Cemetery Meeting At Trickham Held Sunday

BY MRS. A. L. ODER

One of the greatest days in the history of Trickham was last Sunday, when the Cemetery Association met there in annual session. These meetings are held the first Sunday after Easter each year. Several hundred people attended this session, with many coming from afar.

Two daughters and three sons of the Lawrence family attended, one of the boys coming from Ft. Sumner, New Mexico. Oscar Caruthers of Lubbock, a great booster for the association, was present and Bob, Miss Lou and Gus Featherston, all living elsewhere now, were enjoying the occasion.

From 10:00 to 11:00 those arriving went through the cemetery and found everything in perfect condition, and many flowers on graves.

Splendid services were held in the fine Union Church at Trickham. Rev. Bert Gillis, pastor of the Methodist Church of Bangs, preached a fine sermon on "Heaven."

Walter Stacy led the singing, in which a large choir and congregation participated. He and his wife sang a duet with Mrs. Eugene James at the piano.

Other ministers present and participating were: Rev. Frank Haynes, Baptist Pastor; and Rev. Charles Miller, Methodist Pastor of Trickham; and Rev. Howell Martin, who lives there.

Bernice McIver was in charge of the spiritual program and Oscar Boenicke of the business program.

At the close of the preaching service, a meeting was held with Mr. Boenicke presiding. Mrs. Minnie Wilson, secretary, gave her report and read minutes of the last year's meeting. The association is in good financial condition.

At the close of this session, the group adjourned to the school house where a great dinner was served. There was plenty of hot coffee and feed tea to go with the fine food, in wide variety.

In the early afternoon a large group went back to the church where some fine singing was enjoyed.

Ford Barnes Wins Over Last Minute Write In

A write-in campaign in a vein effort to elect Dick Bass mayor failed to get very far Tuesday in the City Election. W. Ford Barnes, seeking re-election to a second term, polled 114 votes to 30 for Bass. A total of 146 votes were cast.

Ozro Eubank received 142 votes and D. H. Moore Sr. received 141 votes in their bid for re-election as Aldermen.

A few others received one or two votes as write ins for Aldermen.

Jaycees Hold Annual Banquet April 2nd

The annual Junior Chamber of Commerce banquet was held at the school lunchroom last Thursday night. Billed as the State President's Banquet, a number of visiting Jaycees were present for the occasion.

After the meal and introduction of members of the various organizations present, officers for the coming year were installed. Jake McCreary of Rockwood was installed as a State Director; Billy Campbell as Secretary and Treasurer; Felton Martin as First Vice President; and Allyn Gill as President. Tom Kingsbery was the out-going president.

Visiting Jaycees were present from Brownwood, Comanche, Llano, Fredericksburg and Waco. The State President, a Dr. Guthrie of Waco, was the principal speaker for the evening.

Following the banquet, the group adjourned to the Armory for future entertainment.

A. E. Gilbert Buried Saturday

Funeral services were held at the North Side Baptist Church at 3:00 p. m. Saturday, April 4, for Alfred Edgar Gilbert, a resident of Santa Anna since 1934. Mr. Gilbert died in the Santa Anna Hospital at 12:15 a. m. Friday, April 3, after an illness of 17 months. He had been in and out of hospitals during that period of time.

Born in Brownwood September 4, 1898, he was married to the former Miss Artie Mae Smith December 31, 1917. The family moved to Santa Anna in September, 1934, where Mr. Gilbert established a service station. He later farmed in the area just north of town. During the past several years Ed (as he was familiarly known to a large host of friends) spent considerable time fishing and enjoying life.

He had been a member of the North Side Baptist Church since the church was built several years ago. He was 60 years, 5 months and 29 days of age.

The Rev. J. S. Shepperd, pastor, officiated, assisted by the Rev. C. L. Carroll of San Angelo, a former pastor of the church. Interment was in the Santa Anna Cemetery under the direction of the Hosch Funeral Home.

Survivors include the wife, Mrs. Ed Gilbert; one daughter, Mrs. Hazel McCrary; two grandchildren, Alfred and Billy Don McCrary; three sisters, Mrs. Cecil Allison of Sidney, Texas, Mrs. Beatrice Hall of Santa Anna, and Mrs. Robert Knox of San Angelo; four brothers, Earl of Brownwood, Clarence of Santa Anna, Alle of Odessa, and Woodrow of San Angelo.

Quarterback Club To Elect Officers Monday Night

New officers will be elected at the regular meeting of the Santa Anna Quarterback Club, to be held at the high school Monday evening, April 13. All members of the organization are urged to be present.

There are also a number of other items pertaining to the summer baseball program that are to be decided upon. It is a very important meeting and requires your attendance.

School Board Re-organizes After Election

The Santa Anna School Board re-organized at a called meeting Monday night, following the annual school trustee election the past Saturday. The meeting was called on Monday to avoid a conflict with the Science Fair which was held Tuesday and Tuesday night. The regular PTA meeting was also held on Tuesday night.

Roy Stockard, Election Judge, reports there was a total of 174 votes cast in the school election. J. W. McClellan and Tom Stewardson were re-elected and Mrs. Catherine Markland was the third candidate elected.

Mrs. Markland and Stewardson each received 135 votes and McClellan received 122 votes. Other candidates on the ticket were Hollas Watson, who received 77 votes and C. R. Owen, who received 28 votes. Several write ins received one, two and three votes.

It was an excellent turnout of voters for the school election. In the County School Trustee election, W. Ford Barnes received 87 of 98 votes cast. Several write-ins here also received one to three votes.

In the re-organization of the school board Monday night, Add T. Walker was advanced from Vice President to President; Oscar Boenicke was elected Vice President and the new member on the board, Mrs. Markland, was elected Secretary. The meeting was presided over by W. H. Pittard, out going president who did not seek re-election.

The school board now consists of President Walker, Vice President Boenicke, Secretary Mrs. Markland and members, Bill Brown, J. W. McClellan, Dick Baugh and Tom Stewardson.

Other activities of the board included: voted to increase the salary of the custodians of both schools; approved the sale of the school station wagon; voted to continue study on policy regarding the athletic program; and heard a financial report on the athletic fund and operating budget of the school.

A summer band program was approved, pending the desires of the citizens of the community. Details on this program are to be worked out and presented to the board at their May meeting.

The Homemaking II class served dinner to all the members of the school board and their wives, the new member and her husband, and the two school principals and their wives.

Pierre Rowe Gets Big Rattle Snake

Pierre Rowe, manager of the Santa Anna Co-op Gin, was exhibiting a good size rattle snake Tuesday morning. He killed the snake near his barn late Monday evening. Rowe lives about three miles northeast of town.

The snake was a little over five feet long and had six rattlers. However, Rowe said he broke off several and before that the snake had some others broke off. From appearances the snake had not been out of his winter den very long, as his skin was still very light from being out of the sun.

Rowe said he was killing cotton tail rabbits that were about to eat him out of house and farm. He was on his way to the house at just about dusk when he heard the snake rattling. He lost no time in killing it.

Gale Sikes, son of Mrs. Curtis Kille, recently discharged from the Army, is here visiting Mr. and Mrs. Kille.

A good rain, amounting to just about 1/2 inch, fell in the Santa Anna area early Wednesday morning. Very little, if any, of the precious moisture ran off as it fell slowly.

Reports from over the county indicate the entire area received rain, with many places getting more than this area did. As much as an inch and more fell in the northwestern part of the county.

State Capitol NEWS

Austin, Texas — With just about a month left between now and May 12, automatic adjournment date, it's "now or never" time in the Texas Legislature.

Bill sponsors are challenging other members to "pass it or kill it." No more playing the waiting game. Less juggling of the parliamentary ball.

House Speaker Waggoner Carr gave this "get with it" mood a strong shove by taking a firm stand on tax goals. "There is no Santa Claus," Carr told House members. Texas must raise $300,000,000 in new money to meet its obligations, he said. On "how to do it," the Speaker made these suggestions and observations:

1. A bill is needed which will include a broad array of selective taxes — including, but not confined to — selective sales taxes."

2. A general sales tax is "out." Lawmakers will — and should — keep their promises not to pass one.

3. "Broad" taxation would include upping levies in areas suggested by the governor — natural gas, liquor, cigarettes, corporations — but at a lower rate than suggested by the governor. In addition, many new items would be added, in keeping with the "spread thin, hurt little" principle.

4. "Peace-meal taxation" is unfair, inadequate to the present challenge. State government should — not "reward political favorites." New taxes should be "spread across as much of the Texas economy as possible."

5. Likewise on appropriations, if college professors and state employees get a raise, public school teachers should, too.

Carr's speech was regarded as public announcement that he is taking the reins of leadership to get a tax program passed.

Gov. Price Daniel's comment on Carr's statement was in the vein of "why didn't you say so before?" Daniel said, "I am in agreement with much of it and only wish it had been made 30 days earlier."

House Taxation Committee Chairman V. L. Ramsey of Beckville named a five-man committee to write a tax bill and have it ready early next week.

Given the tasks are Reps. Wesley Roberts of Lamesa, H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock, Joe Burkett of Kerrville, Ben Atwell and Warren C. Cowen of Ft. Worth.

ABANDONED PROPERTY BILL — Governor's abandoned property bill has been reported favorably by the House Tax Committee, but sponsors claim it has been "gutted" by committee action.

As originally proposed, the bill would have allowed the state to take over bank accounts and money and property held by banks, insurance companies, oil and gas companies, etc., if unclaimed for seven years.

As amended, the measure cut out all holdings except bank accounts and upped the waiting period to 20 years.

Rep. Marshall O. Bell of San Antonio, sponsor, said this would take away 60 percent of the revenue raising possibilities.

TEXAS IN 1980 — Creation of a vast "government center" that would cover most of an area seven blocks long and four blocks wide is the aim of the Capitol Hill Master Plan.

Legislators, whose assent will be needed to make the dream a reality, got a preview of the 20-year plan from architects and Building Commission members.

Governor Daniel said the $37,000,000 project could be financed with no new taxes. Income, he said, would come from the Confederate pension fund, funds of state agencies now paying rent for privately owned buildings and funds now available to the Building Commission.

Recommended steps for 1960-61 are buying up several more blocks of land and remodeling the Capitol to provide offices for House members.

PARTY REGISTRATION FIGHT — A watered-down party registration bill is in line for House consideration after approval of the Elections Committee.

Original proposal by Rep. Jamie Clements of Crockett would have required that a voter state his party preference and have it stamped on his poll tax at time of purchase. Thereafter, the carrier of a "Republican receipt" could not vote in a Democratic primary and vice versa.

Attorney General Will Wilson ruled this unconstitutional. He said it set up requirements for voting not authorized in the constitution.

As amended, the measure provides that a voter would have his receipt stamped when he voted in a primary or participated in party conventions. This would prevent his participating in the convention of a different party until he bought a new poll tax.

Liberal Democrats, particularly DOT spokesmen, were very dissatisfied, even called the attorney general's opinion "dead wrong."

HELP FOR BUSES — In this two-car-in-every-family age, public transportation companies say they've fallen into hard times, and need tax relief.

A bill to lower the license fees on motor buses to a rate equal to trucks of the same weight has Senate Transportation Committee approval. It is sponsored by Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas.

City transit companies are asking to be relieved of motor fuel taxes. Rep. Warren C. Cowen of Fort Worth is sponsoring a measure to do this.

Transit companies are caught in a cost squeeze, say supporters, that makes it hard to continue serving working people at reasonable rates. San Antonio transit lines had to give up, were taken over by city government.

SUNDAY SALE BAN — Senate has given final approval to a measure that would prohibit selling, buying or trading motor vehicles on Sunday.

Exempted would be persons who observe some day other than Sunday as the Sabbath, such as Seventh-day Adventists.

Bill had lively opposition from several senators whose argument was that it would "restrict competition in the name of Christianity."

TAX-MAN SAM SEZ:

Texans who have reached retirement age may save as much as $240 in income taxes due to the community property law. In non-community property states retirement checks belong either to the husband or the wife who earned it. However, in a community property state like Texas both the husband and wife own the salary check. This may result in not only the husband receiving a $240 deduction from his retirement income, but his wife, under certain circumstances, may also qualify for a $240 tax deduction on her half of the retirement checks. In some cases this means that a Texas couple will receive a $480 retirement income tax benefit instead of the $240 they would receive if they lived in Oklahoma or Arkansas. However, the community property laws can also work to completely eliminate the retirement income benefit for both husband and wife whereas they would be entitled to a $240 tax deduction in other states. Check on this.

The District of Columbia had a delegate in Congress for four years, 1871 to 1875.

Two of our states, Missouri and Tennessee, are each bordered by eight others.

supply, in grain sorghums, with a whopping 44 percent of all grown in the country; in mohair production clipping 95 percent of the nation's goats, to mention a few.

Neither do Texas farmers hang back in vegetables for the fresh market. In 1958, Texas led the nation in production of beets, winter cabbage, winter carrots, early fall carrots, winter cauliflower, spring honey dew melons, early spring onions, summer onions, spinach and watermelons.

If that isn't enough, we also rank first in producing in cattle, rice, sorghum, forage, hay and wool.

So the next time some damyankee tries to needle us Texans about "being cut down to size," here are a few figures to confound him with:

Just tell him Texas with 4,350,000 bales of cotton produced last year is ahead of its nearest competitor (California) by 2,750,000 bales. Point out that our 1958 crop of 273,066,000 bushels of sorghum grain more than doubles Kansas' 128,964,000 bu., and Kansas was by far the second producer. Tell him Texas is also ahead with 11,938,000 cwt. of rice, 1,499,000 tons of sorghum forage and 15 million tons of other hays.

You might also mention that Alaskan reindeer and other strange forms of livestock just can't compete when one of every eight head of cattle makes its home on a Texas range. Just for god measure, we've also got more sheep, lambs, horses and mules than any of the other 48 states.

These are just a few more of the things that make Texas what it always has been and always will be — the undisputed champ among states. So if anyone ever asks you what we're going to do about Alaska, the answer is "nothing — it won't be necessary."

Internal Revenue Service Examination To Be Given In June

Mr. Tessman said, "In general, applicants with college degrees or persons with four years of special accounting experience qualify. Persons interested in taking the examination must file an application on Form 23 with the Internal Revenue Service Director of Practice, Washington 25, D. C., on or before May 1, 1959. Brownwood IRS Office Will Help On Income Tax

It's later than you think — only 6 days left to file your Federal income tax return for 1958.

That's the friendly reminder coming out of Washington, D. C., from U. S. Internal Revenue Commissioner Dana Latham, according to V. W. Newman, Administrative Officer of the Brownwood office, who said.

"Commissioner Latham has requested me to inform all Santa Anna area taxpayers who have not filed yet of the services we can provide to help them get their returns in before the April 15 deadline."

The most convenient service, Mr. Newman said, is the telephone assistance service especially designed for those taxpayers who find it difficult to visit the district office.

"Taxpayers who have started their returns and are puzzled by a problem or two, should call us at Milton 27639 between the hours of 8:30 a. m. and 12:30 p. m. on Mondays and we will be glad to help them," Mr. Newman said.

"Then, if they still need help, they should visit our office at Brownwood between the hours of 8:30 a. m. and 12:30 p. m. on Mondays."

Mr. Newman reminded taxpayers that most of them may now use the simple punch-card form 1040-A, designed for the first time to cover income up to $10,000 a year consisting of wages reported on the tax-withholding Form W-2 and not more than $200 in dividends, interest, and wages not subject to withholding.

"This convenient short card form for incomes up to $10,000," Mr. Newman said, "is one of the many new things that Internal Revenue is doing to improve taxpayer service."

Commissioner Latham, Mr. Newman said, has made improved taxpayer service one of the major goals of his administration.

"His request to us today to help Santa Anna area taxpayers get their returns in by April 15 is part of his larger goal of courteous, fair and prompt handling of taxpayers, together with fearless and impartial administration of the tax laws."

Other phases of the Commissioner's nation-wide program, Mr. Newman said are:

1. Speedier replies to taxpayers' letters in simple, down to earth language.
2. Further simplification of tax forms where possible.
3. More expeditious issuance of rulings in tax matters, and faster preparation of tax regulations and their immediate release to taxpayers.
4. Further improvement in tax settlement procedures.
5. Vigorous recruitment efforts to get the cream of each year's crop of college graduates as revenue agents, revenue officers, and special agents, so that taxpayers will be dealing with capable, courteous and highly intelligent personnel.
6. Improved technical training courses to prepare recruits for the specialized work they will perform and to increase the skills of personnel already in these jobs.

Mr. Newman added: "These and many other things are part of the Commissioner's goal for all of us in IRS so we can earn maximum taxpayer respect for fairness, competence and efficiency. And all of us are going to do everything in our power to help the Commissioner realize that goal."

"In the spirit of the Commissioner's program, let me remind taxpayers again that April 15 is the deadline for filing their 1958 Federal income tax returns and that we are here to help anyone who needs help in getting his return made out accurately and filed on time."

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Read Luke 16:20-31.
As sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; as poor, yet making many rich; as having nothing, and yet possessing all things. (II Corinthians 6:10.)

The Christian who walks humbly with his God is the richest of all. He may be poor in the world's eyes, having neither silver nor gold, nor lands, nor houses. Yet he has treasures the world can neither give nor take away.

We read in the Bible the parable of two men, one with great wealth, the other a beggar. Who was rich? The man with great riches lost his soul. Lazarus had no money; but with the love of God in his heart, he found rest to his soul.

So with us. We may be poor, but if we have God in our poor house, grace at our scanty meal,

Questions Answered On Disability Part Of Social Security

"The risk of disability hangs over all of us, and although it may strike only one in every hundred, it may affect the family's financial security more than the retirement, or even the death of a worker," said R. R. Tuley, Abilene District Manager for the Social Security Administration.

In recent years the old-age and survivors insurance program has been enlarged to give protection also against loss of earnings because of severe, long-lasting disability.

Part of our job at the social security office is to answer questions which people have about this protection under the social security program.

Mr. Tuley says that these are the questions most often asked about disability benefits under the social security law.

Q. How old do I have to be to be eligible for disability benefits?

A. Age 50 to 65. Disability benefits are automatically changed to old age benefits at age 65. The amount remains the same. (However, a person disabled since childhood may get benefits regardless of age, if his parent gets retirement or disability benefits under the law, or dies after working long enough under social security to become insured.)

Q. What if I become disabled before I am 50 years old?

A. You may have your social security earnings record "frozen" to protect your own and your family's rights to future benefits. When your earnings record is frozen, the period during which you are totally disabled for work is not counted, and does not lower your average earnings.

Q. How long must I have worked under social security to be eligible for disability payments, or to have my social security record frozen?

A. At least 5 years — or, since social security credits are counted in units of calendar quarters of the year, in any 20 calendar quarters during the 10-year period ending with the calendar quarter in which you become disabled. After 1961 the amount of work required will start increasing gradually.

Q. How disabled do I have to be to meet the terms of the social security disability provisions?

A. You must have a disability and prayer by our hard bed, we are rich. As having nothing, we yet possess all things. Death does not deprive us of our possessions.

Between us and the next world is a door, and death unlocks it. We pass into a new world of such good things as surpass man's finite understanding. In eternity, we shall see the King in all His beauty.

PRAYER
Our Father, we thank Thee that we, Thy servants enjoy a peace which the world can neither give nor destroy. We are not anxious about the approval of men; to hear Thee say, "Well done," is enough. We pray in Jesus' name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
Heaven is mine, for I accept Christ as my personal Saviour.

which, in the words of the law, makes you "unable to engage in any substantial gainful activity." Your condition must have lasted for at least 6 months, and be expected to continue for an indefinite time. Your physical or mental condition must show up in a medical examination or tests.

Q. Will my family receive any social security benefits if I become disabled for work?

A. The 1958 amendments provide for dependents benefits to be paid while you are receiving disability insurance benefits. Monthly payments can go to your unmarried children under age 18; your disabled, unmarried son or daughter 18 years of age or older, if disabled continuously since before his or her 18th birthday; your wife age 62 or older (or your dependent husband, age 65 or over); your wife under age 62 if she has in her care a child under 18 (or a disabled child 18 or over) who is eligible for benefits.

Any further questions regarding social security benefits for disabled workers and their dependents should be directed to the social security office, which is located at 203 Fannin St., Abilene, Texas. A representative of that office will come to see you at your home if you are unable to come see him when he is in your hometown.

Mrs. Lillian Pettit was hostess in her home when the Needlecraft Club met on Thursday, April 2nd.

Some of the club members helped Mrs. Pettit quilt. Others spent the afternoon in conversation.

Mrs. Clara Stephens was a guest and assisted her mother in entertaining the club.

Sandwiches, cake and punch were served to the following: Mmes. J. Ed Bartlett, A. R. Brown, M. L. Guthrie Sr., T. H. Upton, W. E. Wallace, Taylor Wheeler, Virgil Newman, Will Haynes, Ella Stiles, Doyle Chapman, John C. Brown, Misses Jettie and Dora Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Stephens and Mrs. Pettit.

20th Century Club Met With Mrs. A. L. Oder Friday

Notwithstanding the very rough day and other things to hinder, the 20th Century Club met in regular session Friday, April 3, with Mrs. A. L. Oder as hostess. Others present were Mrs. Charles Benge, Mrs. W. E. Vanderford, Mrs. Warren Aldridge, Mrs. Edd Jones, Mrs. Sam Rutherford, Mrs. Richard Smith, Mrs. Clifford Stephenson, Mrs. Roy Stockard and little grandson, Roy Mike.

Mrs. Stephenson brought the program on "Communist Rule in Red China." This was very interesting. None of the natives own any property. All men and women work 19 hours a day and seven days a week, is the rule. Comments were based on a clipping Mrs. Stephenson had saved.

It was agreed to continue the club activities as in the past, but to have secret pals. Those present drew names for secret pals.

Mrs. Rutherford played the antique organ for group singing. A variety of cold drinks and cookies were served as refreshments.

The next club meeting will be with Mrs. W. E. Vanderford on April 17th.

Mrs. J. Q. Barnes Honoree At Tea Tuesday Afternoon

Mrs. James Q. Barnes of San Antonio was named honoree when Mrs. Ford Barnes was hostess at a tea in her home Tuesday afternoon.

The living room mantel held a fan-shaped arrangement of pink and white stocks, and pink and white roses were in floor baskets flanking the fireplace.

Mrs. Tom Kingsbery was at the door. Receiving the guests with the hostess were the honoree, her little daughter, Mary Lou, and Mrs. Carroll Kingsbery. Mrs. William Brown directed guests to the register, where Miss Kay Kingsbery secured the names.

The tea table was laid with a hand-woven cloth, chosen by Mrs. Barnes in Spain, and had a centerpiece of yellow sunburst rosebuds and ligustrum.

Mrs. C. D. Bruce laded the frosted punch from the gold-glass punch service, and Mrs. James Mallow served the petits-fours, hand-made mints and nuts. All appointments were of gold-band crystal.

About 100 called during the tea hours.

CHANCES FOR a labor reform bill at this session were dimmed the other day when the Senate Labor committee reported a bill which appears to be so watered down that it is described by some observers as "a nullity."

The Senate bill, authored by Senator Kennedy of Mass., contains no restrictions against organizational picketing and secondary boycotts. Without some teeth, legislation will not deter the Hoffas and other labor leaders who abuse their power against both union members and the public.

The House Labor committee is holding hearings on this subject, but the make-up of the committee is such that it is doubtful that a very strong bill can win the favor of the majority. The show-down test in both the Senate and House will come later.

In the Reapportionment of membership in Congress after the 1960 census, Texas is likely to gain two new members, but a number of other states are to lose in the shifting. California stands to gain 6 and Florida 4, the biggest gainers.

Total membership in the House has a limit of 435, and each census brings about some changes, depending upon gains and losses in population in the various states.

The recent admission of Alaska and Hawaii will take away members from other states. Alaska now has one, and may gain another next year. Hawaii will have two. On the losing side, Arkansas is due to lose two seats, while Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi and North Carolina each will drop one.

Other states likely to lose include New York and Pennsylvania, each due to lose three members and Mass. may lose two. West Virginia, Minnesota, Kansas and Iowa, according to Census Bureau estimates, will likely give up one seat each.

Firsts In Baseball Listed In World Book Encyclopedia

Any baseball fan can tell you the number of home runs Mickey Mantle belted last year or the salary of Ted Williams. But can he tell you who wore the first baseball glove? Or what player was the first to catch a ball dropped from the Washington Monument?

Statistics will be flying thick and fast now that the baseball season is here. But for those who really want to impress their wives or girl friends, here are some baseball firsts, compiled by the research department of The World Book Encyclopedia.

The first clash between a player and his archenemy—the umpire—occurred June 19, 1846, when the Knickerbocker Club of New York played the New York Baseball Club at Elysian Fields in Hoboken, N. J. A player named Davis was fined six cents for cursing. The umpire was Alexander Cartwright, a leading player for the Knicks, who had chosen to umpire instead.

That game was also the first instance of team baseball as we know it. The New York club won

Chocolate Marlow

(Serves 6)
½ pound marshmallows
½ cup evaporated milk
½ cup semi-sweet chocolate bits
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ cup graham cracker crumbs
½ cup evaporated milk, chilled until icy
Melt marshmallows in ½ cup evaporated milk over hot water. Remove from heat and blend in chocolate bits. Stir in vanilla and cool. Line bottom of freezing tray with half of crumbs. Whipped chilled evaporated milk until stiff. Fold in cooled chocolate mixture. Pour into freezing tray, sprinkle with remaining crumbs and freeze immediately.

milk for calorie watchers. Green beans are delectable if you saute some onion in butter and then add some soured cream to them before pouring over the vegetable.

23 to 1 after four innings. The Knickerbocker Club, formed in 1845, was the first regular baseball organization. And in their third season, the members donned blue and white uniforms to become the first team uniformly outfitted.

A breach of baseball etiquette made Al Reach the first paid ball player. In 1864, it was considered unethical for a player to "jump" from one team to another. Reach, however, deserted the Brooklyn Atlantics when he was offered money by the Philadelphia Athletics.

Five years later, the Cincinnati Red Stockings turned professional and became the first salaried team.

In those days, baseball was far from the gentlemanly game the Knickerbockers had played. A player might leave the field bleeding or unconscious after stopping a fast ball, but he refused to baby himself by wearing protective equipment.

In 1875, however, Charles Waite, first baseman for Boston, put on a glove—flesh colored, so the fans wouldn't notice it. A. G. Spalding finally wore a dark brown glove, adding stuffing to it a little at a time.

The first catcher's mask was developed in 1873 for a Harvard player who preferred being called a sissy to have his fine Barrymore profile smashed.

Still wondering about the Washington Monument? Well, Billy "Pop" Schriver of a Chicago ball club caught a ball dropped from the 500-foot level of the memorial in 1892.

Just a grandstander, but—that's baseball.

The Whon Annual Picnic is again a huge success. Abundance of food was on hand, lots of people and a very beautiful day. The men did a wonderful job.

THE SEARCH FOR NEW GAS SUPPLIES—This rig drilled a major oil-gas discovery well for Humble Oil & Refining Company in the North Alazan Field, Kleberg County, Texas. Recently, demand has increased much more rapidly for gas than for oil. This reverses the situation that prevailed for many years when the chief exploration incentive was provided by oil. If the industry is to develop new gas reserves to keep pace with demand, says Humble's 1958 report to shareholders, the level of gas prices must be high enough to provide a continuing stimulus for exploration.

RAMESES OF THE ROCKIES

By John G. Sheppard

POSED like a Pharaoh surveying his latest conquest, the ram might have been carved from the blue-red granite boulder upon which he had stationed himself. His eyes focused telescopically on a wisp of smoke spiraling toward a bank of clouds. Perhaps the ram was pondering the significance of the smoke, for smoke in any form augured ill.

Instinct urged him to action; suddenly he struck a sharp blow on the face of the boulder with his front hoof. His action warned his mate and showed his defiance of the hunters.

Dawson, the guide, glanced at the man and the boy who stood on either side of him. "He's behind that boulder, Professor," Dawson announced. "No tellin' when we'll see him again."

"A beautiful specimen, Ronnie," the professor said to his son. "This is the third straight year I've seen that ram. I'm really getting very fond of him."

"Fond of a ram!" the boy scoffed. "Dawson," the professor said, "Ronnie here wishes to go after the ram. I think I'll stay and catch up on my notes."

"Suits me. Shall we get started, Ronnie?"

Higher and higher the ram climbed, and closer and closer drew his two pursuers. The ram would stop and glance back over his trail, each time becoming more anxious for the welfare of his mate. She was due to lamb any day, now.

feet above their last plateau. They were out of provisions, and Dawson wondered if the horses were still safe in the valley where he had tethered them, or if a grizzly had smelled their scent.

"This is it—Boyles Peak," Dawson said.

"Yes, and there's our ram!" Ronnie lay on the boulder in a position for getting the best shot at the beautiful animal. Dawson felt sure he couldn't miss at this distance. He waited for the shot. His ears were still ringing as the echo of it bounced around the mountains. He started when Ronnie exclaimed: "I missed him! Can't understand it. He wasn't fifty yards away."

To their surprise the great ram came rushing down a crevice toward them. He wasn't wounded; and the ewe and day-old lamb were scrambling behind.

"Look out!" Dawson shouted. When the confusion died down, the ram was out of sight and Ronnie's rifle empty.

Four days had passed since the hunters had left the professor, but they were back safely and Ronnie had turned in for the night. Dawson, as was customary, sat with the professor at the fireside.

"I can't understand it, Ronnie is a good shot," he was telling the professor.

"The hunting was about over," the professor explained. "Besides, I liked that ram—Rameses he was to me. I probably would have liked his mate and the baby, too, if I had seen them. So naturally, I put blanks in Ronnie's gun. Any objections?"

"No," replied Dawson. "None at all."

Income TAX FAX

Questions and Answers About Your Individual Income Tax Report for 1958, as Presented By The Texas Press Association.

If you find for some reason beyond your control it is impossible for you to complete your Federal income tax return for filing by midnight Wednesday, April 15, then you should request an extension of time in which to file your return. Extensions are usually granted, for good reasons, for a ninety-day period; although the Director may grant an extension for as long as six months, if the circumstances warrant.

Requests for extensions of time are filed on forms furnished by the Treasury in triplicate and the request must be signed by you or your duly authorized agent.

These forms are available at your local office of the Internal Revenue Service. All requests for extensions should be on those forms and three copies are necessary. However, if you are unable to secure the forms, a letter will do.

Your application should clearly set forth the full cause of the delay and the probable time that you will be able to complete your return.

It should give your full name and address as it will appear on your tax return when you do file.

If, by reason of illness, absence or other good reason, you are unable to sign this request, then any person in close business or personal relationship with you may do so, provided the reason and relationship are clearly stated in the request. In such case, the signer of the request will be considered your duly authorized agent for this purpose.

Extensions usually are granted for a good reason, such as illness, accidents, inability to secure all the facts necessary to complete your return, etc.

Extensions are never granted because you are unable to pay the tax. If you cannot pay the tax due, file your return anyway. Uncle Sam will send you a bill and you will have to pay it sooner or later. He will charge you 6% interest, but there will be no penalty. If you do not file your return on time, Uncle Sam will charge you 5% for each month that your return is late, up to a maximum of 25%. So, it is a lot better to file the return even if you can't pay the tax.

This is the final article in the series of 19 presented by this newspaper and the Texas Press Association. We hope you have found the series helpful.

About Your HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. HOLLE, M. D., Commissioner of Health.

Since 1954, when there were 3,037 cases of polio, Texas has seen a gradual decline in the number of polio cases. Credit for the decline is generally attributed to the advent of the Salk vaccine.

Last year there were only 610 cases of paralytic and non-paralytic polio reported to the Communicable Disease Control Division of the Texas State Department of Health.

The sad fact of the matter is that 76 percent of the paralytic polio cases occurred in persons who had not received any of the Salk inoculations.

Equally shocking is the fact that almost nine out of ten of the paralytic polio cases had not completed the basic series of three prescribed shots of the anti-polio vaccine.

A large segment of the school age children and young adults have taken advantage of the protection afforded by three-shot series.

However, many older people have been lax. But worse still is the number of families who have neglected to have their pre-school age children inoculated.

Last year, 65 percent of the cases of paralytic polio struck at small children in the birth-to-four age group.

These victims couldn't do anything about receiving the Salk shots themselves.

The burden of responsibility falls on those parents with pre-school age children who either don't care, don't know or don't believe that paralytic polio is still striking down victims — mostly tiny children.

A steady decline in all forms of polio has been the reward received from the thousands of dollars spent for research to develop the Salk vaccine.

So much so has been the success of the vaccine that the principal private foundation which sponsored its development has shifted its activities of research to other diseases. There could be no better commentary than that.

But even more important are the thousands of victims who have been spared the pain, heartache and crippling after effects of paralytic polio.

Summer is coming with its usual rise in the number of polio cases. See your physician immediately so that he may start the series of three shots as soon as possible.

And by all means have your pre-school age children protected.

TAX-MAN SAM SEZ:

We won't say that we told you away back, the week after Christmas, to file your income tax in January. Time has passed and many of us are among those taxpayers who never mustered the courage to file that tax return before the last minute. If the shoe fits, here's what you ought to do: (1) Read your tax instructions; (2) carefully figure your tax; (3) check your arithmetic; (4) don't forget to sign it (ma and pa); (5) be sure to attach your W-2's; and (6) if you owe tax, make the check payable to Internal Revenue Service. It sure is simple. We know that you wish that you had filed it on January 10. Next year you can keep the New Year's resolution to file early.

The County Agents in North Texas are doing a very commendable job on helping taxpayers, farmers in particular, with their tax problems. The extension Service at College Station worked with Internal Revenue Service in setting up a number of schools for County Agents to help provide you answers you need on farm tax questions. The County Agent, of course, has a supply of the Farmer's Tax Guide, Publication 225, which will give the answer to most farm tax questions. If you have a farm tax problem, drop by your County Agent's office and he will be glad to help you look up the answer to your problem in the Farmer's Tax Guide. He is a pretty good man to know anyway.

Is your neighbor receiving social security checks? If so, you may be tempted to rely on him for advice. However, each case is different, so the best thing to do is ask your own questions by writing the Abilene social security office.

YOUR EYES and VISION By A. L. SPERRY, O.D. Director Public Education, Texas Optometric Association

Double Bifocals And Their Uses

Some of our readers have wondered why we didn't mention the double segment or occupational bifocal in our recent columns about bifocals. Very simply, there just wasn't space but that didn't mean we had forgotten about this very important working lens.

This lens is called double bifocal because it has a bifocal on both the top and bottom of the lens. It is a very important aid to workers in many fields. Its big advantage over ordinary bifocals is that a worker who must often deal with small print or objects above eye level can see those objects through a double bifocal without "breaking his neck" trying to see thru an ordinary bottom-bifocal lens.

The wearer of this lens sees print clearly in the normal reading position by using the lower bifocal segment. To see at a distance he merely looks straight ahead and is seeing thru the distance or middle portion as with ordinary bifocals. To look above eye level as objects he raises his own eyes, keeping his head level. He will then be looking upward and through the upper bifocal.

Now if this sounds like a complicated arrangement, believe me, it's not. It is easy to wear and use these lenses if you happen to work at a job requiring much over head seeing within arm's reach and are past forty years of age. Slipping on a pair of new double set bifocals will provide as much contrast in ease of seeing as switching from an old creaky kick-shift jalopy to a new automatic transmission car. Now let's look at a few specific common jobs for which double set bifocals are especially good.

Automobile parts store workers get particularly good results with the double set. Much of their work is in looking on shelves for catalogue and parts numbers on boxes and cartons. Usually they work with shelves from floor to ceiling.

Having similar problems with shelves and print are the shoe salesman who must be constantly looking for style and size designation on shoe boxes at all heights.

Another very good occupational user of the double set bifocal is your family druggist. Notice the next time you're in his store how many shelves at all heights he has to see — and such small print on some of those bottle labels too — not to mention the fact that it's awfully important that he not mistake labels like arsenic when he's reaching for Aspirin.

The above jobs have dealt with workers who are looking for something on shelves. A different type of usage is found by the electrician, carpenter, painter, plasterer and mechanic, all of whom are interested in seeing clearly in the over-head work area as well as the lower ones.

There are other occupations for which double set bifocals are desirable, but deciding on use of any certain type lens is always a matter of determination between the worker and his optometrist.

The story of WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE and The Church Bell

"I don't need to advertise," an established merchant in Kansas once told William Allen White, renowned publisher of The Emporia Gazette. "Everybody knows me and knows what I sell."

"In that event," replied the thoughtful publisher, "we can dispense with the oldest advertising medium for the oldest institution in the world. See that church down the street," continued Mr. White, pointing to one of Emporia's oldest and most beautiful structures, "That church has been established here for many years. Everyone knows what it is and what it does. In the tower of the church is a bell and every Sunday it rings out to remind folks to come to church."

"Shoppers go where they are invited and stay where they are well treated," concluded the publisher.

"Regardless of how well established a firm may be, newspaper advertising is a repeated invitation and a reminder to come and do business with that store."

New things seem to be developing every day in the farming and livestock-raising industry. But, one thing remains the same today as it did a half-century ago... this nation's number one swine killer continues to be hog cholera.

Hog cholera costs our farmers over $50,000,000 in losses every year. So great are these losses that the disease has been made a chief object of attack for National Livestock Loss Prevention Year in 1959.

Hog cholera still ranks as America's worst swine killer.

What makes cholera so hard to deal with? There are several factors: 1) It is caused by the most aggressive livestock disease virus known to man. 2) There is no cure once cholera strikes. 3) It has certain symptoms, resembling other diseases, thus leading to confusion.

The worst outbreaks usually occur in late spring and again in late summer and fall, but the disease does strike and kill at all times of the year.

Hogs come down with cholera tend to get diarrhea and die. They have little appetite, and like to remain in their nests. Later, they may have a staggering, wavering gait, knocking at the lower leg joints. Other symptoms include sunken eyelids, convulsions, red discoloration of the body, scouring and fever.

There is only one way to cope with hog cholera. That is to have pigs vaccinated in advance. There are several types of vaccination which give firm protection, but it is best to leave it up to the veterinarian to determine which one to use. That choice involves a number of factors, including the condition of the hogs, their age, the immediacy of the cholera threat in the locality.

Of one thing we can be sure, hog cholera is as potent a killer as it ever was. The wise swine producer will not let down his guard against it.

Roger Collins Jr.
Named Outstanding Community Volunteer

Roger Collins Jr., the son of Roger Collins Sr., of San Francisco, Calif., and a grandson of Mrs. Hanna Collins of Santa Anna, was recently named by Red Cross officials in San Francisco as an outstanding community volunteer. Roger attended school in Santa Anna most of his life, then went to Coleman for one year and graduated from high school in San Francisco.

During the summer months he volunteered nine weeks of his vacation to serve as an instructor swim aide, at one of the pools in San Francisco. Last year some 750 teenagers assisted the Red Cross staff of 20 top flight instructors, in teaching about 15,000 youths to swim. Young Collins was one of the group.

"Volunteering as a swim aide was a wonderful way to spend those extra vacation hours," Young Roger said. Besides having a good time and helping others, I got a chance to improve my own swim skills during the training week and throughout the summer.

"The Red Cross program really helped me. I started as a non-swim three years ago and now am making my living as a life-guard at McLaren pool." Roger also received a Red Cross certified Instructor's credential when he attended National Aquatic School at Camp Ravencliff at Garberville, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Turner and children moved back to Santa Anna recently, from a two year residence in Georgia. Mrs. Turner is a daughter of Mrs. Annie Brannon.
