AS WE GO TO PRESS, the Democratic state convention is going on in San Antonio. There has been much said about holding an open convention and recognizing every faction, and if this is done, it will be the first time in many a day that such has been cent of defense plant and Navy drastic shakeup among rank

Almost every state convention that we can remember has been a battle with the credentials committee for some faction or other. When the liberals had the upper hand, the conservatives caught it and vice versa, but that is not how it should be.

Of course the controversy starts back in the precinct, then moves to the county and on. Some faction feels that it is not getting treated right in the meeting and they pull out and hold rump conventions. claiming that they are the legal group to represent the precinct or county, and then the state committee has to try to unravel the mess. If they happen to be sympathetic with one faction or the other, sometimes they "just happen" to it their favor. Then the same thing happens again, and the national credentials committee has the job to do.

It is a shame that all of us can't just be willing to have fairness abound in these meetings, but that and his staff and a hospitable another place. seems to be not the nature of the brute. We have to Houston made the serious proexhibit our selfish leanings and want to throw out blems easier to study with a Mutcher was among the vetethe opposition, regardless of their representation.

The biggest noise will probably come from the McGovern backers, but don't underestimate the Wallace forces. There are a lot of people who support the Alabama governor in Texas and many are going to have their voices heard at the state convention.

A lot of people identify with Governor Wallace, and although they may not publicly say they support ture of the United States; a Bullock advocated future you can charge your medicine him, privately they say they would vote for him. The NASA economic impact report primary elections be held and on ANY credit card you own. main reason they will not publicly support him is because of the adverse publicity the nation's press has given him. He has been styled as a demagogue and th patterns. segregationist as well as an extremist. But I can remember when a lot of us would have fit that same shoe. However, many of us have mellowed over the years and it would be unfair to say that the Governor could not also. We have to take notice that Democratic opponents have shown him a lot of respect since he has made such a good showing in some of the primaries.

If we get right down to the facts, his ideology is very close to the old-time Southern Democrat of which most Texas Demos aligned themselves with in years past. The liberal really was unknown in Texas until about the end of the Truman administration. Before that most of them were known as Socialists.

A large number gave Franklin D. Roosevelt down the river when he came to power and introduced the NRA and other bureaus which began the trend that put us where we are today. His ideas were not so extreme, but, like many other good things, the first worked so we had to go to the extreme. It was like the man oiling the machine. If a drop of oil helped, a quart would do wonders. But, like machinery, people don't work that way. Too much of anything is just too much.

That quote from a political last week.

It's darned tough to serve as a public official these days.

Not just presidents, vicepresidents and candidates for threatened — but governors and candidates for governor face physical threats these days in America's political history.

This fact was brought to mind by the extremely tight security measures at the host hotel for the National Conference for state chief executives.

Security police, Texas Rangers, and state patrolmen almost outnumbered the governors, aides, newsmen and guests who were allowed to observe ant annual function of state spending during the next fisheads of government.

For those who say the railroads are at the beginning of the end, here's a progress report from Santa Fe that says it's much, much more like the end of a beginning.

MORE POWER

We're adding 52 new giant diesels and rebuilding 50 older units to provide a locomotive fleet producing over 3,850,000 horsepower.

MORE CARS

1910 additional cars are coming in 1972, including 100 giant refrigerated hopper cars for in-bulk movement of potatoes, oranges and other perishables.

MORE TERMINALS

Santa Fe's new million dollar rail and truck terminal has now been completed at Houston, Texas to meet expanding truck, Piggy-Back and container traffic.

BETTER SERVICE

Run through trains with connecting railroads link -east, west, and southwest and save hours moving through Santa Fe's electronic classification yard in Kansas City.

BETTER PIGGY-BACK

We're expanding Piggy-Back and containe-service all along the Santa Fe to handle increasing domestic and international shipments.

BETTER IDEAS

An expanding microwave network linked to our data system for car tracing and locomotive utilization, and plans for the development of a unique coaxial train for moving containers are just a few of the new ideas at work on the Santa Fe.

MORE and BETTER are key words at Santa Fe. What we're doing, is why we're saying, rail service is still one of the most efficient ways to move freight. What we're spending says so too: over $100 million this year in railway capital expenditures. One billion in the last 10 years. Two billion since World War II.

The railroad industry and the Nation need sensible transport regulatory policies administered with an even hand. We can take it from there—into a new era of railroading. Still think the railroads are at the beginning of the end? For Santa Fe it's more like the end of the beginning !
