Cottonseed pellets and meal is expected to sell to needy stock farmers at emergency prices of $35 a ton, corn at $1 a bushel, wheat at $1.10 and oats at 50 cents.

In addition, all efforts are towards quick and effective sale of beef through consumer advertising campaigns, government purchases and foreign exports. It seems likely that supplies of beef will continue high the next few years but that there will be very little increase in herd sizes. The long range effect is expected to help stabilize the market.

The stocker's chief problem will be in determining what part of his herd to sell and what to keep for continued production.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh
It's Fine To Be Fooled — Sometimes
Handy Peters entertained for the ladies of the Auxiliary the other night—and had the ladies believing for a while that he's the best marksman ever.
Handy put on a great act. He set up a whole bunch of balloons on a muslin backdrop and then took out his pea-shooter. He shot blindfolded, standing on his head, every which way—and broke a balloon every time!
No wonder Handy impressed the ladies. What they didn't know—till the show's end—was that Buck Mulligan was hiding behind the backdrop improving on Handy's aim with a hatpin.
From where I sit, we all get things "put over" on us now and again. When it's good-natured—fine! But, some folks would like to fool the rest of us into believing it's wrong to enjoy an occasional glass of beer—just because they prefer something else. For real American tolerance and neighborliness these people are simply "off target."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON-SERMON

The Christian Science Lesson-Sermon for this week entitled "Love" emphasizes the point that the understanding of God as Love frees from superstition and fear and their evil effects in individual human experience.

"We have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him." This Bible selection from I John (4:16) will be read in relation with the following from the Christian Science textbook by Mary Baker Eddy: "The starting-point of divine Science is that God, Spirit, is All-in-all, and that there is no other might nor Mind, — that God is Love, and therefore He is divine Principle" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, p. 275). This is in agreement with Paul's statement (II Corinthians 13:11), "Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you."
