Mountain Echoes

Even though we had had extremely hot and dry weather, gardens in the back yard have produced exceptional vegetables.

The Bob Burtons, who live at the former Tom Mills home, have a garden in the back yard that is producing king-size tomatoes. Two of the large tomatoes, still slightly green, weigh three pounds.

Mrs. C. P. Wenzel, an organic gardener, is selling produce from her garden with proceeds going to Seventh-day Adventist mission work. Mrs. Wenzel has already contributed $100 to the SDA "In-Wenzel" project.

Texas Parks and Wildlife officials had the dismal task recently of counting water-oriented fatalities from the Memorial Day weekend.

Over the four-day holiday, from 26 May to 29 May, 24 people lost their lives in Texas waters.

The warm weather brought out swimmers and 19 unfortunate bathers died in swimming accidents. One life was lost in a boating accident.

Perhaps the saddest statistic is that 13 fatalities were 15 years of age or younger.

A total of 121 Texans lost their lives in the water during May of 1972; that's 30 more than May of last year.

Only yesterday we learned of the death of an Abilene man who drowned Tuesday night at Lake Brownwood. The boat in which he and two companions were riding overturned in neck-deep water.

And lest we forget, July 2-8 is Boating Safety Week in Texas.

There is a saying, "you can lead a horse to water, etc." Not so with setting hens.

Six-year-old Jerry Dwayne Tucker has a way with chickens. He can catch any of the flock at his grandparents' the Archie Tuckers.

Not so long ago Jerry found a nest of eggs and caught a hen to put on the nest. The "un-setting" hen was not in the mood to stay on the eggs, so the little boy put her back on the nest.

When the second attempt did not work, Jerry got a rope tied the hen's legs securely, and put her on the nest despite her protests.

We haven't heard how the project is getting along.

Local Children Learn to Swim

Approximately 25 children are taking part in the summer swimming program which is being held this week and next at the Coleman pool.

The local children are being transported to Coleman by school bus each morning for the lessons, returning to Santa Anna before noon.

Larry and Beth Steele, Carol Kingsbery and Floyd Marshall are instructing the children. Cost for the instruction and transportation is 25 cents each day.

Other children are welcome to join the group this week. The children must be non-swimmers and have attended school at least one year. No class will be held on Tuesday, July 4.

Two Santa Anna City Employees Awarded State Certification

The official State Health Department's certificate of competency for work proficiency has been awarded to Tommy Elanton and Darwin Lovelady of Santa Anna. This certificate not only reflects the high regard in which Tommy and Darwin are held by state water officials, but also shows their importance to the community and their efforts to better prepare themselves for public service duties.

A certificate holder must complete a formal education, a specialized education, accumulate a prescribed amount of actual work experience and pass the examination given by the State Health Department Sanitary Engineers in order to qualify for certification.

The citation, which is signed by the State Health Commissioner, is awarded only to those utility personnel who have successfully demonstrated their skill and knowledge in using the modern principles of plant management.

The certificates are required by state laws for those supervising the production and distribution of water sold to the public and for the supervision of water pollution control facilities.

The huge and growing investment in miles of underground water distribution and wastewater collection systems and the complex treatment plants require expert operation and maintenance.

Operating these utilities efficiently and economically is stressed at the training courses leading up to certification.

The two men are employees of the City of Santa Anna.

SABBATH SPEAKER—Elder Travis Dennis, a former pastor of the Santa Anna Seventh-day Adventist Church, is shown with his family, Bobby, Mrs. Dennis and Beekie at the fellowship dinner at the Coleman Park Saturday noon. Rev. Dennis is presently pastor of two SDA churches in the Rio Grande Valley.

Former Pastor Guest Speaker For SDA Sabbath

Last Saturday morning the Santa Anna Seventh-day Adventist Church was host to their former pastor, Elder and Mrs. Travis E. Dennis and his family, his wife and daughter Beekie and son Bobby. Elder Dennis gave the sermon at the eleven o'clock hour, after which the church members met in the Coleman park for a pot-luck dinner.

Elder Dennis and family are now located at Mission, down in the valley, where he pastors two churches.

Mrs. C. F. Wenzel had charge of the Sabbath School hour. The last Sabbath of each quarter is what is termed Thirtieth Sabbath day, when special mention of needs in mission fields is made. Faye Lynne Cabansag drew a lesson from the life of Moses, how the Lord blessed him for his faithfulness to his God. Mr. Emil Villanra gave some high points of his recent visit with his mother and other members of his family in the Philippines. He spent four days of the two weeks in the hospital, but nevertheless he had a very enjoyable and profitable visit with his relatives.

HERE FROM FORT WORTH

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Wenzel visited friends in Fort Worth the first of the week.

Western Horseman Magazine Has Story About James Allen

The July issue of Western Horseman magazine has a feature story about James Allen, local steer roper. The story is entitled "Steer Roping Training With James Allen" and tells in detail how the local roper and horse trader trains horses for the steer roping event.

Included in the long story are many pictures showing how the training process is completed. Also given is a brief story of Allen's career as a professional steer roper.

The writer and photographer spent an entire day at Allen ranch north of Santa Anna last winter and made the pictures and took notes for the story.

Western Horseman magazine has a circulation of 229,230, the largest circulation of any horse magazine in the world. Copies of the July issue went on the newsstands this week.

Housing Loans Now Available To Rural Folks

Many additional families in Texas are now eligible for rural housing loans from the Farmers Home Administration. FHA State Director J. Lynn Futch announced this week.

"In families where both husband and wife are employed," Futch explained, "the new policy permits half of the wife's gross income to be excluded in determining whether the total family income is within the maximum limit for loan eligibility."

For example, the husband is the principal source of income with $6,000. His wife earns $4,000. His entire income, plus half of his wife's or $2,000, total $8,000. This is within Texas' moderate income level of $8,000 so the family may be eligible for a Farmers Home Administration loan.

S-Anna Native Is Assigned New Pastorate

At the recent session of the North Texas Conference of the United Methodist Church, Rev. Weldon Haynes was appointed associate pastor of Floral Heights United Methodist Church in Wichita Falls. He and his family have moved to Wichita Falls where he has begun his work with the church.

Floral Heights is a church of just over 2,000 members. As associate pastor Rev. Haynes will be sharing the pastoral and program responsibilities of the church.

Rev. Haynes, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Haynes of Santa Anna, is a 1961 graduate of Santa Anna High School, received his BA degree from Edward Payne College and holds a Master of Theology degree from Southern Methodist University.

In Our Opinion

By W. T. HAYS

IN A SPEECH before the Texas Press Association last week, Charles Simons, a member of the Texas Highway Commission, told newsmen that there is a move in Washington to merge the Department of Transportation with such bureaus as the Department of Housing and Urban Development, The Office of Economic Opportunity, and elements of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, all together into a Department of Community Affairs.

How this conglomeration could operate trying to cover the varied operations they would need to cover is a good question. Above all, the planning of highways and use of highway funds does not need to get mixed up with such bureaus as HEW, HUD or the OEO. These three bureaus are political organizations with a single group to serve, that is the underprivileged, and the poor. How the highway commission could fit into the organization is something to be wondered at. It is completely unrelated to the other bureaus, and it would seem to us that this would be a way to divert funds designated to highway construction to the use of welfare projects.

The act of 1956 established the highway trust fund by the establishment of a special highway users tax. At that time the federal government had left most highway building and the collection of tax revenues for this purpose to the states. When the federal government stepped into the act they promised that funds collected for this purpose would be used to construct the Interstate system and other primary highways exclusively. Now appears the schemes to divert the funds so designated to other uses. Among them is a project to build a mass rail transit system on the eastern seaboard and also in some midwest cities.

Federally collected highway funds should be disbursed on a pro-rata basis, and should not be held and given to a select group, when they are collected from every state in the union.

Texas has produced its own mass transit system, and paid for it from highway tax money, and we feel that other states could do their own also.

Already efforts to siphon off some of this money for other uses (the highway trust fund) has delayed the construction of some highways in Texas and the completion of some interstate systems already started.

Proposed revenue sharing does not solve the problem, either, for under it the state would receive less return for their tax dollar than they do now.

The best solution would be for the federal government to get out of the highway building program and return the state resume financing, construction and maintenance of the highway system. That way we wouldn't have to send $2 to Washington, and get $1 back.

One only needs to get out of Texas to appreciate our own state's highways. Almost any direction we go, we find the highways worse than our own. Also in many neighboring states we find that when there is a good highway, it is a toll road built to return to the state its cost in tolls. So far, Texas has few toll roads, and most of the big interstates are freeways.

We probably have more miles of four-lane and above highways than any state in the union, yet we are not first population-wise and much larger in size than any state with the exception of Alaska.

We have to give credit to the wise operation of the Texas Highway Commission and the good management of the Texas Highway Department when we consider the development of the highway system in our state. Other states with just as much or more funds have not done nearly so well.

That is why we don't need to divert tax money collected in Texas for highway use to non-related bureaus for such purposes as welfare, housing and other things.

STATE Capital NEWS By BILL BOYKIN

Austin — Legislators are moving along methodically toward completing work on a $3.8 billion 1973 state budget and trying to stay within revenue available.

Presiding officers set a "before-July 4" adjournment target date, but whether they could make it or not remained to be seen.

Gov. Preston Smith stuck by his pledge — to submit no additional business to the special session until the appropriations act is agreed on.

A representative's effort via resolution — to persuade Smith to "open the call" was rejected, when the House failed to suspend rules (on a 62-55 vote) and permit consideration. Proponents of the resolution argued the session is costing taxpayers $34,000 a day, but nothing could be accomplished while committees continued to process the appropriations act.

Progress was possible toward better legislative rules as both houses marked time before the budget landed on members' desks.

The senate adopted a new set of procedures, providing for fewer and smaller committees and permitting, for the first time, open floor debate on appointments matters.

The house also took a look at further rules amendments designed to reform the committee structure and improve legislative machinery.

Meanwhile, the Senate waded through confirmations of hundreds of interim appointments by the governor, occasionally finding one to reject.

COURTS SPEAK — Sentences of 250 years given three Dallas men in shootings during robberies were upheld by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

The court also upheld the 10-year sentence of a Houston man in the fatal shooting of a pregnant woman.

A federal court suit charging discrimination against minorities at the University of Texas at El Paso has been moved to El Paso for trial.

DRAFT CALL SET — About 500 young Texans will be inducted into the Army during August, State Selective Service Melvin Glantz predicted.

Men in the first priority group with numbers of 75 or lower are subject to induction. Those in this range were born in 1952 or before, have lost a draft deferment during 1972 and are now classified 1-A, 1-A-O or 1-O.

There is no quota for Texas, but Glantz noted an increase of 25 in the lottery number for induction from the July draft call. August induction orders will be issued between July 3 and July 28.

LIVESTOCK EXPORT HALT THREATENED — The Mexican government, unhappy with quarantine facilities, threatens to halt export of Texas livestock through major border cities. Agriculture Commissioner John White said.

White said the state faces possible closing of border gates to Texas cattle at El Paso, Laredo, and Brownsville, with re-routing of valuable state export market shipments through Miami, Fla.

Mexican officials insist on "adequate quarantine corrals." Such facilities are under construction at Del Rio and Eagle Pass. White said Texas has not had time and money to build the corrals elsewhere.

He said the export halt would have a "serious impact" on a multi-million-dollar program.

AG OPINIONS — The University of Houston may not collect a voluntary fee from students to finance the Texas Public Interest Research Group, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded:

- A driver who operates his car in a negligent, but not "grossly negligent," manner not in violation of a law or ordinance may be tried under negligent homicide statutes if he causes a death. But one who causes death by "gross negligence" while violating a law or ordinance may not be tried for negligent homicide.

- The State comptroller is not authorized to issue a warrant for overpayments of salaries to state agencies when he has knowledge the claim is in excess of the lawful maximum. Neither does he have authority to issue a warrant for an amount greater than that requested by another department head.

- The Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation can make payment in cash to its employees who are subject to the provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act for authorized overtime.

- A court clerk or reporter is not required to prepare and furnish any portion of the record to individuals confined in state and federal penitentiaries under a pauper's oath in the absence of a court order.

- Texas Water Development Board and Texas Water Quality Board cannot amend joint rules to authorize purchase of certificates of obligation except for purposes outlined in statutes.

- The estate of a state employee is entitled to, as death benefit, accumulated vacation time accrued in two prior years, plus that in year of death.

REVACCINATION URGED — Revaccination of horses immunized during the Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis outbreak in 1971 was advised by Texas Veterinary Medical Association and Texas Animal Health Commission.

TAHC and TVMA officials said, although no epidemic is eminent, revaccination is good insurance against the deadly form of sleeping sickness in horses. About 2,000 horses died in Texas during last year's epidemic, and 90 cases of VEE in humans was reported.

APPOINTMENTS — Governor Smith reappointed James Matthew Syler of Newton to the Sabine River Compact Commission.

Smith named Julian O. Crooke of Beaumont, William Francis Fredeman of Port Arthur, William Madison Monroe of Port Arthur, William Putnam Sexton of Orange and Lee Blanchette Wheat of Beaumont pilot commissioners for the Sabine Bar, Pass and Tributaries.

NEW VETERANS AID MADE DEBUT — A new national program to help veterans make a smooth transition to civilian life was initiated here last week.

Mobile vans staffed by six specialists in veterans' services offer information on education, training, jobs, loans and medical care available to veterans. The vans later moved on to San Marcos and scheduled visits to New Braunfels, Seguin, Victoria, Corpus Christi, Kingsville, Galveston, Lufkin, Beaumont and Houston.

REFUNDS AVAILABLE — Income tax refunds are available for prisoners of war, those missing in action and their families, Internal Revenue Service District Director R. L. Phinney announced.

Phinney said new law provides that military or government pay may be excluded while servicemen or civilian employees of the government are imprisoned or missing, retroactive to Feb. 28, 1961.

SHORT SNORTS — Democratic officials will meet in Abilene Friday (June 30) to pick a new District 61 nominee for state representative to replace David W. Ratliff of Stamford who declined the nomination after legal troubles.

The first bale of cotton in the U. S. was ginned June 20 at San Juan in the Rio Grande Valley.

Twenty five nominees from among 275 highway department maintenance foreman will compete for the third annual Lady Bird Johnson Award for highway beautification.

More than 1,700 Texans who violated game, fish and boating laws last month paid about $38,000 in fines. Most of them fished without a license — and paid fines from $5 to $50.

Thirty-one applications to sell more than $11.8 million in securities were filed with the State Securities Board last week.

Waste control regulations for the turkey growing industry have been prepared for Texas Water Quality Board consideration.

Plans to establish 154 new manufacturing plants in Texas and to expand 115 others were reported, during the first six months of 1972, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Russell H. Perry of Dallas was named president of Texas Good Roads Association, succeeding Callan Graham of Austin. Wade Lorenz of Freeport is first vice-president.

THE TRICKHAM UNION CHURCH

TRICKHAM UNION CHURCH

The Trickham Union Church has been a part of the Trickham Community for almost a century. Although records are sparse and few remain who remember the early days of the church, bits and pieces of information have been assembled to form a history of the congregation.

The Trickham Union Church is not a union congregation. The church is composed of three separate congregations, Methodist, Baptist and Cumberland Presbyterian, who all worship in the same building on different Sundays each month. At the present time the Baptists have services two Sundays each month and the Methodists and Cumberland Presbyterians each have services once a month.

Methodists Establish Mission

The oldest record that has been found is from a Methodist record book. The 95-year-old entry records the quarterly business meeting.

In June, 1877, A. H. Miller held the quarterly conference at Trickham, Texas. A. H. Miller was the presiding elder of the Breckenridge District of the North West Texas Methodist Conference.

On this day A. H. Miller decided a plot of land located six miles north of the Santa Anna Mountain and 50 degrees west, to Wesley Frances, Dannie Collier and J. T. White for a church site for the Coleman mission. The transaction is recorded J-136 Coleman County Clerk's office. A. H. Miller to the Methodist Church.

It can be assumed that the Trickham Methodist congregation was rather well established at that date as the congregation was already helping sponsor a mission in "Coleman City."

An interesting note, also recorded in Volume F-83, Coleman Clerk Office, lists Wesley C. Frances and Wife Virginia, deeding five acres of land, paid $1.00 in hand, to Trustees Dannie Collier, J. T. White and Wesley Frances. The deed was recorded on July 31, 1880 with David McAlister as notary public and L. C. Williamson as County Clerk.

The acreage, located about three and one-half miles south of Trickham on Mukewater Creek, is now in the Taylor Ranch acreage and described in original field notes as follows:

"Beginning at the N.W. corner of Survey No. 227 in the name of B. S. Greyson, a stone mound from a live oak tree 12 inches in diameter, bears north 81, east 58 varas, double live oak, bears west 43 vrs., thence south 100 vrs. to a stone mound a live oak 15 inches in diameter; north 25 degrees, east 54 vrs., thence east 250 vrs. to a stone mound on the bank of Mukewater Creek. From which a 10 inch live oak bears north 25 degrees east vrs. thence up Mukewater Creek, thence west 270 vrs. to point of beginning."

For what purpose the property was decided the church trustees or for what it was used is perhaps lost to history.

New Church Clerk Named

The next mention of any church business was on October 9, 1892, when George B. Ford was elected Methodist Church secretary to replace the late W. D. Watson. Mr. Watson was mortally wounded in a cyclone that instantly killed four of his children, on March 16, 1892. The Methodist record, kept in the Watson home, was blown away in the storm and found two miles away, damaged but still legible. The book is still in fair condition and in the possession of Bernice Melver.

Mr. Ford served as church secretary from 1892 until 1904. Elmer Haynes succeeded Mr. Ford and also served as long number of years. No list of members of the Methodist congregation was given in the early record book.

Mukewater Baptist Church

The original Trickham Baptist congregation was organized in 1878 three miles north of Trickham on the east side of Mukewater Creek about one mile north of John Chisum's first store. The property is now owned by Wylie McClatchy, Baptist records read as follows:

"The Mukewater Baptist Church of Christ was organized by Bro. N. J. Byers on Mukewater Creek in Coleman County, Texas, the third Lord's Day in May A.D. 1878 with the following members: Male—W. M. Calloway, James L. Bryant, J. L. Tindle, W. C. Sawyers, Female—Byrtha Bryant, Susan Tindle, M. Lou Calloway, and Virginia Francis."

The church met in the original Mukewater school house, described as a one-room log structure.

There is no record of any Baptist Church business until 1891 when the members voted to get a new church book as the old book was in such bad shape. They couldn't tell who were members and who weren't.

The church members approved the purchase of a new record book and the addition of the names of B. C. Hardin, church clerk, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Lancaster, Sam

See, Sr., Mrs. Prudence See, Miss Mollie See, Miss Sally See, Sam See, Jr., and James See.

The Baptist congregation kept the Mukewater name until August 1908 when the membership voted to change the name to Trickham Baptist Church.

Cumberland Presbyterians

The first mention of the Trickham Cumberland Presbyterian organization is found dated 1895. The original record book, now in the possession of Oll Martin of Trickham, begins as follows:

"Monday following the 4th Sabbath in August 1895, the following persons being members of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church met and organized themselves into a congregation known as Trickham, Congregation of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church."

Charter members of the congregation were M. J. Stacy, W. W. Beard, J. D. Haynes, Mrs. Lula Stacy, Mrs. Bell Peaird and Mrs. Julia Haynes.

Brothers Stacy, Beard and Haynes, having been elders in their respective congregations, were elected elders in the Trickham congregation. The old record continues as follows:

"After preaching by Rev. J. B. Wright, the session being duly open, the following persons presented themselves and having given satisfactory evidence of their conversion to God by his Holy Spirit, were admitted to full membership in this church. Rev. J. B. Wright was employed as temporary supply.

Session adjourned. (Signed) J. B. Wright, moderator; M. J. Stacy, clerk."

Other persons uniting with the congregation that day were Kate Woosley, Leona Beard, Viola Voltentine, Eugene Wilson, J. A. McClatchey, Mattie McClatchey, and Una Stacy.

First Meeting Place

The first meeting place for the Trickham congregations was at the two-story school house. The ground floor was used for school and church and the upper floor was the Masonic Hall. The Baptist Sunday School was organized April 24, 1898 and met in the Masonic Hall. Records show the following officers and teachers: elected:

Bro. D. S. Harrell, Supt.; Miss Kate Jenkins, secretary; Miss Laura Watson, organist; Mrs. Walters, teacher of the infant class; Mrs. Lancaster, teacher for the intermediate class; D. J. Byars, advanced class; T. J. Lancaster, Bible class. The newly organized Sunday School had an enrollment of 50.

New Building Planned

Although several people can still recall attending Sunday School and church in the old two-story building after the turn of the century, Trickham religious leaders

FIRST CHURCH BUILDING . . . completed in 1903, the first Trickham Union Church building was used for 44 years by community residents. The roof of the structure was originally of higher pitch than shown here. (Photo courtesy of Mrs. W. S. Stacy).

PRESENT CHURCH BUILDING . . . Trickham Baptists, Methodists and Cumberland Presbyterians now hold services in the attractive brick structure which was built in 1947. The three congregations have worshipped together for almost a century.

envisioned a new building as early as 1896. A petition or pledge sheet, now kept by Glen Haynes of Brownwood, is headed as follows:

"We the undersigned agree to pay the amount opposite our names by the first day of November 1896 for the purpose of building a house of worship for the Methodist Church South. Said building to cost $700 and to seat 200 people."

The first pledge from W. F. Guthrie was for four head of horses. The rest of the list was for contributions from one to twenty-five dollars from the following: Trickham, Santa Anna and Coleman people:

R. H. McCormick, B. W. McIver, W. S. Ford, J. W. Dockery, E. Henderson, Sarah McElreath, Hart Elder, W. D. Mathews, E. S. Fiveash, W. A. Lowe, W. W. Odom, J. D. Simpson, Dr. T. M. Hayes, Mathews and Phillips, M. Tyson, A. N. Elue, J. E. Hall, C. A. Chambers, D. L. McDaniel and A. Jones and Co.

Others listed on the old record are W. R. Kelley and Co., Mrs. L. V. Stockard, B. F. Rose, Jas. D. Mann, J. K. Baker, James T. Sanders, R. V. Wood, J. A. McElrath, S. H. Gilliland, C. A. Hemphill, R. F. Brown, J. C. Dibrell and W. R. Baxter.

Baptist Methodist Mission

The Methodist congregation at Trickham has recorded more missionary projects than either of the other early denominations. A circular letter on Santa Anna News print is dated August 1896 and reads as follows:

"Dear Brethren and Sisters:

We are building a house of worship for the M. E. C. S. Eangs mission, Brownwood District, North West Texas Conference. We have done what we can and find that two hundred dollars must be raised elsewhere or the work stop while the cause of Christ suffers.

Therefore this appeal to you. Will you not help us now? Any sum, however small, thankfully received.

A list of all donors will be placed in the corner stone. Shall we not have yours to put in?

Yours for a Church of Christ, G. B. Ford, Steward Reference, W. M. Shelton, P. E. C. S. Cameron, P. C.

Remit Registered to Trickham, Texas, or Money Order to Brownwood, Texas."

First Building Completed
The first regular Trickham Church was built in 1903. The church building was a large one-room structure, similar to the Santa Anna First Christian Church, only of larger size. The building had high ceilings and in 1922 when the original steep half-pitch roof was removed, a new flatter roof was constructed.

Oil burning flares were used for lights in the original building and the seats were cane-bottom chairs.

Revivals and meetings were held each year in most community churches and the Trickham Church was no exception. A record of one early revival states that in August 1897 the Cumberland Presbyterian members voted to go into a protracted meeting with the Methodist congregation.

Protracted meetings were planned with the starting date set and services continuing each night as long as there was interest and response. Baptisms for the Baptists and Presbyterians were held in Mukewater Creek, with some families camping along the creek for the duration of the meeting.

The men of the community would meet and build an arbor with a top of net wire. The wire was covered with straw or brush. The Trickham church arbor was located southeast of the church building.

When a funeral was held in the community, the procession would be composed of people in buggies, hacks, wagons and on horseback. When the procession would get within a mile or so of the Trickham church someone would climb the stairway to the top of the schoolhouse and toll the bell until the crowd arrived and got their teams and horses tied.

New Brick Building

The present Trickham Union Church building was constructed in 1947. Men of the community helped with the work, and lumber from the old building was used in the construction. The attractive brick building contains an auditorium and six classrooms.

The exact membership of the Trickham congregation is not known. However, there are only three resident members of the Presbyterian congregation—Mr. and Mrs. Oll Martin and Mrs. Bond Featherston. The Trickham congregation is the only Cumberland Presbyterian group in this area.

Methodist Minister

Near complete lists of the ministers of the Trickham congregations have been compiled. Methodist pastors, beginning in 1894 include Rev. J. B. Denbon; 1895—C. E. Siatham; 1896—C. S. Cameron;

The history of the Trickham Union Church was gathered and compiled by Glen Haynes of Brownwood, a former Trickham resident. Mr. Haynes searched old record books, courthouse records and interviewed early-day church members and pastors to get the information. We appreciate the cooperation of all those who helped with the story.

Decorated anniversary cake was served by Kim Stewardson, granddaughter of the honorees, Dann Long and Mrs. Curtis Bryan. Mrs. Aubrey Scarborough ladled punch from a crystal bowl. Mints and nuts were also served from crystal containers.

Others assisting with hostess duties were Mrs. Burgess Stewardson, Mrs. Rex Mahan, Mrs. Thad Sansing and Terry Sansing of Coleman, and Mrs. Raymond Ellis of San Saba.

McKinley, the highest mountain in North America, and also saw numerous other snow-covered mountains. Many lakes and rivers were still frozen over, though the long days have set in there is still daylight most of the time. The temperature ranged from 45 to 55 degrees. Whon News

By Mrs. Tom Rutherford

We were so surprised Saturday afternoon when we answered a door knock, and were greeted by Mr. Joe Christi Barnes. His daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Perkins and son, Lem Fairbanks, Alaska, and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Barnes. Mrs. Perkins is the former Bobbie Barnes. The baby child and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe C. Barnes who formerly made their home in the Whon community. Bobbie is now the wife of a very nice guy, and the mother of three lovely children, and Bobbie still looks like she did when a mere child and really doesn't look so much older. Just motherly looking.

Mr. and Mrs. Perkins and children left Alaska traveling by camper about a month ago and have been doing lots of sightseeing and visiting along the way. They have been with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Christi Barnes, who are now living on a ranch near Strawn. The group was sight seeing in our community and especially on the ranch of Mr. Ferd Barnes over the weekend spending the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Ford Barnes in Santa Anna. They were to return to Strawn Sunday afternoon. Bobbie states she loves living in Alaska, but admits it is a long way from her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Morris were in Brownwood Tuesday of last week and attended a Morris and Underwood reunion at the Underwood business in Brownwood. The day was enjoyed by a large group of relatives with lots of eats and a cool nice place to enjoy the fellowship together.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Avants of Brady and Mrs. Avants' mother, Mrs. John X. Steward of Rockwood visited with Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Avants Sunday afternoon. The children of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morgan of Rockwood are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Morris and Mr. and Mrs. John David Morris.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Smith and children of Coleman and friends of near Coleman spent Saturday night on the Jim and Faye Gill ranch here. Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Avants visited with the group awhile Saturday night or late afternoon.

The New Hope congregation appreciated the interest of the visitors and participated in planning for local Sunday School work and youth work. The visitors will be visiting the church at a later date to make additional plans for local work.

The cooler the home,
the warmer the marriage.

Marriages may be made in heaven, but it's hard to keep them heavenly when it's hotter than blazes.

That's where central gas air conditioning comes in. It can bring you together. All summer long. As close as you want. All summer long.

And it won't cost you much either. In fact, if you have gas heating in your home, you could easily have half a central air conditioning system already. Because you may be able to use the duct work and furnace blower you already have. That saves about fifty percent on installation costs.

That's just part of the savings. Gas costs less to operate than electricity. And gas air conditioning owners get special low rates during the long hot summer months.

But you'll save more than money with gas. You'll save time and energy, too. Because with central gas air conditioning there are fewer moving parts. Fewer breakdowns. Fewer repairs.

This summer, have central gas air conditioning installed. For loves sake.

County Agent's News...

I just returned from a two week study course in Colorado. The temperature at Ft. Collins never passed 82 degrees and this Texas heat is really telling on me.

After two weeks of absence there are always problems when you return. Peach trees are turning yellow, club lambs sick, rotten tomatoes on the desk defy diagnosis. Its all part of an interesting profession.

was by with some thrip infested cotton. Clovis said he planted most of his field with treated seed and it wasn't affected. This is a real demonstration of the value of treated seed. The systemic insecticides in treated seed generally protect the young plant. For those who haven't had trouble with thrips, they cause silvering of the bottom leaves and disfiguration of the top leaves. They can cause stunting of the plant.

Screwworms are still hitting the county hard. Remember to treat all wounds and let's all fight this bothersome pest. Collect all worms in wounds. Free collecting cases are available in our office.

Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q) Will the IRS automatically give a taxpayer an extension of time to file his income tax return?

A) A taxpayer can now get an automatic two-month extension to file his Form 1040 by properly completing Form 4868 and sending it to the IRS along with payment of tax that is estimated to be owed for the year. This extension is available for tax years ending on or after December 31, 1971 and thus can be taken during the current filing season. The Form 4868 must be filed with the IRS Service Center on or before the due date of the Form 1040.

Q) How did the new tax law change the personal exemption and standard deduction on this year's tax return?
A) The Revenue Act of 1971 increased the personal exemption to $675 for tax year 1971. The "new law" did not change the standard deduction which the Tax Reform Act of 1969 had increased to 13 percent of adjusted gross income, or $1500, whichever is less.

Q) Where can I get some information about the tax treatment of a DISC—the Domestic International Sales Corporation—established by the new tax law?

A) A copy of Publication 17, "Your Federal Income Tax," can be purchased for 75 cents at IRS district offices, the Government Printing Office in Washington, D. C. 20402, and many post offices throughout the country.
Q) Should I still use Schedule D to report a gain from the sale of rental property?
A) No. Schedule D is now used only for reporting the sale or exchange of a capital asset and in computing the alternative tax. Form 4797, "Supplemental Schedule of Gains and Losses," should be used to report certain sales, exchanges, or involuntary conversions of business or depreciable property, including the sale of rental property.

A) A new publication, "DISC—A Handbook for Exporters" can be obtained for 40 cents from the Superintendent of Document, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402. You may also call your IRS office for information on DISC.
Q) Are alimony payments deductible?
A) Yes, if you itemize deductions on your return. The person who receives alimony must include these payments in income. The reverse is true for child support payments. These payments are not deductible to the one who pays them and are nontaxable to the recipient.

Q) I made a political contribution last year. May I deduct it on my 1971 return?
A) No. Under the Revenue Act of 1971, only political contributions made after December 31, 1971 can be deducted up to $50 ($100 for a joint return), if you itemize deductions. Instead of a deduction, the taxpayer can take a credit on his 1972 return against his tax for 50 percent of the contribution up to $12.50 ($25 for a joint return).

Q) I understand that the IRS has an official income tax guide for individuals. Where can I get a copy?
A) A copy of Publication 17, "Your Federal Income Tax," can be purchased for 75 cents at IRS district offices, the Government Printing Office in Washington, D. C. 20402, and many post offices throughout the country.

How to build a family nest egg with U.S. Savings Bonds.

It takes money to feed a family. It takes money to clothe a family. It takes money to house a family. It takes money to send the kids to school, buy a car, give birthday presents, make insurance payments and pay the doctor.

With all the dues it takes just to make it from one day to the next, how's a man going to find a buck to tuck away? How's he going to sock away enough to make tomorrow a better day? How's a man going to build a family nest egg?

It might be easier than you think. All you have to do is sign up for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. That way you can have a small amount taken from your paycheck, before you receive it, and invested in U.S. Savings Bonds. Your nest egg grows automatically each and every payday.

And now, U.S. Savings Bonds pay 5% interest when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year; 5.20% thereafter to maturity). That's the highest rate ever. Join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Before you know it, those small deductions and the new interest rate will have grown into a comfortable kitty, a respectable family nest egg, a better tomorrow.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a proud way to save.

Take stock in America.
With higher paying U.S. Savings Bonds.

FABULOUS, FRIVOLOUS FOURTH

That day of days is aimed here—July the Fourth. It's that happy national holiday that's applauded alike by the makers of fireworks and calomine lotion. And dreaded by those who enjoy it too much.

It's a day known for family outings, fireworks displays, blanket tosses, blueberry whale blubber ice cream, damp deer, and St. Martin.

But perhaps July the Fourth is best known as Independence Day—a day with both the applause and the dread. Applause for another birthday of our freedom. Dread from harassed fathers driving cars full of assorted relatives, dogs, and screaming kids through bumper-to-bumper traffic. And dreaded by the bug-stung, sunburned vacationers who had too much of a good thing.

BEFORE 1776

The Fourth has not always been freedom's birthday—nor the vacationer's dream-time. It has been celebrated in many different ways for centuries, which may be surprising to those who thought that there was no Fourth of July before 1776. But it's true.

July the Fourth once was celebrated in honor of St. Martin. And that's where the damp deer (or soggy stags, as the natives of Scotland say) come in.

St. Martin of Bullion was a very popular Scottish saint. It was once popular to claim that the weather which prevailed on St. Martin's Day (or Bullion Day) was prophetic. It was a kind of medieval groundhog day. But instead of groundhogs, the weather prophets were the deer. "If the deer rise dry and lay down dry," the saying went, "there will be a good fall harvest." If the deer rose wet or lay down wet, then that meant 20 days of rain.

AFTER 1776

But back to America. Few took notice of the first American Fourth. In fact, the Declaration of Independence was read on July 4, 1776, as more or less an impromptu speech to a few passers-by. Someone read the document from a platform erected in the street to observe the passing of the planet Venus. It was not until the next year, 1777, that the nation had its first Fourth of July celebration. That year, John Adams went to the July Fourth dinner on a ship named "The Delaware." And he danced to the music of a band of Hessians taken prisoner at Trenton. Guy Lombardo didn't come until later—much later.

FIRECRACKERS AND FESTIVITIES

Fireworks became a popular way to express July Fourth enthusiasm soon after our country started making history. The bang-up idea was probably borrowed from the Chinese custom of setting off firecrackers on New Year's Eve to drive away evil spirits. And also to ward off evils, America adopted the custom called the "parade of the horribles." An early morning parade through the streets by persons dressed in wild costumes and making as much noise as possible supposedly drew in the good and frightened off the bad.

Community celebrations of a wide variety have long been Fourth of July favorites. One of the first was the Greeley, Colorado, "Spud Rodeo."

And in Kozebue, Alaska, the blueberry whale blubber ice cream came about. The citizens of Kozebue marked the Fourth with the blanket toss, too. Participants tried to bounce as high as they could on a kind of hand-held trampoline. And the women tugged the rope against visitors. The ladies of gay Kozebue almost always beat the outlanders at the rope tug.

But back to the ice cream. In Kozebue, the frozen delight is really made with blueberries and whale blubber. The fat and berries are hand-mixed with canned milk, sugar and snow. Was this the first "flavor of the month" for July?

TEXAS FOURTH

But Alaska cannot surpass the celebrations of Texas. The Lone Star State has its own unique ways of marking the Fourth of July. Here the day sees quarter-horse races and shows in Stamford and Columbus.

And rodeos in Belton and Pecos. And old-fashioned festivals in Brady, Taylor, and at Round Top and Winedale. There's a fishing festival in Brazosport. Golf tournaments tee-off statewide. And good old-fashioned fireworks explode in Carrollton and many other Texas home towns.

No matter how the Fourth is celebrated in Texas, it is always marked with friendliness and good cheer. Gosomewhere and celebrate this Fourth of July. And as you go, remember to spread friendliness on the highways, too. The Governor's Committee on Traffic Safety urges all Texans, native and transplant, and all visitors, to DRIVE FRIENDLY during this happy, frivolous holiday.

Remember that DRIVE FRIENDLY means keeping your speed in check, observing all traffic laws, and—most important of all—letting someone else drive if you have had a drink.

The "Spirit of '76" is the July Fourth spirit that we commemorate. The "Spirit of '72" is the friendly spirit behind the wheel that will also live on forever.

ASC News . . .

by Joe K. Taylor

Changes in the 1972 indemnity program for beekeepers whose bees are killed by pesticides used near their bee colonies were announced today by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. A proposed notice of rule making was issued on May 1 and comments, suggestions or objections received by May 20 from interested persons were considered in formulating today's action.

Beekeepers will continue to submit claims for payment at the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) office serving the area where the headquarters is located.

The program provisions are essentially the same as those in effect during 1971. Major revisions for 1972 are:

1. Beekeepers to be eligible for an indemnity payment must by July 15 each year furnish a statement specifying the total number of colonies of bees maintained as well as the location and number of colonies at each apiary.

2. Applications for payment on pesticide losses of bees sustained during 1972 (and each subsequent year) must be filed not later than the following April 1. Only one payment is to be made to the beekeeper covering losses during the calendar year.

3. If the beekeeper is unable to establish proof of extent of loss of queen nuclei that occurred prior to June 11, 1971, but can provide evidence of damage to queen nuclei from pesticides, payment of $1.50 per queen nuclei may be paid to the beekeeper.

4. Bee losses for which application for payment will be made must be inspected promptly by a State or county apiary inspector or by ASCS personnel. Inspections performed by others will not be recognized under the new rules.

5. Changes in the degree of loss in colonies after Nov. 1 each year must be justified on the basis of loss of income. Payments will not be made for losses of queen nuclei occurring between Oct. 1 and Dec. 31 each year.

6. Beekeepers will continue to have the choice of filing applications for payment on the basis of (a) loss of income or (b) by modified rates of indemnification per colony affected.

Under the loss of income basis, payment for bee losses will be determined from evidence submitted by the beekeeper relating to: (a) the cost of bees for replacing those lost, (b) loss of honey, (c) loss of pollination fees, (d) loss of queen bees and packaged bees and (e) other losses of income related to the loss of bees.

The new rates of indemnification are: colony destroyed—$15; colony severely damaged—$10; colony moderately damaged—$5; or queen nuclei destroyed—$5.

In all cases, the beekeeper must establish to the satisfaction of the ASC county committee that his loss of bees resulted from the use of pesticides near or adjacent to his bee colonies, and that he was not responsible for the loss. He must also establish that he took reasonable steps to protect his bees from exposure to pesticides.

Attend Church Regularly.

POINTS TO PONDER

RESPONSIBILITY OF PARENTS

God instituted the marriage relationship. Every thing, visible and invisible, was made by the God of Heaven (Col 1:16). But at this time Adam had no helpmate (Gen 2:20). In order for Adam to have a wife, God put him to sleep and took from his side a rib, out of which he made woman and presented her to Adam (Gen 2:21-22). And Adam said, "This is now bone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh; she shall be called WOMAN, because she was taken out of man. Therefore shall a man leave his father and his mother, and shall cleave unto his wife; and they shall be one flesh." Thus, we have the first pair bound to each other as husband and wife. All was well in that wonderful Eden home until mother Eve was deceived by Satan. Her first mistake was in listening to him. Her second mistake was when she believed Satan, and her third and greatest mistake was when she became obedient to the voice of Satan. Because of this one sinful act, SIN entered into the world and death by SIN (Rom 5:21). The Apostle John tells us that "SIN is the transgression of law (1 Jno 3:4). And again, "All unrighteousness is SIN." Solomon adds "Righteousness exalteth a nation, but SIN is a reproach to any people (Prov 14:34)." Therefore, we should taste and see that the Lord is good (Psa 34:8).
