

Truman Will Issue Veto Of Anti-Red Bill

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Definite word came from the White House today that President Truman will issue a veto message, within a matter of hours, on the subversives control bill passed by Congress.

Big Three Talk Begins Over Defense Plans

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—The big three foreign and defense ministers convened today to discuss formation of an integrated North Atlantic defense force against possible Russian aggression.

A State Department source said prime questions before the officials were, first, whether such a force should be created, and secondly, whether to include German units in it.

The position taken by the conferees at today's meeting will be placed before a session of the 12-nation North Atlantic Council here next week for further action.

Participating in the meeting were Secretary of Defense Gen. George C. Marshall, British Defense Minister Emanuel Shinwell, French Defense Minister Jules Moch, U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman.

The American officials, who reportedly favor inclusion of German units to fill a gap in western Europe's defenses, took the initiative in the closely guarded session on the 37th floor of the Waldorf tower.

A State Department spokesman said the conferees would "talk over the United States' analysis of certain defense problems which came up in discussions among the three foreign ministers this past week."

Ewing Blasts Opponents Of U.S. Health Program

By TIM PARKER
HOUSTON, Sept. 22.—Oscar Ewing, federal security administrator, told the American Federation of Labor today opponents of the government's public health program are "stupid and dangerous."

The chief opponent, he said in an address prepared for the 69th annual AFL convention, is the American Medical Assn. Ewing declared the AMA is hiring professional propagandists for large sums in hope of electing "reactionary" candidates in the November elections.

The AFL yesterday elected William Green to his 27th year as president. The 77-year-old former Ohio coal miner carried back into office with him the 13 AFL vice presidents and Secretary-Treasurer George Menaway.

Green, smiling broadly as delegates in the hot, dimly lighted auditorium, gave him a standing ovation, promised renewed efforts to ward an AFL-CIO merger. He said he would step down from office if that would help bring about "organic labor unity."

Ewing said the AMA has raised $11,000,000 through a compulsory levy on its members in a drive to defeat every liberal-minded candidate for office this year.

In addition, said Ewing, the AMA has the promise of $19 million more "chipped in by business firms, manufacturers, patent medicine companies, insurance

Hand-To-Hand Fighting On Outskirts Of Seoul

UN Marines Fight 10,000 Ko-Reds

TOKYO, Sept. 22.—Allied Marines with bayonets and flame-throwers battled 10,000 Korean Reds tonight on the near outskirts of Seoul.

Fleeing civilians said the Communists are hastily putting up stone barricades and digging trenches in the streets for their last-ditch defense of the Korean capital.

The Red defenders in the city are isolated by allied reinforcements for Seoul.

The airfield at Suwon, 20 miles south of the capital, fell to tank-led units of the U.S. Seventh Division rolling down from the Seoul front. Other elements entered Suwon city astride the major rail line and highway leading up from the rapidly expanding southeast beachhead.

Allied forces were punching ahead on all sectors of the southeast beachhead. In some sectors the Reds were retreating northward but in others they fought stubbornly. Hundreds surrendered or were taken prisoner.

A P Correspondent Don Whitehead, with American and South Korean Marines outside Seoul, reported that by mid-afternoon Friday the Marines had not entered Seoul proper but patrols were moving toward the city limits on the west side.

"The sprawling city of more than 1 million normal population may become one of the bloodiest battlegrounds of the Korean war," Whitehead reported. "The Reds are preparing for house-to-house fighting."

"This could mean the destruction of a large part of the capital," Whitehead said.

Red artillery roared into action against the Marines from public park positions on South Mountain inside Seoul. An estimated 3,000 Reds were reported to have honeycombed the mountain — on Seoul's south side — with deep defense works. Whitehead said Red defense forces were estimated to total 10,000.

Bayonets and flamethrowers were used by Marines to cut a mile-wide swath through Seoul's southwestern industrial suburb of Yongsung. It is across the Han River from the capital.

AP Correspondent Tom Lambert reported from the Seoul front Friday morning that the Marines suffered "relatively heavy" casualties in close-quarter combat through shell-shattered factory buildings.

Allied troops apparently were sparing Seoul from artillery fire to avoid destroying the capital by fire that would spread through its flimsy structures.

Marine Corsair fighter-bombers closely supported the American and South Korean Leathernecks on both sides of the city. Whitehead said the aerial fire-bomb assault on Red-held heights west of Seoul — Hill 105 — was an awesome sight. Flame and smoke obscured the hill.

Civilians said the Sungmyon University campus and other high ground in the city was strongly fortified by the Reds.

There was no further word on a 10th Corps intelligence report Thursday that a mystery Red armored column from Manchuria was rolling southward.

The U. S. First Cavalry Division's 20-mile northward thrust was the biggest breakthrough.

The Eighth Army Friday called it the greatest single day's advance thus far in the eight-day allied offensive.

GI Education Probe Is Set

By ROWLAND EVANS, JR.
AP Special Washington Service
WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Chairman Teague (D-Tex.) of a special house committee said today a complete investigation of the vast GI education program will get under way quickly.

The House yesterday voted $30,000 to finance the probe.

Teague said the nine-man committee will dip into all aspects of the $10 billion veterans' program. He told a reporter the inquiry would not result in "ameas and insinuations."

He said the committee will concentrate both on "alleged abuses" by schools and on possible "administrative abuses" by the Veterans Administration, which runs the program.

"Facts are what we want," he said. "This will be no smear campaign."

Last winter the VA sent a 200-page report to Congress which included what it said were 258 examples of "fraudulent practices on the part of institutions" and other "problems" connected with the program.

The committee will investigate these "alleged abuses," but Teague has consistently contended that the VA itself is as much to blame as the schools.

Teague said here is how the committee is likely to do its work: Staffing almost at once, six trained investigators will be sent to all types of schools giving GI training. One of these investigators is a former postal inspector. Others may be ex-FBI agents.

They will "spot check" schools, going over records and talking to school authorities responsible for providing veterans' training.

Teague said schools in these states are likely to be guinea pigs: California, Texas, Wisconsin, Tennessee, Massachusetts and New York.

The release of these six followed the freeing earlier today of 47 eastern Communist policemen who had been held in West Berlin as hostages for 25 western police seized by the Communists in a renewed cold war skirmish. It remained to be seen whether the Communists would now release the West's 25 men.

The most spectacular East-West deadlock of this week still remained to be thawed out, however.

This was the British-Russian argument about 175 yards of territory on the western outskirts of Berlin. There the Russians, trying to gain the use of a major road for their tanks and motor vehicles, attempted to annex the area by moving forward their occupation zone borders into the British sector of the city.

This morning a company of British infantrymen still faced a handful of Russian tommy-gunners and a squad of German "people's policemen" over the disputed barrier. Both sides waited for British and Russian officials to settle the dispute by negotiation.

In the eyes of western authorities this week's new flurry of East-West skirmishes have a definite pattern—systematic Communist agitation to pressure and frighten allied West Berlin.

Six Soviets Receive Yank Jail Terms

By THOMAS A. REEDY

BERLIN, Sept. 22.—An American court today sentenced six Russian zone policemen to five days in jail for trespassing in the U. S. sector of Berlin while unlawfully armed.

They were released immediately because they had already served their term, having been arrested on Monday. Their old German Wehrmacht pistols were confiscated.

LATE BULLETIN

OSLO, Norway, Sept. 22. (AP)—Dr. Ralph Bunche, former United Nations mediator in Palestine, has been awarded the Nobel Peace Prize.

Bunche, an American Negro, succeeded Count Folke Bernadotte as the U.N. mediator in Palestine after Bernadotte was assassinated on Sept. 17, 1948. Bunche negotiated the armistices between the new state of Israel and the Arab states which ended the state of war there.

The trip was set up to demonstrate progress in refueling-in-flight technique for jet fighters. Refueling already is accepted practice for bombers and was demonstrated with the non-stop around the world flight of a Boeing B-50 superfortress, Lucky Lady II, last year.

The two planes took off Tuesday in a first attempt but had to cancel the flight over Prestwick because of trouble with the fuel pumping system on the tanker, a modified British bomber.

Both Schilling and Ritchie are World War II fliers and are assigned to operations and planning work at Air Force headquarters.

The flight, if successful, would be the first non-stop jet plane crossing of the Atlantic, the longest single-engine jet flight and the fastest London-New York trip ever made.

INDUSTRY NOTIFIED

Steelworkers Ask For Pay Increase

By GIB STALEY
Associated Press Staff
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 22.—The CIO United Steelworkers served formal notice on the steel industry today it wants an almost immediate wage boost for its million members.

Formal notification letters to 1400 firms went into the mails shortly after Philip Murray, president of both the CIO and the steelworkers, came from a meeting of the steelworkers' executive board to announce the demands.

Murray didn't spell out in dollars and cents just what will satisfy the union.

The veteran white-haired labor leader said he'd leave that up to the union's wage policy committee which has been summoned to meet here Oct. 4 and 5.

In his formal notification letter to employers, Murray declared: "Obviously, the national interest requires that we conclude a mutually satisfactory agreement at the earliest possible date."

There was no immediate comment from leaders in the war vital steel industry which is roaring toward new production records.

Announcement of the steelworkers' demands came only a few hours after the Aluminum Co. of America offered its 45,000 employees a 10 per cent wage boost.

The steelworkers represent about 20,000 of Alcoa's 30,000 production workers.

Murray said the union will seek a conference Monday with Alcoa officials. Tomorrow the offer will be reviewed by the USW at a meeting here with local union leaders in the Alcoa plants.

Room 179 Is Last Place Where Soviets And Western Allies Work At Same Table

By DANIEL DeLUCE
Associated Press Staff
BERLIN, Sept. 22.—A funeral calm hangs over Room 179—the last room in Berlin where Russians and westerners work at the same table.

The Soviet lieutenant on duty looks glum and bored. He taps idly with a pencil on his log book, in which he has written scarcely 20 lines.

A Texas master sergeant at the other end of the table—Raymond Bradford, of San Antonio—wonders aloud how he'll like being civilized soon after 21 years in uniform.

A staff sergeant from London—Ken Liddell—tells of the job he might go back to in his family's pub in Fleet Street.

Room 179 is on the ground floor of the ACA building on Potsdamerstrasse. Two hundred rooms were booked there for the allied control authority back in the Potsdam era. Nearly all the rooms are unused and locked. The only one that Russians come to is 179. A sign on the door says: "Allied air safety center."

Oil Companies Join Magnolia; Raise Prices

Crude Upped 7c Per Barrel In West Texas Area

DALLAS, Sept. 22. (AP)—Most major oil companies today were falling in line with Magnolia Petroleum Co. in boosting crude oil prices in some West Texas areas to $2.65 cents a barrel. The increase was seven cents.

Magnolia started the ball rolling yesterday when it boosted prices effective at 7 o'clock that morning.

By today, Gulf Oil, Pan American Production Co. and Onyx Refining Co. of Abilene had met the increase.

Oil firm sources indicated that the rest of the companies operating in the area will meet the price boost.

However, Stanolind officials at Tulsa said that so far they had not been authorized to match the figure.

The price increase closely followed action by the Texas Railroad Commission in cutting the allowable in six Scurry County fields by 600 barrels.

Abilene reported today that Pan American Production Co. posted the new price for crude in reef and Strawn pools of Scurry, Borden and Howard counties.

Gulf announced a price boost in Sweetie Peak Field (Midland County) and Scurry and Kent Counties. Scurry County fields included in Magnolia's hike were Diamond M, Early Strawn lime, Kelly-Snyder, Sharon Ridge Canyon, North Snyder Strawn Zones B and C and Schatteil.

Allied Warplanes In Big Korea Day

TOKYO, Sept. 22. (AP)—Allied warplanes Thursday claimed to have killed 950 enemy troops and destroyed 17 Red Korean tanks in 663 sorties over the Korean war zone.

The Far East Air Forces said an additional 42 North Korean vehicles, four power stations, a tunnel, seven bridges, 23 gun positions, 59 buildings, two fuel dumps, four military supply areas, eight rail cars, three locomotives, a ferryboat and one Yak-9 Russian-built plane were destroyed or damaged.

The Yak-9 was hit on an airfield.

our relations here any good."

After the Korean war started, the sergeants clipped a map from Stars and Stripes, pinned it to the wall, and charted the shifting front line with a pencil.

The Russians looked at it, exclaiming when they discovered a town the North Korean Communists claimed to have captured the previous night had been marked as lost several days before, but the sergeants didn't belabor the point that American communiques were truthful, even when it hurt.

Bradford, who expects to go back to the Southwest says: "I guess all Ken and I can claim is that we, personally, didn't make international relations any worse."

"The Russians here know we're human beings, and we know they are. In Room 179, both sides act a lot better than in the United Nations."

Kreklow And Harrod To Present Program

Joe Kreklow of Eldorado, pianist and William Harrod, of Lubbock, violinist, will be featured in a musical program at the City Auditorium on Nov. 6.

Now a farmer in Schleicher County, Kreklow studied at Julliard's in New York and the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor. His musical history includes playing with Fred Waring and his famous Pennsylvanians, toured Europe with Xavier Cugat and from 1939 to 1943 was accompanist for Hildegarde, radio and screen personality, at the Savory Plaza and the Plaza Hotels in New York City. In 1939 when he was playing with Russ Morgan and his orchestra at the Casa Manana in Fort Worth, he met Vida Moore, a Texas home demonstration agent. They were married in 1940 and it was probably her influence that caused Mr. and Mrs. Kreklow to buy the farm near Eldorado in 1943. Kreklow likes the farming part of his life so well that he has decided to "stick to farming from now on".

William A. Harrod is director of the Lubbock Symphonic Orchestra.

Bride-To-Be Jacquelyn Cadow Flees Home To Hide From Phantom Whistler

PARADISE, La., Sept. 22. (AP)—An 18-year-old bride-to-be was hiding out today from a phantom whistler who has threatened to kill her before she can marry her fiancé Oct. 1.

Mrs. Clifford Cadow said last night she had sent her daughter away from the home where an unknown man has whistled a shrill and eerie funeral march almost nightly for months and more recently has threatened to kill the girl, pretty Jacquelyn Cadow.

Mrs. Cadow refused to say where her daughter was hiding but denied that Jacquelyn had attempted to foil the whistler by marrying State Trooper Herbert Belson, 28, ahead of schedule.

"My daughter is going to get married Oct. 1. She is going to have a big wedding and nobody is going to stop her," the mother said.

A half dozen of Sheriff Leon Vial's deputies who had been guarding the snug, white house, were nowhere to be seen after Jacquelyn had left the house last night. But the sheriff himself, a resident of Hahnville, was reported to be in Paradise.

Paradis is 25 miles west of New Orleans.

Mrs. Cadow said the whistling—wolf calls—was first heard around the Cadow home one night in February. When Jacquelyn's engagement was announced Aug. 1, she said, the whistling changed to a funeral dirge and was heard more frequently. Soon there began a series of telephone threats to kill Jacquelyn before her wedding day.

Several times before Jacquelyn has fled her home in an effort to get away from the funeral whistling. But each time a telephone call has been placed to the house to which she had fled, with the phantom whistler warning that he knew where she was and planned to kill her.

Marshall May Give Service Secretaries More Freedom

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Affairs Reporter
WASHINGTON, Sept. 22. — The secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force may find they have greater stature and more responsibility under the administration of Secretary of Defense George C. Marshall.

While no one expects any drastic change in the organization or letter of the law which unified the armed services, those who have worked with him before make these points:

1. Marshall is an experienced administrator, former military chief of a huge wartime army and former head of the State Department. He prefers to delegate responsibility and authority.
2. As secretary of state, he had key assistant secretaries who handled matters in their own provinces and brought only the larger, policy matters to him for decision.
3. If he follows the pattern as chief of the Defense Department, the greatest single agency of government, it would mean more decentralization, greater freedom of activity than the service secretaries had under former Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson.

So firm was Johnson's control of affairs in the Army, Navy and Air Force that one man, John L. Sullivan, resigned as Navy secretary in protest. Former Air Force Secretary W. Stuart Symington had some behind-the-scenes jousts with Johnson, but when he left it was to become chairman of the National Security Resources Board, a cabinet level position.

All three service secretaries — Matthew W. Conover of the Army, Francis Matthews of the Navy and Thomas Finletter of the Air Force — are comparative newcomers to their posts. Pace and Finletter were appointed by President Truman early this year. Matthews has been Navy Secretary since May, 1949.

Pace's name has been mentioned during the last few days among those speculated upon as possible successors to the deputy defense secretary's job which Stephen Early is leaving at the end of this month.

Reasons advanced for this speculation include the fact that he is a fiscal and business expert and was personally picked by President Truman for his former job director of the federal budget.

Ralph Capone To Appear In Crime Probe

MERCER, Wis., Sept. 22. — Ralph Capone, brother of the late "Scarface Al" Capone, has been ordered to appear immediately before a Senate Crime Investigating Committee.

A subpoena was served Wednesday night by Deputy U. S. Marshal Thomas Madden, who had been trying for a month to find Capone, operator of a local tavern. Service was made at Capone's summer cottage at a nearby lake.

Virgil Peterson, Chicago crime expert, has told the committee the old Al Capone syndicate is flourishing with underworld links in many parts of the nation and has formed alliances with powerful gang leaders.

He named Ralph Capone and 20 others among them.

A total of 16 persons had registered this morning for window display and show card lettering classes which start here Monday.

Four of the number enrolled for the lettering class, while 12 registered for window display instruction. W. G. Bohannon of the University of Texas division of extension will instruct the classes. Both will be limited to approximately 25 pupils.

The training is being sponsored here by the Retail Committee of the chamber of commerce and the high school distributive education department. Classes start Monday and will be held nightly for the next two weeks.

Window display class begins at 7 p.m. each day and will last for one hour. The lettering course is to start at 8 p.m. daily for a two-hour period.

Interested persons may now register for the training at the chamber of commerce.

Nearly All Pictures Taken For El Rodeo

Practically all of the individual pictures for classes for the El Rodeo, Big Spring high school yearbook, have been taken.

After a week of intensive effort, yearbook editors announced that Hugh Mathis had posed members of the senior, junior, sophomore, freshmen and eighth grade classes. He set up a temporary studio in the gymnasium to facilitate the work. Only the "mop up" remains to complete the schedule on these pictures.

Machinists Off Job At Burbank

BURBANK, Calif., Sept. 22. — Picketing continued at the Menasco Manufacturing Co. today as a strike by 800 members of the International Assn. of Machinists entered its second day.

The walkout was called yesterday over wage issues. C. G. Bogardus, union business agent, said the company makes, among other things, parts for jet planes of a type now operating in the war zone, but that "all parts anywhere near ready were completed and sent out before the walkout."

The IAM, an independent union, wants $2.15 an hour for journeymen machinists who now receive $1.85. Bogardus said the company offer is

Gas Station Man's Neuritis Pains Leave Completely After First 3 Bottles Of Hadaacol

Father helped, too, who also had deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin.

Wesley Scallions, energetic young gas station attendant in Peoria, Illinois, tells how HADACOL keeps him on the job feeling fine. Wesley Scallions has this to report:

"I took HADACOL upon the advice of my father who has taken it regularly for some time. He could not eat, was unable to get around, lost sleep and was generally run-down. My brother who is a doctor recommended HADACOL to Dad. Since taking HADACOL, Dad has been feeling like a different man; he now has a hearty appetite, sleeps well and gets around once again on his own.

"I have had neuritis pains in my right arm and leg. Due to this condition I lost many days of work until I started to take HADACOL. After my first three bottles the pains left me completely and now I work every day and overtime also, without having any pains. I am a gas attendant and need full use of both arms and legs in my line of work. Thanks to HADACOL I can now perform my job satisfactorily and feel fine."

One Last Obstacle Remains In Way Of Completing Road Project

One last obstacle remains in the letting of the contract for construction of the final lap of State 87 from Big Spring to the Martin County line.

Lowest bid was about $20,000 or about 10 per cent over engineer estimates for the job. In cases such as this, only the state highway commission has authority to let the contract.

This, below, final rejoicing over the realization of a 20-year dream is in order, the commission must act favorably. We earnestly hope that this last hurdle can be negotiated.

Other road projects in the county will soon be in the making. As soon as weather permits the transfer of equipment, state Department crews are due to start work on the tie-in of the Coahoma-Vincent road to FM 330, the Snyder highway, which goes within a quarter of a mile of Vincent. Later, the Vealmoor extension will be ready for action, connecting this central north Howard area with Big Spring by all-weather road. Certainly those in the Seaboard camp, the residents of Vealmoor, and those who work and live in the Vealmoor and Good pool areas will be glad when the work comes.

This points up a new area which will require attention. Camps are springing up all over the place in the Reinecke pool and around the East Vealmoor (Wilson and Branon) pools. Already the problem of maintenance in these sectors is great and we may as well reconcile ourselves to shifting the weight of effort in that direction if the emergency is to be met. Ultimately, some arterial laterals such as the Vealmoor project will be in order.

"Peace Jitters" Should Not Deter Us From Ultimate Defense Goal

First, war jitters; and now, peace jitters.

"Hopes for an early ending of the Korean war has sent a peace scare through the commodity markets. The prices of some war-inflated commodities have tumbled. And this has set many businessmen to wondering what would happen to the war boom if—1. Fighting ends in Korea by the end of the year; 2. Russia doesn't start something somewhere else."

This is a quotation from "Today's Business Mirror," a daily AP feature from New York City.

Those, the dispatch explains, "are life which no one can answer, only guess at." But "if an uneasy peace settles down on the world again, the effect on American consumer psychology, production goals, and commodity prices might change the business picture decidedly, some observers argue."

And well they may. It is the present will of Congress, and certainly the goal of the administration, to rebuild our national defenses to the extent of 3,000,000 men under arms, plus a great expansion of military equipment more planes, more tanks, more ships, more atom-bombs. Not nearly all the legislation and the appropriations for these expansions have been made yet, much of it was passed over by this Congress until January or later, notably universal military training and some major appropriations.

Now, what will happen if Korea is cleaned up and the guns fall silent by or before January 1? Will a mood of retrenchment seize on Congress, and a movement for cutbacks ensue? Will UMT come a cropper again?

That, it seems to us, is the real danger. It would make it difficult to maintain our present high resolve to build our defenses horse-high and bull-strong. Once more complacency and self-centered ease might possess the land.

If this happens, victory in Korea will have been dear-bought. We simply must get it into our heads that our defenses must be completed regardless of temporary and uncertain noises of "peace in our time."

Democratic Party Given Marked Edge Over GOP In Handling U.S. Issues

BY GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

(One of a series of reports by Gallup Poll appraising the political situation in terms of parties, issues and candidates.)

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 22.—Elements of great strength in the Democratic party's stand on national issues is seen in the latest survey by the American Institute of Public Opinion on the political situation today.

The voters in this survey show a general tendency to think that the Democratic party can do a better job than the Republicans in handling national issues which they themselves call the most important in the Congressional election.

Persons who named one of the following four as the most important issues to be discussed in the campaign said they think the Democrats can handle each better than the G.O.P. can: (1) avoiding general war and handling our relations with Russia, (2) preparedness, (3) the Korean situation, and (4) the high cost of living.

The Republican party, on the other hand, was given the edge over the Democrats by voters naming the following as the most important issues:

(1) Handling foreign aid and administering the Marshall Plan, and (2) taxes and government finances.

This evidence of Democratic advantage in four out of the six top issues indicates, along with other evidence from surveys, the tough problem which the G.O.P. faces this November in gaining any appreciable number of seats in Congress.

An Institute survey reported last week showed that Republican strength outside the South is running at 51 1/2 per cent at present and Democratic strength at 48 1/2 per cent. Since the South is overwhelmingly Democratic, the G.O.P. vote in the other sections would have to average considerably higher than 51 1/2 per cent to make any substantial gain in the House.

Plan
5—High cost of living
6—Taxes and government finances

A number of other issues receiving a small percentage of the vote included: strikes, Taft-Hartley act, communism in the U. S., unemployment, housing shortage, civil rights and public health.

The second question put to each voter was:

"Which political party do you think will do a better job of handling the problem you have just mentioned—the Democratic or Republican?"

The following table is a summary of how the people rated the parties in terms of ability to handle the particular problem they themselves singled out as most important:

Issue	Dem. can handle better	G.O.P. can handle better	Undecided
High cost of living	77 pct.	19	4
Taxes and government finances	72	22	6
Other issues	68 pct.	28	4

Handling the Issues
Today's survey dealt with campaign issues by putting two questions before voters in a nationwide cross-section.

The first was:

"What do you personally regard as the MOST IMPORTANT issue (problem) which should be discussed in the coming November election campaign for Congress?"

The following six received the most votes:

- 1—Avoiding a general war, handling Russia
- 2—Preparedness, building up defense
- 3—Korean situation
- 4—Foreign aid, Marshall

Congress Has Stuck Well To Plan Cutting Down Committees

WASHINGTON.—IN 1946 CONGRESS, top-heavy and out of date, reorganized itself to do business better.

How has the reorganization worked? It has and it hasn't. Some things have turned out pretty well. Some, hardly at all.

You probably can expect that result in a place where all 435 House members and the 96 senators are trying to have a finger in the pie.

One thing that's been a complete bust is Congress' attempt to have its own budget.

On the other hand, the 1946 act wiped out a battalion of unnecessary committees, and Congress has stuck to that plan more or less well.

Take the case of the budget.

Now take the committees.

A LOT OF CONGRESSMEN, PROBABLY most of them, think their power and importance are increased in direct proportion to the number of committees on which they serve.

In 1946 the Senate had 33 standing committees (regular, all-year-round committees) and the House 48. Then there were whole batches of special committees set up to investigate this or that.

And the work of many committees overlapped. For example: Several committees might have a hand in the government's public works. The reorganization act tried to:

1. Cut down overlapping and unnecessary committees.
2. Concentrate under one committee the field which properly belonged to that committee.

So Congress, under the act, reduced 33 Senate standing committees to 15 and the 48 House committees to 19. And many special committees were wiped out.

CONGRESS HAS STUCK VERY CLOSELY to its new committee set-up. True, new batches of sub-committees of the standing committees have sprung up.

Some critics of Congress point to that and say it's just a dodge of Congressmen to have the same old special committees under another name.

But some of those keeping close check on how the reorganization act works, argue this way:

"Maybe there are too many sub-committees. But at least each of them, attached to a standing committee, is working in the field of that main committee and not going off into some other committee's domain."

Some other parts of the reorganization act have helped Congress. For example: Some committee staffs—but certainly not all—have been strengthened with experts to help the committees do a more intelligent job.

Marshall Can Bring About Complete Unity Between Defense And State

WASHINGTON—The two most important facts regarding Gen. Marshall's appointment as Secretary of Defense are:

1. There will be complete unity between the State Department and National Defense instead of the recent bickering; for Marshall is a warm friend and 100 per cent supporter of Dean Acheson.
2. When Marshall became Secretary of State the chief request he made was that Acheson remain as undersecretary. It was also Acheson who really drew up the Marshall Plan and wrote the famous speech which Marshall gave at Harvard.

2. The United States will now concentrate chiefly on Europe, and after the Korean War, try, as far as possible, to keep out of the Orient. This was Gen. Marshall's idea when he was ambassador to China, and it was he who set this policy later as Secretary of State. Acheson, although agreeing with the policy, inherited it from him.

MARSHALL AS A CIVILIAN
Gen. Marshall has been described as a civilian-minded military man, which is probably true. He has not always been so, however. . . . In the winter of 1944, he let out a terrific blast against labor unions, accusing them of delaying the war, though actually labor had a good war record.

On the other hand, it was Marshall, when Secretary of State, who advised Truman that a veto of the Taft-Hartley Act would win friends for us on the labor-minded continent of Europe.

Latin-American governments remember the blunt, military-minded directives issued by Marshall, then chief of staff, to secure bases at Natal, Brazil, and in the Galapagos Islands off Ecuador, after Pearl Harbor, regardless of what Latin-American wishes might be. Fortunately the State Department toned down Marshall's highhandedness.

White House advisers have let drop the fact that neither the President nor Marshall at first realized that the unification act handed higher military man as Secretary of Defense. Congress spent about three years debating unification, and the chief problem worrying congressmen was that a military man might take over all the services and become a man on a white horse.

President Truman has always worshipped George Marshall, some friends describing it as respect which a field artillery captain holds for the top general of the Army. The feeling goes deeper than respect, however, and is nearer hero worship.

The President frequently brags about Marshall to callers, talks about his amazing memory, and when Marshall was at the Pan American Conference in Bogota, the President was worried sick for fear Marshall would get hurt in the street firing that swept the city. . . . Marshall also did Truman a great favor when he induced Gen. Eisenhower to retire from the presidential race in 1948. Marshall and Ike not only are warm friends, but Marshall had figuratively held Ike's hand during the war.

MARSHALL'S POLITICS
It is barely possible that Gen. Marshall might not be where he is today had it not been for the fact that his father was a Democrat during the Republican administration of William McKinley. Because he was a Democrat, Marshall's father, a resident of Uniontown, Pa., could not get his son into West Point, so the boy went to Virginia Military Institute.

Later Gen. Pa' Watson, FDR's military aide and a staunch Virginian, had much to do with having Marshall, an adopted Virginian, made chief of staff. . . . During World War I, Marshall served under Pershing and became a member of the so-called Pershing clique which dominated which the most criticized was published about his mistakes, of the War Department for years.

Though Marshall has never seen combat, Pershing gave him credit for planning the maneuver by which U. S. troops were moved from the St. Mihiel to the Meuse-Argonne front with no enemy aviator discovering it. . . . Gen. Johnson Hagood once described Marshall as "the most outstanding military genius since Stonewall Jackson," while old-timers in the Army remember him for the maps of the Texas Big Bend Country which he made as a lieutenant and which are still standard for the Army.

MARSHALL'S MISTAKES
Because of his personal popularity to Marshall, Little has been fairly, the newspapers have been failure to warn Pearl Harbor in 1941—except by a slow commercial cable which arrived too late—that the Japs might attack on Dec. 7.

It is not generally known also that in 1940 when the French and British had their backs to the wall, Marshall opposed sending U. S. rifles to them. He was overruled by FDR. . . . Other Marshall mistakes were to predict Moscow would fall six weeks after the Nazis invaded Russia; to announce a week before Japan surrendered that we would need an 8 million-man land army to take Japan; and to ask for only six Flying Fortresses in 1940.

MARSHALL'S METHODS
Gen. Marshall, now 70 years old, has followed a strict routine most of his life. It seldom varies. He is up at 6:30 for a horseback ride, and was riding his horse "Prepare," when sides tried to find him a few hours before Pearl Harbor.

Safest Person Is Back In Connecticut

CHICAGO—The safest person in the United States has moved back to Connecticut.

It's still that little girl—the National Safety Council's perennial nominee for the mythical safety title. She lived in Connecticut for many years, but moved to New Jersey when that state recorded the lowest accident fatality rate in 1948.

Connecticut again came out on top in 1949, according to the 1950 edition of "Accident Facts," the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook. So the little girl's moved again.

The Council figures the safest person must be a little girl, because the safest age group was the 5-14 bracket and for some reason little girls have fewer accidents than boys.

T-V Repeater Stations Could Be Put Atop West Texas Hills

A few months ago we suggested that Big Spring would be a good location for a television station, but some folks in a position to know something about technical and commercial aspects of that field disagreed.

At that time, those who commented indicated that the best bet for television in this part of the country would be "booster" or "repeater" stations, rather than a full fledged television station itself. Presumably these stations would be located at points where telecast images from regular stations in larger cities could be picked up and relayed into new territory.

Now we notice that California has put such a project into effect and with good results.

They say repeater stations broadened the television horizon by 400 miles in the San Francisco Bay area. The new system, there can send a program from San Francisco to Los Angeles in 1-400th of second, which most people will agree is not time at all.

Their repeater stations are located at vantage points on mountain tops, and beams are picked up from either Frisco or L.A., whichever happens to be telecasting at the time. The repeaters strengthen the beams and forward them to the next station by huge transmitting horns.

These repeater stations, which are located at points where telecast images from regular stations in larger cities could be picked up and relayed into new territory.

A 400-mile horizon would put Big Spring in contact with Fort Worth, Dallas and San Antonio, where television stations already are in operation.

Nationalization To The Limit Is Socialist Idea In England

BRITAIN'S SOCIALIST GOVERNMENT has won a doubtful parliamentary victory. It narrowly defeated the Conservative attempt to compel its downfall over the controversial steel nationalization program.

This attack was led by former Prime Minister Winston Churchill in best fighting form. It was precipitated by the government's announcement that it would assume control of the country's vital steel industry on January 1.

Churchill made a motion which in effect called for condemnation of this program, and Attlee announced that his government would stand or fall on the vote.

land of course is in a different category from other industries, barring coal. Steel production is the very heart of the country's economy in normal times, and is doubly so now that the nation is in the midst of the great defense program.

Naturally this situation brings out the most vigorous of the ideological arguments pro and con. The Socialists reiterate that control of this great industry by capitalists is a menace to the national interests. The opposition retorts that this is no time to remove directors who for years have been running the steel industry successfully, and replace them by government direction.

In short, this bitter battle is the epitome of the political differences between socialism and capitalism. Obviously it will have to be ironed out before the government can claim a clear mandate from the almost equally divided electorate to go "all out" in inaugurating socialism.

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF THIS BATTLE lies in the closeness of the result. The Socialists won by only six votes—306 to 300. This represented an all-out effort by both sides, and involved routing 111 members of Commons out of bed to attend the session.

This means that the country also is almost equally divided (or was at the time of the general election last February) over the question of steel nationalization. That was the major issue of the election, in which Attlee sought a mandate for his program and got it by a hair's breadth.

Churchill naturally made the most of this almost 50-50 division of the country, and accused the Socialists of using their slender margin to "knock the other half" about. As a matter of fact there have been reports that some of the Socialist leaders, including Attlee himself, haven't been too happy about the opposition to the steel program. Socialist doctrinaires, however, have insisted on going the limit in nationalization.

PRIME MINISTER ATLEE PRESUMABLY has this in mind, for he is said by informed sources to plan another general election early next year. This would be after steel nationalization is effective and the rearmament program is giving full steam. It would give the electorate a wide open chance to declare itself.

The next general election will provide an interesting showdown, not only as regards steel but in connection with other Socialist programs which the country has experienced. The hotly disputed virtues of socialized medicine, for example, will be ironed out, along with heavy taxation and the high cost of living.

By that time the nation will be in much better position to give a studied verdict on the Socialist experiment as a whole.

Hal And Don Have Nice Ride To Tokyo On MacArthur Plane

TOKYO, (AP)—A LETTER TO FRANCES: "Well, honey Fanny, as the boys in the Army say, 'I got it made.' I'm here! Darned if I ever thought coming to Tokyo would be a thrill, but right now I would almost be willing to vote Japan in as the 49th state.

Returning here after more than six weeks in Korea is like stepping from a smelly, muddy ditch into a banquet room at the Waldorf.

No fleas in my bed, no nasty war noises overhead, and steak instead of pork luncheon meat for dinner. That isn't Japan. It is really Heaven.

I hitch-hiked over with Don Whitehead. What should be waiting on the Korean airport as we drove up but General MacArthur's own private four engine plane—the famous "Bataan."

DOUG WASN'T ABOARD HIMSELF, but one of his one-star lads was. He saw us pawing our feet bashfully in the dust and allowed as how he would take us to Tokyo if we wanted to go and didn't mind riding in a beat up old five-star plane.

And figuring we might walk a long time until a six-star general's plane came along with a better offer, we bowed to destiny and said yes.

The ride was a real treat. The brigadier general—a nice fatherly man named Wright—pointed out a volcano to us and had one of the crewmen bring us a sea lunch. We stretched out on seats that must have been warmed at one time or another by Doug himself and kept murmuring between ourselves:

"It only costs a little more to travel first class."

Like all those who return from a battle area to so-called civilization we were full of self pity and felt we alone appreciated the full horror of war. But as we stepped off the plane at a field near Tokyo an Air Force captain climbed out of his car and kissed his wife goodbye.

SHE DROVE AWAY WITH HER CHIN up and tears streaming down her cheeks, and suddenly I was humbled with between ourselves:

"It only costs a little more to travel first class."

ents back from the front. Wasn't that all right? To waste our precious leave talking about death in Korea—with life all around us here to enjoy.

BUT THE THIRD DAY BACK THE strangeness wore away and we began to savor again the luxury of the push button way of living. The first thing we did was go shopping. That is one of the things you miss most on a battle front—you can't go out and spend money.

So we satisfied our pent-up buying hunger by frittering away our yen on a sort of useless things.

I agreed to go with Whitehead only on condition that he walk two paces behind me and not to speak to me while anyone was looking as he had a Korean haircut that made him look like a country cousin mangled by sheep shears.

At the end of the day as we leaned back into a cab with our arms full of bundles Don said wearily like a middle-aged lady coming home from a department store:

"Bawl"—you know that Kentucky hill billy never could pronounce Boyle—"Bawl, shopping just wears me down."

"Mrs. Whitehead," I said, "it sure does get a body in the legs at that."

I TOLD THIS STORY AT THE PRESS Club and now everybody calls poor Don "Mrs. Whitehead" and "Grandma." But I don't think I could take this war with old sturdy "Grandma." He is still the same old patient tower of kindness and strength.

When I started this letter I meant to tell you about unexpectedly taking a bath with some strange Japanese ladies, but I will write you about that later. It is just an old custom here anyway and doesn't mean much. Meanwhile, keep that candle in the window for me.

Your loving husband, Harold.

One Out Of 32 Hurt In The Home

CHICAGO—One out of 32 persons in the United States was disabled one or more days by injuries received in home accidents during 1949.

Home injuries totaled 4,850,000, according to the 1950 edition of "Accident Facts," the statistical yearbook of the National Safety Council, and these included 120,000 permanent impairments.

The home death toll was 31,000, of which about half resulted from falls.

And that reminds me: I thought you said in 1946 that if there was another war you would go off and enjoy it and I could stay home and bribe the butcher. Then what am I doing here? Oh well, just lucky I guess.

We felt lonesome and out of place here for the first couple of days. We hung out at the Press Club and swapped shop talk about the war with other correspond-

Father Claims Self Defense In Shooting

DETROIT, Sept. 22. (AP) — Ceell J. Alliger, 33, claimed self-defense today in the fatal shooting of his young daughter's married, 29-year-old suitor.

But police said they would seek a first degree murder warrant for the partially-paralyzed World War I veteran.

Alliger has admitted killing Robert A. Ripley, 29, who became acquainted with Alliger's 17-year-old daughter, Shirley, when she was a baby sitter for the three children of Ripley and his now estranged wife.

The shooting happened Wednesday night when Ripley escorted Shirley home from a movie. Alliger told police he "knew Ripley was no good" and had tried to break up the romance. But he said Ripley insisted he would marry Shirley "over my dead body" and came at him as though "he was going to hit me." It was at that point, he added, that he drew a gun and fired at the younger man. Ripley died en route to a hospital as Shirley accompanied him.

"BATTLE" IN EGYPT

Navy Wages War On Snails, Flies

By FRED J. ZUSY
CAIRO, Sept. 22. (AP) — A United States Navy unit operating on the edge of the desert is waging war against two of Egypt's major enemies—snails and flies.

It's a task force equipped with chemicals, test tubes and spray guns instead of battleships and carriers.

The enemy—tiny, blood-sucking, is a dangerous one. He has spread death and disease throughout the Nile kingdom.

A clearcut Navy victory by raising the health and vitality of Egypt's millions, could greatly affect the country's destiny.

The land sailors, operating five miles from the pyramids of the pharaohs, are known here as NAMRU-3. That stands for Navy Medical Research Unit No. 3. It is the only such unit that the Navy maintains overseas.

NAMRU-3 is studying new approaches to the prevention, control and treatment of the wide variety of tropical and other diseases found in Egypt.

That involves a wide-scale onslaught against the snail and housefly.

Snails infest the canals leading off the Nile to the rich delta-lands. They carry a tiny parasite which causes bilharzia. This disease for centuries has sapped the strength of millions of Egyptian fallahen, or peasants.

Bilharzia is also present through many other parts of Africa and the Mediterranean basin.

NAMRU-3 has already tested more than 750 chemical compounds in a search for cheap, practical and swift snail killer. Thus far some "promising leads" have resulted. Plans are to test up to 20,000 chemicals, if necessary.

The bilharzia problem has been attacked before. Some improvements in treatment have been found. But no way has yet been discovered to stamp out the snail which harbors the parasite.

NAMRU-3 is also waging war against the housefly, a serious pest which spreads dysentery and typhoid throughout Egypt. The housefly, scientists say, is also responsible for many cases of blindness.

The Navy unit is looking for more efficient ways to kill of flies. Experts on insecticides from the U. S. Department of Agriculture are assisting. Similar research is centered at Orlando, Fla.

The fly research program is typical of the entire NAMRU-3 operation. It has studied the use of aircraft in spraying operations. It is so thorough that a special diet kitchen is maintained to feed the flies kept captive for study and observation.

The director of NAMRU-3 is Capt. James J. Saper, of Long Beach, Calif. He headed the Navy medical corps fight against malaria in the Pacific during the last war.

He heads a Navy unit of about 25 officers and enlisted men, chiefly technicians. This small group operates the $1,500,000 NAMRU-3 setup, assisted by nearly 100 Egyptian technicians and other workers. The whole program costs the U. S. taxpayer some $300,000 annually. Much of the scientific equipment, however, was obtained from war surplus.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Paul Became A World Evangelist

BY NEWMAN CAMPBELL
Scripture Acts 16:9-15; 17:22-28; II Corinthians 11:22-12:10.

Today we conclude our study of the great teachers of the early Christian church. St. Paul was the greatest of them all. He was an educated man and a zealous one. When he was a Pharisee he persecuted the Christians with all the energy of his nature, and when he became a Christian he went "all out," as we say, in his enthusiasm for the faith.

Paul never spared himself in his efforts to spread the gospel of Christ to "all the world," as Jesus had commanded his disciples. Travel in those days meant walking over terribly rough roads, through valleys and over mountains, often in danger of robbers or falling in primitive vessels that might easily be wrecked in a sudden squall.

Our story begins in the middle of Paul's life and during his second missionary journey. The "Spirit" had forbidden him to visit certain churches where he had planned to spend some time. He arrived in Troas on the Aegean sea, opposite Greece, probably somewhat bewildered about what God intended him to do next.

That night, however, Paul had a vision in which a man came to him begging him to come to Macedonia to help them. Paul realized this as God's message to him.

Next day Paul and his companion journeyed to Europe — a turning point in world history and the widening of Christian influence to that continent. St. Luke, author of the book of Acts, appears to have been with Paul when they arrived at the city of Philippi, but did not accompany him further.

There apparently was no synagogue at Philippi, so Paul went to the river bank where he knew the Jews would probably gather on the Sabbath to pray. Finding a number of women there, Paul sat down and talked to them.

Among them was a well-to-do woman named Lydia, a seller of rare purple cloth. She was a God-fearing person, and she readily accepted Paul's message, and was baptized with all her household. She then invited the disciples to stay at her home while they were in the city.

From Philippi, Paul journeyed to Athens — chief center of learning in those days. The Greeks, like the Jews, considered themselves a superior people, referring to the rest of mankind as barbarians — "Greeks and Barbarians," and considering the barbarians beneath their notice.

Paul saw many statues and altars to different gods, and goddesses that were worshipped in this center of culture, but one altar intrigued him more than all other, for on it was inscribed, "To the unknown god."

This man who was entirely unknown in Athens where many famous philosophers, and orators had lived, wended his way to Mars' hill — meeting place of the ancient court — where gathered men who discussed everything in the universe.

His speech to the Athenians is one of the greatest ever uttered. He did not antagonize these citizens, but addressed them as their ancient philosophers had done. "Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious," referring probably to their worship of a multitude of gods and goddesses.

"For as I passed by, and beheld your devotions, I found an altar with this inscription, 'To the Unknown God.' Whom therefore, ye ignorantly worship, Him declare I unto you."

Then he told them of God the creator of all the natural world and of mankind. He warned them of judgment to come and begged them to repent of their sins. He told them of Jesus, of his life and death and His resurrection from the dead. Some men and women were converted and "clave unto him," others said they would hear him again concerning these matters.

Of Paul's trial before King Agrippa who was visiting the procurator, Festus, we have very little space to comment. We can only refer the teacher to the text of the lesson, and say that so powerful was his defense of himself before the two that Festus himself was convinced that Paul had done nothing to make him worthy of death or imprisonment.

Agrippa himself was so impressed that he said to Paul, "Almost thou persuaded me to be a Christian." Agrippa's final verdict was that Paul should be set free if he had not already appealed to Caesar, who alone could give him liberty.

One Day Of Kindness To An Oil-Rich Eccentric Brings $100,000 To Family

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22. (AP)—A day of kindness 30 years ago was never forgotten by oil-rich eccentric Charles Babonet. And so today a family he met just once stands to gain $100,000.

The wrapping-paper will of Babonet, called by a friend "a secret philanthropist in overalls," yesterday named Mrs. Pearl A. Tyson and her family principal beneficiaries of an estate that may be worth $500,000.

The family was rewarded for giving Babonet—who died Aug. 7 at the age of 66—a happy day at the beach after picking him up on a highway.

"If I live to be 1,000 I never forget that day," the Austrian-born bachelor wrote on the wrapping paper.

Strangely enough, the unusual document was filed for probate yesterday by one of the nation's foremost bankers, L. M. Giannini, president of the Bank of America. The handwritten will was above the door of a downtown bank branch Aug. 28—by whom no one seems to know. It was addressed to the president.

But Giannini and Atty. Robert B. Ballantyne said they had no reason to doubt the authenticity of the will, dated Oct. 2, 1943.

Mrs. Tyson and her husband, William, 61-year-old carpenter, could barely remember the incident. "It was so long ago—but I seem to recall a small, dark man," said Tyson. They were vacationing here from Denver when they befriended Babonet. They moved to Los Angeles five years later.

Mrs. Tyson was left $60,000, her husband $20,000 and a daughter, now Mrs. Melissa Christian Carter, $20,000. The daughter, 40, resides only a mile from the modest cottage where Babonet lived.

Still sought today was the daughter's playmate on that faraway day, identified in the will only as "Sue" and left $10,000. Mrs. Carter said she hadn't seen "Sue" since childhood.

In his will, Babonet named the car (a Haines) and gave the Tyson address, which he said he copied from the auto registration slip while the family was in swimming.

Babonet, who lived in apparent poverty, didn't forget his neighbors, although he didn't know the names of most of them. He left $50,000 to Peter J. Kelly, "who cares for me when sick," and $40,000 to "my four good neighbors, each man and wives $5,000."

After his death, officials found $130,000 in cash and more than that amount in bonds in Babonet's home. Banking records indicate he kept at least a half dozen different accounts, the smallest, $25,000. Brown believes other income from oil holdings may swell the estate to $500,000.

Kelly said Babonet liked to keep cash on hand to give it away, secretly—"a real philanthropist in overalls."

"I'd drive to a church, an orphanage or a hospital at his direction," Kelly recalled. "Then he'd slip some money in an envelope—I never knew how much—and I'd leave it in the mail box. I delivered hundreds of Christmas baskets for him.

"I never knew a man who seem-

Man Jailed On Charges Of Mailing Infernal Device

TYLER, Sept. 22. (AP)—Gray-haired Frank R. Kucyn, who calls himself a metaphysician, waited in federal jail today for a hearing on charges he mailed an infernal device.

Kucyn, 75, who has lived here about six months, was accused yesterday of being the man who mailed three gun-powder cigarette lighters at nearby Edom.

The lighters were individually packed inside a large package addressed to Angelo Saldana of Los Angeles. The large package also contained a note asking that "the small ones be mailed."

The hoisted lighters inside them were cheap table models, equipped with what appeared to be dynamite blasting caps.

The specific charge against Kucyn is that he mailed an infernal device with intent to harm Homer Carey of Marshall, to whom one of the lighters was addressed. The others were addressed to Beatrice C. Yarkias, Los Angeles, and Harry O. Nelson, Shreveport.

Kucyn pleaded innocent at his arraignment before U. S. Commissioner Dave Price. He couldn't post his $5,000 bond and was sent to the federal jail at Paris, to be held for a hearing Oct. 2.

The lighters were discovered Wednesday by Mrs. G. H. Morris, postmistress at Edom. She said a black-gloved, gray-haired man entered the post office and said he wanted to send a package airmail.

He gave a fictitious Edom address and was in such a hurry to leave that Mrs. Morris became suspicious. She checked with Tyler postal officials, and they advised her to open the package.

In Los Angeles, Saldana said he had rented an office there to Kucyn. Mrs. Yarkias told postal inspectors she is Kucyn's stepdaughter. Saldana said that a few years ago Kucyn married an elderly woman reputed to have property at Marshall.

Officers said that where Kucyn came here from. He had a letterhead describing himself as a metaphysician, psychologist, student of infinite science, inventor and notary public.

Los Angeles records showed Kucyn had been convicted of practicing medicine without a license and received a two-month jail sentence.

Smith County Atty. Dick Buruss said FBI records show Kucyn had a prison record.

Magnolia To Rebuild Desdemona Plant

DESEMONA, Sept. 22. (AP)—Magnolia Petroleum Co. plans to rebuild its Desdemona butane-gasoline plant, partly destroyed yesterday by an explosion and fire which injured a truck driver.

The blast occurred as a butane truck driven by J. E. McDonald of Waco was being loaded. McDonald suffered arm burns.

Seeking Guardian For Pair Of Heirs

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22. (AP)—Mrs. Mabel C. Reat, who describes herself as a friend of the family, wants the court to appoint a guardian for Richard and Robert Sprague, 34-year-old heirs to a dime store fortune.

In her petition, filed yesterday, Mrs. Reat asserted that the twins have become mentally incompetent and unable to manage inheritances of $30,000 each left them by their late father, Frank Daniel Sprague. He once was an officer of the F. W. Woolworth Co.

ABA Favors Anti-Communist Measure

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Staff

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22. — The American Bar Assn. prepared to close out its 73rd annual meeting today after acting on two strong anti-Communist resolutions recommended by its general assembly.

They would:

1. Put ABA on record as favoring state laws to require that every lawyer sign an affidavit that he is not a member of the Communist Party.
2. Put the association on record as favoring the broad anti-subversives bill which Congress sent to the White House Wednesday night. President Truman is expected to veto it, perhaps today, and congressional leaders anticipated that a veto would be overridden.

The Justice Department, meanwhile, challenged the ABA's retelling of the ABA's figures covering political party affiliation of men named to federal judgeships in recent years.

In a formal statement, the department said Gallagher was "in error" when he reported earlier this week that "since 1932, only eight out of nearly 200 appointments of federal judgeships have not been Democrats."

Actually, the department asserted, 17 Republicans have been given lifetime appointments to the federal bench since March 4, 1933, when President Franklin D. Roosevelt was sworn in for his first term.

Gallagher, a member of the late Wendell L. Wilkie's New York law firm, charged the Democratic administration with a reversion to a spoils system "through appointments of party workhorses to judicial posts. Gallagher said this has kept some of the nation's best legal minds off the bench."

The bar association's resolution favoring the anti-subversives bill calls upon Mr. Truman to approve it. In a report to ABA's house of delegates, Charles S. Rhyme of Washington predicted yesterday, "If Mr. Truman vetoes the in-

Victoria Stingarees To Challenge Big Spring Steers Here Tonight

South Texans Expected To Field A Fast Team

The stage is set for the second chapter of the 1950 high school football season tonight. Invading Steer park to do battle with the resident Steers will be the Patti Welder Stingarees from Victoria. Game time is set for 8 p. m.

Although there is no basis for comparison before the game, both aggregations tasted victory in their initial outings last week, which means that someone's winning string will be nipped in the proverbial bud by the time hostilities cease.

Record Number Of Schools In League Events

AUSTIN, Sept. 22 (AP)—A record number of high schools, 562, will have teams in interscholastic league competition this year. Athletic Director Rhea Williams announced today.

It is 17 above last year and six greater than 1941, until now the record year. About 24,700 Texas schoolboys will be playing football, and the 862 teams is the largest number in any state.

Conference B is the bulkiest, with 369 schools and 9,830 boys on the official roster. It increased 29 teams over last year.

Added to the City Conference roster was Thomas Edison of San Antonio. The only class AA team added to last year's list is Corpus Christi's new W. B. Hay High School. Changes in the AA total resulted from dropping back in Conference A of B. B. in San Antonio, Spring, Cleo, Brownfield, Electric, Robstown and Jacksonville.

Conference A also added Port Lavaca and Edgewood of San Antonio.

There are a total of 729 Conference A schools, and 167 six-man conference teams. Conference AA has 79 teams, six teams less than in 1949.

Valley League Shows Increase

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 22 (AP)—The Rio Grande Valley League drew 335,094 paid attendance this year — an increase of more than 60,000 over 1949. League President Kelley Nemeck announced today.

This year's attendance includes 2,645 for Donna and Rowdawn before those clubs dropped out of the league in early season. Without them the league drew 325,449 while last year six clubs brought in 271,329.

Hartlingen led the league in attendance with 80,061 while Corpus Christi was second with 68,313. Laredo was third with 57,948. Brownsville fourth with 56,446. McAllen fifth with 32,473 and Del Rio last with 30,568.

Brownsville gained almost 5,000 over last year. Laredo more than 10,000 and McAllen almost 10,000.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

(Today's column is conducted by Wacil McNair in the absence of Tommy Hart who is vacationing.)

The Herald board of football strategy swings fearlessly into action this week with positive selections on a group of the top college games and a trio of top notch high school tilts.

Whatever your personal preference on any one of the games listed, there is better than an even chance that someone on the "board" agrees with you. In other words, difference of opinion runs rampant on the "board."

Tommy Hart, originator and long-time sponsor of the board is vacationing, but Wayland Yates, a fellow staff member, fills in capably for the first round of 1950.

To show his brand of fearlessness, Yates likes VMI over William and Mary, while all of his colleagues are pointing the other way. At the same time Bob Whippy is "long wailing" Oregon over UCLA, while Joe Pickle is all alone when he selects Oregon State over Michigan State. The writer found the other three in disagreement when he named Idaho to spill Utah.

We're off in a cloud of dust for another season of football:

YEARLINGS WIN SECOND START OVER LAMESANS

LAMESA, Sept. 22 — The Big Spring Junior High Yearling game covered 35 yards. The Lamesa Junior High eleven a 31-12 drubbing here Thursday afternoon for their second victory of the season.

It was the first conference engagement for the Yearlings, and they displayed the same scoring punch that throttled the Lakeway Junior High team by 52-0 in Big Spring last Saturday night.

On the first play of the game, Frank Long tossed to Dayle May, hard for a touchdown. The play covered 35 yards.

Lamesa came back after the ensuing kickoff to put on a 60-yard sustained drive that produced a score. The Yearlings were back in the lead early in the second quarter, however, when Brick Johnson took a handoff from Long and reced 35 yards for another Big Spring touchdown. The Yearlings were never seriously threatened after that.

The Yearlings took the opening kickoff in the second and drove 65 yards for another touchdown in just four plays. Maynard covered the final 15 yards on a reverse. A few moments later the Yearlings recovered a Lamesa fumble on the Big Spring 40. Billy Martin raced to the Lamesa 10 and Long carried over from that point.

Marynard concluded the Big Spring scoring in the fourth quarter when he went over from the 20 on a reverse.

Lamesa's other touchdown came late in the fourth on a pass interception which was run back for 60 yards and a score.

While the Yearlings were defeating Lamesa, the Big Spring eighth graders were thumping an eighth grade team from Colorado City, 21-7 at Steer park.

Came With Two; Leave With Trio

WACO, Sept. 22 (AP)—Baylor University gets frequent compliments, few compliments on the trailer camps which it maintains for married students.

So clerks in Baylor's business office took special notice when two residents, Stanley and Priscilla Hills, thanked them for "one of the happiest years in our lives."

The reason for their happiness was revealed in the final paragraph of the letter:

"Two of us came to the trailer and three of us are leaving it."

Grid Powers Begin To Stir On Saturday

By GAYLE TALBOT
 AP Staff

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 — Dormant since last New Year's day, the college footballs bestir themselves tomorrow in every part of the land.

Nothing very big. Most of the powers which will appear among the first 10 on the Associated Press poll a month from now still have another week of practice remaining.

The week's most important game from a national viewpoint possibly is that between Southern Methodist and Georgia Tech at Dallas, as a night engagement. The football scholars want to see whether the Mustangs still have it since Donk Walker joined the pros. What makes the answer important is that Kyle Rote and his pals play Ohio State next week.

There are a number of better-than-fair attractions on the day's program, and at least one game down in the deep South could prove the payoff on a sectional tie.

That is the clash between Louisiana State and Kentucky at Lexington under the lights. Both are esteemed contenders for the South-eastern Conference crown.

Texas, touted as the hottest thing in the Southwest Conference, displays its new muscles against Texas Tech at Lubbock. Texas Christian will open its annual pass-throwing crusade against Kansas at Lawrence, and Arkansas plays Oklahoma A&M at Little Rock. George Sauer makes his debut as Baylor's new coach against Wyoming at Laramie.

Other openers around the country include:

Texas A&M at Nevada and West Texas State at Arizona.

Missions Club Tulsa By 10-7

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 22 (AP)—San Antonio's long-hitting Missions boast a two-games-to-one lead in the fight for the Texas League pennant.

The Missions clubbed Tulsa 10-7 last night to go one up on the defending league champions.

The clubs clash here tonight in the fourth game of the final playoff.

San Antonio got its victory via the home-run route Charley Grant, Rocky Ippolito, Danny Balch and Frank Sauter put the ball over the fence in a 11-inning attack with Grant's circuiter coming with the bases full.

Lou Sleater, a pitcher, went in to pinch-hit in the seventh and singled in Grant with what proved to be the winning run. The blow broke a 7-7 tie.

Burke Takes Lead In KC Open Meet

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 22 (AP)—Jack Burke, Jr., was the No. 1 trouble-shooter the favorites had to contend with in second round play of the $15,000 Kansas City Open Golf Tournament today.

Burke, one of Texas' many contributions to pro golf now doing business out of White Plains, N. Y., got a good start on the field yesterday with a 66, six strokes under par for the 6,525 yard Milburn Country Club Course.

Sam Snead was six strokes away at 72 but there were dangerous competitors close at hand.

They were Big Jim Ferrier of San Francisco, Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, Skip Alexander of Knoxville, Tenn., and Leonard Dodson of Kansas City.

Nashville Regains Lead Over Crackers

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 22 (AP)—Aided by five Atlanta errors, southpaw Bob Schultz fast-balled the Nashville Vols to a 7-6 victory over the Crackers in the third game of the Southern Association playoff finals last night.

The victory gave Nashville a 2-1 lead in the best of seven series for the right to meet the winner of the Texas League playoffs in the Dixie Series.

Bulldogs Meet South Taylor

COAHOMA, Sept. 22 — The Coahoma High School Bulldogs will be after their second victory of the young season tonight when they clash with the Tigers from South Taylor High School.

It probably will be the toughest test of the season for the Bulldogs, too. The Tigers have already earned the reputation of being one of the hardest driving teams in Class B circles.

Tonight's tilt will probably be a test of the power of the two teams since both have shown little speed in their attacks thus far in the season.

The Bulldogs rocked the Seagraves Eagles last week, 13-0, while the Tigers were losing to Trent, 15-0. Coach Tom Proctor, new mentor for the Bulldogs, said the Tigers reportedly made an impressive showing in spite of their defeat.

Coach Proctor started the 1950 season off last week with a slight shakeup in the Coahoma lineup. Big Jack Wolf has been moved from fullback to right end where he will start the game tonight.

By GAYLE TALBOT
 AP Staff

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 — Dormant since last New Year's day, the college footballs bestir themselves tomorrow in every part of the land.

Nothing very big. Most of the powers which will appear among the first 10 on the Associated Press poll a month from now still have another week of practice remaining.

The week's most important game from a national viewpoint possibly is that between Southern Methodist and Georgia Tech at Dallas, as a night engagement. The football scholars want to see whether the Mustangs still have it since Donk Walker joined the pros. What makes the answer important is that Kyle Rote and his pals play Ohio State next week.

There are a number of better-than-fair attractions on the day's program, and at least one game down in the deep South could prove the payoff on a sectional tie.

That is the clash between Louisiana State and Kentucky at Lexington under the lights. Both are esteemed contenders for the South-eastern Conference crown.

Texas, touted as the hottest thing in the Southwest Conference, displays its new muscles against Texas Tech at Lubbock. Texas Christian will open its annual pass-throwing crusade against Kansas at Lawrence, and Arkansas plays Oklahoma A&M at Little Rock. George Sauer makes his debut as Baylor's new coach against Wyoming at Laramie.

Other openers around the country include:

Texas A&M at Nevada and West Texas State at Arizona.

Broncs Slam Odessa Oilers Again To Assume 3-1 Lead

Guerra Receives Credit For 4th Win In Playoffs

The Big Spring Broncs took advantage of every scoring opportunity provided by the Odessa Oilers Thursday night to take a 14-5 decision and move to a 3-1 lead in the final round of the Longhorn league playoff.

The resident nine collected 11 hits, including a triple by Felix Gomez which found the sacks full in the third. The locals always seemed to get their bingles with runners on the base paths.

Texas A&M isn't meeting a very strong team in Nevada. If the Aggies don't win this one they can figure on winding up around the cellar once more in the Southwest Conference.

AREA OIL NEWS

E. Vealmoor Outpost Tests, North Howard Tops Strawn

Amerada No. 2 Morgan Costes, a northeast edge for the East Vealmoor area, continued testing Friday as two new locations were announced for the south extension to the field.
Amcan & Southland announced that it would drill its No. 2-B Branon, but the location was not given. The test will be somewhere in the south half of section 18-27, H&TC. Amcan No. 2-A Branon will be 467 from the west and 806 from the south lines of the northwest quarter of section 19-27, H&TC. This puts it a half a mile south of the discovery extender, Brown No. 1 Branon. It will be a diagonal southeast offset to Skelly No. 1 Francis Gunn, completed recently for a producer.

Amerada No. 2 Morgan Costes, C NE SW 14-27, H&TC, has a mile northeast of the East Vealmoor discovery, made 33.2 barrels of oil. 30.3 barrels of gas through a 104-ft choke in 24 hours. Tubing pressure was 225 casing pressure 700. It continues to flow.
Burdell No. 1 Hodnett, north Howard wildcat four miles southwest of the Reinerke pool, topped the Strawn reef at 7453 feet. Drilled to 7468 and reported slight oil stain and some porosity. It is now taking a drillstem test to bottom of the hole. So far, other tests in the area have been tapping the Canyon reef, a higher zone.

In the Vealmoor pool, Seaboard announced location for its No. 3 E. L. Clanton, to be 660 from the south and 1,975.4 from the east lines of section 33-32-3n, T&P. This would make it the southernmost well in the pool.
In central Dawson county, Manning & Bay No. 1 Huddle, 1,980 from the north and west lines of section 11-36-5n, T&P, shot with 310 quarts from 7,856-7,985, and was cleaning out. This wildcat was plugged back to 8,025 feet to test shows in the Spraberry.

Seaboard No. 1 Jones, in southeastern Dawson, topped the Spraberry and was running a drillstem test from 7,070-7,170 feet. The tool was open for four hours. Recovery was 70 feet of slightly gas-cut mud with no shows of oil or water. Coring was in progress. Location is C NE NE 26-35-5n, T&P.
Norwood No. 1 Vogler, another southern Dawson prospector, still fished at 6,466.
Standard No. 1 Smith, C NW NE 24-C1, PSL, northeastern Dawson, drilled to 5,600 in lime.

A Schlumberger survey was being run in the Stanolind No. 1 Burton, Howard wildcat 14 miles northwest of Big Spring, and C NE SE 27-33-2n, T&P, to check formation. Operators prepared to cement the hole 400 feet up from the bottom because of lost circulation.
Brinkerhoff No. 1 Jones, in the Krotti community and C NE NE 18-34-2n, T&P, drilled to 3,361 in lime.

Harrell No. 1 Cook, four miles west of Garden City, progressed to 3,075 feet in lime and shale. It is C NE NE 5-34-4s, T&P.
In southwestern Martin, Gulf No. 1-E Glass swabbed 17 1-2 barrels of water in 20 hours. Fluid level was at 9,500 feet. Tubing plugged at 7,100. There was a very slight odor of gas. Tubing was being pulled to clean.

test from 6,110-6,142. Tool was open for two hours with a 5-8-in. choke. Recovery was 210 feet of gas with 1,000 feet of slightly oil and gas cut muddy salt water.
Magnolia No. 1 Murphy C NW NW 60-25, H&TC, drilled to 6,732 in shale.
Amerada No. 1 Murphy, C SE SE 81-25, H&TC, was bottomed at 6,785. It plugged back to 6,483 and set 5 1-2-inch string at 5,191. This venture, a north offset to the Rutherford No. 1 Davis, midway between the Von Roeder and Reinerke pools, has had some shows.
Amerada No. 1B Canning, C NW SE 142-24, H&TC, was running in lime with hole bottomed at 5,991.
Amerada No. 1 McDowell, C NE NW 107-25, H&TC, drilled to 6,750 in lime.
Shell No. 1 Sterling, C NW NW 70-25, H&TC, drilled to 3,007 in lime.
Seaboard No. 1 Cannon, C NE NE 47033-3n, T&P, drilled to 4,775 feet in lime.

Standard No. 2 Heckler, C SW SW 15-27, H&TC, was at 4,001 in lime.

FOR NEW STORE

Deed Transfer Clears The Way
Deed has been filed for transfer of half a block on S. Scurry street to Safeway stores as site for a new store location in Big Spring. This presumably clears the way for erection of a super-market type of structure with around 15,000 square feet of floor space, reserving some 80 parking spaces for customers.
The transfer had been delayed previously pending action by the city zoning board and the city commission on changing the east half of the half block area, the L. S. McDowell estate homestead, to a F (business) district classification.

While definite plans for the store here have not been announced, most of the new stores are built of cream brick, carrying a modern touch with a brick sign tower which extends about 30 feet along side of the building and which is about twice the height of the building.
Interior of the building is to be designed for six to 12 checkstands. There is to be a two entrance arrangement in front to eliminate congestion at this point. Aisles will be widened and the lobby area increased. Reach-in type refrigeration counters, self-serving meats, a special cutting and wrapping room for meat, fluorescent lighting, etc. are among other features due to be employed. Cost of the project has not been announced. The property was conveyed as lots 5, 4, 6, 7, 8, and 9 of block 65, Original. This bounds it on Scurry, W. 8th and Gregg.

Magnolia Paying Higher Oil Prices Over West Texas
DALLAS, Sept. 22 (AP) — Magnolia Petroleum Co. is paying a higher price for oil in six Scurry County oil fields whose daily allowances recently were cut 61,000 barrels by the Railroad Commission.
The new price, effective last Thursday, is $.65 a barrel. That's a raise of seven cents a barrel.
Fields included are Diamond M, early Strawn lime, Kelly-Snyder, Sharon Ridge Canyon, North Snyder, Strawn Zones B and C, and Schatte.
Magnolia also has made an initial posting of $2.65 a barrel for oil it buys in the Pegasus Field, Upper and Midland Counties, and the Parks Ellenburger Field, Midland County.
Geddis Noble, Magnolia's crude oil and sales manager, said the company just decided it was time to adjust the posting for the Scurry County fields and to make an initial posting for the others.

Increased postings by Magnolia and Onyx Refining at fields in the Scurry, Borden and North Howard areas and Pegasus, Roy Parks and Sweetie Pie Peck fields of Midland County, in effect, it simply puts Scurry high gravity crude on the same price level with the North Texas and Oklahoma areas for identical quality.
Onyx had imposed a seven cent differential in the spring when other fields failed to meet its $2.65 posting. This differential stimulated demand for Scurry crude, particularly because it could be routed easily to Mid-West markets, where, as most of the North Texas and Oklahoma volume was routed to Gulf tidewater.
Posting of the price for Midland county deep crude did not necessarily represent an increase. It was simply an initial common carrier posting for the new developments.
Pan-American and Texas handle bulk of the purchases on high gravity oil in north Howard and southern Borden counties, Texas, takes the output from the Good and Vealmoor pools. Pan-American (together with Cities Service) draws the production of East Vealmoor and Reinerke areas. Pan - American joined Magnolia in the increase.

More Rain Hits Glasscock Co. Claims Win To Prevent Ban On Slot Machines

GARDEN CITY, Sept. 22 — September's uncanny string of showers brought more moisture to central Glasscock area today.
This time practically all the rain was concentrated in an area right around Garden City, but it was so intense that only the north extension (Big Spring-Garden City) highway was open for a time Thursday afternoon.

As runoff from three-inch deluge in about half an hour coursed down the draw north of Garden City and picked up more from downpours to the east, the Sterling City road was inundated. The draw west of town went under water, as did the road to the Shell station, and then the Big Lake road.
The Keithly ranch 2 1/2 miles north showed three inches of moisture. Garden City measured 1.40, and most of it fell in about 20 minutes time. Mrs. Kelly Lemmons, five miles east, said that rain amounted to 9 of an inch there and dwindled rapidly further east. The rain moved about a mile south of Garden City, got as far as six miles north, and about three miles west. The western part of the county got only a sprinkle. There are still some sectors in southern tember rain, despite the near record proportions in others.

Armed Robbers Get $70 From Local Service Station
Two armed robbers stuck up the Hill & Plumlee Service station at 702 W. 3rd street about 2:45 a. m. today, forcing Lee Hunt, night attendant, to hand over approximately $70 from the cash register.
Hunt met the pair in the driveway as they drove up, the men got out of the car, a 1946-48 Ford sedan, stuck a gun in Hunt's stomach and ordered him to open the cash register.
Forcing the night attendant into the rest room, the gunman then ordered him to remain there. The pair then made their getaway with a total of $70.80 in cash.
City police broadcast a statewide alarm for the holdup men shortly after the robbery. The pair were believed to have headed west from Big Spring.

FRB Still Has Ammunition To Hit At Inflation Spiral

By CHARLES MOLONY
Associated Press Staff
WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 — The federal reserve board's first shots at the inflation specter appeared today to be bouncing back. But the credit-control agency has a lot more ammunition left, and a will to use it.
When the board on Sept. 8 announced some fairly light curbs on installment sales terms as an early step, it provided a 10-day advance notice before putting the restrictions into effect last Monday.
Today it was studying first results of the advance notice: A big jump in department store sales—which usually give the first clue on the general retail sales picture—during the warning period.
Department store reports to the board yesterday from over the nation showed that last week's sales jumped 25 per cent over the previous week, which was nearly ended before the credit terms were announced.
Officials conceded that was strong evidence that consumers had hurried to make installment purchases of television sets, furniture and all the household appliances that department stores han-die before the credit restrictions took hold.

Some suggested, however, that the increase in purchases supports the board's idea that a "modest" tightening up will be sufficient to put an effective damper on installment sales, particularly since higher income tax withholdings next month will cut down buying power.
These officials reasoned that people would not have rushed out to beat the controls deadline if they considered it as easy to buy under the control terms as it had been before them.
Against this, reports from many cities say plenty of retail sellers insist the curbs haven't done much to their business yet and, unless tightened, aren't likely to do so.
It will be another month before overall retail sales figures, in which department stores sales are only one item, are available to show more clearly how the inflation fight is going on the consumer front.
Meanwhile, the board has another immediate problem—expanding bank credit to business, something the board has recently sought to restrain by attempting to push up interest rates on short-term loans, thereby discouraging borrowing.
The board's first attempts on that front, launched a month ago, got it into a scrap with the Treasury Department. The treasury opposes higher rates because they boost the interest cost on the $257 billion federal debt.
Still worse, the board's latest word from banks in leading cities across the nation shows business loans took the biggest one-week hop in history during the period ended Sept. 13.
That $398 million jump shoved the total of business loans to within $302 million of the historic high point of $1,632,000,000 attained Dec. 22, 1948.

Department Store Sales In Big Spurt
DALLAS, Sept. 22 (AP)—Department store sales in Texas' major cities took a sharp spurt in the week ending Sept. 16 as compared with a comparable week a year ago, the federal reserve bank of Dallas reported today.
The week was the one preceding the imposing of credit controls on many items. However, 1950 sales have consistently been ahead of last year's.
Houston showed a lusty 46 per cent increase in sales as compared with a year ago, San Antonio 42 per cent, Dallas 21 and Fort Worth 19.
The bank's sales index for the week reached 358.2. The base index of 100 is for the 1935-1939 period.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK

What Does Average Girl Want Boy Friend Or A Nest Egg?

By J. A. LIVINGSTON
The best investment I ever made was to say to my wife, "Okay." It was in 1929. She'd heard her father extol the virtues of the National City Bank of New York.

for tax purposes. Admittedly, because women marry younger and live longer than their husbands, they ultimately are inheritors of estates. But still they are owners more in name than in fact. They usually depend on trust companies, attorneys, or sons or sons-in-law to determine which stocks or bonds to buy or sell.

But most women fortunately for Scott and the John C. Winston & Co., have never had the soul-shaking experience of falling in love with National City Bank at the height of the 1929 bull market.
