Rockwood Woman Fatally Burned in Kerosene Explosion

Funeral services were conducted at Rockwood Tuesday afternoon for Mrs. E. F. Rutherford, 39, who died in the Sealy Hospital Monday night the result of burns received in an explosion Monday afternoon.

The explosion occurred about one o'clock when she started to pour kerosene into a wood cook stove preparatory to canning beans at the old Rehm ranch house, four miles southeast of Rockwood, the home of her daughter, Mrs. Tony Rehm. Chick Rehm, brother of Tony, was painfully burned on the face and hands in his efforts to extinguish the blaze. Kitchen furnishings were badly damaged but the sheetrock walls and ceilings protected the rest of the house.

Jennie Bowden was born in Tricham and lived there until she was married to Elbert Rutherford in 1916 and moved to Rockwood.

She joined the Baptist Church at Rockwood when she moved there. Her husband and five children, Mrs. Rehm, and Jack, Jim, Fannie, Maye and John Henry all of Rockwood, and eleven brothers and sisters survive.

Interment was made in the Rockwood cemetery beside the grave of an infant son who died three years ago.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Hal C. Wingo, pastor of the First Baptist Church here. One of the largest crowds ever assembled at Rockwood attended the funeral.

SAYS BIG BEND PARK BILL SIGNED BY FDR

WASHINGTON, June 22, (AP)—Representative Thomason (D, Texas) said today President Roosevelt had signed a bill creating the Big Bend national park in south west Texas.

The bill would authorize Secretary Ickes to acquire by donation several hundred thousands acres of land in Brewster and Presidio counties on the Rio Grande. Both President Roosevelt and Ickes have expressed hope Mexico would create a similar territory on the south side of the river and an agreement could be evolved to create an international park.

The bill was introduced in the senate by Senators Connally and Sheppard (D, Texas) and in the house by Thomason.

Mrs. McElroy left last week for Spokane, Washington where she plans to visit relatives this summer. She has been visiting for several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Sumner Turner.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Forehand spent Sunday on the Paul Pfluger ranch.

Local Lions Host to Group Meeting

The Santa Anna Lions Club was host to group 22, District No. 2A, Lions International, here Tuesday evening.

Representatives were here from Brownwood, Goldthwaite, Richland Springs, Coleman, San Angelo and Sonora. San Angelo and Sonora are not included in this district, but were represented by special invitation and arrangement. The Lions Cowboy Band, one of the best bunch of entertainers in the state, furnished music and entertainment for the occasion, which was greatly enjoyed.

District Governor-elect, H. V. Stokes of Sonora, was the principal speaker of the evening.

Group Chairman A. H. Smith of Goldthwaite presided over the business session.

The next quarterly convention will be held in Brownwood in October.

Lion President J. T. Garrett presided over the meeting, and Dr. T. R. Sealy delivered the welcome address.

About 150 Lions and visitors enjoyed the meeting and program of entertainment, and not a dull moment was recorded.

Wives of the local Lions furnished the eats and decorations, and a select bunch of Santa Anna young ladies served.

The meeting was held in the W. O. W. Hall.

Trades Day and Rodeo Tuesday

The Santa Anna Trades Day Association is planning for a good day next Tuesday, July 2nd, it being our regular monthly trades day event.

A rodeo will be the main feature of entertainment, with programs at 10 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. with the regular events of the day at 4 p. m.

Santa Anna merchants are offering special bargains throughout the day, as an inducement to bring people to town for the Trades Day events.

EARLY EDITION NEXT WEEK

July 4th comes this year on our regular press day, Thursday of next week. This staff and force will exert our best efforts to publish and mail the paper on Wednesday night. We will certainly appreciate getting advertising copy in early to enable us to get the paper out in time to celebrate July 4th with the others.

To date, insofar as we know, no petition has been circulated asking the merchants to close on July 4th, but it is their regular custom, and this will serve notice to the public that the business houses in Santa Anna will be closed all day, Thursday, July 4th.

Our rural correspondents are urged to get their news letters in on Monday, or as early as possible.

This will be an open air meeting for everybody. We are interested in gaining a great victory over sin and Satan, and urge the praying people to help us by beginning now to pray for the success of the meeting. Hal C. Wingo, Pastor.

SOLDIER WHO CARRIED LEE'S NOSE OF SURRENDER DIES

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 25 (AP)—Death today had ended the career of the soldier, who, at 19, rode broken-hearted to the headquarters of Gen. U. S. Grant to deliver Gen. Robert E. Lee's message of surrender.

William Joseph Rainey, 89, one of the remaining six known Confederate veterans in Memphis and Shelby County, died at his home yesterday.

Rainey, in later years, often recalled handing the eventful message of 1865 to General Grant's daughter, who, in turn, gave it to her father.

A native of Lewisburg, Tenn., he entered Lee's army in Virginia. After the war he farmed near Chattanooga, Tenn., before going to Lebanon, and later to Dyersburg. He moved to Memphis four years ago.

COURT REFUSES TO RULE ON FARM ACT

KANSAS CITY, June 24 (AP)—Refusing to rule on the constitutionality of the AAA program, the United States district court late today dismissed a petition of the Larrabee Mills company, asking an injunction against collection of the processing tax on wheat.

The ruling was made by Judge Albert L. Reeves.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Holt and children of Eldorado spent the weekend in the home of Mrs. Holt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Pearce. Mr. and Mrs. Holt plan to move to Sanderson this weekend. Mr. Holt will be employed in the public schools there for the coming term.

Farley Plans to Keep Mails On Paying Basis

WASHINGTON, June 23 (UP)—Postmaster General James A. Farley, who intends to keep the mails on a paying basis no matter what happens to his postmen's nerves, has ordered them to accept alligators for mailing.

The P. M. G., in fact, looked down a long list of livestock and decided that here indeed was a way to boost postal revenues.

He excluded from the mails those animals which were likely to become offensive in transit. These would include wildcats, probably, and other species likely to claw a hard-working mailman. Better not try to mail any skunks or porcupines, either.

Farley also excluded those animals which have to be fed in transit. There's nothing like hunger to make an animal mean. What he said he wanted to transport were nice, docile animals, which don't need to eat, like salamanders, horned toads, frogs, lizards, chameleons, and, of course, alligators.

He figures that maybe a ten-foot gator might prove too much for his mail carriers, no matter how many stamps were pasted on its hide. The Post Office Department, therefore, will concentrate on little alligators, less than twenty inches long, which are not so liable to bite.

Beginning at once the mails also will carry goldfish, baby turtles, soft crabs, shellfish, planaria, snails and such.

Farley is taking no chances with snakes. He'll carry 'em all right, if they're dead and dried, but live ones—nothing doing. liberalization of previous live-

His new order, No. 7329, is a stock regulations, which concerned principally honey bees and baby chicks. The department's been doing a good business in the bee and chicken line these many months. The big idea is to make safe that $12,000,000 profit Farley reported a while back.

Hall-Kirkpatrick

Miss Helen Hall, Mr. J. Everett Kirkpatrick Wed in Simple Ceremony

In a dignified setting made lovelier by its simplicity Miss Helen Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hall of Santa Anna, became the bride of Mr. J. Everett Kirkpatrick, also of Santa Anna, son of the late J. J. Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Emma Kirkpatrick, Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the First Methodist Church.

Reverend Homer Vanderpool performed the ceremony before an altar of fern, flanked by Shasta Daisies, and lighted by candelabra. Prerequisite music was played by Mrs. E. D. McDonald, pianist, Miss Besse Evans, violinist; and Mrs. Altus Bowden sang "At Dawning." As the bride and bride-groom entered unattended, the pianist played the "Lohengrin" wedding march, and continued playing while the ceremony was being read.

The bride wore a brown tulle suit with contrast of honey beige mousseline de sole, brown hat and other brown accessories. She carried an arm bouquet of tulleman roses.

After the ceremony the couple left for a short motor trip, after which they will be at home in Santa Anna.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Claud Boone, Mr. and Mrs. Glover McMillon of Raymondville, Mrs. P. B. Snook of Gladewater, Mrs. S. D. Harper, Jr. of Eldorado, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Caylor of Waldrip, and Mrs. P. M. Rice of Hamilton. —Contributed.

OLD CLOTHING NEEDED

If you have clothes you have discarded you will please bring them by the relief office. We will distribute them to the needy, who are constantly calling for clothing. ## Ex-Texas Rangers Meet Here in July

Major George B. Black of Comanche will issue a call this week to all members of the Ex-Texas Rangers organization to assemble in Santa Anna Monday, July 29th, for a three days convention.

The Ex-Texas Rangers organization held their annual convention here in 1932, and have, since that date, adopted Santa Anna as their permanent meeting place.

Efforts will be made to bring out a full attendance; and Santa Anna will have another opportunity to entertain those old heroes of pioneer days.

It is interesting beyond expression to hear those old Indian fighters tell of their thrilling experiences while fighting the Indians and other marauders in an effort to make it possible for civilization to advance and white settlers could live in peace.

Let us begin now to prepare to entertain those patriotic old heroes.

FIX STATE SCHOOL AID PER CAPITA AT $17.50

AUSTIN, June 24, (AP)—The board of education today set a per capita apportionment of $17.50, the statutory maximum, of state school aid for approximately 1,600,000 scholastics during 1935-36.

Augmented by income from special levies, the school fund overcame the usual four to eight months deficit, the board said, predicting a cash balance of $2,500,000 on August 31, the fiscal year end.

Only once before, in 1929, was the apportionment $17.50. It was $16.50 for the current school year, and $16 the year prior. Except for the statutory limit, the board said the apportionment could have been $19 or $20.

Prospects that the apportionment would not consume all of available school funds heightened likelihood of a reduction of the present 35 cents per $100 valuation ad valorem levy for school support. It was estimated a rate of 32 cents could be set by the automatic tax board in July would yield a balance in 1935-37.

It was calculated the $17.50 apportionment would grant $28,000,000 state funds to schools. In addition, the state provided $5,000,000 for rural aid and school benefit equalization, the largest in its history.

School officials who conferred with the board urged an early determination of the apportionment so those planning to use relief labor for improving plants could release local funds.

The board also conferred with members of the senate investigating committee, who also attended the board's bond committee session. Investments of the state's $45,000,000 permanent school fund and the need of surveys to locate vacancies of land belonging to the fund were discussed.

Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston, in charge of that phase of the investigation, said the inquiry would be directed to principles rather than the board's administration of laws. The board promised cooperation.

Need for an impartial survey, probably under the supervision of the land commissioner, of school lands, and of an outside board to oversee future issues by school districts whose bonds the state had bought was generally recognized.

Others injured were Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Bentley, Theres Bentley, 11, and Wayne Bentley, 8. J. F. Ratliff, Albany, Texas, driver of the truck, was not injured.

The Bentleys and Smith, Mrs. Bentley's father, were on their way from Santa Anna to Enid, Oklahoma at the time of the accident.

NATIONS SPENDING MORE ON BUILDING OF ARMED FORCES

GENEVA, June 24.—Nations of the world spent half a billion dollars more for national defense in 1934 than they did in 1933, the armaments year book of the League of Nations disclosed today.

Outstanding in the publication was the fact that Soviet Russia has an army of nearly a million strong, far larger than those of other powers.

At the end of 1934 the strength of the red army was 940,000 men, but this figure does not include reserve and non-territorial forces. In 1933 the soviet had 504,000 men and 30,300 officers in uniform.

The United States army, the book said, on June 30, 1934, comprised 137,679 men. National guard and reserve forces brought the number up to 439,240.

American naval effectives, including the marine corps, totaled 109,255.

Japan's army was estimated at 299,824 men and 19,399 officers. Navy effectives of the empire were 139,688.

The army of France last year was given as 360,498 in home territory with a total, including overseas forces, of 550,678.

The year book gives Germany's old armament figures, placing the army at 102,000 as of January 1, 1934, and says nothing about the new army and navy which the reich is now creating.

Italy's average conscript army was given as 390,000.

Britain's land forces, exclusive of India but including general colonial and naval troops, were placed at 460,620.

SUMMER HAS ARRIVED

Last Saturday, June 22, the summer season began. Called the longest day in the year, Saturday varied from that of Sunday by only one-half a minute.

The sun, rising at 5:33 a. m. and setting at 7:48 p. m. followed the same schedule Sunday. Monday the rising time was 5:34 a. m. the setting time was 7:49 p. m. leaving the length of the day unchanged.

A shortening of one minute per day started Thursday and the days will gradually return to shorter time for about six months, when the days will again be four hours shorter than at this time.

Sun Up All Night In Alaska

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, June 22, (AP)—Today was the longest day of the year—and it was 24 hours long at Fairbanks.

It was the occasion of the annual "midnight sun" celebration, and residents here frolicked and reveled in the long daylight. The sun "sank" last night, but only barely to the horizon before starting to climb again in the sky.

A baseball game was played, starting at midnight, which many attended.

Others took automobile rides to nearby summits to view the sun near the horizon, and two 10-passenger airplanes made flights over Clearly summit.

Many went swimming at Harding lake. Visitors had their pictures taken reading a newspaper at midnight.

MOSQUITOES MAKING APPEARANCE HERE

Mosquitoes are becoming a bit numerous here of late, and every precaution should be used to prevent them.

We have no natural causes here for mosquitoes. It is only neglect or carelessness that causes mosquitoes in Santa Anna.

All weeds and unnecessary growth should be cut, and all breeding places should be looked after. We find these sanitary pit toilets to be breeding places for mosquitoes, and they should be treated constantly with oil or cresote dip. All premises should be kept clean and occasionally lime should be used about the premises.

The wages of sin is sometimes alimony.

Miss Helen Hall Complimented

Mrs. Oscar Cheaney entertained Wednesday afternoon with a miscellaneous shower complimenting Miss Helen Hall. As Mrs. Cheaney received the guests Mrs. Jodie Baker directed them to the bride's book which was presided over by Mary Dellinger, where each one registered. A pleasing program was presented consisting of a violin solo by Besse Evans, a reading by little Miss Mary Joyce Hill, and two vocal numbers by the trio, Mary Dellinger, Evelyn Kirkpatrick, and Rhea Boardman. The girls singing in the trio were dressed as Piggly Wiggly grocery clerks. As the last song ended with "No cat and dog fights, here's luck!" Mrs. Baker entered with a Piggly Wiggly market basket which she presented to Miss Hall with the advice that since she was soon to become a bride she should go to Piggly Wiggly's and purchase a full supply of groceries. Taking the basket and following directions into the next room Miss Hall found a mock Piggly Wiggly store with many shelves bulging with packages. She told the clerks to disregard the price tags and fill the basket. Returning to her chair, which was distinguished by a clever arrangement of the green and yellow colors which were used throughout the house in cut flowers and the store fixtures, Helen found the packages to contain not cats but lovely and useful gifts.

When all of the gifts had been passed around for the admiration of the guests, a dainty refreshment plate bearing hand finished cards of a bride and groom and announcing the wedding date, were passed to the following guests: Mrs. H. B. Thompson, Mrs. Neal R. Oakes, Evelyn Kirkpatrick, Rhea Boardman, Mary Garrett, Mary Dellinger, Mary A. Claborn, Mrs. G. A. Ragsdale, Mrs. Byron Joiner, Mrs. Harold O. Knappe, V. HONORING THE BRIDE ELECT

On Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock at the home of Mrs. Leman Brown, Miss Helen Hall, bride elect, was graciously entertained by Miss Odelle Brown and Miss Gaye Turner. The lovely home of Mrs. Brown was decorated throughout with sunflowers. The dining table where the guests were served was laid with sunflowers and a center piece of a miniature bride and groom mounted on a miniature altar. Dainty refreshments of iced tea, chicken salad and wafers were served to about fifty guests.

Mrs. E. D. McDonald rendered a vocal selection very appropriate for the occasion, "Dearest." She was accompanied at the piano by Miss Elsie Lee Harper, and the violin by Miss Besse Evans. Mrs. O. A. Etheredge read Edgar A. Guest's "The June Groom." Miss Velma Sealy presided as ceremony hostess.

Mrs. W. H. Thate and Mrs. Emmett Day presented the bride with the many lovely gifts which she received. —Contributed.

STATE HEALTH OFFICER DESCRIBES TYPHOID FEVER

Austin, Texas, June 25—Recent floods may be responsible for an epidemic of typhoid fever, declares Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer. Flood conditions have prevailed over most of the State and unless the utmost precautions are observed to prevent this disease the monetary loss from illness may equal the property loss.

Typhoid fever is often called a "filth-borne" disease. It is an only grow into epidemic proportions under conditions which are insanitary. A typhoid epidemic means that water, milk, or food have been contaminated with germs from the body discharges of a patient or carrier. Contamination of milk or food by flies is favored by a lack of sanitation.

The prevention of typhoid fever is peculiarly a matter of community responsibility. In cities large and small most urgent control measures are those providing for (1) proper disposal of human excreta through sewage disposal plants and toilets of sanitary type; (2) safe public and well water supplies; (3) extermination of flies; (4) healthy food handlers; (5) supervision of disease carriers and (6) public milk supplies of high quality with the added safeguard of careful pasteurization.

Inoculations with vaccine increase individual resistance to typhoid fever. Such treatments are advised for exposed persons and those who, through travel or change of residence are subject to varied water, food, and milk supplies. For the rank and file of our population, reduction of deaths and sickness from preventable disease like typhoid fever is largely dependent upon carrying out the six above mentioned measures.

ON TEXAS FARMS

"Cut out the old dewberry and blackberry vines now," says J. F. Rosborough, Extension horticulturist. "Leave three or four of the new canes and when they get about three feet or a little better, top them," he says. "All this makes for increased production next year. Also, picking will be easier."

Tomatoes are suckering too much, due to recent rains, Rosborough states. The thing to do is to pinch back all except three or four suckers and when these have set a cluster of fruit pinch their tops off so all the strength of the plant will go into development of quality tomatoes.

Old railroad ties for posts with two strands of wire run between two and four feet above the ground doubled the yield of berry vines owned by Manco Morrow in Marlon county. The berries were trained to grow on the wires. Morrow has been able to sell all that he grew and is increasing his patch to an acre.

If the rows in her garden were laid end to end, and 334 more feet were planted, Hilda Thielman, second year club member of the Lamar Girls' Home Demonstration Club in Fort Bend county, would have to hoe one mile of garden. She has reported 366 feet of dewberries, 488 feet of tomatoes, 1028 feet of leafy vegetables, 2478 feet of other vegetables, and 488 feet of peanuts, making a total of 4846 feet. To date she has gathered 44 gallons of fresh vegetables and 21 gallons of berries for use at home.

If you have to do anybody, do 'em hard.

RELIEF COMMISSION DOES NOT PAY BURIAL FEES

Austin, June 25—The Texas Relief Commission definitely does NOT pay burial fees. Mrs. Val M. Keating, director of social service, has instructed county administrators, case-workers and rural supervisors that such expenses will not be paid by county relief offices for any type of relief case. "This is one obligation," Mrs. Keating said, "which the political subdivision must assume. It is provided by law that it be considered their responsibility."

Enjoy Meal In Park

Last Friday evening the editor and family, accompanied by the mother-in-law, Mrs. M. C. Buchanan of Pecos, also Mrs. Claude Elkins and Miss Alice Buchanan of Pecos, sisters to Mrs. Gregg, and young Garland Card, a nephew, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Gay and Mrs. J. R. Banister retired to the park for our evening meal and greatly enjoyed the outing as well as the meal.

The park has been improved sufficiently to make it a very attractive place, but not what we intend it shall be some day. Every citizen in Santa Anna and Coleman county should be proud of the Ranger Memorial Park in Santa Anna.

Methodists to Meet in Park

If the weather permits, the Methodist Church will have their regular Sunday evening preaching service in the Ex-Texas Rangers Memorial Park. Services will begin at 8:00 o'clock, and the pastor, Rev. Homer Vanderpool will preach on the subject "Man of Impulse" or "Impulsive Souls." It is the third sermon of a series on "Peculiar People."

According to figures made public by the National Life Insurance Company there has been a 25 percent increase in insurance rejections on account of excessive use of liquor since repeal. The report says the increase is confined most to the group under 30.

Twelve years ago, in 1923, the government discontinued the practice of supplying the seeds for Congressional distribution through the department of agriculture. Although no seeds have been sent out for twelve years, every year the department receives many inquiries for these free seeds. The seed distributed has always been the common garden varieties that could be purchased at any seed store. The distribution of the seeds cost many thousands dollars each year and never served any practical purpose. It may be regarded as a hopeful sign that Congress was willing to abandon a useless practice and by so doing save a few hundred thousand.

After fifty years of farming by methods which allowed the top soil to wash off into the streams until it is difficult to raise enough to pay expenses the country is waking up to the necessity of soil conservation.

Old timers will recall that there is no evidence on record where a young man and his best girl were going along the road behind Old Dobbin at a leisurely speed and without warning the buggy got into the soft gravel and turned over three times.

Times change and desires of people change but the American public is no different today than it was a hundred years ago in the respect that it is still looking for something for nothing.

The experiment in government in Russia is interesting from the standpoint that it furnishes a test of the practicability of Communist government. In order that the test be wholly fair it will require at least a hundred years if the system is not abandoned before that time. It is interesting to note that already a good many things that the Communists stood for as fundamental have been tried and given up as impractical. Some of these did not work out and some of them the mass of people refused to accept. The experiment will be of value in history as it will furnish an example of a major power completely in the hands of the Communists. There has been nothing to prevent the unresisted exercises of every Communist doctrine and principle. The rule of the Communists has been unhampered in any way. The success or failure of the plan will be a clear record for or against this type of government. Russia first tried to put everything in one pile and allow the government to distribute it. It was soon found out that the industrious men would not share with the shirkers so extra rewards had to be promised for the workers. It next tried to require all the farmers to put everything they produced in one bin to be distributed by the government. The farmers struck and refused to join in the plan. Thousands of them starved. The Soviet government was forced to give them a share of their crop. It next tried to have all the children raised by the government like a herd of sheep. The women struck and refused to submit. This idea has been abandoned. The Soviet government has found that there are some things it cannot change. Men of different abilities are bound to secure for themselves different ways of living. All of these concessions are but steps toward capitalism which the Soviet government vigorously demands. The changes that have already taken place in the short time it has been tried indicate that in a hundred years the government of Russia will not vary greatly from that of other nations.

A financial success is a man who can make money when times are hard and save money when times are good.

Mr. Tugwell states that in 300 years Kansas will be a desert. Does he mean by that statement that the crop control system will have everything out of production in Kansas by that time?

Government agents claim to have found evidence of a deposit of half a million dollars in a St. Louis bank to the credit of Huey Long. It just goes to show that if you have a half million dollars sticking around any place these government agents are pretty apt to find it.

Smile! Bigger than a divorce attorney in Reno.

Thoughts for Serious Moments

Always laugh when you can; it is a cheap medicine. Merriment is a philosophy not well understood. It is the sunny side of existence. —Byron.

Time is infinitely long and every day is a vessel into which much may be poured if we fill it up to the brim. —Goethe.

Pleasure soon exhausts us and itself also; but endeavor never does. —Richter.

WHAT WE THINK

(By Frank Dixon)

When I was a boy the Police Gazette was the most daring publication that found its way into the barber shop and pool halls. A few of the more sophisticated young men subscribed for it. The Police Gazette even in its most temperamental moods would be pretty tame beside any of the present day movie magazines.

I can't reconcile the statement that the gasoline sales last year amounted to 17 billion gallons with the statement that the country is hard up.

We have heard a good deal about the high standard of living maintained in this country. That, in my opinion, is one of the things that is the matter with this country. We have all made the standard so high that it has left most of us broke.

I won't think the motion pictures have reached perfection until I see the front seats all filled up in preference to the back seats when a girl show with a beauty chorus is the evening's offering.

I note that a group of eastern doctors performed an experiment on a woman in which most of her brain was removed. The doctors report that following the operation the woman had a much better sense of humor than previously. In our opinion, it should be added to this report, for the benefit of interested husbands, that this effect is only likely to follow a hospital operation by competent surgeons, and, when attempted with a club, is seldom successful.

I've heard a good deal about dandelion wine but I have never seen or tasted any of it. My conclusion is that dandelions make a pretty poor grade of wine or the booze hounds in any part of the country would have kept the dandelions thinned out.

One reason why my faith in the Townsend pension plan as a prosperity restorer is a little weak is the fact that for ten years before the depression came everyone who wanted to work made money and spent it as fast as they got it, but this did not prevent the depression.

The reason some women are so hard to please when it comes to men is that while they want a "master" man they at the same time want a man whom they can order around. It is a hard combination to find even in the present time when most anything is for sale coming if there is a demand for it.

The only thing that seems to have as good a trade in value as the original value is a husband.

In the pictures showing the professional tennis matches the men always wear full length trousers while the women players wear shorts.

"Sorry to keep you waiting, old man, but I've been setting a trap for my wife?"

"Good heavens! What do you suspect?"

"A mouse in the pantry."

TRIP TO GALVESTON GREATLY ENJOYED

This editor, accompanied by Mrs. Gregg, returned last week from a nine days' tour of the state, spending a portion of the time in Austin on business, attending the annual convention of the Texas Press Association in Galveston, and visiting a few days with the wife's relatives in Robertson county.

To say the trip was an enjoyable one would be expressing it very mildly, for in the language of some corner of new phrases "we don't know which is the biggest, a whale or an elephant, but trying to use the biggest word in our vocabulary, we had a whalephant of a time."

The wife was low in spirit and physical vitality when we left home, but gained in both during the first two or three days out, and joined us in the many pleasures of the trip.

The first night we stayed in Austin, the Capitol City, where this writer did some very strenuous work in the interest of a Club building for Ex-Texas Rangers, to be erected in the Ranger Memorial Park, in the east part of town, recently dedicated to the state for a park. Just how effective the work was will be learned later.

Leaving Austin Wednesday about noon we drove to Galveston where several editors and their families from over the state had assembled for the three days annual convention of the Texas Press Association, and it gave us much pleasure to mix and mingle with those faithful men and women who are devoting their lives and energies to the betterment and enlightenment of the good people of this state, who meet annually to talk over their problems with each other and plan for further progress in their respective communities upon returning home.

The convention procedure was a bit different this year to former years in that a different speaking program had been arranged.

Senator Holbrook of Galveston was among the first to appear on the program, and delivered one of the most plausible explanations we ever heard on the subject of a sales tax in lieu of the present ad valorem tax system now prevailing in this state.

Senator Holbrook recently made an investigation of conditions in this state and other states relative to the sales tax system, and his arguments were very impressive in favor of the change from the old system to the newly proposed sales tax system.

Nineteen states in the Union have already adopted the sales tax in some form, and according to the speaker, none of them care to go back to the old system, notwithstanding some of them are in the process of amending their sales tax system and ironing the defective points.

Personally this writer has always opposed the sales tax except on luxuries and what is generally termed nuisance tax, and tax on natural resources, such as oil, sulphur and other such products for special purposes.

A Mr. Law, one of the leading bankers of Houston, addressed the convention in the subject of balancing the budget and the general outlook for the future. Mr. Law is a successful banker, and has a wonderful conception of the present day problems, and gave a splendid outline of how we, as a people, and not the administration—minus our cooperation and support, can bring about recovery from the five years depression.

The speaker stated that, in his opinion, infringement on states rights, government interference in business, National prohibition and other such unpopular laws were instrumental in destroying confidence in humanity, and industrial business and disregard for law. Government protection for graft in large capitol circles, industrial, holding and otherwise, and the centralization of capital in certain centers thru large fixed incomes, tax exempt bonds and securities, in his opinion, were all wrong, and a redistribution of wealth, lower interest rates on homesteads, and a greater portion of the burden of government placed on surplus capital and large incomes would greatly aid the world in its effort toward recovery.

Mr. Law made a wonderful talk, and his logic was filled with convincing language.

One of the principal speakers on the program Friday was the Honorable Martin Dies, Congressman from Houston, a brilliant orator and possessing a wonderful personality. Congressman Dies is fostering a bill in the National Congress to restrict illiterate and illegal immigration into the United States, and also an agricultural bill. If this writer properly interprets Mr. Dies' intentions, both his measures are well founded and worthy of consideration.

Among the other speakers was Mr. S. T. Bledsoe, President of the Santa Fe Railway company, who outlined a number of improvements the Santa Fe system has made, and drew some splendid pictures of their contemplated plans in the future. His talk was not as appropriate for the occasion as were the other talks, but was interesting and timely. It being railroad week, and most all the officials of the railroads being out attending conventions and service clubs, proclaiming the gospel of the railroads and their services, the president of the Santa Fe system was given a place on our program, and he filled it well for the company he represents.

Among the features of entertainment of the program was a two hours boat ride on the Galvez. About 225 were aboard the boat, many of them out on the water for the first time. It was a real treat and greatly enjoyed.

The City of Galveston and the commercial organizations showed the editors and their families a nice time, but we cannot speak very praisingly of the big hotels in the Island City.

Saturday morning we departed from the convention city prior to the closing session and made our way to Franklin, in Robertson county, where Mrs. Gregg was born and lived until almost grown-up, but had not visited in thirty years. (Pardon that 30 year stuff, she preferred the phrase "since she was married," but she has been married only 25 years, and that would cast a reflection on her married career.)

We found among her kinspeople some of the finest folk we ever met. It was a real pleasure to be there and make their acquaintance. Eats? I'll say they supplied us with plenty. Most every one looked well, healthy, fine crops, good homes and pleasant surroundings. We have already invited ourself to make a return trip in the near future and stay several days.

Sunday evening we were contacted by telephone from home, and informed we were needed back in Austin Tuesday, June 18th. The message was a bit baffling as we did not know the exact meaning, but departed Monday morning for a return trip to Austin.

Arriving in Austin and appearing before the State Park Board to know what the call was about, we failed to find any record of the call. In fact the Chairman of the State Park Board had left for Washington, D. C. Monday carrying with him all the data he had collected pertaining to the parks, and no one there could furnish us any information about the call back to Austin.

By making more diligent effort we learned that the Steering committee of the Centennial Historical Board were to meet some place in Austin Tuesday to consider applications for the Centennial funds to build historical markers for the Centennial year, 1936, but the information was so meager we had to wait until Tuesday morning to find out what it was all about.

After a visit to the main State Office building Tuesday morning, we learned the meeting was to be conducted in the Senate Chamber of the State Capitol. Upon arrival in the Senate Chamber we found the hearings were being conducted in out of the committee rooms into which we finally made our way.

We were very agreeably surprised to find upon arrival four Santa Anna citizens, Fire Chief George Johnson, D. L. Pleratt, Rev. Hal C. Wingo, and A. C. Weaver, who made up a party to meet us there to render whatever aid they could in our appeal and formal application. Later Major George Black of Comanche joined us, and made up a delegation of seven instead of one to appear before the committee.

We had made no preparations to appear before the Centennial committee, leaving that part of the procedure in the hands of Major Black, and was completely lost as to how to proceed.

Scratching our noddle, ransacking our limited brain for thought, and searching our memory for data we concluded to assemble all the information we could and prepare a formal application for a portion of the funds, but several hours of work was required before getting our data and application in shape for presentation. Our paper and explanation was received in a friendly manner by the committee, and we believe our plea and application will bring results. It was Wednesday morning when we appeared before the committee, there being more claims than the committee could hear in one day.

Returning home Wednesday afternoon we found all well, Santa Anna looking as good as ever, if not better, but the streets were almost deserted, due to the grain harvest and general farm work over the territory. We might add this time that none of the family were in the hospital and no one showed up with additional broken limbs.

We traveled 1,000 miles, had a splendid trip, enjoyed the outing and tried to make it a vacation trip, but due to the work during the convention in Galveston, and the work in Austin on the departing and return trip, the vacation part of it was rather badly incumbered with work. Work never bothers us when we get results; it's work without results that hurts.

TWO MINUTE SERMON

(By Thomas Hastwell)

I PREEE ON: Not so long ago in the town in which I live the only bank closed. The bank has been in existence for more than fifty years in the town and during that time had built up a reputation for honesty, dependability and reliability. Many had brought their weekly savings to its counters for years and had put them aside as saving for the rainy day that lies ahead of every one. On the day which the bank closed many of them came to see if the report were really true. They read the brief notice upon the door of the institution that told of its closing. Some turned aside with hearts filled with bitterness, some with sadness, some with despair. It was difficult to realize that everything had been lost and they were back again at the starting point. The depression has brought a similar misfortune to many. The investments which in many instances represented the savings of a life time, the denial of the keen desires of youth, are gone. Their value has either been swept away entirely or greatly reduced. The problem now is not so much what the salvage of the investments will be, as it is what the salvage of human courage will be. Those who have lost their possessions and savings have suffered a real loss but those who have lost their courage and their grip on things have suffered a much more tragic loss. How tragic it is depends on the courage one can summon to meet it and lay his plans anew. In such a time it is well to remember that there is no strength to be found in grieving for the past. Courage, and hope, and rehabilitation lie ahead—and nowhere else.

POT POURI

The greatest pleasure of life in these modern times is to make some money, and then blow it in.

Five minutes actual experience sometimes changes your views more than a course of lectures.

Miss Fern Ragsdale, bedroom demonstrator of the Buffalo Home Demonstration Club, has made an attractive tufted bathrobe. After Miss Ragsdale learned how to make tufted bedspreads she decided that tufting could be used to decorate other articles besides bedspreads. She made her robe from unbleached domestic, making it a little large to allow for shrinkage when washed. Then the design was drawn on the robe with a pencil and was worked in rose colored thread. The finished product was very attractive.

Good Taste Today By EMILY POST

WHAT PRICE SILENCE?

DEAR Mrs. Post: I have been engaged for over a year to a man who has risen above his family, though he is not ashamed of them. He is innately refined and highly respected for himself and his professional achievements. I have not heard a word from his mother, which I can feel embarrasses him terribly. It does not trouble me, because I can easily imagine it possible that she cannot perhaps write very well, and does not want to display her lack of education. But whatever her reason, I feel sure that she intends no slight to me. But my mother in making a great "fuss." She takes a hurt attitude and feels mortified about the discourtesy to me, and threatens to take the matter up with my fiancé. Personally, I would rather never hear from his mother than hurt his feelings. So my question is: Couldn't I, without bringing down all the walls of convention upon my mother's head, write to his mother (she lives too far away to go to see her) and perhaps make her feel at ease with me enough to write to me? This is a long story but it does seem cruel to wreck my whole happiness on the keeping of the rule that a man's mother should write a letter to the girl her son is to marry. Are the rules of thumb so important that we should take serious offense at my fiancé's mother without even knowing anything about her intention—which you have so often written, is the one thing that counts? Actually, I'm not sure that anything counts except my fiancé's love for me and mine for him. Answer: I think your last sentence answers the question. The only thing I can suggest is that you talk to your fiancé frankly. Sure you ought to be able to ask him whether he would like you to write or whether he prefers that you do nothing. Make as little fuss as possible but say something such as, "Tell me, John, what would you like me to do about your mother: do you think she would like a letter from me? Of course I want to do whatever you want me to do." I can't quite understand why you are not able to say everything in your heart to the man you love. After all, your married happiness must rest on mutual understanding, on trust and confidence. You must not let unshared thoughts build a barrier between you.
