

Straight Talk

BY TOM ANDERSON
The Supreme Court of the U. S. Washington, D. C.
Dear Lifers:

Just because President Roosevelt vilified the Supreme Court is no excuse for the common man to. After all, by rewriting the Constitution to suit modern life you are saving the people all the time, trouble and expense of having to amend the Constitution.

The reactionaries who have to be pulled into the 20th century dragging their feet and clutching the Constitution to their breasts naturally can't understand you fellows. They're used to having judges on the Court. They don't realize that human values are what count today — not law — and that you justices were appointed because of your social, economic and political backgrounds and ambitions. How could you make America over, if you were tied down to the rulings of past Courts, the laws of Congress or that ancient Constitution?

You threw out the convictions of 14 California Communists. You ruled against firing a government worker suspected of being a security risk. You turned loose a dope peddler because the government agent who sold the stuff to him had to remain anonymous so he could trap other citizens. Like good sports you decreed that FBI files must be opened to criminal or Communist when the contents of those files are being used to prosecute him. You ruled that past membership in the Communist party is not a bar to the practice of law. You released three men who harbored a convicted and fugitive Communist leader because the FBI agents raided the house without a warrant. You field the Justice Department can't bar Communist activity by an alien who is under a deportation order. You destroyed the right of states to try Communists on sedition laws, saying all sedition cases must be tried by the Federal Government only. Betcha you can turn Communists loose faster'n J. Edgar Hoover can lock 'em up.

Since 1932 the Court has departed from decisions previously rendered on 35 occasions, whereas there had been only 29 such reversals in the entire history of the court before 1932. So the recent law of the land is sorta like a movie actress' hair — whatever suits the mood and the occasion. The Constitution is your hula hoop to be played with according to your fancy.

Can't you make the States Righters realize that schools and things must be federalized if we are to compete with Russian schools and things? Like the Kremlin, you must make all state under your domination conform to whatever national educational and social standards in your great wisdom you deem best for the world and us. Back when states and communities were free to run the schools any way they wanted to, they had little one-room school-houses where the only thing red was the schoolhouse itself and where about all they had worth having was freedom — and, of course, that's out of date now.

Let's not make the same mistake on integration and civil rights that we made on Prohibition. Just because the people didn't want Prohibition and it couldn't be enforced, Congress repealed it. But everybody knows people just can't drink equally, although many do so bravely. Separate but equal you've ruled is not equality! And all men are created equal as anybody who'll just look around him can plainly see. We must force togetherness in churches, parks, theatres, swimming pools, subdivisions, dancing classes, farm organizations, editorial staffs, boards of directors, garden clubs, fraternities, society pages, living rooms and boudoirs. Twenty-four states have laws against intermarriage of whites and Negroes. Why don't you make that against the law of the land?

This head-on battle for power between the federal and state governments goes back to Noah. He had to bring into the ark "of every living thing of all flesh, two of every sort." If he had just forced integration on the boat, we wouldn't have all this trouble now. Just think of the possibilities: A woodpecker housed with a carrier pigeon might have produced a pigeonpecker that not only would deliver a message across a continent but would knock on the door when it got there.

The racists should take a more tolerant view of racial amalgamation (they call it mongrelization). When we're like Brazil, Cuba and Puerto Rico everybody will be the same

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Read 1 Corinthians 13:8-13
When the perfect comes, the imperfect will pass away (1 Corinthians 13:10. RSV.)

A saint loves everyone, but a witch hates everyone and loves only herself. This is the distinction made in John Van Druten's play about witchcraft entitled Bell, Book and Candle.

Gillian, the attractive young witch, works her magic. Her secret potions, however, begin to lose their control over Shep, the hero. Then she learns the truth of an old saying: "A witch loses her powers if she should ever fall in love." When the genuine color. For amusement, we can have white-face musicals and books like "Old Beige Joe" and "Grey Beauty." There won't be anymore Sammy Davis, Juniors on TV, 'cause there won't be anymore Sammy Davis Juniors. Ain't that fabulous?

Isn't it unfair that citizens in some areas of the nation do not have an equal opportunity to really mix with their colored brothers? Would you please pass a law requiring those little exclusive commuter towns around the big eastern cities to benefit by living with, going to school with, working with and socializing with their share of Negroes? I am sure you'll agree that it's un-modern-American to let the Negroes be discriminated against by being forced on poor whites only. The Burning Tree and Augusta National golf clubs, the DAR and the Junior League, Princeton and Groton must be Little Rocked.

Aren't you worried about the clear and present danger that the Southern die-hards might really make a go of private segregated schools? Suppose Arkansas decided to refund to each student his or her per capita share of school tax money to be used to go to the school of his choice — couldn't you make a law of the land against that? Some pupils would choose an integrated school, some a white, some a Catholic, some a colored — what a horrible un-modern-American mess, freedom of choice!

Some people who recognize that the Supreme Court — not the Constitution — is the law of the land, say that integration is inevitable, we might as well accept it. Reactionaries say a people integrated against their will is a people unintegrated still. Abraham Lincoln said "To sin by silence when they should protest, makes cowards of men." But Abe lived a long time ago, before the Supreme Court Chamber became a mixing mortar — which is a bowl in which the ingredients are broken, crushed, and ground together — with all deliberate speed.

Miss Sharon Hoke Becomes Bride of Hal Ragsdale November 26th

MRS. HAL RAGSDALE

In the First Presbyterian Church, at 5:00 p. m., Wednesday, Nov. 26, Miss Sharon Hoke, daughter of Mrs. W. F. Hoke and the late Mr. Hoke, Santa Anna, exchanged vows with Hal Ragsdale, son of Mrs. A. C. Ragsdale and the late Mr. Ragsdale, of San Angelo.

The Reverend Ben H. Moore, pastor, read the double ring ceremony before an altar flanked on either side with white mums and candelabra. Candles were lighted by Barrett Markland and Pamela Garrett. They wore dresses of taffeta with matching headress that were identical in design and color to the bride's attendants. Ushers were Bob Markland and Charles Walker.

Traditional wedding marches were played by Mrs. Virgil Pridy, who accompanied Mrs. Billy Joe Robinett as she sang, "For You Alone", "Entreat Me Not To Leave Thee", and the "Wedding Prayer".

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Wanda Cook of Abilene. The bridesmaids were her cousins, Mrs. Bob Henderson and Mrs. David Karthaus.

David Karthaus served as best man, groomsmen were Bob Henderson and Doyno McIver.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, T. J. McCaughan, wore a lovely gown of white taffeta designed with jeweled Alencon lace adorning the scooped neckline and long sleeves tapered to points over the wrists. The voluminous harem skirt was caught to a wide band which extended into a small sweep train. Her veil of French illusion was caught to a pointed pill box trimmed with tulle, pearls and iridescent sequins. She carried a white Bible topped with gardenias. The Bible was a gift at her birth. Her only jewelry was pearl ear-screws, a gift of the bridegroom. The traditional something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue was carried out.

Elizabeth Henderson, flower girl and cousin of the bride, wore an identical dress to the maid of honor. It was fashioned of aqua taffeta and had a matching headress.

The bride's attendants wore aqua and turquoise taffeta dresses, respectively, that were fashioned along princess lines with full bubble skirts. Their headresses were of matching taffeta, and they carried white button chrysanthemums that

Income TAX FAX

Questions and Answers About Your Individual Income Tax Report for 1958, as Presented By The Texas Press Association.

Medical expenses present great opportunities for switching expense from one year to another.

Medical expenses are deductible to the extent they exceed 3% of your adjusted gross income. But you are allowed not more than $2,500 per personal exemption and not more than $5,000 on a separate return, or more than $10,000 on a joint or head of household return.

Exemptions for old age and blindness do not count. If you or your spouse are over 65 years old the 3% provision does not apply to you.

Now suppose that you have large unpaid medical expenses this year and will have even more in 1959. Do not pay any of these this year. Wait until 1959 and pay them all in that year. This way you will have the advantage of the full deduction instead of losing 3% of your income this year as well as 3% of your income for 1959.

This works the other way too. Suppose you have paid medical expense of over 3% of your adjusted gross income and will have a deduction and you still owe medical bills which you plan to pay in 1959. If you pay those bills before the end of the year they will be a deduction this year. You won't have to use them to make up 3% of your adjusted gross income for 1959 before you can start deducting again. If you do not have funds readily available it might be wise to borrow the money.

Let's see how that would work. Suppose you borrow $1,000 from a bank and repay in twelve monthly installments. Your cost for such a loan would be about $70. Now suppose you take this $1,000 and pay deductible bills with it. If you are paying taxes at the lowest rate, you will save $200. Your net profit on the transaction will be about $130.

Cities To See

Helena—Queen of the Mountains

The Last Chance—Helena, Mont.

The city of Helena, with a population of 25,468, is Montana's fifth largest city and the state capital. It traces its history back to 1864 when a group of gold prospectors set up a base of operations at what they called "Last Chance Gulch."

By early fall, 1864, the gulch contained more than 100 cabins and it was decided that "Last Chance" was not a suitable name for the rapidly growing camp and the name was accordingly changed to Helena.

The city is an attraction to the traveler, not only because it is the state capital, but as well because it has a background of adventure and romance that dates back to the gold rush days. Here the bold outlaw and suave gambler flourished, and the Vigilantes, a secret powerful organization, brought law and order out of chaos by ride, swift justice on the Hangman's Tree.

The Last Chance, one of the most unique trips in the world, rides five times a day up and down Last Chance Gulch, the main street of Helena. Seated in gold carriages pulled by a replica of an engine, tourists inspect Helena's Moorish architecture Civic Center, the narrow, winding street which is the Gulch, the site of the gold discovery of 1864, an old buffalo trail, the State Capitol and the Veterans' and Pioneers Memorial Building which houses one of the finest historical museums in the West including the famous half-million dollar collection of Charles Russell paintings.

Fifteen miles north of Helena is the Gates of the Mountains, so named by Lewis and Clark in 1805. When the explorers rowed up the mighty Missouri through the towering canyon, the mountains coming to the water's edge presented an optical illusion of mountains gates opening before and closing after they had passed.

The city that started as Last Chance Gulch is today a beautiful city. The glamour of pioneer days still hangs over the city. Helena with its stable economy is the center of the state's financial, political, civic and social activities and justifies her name, bestowed a century ago, "Queen of the Mountains."

Waco Region Vets Set Record In Paying Home Debts

Veterans in the Waco region with GI home loans have set and continue to set a remarkable record of paying off home mortgage debts, Dr. George McMahan, Manager of the Veterans Administration Center, said today.

Dr. McMahan disclosed that out of a total of 107,000 World War II and Korean Conflict veterans in the Waco region, GI home loans had been made by 22,999 since the program was launched in December, 1944.

Of the total number of home mortgage loans guaranteed, 4,108 have been paid in full by the veteran borrowers, he said.

He added that the VA paid claims on only 83 out of all these loans guaranteed in the Waco region.

These figures are based on a study by VA, including all loans made through August, 1958.

About Your HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. HOLLE, M. D., Commissioner of Health

About this time last year, Texas and most of the United States was swamped with the so-called Asiatic flu.

In fact the inroads of the Asian strain of influenza were so widespread that its effects were felt all over the world with varying intensity.

There is no doubt that influenza was a contributing factor in the light rise of death rates during the winter months. Influenza may weaken an individual's resistance so that he is subject to more serious illness such as pneumonia which may result in death.

The two most studied outbreaks were the highly fatal epidemics of 1889 and 1918 when hundreds of thousands were killed as a result of the disease. Since then attention has been directed to the epidemic of mild disease that have yearly occurrences with varying intensity.

Fortunately, although there was a large number of cases, the severity of the Asian influenza was not great. The epidemic as measured by excess influenza pneumonia mortality was only slightly more severe than the influenza "A prime" epidemic of 1953.

Although there are no indications at the present time of another epidemic of the Asian strain of influenza, there undoubtedly will be some influenza.

For this reason the U. S. Public Health Service and the Texas State Department of Health recommend consideration of vaccination against influenza for certain groups and individuals.

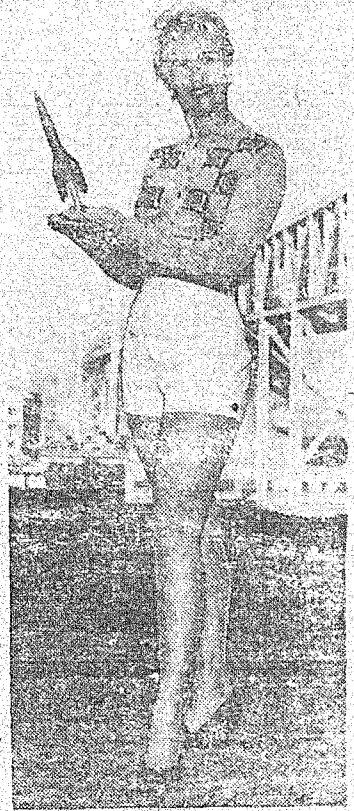

Influenza vaccine is indicated for groups wishing to guard against absenteeism in their professions or occupations, and among those to whom the disease might be an added health risk.

There are now ample supplies of influenza vaccine of the polyvalent type, containing immunizing material against the important strains of influenza, including the Asian strains.

Groups which should be considered for vaccination include hospital staffs whose services are necessary to the care of the sick; groups subject to exposure and quick spread such as in institutions; and individual patients who have a special risk because of chronic illness, pregnancy and age.

Practicing physicians should be the judge of whether or not to vaccinate individuals. (A weekly feature of the Public Health Education Division of the Texas State Department of Health.)
