Large Attendance Expected Ex-Rangers Annual Encampment

Summary of Bangs School System

BY ARTHUR MABERRY

MR. ARTHUR MABERRY

MRS. ARTHUR MABERRY

Your correspondent asked me last Thursday for some information regarding what we will have in our school next year and some of the things that we plan to do.

We will have a complete set of DeVry double unit, 35 mm. portable motion picture equipment for visual educational purposes. We plan to use this equipment for both entertainment and classroom instruction. This equipment is the very latest type and is so simple to operate that almost any teacher will be able to use it for her visual instruction.

We will also have a much better library of both books, magazines, and newspapers. We already have quite a bit of this material and other materials are being ordered. We had an increase of about 400 percent in number of books read last year and we are expecting another large increase this year.

We are also installing a complete unit of two way radio in the school. This system will enable the supervisor to sit in the school office and speak or listen to any room in the building. Radio programs can be tuned into any room desired without interfering with the other rooms. Plans are being completed at the present time on a plan whereby all tax valuations in the district will be lowered to the state and county valuations. This will be possible because we have been able to eliminate all wastes and make every dollar count for the school. Our tax collections have been increasing quite a bit recently also.

Our school grounds have been improved wonderfully this summer. The football field has been piped for irrigation and sodded with bermuda grass. It is very pretty now and we are expecting it to be much better for playing this year than it has ever been before.

The ground in front of the present school building and auditorium has been sodded also and it is very pretty now. Our teachers will all have degrees this year. This is the first time that we have ever had a faculty that every member was a college graduate. The new salary schedule makes it possible for all of our teachers to get nice salary raises this year.

Next year will be the first time that we will offer 2 years of vocational agriculture, 2 years of industrial work, 1 accredited course in band and 1 accredited course in orchestra, and it will be the second year that we have offered 3 years of vocational home economics. We expect to give the students some practice work in school that will enable them to be more valuable in our community in which they may live.

We are also establishing an adult forum for the people of the community. This forum will meet once each month for the purpose of seeing pictures, listening to lectures, discussing vital problems that are of interest to adults in 1935-36. We plan to get quite a bit of information that will help us be better and more understanding citizens of the world as well as our own country.

We are expecting next year to be the greatest year that we have ever lived and the entire community is doing its best to bring this about.

Yours very sincerely,
ARTHUR MABERRY

BROWN-HERRING

Friends and relatives learned late last week of the wedding on Wednesday evening of Miss Annie Lee Brown and Mr. Granville Herring. The ceremony was performed in Coleman at 8:00 with Rev. J. R. McCorkle reading the impressive ring ceremony. The bride wore blue and white with white accessories.

Mrs. Herring is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown of Coleman, until recently of Santa Anna. She has lived here almost all her life, and is a graduate of the local high school. Mr. Herring is the son of J. C. Herring of Panos and is employed by the Arcadia Oil and Refining Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Herring are at home in Santa Anna.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Blair and little son of Brownwood spent Sunday in the home of Mrs. H. O. Blair.

Miss Mary Lee Combs went to Miles Monday where she joined a group for a camping trip in Christoval.

Mrs. N. D. Wylie and Mrs. Basil Gilmore spent Sunday with relatives in Abilene. They were accompanied home by Mrs. J. J. Kirkpatrick, who had been visiting there for several days.

Santa Anna Boys Enjoy Activities of Boy Scout Camp

A group of energetic boys from the Mountain City were among the large group of Boy Scouts who enjoyed the first week at beautiful Camp Tonkawa. Camp Tonkawa, located at Buffalo Gap, is the Scout Camp for the Chisholm Trail Area Council. The young men were prominent in both the special and regular activities of the Camp. "Buddy" Lovelady was featured on a special program given for the men of the C. C. Camp. Bill Mitchell turned in an excellent performance in Red Cross Life Saving. He received the Junior Red Cross Life Saving Badge. Talmadge Turner and Wallace Wooduff reached the rank of Tenderfoot Scout, the first and one of the most difficult ranks in Scouting. They also completed the Red Cross test for Beginners Swimming.

Three of the boys returned to their homes Sunday, leaving Buddy for the second week. Eagle Scout Audas Smith joined the group Monday morning. He is a member of the Camp Staff, is serving as manager of the Mess Hall, and is a swimming instructor.

All boys thoroughly enjoy the camp each year, according to those who have been there, one must go to find out what he has been missing for many seasons.

Baptist Revival to Close Sunday Night

Large crowds are attending the open air Revival Meeting being held west of the Baptist Church. Evangelist George W. McCall of Dallas and Evangelist C. Singer L. C. Gayle of Tyler are assisting the pastor, Hal C. Wingo, in leading.

The closing services will be held Sunday. Prayer services begin each evening at 8:10 o'clock, and song services at 8:30. All are invited to attend the services.

Tonight, Friday, has been announced Special Sunday School Service, and all teachers and officers, and all those enrolled in Schools are especially asked to be present if possible.

The service Friday morning will be devoted principally to the elderly people.

36 LICENSE PLATE DESIGN ANNOUNCED

AUSTIN, July 23 (AP)—Next year's passenger automobile license plates will be of cream color with blue numerals and lettering. The truck plates will have the colors reversed.

At the bottom of the plate, where the word "Texas" now appears, there will be the word "Centennial" while "Tex" will be stamped horizontally in the middle of the plate. Specifications call for 1,120,000 packs of passenger automobile plates, the same number as this year, and the manufacturing will be done, as last year, by the penitentiary system. The cost is expected to be about the same, or six and one-fourth cents a pair.

NEW STATION AGENT AND FAMILY ARRIVE

D. W. Nickens and family moved here last week from Blum, Texas, and are now domiciled in the W. DuBois residence, south of the Ward School. Mr. Nickens succeeded W. DuBois, who recently moved to Cameron, Texas as Station Agent for the Santa Fe Railway Co. here. The family consists of Mr. Nickens, wife and four daughters, and we take pleasure in welcoming the family to our midst.

Mrs. Sherman Gehrett and Mrs. Minnie B. Pinney attended funeral services in Cross Plains Wednesday for Mrs. Wills Brown who was killed early this week in an automobile accident near Nashville, Arkansas.

Picnic Supper and Entertainment at Ex-Rangers Park

In Regard to Party Wednesday Evening

The Santa Anna News is fostering a feed for the Ex-Rangers and other invited guests, and we especially invite our friends to join us at the party and bring your lunch.

The editor would enjoy having all who attend the party to be our luncheon guests, but for several good reasons we cannot well afford to make that broad invitation.

We do invite you to come to the park, bring your eats, such as you feel you will enjoy eating out in the park, and join us in making the party a big success. We will furnish you with a program of entertainment, band music, possibly a few old-time songs, if we can get someone to sing, and if our plans go over, we expect to have a few thrills you will enjoy.

Thanks to our good friend, S. H. Harper who made the first donation toward the expenses of the party. Others have indicated their good intentions of contributing something toward helping to bear the expenses. Regardless of what comes in, in the way of contributions, the party is going over and this editor is responsible for its success. We are extending an opportunity to any one who feels to have a part in it, but regardless, the party will be put on, and we believe a large number of friends will meet us out there and join in putting it over.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

We acknowledge, with thanks, the splendid cooperation on the part of the citizens who have joined us in helping to put over the Ex-Rangers convention and encampment here next week. But for your help it would be a failure, and Santa Anna is not noted for failures.

A great time is expected in Santa Anna next week when a large number of Texas Ex-Rangers, and several hundred other visitors invited to our town will be here. Every editor in this part of Texas has been invited to be here some time or other during the three days and stay all the time if they wish. Many of them have replied in the affirmative, and express themselves by saying "Put my name in the pot, for I will be there." Editor R. M. Thompson of Goldthwaite goes one better, by saying that Mr. Stokes, his co-helper, says he also intends to come, and to give us more bad news, both their wives are coming too.

Now that is o. k. too, Mr. Thompson, bring the ladies, and let them have the pleasure of seeing and associating with some real he-men, just such as Santa Anna has.

We are looking forward to a great time and believe we will have it. Reports coming from the Ex-Rangers indicate there will be a large number of them here, several who have never before attended the annual encampment.

Santa Anna will have a real opportunity next week to do her stuff, and we have no fear of the consequences. It is not a tag game, or follow the leader. Let each man and woman appoint himself or herself a committee of one to see that every visitor coming to Santa Anna next week has a good time.

Thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Charley Bruce for a young Chevrón for the eats. Who will be next with a mutton, calf, part of a calf, a chicken, turkey, or what have you?

Misses Glenda and Mary Lee Ford, Mrs. S. M. Ford, and Mrs. Fern McCaughan accompanied Miss Mary Emison of Dallas to the Carlsbad Caverns last week. The group returned by way of the Davis mountains, arriving here Friday.

A PROCLAMATION

DESIGNATING ONE WEEK TO TEXAS EX-RANGERS

Whereas, the Texas Ex-Rangers Association has chosen Santa Anna for their meeting place, and set the dates for July 30, 31 and August 1, and,

Whereas, we have taken it upon ourselves to entertain them; and,

Whereas, we owe an undying debt of gratitude to those pioneers who were so largely responsible for the well being and safety of our forefathers and the establishment of this great State,

Now, therefore, I, E. D. McDonald, Mayor of the City of Santa Anna do hereby designate the week of July 28th to August 3rd, 1935, Texas Ex-Ranger Week.

It is my earnest desire these guests of ours be shown every consideration, and their brief stay in our City shall be as pleasant as possible, and I am calling upon each and every citizen to do all in your power to aid the various committees in their preparation. Also, to assist in, and take part in the various activities of the week.

E. D. McDONALD, Mayor
City of Santa Anna, Texas.

Yarberry Victim of Black Widow Bite

J. M. Yarberry, who lives on the Santa Anna Gas Company lease five miles south of town, was released from the Sealy Hospital Thursday following treatment for a bite of the Black Widow Spider Monday night. Mr. Yarberry did not know when the spider attacked him, but became violently ill soon after retiring Monday night and was carried immediately to the Hospital. Hope for his recovery was almost abandoned Tuesday, but it is believed he will recover.

Dan Yarberry of Dallas, has been here with his father this week.

Coleman County People Attend Celebration at Ballinger

BALLINGER, July 23.—Nearly 100 relatives and a number of friends gathered at the Pony bridge on the Colorado river today to celebrate the sixtieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Fox. Uncle Johnnie, as he is known to many of his friends, is 82 years old today, while Mrs. Fox will be 77 years old next week, thus making it a triple celebration.

The meeting was planned by Mrs. Dora Mapes of Ballinger, and Mrs. Eliza Foster of San Antonio, sisters of Uncle Johnnie. Others who were present for the big barbecue dinner included Mrs. Blanche Smitherman and daughter, Elizabeth Ann, Fort Worth; Eldon Johnson, Rockwood; and a brother-in-law, Tom Johnson, of Rockwood, now in his 84th year.

In his younger days, Uncle Johnnie was foreman on a ranch that extended from the present town of Rockport to Taft and Sinton. He came to Runnels county 35 years ago. At present he and two sons are ranching about 18 miles southeast of Abilene in Taylor county.

Rex Golston was in Dallas on business Wednesday.

Construction On Water System Extensions in City to Begin Soon

Fort Worth, Texas
820 Fair Building
July 23rd, 1935

Mr. J. J. Gregg
Santa Anna News
Santa Anna, Texas

Dear Sir:

For your information and for the interest of the people, we are pleased to inform you that shipment is being made on the cast iron pipe for the Water System Extensions in the City of Santa Anna. This pipe will probably arrive Monday, July 29th and construction will start immediately thereafter.

The reason for delay in starting construction was due to the fact that the contractor, Mr. F. C. Youmans, has been doing some emergency work at the filter plant in Austin, Texas due to their recent floods.

Mr. R. H. Standifer of our office will represent the City as its Resident Engineer Inspector. He will arrive in your City Monday.

Very truly yours,
C. J. Hartrider.

From the response we have received, after making the announcement of the annual convention and encampment of the Ex-Texas Rangers which meets here next week, indications are we will have a record crowd.

Bangs, Brownwood, Brady, Coleman, Comanche and other places have tentatively volunteered to join with Santa Anna in putting over a big affair during the three days convention.

The first acceptance received by letter from the invitations sent out from this office to newspapermen to be here Wednesday and join the Santa Anna News in a big party and feed in the park came from our good friend, Harry F. Schwenker of Brady, an Ex-President of the Texas Press Association, who states his intentions to be here.

Forty-two letters were mailed out on last Friday's mail to friends in the heart of Texas to be here at our party, and most of them will be here. It is going to be a great day for Santa Anna.

We repeat our invitation to the public to bring their lunch and enjoy the evening with us in the park. Several hundred people will be there, and special arrangements will be made for the entertainment of the Texas Ex-Rangers and other specially invited guests, and we want our friends to meet us there, and enjoy the evening with us, as well as to help make the evening a success.

Great preparations are being made for a real party. The program will be informal, no long speeches will be made, but several short announcements will likely be heard. Band music, fun, and a general program appropriate for such an occasion will be offered. Several surprises will be in store for you, and your presence will be very much appreciated.

It will be worth your time and effort to join us in a big party for this special occasion. May we not be disappointed by your absence.

ELDORADO CHILD IS HERE FOR TREATMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Will J. Steward of Eldorado came late Monday to bring their eight year old daughter, Winnie Jean, for treatment in the Sealy Hospital. Winnie Jean was seriously injured late Monday when she slipped while sliding down a windmill pipe, and lacerated her leg when she hit the hydrant. Several stitches were required to close the wound, and she was carried to the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Perry.

The other Steward children, Billie Bob and Neva Jo, are also here.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Cole and little grandson of Athens, Ala., were recent visitors in the M. D. Eubank home. A local about the visitors was written for last week's paper, but in some unaccounted for manner was lost and failed to find its way into print.

TWO MINUTE SERMONS (By Thomas Hastwell)

THE GOOD SPORT - There is something in all of us that impels our admiration of what we term good sportsmanship. We all like to see a man who knows how to win, and who also, when fortune is against him, knows how to lose. It is generally conceded that he is a poor sport who won't take his own medicine. The person who persists in playing the game of life his own way, who pays no attention to the sign post along the way, who ignores the advice and warning of wiser friends and then when trouble inevitably overtakes him comes crying on the shoulders of those whose admonitions he refused, is a poor sport. We see them about us every day. They tell the world that they are living their own life and playing the game their own way. They are squandering their time, their money, their youth with the abandon of a prodigal. They are indulging in habits and practices that will eventually break down their morale and dissipate their youth. They are cultivating habits of idleness instead of industry. They are drifting instead of pulling against the current. Some day when they arrive at the destination toward which they will wake up to their mistake. They will discover that they, instead of their well intentioned friends, are wrong. At such a time they will call for those same friends to come to their rescue and loudly bewail their lot instead of taking their medicine as they should and would if they were truly good sports.

What a lot of time it takes to make a champion pool or billiard player.

BATHUBS AND BATHING

Santa Anna News: Mrs. J. H. Berry of Medicine Mounds in Hardeman County has a bath tub built from a fifty-five gallon oil barrel. The barrel was cut into half lengthwise and the edges turned back. A wooden frame holds the tub steady. A rubber hose connected with the opening already in the barrel serves for drainage. A coat of white enamel finished the tub and it was installed on a small screened porch covered with canvas and curtained for privacy. A wash table with the usual equipment finished the bathroom.

This column makes its devoirs to Mrs. J. H. Berry of Medicine Mounds, Hardeman County. She is certainly ingenious, industrious and availing. Every woman, rural or urban, wants a bath tub. She wants it because she is by nature neat, tidy, healthful. She is aware that regular bathing contributes to self-appreciation, good appearance and good health. Where modern plumbing is not available, or water to be had at the turn of a faucet, the question of baths for the family becomes important. The laundry tub answers the purpose in many thousand homes, but a determined woman like Mrs. J. H. Berry is not satisfied with the ancient ablutatory method. Mrs. Berry put her wits to work and now she has a bath room, private, efficacious and accessible. State Press is saying all this while half convinced that bathing is being overdone. The Saturday night tubbing had its merits, while an all-over bath twice a day will finally weathen any constitution. It is doubtful if scriptural patriarchs were familiar with the bath. Certainly they had no porcelain tubs, no chromium plumbing, no hot and cold water at instant command. They didn't have even soap. But they lived hundreds of years, with divine sanction. It was given to them to help people a thinly populated world. The wife of Uriah bathed, a bit publicly, and lived only a normal life time. She never amounted to much, whereas the unbatched prophets endured and served nobly. —State Press, in Dallas News.

We rejoice in the precious Historic progress, to which you have so abundantly contributed, and join all Texas in wishing you Full Measure of Peace, Happiness and Realizations of all you may desire.

We note the proposed schedule of corporation taxes in the administration's new tax program for small corporations whose net profits are but $2,000 a year to be taxed 10 per cent while corporations whose net is as much as 20 million dollars a year to be taxed but 7 per cent. This is only four per cent more than the struggling little corporation whose net income reaches the $2,000 mark. Here we would like to ask are the rich going to be soaked by this sort of a levy—if that is really the purpose? The proposed levy is too large for the small corporation and not nearly large enough for the large corporations. If the levy were made higher for the large corporations there might be a disposition on the part of the management to distribute a part of the earnings in bonuses to the workers. This would enlarge buying power which we need more than anything else at the present time.

YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

By Dr. ALLEN G. IRELAND

Summer Heat

Too many cautions cannot be printed against sunburn. No matter how much is said or written, no matter what one's past experience may have been, the majority of people show unreasonable haste in acquiring a sunburn. "I'm going to be tanned like an Indian," they say, forgetting that the Indian's red-brown skin is natural.

Children are in danger, because they don't know there is any danger. In the summer, they have all day for play. The release from school is tempting, with so many things to do. If parents aren't mindful and watching, the first day or two in the summer sun may bring a serious burn. Then a week of suffering, often confined to bed.

And it isn't always as simple as that. Burn from the sun is no different from any burn. It isn't confined to a sore skin. Poisons, or body toxins, are formed. The child may be feverish and nauseated. In attempting to throw off the poisons, the kidneys may be injured. Sometimes severe prostrations result.

In all cases of sunburn, it is advisable to place the child in a physician's care. Wise treatment will prevent the complications. But the greatest wisdom is shown at the beginning. Take the sunburn gradually, a little each day. Give the skin a chance to tan painlessly.

Are you making your child's life a nightmare by insisting on regular promotion at school? Don't miss Dr. Ireland's next article.

If any of the old powers who bucked the prairies in a prairie schooner for days and weeks in search of a new home could hear the Alaska pioneers complain about their situation they would be inclined to snort. There is a difference it seems between pioneers and colonists. Pioneers expect to find things hard and unpleasant and uncomfortable. Colonists it seems expect the conveniences of civilization on the frontier.

CASH IN ON BIG FEED CROPS

The late Col. Frank P. Holland often remarked that no matter what the price of cotton, years of large yields of food and feed were prosperous years in Texas. Col. Holland did not mean that feed crops rotting in the fields or destroyed by weevils or rats contributed to prosperity, but feedstuffs utilized to the best advantage in the fattening of livestock for home use or for the market; feedstuffs consumed by work animals to keep them healthy and in condition to render service and feedstuffs stored in silos, bins and stacks for use in periods of shortage and high prices was an important factor in the measure of prosperity of this State.

H. H. Williamson, Director of Extension work in Texas, calls attention to the fact that last year the farmers were out picking up tumble weeds, burning the spines of cactus, and cleaning the fence corners to gather the weeds to grind up for feed to keep their cattle, sheep and goats from starving to death. Several million dollars were borrowed in Texas with which to buy feed. Over 2,000,000 head of cattle and 1,080,000 head of sheep and goats were sold to the Government because their owners did not have the feed with which to keep them alive. "This year," said Mr. Williamson, "we have produced in Texas not only a full supply of feed for winter but if we harvest the crop as we should, we will have almost another year's supply on hand," and he asks farmers what they are going to do with

The Extension Service, the Breeder-Feeder Association, the cotton oil mills, the Hardware and Implement Club, the Texas Bankers' Association, and all other agencies interested in agriculture, because their prosperity depends directly upon that of the farmers, are as one in urging not only full feeding of livestock for home consumption, but the feeding of cattle, lambs and hogs to a complete finish for the market. In addition, they urge the storing of that feed which remains and cannot be consumed, in silos, stacks and bins, for the time may come unexpectedly when this surplus will save many dollars to those who have conserved it.

The Breeder-Feeder Association kept alive its interest in the development of producing and finishing of livestock in the Southwest even during the period of drought and shortage of feed, believing that the balanced program with livestock is the safest and most profitable kind of farming. The production of an exceptionally heavy crop of feedstuffs again centers interest in the work of this Association. Recently a meeting was held in the office of its president, Frank P. Holland, Jr., many interests being represented, and there it was decided that an emergency existed and that Texas could easily make a profit out of its feedstuffs crops, or, through in-difference and inattention, it could suffer a great loss. As a result, every agency interested in a profitable development of agriculture has combined their efforts with that of the Extension Service to work out a program of feeding and conservation. Every county agent in the State of Texas has been put on notice that merchants, bankers, oil mill interests, and others stand ready to cooperate with them in organizing and in putting over a program for feeding and saving the bounteous yields of grains, sorghums, and other feed crops.

It is realized that if farmers attempt to harvest and sell this crop on a cash market, that prices will decline far below the cost of production. It is believed that if livestock are fed for the market and properly finished, that a handsome profit will be realized, for there are no signs at this time that the livestock market will decline materially. One-half the crop on a cash market will bring more than all get if an attempt were made to market it. With these facts in view, the Breeder-Feeder Association and the Extension Service, together with other agencies, urge upon business men and bankers to render such aid as may be necessary to provide the animals and facilities for the finishing of beef cattle and lambs, and to encourage every farmer, owner-operator or tenant to provide himself with a sufficient number of cows, hogs and poultry to provide his family with an abundance of meat, milk, poultry and eggs. It is also urged that work stock and breeding animals be fed liberally. Any animal of good breeding, properly fed with our cheap feedstuffs, should bring a good price for the feeds consumed. Texas farmers should take advantage of the opportunities thus presented to balance their program with livestock. Should the Supreme Court of the United States sustain the findings of the United States Circuit Court and declare the processing tax unconstitutional, it will become all the more necessary that farmers, again thrown back on their own resources, should have a profitable program which will permit the voluntary control of their cotton acreage.

We note by our daily that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh has lately perfected a mechanical heart and lungs at the Rockefeller Institute in New York. Our daily states that this is the first successful device of its kind to be made. We used to know an auctioneer back in our boyhood days of whom it is said he had brass lugs. We remember we used to wonder how that could be. If it were possible we would be convinced that Coughlin and Long are both equipped with an exceptionally fine set.

We note with a thrill of satisfaction that a good portion of the new five billion dollar Work Relief fund is to be spent on farm to market, or secondary roads. This should have been the relief program from the beginning. Such a program would have been immeasurably more benefit to the country than such of the work that was done from which little if any lasting benefit accrued. A good system of farm to market roads is needed in every community in this country. It has furnished a splendid work protect for all classes of labor and when normal times return will leave the several communities of the nation with a needed and usable utility for which there will be a greater demand when the country gets back on its feet than there has ever been at anytime in the past.

There are women loafers as well as men loafers.

SUMMARY OF THE 7 PROPOSED STATE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

Proposed Amendment No. 1 Old Age Pensions

The first proposition to be found on the ballot in the August 24th Special Election on Constitutional Amendments is the so-called Old-Age Pension Amendment. This year, for the first time, the amendments will be numbered, according to Secretary of State Gerald C. Mann. The Old Age Pension Amendment proposes to give the Legislature the authority to pay these pensions to persons over the age of 65, who are not habitual drunkards nor habitual criminals, nor inmates of any State Supported Institution. Those who are eligible must have lived in Texas at least 5 years, during the nine immediately preceding application and in the State continuously for one year.

All other restrictions and limitations would have to be set up by the Legislature.

The Amendment authorizes the Legislature to accept money from the Federal government for the same purpose. It is presumed that Federal funds would match State funds. The maximum amount to be paid by the State would be $15 per person per month. It is presumed that the Federal government would match State funds. The total pension per person per month in this case, it is presumed, would be $30. The amounts might be smaller, however; but not larger.

It is estimated that the cost of this pension to the State would run between forty and fifty million dollars annually. No provision is made for the income. It would be up to the Legislature to determine where the money would come from. The Legislature might do this at once, or some time later—or for that matter not at all. The amendment is permissive and not mandatory, though few doubt that some form of old age pensions would be enacted if the amendment is adopted in August.

Proposed Amendment No. 2 Temporary Commitment of Insane

Proposition No. 2 on the August 24th special election ballot has to do with the temporary commitment of insane persons, preliminary to a trial by jury. Under the present Constitution whereby everyone is guaranteed a jury trial, it is impossible to commit a mentally ill person to an institution for treatment or observation without the necessity of a jury trial. It has been pointed out that this is often very inconvenient and embarrassing.

The proposal, according to Secretary of State Gerald C. Mann, if passed, would authorize the Legislature to pass such laws as would permit mentally ill persons to be confined by County Courts in institutions, presumably, or under the care of physicians or experts for a period of ninety days prior to a jury trial. It is presumed that the ninety day period of confinement would be for the purpose of observing such person. The provisions would apply only to persons not charged with a criminal offense.

The Amendment specifically sets out that the right of trial by jury shall remain inviolate, but that in the particular case of insane persons a confinement period of ninety days for observation may be prescribed without the necessity of a jury trial. At the end of that time a jury trial would be had.

Proposed Amendment No. 3 Repeal of Liquor Prohibition

Probably chief interest in the August 24th election on the seven proposed Constitutional Amendments will center on Proposition Number 3 on the ballot—the repeal of Prohibition, according to Secretary of State Gerald C. Mann.

The Constitution, at present, prohibits the sale, manufacture and transportation of alcoholic liquors (except 3.2 beer). This prohibition would be stricken out by adoption of the Repeal Amendment.

The proposed amendment specifically prohibits the return of the open saloon—and it would be up to the Legislature to define the term "open saloon." No machinery is set up for the sale of liquor. The Legislature would have the authority to determine just who and how liquor is to be sold. This could be done by State monopoly or through private channels. The Legislature would have the authority to pass laws regulating local option elections.

If the amendment is adopted in all counties, cities and precincts that were dry in 1919 when statewide prohibition was adopted would be dry now—at least until local option elections were held to determine otherwise.

It is well to remember, Secretary Mann points out, that there will be an election next year in November to determine whether the State shall sell liquor through a State Monopoly system. If the repeal amendment is adopted in August the State MAY establish a state control and monopoly system. If the repeal amendment is defeated in August, it will in effect be submitted again in November, 1936, in the State Monopoly Amendment which says the State SHALL have a liquor monopoly. To retain the present dry status both the August 24th Amendment and the November, 1936 Amendment must be defeated. Passage of either will repeal the present prohibition section of the Constitution.

Proposed Amendment No. 4 Submission of Amendments at Special Sessions of Legislature

At present the Legislature can submit proposed changes in the Constitution only at regular sessions—held every 2 years.

Proposal Number four on the ballot for the August 24th election would revise the Constitution to permit the submission of amendments at special sessions. It is pointed out that in emergency cases, particularly on relief matters, that it might be necessary for Texas voters to vote on an emergency measure at a time, when the regular session of the Legislature is quite far distant in the future.

The original purpose of the provision which makes submission possible only at regular sessions, was to make the fundamental law hard to amend and change. Two schools of thought are at variance here. The one believing that the Constitution should be easy to change—particularly in emergency cases, and the other that every safeguard should be placed around it to make it difficult to change.

If the proposed amendment is adopted the legislature in any special session can submit proposed amendments to the voters—provided such amendments are submitted by the Governor for the Legislature's consideration. If the amendment is rejected the present system will obtain; that is, constitutional amendments can be submitted to the people only at the regular sessions of the legislature. The 44th Legislature submitted thirteen amendments to the voters—seven in August of this year and six in November of 1936. These were all submitted during the regular session. Under the proposed change the 44th might yet submit additional amendments for the voters' consideration.

Proposed Amendment No. 5 Suspended Sentence or Probation Amendment

Proposition Number 5 on the ballot of the August 24th special election reads: "For (and Against) the Amendment to the State Constitution authorizing the Courts to place defendants on probation."

Proponents claim that if this amendment is passed, many who are now sent to the penitentiary for first offenses will be permitted to enjoy suspended sentences under restrictions of the court.

The only restriction under the present suspended sentence law is the fact that the defendant must not be convicted of a felony—that is, a crime punishable by confinement in the penitentiary. The judge or court has no control nor can it set up or impose any other restrictions.

It is the understanding of those who have studied the amendment that if passed it would permit the Legislature to pass laws giving the courts the right to suspend sentences and place defendants on such probation as the court might deem proper. In other words the court could suspend sentences subject to certain limitations. If those restrictions or limitations were not observed the Court would have the authority to have the defendant committed to the penitentiary without further ado. Many courts now refuse to grant suspended sentences for the reason that they have no control over the defendant after the same is granted. It is pointed out that this would prevent many first offenders from having to go to the penitentiary and reclaim many of them for society.

If a suspended sentence is given under the present law the only limitation is that the defendant must not be convicted of a felony. The court has no control over him nor can it impose other conditions.

Proposed Amendment No. 6 Abolishing Fee System for Paying Officials

Two years ago a Senate investigating committee discovered a number of flagrant abuses of the fee system as practiced in Texas for recompensing certain public officials. The fee system was established and written into the Texas Constitution at a time when it was impossible to pay salaries and the theory was that an official was entitled to "all he could make." Since the Senate committee discovered and revealed the malpractices existing under the system there has been a demand for a Constitutional change on this score, according to Secretary of State Gerald C. Mann.

Proposed Amendment No. 6 on the ballot provides that the fee system as a method of paying certain precinct, county and district officials shall be abolished in counties having 20,000 or more population according to the last Federal census. The Legislature will, if the amendment is adopted, set the salaries for officials now receiving fees in such counties. In counties of under 20,000 population the Commissioners Courts may put their county and precinct officials on a salary basis if they so desire. The Amendment does not specifically state who shall set the salaries of such officials in this case.

If this amendment is adopted all district officers must be compensated on a salary basis.

The amendment provides that fees shall continue to be collected as at present but they will go to the county instead of the officer. The evident purpose of this amendment is to place as many public officials on straight salaries as is possible and thus abolish, insofar as is possible the payment of officials through the present fee system.

Proposed Amendment No. 7 Free Text Books for Private & Parochial Schools

The Texas Constitution at the present time provides that the State is without authority to furnish free text books to other than public schools. Proposed Amendment number seven on the ballot for the August 24th election would permit the State to supply free textbooks to all schools, private and parochial. Such textbooks, it is presumed, to be the same as used in the public schools.

Advocates of this Amendment state that this would entail no additional expense because the State now purchases more books than are necessary. However, this point is merely one of the claims made and has not been substantiated by the Secretary of State. Advocates point out that they pay taxes to support public schools but that if they choose to send their children to private or parochial schools the least the State can do is to supply the textbooks free.

Probably the most important and less publicized provision of this Amendment is the fact that it proposes to rewrite Section 5 of Article Seven of the Constitution so as to permit the apportionment of school funds on some other basis than scholastic population.

For many years there has been considerable agitation in certain quarters to abolish the "school census" or scholastic population system of apportioning school funds and substitute in lieu thereof the "average attendance" basis or some other basis. The Legislature would determine just how this was to be done, if this Amendment is adopted.

If adopted this proposed Amendment Number seven would mean, in effect: (1) that the State would furnish free textbooks to pupils in all the schools of Texas; and (2) that a new basis for apportioning school funds other than the scholastic census basis, could be set up.

PENDING AMENDMENTS

The seven constitutional amendments to be submitted for ratification or rejection in a special election August 24th this year, are explained in this issue of the paper, in a summary furnished us by Gerald C. Mann, Secretary of State.

This issue of the News should be preserved and the outline of the seven amendments properly read and studied until each voter is fully aware of the contents of each amendment.

The News does not intend to take any personal stand in this campaign. We purpose to carry publicity, giving such information as in our judgment will be of interest to the reading public, and on the day of the election we will march out to the polls and vote our convictions, just as we expect all other good citizens to do.

A few would be dictators have called on the editor and informed him what they expect, some for and others against what we think to be the right thing to do, but were very kindly told to go to and stay put. This editor uses his own head and does not care to be told what to do or how to do it. We court friendly council and friendly advice, and invite friendly discussions, but if you have in mind to come to this office and tell the editor where to head in, we advise you to go some other place.

We publish a newspaper to give the news, elevating in its trend, try to encourage better living, clean conduct, and pure motives in every day life, and absolutely refuse to become involved in such issues as people never have and never will get together on, and the more it is discussed the further apart they get, and the less use the public has for the agitators. Read for yourself and act according to your better judgment and when the people of the State settle the matter by popular vote, take your medicine and like it for the world is going right on just the same, regardless of what you or anyone else thinks of it.

SURPRISE SHOWER FOR RECENT BRIDE

Miss Vesta Evans, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Lewis Evans, entertained Wednesday afternoon with a surprise shower honoring Mrs. Granville Herring, a recent bride. Mrs. Herring had been invited to a birthday shower for Miss Evans.

With Miss Evans as Dan Cupid, the announcer, Miss Mary Joyce Hill read "Little Harry's Essay on Husbands" over station L-O-V-E, and Miss Era Hill gave a recipe for "Husband Conserve."

Paper and pencils were distributed for guests to write "Advice to the Bride." Then the announcer gave the weather report, in which he predicted a local shower.

Little Misses Mary Joyce Hill and Laverne McSwain presented a large basket filled with gifts to the bride. After all were unwrapped she read the hearts on the basket and found directions for searching for other gifts.

Plate favors were white crepe hearts with pink ribbon streamers announcing "Annie L. and Granville, July 17, 1935." Heart shaped cakes with pink and white icing, and punch were served to the following guests:

Mesdames Seth Ford, J. B. Howington, W. C. Burden, Fred Rollins, G. S. Evans, Homer Hill of Whon, Arthur Hill, Walter Hill, F. B. Hill, Jr., T. M. Woods, B. A. McSwain, Misses Era Hill, Besse Evans, Ruth Niell, Jane Burden, Rosalie Niell, Queenie Gregg, and Shults, and Mary Joyce Hill, Bill Hill, Ray and Laverne McSwain, and Charlotte and June Howington.

BEAUTIFICATION CONTEST

West Texas is surely enterprising. If the other sections of the State do not look out, West Texas will be annexing them and calling their suburbs of the metropolitan West. The State-wide beautification contest now under way, says General Manager D. A. Bandeen, is merely an enlargement of what the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and its former president, Houston Hart of San Angelo, have been fostering for years. This year the chamber is pushing a Centennial Beautification Contest and this will, of course, he says, cooperate wholeheartedly with the State-wide Texas Centennial Farm and Home Demonstration contest.

Mr. Bandeen thinks that beautification through tree, shrub, and flower should have a utilitarian side also. Farmers should plant trees to combat wind erosion; the Federal Government, in his opinion, might more wisely supply trees as windbreaks instead of the shelterbelt of tree planting favored by Federal officials.

The beautifying of home and city will be one of the permanent results of the Centennial movement. The love of home is deeply implanted in the hearts of Texans, but a home to be loved must be loveable because of its beauty and charm. -Dallas News.

South Dakota Stops Relief

PIERRE, S. D., July 23—Nineteen thousand heads of families were removed from South Dakota relief rolls last night in a drastic move to force them to seek employment in the harvest fields.

Spurred by farmers' complaints that dole recipients had declined to go to work gathering grain, officials ordered a suspension of all state and federal relief until the shortage of farm labor is fully supplied.

Joining six other midwestern states that have taken similar though less sweeping measures to insure adequate help during the all-important harvest, Deputy Welfare Commissioner Philip L. Ketchum sent this notice to all county relief directors in South Dakota:

"Effective immediately, issue orders to stop all work relief projects and close the relief office tonight. Post a notice that all federal and state relief in South Dakota is suspended and that no relief offices will be reopened until all farmers needing men to help with the harvest have been supplied with such help. Refer unemployable persons needing assistance to the country."

Approximately 20,000 farmers who have been transferred from relief rolls to the rural resettlement administration and are receiving subsistence or rehabilitation loans will not be affected by Monday's order.

The so-called "revolt" of relief clients was believed by officials to have been stemmed in six other states.

Illinois halted work relief in rural areas. In Kansas relief clients were warned they would be dropped from the rolls if they refused temporary employment. Plans were under way to cut off federal allotments in approximately 26 Nebraska counties and reduce them by 50 per cent in 15 others.

Able-bodied residents in nearly a score of Iowa counties were denied the dole and told to join the threshers. Redwood county, Minnesota shut down work undertakings. All but special projects were halted in North Dakota.

C. C. Stillman, Ohio administrator, asserted those who refused jobs would be deprived of relief, although there as well as in the Southwest and Pacific Northwest no shortage of help was reported by farmers.

Wisconsin officials stated it was "difficult to find farm workers," while H. S. Benson, agricultural agent in Knox county, Indiana, said only a few men engaged in FERA work had declined to accept employment.

Misses Melba Humphrey and Christobel Johnson of Abilene spent Saturday and Sunday with friends in Santa Anna.

Mrs. Harvey Haynes came Wednesday from San Antonio and is visiting with Misses May and Bettie Blue, and relatives here.

Mrs. Bob Andrews of Birmingham, Alabama is visiting in the home of her cousin, Mrs. T. M. Hays, Jr., and with her uncle, J. J. Andrews who has been seriously ill for several months.

What a blessing it would be if every thing that was lost was as easily found and dug up as the buried hatchet.

SOCIAL MEETING

The regular social meeting of the Christian Aid Society was held with Mrs. A. L. Oder Monday afternoon. Mrs. E. H. Wylie led the devotional using Psalm 23 with appropriate comments.

There was a questionnaire on institutions of the Church and a lively Bible drill. It was agreed to sponsor a childrens training program beginning next Monday morning at nine o'clock, and meeting every Monday or perhaps oftener.

The society will meet with Mrs. Haley in an all day session next Monday when sewing for the Sunshine box will be the diversion. Each one attending is asked to bring a dish of food.

Miss Velma Oder assisted her mother in serving ice cream, peaches and cake at the refreshment hour.

LAUNCH PLANS ON HIGHWAYS

County Items to Be Included in General Program.

AUSTIN, July 17—(AP)—The state highway commission Tuesday finished a two-day meeting at which representatives of nearly 100 counties were heard and planned to start today to outline a $35,000,000 state and federal construction program.

The commission took all requests of counties for road aid and improvements under advisement, announcing they would be considered in connection with the general program. Projects by many counties will be submitted to the federal works progress administration at San Antonio on suggestion of the commission.

The commission Tuesday received from Washington the rules and regulations to govern expenditure of the $22,845,332 apportioned to Texas for emergency highway construction. This will be supplemented by Texas' regular federal aid of about $7,000,000 and by state funds.

Harry Hines, commission chairman, said the commission would consider all the funds available, including emergency and regular federal aid, state highway construction and maintenance funds. Hines estimated it would require about three weeks to draft the program.

Of the emergency federal grant $10,855,892 has been allotted for grade crossing eliminations. Of the remaining $12,000,000, at least 25 per cent must be spent on lateral roads and 25 per cent on federal aid roads or the state highway system in metropolitan areas. The rest of the fund may be used on either the federal aid or state systems.

Reports usually have to be exaggerated to make them interesting.

EARLY TEXAS HISTORY REVEALED IN LETTERS OF AUSTIN FAMILY

AUSTIN—"The men who emigrated to Texas in the 1820s and '30s and laid the foundations of society and good government brought no wealth with them, but their industrious and frugal habits proved to be far more valuable equipment; outdoor life, simple fare and continuous labor hardened their muscles and braced their nerves, preparing them to encounter the hardships and perils of a severe conflict with the obstacles of nature on the frontier."

In this direct manner Frank Brown, county clerk of Travis County in the early days, describes the staunch settlers of Texas in his Annals of Travis County, one of the numerous collections of family archives in the University of Texas library.

"The way through the wilderness could at times be only formed by means of blazed trees," Frank Brown wrote. "No good wagon road was known in the country. At times parties travelling in company, or even single ones, would be compelled to halt and go to work repairing the trace to ensure progress. At crossing places or streams, the banks would have to be worked in order to get over at all. If creeks were up, they would often be compelled to camp for days at a time, in order to cross. It was always the rule when travelling, to cross a stream when reached, if practicable, before camping, so as to be on the farther side when morning came. This was done to avoid freshets that might come during the night and thereby delay progress."

"The old-time dwelling was a one or two room log cabin, according to the size of the family. More frequently the home consisted of but one room, with a loft above, reached by a ladder. If there were two rooms, a gallery was usually between. Ordinarily these had only dirt floors. After awhile as opportunity offered, floors were laid with puncheons, split round logs with the round side down. Wooden doors were made with wood fastenings. The windows had no glass, and were closed with rough board shutters in stormy weather, held in place by wooden or leather hinges. The roofs were made of clapboards about three feet long, usually split from the trunks of pin oak or post oak trees. The boards were laid with a lap of about two-thirds their length, so as to show about one foot. It was seldom that nails were at hand. In order to hold the boards in place a straight sapling, six or seven inches in diameter, was felled, the limbs cut off and the trunk laid across the slap of boards so as to hold them in place by its weight. They were called weight poles. At each end after a hole was bored, a wooden pin inserted, the logs laid on the boards, above and against the wooden pins, and were thus held in place. Sometimes cross pieces were laid at intervals between the weight poles, to prevent them from slipping up or down, thus holding them in place. A roof prepared in the way mentioned sheds rains effectually and lasted a long time.

"Mud and stick chimneys were almost exclusively used. The hearth was built of smooth rocks, if accessible; if not convenient, it was laid with clay, which became hard from the heat. An opening was cut in the end of the room, sticks were laid close together and the structure thus carried a foot or more above the roof. After this was done the sticks were thickly plastered on both sides with moist clay. This soon dried. Chimneys prepared in this manner answered the purpose very well.

"The emigrants usually brought with them one or more milk cows. These gradually increased. In two or three years milk and butter and beef were plentiful. A pair of hogs and a few chickens were brought. If not, these were obtained as soon as possible, and added materially to the means of comfort and subsistence.

"Many were the difficulties and dangers that attended the early settlement of the valley. From necessity, it became a custom for one or two persons to stand as sentinels, whilst others labored in the small clearings. This was the only means of obtaining bread. And, at times, the danger was so great that while one went to a spring to drink, or after a bucket of water, another stood watch, rifle in hand, ready to shoot a prowling Indian, or one that might arise from an adjacent thicket that covered him from view. And when even a few men were assembled together for any purpose, when business or pleasure called them they held their guns in hand, with their backs turned, facing different directions, on the lookout for an enemy. When an alarm was raised, the women and children were usually assembled at a central point for protection. If inconvenient, or too distant, they were assembled at the cabin, and the men stood guard. The presence of Indians in a neighborhood could nearly always be told by the conduct of the family horses. Their sense of smell was very keen, and the settler could tell by this means if Indians were near. They would indicate the proximity of the Indian by snorts and other symptoms of anxiety. If off grazing some distance they would gallop towards the cabin, snorting and looking wild. There was a peculiar smell about the Indian, occasioned by his filthy habits and the free use of paints. Their faces were painted in various ways, presenting often a ludicrous and hideous appearance. They were wily and crafty, usually cruel and vengeful. But there are instances on record of great kindness and friendship exhibited by some of the natives towards the whites. Occasionally they remembered acts of kindness towards them upon the part of the whites, and would return in kind, when opportunity offered. The Indian, however, never forgave an injury, and sought and inflicted revenge when able.

FREE SILVERWARE

This paper was fortunate to enter into a contract recently with the Wm. A Rogers Company, thru one of their redemption bureaus, for a few sets of fine silverware.

The sets are composed of 6 knives, 6 forks, 6 table spoons, 6 tea spoons, one sugar shell and one butter knife, 26 pieces of Stainless Silver with an unlimited guarantee, and very beautiful.

Our contract to pay for the beautiful 26 piece sets of silverware in advertising, enables us to give them away absolutely FREE. The silverware will not cost you one cent: just pay up your subscription to date and pay five years in advance, and the beautiful 26 piece set of guaranteed silverware is yours.

The retail value of this 26 piece set of silverware is $29.75.

You will understand that this is purely an advertising proposition, one you have never heard of before, and will last only a few weeks. The sets are limited, but as long as they last, the first come, first served.

This is no fake offer. A set of the silverware will be on display in this office soon, and if you don't think it is a bargain, then yours is a case of poor judgment. Look up the date on your paper and see just how much cash you will need to pay your subscription up for five years, and receive, ABSOLUTELY FREE one of those $29.75 sets of Wm. A. Rogers Silverware with an unlimited guarantee.

Limited, one set to a family, and restricted to our home trade territory. Subscribers living in other counties will have to pay $7.50 for a 5 years subscription in order to receive the Silverware Free.

ON TEXAS FARMS

Farms and ranches alongside of Texas highways will keynote Centennial visitors' impressions of the State.

The Centennial Farm and Home Demonstration Contest announced by the Extension Service is an effort to enroll every family living on a Texas highway in one great big reception committee to create a "smiling countryside" welcoming visitors to the birthday party.

Response to the announcement of the contest has been inspiring. Dallas News representatives met it when they went out to raise $2500 for prize money for the contest. Commercial firms gave generously to stimulate enrollment in the state-wide movement to improve the homes and farms and ranches by which the State will be judged in 1936.

Newspapers all over the State have joined hands in cooperation with the News as representing the city where the principal Centennial event will be celebrated. Good editorials and generous inches of space are being given to promote the movement. Radio announcers on commercial programs are telling about it.

The Sister State of Oklahoma plans to "pretty up" the highways leading into Texas.

Extension Service agents aided by the men and women and boys and girls who have worked with them heretofore are helping Texans on the highways to make plans for improvements based on Extension Service standards for country homes of comfort and beauty.

Everybody wants the contest to be a success because Texas will be host to the Nation in 1936. Texas pride is involved. Texas pride is our pride. The nation's opinion of the homes and farms and ranches of Texas matters to every Texan. So enrollment will not represent alone a desire to win one of the big prizes but will be a measure of Texans' love for their State.

Government reports received here indicate that Texas handled wheat contracts covering 3,074,180 acres which, by October 1, 1934, had brought first rental payments of $3,720,395.44 to producers.

The average local cost of handling this work in Texas was 1.2 cents per bushel. For the United States as a whole the cost was 1.42 cents.

Parker county with a cost of 4.2 cents per bushel, Ellis with 4.3 cents, Fannin with 4.6 cents, and Hockley with 5 cents, are the highest for the State.

Close to them are Grayson, Hemphill, Lipscomb, Roberts and Rannels counties with a .9 cents.

Texas expenses in connection with this work amounted to only one-thirteenth of the total expense for the United States.

KOUNTZE: Tomato growers in the Votaw community in Hardin county realized more than $35,000 from the 1935 crop which amounted to 44 cars, according to W. P. Barrett, county agricultural agent. Due to the late freeze, growers were forced to market this season in direct competition with the Valley and north Florida crops.

The shipment this year was the largest number of cars ever shipped in one season. The next largest season was the 1934 crop which amounted to 34 cars. Although only 10 more cars were shipped in 1935, the 1935 crop returned to the growers three times as much actual cash, Barrett said.

DALLAS: An average production of 25 eggs per hen per month has been reached for the second time this year by the flock of C. A. Luper of Dallas county, according to Dale Merwin, county agricultural agent. For the month of May, Luper's flock of 71 white leghorn pullets averaged 26.5 eggs each, while in March they averaged 25 eggs each.

The flock is composed of last year's pullets. The hens consumed an average of 4.7 pounds of mash and 3.4 pounds of grain each during the month and had access to green alfalfa all the time.

SAN SABA: By using barn yard fertilizer on their land, Charles Lee and John H. Traweck, San Saba county 4-H club boys, have both exceeded their fathers in the production of corn. Charles Lee planted his corn in three foot checks, manuring each hill. He will make seven or eight bushels more per acre than his father who planted his corn on unfertilized land.

John H. Traweck planted three-foot rows thick, which he thinned to a stand by cutting out the weaker stalks. He will average 10 bushels or more per acre in excess of the amount produced by his father. His father planted his corn on the same kind of land but planted less per acre to avoid thinning.

ELDORADO: "By using four feed sacks which were given to me and a card of bias tape for which I paid two cents, I make a two piece dress for myself," says Mrs. F. M. Bradley, wardrobe demonstrator for the Eldorado Home Demonstration Club in Schleicher county. Mrs. Bradley made the dress by her foundation pattern. The dress was trimmed by adding a tie of brown material already on hand and a brown buckle which was taken off of an old dress. "This dress cost me about five cents, including the cost of the thread with which it was sewed," Mrs. Bradley said.

GOLDTHWAITE: At a cost for materials of $8.30, W. I. Griffin of Ebony in Mills county tanned three cow hides which he made into a set of wagon lines, two bridles, two sets of tugs, four hame strings, two belts, and had a supply of leather left, according to W. P. Weaver, county agricultural agent. The leather is a fair product, Weaver says, and Griffin probably could not have afforded the harness if he had not made it himself.

ALBANY: "During April and May, my 235 hens produced a net income of $140.56, running a close race with my herd of 16 dairy cows that chalked up a net return of $110.22 for second place," Robert Bradford, Shackelford county farmer, told D. F. Eaton, county agricultural agent. The hens had a feed bill of $44.20 for the two months, while the expenses for the cows were $72.60.

CANADIAN: Four inches of rain wet chiseled ground 16 to 20 inches deep on terraced land on the farm of J. L. Duggan, Hemphill county, while unterraced land in the same field with similar slope was wet only three to four inches deep. Mr. Duggan is now terracing the remaining part of his farm, according to H. M. Cantrell, county agricultural agent.

RICHMOND: From the sale of eggs laid by her 12 hens, Clara Logemann, 12 year old president of the Lamar 4-H Club in Fort Bend county, paid all of her expenses for club work and has come out with a total profit of $23.60 for the year, according to Miss Loris J. Welhausen, home demonstration agent.

Twenty-five cents of her money went for seed to plant her garden. An incomplete report on this demonstration shows that she has used fresh 73 pounds and canned 31 quarts of vegetables and 7 gallons of berries valued at $10.35.

In addition she has made five dresses, two slips and two cup towels. These are valued at $10.15 but cost only $3.05. Clara remodeled two clothes closets, but she spent no money on that work.

Clara still has the 12 hens, and has 16 fryers in addition.

PALO PINTO: Seven pounds of new cotton plus one worn out mattress equals one good mattress for a child's bed in the home of Mrs. A. C. Newberry of the Village Bend Home Demonstration Club in Palo Pinto county, according to Miss Pauline Lokey, home demonstration agent.

Mrs. Newberry took the old mattress which was filled with shoddy, short cotton, added seven pounds of new long staple cotton after the old was well aired, beaten and fluffed; and then washed the tick and remade it. There was no cost to the renovation.

COLLEGE STATION: "With the abundance of rain that has fallen this year throughout the State and with the unusually large production of food products, the problem of farm storage has become increasingly important," according to J. F. Rosborough, Extension horticulturist.

For that reason a special feature has been planned this year in the horticulture division of the Short Course. Storehouse construction and the advantages of a farm storage place for vegetables the year round will be demonstrated.

DEMONSTRATOR'S STORIES

A sanitary, orderly and beautiful yard is the idea of Mrs. Albert Vickers, of the Leady Home Demonstration Club. She is making plans to beautify her yard and thus improve the appearance of her home. Her yard is to be a pattern for the other members of the community to go by.

Mrs. Vickers plans to have trees at the back and sides of her house to provide a suitable background or setting. A smooth unbroken lawn is to be planted at the front and sides of the house to make an attractive approach to her home. Around the foundation of the house Mrs. Vickers plans to plant a variety of permanent shrubs suitable for this climate and not requiring much water. Border and screen plantings will be located where needed most. When Mrs. Vickers has completed her yard she will have a demonstration of which she can be proud.

Making attractive hooked and braided rugs from wool socks, is the hobby of Mrs. J. W. McKee of the Brown Ranch Home Demonstration Club. For the braided rugs Mrs. McKee cuts the wool socks into long strips some three or four inches wide. These strips are dyed the desired colors with commercial dyes to work out the desired color scheme. These strips are folded in half and braided together so tightly that the braid will almost stand alone. Braiding the strips is the secret of making an attractive rug that will wear well. When the braids have been completed they are sewed together by hand, as this makes the rug wear better. These rugs are inexpensive and make very attractive additions to ones bedroom. Mrs. McKee feels that her time spent in rug making is both enjoyable and profitable.

Every employee of a firm has two sources of value to his employer. One is the value of his services as he puts in his eight or nine or ten hours as the case may be. The other value is the value to the business outside of working hours. Some employees are selling their employer's business twenty-four hours a day. Where ever they are they are known as employees of such and such a firm or business. They are a constant help or assistance in drawing business to the firm by whom they are employed. Other employees while they may do a good day's work at the office are worth nothing to it after they leave at night. They attract few if any friends to the business and their influence is of little assistance to their employer in building business and good will. It is a good thing for every employee to think about these days.

Some men will tell you that they believe that the other fellow has a right to his own opinion and say it in such a way that none but the most fool hardly would presume to take issue with them.

Our present scheme of living is due for a change. No one seems to have a clear idea of what should be done but there is a growing belief that unless some marked change take place that the recovery from this depression will be but temporary and in the course of a few years we will be in another depression. Civilization has been too complex to operate successfully without some sort of management.

It is obvious that if industry is going to continue to operate and expand and prosper that buying power will have to be restored to the masses of people, for it is the mass who consume the larger proportion of industry output. At the present time it is said that 5 percent of the people of this country own 95 percent of the population buy whatever it desires but its needs are limited. Ninety-five percent of the population can buy but sparingly. Reverse the condition and demand will be multiplied 19 times and production by industry would be stepped up accordingly. Just how this is to be done is not clear but it requires no student of economy to see that before the mass can buy the products of industry the buying power must come to the mass. As some express it civilization is on trial and its problem is one of management.

There is considerable being said these days about a code establishing or fixing fair prices at which merchandise may be sold. There is an argument on both sides of the controversy. The situation those favoring such a code are seeking to correct is the elimination of the practice of selling at a price so low that fair wages cannot be paid and that will not enable a business to make a fair profit. It also aims to show up the business chisler, who, while pretending to charge a fair price deliberately makes the wrong change and slips his customer a rebate. As long as such are in the minority the chislers can make money but once the practice spreads to all dispensers of this party's particular merchandise he will find himself with a volume so reduced that operation will no longer be profitable.

My observation is that a man may marry a pretty girl and by being good to her and living decently himself, he can hold her love and affection. But when a woman marries a pretty man she is flying in the face of fate. No amount of love and faithfulness on her part will keep a handsome husband from cutting up and browsing around away from home.

Far be it from us to criticize but we believe that the country would have received more lasting good from the money spent on relief projects over the nation if a larger part of it had been spent for good roads. A good system of farm to market roads would prove to be a real asset to this country when things straighten out again.

A good deal of truth is contained in the expression of Miss Mary O. Duffey, supreme regent of Catholic Daughters of America, discussing recently "cleaned up" movies. Miss Duffey said: "Will Hays and his professional Movie Censors are not entitled to any credit - - for it was the voice and action of millions of people that compelled them to see the light." The movement started by the Catholic church and joined in by all other churches did more in sixty days to clean up the movies than Will Hays and his assistants have done in twenty years. Too often the censorship of pictures is influenced by the box office of the organization. Local exhibitors of moving pictures have little voice in the matter of what they show. They are forced to show the pictures as produced to a large extent or be deprived of pictures altogether.

The kind of a joint discussion I like best is where both discussers take the same side of the question, and each tries to put up a stronger argument than the other.

STRANGE BUT TRUE

According to the Alexander Hamilton Institute figures, the total national wealth of the United States in 1934 was 284.4 billion dollars as compared with 237.2 billions in 1933 and 228.7 billions in 1932.

It is said there are still 20,000 horses in New York City, requiring 600 stables to house them.

A new time keeping instrument made in London has erred only six-thousandths of a second in six months.

In 1934 the railroads had only one fatality per 400,000,000 passenger miles, scheduled air transport had one fatality for every 24,000,000 passenger mile and autos had one fatality in every 11,000,000 miles.

It is estimated that the average woman uses six varieties of cosmetic-rouge, lipstick, face powder, cold cream, eyebrow pencil and mascara, puts on an average of three applications a day.

Thoughts for Serious Moments

If wrinkles must be written upon our brows, let them not be written upon the heart. The spirit should not grow old. — James A. Garfield.

The victory of success is half won when one gains the habit of work. — Sarah A. Bolton.

Affection can withstand very severe storms of vigor, but not a long polar frost of indifference. — Sir Walter Scott.

The first and best victory is to conquer self, to be conquered by self is, of all things, the most shameful and vile. — Plato.

Thought is deeper than all speech; feeling deeper than all thought. — Granch.

A mechanical refrigerator salesman tells us that the most difficult part of selling mechanical refrigerators is getting the prospect to a point where he thinks that he can afford it. Unlike many other things being sold today it is not necessary to create the desire. The desire is already there. Nearly everyone desires a mechanical refrigerator.

COLEMAN AT ROAD COMPLETION

COLEMAN, July 19.—From Kansas to the lower Rio Grande, visitors converged on Coleman Friday to celebrate completion of an all-weather highway into San Antonio and Old Mexico. One hundred and fifty attended the noon luncheon, for which Harry Hines, chairman of the Texas highway commission, was the principal speaker; and following the program, Gibb Gilchrist, highway department engineer, cut a ribbon on a map showing the 24-mile section from the Colorado river to Brady to signify completion of this vital link in the north-south highway.

Chairman Hines announced that millions of dollars worth of projects for improvements of lateral roads in Texas originally submitted to the state commission, will be turned over to the new works progress administration for completion. The state department will concentrate on construction and improvement of the main artery roads.

Beginning Monday, a complete survey of main highways in Texas will be made, in connection with the narrowed construction program, cut to eliminate the lateral roads which will be taken over by the WPA.

Former Senator Walter C. Woodward of Coleman served as luncheon toastmaster. The following made short talks: R. W. Archer, county judge of Coldwater, Kans.; Leo Ehlinger, Brownwood, division engineer with state highway department; Carl Blasig, former secretary of the Brady Chamber of Commerce and now assistant to Karl Wallace; B. L. Russell of Baird, and Gilchrist.

The Coleman Chamber of Commerce and the Lions and Kiwanis clubs were joint hosts with the Highway 191 association for the day's jubilee.

The highway enters Texas at Red river north of Vernon then proceeds southward as Highway 23 to Albany. From Albany to Brady, via Baird, Coleman and Santa Anna, the route is over Highway 191, still to be completed. The McCulloch county sector has been finished, however, into Brady for connection with Highway 9 southward into San Antonio.

Completion of the Colorado bridge also offers all-weather travel from the South Plains and North Texas to the Mexican border, over Highways 7 and 4-30 into Abilene and thence on No. 7 to Coleman and Santa Anna.

L. C. Aicher of Hays, Kan., was elected president of the highway association, and S. W. Cooper, Coleman, secretary-treasurer.
