Environmental Sanitation By Cox

(Republished by Request)

Austin, Texas—"Environmental sanitation is the public health term for clean, safe housekeeping whether it applies to a private home and its surroundings or to towns and cities. Among other things, it insures safe drinking water, proper garbage and sewage disposal, the safe service of wholesome food including milk, rat and insect control, and general cleanliness of the premises. However, for environmental sanitation to be effective, it is essential that not only public health officials but the citizens living in their respective homes or operating establishments serving the public cooperate wholeheartedly with the local sanitation policy," declared Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Consider, for example, the seasonal housefly hazard. It has been determined that 120 eggs are laid by a single female at one time and that a generation is produced every 10 days at summer temperature. Thus, the possibility of reproduction during the warm months of a single fly runs into many millions. While the housefly does not bite, it is dangerous because it breeds and feeds upon both filth and food.

"Again, rats are the source of several diseases of man including plague, typhus fever, infectious jaundice, and trichinosis, to mention some of the more important ones. Homes can be made comparatively ratproof by

Texas Leads Big States In Bonds

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Texas led the nation's largest states in the purchase of E bonds during the Seventh War Loan, Chairman Nathan Adams of the State War Finance Committee said Saturday.

Texas, which achieved 101.5 per cent of its E bond quota, was first among the ten largest states. Texans purchased $170,529,967.50 on a $168,000,000 quota.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Wallace and son, Jodie Earl, returned to their home in Hobbs, N. M. Friday after a two weeks visit with relatives here.

removing rubbish and garbage accumulations, and by closing of avenues of access. Approved poisons and traps should be employed when a real problem presents itself.

"Removal of containers of stagnant water such as tin cans and barrels will do much to eliminate the mosquito for householders. The householder needs to devote more seasonal attention to mosquito eradication than he is today if this is to be properly controlled.

"In general, good and thorough housekeeping, inside and out, is the personal and civic duty of every home dweller. It not only adds to the pleasure of living and remove disease hazards, but increases the appearance of one's surroundings."

Special To Subscribers

We are trying to revise and bring up to date our subscription list, and we thought it was in pretty fair shape until this week, when we got down and looked it over. May we again call your attention to the figures following your name on the paper or wrapper the paper is wrapped in, as they represent the expiration date on your subscription. For instance, if the figures are 1-1-5, your subscription expired January 1, 1945. If they are 6-5, your subscription expired June, 1945. The first figure represents the month and the last one the year you are paid to, and we find we have too many that have already expired to be pleasant with us and we fear, satisfactory or acceptable with the U. S. Postal authorities.

We purpose to send out postal card reminders to some who have not already been notified, and wait until the first of August to give our list a thorough revision, but we feel sure several will be dropped from the list when we revise it to get it in shape to submit for approval. If you fail to get the paper after the first week in August, it will be declared one of the delinquents and removed from the list.

Look Forward to the home talent street carnival here July 28th.

A series of meetings will begin at the Church of Christ Saturday night, July 28 and continue through August 12. Elder J. E. Allen will do the preaching.

Pvt. Hartsfield Reports For Redistribution

After a 60 day furlough, Pfc. Durwood Hartsfield, of Santa Anna, combat infantryman who was captured by the Germans following service in both the Asiatic Pacific and the European theaters, reported yesterday at the Army Ground and Service Forces Redistribution Station in Hot Springs, Ark.

The Redistribution Station is one of the installations set up by the Army Service Forces' 8th Service Command to reassign service men and women who come back to the United States from the fighting fronts.

These returnees will stay at the station for a period of less than two weeks, during which time they will be given a thorough physical examination and their records and back pay will be brought up to date. The veterans will then be given interviews so as to reassign them to the jobs where the Army will reap the fullest benefits from their experiences and qualifications.

Quartered in four of Hot Springs' major hotels, returnees enjoy a broad program of athletics, recreation and entertainment, as a respite from the arduous tasks of war. In such surroundings where the hotel's services and furnishings have been maintained, their short stay will offer every opportunity for rest, relaxation and diversion. Their military duties are arranged to occupy no more than a few hours of the day and provisions have been made so that their wives can share the hotel rooms at small expense.

EXPLANATION

This office ran out of blank newsprint last week, before we reached our full quota. We only had enough paper to print 800 copies, and that took care of the local subscribers; the other 250 was not printed until Tuesday.

This was a matter over which we had no control, as we have a standing order for all our newsprint to be delivered on time. It should have been here Thursday of last week, but the paper company tried to do us a favor by rushing it a shorter way, and it arrived about five days later than if it had come through the regular channel. Anyway, about 250 subscribers missed their paper for four or five days. Some of them wrote us for another paper before we got them in the mail.

Here's hoping we have better luck in the future, and for your further information, we have a threat of a reduction in print paper, freezing us to a certain number.

R. E. Mobley of Cisco was a business visitor here Saturday.

Sanitation Move Being Agitated

The Lions Club, Tuesday, during the program period following the luncheon, heard committee reports on the clean-up campaign and further discussed the sanitation problem and how to best overcome the existing conditions in the City with regard to bringing about a cleaner, more attractive and improved health condition here.

The problem confronting the City Commissioners creates a somewhat difficult matter for them to decide. Each of the commissioners, including the Mayor, apparently favors a greater effort toward a cleaner and more sanitary condition, but the commission is somewhat reticent about taking steps to create and enforce a move, at the public expense, without an expression from the people. A move is now under way to circulate petitions for signers, requesting the City Commission to order an election authorizing them to pass an ordinance, setting up a health code, a sanitation code and other measures for the protection of the public health and sanitation. Ten per cent of the electorate, the qualified voters in the City is required on a petition before the Commission is legally justified in ordering such an election. The petitions, according to information at hand, are being prepared and will be circulated soon. It is a long step in the right direction, according to our judgment and opinion. May we advise that you give the matter a friendly hearing and favorable consideration when it is presented to you.

Our clean-up campaign met with partial success, but did not go over as big as we wanted it to. We see no need of ever closing a clean-up campaign in a City, instead, it should be kept up continuously and all premises be kept clean at all times.

A Ninth Air Force Service Command Unit, England—C-47 transport planes, the "work-horses" of World War II, are operating the supply and passenger airlines for continental Europe. With rail and motor transport temporarily at a stand still due to Ninth Air Force bombings of strategic rail and road centers, the importance of the C-47s for overland transportation is accentuated.

Although men of the occupational air force in Europe are anxious to be home, they are fully aware of the vital importance attached to their job of keeping the supplies moving, as well as providing swift and certain transport for military and civilian officials of the American Military Government in Germany. One of the men helping in the transportation program of the 31st Air Transport Group, 302nd Wing is Sergeant Jessie W. Keefer, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Keefer, Rt. 1, Santa Anna, Texas, and former employee of J. M. Radford & Co., who has helped to pioneer European air travel since the invasion more than a year passed. If wishes were horses...

"...beggars would ride" goes the old rhyme.

Which is just another way of pointing out that wishing, by itself, isn't a very reliable way to get what you want.

You're going to want a lot of things a few years from now. And when it comes to getting them, nobody so far has discovered anything more useful than a nice, big pocketful of good hard cash.

Put every single cent you can spare into War Bonds now. Hang on to those War Bonds. Let them bring you back $4 for every $3 you put in.

There's no way to equal that process for getting what you want a few years from now—and for getting what we all want most of all today: VICTORY!

Texans, whose forefathers more than 100 years ago carved tradition with outnumbered swords on the bitter battlefields of San Jacinto and at the Alamo are writing a new page of bloody history in the war against the Japs.

The gigantic part which Texans are playing in World War II was stressed this week in an official statement issued by the Navy. It said:

"Navy records tend to bear out the Texans' claim that the state has sent, on a percentage-of-population basis, more men and women to the naval forces—the navy, marine corps, and coast guard—than any other state in the union.

"This is attributable largely to the fact that so many thousands of Texans volunteered prior to and early in the war.

"Since Dec. 7, 1941, a total of 134,396 Texans have gone into the navy as enlisted personnel. This figure does not include 11,400 officers, the groups enlisted through V-5, V-7, the V12, and naval ROTC units and more than 3,000 WAVES, SPARS, and women marines.

"Texans in the United States marine corps number 19,570 enlisted men and 322 enlisted women, and a total of 1,960 male officers and 27 women officers.

"In the coast guard, Texas has sent 1,245 enlisted men, 229 enlisted women, 294 male officers and 20 women officers.

"A roster of the marine corps shows that nearly 12 per cent of the entire corps are from Texas. "Of the marine garrison captured at Pegin, Dec. 8, 1941, 139 were Texans. Of the 162 marines on Guam at the time of the Japanese invasion of that island 15 were Texans. Of the 357 defenders of Wake Island, 36 were Texans. Of all the men who participated in the bloody battle of Tarawa, seven per cent were Texans."

Texans on the home front, too, are "Giving a Texans Share" to the war against the Japs. In the 1944 campaign on behalf of the National War Fund, people of the Lone Star state contributed approximately 10 per cent more than the state's quota to the great humanitarian agencies serving "Our Own and Our Allies."

They will be called upon again in October to give to their county war chests, to support USO, War Prisoners Aid, Philippine Relief and the other great agencies which back up our fighting men and give new hope to suffering war victims throughout the world. That they will again meet the Texas obligation and surpass it, just as Texas fighting men have always done more than their part in all wars, is to be expected.

Coleman county, which contributes generously to the National War Fund each year, is represented in the official family of the United War Chest of Texas, which directs the annual campaigns "for our own and for our allies."

The local civic leader who serves on the board of directors of the state war chest and helps set policies governing the war fund program in Texas is John O. Harris, Coleman, Texas.

Board members, who meet annually in Austin, are the guiding directors of all phases of the Texas drive. The board, composed of members representing every strata of Texas citizenship establishes general policies, acts on acceptance of the state's war fund quota and goal, sets the sum to be budgeted for expenses of the campaign, employs the general manager of the state war chest, passes upon all financial matters and, through the executive committee and several specialized committees, assigns local quotas and directs all other phases of the vast program.

Thus this county, as all other Texas counties, has a definite and emphatic voice in the operation of the war chest program, through its local leaders who are members of the board or of the various important committees.

Brothers Meet In South Pacific

The following letter was written somewhere in the South Pacific by Cpl. Grady H. Griffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Griffin, and was addressed to his parents: The Griffin brothers have been overseas two years and this was their first time to meet.

July 6, 1945

Dear Mom, Dad and all, I have a big surprise for you. I am the happiest man in the whole world. I think I can speak for Duane also.

I was taking a shower and he walked in on me. It left me speechless, I couldn't even move. After I finally got my breath, and he as well, we didn't let up. He came in and read a letter I had just received from you. You said you would feel as though you had seen us if we could meet. Well it happened. It must have been the answer to a prayer or something. It couldn't have just happened. We will be able to be together almost every day after he gets set up.

You wanted a picture to put in the paper. As soon as possible you'll have one. "Brothers meet in the Pacific." How does that sound to you?

Well folks, I will close. I just couldn't wait for this, because its really news.

I am doing wonderful and so is he. Don't worry about us. When you hear from one you'll hear from both. I'll quit for now.

All my love,
Pete.

R. M. Stephenson and daughter, Mrs. O. L. Cheaney, and grandson, O. L. Cheaney, Jr. visited the Jodie Baker family at May Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Jodie Baker are at the head of the schools at May and are doing fine work, according to reports reaching here.

How To Can Peaches Without Sugar

"Sugar helps canned fruit to hold its shape, color and flavor, but it is not necessary to keep fruits from spoiling," says Miss Jewell Hipp, County Home Demonstration Agent. With present sugar shortage, canning without sugar will help homemakers to conserve the large surplus of peaches this summer, and will add many cans of fruit to the pantry shelves and to next winter's menus.

To can without sugar, use boiling water or strained fruit juice made from the softer peaches. Wash, peel and remove seed from firm peaches. Complete the canning operation by packing the raw peaches into a clean jar or can. Bring fruit juice or water to a boil and pour over the packed fruit. Leave 1-2 inch headspace. Steam before sealing: pints, 10 minutes; quarts, 15 minutes; half gallons, 20 minutes. Press down, and refill if necessary. Wipe off rim of jar and seal according to type of container being used. Process in a water bath after water starts boiling: pints and quarts, 22 min; half gallons, 32 minutes.

Another method to can without sugar is to drop the firm fruit into the fruit juice. Bring to a boil. Pack into boiling hot clean jars. Leave 1-2 inch headspace. Seal according to type of container used. Process in boiling water bath 22 minutes for pints and quarts, and 32 minutes for half gallons.

If small amount of sugar is available, the general wartime rule is to add one cup of sugar to two quarts of fruit. One cup of sugar syrup usually covers 1 quart of fruit when it is well packed. A thin syrup, one cup sugar to three cups juice or water, is also desirable from a nutritious standpoint.

Corn syrup or corn sugar may be substituted for part or all of the sugar. One cup sugar and two cups corn syrup to 6 cups water makes a desirable syrup. If corn syrup is to replace all of the sugar, use 1/2 to 3/4 cup syrup and one cup water. Honey may be substituted for a small part of the sugar, but it affects the flavor of the fruit more than corn syrup. It is good with canned figs and with fruit pickles.

NEVER use saccharin in canning, as it becomes bitter when heated.

We hope you have a good time and lots of fun at the Carnival July 28th.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Cawthon of Childress, Texas announce the arrival of an eight and one-half pound baby girl. She was born at 11:05 a.m. on July 15 in the Jeter-Townsend Hospital at Childress. Were you ever startled by a fleeting glimpse of a face in a public mirror?... Then you looked again and sheepishly recognized your own reflection! It was the unfamiliar setting that fooled you.

Same way, you may not recognize yourself at first as having a financial stake in this company. But you probably do—directly or indirectly.

Directly if you hold some of our stock, like many other folks around the state—folks from all walks of life. Sixty per cent of all our stockholders reside in Texas.

Indirectly if you have a savings bank account or life insurance policy as most Americans do. Banks and insurance companies like to reinvest your savings in sound, business-managed electric companies. Some of your money is almost surely working for you here.

You'll be even more pleased with this new view of yourself as a part owner as well as a customer when you remember that your electric company has fought a winning fight throughout the war—to keep the price of your service down and the quality of your service up.

President Truman In Germany

President Harry S. Truman is in Potsdam, Germany, this week, where he will likely be for several days attending the meeting of the Big Three, Prime Minister Churchill of Great Britain, Premier Stalin of Russia, and himself. This meeting is different to any one of the Big Three, when President Roosevelt, deceased, met with the two foreign commissaries, in that this is a peace conference instead of a war conference.

The proceedings of the meeting are being kept closely until after the meeting adjourns, but will be made public when it is over.

President Truman will return to Washington, D. C. and make his report to Congress, the Senate, and to the United States shortly after adjournment.

Lets all look forward to a good time at the Street Carnival July 28th.

13 Airfields In Japan Destroyed By Superfort Hits

GUAM, Sunday, July 15—(AP)—Japan's aviation maintenance and repair facilities at seven of Kyushu's fields were totally destroyed, and from 90 to 100 per cent destroyed at six others by B.29 tactical strikes in April and May, the 21st Bomber Command reported today.

Flying 93 missions from April 17 through May 11 in support of the Okinawa invasion forces, the Superforts destroyed or damaged 701 enemy aircraft in their sweeps over the enemy's southern suicide-plane bases. A total of 489 were destroyed—355 a ground and 134 in the air—and 212 probably destroyed, 128 of them a ground and 84 in the air. Airfields were blitzed with approximately the same bomb tonnage which the Superforts had dropped in burning out 30 square miles of Tokyo, Hagoya, Kobe and Osaka, March 10 to 19.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman O. C. FISHER

By L. B. Smith, pinch-hitting for Congressman O. C. Fisher.

With all appropriation bills and most of its other essential work disposed of, the House is now in a virtual recess—subject to recall if the occasion demands. Congressman Fisher is to spend a few weeks in the district and will open an office in the Post Office Building at San Angelo. He plans to visit as many of the counties in the district as time will permit.

A recent amendment to the limitation order controlling production of all farm machinery and wheel type tractors removed quota restrictions, and manufacturers are permitted to schedule the quantity of tractors and other machines they feel can be produced with the present manpower and facilities. The War Production Board has increased allotments of controlled materials for the farm machinery program, and it is expected that a considerable increase in tractor and implement production will result.

During the past year, tractor production for farm use has been at the rate of 55 percent of the peak prewar production. There are no distribution controls exercised by the government, and tractor manufacturers are expected to distribute their products in an equitable manner among their dealers.

There are jolly times when Texans get together in Washington, and an occasion to which the Texas Congressman look forward each Wednesday noon is the luncheon in the Capitol. The writer was a guest last week, and had the pleasure and privilege of seeing and meeting most of the 21 Representatives and Senator Connally. Many of them had guests, and the principal speaker was Cpl. James C. Spencer of Athens, a captive of the Japanese for more than two years, now back in the states for officers candidate school. His experiences and the atrocities committed by the Japanese, were highlights of a 45-minute talk by Cpl. Spencer, who served in the Texas Legislature before entering military service in 1941. His remarks brought further proof that the Japs must be stamped out as a menace to civilization.

Speaking of Texans in Congress, one of the hardest working members is Bob Poage of Waco. A member of the Agriculture Committee, Poage is recognized as one of the leading authorities in the House on legislation pertaining to the farmer.

Congressman Poage is author of a bill, recently favorably reported by the Committee on Agriculture, which would empower the Secretary of Agriculture to requisition certain surplus war equipment for use in water and soil conservation work.

It is pointed out that this equipment is badly needed in soil conservation work, and in the long run the public would get more good out of it that way than they would from having the equipment sold at knock-down prices to speculators. Congressman Fisher is supporting the Poage bill, which will probably be voted on in October.

Of interest to the wool growers in Texas is the news that this fall the ICC will begin hearings on freight rates that apply to wool. It has long been contended that the present rate structure on wool is discriminatory, and this will give the industry a chance to prove its case and get some possible relief.

Senator Says OPA Food Locker Probe Is Unconstitutional

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—Sen. Moore (R-Okla.) termed "unconstitutional" an order instructing OPA investigators to check contents of private frozen food lockers in six Southwestern states for illegal meat.

"They have no more right to enter a frozen food locker and seize the property contained in it than they have to forcefully enter a private home and seize the food in the kitchen pantry," he said in a letter to Price Administrator Chester Bowles.

Moore said the order, which came from the Dallas district OPA office is "a serious invasion" of constitutional rights.

OPA Enforcement Officer Harry Hall said at Dallas that "Our guns are aimed at large eating places which maintain big stores of meats in locker plants, not at the individual who keeps his own meat in his own locker. This doesn't mean we are not checking the individual, however."

Nation's Leading Oil Transporter

Humble, through its vast pipe line system, is transporting more oil than any other system in the country. Nearly 700,000 barrels, or one-seventh of the nation's total production, moves through Humble pipe lines daily.

These Humble lines serve every major producing area in Texas as well as Southeast New Mexico. Humble has supplied one-third of all the oil moved to the East Coast through the "Big Inch" line built by the Government. This gigantic transportation accomplishment is one of four significant FIRSTS* Humble has achieved in producing for war.

- ★FIRST In U. S. crude oil production
- FIRST to produce a billion gallons of finished 100-octane aviation gasoline at one refinery
- FIRST in production of synthetic toluene
- FIRST in transportation of oil by pipe line

Building on such resources as these, Humble technologists have been able to develop top quality Humble products for your car.

TEXAS' LEADING MOTOR OIL

Humble 997 Motor Oil is a product of the Humble Company's long-standing policy of continuous improvement, and has been a favorite of Texas motorists since 1931. The balanced quality of 997 is of special significance under today's driving conditions. Lower speed and restricted driving result in abnormal accumulation of moisture in the crankcase. The marked sludge-resisting properties of Humble 997 minimize the formation of harmful sludge.

In 997, all the qualities of quick starting, low consumption sludge-resisting tendency and low carbon content are combined in one motor oil, a completely balanced lubricant which performs equally well under all conditions of speed and temperature. Today, as never before, your car needs the safeguard of Humble 997 balanced lubrication.
