To the People of this Community

Thanksgiving is in the air. The spirit of the Good Provider hugs you warmly. What better time or reason to buy another extra Victory Bond, the good provider of the future?

As you sit around the festive table this year, first year of world peace since 1939, remember the millions of men and women in uniform in strange lands. In Germany about 2,500,000 Americans will be separated on this family holiday from fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters, wives, sweethearts and children. Every extra Victory Bond is a link between home and the Tokyo or Berlin patrol.

There's self-interest in your purchase of any extra bond today out there's service to your country too. You have most to gain by membership of as many Victory Bonds as you can possibly buy. You guarantee yourself a better chance for personal peace and prosperity. You also help your government to pay the war costs and return home of men and women who will be badly missed Thanksgiving Day in your own home and your neighbor's home.

Jeep Accident Near Bangs Is Fatal To Soldier

Private Louis E. Tudico, Headquarters Motor Pool, Second Infantry Division, Camp Swift, died at 6:20 a. m. Friday in the Santa Anna hospital from internal injuries received earlier when the jeep in which he was a passenger skidded on wet pavement between Bangs and Santa Anna.

Private James F. Fultz, of the same unit, driver of the jeep, was not injured.

The two had left Camp Bowie at 1:45 a.m. enroute back to Camp Swift. They got on the wrong road and did not discover their mistake until they were near Coleman. Then they turned around and headed back toward Brownwood on U. S. 84-67.

The accident occurred at the two-way strip of pavement on a hill west of Bangs. Something went wrong with the left front wheel of the little vehicle. It was raining and the pavement was wet. Realizing that if he put on the brakes the jeep would skid, Fultz tried to maneuver the vehicle, but it sidled anyhow, with the back wheels coming around until they hit the road shoulder. Tudico was thrown out and received fatal injuries. His next of kin is his mother, Mrs. Amella Moss, 142 Perry Street, Walbridge, Ohio. Born in April, 1924, he had been in the army since April, 1944.

Help Philippino Children Have A Christmas Too

This is an appeal from a group of fathers stationed in a General Hospital in Manila. The fathers who want to be home to hand out gifts to their own children are trying to make a Christmas for all, by sponsoring a tree for the poor children of Manila.

They have pooled their money for a tree, Santa Claus suit, fruit and nuts, and their time and effort for a program, but there are no toys in war stricken Manila—these must come from us.

You will be happier Christmas Eve night to know some child isn't being turned away from that tree empty handed—for the toy you send will be his whole Christmas.

Small unbreakable toys are required because of mailing restrictions. Wont you give just one? Please.

Mrs. J. V. Browning.

Ralph Fisher To Be In Brownwood November 29

Ralph T. Fisher, Manager of the Ablene Social Security Board Field Office, announces today that his next regular visit to Brownwood will be made on Thursday, November 29, instead of on November 22. Persons wishing to see Mr. Fisher in Brownwood should call at the U. S. Employment Service Office, Main Street, at 1:00 p.m., on Thursday, November 29. Trips to Brownwood in future months will be made on the second and fourth Thursdays.

Mrs. Marilyn Williams left Thursday morning for Los Angeles where she will join her husband who is returning from the Pacific.

He was killed Sunday afternoon in a tractor accident on the farm of Edwin's uncle near Bangs. The Edwin Cox family were visiting in the home of his uncle. Milton Ray was riding on a tractor driven by John Cox, 15-year-old son of Edwin's uncle, and in turning a corner something went wrong with the tractor and it overturned pinning Milton underneath and quite a bit of trouble was encountered in getting the body from underneath the tractor. He was rushed to the local hospital but efforts to restore life were in vain.

Milton Ray is survived by his parents; two brothers, John Dean and Jerry; granduncles on both sides, and several uncles and aunts.

The pallbearers were Lee Boardman, J. D. Williamson, Clint Maroney and N. C. Baker.

The flower boys and girls were Bobby Jean Fuller, Alice Jeanne Post, Loyd Dale Evans, Milford Blanton, Mannon Evans, Bobby Jean Parish and Patsy Ruth Parish.

Friday and Saturday, Nov. 16 and 17, copies of the original documents of surrender for Germany and Japan will be on display in the Santa Anna National Bank. These are there for your inspection, but please handle them with care. These are the only ones available for Coleman County and they have to be shown in other parts of the County.

This is the first showing of these Documents and they are shown in connection with the Victory Bond Drive that is now in progress. There will be a lady in charge of the Documents both days. Please cooperate with her in seeing these Documents. They are very important and must be kept in the best of condition. They will remain in Coleman County as permanent records.

Duane Griffin Writes From Japan

The following is a part of a letter received from Duane Griffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Griffin, who has been on the main island of Japan for some time.

Tochokawa, Japan
Oct. 27, 1945

Dear Mom and Dad,
How is everything going with you. I hope you are all doing fine. I am doing fine except I'm homesick. I hope you have heard from Pete. I sure hope he was off Okinawa before that storm hit there. I suppose you heard about it. We left three boys there in the hospital when we left. They got here a couple of days ago and said the storm really tore things up. Coble stayed there to be shipped home but is still there as a result of the typhoon. I guess I better write him tonight.

At last we are set up where we will probably be till I come home. (I hope our stay is short). We got here yesterday. It is about thirty-five or forty miles from Tokyo, at a Jap pilot training base. We live in a school building. It is pretty nice. The best we've lived in since we left the States. We have a lot of work to do on it yet though. Our living quarters, mess hall, showers and orderly room are all in the same building. Awalt, Bruno, Calp and I all sleep next together. We have a nice writing table in our end of the room. There are about 30 men in a large room divided into three sections. We have three of them with a radio in each room. Not bad at all after living in tents in the jungles for so long.

I am rather glad that I came on to Japan. There is lots of interesting things to see here. The people are very strange and the customs very different from what I've ever seen. They take off their shoes before entering a house. They have large public baths in town where women, men and all go in to bathe. It cost them 10 sen just like car fare or something. Their main foods are fish, rice and vegetables. Their farms are about like our gardens back home. They are going to have a rough time this winter. I read in the Stars and Stripes (that's our service paper) where they expected 100,000,000 to die of cold and hunger this winter. If you could see how they live you could believe it to. Americans can never realize how lucky they are.

I have been into Tokyo on pass a couple of nites. There isn't much to the town but it is all very interesting and new to us. We ate supper in a fancy Jap hotel one nite. We had a 7 course dinner for 26 yen, that is about a dollar and seventy cents in our money. I really enjoyed it after being in the jungles for 16 months.

A lot of the buildings in downtown Tokyo are even burned out and torn down. The streets are crowded with Japs. You can hardly walk in the afternoon. Most of them wear wooden sandals and sound like a bunch of horses walking down the street.

It has rained every day we've been here and is pretty cool too. We have to take showers in water as cold as ice. I fixed a shower the first day we were here. If the weather ever clears up I am going to take some pictures if I can get the films.

We could see Mt. Fujiyama yesterday morning. The peak is covered with snow now. It was like a picture in the bright sun. The first time we saw it was the day we got off the boat. It had no snow on it then. We are planning a hike up in the mountains all day Sunday if it is pretty. That is, Awalt and I with a couple other boys.

Your loving son,
Duane

The Battle of Luzon

Have you ever heard the story of the Battle of Luzon. And how the 37th came in at the break of dawn. They drove on toward Manila down highway number three. For days and nights they marched along, till the city they could see.

We headed for the market place—receiving sniper fire. They tried to hold the 145 but we broke up their desire. From there to Bilibid Prison—fighting every day. The Japs who tried to stop us were killed along the way.

We crossed the Pasig River but paid an awful price. Still we secured the other side. 'Twas worth the sacrifice. We left there for the Embassy through Paco and San Juan. We hadn't travelled very far till we were fired upon.

The campaign for Manila was nearly at an end. But we had another mission that took a lot of men. We fought on through Walled City for the fight had just begun. Cause we'd returned to liberate the Island of Luzon.

And when that round was over, we took a little rest. Then turned East to the mountains that proved a hornet's nest.

We climbed up Pacawagan and took Wewa down below. The going was rough and mighty tough so the pace was very slow.

We wheeled North toward Aparri up through Balcé Pass. Japs put up stiff resistance though they knew they couldn't last.

Speeding up Cagayan Valley as motorized Infantry. This finished up the final round and pushed them to the sea.

This song is dedicated to the men who couldn't go. On with the 37th to finish off Tokyo. They'll always be remembered and their spirit carried on. They gave their lives that we could win the Battle of Luzon.

Chorus
Hear the whistle of the artillery
hear the angry mortars whine,
We are going to have to use them to salivate the swine.
They know their days are numbered as the time has almost come,
That we will run them off this Island of Luzon.

Chorus for last verse
Hear the whistle of the artillery
hear the angry mortars whine
We're going to have to use them to salivate the swine,
Their reign of terror's over and the Japs are finally done
And this concludes the story of the Battle of Luzon.

Written by a member of the 145 Infantry.

LIVING ROOM TEMPERATURE

Austin, Texas—With the approach of cold weather, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has issued some timely advice concerning room temperature and its relation to health.

"It is very important that inside temperature be maintained at around 68 to 70 degrees," Dr. Cox said. "Thousands of homes are continually overheated in the winter, and a degree of heat is often demanded that would not be tolerated in the summertime."

In a room that is overheated, the body pores are open, and the moment that the outside temperature is encountered, much harm may result. Colds, influenza, bronchial troubles and even pneumonia may take advantage of this bodily abuse, and take a serious toll in sickness and even death.

"An inside temperature of from 66 to 70 degrees is not only more healthful, but actually more comfortable," Dr. Cox said. "When, added to these factors, the resulting economy is considered, it might be well to check up and see what your thermometer reads. A room temperature within the range suggested, plus the careful maintenance of proper humidity, will help to prevent needless sickness and protect the good health of your family."

Annexation Is Deferred

In September, 1837, following Van Buren's court rejection of the Texan proposal John Quincy Adams offered in the House of Representatives a resolution embodying the substance of the President's scruples about the Constitution. He declared, "The power of annexing the people of any independent foreign state to this union is a power not delegated by the Constitution of the United States to their Congress or to any department of their government, but reserved to the people." In other words, it would require an amendment of the Constitution to annex Texas. He repeated the resolution toward the end of the next session of Congress, and gaining the floor on June 16, spoke for one hour daily with a few exceptions until Congress adjourned on July 9, 1838. The speech covered a wide range. Had he been challenged, he would have maintained that all that he said was germane to the resolution, but in fact he traveled far a-field. His view of the Texas question was that it was a sordid plot to expand the slave territory of the United States so as to give the South greater power in the Senate. It is not likely that he wanted the House to vote on his resolution.

More probably he offered it to gain an occasion for the speech. Later he claimed that the speech laid the annexation question for three years. But other conditions suspended the question.

President Lamar Opposes Annexation

Perhaps by inadvertence, the Texan government did not with draw its offer annexation after the United States declined. President Houston ended this unfruitful situation, however, in 1838, instructing the Texan minister in Washington to inform the government that the offer was no longer pending. The Texan Senate approved this action in 1839.

Houston was succeeded by Mirabeau B. Lamar. He had won an enviable reputation as leader of the cavalry in the battle of San Jacinto and had served as vice-president while Houston was president. He was a poet and an orator. He had a great vision of Texas as an independent nation and devoted much of his inaugural address to the expression of his views. Of annexation to the United States, he said: "I have never been able myself to perceive the policy of the desert confederation, or discover in it any advantage which could possibly result to Texas. But on the contrary a long train of consequences of the most appalling character and magnitude have never failed to present themselves whenever I have entertained the subject. The step, once taken, would produce a lasting regret, and ultimately prove as disastrous to our liberty and hopes as the triumphant sword of the enemy. Annexation would deprive Texas of her public lands, of the right to make appropriations therefrom for internal improvements and education to levy her own taxes, to control commerce—pouring her abundant treasures into the lap of another people than her own." When he turned from this "dark and dreary picture" to the brilliant future that awaited the independent republic; when he contemplated the "vast extent of territory, stretching from the Sabine to the Pacific and away to the southwest as far as the obstinacy of the enemy may render it necessary for the sword to mark the boundary"—he could not regard the annexation of Texas

It has been pointed out to the attention of the County Attorney and Commissioners, Court that many people over the county are making dumping ground of the public roads and bar ditches by cluttering them with brush, rubbish, dead turkeys, chickens and cows. Such practice is in violation of the law, and has reached the point to where it is endangering public security.

It is requested that all persons co-operate in seeing that this condition does not continue to exist. Future violations will result in prosecutions in accordance with existing laws.

THE TIME IS NEAR to start feeding your Turkey Breeders Mash

You will want to get a lot of those high fertility and good shell texture eggs that Gray's Turkey Breeder Mash will produce. It takes a lot of A and D feeding oil to make a good turkey feed—we use the best NOPCO 3000 A and 400 D—we have two barrels per month ordered until Spring.

Experts and men who have had a lot of experience will tell you that you can get 10 percent more production with mash than you can get with pellets—the main reason is they drink more water, and an egg is approximately 68 percent water.

I have ordered a $4000 Anglo American pellet machine for those who would rather feed pellets, but it will be three or four months before I can get shipment;

A lot of you will not feed my mashes this season; but I wish you would watch some of your neighbors who do—then next year it won't be hard to decide what feed to use

There was quite a lot of nutritional rump last year and Gray's feeds straightened out several flocks, that is the reason I use so much cod liver oil to try and avoid any loss in production and give you a high fertility egg.

I am trying to give you a feed as good as the best and better than the rest at a reasonable price—and don't forget our chicken lay mashes.

I expect to get a car of yellow corn the last of this month at a price you can afford to pay.

Our Sunday school has been up in the 80's and 90's the last month and we hate to see anyone leave. Our new officers and teachers are making a good job of their work. I made some mistakes in giving names of the teachers, but I thought I was right. In reading my news after I see it in print I often see where I made a mistake. So, please forgive me. If you who have news would write your news down and hand it to me I could copy and not make many mistakes. I have quit writing for the Coleman paper, and if you want this to keep coming in the Santa Anna News please help me by sending in your news and remember I write up the news Monday afternoon.

Visitors at church Sunday morning and at night were Miss Joan McIver and her friend, Miss Lois Snutz of Temple, Miss Mary Stacy of Bangs, Sgt. Paul Cooms from Camp Bowie, Johnny McIver, Floyd Goodson, Eugene Talley and at last that long looked for son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dean—Cpl. Rodney Dean, and too there was H. B. Dockery back in his place at church. Boys, we may not be able to show our appreciation of what you suffered for us, but it will be a mistake of the head and not the heart.

She did as Mr. Lovelass asked her to do—took her school children to Coleman last Thursday night and at the high school auditorium put on a program, "Indian Children." I have been told by several who went from here that the teachers from over the county and also the State Supt. of schools said it was the best ever seen. So we are very proud of our school, also our teacher and pupils, and I might add our trustees.

ARMISTICE DAY—NOVEMBER 11

To those of us who are still in High School, Armistice Day as really never had too great a meaning. Of course, all of us knew that Armistice Day on November 11, 1918, was the day that marked the end of fighting in World War I, but we really had no real understanding of its true significance.

Now that we have been through a war ourselves, we appreciate more greatly this great day in history. Though we celebrate it because of the end of another war, it means to us that this war has ended, that our men will soon come home, and perhaps peace will again rule the world. More than that, it means that our liberty which was in so great a danger is now safe, and that we can keep it that way if only all races of men will try.

In this cause, we need the full cooperation of all countries and not the struggling of nations against each other as some have now begun to do. Let us try to be cooperative with each other, for this ability of the individual to cooperate with each other helps make the nation more cooperative, and in turn, the world.

This terrible war we fought, which cost us so many precious lives must not have been in vain. Does that Armistice have no greater significance or will it all have to be done over again? Let us keep the Armistice a truly glorious day of peace!

MRS. DAVIS INJURED

Mrs. Henry Davis, history teacher in high school, has been absent from her classes the past three weeks.

Mrs. Davis fell as she was getting off the bus. Her injury was at first thought to be a sprained ankle but it proved to be a broken bone.

We all miss Mrs. Davis and hope that she may soon recover and be back in school.

PERSONAL COLUMN

The Senior hero of the week is none other than that tall, fast going England boy. In appearance James is 5 feet, 11 inches tall, and has brown eyes and dark hair.

A valuable member of the football team this season, he plays right half back on the Mountaineer team. He made our third touchdown of the season. James has also served his class in many ways, one of the most important was his good work as class president during his sophomore year. Just watch number 86 in the next game we play. Our cheers are for James England.

KEYHOLE COMMENTS

Greetings, gates, here we go again, those two super-nosey guys of S.A.H.S. with nothing to do but peep. And boy, what views we do enjoy, such as the following.

With our eyes glued to the keyhole, we saw these flame throwers: Elaine Burgett and Olin Horton, Billy Day and Jean Schrader, Junior C. and anything that wears a skirt—period. Seems as though our handsome Arthur Dean is turning into quite a wolf. Will you please make up your mind??? You keep us on peeps and keyholes.

Snoop confidentially told Scoop that Sarah Frances M. and Howard L. are not going so good these days. Seems Howard can't make up his mind, or is it Howard???

As one Snoop to another Scoop we wonder what has happened to Wandalea Lansford and her Tarleton boy friend, whose name is Thomas Smith.

What happen to Pat and Betty Ann? Seems as if Bob H. is having all the luck.

Was that James E. sporting a '46 graduation ring? Did your finger get cold, James???

Jean Schrader and Billy Day were having a swell time coming home on the bus Friday night. Woo! Woo!

Was that Mr. Pettit we saw in Coleman Saturday night around 12?

The Four Musketeers, namely Alice A., Joyce H., Wanda H., and Evelyn B. were in the show "unescorted." What is the matter girls, man shortage?

Dayton and Zona seem to be carrying that well-worn torch.

What is the matter with Maurice? Can't he see he is being smiled upon, or is it so old he is used to it?

If the little morons (Snoop and Scoop) are right in thinking that mushrooms are only for lovers, shouldn't we put people who study out of the Study Hall?

Could that be Mrs. Williamson giving advice to the lovelorn? The voice of experience!

If you have any problems send them to "Mother Love." We shall be glad to answer your questions. Drop them in Ye Olde Gossip Box and remember, any juicy tid-bits of scandal are always welcome to Snoop and Scoop.

MEET MRS. WILLIAMS

Since we first introduced our S.A.H.S. faculty, there have been a few changes made. We now have a new teacher of English II and IV. Let us introduce Mrs. D. H. Williams, known to Mr. Williams as Anna.

She was born in Mason, Texas, and is truly a native Texan. She graduated from Howard Payne College with a major in English and so, English students, watch your grammar!

Some of us already know Mrs. Williams from the five years she taught at Leady. But if we haven't met her, let's get acquainted. She is an interesting person and a good teacher so be sure and meet Mrs. Williams.

THANKS TO THE BUSINESS MEN OF S. A.

The football boys of Santa Anna wish to express our sincere appreciation to the business men of Santa Anna for treating us to the Brownwood-Breckenridge football game, Monday 12. We enjoyed the game very much.

Twenty four of the football squad took the opportunity of going. We really appreciate the generosity of the business men in making possible this enjoyable trip.

SENIOR NEWS

Due to the fact that we have been having a football game every Friday night, the Seniors as a group, have not had much time for anything else, but many important things have been happening to individual Seniors.

We are glad to have Tommy Newman back in school again after his stay in the hospital.

A number of Seniors besides the football boys went to Brownwood Monday to the Brownwood-Breckenridge football game.

Pat McClatchey went to Dallas last weekend to a Hereford show.

Wanda Henderson went to El Paso last Sunday.

Willard Allen is showing a calf at the Dallas Hereford show.

Vance Cobb actually dressed up and went to a wedding the other day. Imagine that!

Ray Dean said he goes to bed every night.

And it isn't news that we Seniors are mad as well, everything—about the Melvin game. That's a common feeling around Santa Anna High School, however!

The members of the play committee have been reading and considering several plays and expect to make their suggestions soon for the selection of the Senior play.

WHAT IF'S

What if Ann and Doris didn't get to go to Brownwood on Saturday night?

What if Bob S. had not asked Johnnie Ethel S. for a date last Wednesday night?

What if Betty Ann did not go with Bob H.?

What if Santa Anna lost a football game?

What if we had had school Monday?

What if the plane geometry classes could prove theorems?

What if Standley C. and Kenneth V. had some Junior girls to flirt with in seventh period S.H.?

What if Maurice K. and Vernon U. had not changed their place of eating lunch?

What if the boys on the Shields bus talked about football?

What if Doretha C. and Sarah Frances M. did not always get a crowd of football boys at their table in the hotel on Friday nights after the football games here?

What if Vance C. was not tied down by a certain Junior girl from Trickham?

What if Boyd S. had not won out with Wanda P.?

What if Jeanette had not become an aunt?

What if Ruby G. were still wearing that England class ring???

What if Dayton M. and Zona D. did not have up a case?

JOKES

As Mrs. Singleton quickly ran a red light, a traffic cop stopped her, and told her to appear in court the following Monday. She went to court and told the judge she was a school teacher and could not be present at court Monday. When the judge said, "So you are a school teacher! Well, young lady, go write for me five hundred times "I will not run any more red lights!"

Nell Ralstin. "I suppose you know gentlemen prefer blondes."

Mary L. Leady. "They may prefer blondes, but the fact that blondes know what gentlemen prefer, has a lot to do with it."

Howard Lee. "Shall I tell you how we shock the wheat?"

Sarah Frances: "Oh, do you think I should listen?"

Hal Sauder (in drug store on Sunday morning): "Please give me change for a dime."

Druggist: "Here you are. I hope you enjoy the sermon."

Beverly S.: "I spent last winter in a very pretty city in Switzerland."

Cleo R.: "Berne?"

Evelry S.: "No, I almost froze."

Dayton MacD.: "Dad, can you cure me of snoring? I snore so loud that I wake myself."

Dr. MacD.: "Son, in that case I advise you to sleep in another room."

Vance C. (Speaking to Reba): "Do you think good looks has anything to do with love?"

Reba G.: "Oh, dear, do I feel sorry for you!"

Conductor: "How old is your boy?"

Mother: "Four."

Conductor: "How old are you, son?"

Boy: "Four."

Conductor: "Well mam'n, I'll let him ride this time, but when he grows up, he will either be a giant or a liar."

Since women are all now wearing slacks, the man has to turn out a mustache so callers can tell who is head of the house.

"IS THAT IN THE RULE BOOK?"

Whether it's football or business, Americans expect fair play all down the line.

In football, the referee is there to see that the game is played according to the rules. But he's not supposed to run with the ball.

In business, the referee is the government, which establishes regulations and fair practices.

But when government goes into business and competes with its own citizens, the American tradition of fair play is set aside. The referee then becomes a player, and he enjoys advantages that are denied to all the other players in the game.

Government-owned electric power systems, for example, pay no taxes. When they need capital, they get your tax money at little or no interest from the U. S. Treasury. To cover operating losses—an accepted political condition—you, as a taxpayer, will take care of that.

Business-managed power systems—unlike tax subsidized political methods—do not have these special privileges. They are not tax dodgers, they pay their full share of taxes, pay fair interest on public loans. Fortunately for you and your tax bill, over 80 per cent of all the electric power in this country is produced by tax-paying, self-supporting electric companies, owned and operated by several million folks like you.

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for November 18

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education, used by permission.

THE OUTREACH OF THE CHURCH

LESSON TEXT: Acts 11:21-23; 12:24, 25, 12:14. GOLDEN TEXT: And he said unto them: Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature.—Mark 16:15.

A church that is spiritually alive will be missionary-minded. What is the missionary's message? The message of the early Church, Acts 1:1; 11:19; 13:46; 17:17; 18:4; 20:24; 21:26; 26:18; 28:23; 28:31. It was far from God. A man, rich in knowledge, was preaching all kinds of things. But there it was, a God to whom all things are new things. (See, for example, I Cor. 5:17; Isa. 43:19; 197; 33; Rev. 21:5).

I. A New Fellowship (11:21-23). The Antioch church was a living witness. "The Lord was with them"; "the word of the Lord was multiplied"; "a great number believed and were turned to the Lord." Your church and mine might learn much from the church at Antioch.

The genius of Christianity is fellowship. Those who have a religious belief which makes them exclusive—not willing to fellowship with other Christians—do not truly represent their Lord.

When the church at Jerusalem heard the good news, they sent Barnabas to help the new converts and to establish fellowship.

He was the ideal man to send, for "he was a good man." It is far more important that a man be good than that he be brilliant if he is to edify young converts. He was "full of the Holy Ghost." He was also "full of faith," and without that no man need undertake the work of instructing and developing young converts. He was free from the love of gold (4:36, 37).

"He was free from personal ambition and jealousy in his work (vv. 25, 26). He was very sharp-eyed to see the sincerity and promise of a young convert (9:27)."

Into this new fellowship of life and service the gracious and generous Barnabas brought a new evangelist—Saul, God's prepared man for this hour.

II. A New Name (11:26-30). Christian, the beautiful name of those who follow Christ, was first used at Antioch. It may have held a measure of contempt (see Acts 26:28; I Pet. 4:16), but it was a remarkably suitable name for those who had come out of paganism now to live, amid their old surroundings, a new life, a separated life, the Christ life.

This name "combines Jewish thought with Greek and Latin language, and thus, like the inscription on the cross, bears witness to the universality of Christianity as a religion for the whole world. The idea of 'Christ' (Messiah) is Jewish; the substantive 'Christ' (Christos) is Greek, and the adjectival termination 'ian' (-ianus) is Latin. . . . This new name was intended to introduce and mark the difference between Jews and Gentiles on the one hand, and those who, whether Jews or Gentiles, were followers of Jesus Christ. . . . The term 'Christian' evidently points to the person of Christ, and to those who are associated with Him as His followers. It implies and involves union and close association with Christ" (W. H. Griffith Thomas).

Those believers at Antioch not only bore the name, they practiced the life of Christ. They gave of their means, "every man according to his abilities," to meet the need of their new-found Jewish brethren in Judea.

III. A New Vision (12:24, 25; 13:1-4). Little wonder that in such a church "the word of God grew and multiplied" (cf. 11:21). But the believers were not content to settle back at ease and enjoy that fellowship. Their precious church was simply the center from which they reached out to the heathen world around them.

Every army must have a home base. Just so, the army of the Lord looks to the home church, the local gathering of God's people. An army would fall if those at the base of its action were asleep, or so interested

The National Labor-Management Conference opened in Washington last week to figure out how to settle industrial disputes without strikes. Ironically, some of the conferees had to walk to the opening session when 4200 AFL bus and street car operators walked out on a two-day strike.

It was the first street car strike in the Capital since 1917 and occurred when the strikers, who now receive up to $1.02 an hour, demanded 30 cents an hour more. The walk-out was in in the pleasures of this world, or so indifferent to their responsibility, that they would not work hard in support of the active army. So the cause of Christian missions cannot go ahead if it must depend on a home church which is spiritually asleep, indolent, indifferent, and worldly-minded.

The church at Antioch prayed and fasted. It ministered the Word of God. It was responsive to the guidance of the Holy Spirit and ready to sacrifice by giving its leaders to the missionary cause. Is your church that kind of church?

The next regular meeting of the American Legion is NOV. 20, 1945 7:00 o'clock in the luncheon room of the Service Cafe. All members are urged to be there. John G. Gregg, Adj.

violation of a contract between the union and the Transit Company, providing there would be no interruption to service during the life of the written agreement. The contract expires next June.

The shut-down created a field day for hitch-hikers. Everybody wanted to give everybody a ride and everybody wanted a ride with everybody. So except for a 30 percent reduction in school attendance folks seemed to get along very well. About 500,000 Washingtonians ride the 1800 buses and street cars. Normally the Transit Company takes in about a million and a half fares a day here.

The strike, just as John L. Lewis' coal strike, served to illustrate the irresponsibility of unions under existing laws. Because the union ignored its written contract the Transit Company lost $73,000 a day in gross revenues, to say nothing of the loss and inconvenience to the public. This all goes to prove the Wagner Act needs some overhauling for the protection of the public as well as management and the rank and file of workers. Collective bargaining becomes a farce when a contract agreed upon as a result of collective bargaining may on the whim of perhaps one labor leader be violated with impunity.

Leftist Mail
President Truman recently said that he was perturbed by the fact that 90 percent of his mail is Leftist.

His remark caused me to watch my mail—that is, from pressure groups—for a week just to see how much came in from Left-wing organizations. Here is a list of a week's receipts from the CIO and its Political Action Committee (PAC):

1. A letter from Philip Murray, president of CIO, demanding immediate passage of a bill to create a permanent Fair Employment Practice Commission (FEPC).
2. Another letter from Murray denouncing as "vicious un-American" a bill reported favorably by the House Military Affairs Committee on the subject of union responsibility in regard to strikes.
3. A 22-page pamphlet by Murray and Russian-born Sidney Hillman of the PAC demanding passage of the Full Employment bill. This bill would commit the Federal government to add millions of people to the public payroll in the future at a cost estimated by government officials up to 40 billion dollars a year.
4. Another PAC pamphlet from Hillman calling for passage of a bill to raise the minimum wage from 40 cents an hour to 75 cents.

5. An issue of the weekly CIO News.

6. Another pamphlet by Murray on the subject of peace and security.

7. A copy of a letter to President Truman from C. B. Baldwin, Executive Vice-Chairman of the PAC, denouncing congressmen who had not voted with the CIO.

8. A monthly publication entitled "Economic Outlook," from the CIO, dealing with the demand for 52 hours of pay for 40 hours of work.

9. "Ammunition," another regular CIO publication, giving voting records of members of Congress and calling on all CIO members to take heed.

10. "Washington Close-Up," by PAC, dealing with demands for more social security.

11. A letter from CIO opposing a one-year limitation period for actions against employers under the Wage and Hour law.

With England going Socialist and recent French elections almost giving Communists control there, the Left-wing pressure in this country, as indicated by President Truman's remark, is becoming more persistent. But there was some assurance to be had from the Mayor's race in Detroit last week when the CIO-PAC candidate, R. T. Frankenstein, took a licking at the polls in the Nation's strongest CIO center.
