County Placed In Great Plains Conservation Area

The Secretary of Agriculture has announced the placing of Coleman County in the Great Plains Conservation Program. As soon as the list of practices is developed for the county and average costs are developed for the county and approved, the program will be ready for operation.

Representatives of the Coleman County Great Plains Conservation Program committee attended a two day instructional meeting in Brownwood May 11 and 12 and a one day meeting in Coleman May 14.

The objective of the Great Plains Program is to assist farmers and ranchers in developing and carrying out, on a voluntary basis, a plan of operations that will bring about greater stability through cropping and grazing systems and land use changes and the applications of enduring soil and water conservation practices.

This is a long-term conservation program authorized for the ten state Great Plains area.

The Great Plains area has long experienced problems peculiar to its environment. To provide a means of minimizing the hazards of farming and ranching caused by the erratic climate of the area, this program of conservation was authorized by the 84th Congress.

The Great Plains Conservation Program was started in 63 designated high and rolling plains counties in the fall of 1957.

Since that time other counties including Coleman and Callahan, have been designated as eligible for the program by the Secretary of Agriculture. Conservation program contracts will be available in the near future.

The Santa Anna Cardinals, under the direction of W. B. Gilbreath and Edd Hartman, took the first game in their Pony League series Thursday night on the local field. The Cards won in the ninth inning by a score of 11-8.

At the end of the regular seven innings, the score was tied 8-8. No score was made in the 8th inning, then in the last of the ninth inning Lynn Dockery connected with one for a home run with two men on base. So far as the record is concerned the score would be 9-8, but Dockery gets credit for the home run, and three runs batted in.

Terry Moore was the winning pitcher and Faubion was the losing pitcher for Talpa.

On Tuesday night the Cards won over the Coleman Giants on the local field by a 18-0 score.

Excellent Rain Falls Throughout This Area

The area south of Santa Anna received one of the best rains last Friday and Saturday they have received in a long time. Some say the rains were the best since the drought was supposed to be broken a few years back. More than two inches fell in most places with some reports indicating as much as four inches fell. The area from Trickham across the southern part of the county to Gouldbusk, all received enough rain that water tanks caught some water. Thus far, we have not received any reports of tanks being filled up, but good catches were reported in every area.

In the Santa Anna area just about two inches were received on Friday and Saturday combined. The rain fell slow and gave the ground the best soaking it has had in about a year.

There is lots of small grain beginning to ripen and a lot of it will not be worth harvesting. Dry weather earlier in the year has really stunted the growth. A number of farmers in the area will be glad to get what rain they have now, though some farmers in the area that will make a fair grain crop and will be harvested.

Crops that have recently been planted will get the biggest benefit from the recent rains.

School To End Next Week

Next week will be the final days of the 1958-59 school term. Final examinations will begin Friday for the high school and will continue through Tuesday. Graduation exercises for the Elementary school will be held in the high school auditorium at 8:00 p. m. Thursday, May 28.

Tuesday will be the last day the school buses will run and for the lunchroom to operate. Mr. Perry said in order to save money on the operation of the school buses, they would not run on Friday. The students who want to may come to their respective school rooms for their report cards. Otherwise, those who do not come for their cards will receive them in the mail. They will be mailed out Friday evening.

This will be the first time to mail the final report cards. It is expected to save somewhere around $30 for the school.

Beginning on Monday morning students in high school will not be required to be at school during the time they do not have an examination. Some Seniors will be exempt from examinations, based on their average grade and the number of days they have been at school during the term.

State Capital NEWS

Austin — Between now and the middle of June the Legislature has only one goal to shoot at — getting the state "fiscally fit".

Gov. Price Daniel limited topics for the 30-day special session to (1) paying off the $65,000,000 deficit from the 1958-59 biennium, (2) passing an appropriation bill for 1960-61 and (3) passing a tax program to cover appropriations.

When these things are taken care of, the governor indicated he might submit such items as the Hale-Aikin school program and medical payments for the aged. He favors both these programs, said Governor Daniel, but believes in taking "first things first."

To cover these "first" needs, the governor is pushing a tax program very similar to what he proposed last January. This includes the "bookkeeping bill"

(to cut down the deficit by crediting more money to this year), a 3 percent severance tax on natural gas, a higher corporation franchise tax and the abandoned property bill, under which the state would take over unclaimed bank accounts and property.

He is willing to revise the abandoned property bill to meet some of the objections that caused it to be defeated during the last session.

Absolute deadline for getting the money problems solved is September 1, when the state begins a new fiscal year. Unless new appropriations are provided by then, the government, including schools, hospitals, etc., will grind to a halt.

HOPE SPRINGS ETERNAL

Legislators are again asking the people for a pay raise — this time a more modest amount.

A proposed constitutional amendment, approved on the last day of the regular session, would give lawmakers an annual salary of $4,600. In addition, they would get $12 a day expense money for a 120-day session every other year.

Last November a proposal for annual salaries of $7,500 an annual session was decisively swatted down at the polls.

At present, both senators and representatives get $25 a day for a 120-day session plus $25 a day for each called session. It's a minimum of $3,000 for two years when there are no special sessions. Under the new proposal, the minimum for two years would be $11,040. People will vote on this plan at the general election in November, 1960.

"NO SWEAT" ELECTIONS

is passing into history.

Governor Daniel signed into law a measure moving primary elections up to the first Saturday in May and the first Saturday in June. Under the old law they were the fourth Saturdays in July and August.

State conventions will be the second Tuesday after the runoff primary — or about the middle of June. This is the convention to name delegates to the national presidential nominating convention.

Earlier elections had the strong backing of U. S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson's friends and supporters. As a possible presidential nominee, he would be in a stronger position if his race for a new senatorial term were behind him at national convention time.

Governor Daniel took exception to and got the Legislature to change certain provisions of the bill before he signed it. He objected to having Democratic executive committee members elected by district caucuses rather than the whole convention. This provision was removed and the law remains as it was.

He didn't like the Legislature's proposal to have state conventions before the second primary, so the date was changed to 10 days after the second primary.

NEW LAWS

These changes in Texas' way of doing things result from bills passed in the final days of the regular session.

DRIVING AN AUTO without the owner's permission becomes a felony offense. Under old law, to get a prison sentence, state prosecutors had to prove the person who took another's car intended to keep it. Maximum punishment under new law is three years in prison.

BOAT OWNERS will have to register their craft and pay license fee after April, 1960. Bill also requires warning lights and other safety devices on boats and prohibits reckless boating and water skiing.

NON-ENGLISH SPEAKING children can receive three months pre-school instruction in basic English at the expense of the public school system.

STATE INSPECTION of livestock at auctions was provided. An amendment to assess livestock owners for cost of the program, estimated at nearly a half-million a year, failed.

INTERIM STUDIES have been authorized for the investment of the Teachers Retirement Fund, laws governing formation of water districts, financing of the Board of Water Engineers and fees charged by state agencies.

ADVERTISING PRICES as wholesale has been outlawed, unless the goods are intended for resale and a bona fide wholesale price is listed.

CALF-ROPING CONTESTS will be legal under a new law. Unknown to many people, they apparently were not legal before.

A STATE ADVERTISING PROGRAM, under the joint direction of the State Highway Department and Texas Industrial Commission, was set up. An appropriation to get it going will have to come later.

16 SUCCESSORS to the governor were officially designated in a continuity of government bill passed to assure a living chief executive in event of atomic disaster.

CORN MEAL AND GRITS must be enriched with vitamins and minerals if they are to be sold for human consumption.

ROAMING LIVESTOCK on state highways will be prohibited under a law to take effect in July, 1960.

PENSIONS of $80 a month were voted for some 100 former Texas Rangers and widows.

Korean Vets May Need To Speed Up Higher Education

Some Korean veterans, in night school or in part-time training under the Korean GI Bill may have to start accelerating their courses if they want to finish up by the termination date of their GI training benefits.

The Veterans Administration pointed out that a veteran's GI termination date is eight years from the date of his discharge, but in no event can he take GI training beyond January 31, 1965.

Veterans may not be paid GI educational allowances after their termination dates have passed VA said.

VA pointed out that a veteran discharged in 1952 faces a termination date next year, in 1960. For a veteran discharged in 1953, his termination date would come sometime in 1961.

VA suggested that veterans check their own individual termination dates. If the date is hard upon them, he added, they may want to accelerate their courses by taking additional subjects or going to summer school.

TAX-MAN SAM-SEZ:

After April 15 every year thousands of Texans heave a sigh of relief at having the income tax business out of the way for another year. Of course, you don't ever complete your income tax business. The things you do throughout the year will affect your taxes. Everyday you earn money or buy or sell something. All of these day by day dealings add up to determine the amount of income tax you will owe for the year. If you are one of those people who have recently bought a few shares of stock in the stock market the date of buying or selling can make a big difference. May I sing the same song and the same verse, "Read your tax instructions before, not afterwards."

The Biggest WHY Of Them All!

A strange — and most unhappy — cult is arising in this country, and it is steadily gaining greater and greater power. It is the cult of "unionism at any price" — and it may well be the cause of the downfall of the small business man in this nation.

Why, we keep wondering, do union bosses feel it is absolutely necessary to get every business unionized, whether the employer and employees of that business want it or not?

Why has the cry become "Get em unionized!" . . . when we know all too good and well that there are so many businesses where unions are absolutely unnecessary?

Why have unions found it necessary to resort to such unpleasant, damaging and in fact ruinous practices as "organizational picketing"?

Everybody is wondering why!

Secretary of Labor James Mitchell wondered why recently when he discussed organizational picketing and called it "Blackmail Picketing".

President Eisenhower was enough disturbed about it to include it in his message to Congress recently. He questioned the why of union abuses such as organizational picketing by saying that he would do something about "protecting the public and innocent third parties from unfair and coercive practices such as boycotting and blackmail picketing". Why has nothing been done about it until now?

Why have we waited for proper legislation on this point — and why have we allowed so many small business men to be forced out of business because they could not fight the picket lines arbitrarily placed around their shops by determined union bosses?

Surely we must all realize that organizational picketing is just something unions have created to force business to do its bidding! It is a high-handed, dirty method of beating people into submission and forcing them to sign a contract with the union.

Why must small business men, who have given their employees every possible benefit — and whose employees do not want to have their incomes taxed unnecessarily by union dues — be forced to surrender to union demands?

Why, indeed, should a union be allowed to instigate and man a picket line around a man's place of business?

Why should the small business man have to watch his would-be customers walking the other way because they do not want to become part of the actual danger involved in crossing a picket line?

Why should loyal workers find themselves called names . . . jostled . . . pushed and . . . mysteriously . . . unable to find the space to get through the picket line so they can get to work?

Why, indeed! Why must we read cases day after day, of people forced out of business because they could not afford the legal fees and loss of time involved in trying to fight unions?

Why do we let this thing go on?

Why do we allow this deprivation of citizen's rights? And the biggest why of all . . . why do we let unions, who can and have done so much good on so many other occasions, get away with this flagrant kind of abuse!

The answer, it would seem, is that the time has come for equal legislation under law . . . legislation that will protect the small business man and the employees and the unions with equal justice under law!

Why are we waiting? Why not have some action . . . today!

OUTCOME OF LABOR DEPARTMENT REGULATIONS
Department regulations, proposed by Secretary of Labor Mitchell, remain in doubt, with indications that if put into effect they will be overhauled and watered down. A rumor that the proposed regulations are to be scrapped was denied last week when I asked the Department about it.

"Mounting opposition from all over the country to the Secretary's effort to impose minimum wages, housing standards, and other controls never authorized by Congress, has been effective thus far, with the ultimate outcome still uncertain.

TWO MONTHS AGO I joined with 40 other Congressmen in a protest march on the Labor Department, where I and three or four other spokesmen for the group aired our objections to Secretary Mitchell, Secretary of Agriculture reportedly was displeased by the Labor Department plans, and Vice President Nixon was said to be dubious. Thus the White House got into the picture, and final action may depend upon what the President thinks about it. In the meantime, the Attorney General is considering the legality of the regulations as drafted.

WILL PUERTO RICO become the 51st state? A debate on that island's future relationship to the U. S. is to be held soon, will sound out voter sentiment there on (1) independence, (2) continued Commonwealth status, or (3) statehood. Regardless of the outcome, the Congress will have the last word.

As it is, Puerto Rico enjoys a bonanza — no federal income taxes to pay and unlimited emigration to the states. Under those special privileges upwards of a million Puerto Ricans have moved to the U. S. since World War II while many U. S. industries have moved there to prosper under the island's tax-exemption program. Last year 91 U. S. manufacturing companies decided to establish plants in Puerto Rico.

Personally, I prefer independence for Puerto Rico, with military bases reserved. But if the islanders go after statehood they may get it in view of the precedents recently established.

Read Romans 8:9-11. If the Spirit of Him that raised up Jesus from the dead dwell in you, he that raised up Christ from the dead shall also quicken your mortal bodies by His Spirit that dwelleth in you. (Romans 8:11.)

We may know of the Holy Spirit as a doctrine, but do we know Him as a Person? To know Him (thus is a definite experience in faith. Just as Jesus is real, the Holy Spirit is real. Jesus Himself could not remain with us in the flesh. The Holy Spirit is "the promise" of the Father, sent in answer to Jesus' prayer and in His name.

At one time the thought of dying frightened me. Then I realized that if God could resurrect Jesus after His death and burial, I had nothing to fear. By submitting my life to Christ and following Him, I received the assurance that God would take care of me!

As we walk "in the comfort of the Holy Spirit," we are enabled to comfort those in trouble "by the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God."

PRAYER
Heavenly Father, we may not understand the mystery of the Godhead, but we thank Thee for the provision Thou hast made for us through Thy Son to redeem us from our sin. We thank Thee also for sending us the Holy Spirit that He may abide with us forever. We thank Thee in Jesus' name. Amen.

About Your HEALTH
A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. HOLLE, M.D., Commissioner of Health

The discarded nail was hidden in tall grass. The mower blade hit it and suddenly it was buried in inch deep alongside the shinbone of the 23-year-old Williamson County secretary.

Accidents of this type will be on the increase now — this is lawn-mowing time, you know — until fall weather brings a welcome respite from the weekly chore.

The State Department of Health does not keep statistics on non-fatal accidents, so the extent of injuries from carelessly handled power mowers is unknown. But a random check of private physicians and an emergency hospital confirms the fact that the number is considerable.

Like the man who stopped his car at the curb, intending to say hello to his perspiring neighbor busily mowing the grass. Neighbor wheels up with mower to return the greeting. Man in car — elbow resting on window — finds his forearm pinned to bicep with a five-inch piece of wire flung at him by the whirling blade.

Power equipment is a tremendous boon to the man who likes to keep his yard neat with a minimum of effort. But it takes constant concentration to do the job safely. Even experience is no substitute for concentration.

A garden club member in a major Texas city used to pride himself on his safe and sane use of power tools that helped him maintain the sharpest yard in the block.

But no more. One afternoon recently, while trimming his driveway with a power trimmer, he reached down to lift a bloom-laden branch of a rose bush out of the way.

When he withdrew his hand two fingers were missing. "I wasn't alert," he wryly explained.

One of the most frequent mower accidents has this sequence: A stick or wire or rock jams between cutting bar and blade. The operator attempts to clear the jam without going to the trouble of killing the motor. Result: Badly cut or severed fingers when the surge of power spins the freed blade.

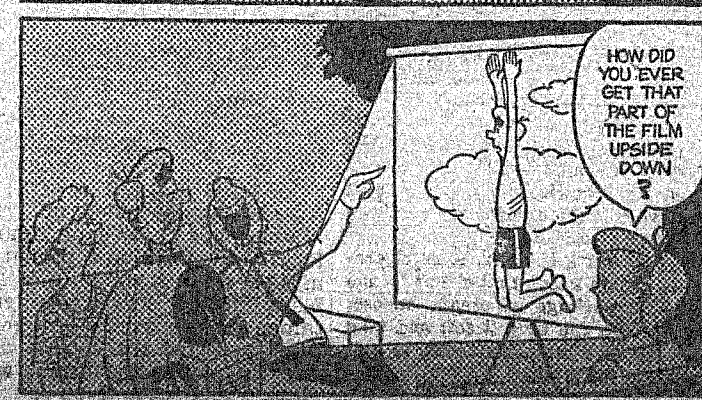

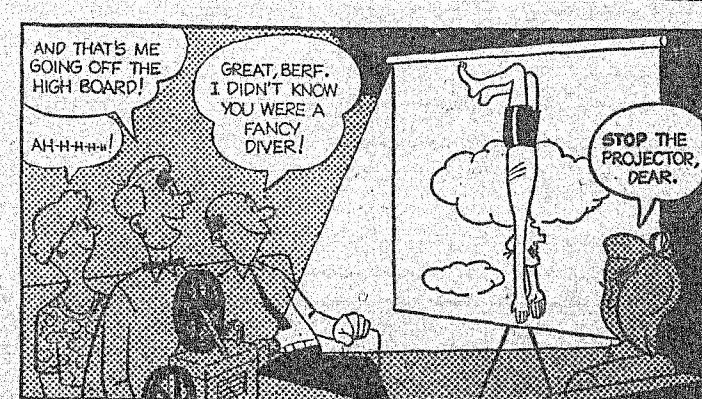

Most power mowers come equipped with safety guards.

Children who don't like salads will usually go for cole slaw which has been mixed with well-drained canned fruit cocktail and just enough mayonnaise to blend together.

Mix a teaspoon of cream style horseradish with 1/2 cup of commercially soured cream for a really superb dressing with hot, seasoned green beans.

Scrambled eggs can make either a nice supper or breakfast if you serve them topped with avocado balls and Canadian bacon. Piping hot sweet rolls can complete the

YOUR EYES and VISION By A. L. SPERRY, O.D. Director Public Education Texas Optometric Association

Nothing Lasts Forever...

This includes the prescription for glasses. It would help people who wear glasses if they would realize that while the prescription in that new pair of specs their optometrist has just set on their nose is correct for the condition of their eyes NOW, their eyes will change with time like the rest of the body. But the prescription in those lenses will not — it stays just the same. Therefore eyes should be checked periodically to determine the amount of change in them since the last examination.

Our new patients many times tell us their last doctor told them that they should change their glasses "changed" ever two years. We believe that usually they are misinterpreting the doctor's statement. What he probably said was that they should have their eyes CHECKED again in two years. This doesn't necessarily mean that the eyes will have changed enough to warrant a change in glasses.

Another statement we occasionally hear from a patient is that their last doctor told them that this prescription the one he provided in the last change of glasses they will ever need — that their eyes will not change anymore so there is no need to have them examined again. Consequently, this patient will not have their eyes checked any longer than he should and cannot understand why he is having trouble. He needs to be here now for another examination. Presumably he does not know how to get to the office or how to get there.

Presented Locally By Your Texas Optometric Association Member Dr. E. H. Henning, Jr. — Coleman

THE TEXAS LAND BOOM— HOW LONG WILL IT LAST?

Texas farm land prices have been booming for 10 years, and the six percent dollar-value increase shown from 1947 to 1958 indicates that the peak has not yet been reached.

What are the factors forcing a continued inflation of Texas land prices? A 25-county study to determine some of these factors was made last year, and the result was an interesting picture of what generally is happening in the Texas agricultural land market today.

The first and most obvious strengthening factor in the market both in Texas and elsewhere is the increasing population as opposed to the fixed amount of land available. This is a simple supply-demand situation which is intensified in our state because of its above-normal population increase.

Another major price-determining factor for land has to do with land characteristics, such as its fertility, soil texture, water supply, cover, wildlife and subsurface minerals — such as oil. Most of these are agricultural characteristics, however, and the present market price of farm land generally is higher than can be justified by its value for crop or livestock production. For the answer as to why farm land prices are out of reason for farming purposes, most people concerned have named mineral activity. Mineral value in land for sale, however, is mostly speculative, because once minerals are found on a parcel of land, production begins and the land involved is practically frozen in ownership and is removed from the land market.

Next to being mineral-rich, perhaps the most fetching quality of land on today's market has to do with its location. During the past two decades, improved urban working conditions and reduced working hours have made it possible for city and townfolk to enter the farm land business. More than a few dwellers have gone to the country in search of acreage and a profitable sideline in farming. And, the closer in the land is and the better the roads getting to it are, the more the newcomer is such an untrue statement. But we hear it too often to believe that the patients have misunderstood.

Besides the consideration of the possible change needed in glasses prescription, there is the possibility that an eye condition requiring medical treatment may creep up without the patient's being aware of the fact that a serious condition is forming until it has gone much further than it should have without treatment. Any thorough eye examination will include an inspection of the interior of the eye for evidence of eye disease. Many people believe that such a condition will be recognized by themselves due to the pain it causes. NOT SO! Many eye conditions of abnormality and disease are painless or so nearly painless that the individual attributes the discomfort to some condition such as "sinus," "migraine," etc. and delays having the eyes checked.

All this brings us up to the question: How long should a person go between eye examinations? Of course this can vary with the individual case, but the advice of the NATIONAL SOCIETY FOR PREVENTION OF BLINDNESS is "Your child's eyes should have a thorough professional examination before reaching school age, and regularly once each year while in school, and further, "As we grow older, we become more likely to be attacked by such diseases of the eye as glaucoma, cataracts, myopia and others. We can protect the golden years of life by having regular eye examinations every two years."

Straight Talk

BY TOM ANDERSON

Not in missiles, not in armies, not in bombs, not in money, not in power pacts, not in world government — but in the character of man, lies the only hope for lasting peace in the world.

Peace can be accomplished not by government power blocs — but by blocking government power; by taking power out of the hands of power-mad leaders and returning it to the grassroots, to the people. Peace cannot be obtained by expediently pitching in with one gangster against another-gangster. We must learn that the enemies of our enemies are not necessarily our friends. We should disassociate ourselves from and cut off all relations with Khrushchev, Tito, "Franco, Castro, Mao and every other bloody butcher and oppressor of people.

We need to let the people of the world know that America will fight no more wars for the status quo. More than that, we need to let the people of the world know that if we ever fight another war, cold or hot, it'll be a war for the freedom of the enslaved. Including those enslaved by our past and present allies.

The Russians, in violation of their summit agreements at Potsdam and Yalta, still occupy East Berlin, East Germany, Hungary, Poland, Rumania, Bulgaria, and Czechoslovakia. Our leaders seem to have lost all sense of moral indignation. They send billions to friendly dictators, and "best wishes" to Hungarian Freedom Fighters.

The only internationalism which can help the world is an internationalism based on free and honest exchange of people, ideas and freedoms. Exchanging diplomats won't do it. World peace, real peace will come only when the people of the world have as much as possible to do with each other and the governments as little as possible to do with each other.

Communism: A Diseased Religion

We win all wars and lose all conferences. Why? We can't negotiate because we don't know what we want. We failed at Quebec, Teheran, Potsdam, Yalta, Moscow, London, Paris, Panmunjon and Geneva. And we'll fail at the next one. Because the enemy has one unswerving goal, and we don't.

Even if we have to "go it alone," our allies should be justice, integrity, morality. Once we've proved our sincerity by actions, the free world, and the want-to-be-free world, will flock to our cause. In the end we would prove that right makes might. The wave of the future, if the world is to survive, must be morality. We must put moral law before diplomatic manners, and right before expediency.

The Communists have one basic goal: to take over and dominate the whole world. To do this, they are willing to commit any blood bath, any deceit, any lie, any tactic. So any summit understanding would be completely worthless; another one way street with us obeying the traffic signs and with them violating them at every turn.

Instead of a summit conference with Khrushchev we should have a summit conference of the leaders of the free world and the want-to-be-free world; a conference not to agree on a phony peace but to agree on an uprising of the peoples of the world (including Russian people) to overthrow their oppressors.

The due-date for the naked Russian threat to take all of Berlin is upon us. (May Day, modern style.) Surrender at Berlin would mean surrender everywhere. In order not to fight a nuclear war we have to be willing to do so. Our President says we will not give an inch, not mobilize a man, and not drop the first bomb. So naturally the American people are becoming confused — or maybe awake.

Although our danger is actually almost totally internal, the American people are being made to believe that the danger is external — that Russia may attack momentarily. The Kremlin couldn't conquer the USA now because all satellites would desert. Ninety-five percent of the people of Communist-dominated nations would rebel if they could. The Communist rulers don't fear the West as much as they do their own slaves. The iron fist and the iron curtain protect them from their own, not from us.

The simultaneous uprising of all enslaved people would hurt Russia worse than bombing her. A righteous, grassroots uprising may sound to some like ants attacking an elephant. But enough ants can destroy an elephant.

Americanism: Communism's Constructive Opposite

The only way to coexist peacefully with the Communists is to surrender. The only way to peace and freedom is for Freedom Fighters across the world to rise up together. Peace must not mean surrender but rebellion. Coexistence must mean not slavery but freedom.

We must fight the Communists with the weapon they fear most: truth. It's more devastating than any H-bomb. The soft underbelly of America is within ourselves.

If we are conquered, it'll be by termites, not missiles. It'll be because we didn't deserve to survive as a free people.

What is "Americanism?" It should be a constructive opposite of Communism. It should mean that the government exists for and by the good graces

Most Rural Fatal Accidents Involve Driving Too Fast.

More than half of all rural fatal accident, in 1958, were caused by driving too fast for conditions. This fact alone takes a major problem of traffic accident prevention from the realms of engineering, licensing or laws and marks excessive speed as basically a human problem.

J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, made the above statement today as he sought community support for the statewide Slow Down and Live campaign which of the people — not vice versa. It should mean that the government exists by the consent of the governed, not vice versa. It should mean that the people, not the government, are supreme; that the people are bigger than the government.

What is this thing we've inherited, which we'll defend with our lives? If it's bricks and mortar, factories, cars, houses, gadgets, and places of pleasure — if that's all we're defending, we'll lose them, and all else. What are we defending against the Communists? We are defending the freedom and the dignity of the individual; the right to be masters of ourselves and of our government; and to be servants only of our God. Defend? We must not only defend. We must get on the offensive, and take these ideas, these freedoms, and these blessings to the world. "Containment" of Communism is only a beginning, not an end.

Hannibal, Alexander the Great, Caesar, Genghis Khan, Napoleon, Hitler, and Stalin tried to conquer the world and failed. Two more men are still trying: Khrushchev and Christ. We can't coexist with both.

And how can man die better Than facing fearful odds For the ashes of his fathers And the temple of his God? Reprinted from May 1959 issue of Farm and Ranch Magazine, Nashville, Tenn.

begins with Memorial Day and will end with Labor Day.

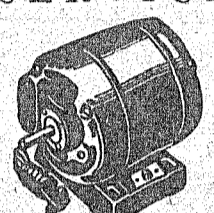

Musick said this period had been selected for the campaign, because it is during these months that vacation travel reaches its peak.

"Human problems of traffic control are the most difficult to solve; because there are no technical answers," the safety expert said. "However, the Slow Down and Live campaign is an attempt to make motorists more conscious of the inherent dangers of speed, especially excessive speed."

"Of course signs and slogans alone won't do the job, but they do help create a climate of safety-awareness that is vital to any accident prevention program," he said.

The annual Slow Down and Live campaign was initiated as a pilot operation in eleven northeastern states in 1953 and has since expanded to include Canada, Puerto Rico and all of the U. S.

Behold the Ant...

Science tells us that the strongest thing in the world for its size is the common red ant. This marvel of nature can lift 10 times its own weight.

As strong as the red ant may be, it has been proven that the most powerful thing for its size is the little want ad in your local newspaper.

The want ad, which costs only a few cents a day, does a hundred-fold job. This mighty mite of the printed page finds jobs for folks, sells used lawnmowers, rents houses, sells farms, loans money, finds missing persons, locates lost dogs, rents appliances, thanks folks, locates homes for surplus puppies, and performs a hundred and one useful services for the community.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

Watch Dale Robertson in Tales of Wells Fargo on NBC-TV Monday Nights

Along with the most talked about style on the road today goes performance new even to owners of previous Buicks . . . and too great for you to miss.

Buick '59 is livelier yet smoother, more powerful yet thrifter, as any previous Buick owner will tell you. And credit goes to the turbine smoothness of Buick transmissions, plus the new responsiveness of Buick "Wildcat" engines.

At the wheel, too, you'll find new handling ease and finned-brake sureness that owners put high on their "most liked" list.

But that's far from all these owners tell us. They talk about new operating economy from the most efficient power plant on the road today. About quality of finish and detail, and of quietness that even beats the best of Buick heretofore. They speak of reliability . . . and they speak of the pure pleasure of owning a Buick '59 . . . in ways that warm the heart.

But the best spokesman for Buick '59—and what it can do for you—is a Buick itself. Why not go to your Buick dealer and get the inside story, today?

TO OWNERS OF CARS IN "THE LEADING LOW-PRICED 3" . . . You'll be surprised how easily you can own a Buick LeSabre instead! Be sure to ask your Buick Dealer about "THE MOST IMPORTANT $200 IN THE AUTOMOBILE WORLD"

Farmers who raise hogs are becoming more concerned every year over the spread of erysipelas.

They do so with reason, because this swine crippler and killer has now climbed to second place in the nation as a top contagious disease of hogs . . . second only to cholera. It is costing farmers a booming total of over $24,000,000 a year at the present time.

Enlarged joints are characteristic of one form of swine erysipelas.

The bacterium which causes erysipelas is really a tough one. It resists smoking, freezing, drying, and even pickling. It can linger in the soil for a long time, and then cause fresh outbreaks. It is often introduced into a clean herd by "carrier" pigs which harbor the germ without being sick themselves.

Hog producers experience their worst erysipelas losses from the acute form of the disease. This type of outbreak strikes suddenly. Pigs tend to remain in their nests, squeal if forced to move, walk on hinders, have poor appetites, and may vomit. Sometimes red or purple blotches and bumps appear on the skin. One of the confusing problems is that some of these symptoms also resemble cholera or other diseases, and it takes careful study by a veterinarian to make sure which condition is to be dealt with.

Another form, chronic erysipelas, produces arthritis, sometimes sloughing of the skin, swollen joints, and causes economic losses due to unthriftiness and stunting.

There are several steps to be taken against erysipelas. These include: 1) having pigs vaccinated in areas where the disease has been a problem; 2) isolating all newly-purchased animals for at least 30 days, to give latent disease a chance to show up.

It is also worth noting that the germs causing erysipelas can affect human beings, and some farmers and veterinarians working with swine have contracted a painful form of the disease known as human "erysipeloid".

Livestock Survey Starts This Week

Postmaster Lee Strother announced that Rural Mail Carriers will begin distributing June 1, 1959 Livestock Survey Cards to patrons on their routes this week.

This mid-year livestock survey is the first of three which your Post Office and U. S. Agriculture Departments cooperatively make each year. The June 1 survey provides basic information to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in Austin for estimating the 1959 calf crop; what the spring pig crop actually numbered and a preview of farrowing intentions for the fall season.

Also, poultrymen will get information on number of chickens raised during the spring. Those chickens will be the coming fall and winter's laying flock.

To be sure our community is well represented in this survey, Postmaster Strother urges each patron receiving a card to fill it out and return to his mail box.

Rural mail carriers working on this project are Add T. Walker on Route One; Bertha Allen on Rockwood Star Route; and D. H. Moore on Whon Star Route.

Three sisters of Mrs. W. A. Stacy were visitors in the Stacy home over the weekend. The ladies are: Mrs. Minnie McClanahan and Mrs. Lila Hill of Siloam Springs, Ark., and Mrs. Irene Taylor of Milano, Texas. On Sunday the four sisters visited an aunt, Mrs. Lillie Jayroe in Lamesa. Sunday night the three sisters spent the night in Brownwood with another sister, Mrs. W. A. Jackson, then returned to their homes.

Sgt. Lichon Coley left Sunday for New York City, where he will sail for Germany for 36 months. Sgt. Coley has been in the service for the past eleven years.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Taylor of Abilene visited over the weekend with Mrs. Pleaman Cruger.
