SANTA ANNA, COLEMAN COUNTY, TEXAS, JULY 6, 1972

NUMBER 27

Mountain Echoes

By Barbara Kingsbery

Slow drizzling rain made the fourth of July a cool, damp day in Santa Anna. Rain is welcome in our area at almost any time, and a holiday is no exception. We at the NEWS office were apparently the only ones in town all during the day.

A tornado funnel was sighted near Santa Anna Monday afternoon, according to a report here. Local people were alerted for a possible storm about 7:00 o'clock, but the sighted funnel did not touch the ground.

From our rural vantage point, south of town, we did not see the tornado funnel.

The J. C. Potters, residents of the Liberty Community, have a nice garden at their home this year. A small grandson visiting them has enjoyed harvesting the vegetables, and watched with special interest as his grandparents dug new potatoes from under the potato plants.

One day Mrs. Potter saw the child out in the garden digging under the watermelon vines. When asked what he was doing, the little boy replied, "I'm digging for watermelons."

Many of the flower boxes along the main street are very attractive now, and the long planter boxes at the Mountain City Apartments are especially pretty. One large cluster of orchid petunias has been blooming in the downtown area, growing through a crack in the sidewalk!

FFA Members To Dallas Meeting

The Santa Anna FFA will be represented at the Texas Future Farmers of America convention which will be held in Dallas next week. Three members of the local chapter and their advisor will attend the three-day session.

Cline Smith, Area IV FFA vice president, will serve in the convention Courtesy Corps which is composed of two officers from each of the ten areas in the state. Those in the group will assist with convention duties such as greeting guests, helping with the programs and serving as pages.

Area Mail Processing Program To Speed Area Mail Delivery

The newest innovation of the United States Postal Service—Area Mail processing—was installed at the Brownwood Post Office on Saturday, July 1.

This was announced by Carl C. Usaker, Regional Postmaster General, Southern Postal Region, which covers the Southern United States from Texas to Florida.

"The program is intended to speed the ultimate delivery of the mail and to gain maximum efficiency and economy through full utilization of Brownwood's modern post office," Usaker said.

One electric cancelling machine is available at the Brownwood Post Office to move the increased mail volume from the associate offices.

"The Brownwood Post Office," Usaker pointed out, "is a Sectional Center Facility, and the new system will revolve entirely around that capacity and that function."

Area Mail processing is a plan whereby virtually all mail originating within a Sectional Center Area, including any or all of the associate offices of the Sectional Center Facility, will be consolidated at the SCF for complete preparation and processing for outgoing dispatch.

All mail deposited in street letter boxes or the out-of-town letter drops at the associate offices will be transferred to the SCF for processing and will bear the postmark designated for the SCF area.

The Brownwood SCF postmark will read, "U.S. Postal Service, TX 768," along with the date and AM-PM designation. The city postmark of Brownwood and each individual associate office will not be changed.

Mail deposited in a designated drop unit at a post office or a letter box labeled "For Local Cancellation Only" will be postmarked at the local office of origin with the name of that office. Each postmaster will have deposit boxes and letter drop units designated for this purpose. All metered mail will bear the postmark of the office of origin.

It was emphasized by Usaker that no office will lose its local postmark. He asked specifically that customers no longer use the word "City" as an address in place of the name of the city of destination. "Obviously," he said, "in this new system, a letter with just 'city' could lose its identity."

Post offices affected by this program in the Brownwood area are: Ballinger, Bangs, Brady, Coleman, Eden, Goldthwaite, Junction, Mason, Menard, San Saba and Santa Anna.

Swim Program Ends Friday

The 1972 summer swimming program for Santa Anna children will end on Friday of this week. Approximately 30 boys and girls have been given swimming instruction each morning for the past two weeks.

Larry and Beth Steele and Carol Kingsbery have been instructing the children each day. Floyd Marshall assisted with the lessons last week.

Mrs. Charles Hosch is chairman of the swimming program with Mrs. Donald Strickland as co-chairman.

"Along this road passed great men, including Col. Robert E. Lee, later (1861-65) General of Confederate Forces in the Civil War."

In Our Opinion

By W. T. HAYS

THIS WEEK we celebrate the 196th birthday of the United States of America. It is a time for celebration and commemoration, and it is also a time for reeducation.

The nation was founded in search of national liberty and individual freedom. Throughout our history, we have preserved our national liberty and expanded individual freedom. Neither of these have been easy, and they continue to be different to maintain.

We have found that sometime when we preserve the individual freedom for one, we infringe on the rights of another, and this problem continues to be a major issue in our day.

We have made great progress as a nation. Our citizens have the highest standard of living in the world. Even the poorer people of this country live well compared to the poor of most other countries. The difference between rich and poor is less in the United States than any other country. We are all rich compared to some people of the world.

Our nation did not become great because of material resources alone. Our founding fathers had a vision that was greater than any others, and those who have succeeded them along the way have carried that vision down through the years. One thing this nation was founded on religious freedom and our early leaders as well as succeeding leaders have sought the guidance of a merciful God in making the decisions on problems they faced.

This week churches will be open as usual and those who speak from pulpits will probably make mention of the role God has played in the preservation of this nation. However, they will probably call attention also to the fact that more and more of the people of this country are not following nor seeking the divine guidance on which the country was founded.

Separation of church and state is a fundamental principal in the United States, but traditionally throughout our history our leaders have been influenced by Christian ethics. All have claimed to be a follower of God, and most have sought the prayers of the people in their task of leadership.

Independence Day provides us with an opportunity to review what is good about our country. In this day of many problems, it is often difficult for us to see the good for the bad. Our country has grown so tremendously that government has gotten too big. But let us stop and look around. Our privileges outshine our problems greatly, and we ought to show our appreciation by celebrating our nation's birthday with enthusiasm and happiness.

STATE Capital NEWS By BILL BOYKIN

Austin — Wide variance in election costs over the state have been pointed up by Secretary of State Bob Bullock in a recent report.

Bullock said primary expenses ranged from 36 cents per voter (Democrats) in Travis County to $4.83 (for Republicans) in El Paso County.

Some county chairmen managed a "thrifter, better, organized" election, while others spent the maximum amount authorized, said the chief election officer.

"These figures have reaffirmed our belief that single polling places for both parties, with primaries financed through the county clerk's office, would be a positive step toward reducing our primary election costs," said Bullock.

Bullock noted this breakdown for major counties: County Democratic GOP cost cost per voter

Travis	36 cents	$2.50
Harris	.61 cents	$2.44
Tarrant	61 cents	$1.83
Dallas	57 cents	$1.94
Bexar	59 cents	$2.65
El Paso	50 cents	$4.83
Nueces	52 cents	$4.48

Higher unit cost for Republicans is not surprising, due to the small size of the GOP primary, Bullock said.

In some counties, the Secretary of State complained, 400 voting machines were allowed where "half as many" probably would have done the job.

COURTS SPEAK — A U. S. Supreme Court decision holding the death penalty unconstitutional left uncertain the fate of 41 Texas prisoners on death row.

A federal court at Brownsville held five Texas laws used in labor disputes are unconstitutional and scored the role of Texas Rangers in a 1966-67 Starr County farm workers' strike.

The State Supreme Court next fall will hear arguments concerning the extent of a health insurance policyholder's rights in suits based on alleged misrepresentation in policy sales.

The High Court ruled Sun Oil company has rights to use 100,000 gallons of water daily for injection of oil-bearing sands beneath a Hockley County tract to increase production.

Part of the value of medical and legal practices of divorced husbands can be held as community property for distribution to wives, the Supreme Court held.

The Court of Criminal Appeals ordered new trials for two men who had earlier had been overturned by the U.S. Supreme Court, and upheld Gov. Preston Smith's received death sentences which commutation of sentences for two others under similar circumstances. The Court affirmed a fifth death penalty.

The Third Court of Civil Appeals affirmed a trial court finding that a Travis County couple did not have sufficient mental capacity to understand the effects of deeding their homestead to a niece.

NEW TRADE MISSION PLANNED — An August trade mission by 12 Texas industrialists to the South American cities of São Paulo and Rio de Janeiro is planned by the International Trade Division of Texas' Industrial Commission for August 20-31.

The trip will emphasize these products as best export possibilities in South America: petrochemicals, chemicals power equipment, construction and mining equipment, steel graphics, industry equipment, machine tools, office machines, textile machinery, transportation and communication and agriculture and food processing.

FILIBUSTER MARK SET — Sen. Mike McKeel of Dallas cracked the world's filibuster record during the special legislative session, arguing 42 hours and 33 minutes for more funds to improve mental health-mental retardation services.

McKeel's feat, which immobilized both houses of the legislature for nearly two days, may have thrown the session timetable out of kilter.

Indications are there is little hope of winding up work on the $4.1 billion appropriations bill before Friday. Additional federal funds totalling nearly $128 million apparently will be assured for welfare.

Senators scheduled a mid-week clash over adoption of new rules which include a controversial provision to authorize consideration of appointments by the governor in open session. Senators traditionally have done this work behind closed doors, and showed reluctance last week to depart from the old practice.

HIGHWAY FUND IN JEOPARDY — The entire Texas highway program is in jeopardy, Texas Highway Commission member Charles Simons told Texas Press Association at its summer meeting in Corpus Christi.

Simons warned the highway program is threatened by proposed environmental controls, raids on the federal highway trust fund, government reorganization, federal revenue sharing and bureaucratic red tape.

He said the federal government should finish the interstate system as pledged, then release to the states responsibility for collection of the special highway user taxes invoked in 1956 to establish the highway trust fund.

Simons expressed concern over schemes to divert trust fund revenues to build rail mass transit systems in the East and Midwest. He charged a proposal for governmental reorganization is a move to "dominate the highway program and to divert highway user tax revenues to wild eyed welfare and other socialistic schemes."

Summertime Brings Pinkeye

Hot, dry summer weather can be a big pain in the face for cattle. The reason is "pinkeye."

"Pinkeye is an infectious eye disease of cattle of all ages and breeds," says Dr. James Armstrong, veterinarian with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "However, younger animals under two years of age appear to be more susceptible than older ones."

The eye inflammation occurs most often in summer and fall and is generally more prevalent in white-faced animals. Dry, dusty conditions, bright sunlight, feeding in tall grass and the presence of flies all tend to aggravate the condition.

"The disease is caused primarily by a bacteria," according to the Texas A&M University specialist. "The eyelids become inflamed and a white or gray spot appears near the center of the eye. This spot swells and later opens to form an ulcer."

According to Armstrong, affected animals are sensitive to light and generally stand in shade. They lose weight quickly, suffer production decreases and may injure themselves because of temporary blindness.

Although the disease generally runs its course in two to four weeks without much damage, secondary bacteria often invades and can cause permanent blindness. Therefore, treatment is important as soon as a case of pinkeye is suspected.

"Isolate the affected animals as soon as possible and protect from wind, dust and sunlight, advises the veterinarian. Bathe the eye with a lukewarm, mild borax solution and dust with an antibiotic powder at least twice a day. This prevents a secondary infection and allows the eye to recover without complications. Although no specific drug is available to treat pinkeye, injections of Vitamin A and a cortisone product have helped in some cases."

Armstrong advises cattlemen to isolate for at least 60 days all new animals brought into the herd. Cattle that have recovered from the disease may still be capable of spreading it for some months.

Fourth of July Saga of Long Ago

(The following story was written by the late Miss Lena Boyd and published in the July 20, 1962 NEWS).

My father, Lemond Dugan Boyd, was a Confederate soldier, enlisting at fifteen and serving for the entire four years of the Civil War.

When General Lee surrendered, the Rebels were imprisoned at Point Lookout, Va., and were discharged a few at a time.

He should have been one of the first, as his name started with B, not knowing that the method was alphabetical.

He remained in prison for three more months before "B" came round again.

His elder brother, having been wounded, returned home earlier.

When released, Dugan and another comrade set out together for their homes in South Carolina. Part of the way was on foot, a lift in an ox cart or the roof of a slow moving freight train.

The boys cut tree branches for protection on the metal roof of the train.

Dugan's companion arrived home first, leaving Dugan to continue the journey alone.

One night he slept under a bush by the roadside. The next morning he awoke to the sound of the firing of guns. He reached for his gun but it wasn't there.

Later he learned that the people were celebrating Independence Day. The war was over. That was July 4, 1965.

The library has gained prominence in the community during the past months as more and more people have been using the facility and more books are available for the readers.

A new group of books has been received from the Brownwood Public Library and will be on the shelves during July and August. Included in the group are mystery fiction selections by Ben Benson, Agatha Christie and Frances and Richard Lockridge.

An historical novel, "Give Me Liberty" by Noel B. Gerson, is a biography of Patrick Henry. Historical fiction books include "The Edge of Time" and "Lonely Passage" by Erdman, and "The Enduring Hills," "Run Me a River" and "Savanna" by Janice Holt Giles.

Five new Zane Grey books have been put on the shelves this week as well as two books by Catherine Marshall.

The Santa Anna Public Library is open each weekday from 9:00 to 12:00 and from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. Everyone is urged to go by and select books for summer reading. There is no charge for using the local library.

A brief review of one of the Erdman historical fiction books is given as follows:

THE EDGE OF TIME

By Loula Grace Erdman
The story of the buffalo hunter, the cowboy and the rancher in the making of the West has been told many times. It is a man's story. But the story of the homesteaders is not so well known, and primarily that is a woman's story. These women came to a country starkly new; they planted rose bushes and bore children and then saw to it that their children had good homes and schools and churches. This is their story.

Bethany and Wade Cameron began their long wagon journey to the Texas Panhandle the same day they were married in the parlor of the bride's Missouri home. That was in 1885, a hard time for farmers—there was no railroad to bring in supplies or take out crops. Bethany and Wade filed on one small section of land in the midst of endless miles of ranch country. They built a soddy cabin and planted a rose bush and some maize. They could only dream of sinking a well.

This is the story of their life on the limitless prairie—of the blizzards and droughts they endured, of the ever-present dread of grass fire, of the crushing burden of loneliness. Sometimes they saw their neighbors—beyond the horizon, but still neighbors—Mille Finch and her pathetic, smiling baby; Tobe Dillon and his brood, huddled in one dark room on the limitless space of the plains. There were an itinerant preacher and a frontier doctor, and beyond these their only contact with the world was through Slat and Butch, the two cowboys who stopped at the Camerons' soddy to deliver messages or the rare, cherished piece of mail.

Loula Grace Erdman was born in Missouri and has lived in the Panhandle where her neighbors were homesteaders or the children of homesteaders. She has heard their stories and read their letters, and she has written, not the conventional novel of the West, but a living story of the courage and fortitude of the men, and particularly the women, who settled the great empire which is the Texas Panhandle today.

ASC NEWS...

By Joe K. Taylor

The County Committee has exhausted the funds under the REAP. Producers who have outstanding practice applications under this program are requested to complete the practice if applicable.

The final date for aerial spraying of mesquite was June 15, both for 2-4-5T and for Tordon.

Farmers and ranchers having applications for aerial spraying should return the forms signed if completed, and if not completed, write cancelled on the face of the form and return it also to the ASCS Office.

There is a remote possibility the County Committee can approve concurrent operations. This means using next year's money to carry out this year's practices which will result in earning one hundred per cent of this year's funds. This hinges on the possibility of Congress passing the Agricultural Bill for the 1973 fiscal year soon.

Only a few more days remain in which farmers may certify their crops.

The final date for planting cotton was June 15, however cotton may be planted after this date and receive credit under the program.

The disaster form may be filed for cotton only since the final date for filing drought disaster form on milo was the 15th of June.

Form ASCS-574 is a drought disaster form and may be filed for acreage credit and/or cotton yield adjustments. For preventive planting the form must be filed by July 1; for cotton yield adjustment, it may be filed later.

The County Committee must determine that workmanlike farming was carried out on the farm particularly the seedbed preparation. This drought disaster form may be filed only for failure of crop and failure of yield due to reasons beyond the control of the producer.

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

By CRAWFORD MARTIN
Attorney General

Moving into a new apartment or leaving your present dwelling? Make sure you know your rights and responsibilities as a tenant. The condition of the apartment, the lease, security deposits, and notice of intention to leave are areas that can cause confusion.

Moving in? You can avoid many difficulties by thoroughly reading and understanding your lease before signing it. If you don't understand something, ask your landlord to explain it to you or seek legal help.

Most leases are of a standardized form, so if yours doesn't meet your particular needs, ask the landlord to change it. This can be easily done by merely crossing out the clause on the lease you don't like, and having your landlord initial it.

Before moving into an apartment, you, your landlord, and a third party should check it out. Make a list of all damages and needed repairs. Keep this list so you won't be charged for damages you didn't make when it's time to move.

Moving out? A basic question is in what condition are you expected to leave the apartment? Generally, in the condition it was when you moved in, unless specifically stated in the lease that you must have the rugs shampooed, the draperies professionally cleaned, etc.

Allowances are usually made for normal wear-and-tear. You are expected to make "tenantable" repairs and maintenance, such as filling holes left when pictures are removed or cleaning the oven. Major repairs are made by the landlord, but you must call them to his attention.

Security deposits can cause difficulties and misunderstandings. Unless the landlord agrees, you should not deduct your security deposit from your last month's rent. The landlord may hold your deposit only for actual and deliberate damages that you have made. If he does keep the deposit, he must provide an itemized list of damages with the approximate repair costs. You may want to contact your lawyer, legal aid society, or a tenants' rights organization.

Make sure to inform your landlord when you decide to vacate. Check your lease to see if it contains the "automatic renewal clause." This means that if you don't state in writing thirty days before your lease expires that you intend to move, your landlord may renew your lease for a period of time equal to the time it was originally rented. By law, however, he must inform you that he intends to

CROSS PLAINS

A smaller than expected number of Cross Plains voters approved a one per cent city sales and use tax by a three-to-one margin in balloting at the Cross Plains City Hall recently.

The election judge reported the final tally of 117 ballots. The voting was 90 for and 27 against.

Joe Hanke, Jr., a veteran employee of the Cross Plains Post Office, became the head of the Cross Plains office last week. He is replacing Mrs. Verma Mae Ramsey as officer in charge of the postal station.

Hanke, a Cross Plains native, joined the staff in 1958, serving as clerk for seven years, then as rural carrier for seven and one-half years.

Hanke is married to the former Era Lee Ingram of Santa Anna.

The owner of the company is living in Irving. The company engineer, now in California, will be moving to Rising Star.

BANGS

The percentage-wise growth of Bangs is the greatest of any town in the state, the Bangs officials were informed last week. According to informants, Bangs reached the growth projected for it in 1980.

Mountain Lodge No. 661 AF & AM will meet on Third Thursday each month at 7:30 p. m. Visitors are welcome. Richard D. Bass, Worshipful Master and James D. Rice, Secretary.

Bangs were asked to curtail use of water during the hot, dry weather. Users were asked to refrain from watering lawns and gardens.

Engineers are being asked to make a study of the Bangs city water system preparatory to building an additional line from the filtration plant to Bangs. The city water system, installed when the population was 790, is now inadequate for the town.

COLEMAN

The Coleman light plant has been setting production records every day, starting June 19, with electrical demand up about 20 per cent from last year.

The Coleman city water department also reported peak use, with a total of 2,148,000 gallons pumped June 26, making the first time the two million gallon mark has been reached in one day this early in the year.

Indications are that a defense of insanity will be presented by defense attorneys when Mrs. Lillian Ashabraner stands trial in Coleman on July 10 for the alleged murder of an Abilene woman at a site south of Santa Anna.

Judge Joe Dibrell approved a defense request for a second psychiatric examination, after results from an earlier examination have not been submitted to the court.

The two court-appointed attorneys representing the defendant are Charles McDonald of Bangs and Ernest Cadenhead of Brownwood. District Attorney George Day will represent the State in the case.

HERE ON WEEKEND

Mrs. James Dockery of Ozona, Mrs. Allyn Gill and Pam of San Marcos, and Mrs. Roy England of College Station were here during the past weekend and at Lake Brownwood. Several local friends joined them at the lake for a visit during the weekend.

The three women are former Santa Anna residents.

SPORTS EVENTS ARE PLANNED IN BROWNWOOD DURING JULY

BROWNWOOD — Brownwood will be the state's center for schoolboy sports in July—if number of all-star games scheduled can be considered a criterion.

Ramond Beck, executive vice-president of the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce, says the city will host four all-star games in football, basketball and girls' basketball this month.

Three of the games are planned in connection with the 27th annual meeting of the Six- and Eight-Man Football and Basketball Coaching School here July 19-22.

Approximately 200 coaches and players are expected to attend this year's school. Headquarters for players, coaches and officers will be Howard Payne College.

Program headquarters will be at the Holiday Inn. A director's meeting is scheduled at 11 a.m. July 19, with registration on tap at 1 p.m. the same day.

According to Beck, the chamber of commerce is sponsoring the event, held last year at Levelland. The HPC sports information department is in charge of promotion and publicity.

Highlights of the school will be annual all-star games. The basketball contest is scheduled at 8:30 p.m. July 20 in the Brownwood High School gymnasium.

On July 21, the eight-man football game is on tap at 8 p.m. in Lion Stadium. Also at 8 p.m.—but this time on July 22—the six-man all-star showdown is slated in Lion Stadium.

Besides the school and accompanying all-star games, another top-player-studded tilt is planned in July, according to Beck.

It's the 1972 Girls North-South All-Star Basketball Game sponsored by the Texas High School Girls Coaches Association. Site of the game is Brownwood Coliseum at 8 p.m. July 15.

Admission is $2 for adults and $1 for students. Ticket information is available through the chamber office. Beck said he wants to send out a special appeal to coaches in the Brownwood area to attend the school and watch the all-star games.

Life Preservers Will Save Lives

AUSTIN—Accidents, by nature, happen when you are not suspecting them.

So it's not surprising to learn from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department that at least half of the recreational drowning victims in the U.S. last year had no intention of going into the water. As a result, they did not have a life preserver available.

More than 2,800 of these "surprise" victims either slipped, tripped or fell into the water or were aboard when their boat sank.

The moral, says the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, is to take the simple precaution of wearing a life preserver around water, especially if you can't swim.

The life preserver is more than just a good idea if you are aboard a boat—it's the law. Every boat, including canoes, rafts, sailboats and kayaks, must have one Coast Guard approved lifesaving device for everyone on board.

In motorboats 26 feet long and under children 12 years old and younger must wear a vest-type life preserver when the boat is underway.

BACK AT THE INN

Bunk Wagner has been transferred to Ranger Park Inn nursing home after spending several weeks in the Brownwood Community Hospital. Mr. Wagner broke his hip in a fall at his home and has been in Brownwood for surgery. Mrs. Wagner is also a resident of the local nursing home.

A Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

It has been almost 200 years since the United States declared her independence from Great Britain in 1776. This week Americans will put up their flags, watch parades, and attend fireworks displays. These are traditions that go with celebrating Independence Day.

I would like to suggest a further step this year—a look at the Declaration of Independence with the aim of understanding the principles which have formed this country.

Probably the average person in Santa Anna has not read the historical document since high school days. Re-reading it now, from perhaps a new perspective, might give a better appreciation of a free society as defined by Thomas Jefferson in the Declaration of Independence.

Some may argue that our freedoms are being threatened. I agree. We do live in a time when freedoms, rights, and liberties are sometimes confused and misused, but still the people of the United States have something to celebrate—the birth of a nation that respects the dignity of man and recognizes that each one is created equal.

Sincerely,
C. P. Wenzel,
Head Elder of

Targets of TB

TB is a disease anybody can have. But it is most common in cities. Among the poor, the black, and the elderly.

In the United States, there are 143 cities with a population of at least 100,000. In 37 states. Out of every 100,000 people in these cities, only 13 people have active disease. TB rates in cities are more than twice as high.

Within the cities, the highest rates are in the central core, in so-called poverty pockets. Deteriorating housing, deficient diets, crowded conditions, and generally low health standards create greater vulnerability to infection. The body's weakened defenses cannot fight off the assault of TB germs.

Among nonwhite people—and 89 per cent of nonwhites are black—TB rates are almost four times higher. In Nassau County in New York, for example, nonwhites represent only 4 per cent of the population. But they have 30 per cent of the TB. And old people, both white and non-white, have higher rates than young people. The rates for white males who are 65 and over are eight times higher than for younger men in their late teens and early twenties. But rates for nonwhites who are 65 and over are still four times higher than for whites in the same age group.

Some common symptoms of TB are coughing a lot, feeling tired all the time, spitting blood, and losing weight. Any one or all of the symptoms can mean TB. To check out symptoms, people should see their doctor. But someone can have TB without any symptoms at all. Asking the doctor whether a tuberculin skin test should be included in the physical examination can be a first step toward detecting the disease.

For more about TB, contact your local tuberculosis and respiratory disease association. It's a matter of life and breath.

4-H Clothing

Program Planned During Summer

There really is no predominant look in today's fashions for young people. One of the prettiest fashion trends is the back to nature look—with soft style ideas taken from the pretty pioneer with ruffles and lovely prints. Then there is the Western look with denim the "in" material and everything with a bib. Of course, the pantsuit is still right. Then there are all those groovy accessories to make each new outfit extra special—the crazy Mickey Mouse watch, the dog collar for accent around the neck, and wide, wide belts sliding around the waist.

The idea is to find the right fashion that is "you".

How does a young person keep an up-to-date wardrobe on a limited budget? Nearly three-quarters of a million girls and boys between the ages of 9 and 19 are finding the answers as members of the 4-H clothing program, sponsored by Coats & Clark, Inc., and supervised by the cooperative extension service. The program is designed to aid them in choosing the clothes they make and buy and to use good judgment and creativity in planning clothing and accessories. You, too, can gain such information by contacting Beth Steward, Assistant County Home Demonstration Agent, in Coleman County Extension Office. Any girl, 4-H member or non member, between ages of 9 and 19 is eligible to participate in a clothing project. The 1972 projects are due to start soon with the dress revue fashion show finale scheduled for June 29.

POINTS TO PONDER

RESPONSIBILITY OF PARENTS

In our article of last week, we established the fact that marriage is of divine origin, God set it up for a specific purpose. When two people love each other and pledge to live together after God's ordinance, there is happiness beyond measure, perennial joy and beauty, such as is not known in any other relationship. God intended that the relationship be not broken (Matt. 19:5-6; Rom. 7:2-3). Husbands are to love their wives, even as Christ loved the church. Husbands are to love their wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife loveth himself (Eph. 5:28). When two people are married, they are married for life, except when adultery enters the picture (Rom. 7:2-3).

The people asked Jesus, "Why did Moses give a writing of divorce, and to put her away?" His answer was, "Moses because of the hardness of your hearts suffered you put away your wives; but from the beginning, it was not so. And I say unto you, whosoever shall put away his wife except it be for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery, and whoso marieth her which is put away doth commit adultery." From the above, IT IS VERY EVIDENT THAT DIVORCE IS DISPLEASING TO GOD.

The first two boys born in this world were Cain and Abel (Gen. 4:1-2). Cain was a tiller of the ground and Abel was a keeper of sheep. God told them how he was to be worshipped (Rom. 10:17), so the Bible says Abel offered unto God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, by the which he obtained witness that he was righteous, God testifying of his gifts; and by it he being dead, yet speaketh (Heb. 11:4-5). Since Abel made his offering by faith and faith comes by hearing and hearing by the word of God, it follows that God had told them what he wanted in the way of worship. Abel did what God said and God accepted it, but Cain substituted the fruit of the ground for a sacrifice and God rejected it (Gen. 4:1-5). So we can see that it pays to do as God directs.

CARELESSNESS MAJOR CAUSE OF ACCIDENTS

Carelessness, that familiar but too often overlooked accident-maker, is turning homes in Texas and throughout the country into high hazard areas, says the Insurance Information Institute.

Pointing out that the potential for home mishaps lies behind every door, the Institute cites National Safety Council statistics to prove it: Last year, home accidents in the United States killed some 26,500 persons—including 1,145 in Texas—and caused disabling injuries to 4 million others. Another 16 million suffered minor hurts and bruises.

In short, says the Institute, more Americans are hurt in accidents in the home than in any other place—including the automobile. And the cost is staggering: $1.8 billion in lost wages and medical and insurance administrative costs alone; much more in property damage.

Calling carelessness a major contributor to most residential accidents, the Institute offered these suggestions:

The housewife—her attention often divided as many ways as she has children—should be extra careful while preparing meals: prime time for burns and scalding of herself and the little ones.

Mr. Do-It-Himself should make sure that he does it with the proper equipment and tools. Don't use a chair when you need a ladder. Stay away from makeshift tools; they make a lot of bruises. And use extra care when using power tools—particularly with the electricity involved.

Tots and youngsters are especially susceptible to home accidents and Mom and Dad should check them frequently in their cribs or playrooms.

Keep stairs and doorways clear of objects and toys. A loose roller skate is an invitation to a trip to the hospital.

The Institute also has a word of advice for the always-in-a-hurry types who breed carelessness with every move. Slow down—it can save you embarrassment if not injury.

Like the Ohio car dealer who left the house in such a rush he had to be extracted from the screen door by the police. Or the Georgia lady who was bitten by her frightened dog as she raced to answer the telephone.

It can also save your image too: as the burly longshoreman learned when he sauntered onto a Brooklyn pier still wearing his hair net.

Whatever you do, indoors or out, says the Institute: Take care!

Special emphasis will be placed on day camping for boys of elementary school ages this Friday afternoon during the 1972 Jubilee in the Heart of Texas Baptist Encampment at Lake Brownwood.

The Jubilee will open Friday and be concluded Saturday afternoon.

Rev. Jerry Bob Taylor, Royal Ambassador Director of Texas at Dallas, is scheduled to conduct a training session for Royal Ambassador leaders in the form of a lad day

The training will be under the direction of Bill Brewer, pastor of the Santa Anna First Baptist Church.

Registration will open at 1:30 p.m. Friday. Activities in conjunction with the camp will include a partnership golf tournament at Brownwood Country Club Friday afternoon, and fishing, games and swimming at the camp site. A retreat will be held at 6:15 p.m. Friday evening before supper, and a special program will be held at 8:00 that night.

The Weekly High For Screwworms Reached in June

Last week was the worst in the history in the 10-year-old Screwworm Program, Mission Lab officials gloomily announced.

Texas was hit with a soaring 3,879 cases, nearly 900 more than the previous record of 3,023 established the first week of July, 1962.

The surging caseload bore out the predictions of Dr. M. E. (Cotton) Meadows, program director, who warned two weeks ago that an unexpected drop in the count—the first after 11 successive weeks of increases—was probably only temporary.

"Weather conditions hadn't changed that much so I felt sure it was strictly a fluke," he commented, "but I didn't think it would climb so high so fast."

The biggest day was Monday with 1,019 cases, the smallest was Wednesday with 416.

Texas' 1972 total is now 16,190, second only to the 49,484 cases of 1962.

The voracious fly struck in seven new counties to raise that count to 162. The newcomers were Childress, Crane, McLennan, Oldham, Palo Pinto, Swisher and Wichita.

Arizona's worsening situation continued to become just that as 50 more cases there raised the 1972 figure to 166. New Mexico had six more outbreaks and now has 24 cases for the year.

Several more cases of screwworms have been confirmed in Coleman County, according to recent reports.

LEAVE FOR NEW DUTY

Col. Charlie F. Konze and his wife, Louise, leave July 8 for Honolulu, Hawaii, where Charlie will be the senior dental officer for the U.S. Army Pacific which includes Hawaii, Okinawa, Japan, Korea, Viet Nam and Thailand. Louise is the daughter of the late J. T. Oakes, Sr. This will be their second tour in Hawaii but Charlie's fourth in the Pacific. They have been stationed at Fort Hood for the past two and one-half years.

lar sports will be held for younger boys.

The closing message Saturday afternoon will be delivered by Grant Teaff, Baylor University football coach.

A number of Santa Anna men will be attending the two-day session at the Lake Brownwood encampment.

SANTA ANNA PUBLIC LIBRARY IS RECOGNIZED THIS MONTH

The July Big Country Library services publication, published through the Abilene Public Library system, has named the Santa Anna Public Library as "Library of the Month."

In making the designation, the local public library was featured in the monthly publication. The history of the library and information of the current operation was given as follows:

The Santa Anna Public Library was founded in 1926 by the United Daughters of the Confederacy, the most active women's organization in Santa Anna for many years. When the club sold some property, part of the money was spent for books and the city provided a small upstairs room in the City Hall for use as a library.

For years members of the library board served as librarians. Several private libraries were donated and, through fund raising, hundreds of books were bought.

In 1955, through the efforts of the late Mrs. John R. Banister, a small building owned by the city was moved to a site north of the City Hall to house the library and provide a clubroom, kitchen and bath . . . and more funds meant more books.

During the presidency of Mrs. Cullen Perry, all volumes were repaired and a wide reading program for children was promoted. Mrs. Elgean Harris is currently president of the Board and her tenure has seen extensive remodeling and redecoration of the structure, expanded use of the clubroom, and many new books.

Mrs. Edwin Hipsher assumed the duties of librarian last September, and probably prevented the closing of the library during the school term. With a large number of new books on extension loan from Brownwood Public Library and weekly publicity in the Santa Anna News, circulation for May was up to 300, mostly adults.

Through the summer a high school student is keeping the library open Monday through Friday, with Mrs. Hipsher working only Wednesday afternoons. A summer reading program will continue through August. Next project for the library is a card catalog.

"Most of my spare time is taken up by Sandi, 12, Sheri, 9, and Tom, 5," says Mrs. Hipsher, but she also enjoys sewing, cake decorating, gardening and square dancing. She is a member of the Santa Anna First Baptist Church, assistant teacher of the Young Adults Class, and a member of the choir.

She is a graduate of the Brownwood schools where she worked in the elementary, junior and senior high libraries.

"A great big special thanks to Mrs. Dix of Brownwood for all her help and encouragement," adds Mrs. Hipsher, "and we salute Mrs. Hipsher,
