NEW KILN FOR TILE PLANT

Pictured above is a new kiln going into the Santa Anna Tile Plant. The kiln arrived here by truck Sunday from Los Angeles, Calif., where the entire kiln was made and assembled. Weight of the new addition is about 30,000 pounds.

The new kiln was put in the new addition on the east side of the plant. Roy Horne, president and manager of the company, said the new kiln will increase production about 30 percent, and all of the increase has already been allotted to customers. During the past several months the plant has been operating at peak production, and the new kiln was needed to take care of demands of regular customers.

The new kiln will operate on a regular flow of natural gas. It will be heated to about 2,000 degrees, then cooled each 24 hour period.

This completed the Pony League games for this season with the exception of one game with the Bangs Pony League. This game was played here Saturday night with the local boys winning by a score of 16 to 3.

New Laws To Regulate Boating Explained

By J. O. MUSICK
General Manager
Texas Safety Association, Inc.

PART II
Purely and simply, the intent of Texas' new Water Safety Act is the promotion of boating safety.

This purpose is partially accomplished by the requirements, explained in Part I, of proper and uniform safety regulations.

What might be called a second phase deals with accidents, enforcement and penalties of the new Act, to be administered by the Texas Highway Department when it goes into effect August 11.

PROHIBITIONS
Under the Water Safety Act it will be unlawful for any person to operate any class of motorboat, ski or similar contrivance, in a reckless or negligent manner that endangers the life, limb or property of any person. This is just about as specific as a law can get and still cover all situations.

ACCIDENTS
In essence, the Act requires the operator of any boat involved in an accident causing death, injury or property damage, to stop, render assistance, give his name, address and identification in writing to any person injured, or to the owner of damaged property.

In case where an accident results in death, injury or property damage in excess of $100.00, the operator of any motorboat must file a full description of the accident with the Texas Highway Department; such report is not admissible in court as evidence.

INTOXICATION
Any person who operates any vessel, or manipulates any water skis, aquaplane or similar device, while intoxicated will be guilty of a misdemeanor. Upon conviction, the person may be fined not less than $50.00 or more than $500 and/or be imprisoned for not more than 6 months.

PENALTIES
A person who violates any section of the Water Safety Act is guilty of a misdemeanor. Upon conviction, such person may (where another penalty is not provided) be punished by a fine of not less than $10.00 or more than $50.00.

LOCAL REGULATIONS
Just as the Water Safety Act must be in conformity with the Federal Boating Act of 1958, so, too, local regulations must conform to this Act.

However, there is nothing to prevent local adoption of laws relating to operation (including zoning), equipment and other safety measures, if the provisions are consistent with the Water Safety Act.

Also municipalities may adopt ordinances limiting the horsepower of motorboats operating on lakes within its jurisdiction.

ENFORCEMENT
All of Texas' duly authorized peace officers are given authority to enforce the provisions of the Act. Furthermore, a violator may be taken into custody if he refuses to sign a promise (ticket) to appear in court within 30 days.

Courts of the county in which the violation occurred have jurisdiction.

Band Needs More Financial Aid

The Band Boosters organization has raised a total of $2,600 during the past year, through some very untiring effort by a lot of the members. This sum leaves a balance due on the new band uniforms of $1,600. This sum needs to be raised as soon as possible, and any help toward this goal will be appreciated.

Several have pledged amounts that have not been received as yet, and when these pledges are received, it will reduce the balance to $1,032.00 yet to be raised.

If you have made a pledge or offered other contributions, you are urged to get these pledges in to the organization as soon as possible. Latest contributions have come from: Coleman County Telephone Co-op, a complete uniform, Homer Goodgion and Mrs. J. R. Gipson.

The Band Boosters cleared a total of $80.50 serving lunch at the Dairy Auction held on Tuesday of this week. The group would like to express appreciation to everyone who helped in any way.

Another Couple Make 163 In Q. B. Club

The addition of Mr. and Mrs. Add Walker as members of the Santa Anna Quarterback Club this week, bring the total membership to 163 members.

Although the baseball season is all but over, the responsibilities of the Quarterback Club continue the year round. During the fall of the year they help in many ways with the football program.

There is still a large number of local and area persons who should belong to the Quarterback Club. Won't you see one of the Membership Committee now and join. Dues are $5.00 per year for a man and wife, or $3.00 per year for one person.

City and County Financial Statements

We urge you to study these financial statements, and see just where the money you pay in taxes goes. If there is anything you do not understand on either statement, explanations will gladly be furnished you at the City Hall or Court House, as the case may be.

An interesting feature included with the City Statement is the amount of principal and interest paid on each of the bonds the city is indebted for.

Two RA Games To Be Played Here On Friday, July 31

Preliminary games of the State-Wide Royal Ambassador Baseball Tournament will be played in Santa Anna Friday, July 31. The Royal Ambassador program is a Baptist missionary organization for boys. The State-Wide Baseball Tournament is an annual affair. The Tournament will be held at Howard Payne College in Brownwood on Friday and Saturday, but some games will be played here because facilities in Brownwood cannot accommodate all the teams.

Mr. Robert Chapman of Dallas will direct the Tournament. Mr. Chapman is State Secretary of the Royal Ambassadors. Arrangements for the games in Santa Anna have been made by Mr. A. D. Donham and Mr. Maurice Smith.

Only two games will be played on the local field. The first game will be played at 12:00 noon between the First Baptist Church of O'Brien and the Houston Terrace Baptist of San Antonio. The second game will be played at 7:00 p. m. between the Monahans First Baptist and a team to be selected.

There will be no charge of admission. Everyone is invited to see the games.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Herring of Austin visited over the weekend with her mother, Mrs. A. L. Oder. Mrs. Oder is expecting her son, Clifford and family of Dallas, to visit her this weekend.

Less Than 10 Easements To Be Signed On Project

Directors of the Mukewater Water Control and Improvement District report that additional easements have been signed in the last few days, leaving less than 10 easements to be signed in the entire area. Some of the remaining ones have already committed themselves, and are ready to sign.

It is hoped that all remaining easements will be completed and signed before September 1. Directors of the district are: E. R. Cupps, Casey Herring, Hal Martin, W. P. McClatchey and Rankin McIver.

The directors pointed out that this is a mutually developed plan which will provide protection from flood waters and will improve pastures and cultivated land, as well as water resources in this area, when the project is completed. After completion of the project and with proper maintenance of the structures, a material contribution will be made toward increasing agriculture production throughout the area. The increased production from the land will in turn promote the welfare of the landowners and operators, as well as the community, the state and the nation.

Some flood damage was reported on the creek as a result of the last rains in this area. With easements as they are at this time, major damage could result on the watershed if a large amount of water fell, such as some areas of Central Texas have received lately.

Revival To Begin At First Baptist Church Sunday

The First Baptist Church announces its Revival services scheduled for August 2-9. The guest preacher for the revival will be Johnny H. Hallford, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church in Talpa. Last week he preached in revival services at the Double Gates Baptist Church at Shields.

Mr. Bill Ferguson will direct the music for the Revival. He is Education and Music Director at the First Baptist Church in Stephenville, Texas. A graduate of Baylor University and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Mr. Ferguson is a popular baritone soloist.

Services will be held at 10:00 a. m. and 8:00 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Rev. Brown Resigns As Pastor of the Assembly of God

The Rev. W. L. Brown resigned as pastor of the Assembly of God Church, effective after the Sunday night services on Sunday, August 2. Rev. Brown has pastored the local church since January 28, 1957.

Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Brown and their three children will leave for Siloam Springs, Ark. Monday morning.

He extends a cordial invitation to all members of the church and others of the community to hear his final message here Sunday evening. The service will begin at 8:00 p. m. An invitation is also extended to the other Sunday services which begin at 10:00 a. m.

The Brown's came to Santa Anna from Odessa.

Farm Road Project From Echo East To County Line

Construction of grading, structures, base, and surfacing, from 1.5 miles northeast of Echo, east 5.8 miles to the Brown County Line is expected to take 120 working days, according to Robt. J. Milligan, District Highway Engineer at Brownwood.

Pioneer Resident Buried Here Saturday, July 25.

John D. Whetstone, 90, a resident of Santa Anna since 1898, died in a Brownwood Hospital Thursday night, July 23, after being in the hospital for 10 days. Whetstone had been ill since early February.

Funeral services were held in the First Presbyterian Church at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, July 25. The Rev. S. R. Smith, a former pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated at the services.

Born September 26, 1868, in Washington County, Texas, Mr. Whetstone and Miss Jennie Sparks were married in Bell County, October 23, 1893. They observed their 65th Wedding Anniversary last year in their home here.

The couple came to Santa Anna in 1898 and have made their home here since. He was a carpenter in his early life, then served as the City Water Commissioner for more than 20 years. He has been retired for a number of years.

A member of the Presbyterian Church, Whetstone was also a member of the Masonic Lodge and the Woodmen of the World. His greatest past-time was hunting and fishing. During recent years he has spent lots of time on the waters of the City Lakes and other fishing places nearby.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Jennie Whetstone of the home; two sons, Bryan Whetstone of Breckenridge and Sparks Whetstone of Santa Anna; three daughters, Mrs. Tom Bryan of Breckenridge, Mrs. Earl Erick Sr. and Mrs. Winifred Stark of Santa Anna, and one sister, Mrs. Mary Swan of Alvarado. # State Capitol NEWS

Austin, Tex. — Tired reading about the Texas legislature?

Well — my friend — you're not alone. Seems like most everybody feels that way — including many members of the House and Senate.

Okay, then, for a little diversion let's look north and see what has been going on in our neighboring states.

Oklahoma's legislature also faced a similar crisis. How did they meet it? First they cut some needless expenses, eliminated waste and duplication. Then they appropriated for 18 months instead of 24. But they did not increase any existing taxes. Fortunately for them, financially at least, Oklahoma voted in liquor and they now have some brand new tax income — or will very, very soon.

Oklahoma, it must be remembered, has state income tax and an across-the-board two percent sales tax — two things

Texas doesn't have.

Putting the state in a better light, collection-wise, Oklahoma legislators swiped Uncle Sam's idea and added a state withholding tax. This to assure more collections from their income tax.

Six months of continuous session has just been ended in the Sooner state. Although their financial problems are solved for the next eighteen months, after that a sizeable hike in taxes is expected.

Texas legislators have met almost continuously since January 13. They may even have to go into a fourth special session. But if they do, they will earn the wrath of the old folks whose pensions stop in mid-August unless a sizeable tax bill is enacted. There is no doubt about it in Texas, the people are disgusted. And the legislators are disturbed.

There is much talk that many of them will not be re-elected. Undoubtedly there are some who don't ever want to return to the legislative halls.

Many of the senators and representatives have tried hard to formulate a tax program that would care for the needs of the state. Their efforts have been stymied.

During the past six months there has been talk of a unicameral legislature, like Nebraska's. Also there has been talk of a special election to let the public decide on taxes — especially sales taxes. Some officials feel that the public, if it had its say today, would vote for a sales tax — thus take the money off the backs of the legislators. But so far no one has had the courage to introduce such a measure.

Soundings by the press indicate that a sales tax might very well be acceptable to the people — that the people fully realize the dilemma — that they at least would go along with a reasonable sales tax, although they might be firmly opposed to an income tax.

Maybe a special election on the subject of a sales tax is the answer. At least the public would have a say in the matter and our senators and representatives would not have to face the criticism they now fear.

Wish somebody had thought of that earlier, don't you? An election could have been held on the subject at much less expense than that incurred in financing three additional special sessions, all of which actually centered around that very topic.

NEW BUILDINGS

While the Senate and House are busy trying to find a way to finance the state's future operations, governmental buildings still are being erected around the Capitol. In fact, they are beginning to dwarf the major edifice.

Occupancy of the first of these buildings to be completed has just been made by the Texas Employment Commission. Its six hundred employees now are housed in the $2,400,000 structure.

A total of 11,000 pieces of office equipment were moved out of eleven downtown Austin locations into the new six-story building.

TEC began some 24 years ago with a staff of 25 employees in the state headquarters and 50 local offices. Now employed are 2,300 persons, with 93 local offices throughout the state.

GOVERNOR SIGNS BILLS

A bill by state Senator Bill Fly extending the time for removal of the offices of the State Board of Insurance from the International Life Building in Austin has been signed by Gov. Price Daniel.

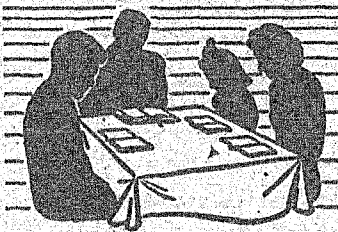

The Commission rents some ten floors of the building. However, the rent is paid by the various insurance companies in Texas.

Earlier Senator Fly secured passage of a bill calling for the removal of the Insurance Commission from that building and the construction of its own office headquarters. Work has not yet been begun on the new building.

Other bills signed by Governor Daniel include one by Sen. Hubert Hudson, authorizing certain water districts to waive immunity from liability for negligence of its agents; a bill by Sen. Charles Herring relating to monies appropriated to the State Board of Barber Examiners; and two bills dealing with hunting and fishing. One, by Rep. Sam Parsones, would authorize the Game and Fish

Today's MEDITATION

The World's Most Widely Used

The Upper Room

© THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read Matthew 6:27-34.

Take therefore no thought for the morrow; for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof. (Matthew 6:34.)

Recently I heard the story of an old clock. As the clock was set in place for use the very first time, it meditated upon its future. The clock figured that it had to tick twice each second. That would mean 120 times every minute, 7,200 times every hour, 172,800 times every day.

At this point, so the story goes, the clock fainted from nervous anxiety. Soon it revived and saw things in a new light. It had to tick only one tick at a time. So the clock started to tick. After fifty years it was still going strong.

Are we not much like the clock? We are so prone to be anxious about ourselves, about the future. The cure of anxiety is to trust in the Father's care today. We need to face life in the spirit of Jesus, to seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness.

PRAYER:

Dear Father, we thank Thee for Thy Son, our Saviour, who can cure our anxious souls and give us peace. In the name of the Master we pray, as He has taught us, "Our Father who art in heaven. . . . Amen."

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

This day I will claim the peace of mind that comes through Jesus Christ.

Commission to allow fishing and hunting of migratory waterfowl on lakes and rivers located upon a common boundary with other states. The other, by Rep. Zeke Zbranek, related to the catching of catfish from the Trinity River.

LONG INVITE POCKETED

A second attempt to get legislative approval of an invitation to Gov. Earl Long of Louisiana to address the Texas legislature has failed. The latest effort, by Rep. Bill Jones of Dallas, drew little support.

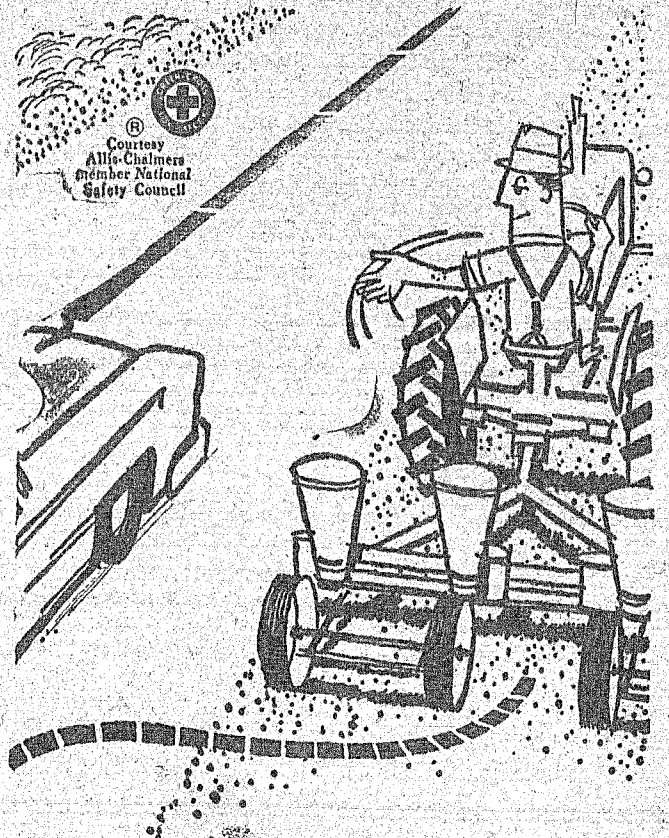

Jones said that his invitation was a matter of "common courtesy" to the governor, who had expressed a willingness to address the Texas legislature when he came through the state recently.

TRINITY PROJECT PRESENTED

An application from the Trinity River Authority to "appropriate" 840,700 acre feet of water per year from the Trinity River and to store 1,597,000 acre feet, or nearly a two-year supply, has been received by the State Board of Water Engineers.

Hearing has been set for Monday, August 31. The Trinity River Authority proposes to build a dam six miles southwest of Livingston in Polk County.

Its request calls for 95,200 acre feet of storage devoted to municipal use; 672,600 acre feet for industrial use; and 72,900 acre feet for irrigation purposes.

MORE THAN A DOZEN FOODS PLENTIFUL IN TEXAS THIS AUGUST

College Station — What's plentiful in Texas food stores this August?

Fresh fruits and summer vegetables dominate the list of more than a dozen plentiful foods, reports the Agriculture Marketing Service, Dallas, after making a survey of stocks immediately available to Texas and other Southwest homemaker.

Pears and plums rate the feature spot because shipments will be rolling from the largest pear crop since 1949 and from a plum crop about 70 percent larger than last year.

Supplies of peaches, lemons and limes are expected to run especially heavy, too.

Only meat to make the U. S. Department of Agriculture's

August plentiful foods is turkey. About 65,000,000 pounds are moving from national cold storage stocks.

Other items in good supply include eggs, peanut butter, onions, vegetable fats and oils.

If sold for the value of its chemical elements, the human body would be worth about 98 cents.

Other Disability Pay No Longer Offset In Social Security Law

Disabled workers who have not applied for social security disability benefits because they are receiving disability payments from another Federal agency, or under a State Workmen's Compensation program, should get in touch with their local social security office without delay.

According to R. R. Tuley, Jr., manager of the Abilene social security district office, many such workers can now get social security disability benefits. Moreover, benefits can go back as far as August, 1958, if an application is filed before September 1, 1959.

Under the law in effect prior to August 1958, a worker's social security disability payment was reduced by the amount of any other disability benefit he received under a State Workmen's Compensation program, or from another Federal agency. In a number of cases this meant that no social security disability payment could be made. As a result, many workers who would have benefited by the "disability freeze" did not file a claim. These workers should check with their local social security office not later than August 31, 1959, Tuley emphasized today.

A representative of the Social Security Administration will again be in Coleman on the morning of August 3 at the Department of Public Welfare. He will be glad to discuss your social security questions with you.

About Your HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. HOLLE, M. D., Consultant of Health

Summertime is barefoot time! Think back Mom and Dad to the summers when you dragged your feet through the dust, let mud ooze up between your toes, or if you were a city dweller, maybe you splashed in the gutters after a light rain.

But along with this great childhood pleasure of going barefoot goes a danger of possibly contracting tetanus — but not necessarily!

Lockjaw, or tetanus, cases jump in summertime because exposure in the form of cuts, or puncture wounds are more frequent in warm weather when people are out-of-doors.

The germs of lockjaw are commonly found in soil — especially manured soil. They enter through a break in the skin and emit a deadly toxin which cause jaw and neck muscles to constrict so severely that jaws involuntarily close, vice-like.

Slowly the muscle constriction spreads to other body muscles, until the victim is bent like a bow.

Lockjaw germs are spore-formers, which means they can live for years outside an animal body. Its life processes lie dormant in a tiny seed-like pod.

sifting about on the ground until finally, perhaps through a nail puncture, it gets back into live tissue.

The wound may heal over but inside, protected as it is from the air, the spore may begin "revegetating" and emitting deadly toxin.

The primary source of the germs is the intestinal tract of all animals. They're passed onto the ground in animal dejects, easily available for re-entry into a human body when that body is cut or scratched or otherwise wounded.

Exposure to lockjaw are so common that it is mere common sense for everyone to maintain a high level of protection via immunization. Such shots should be given children early in life, at the discretion of your family physician, and then maintain immunity with periodic boosters, especially following exposure.

(This is a weekly feature of the Public Health Education Division, Texas State Department of Health.)

Mrs. J. W. Fulton returned home recently from Weatherford, where she underwent medical treatments for about three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace McKee and family returned home during the weekend from a 10-day vacation trip to Dover, Delaware.

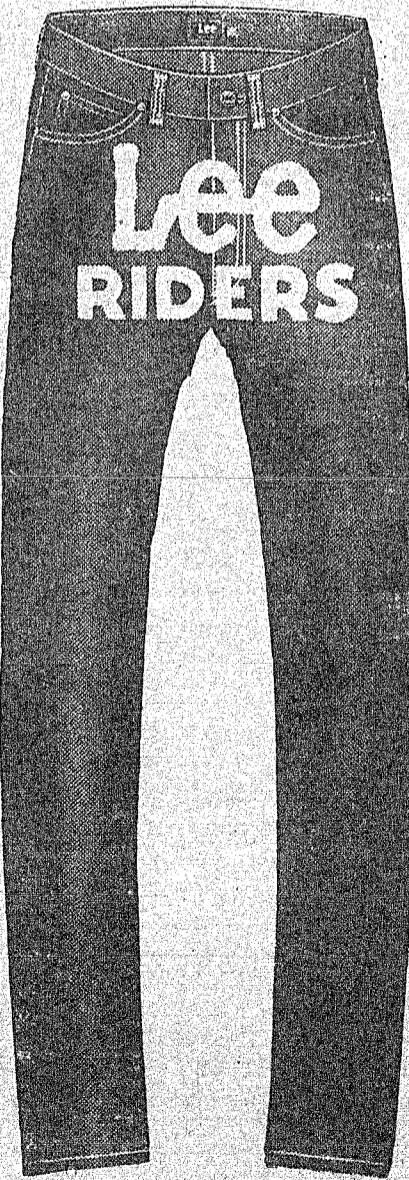

Dr. and Mrs. Burgess Sealy and family of Fort Worth arrived Monday for a several days visit with his mother, Mrs. T. R. Sealy.

Curtis Richardson of Abilene, spent Saturday night with his mother, Mrs. George Richardson. Barbara Richardson and Rodney Leonard were Sunday guests.

Attention All Parents

STUDENT GUIDANCE: How Does It Work?

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third in a series of articles on student guidance. Others will appear in subsequent editions of this newspaper.

By Dr. Edward C. Roebler

Have you ever thought about why you are working in your present occupation? Perhaps it was an accident or you may have carefully planned it to the last detail.

Accidents may have worked well for some of us. But most parents are not willing to have their children's success or failure be an accidental thing.

In order to increase the probability that vocational success will depend upon some rhyme or reason, student guidance leaders for more than fifty years have been developing ways in which to help students plan and develop careers.

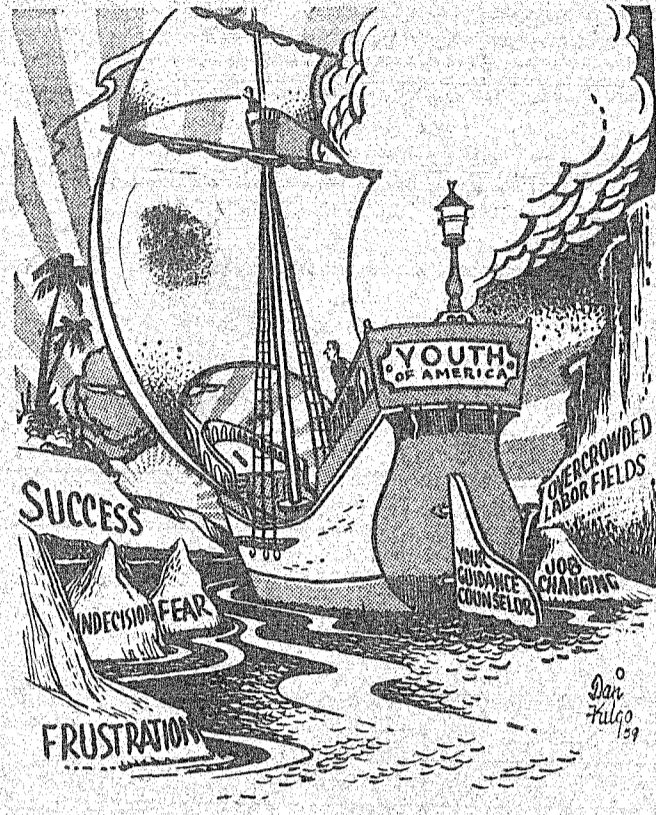

Because it is a difficult task to help students make plans and carry them out, guidance counselors cannot be sure of success in every case. There is no doubt, though, that their work greatly improves the chances for satisfaction and success in life.

The professional guidance counselor is interested in helping your child learn how to plan for himself rather than be dependent upon someone else to make his plans for him. He also recognizes that career planning and development cannot be settled in a short period of time but, for almost everyone, is actually a lifelong process. New experiences change our interests, attitudes, goals, and eventually may affect our vocational plans.

It is important that we fully understand what is meant by the word "career." Research indicates that most of us work in a series of occupations, some related and some unrelated to our final occupation at the time we retire.

Bob White, for example, may have begun as a car washer, then worked in numerous auto service stations as an attendant, before becoming an auto mechanic and eventually the owner of a small auto repair shop. All of these kinds of work represent Bob's career. In his case, his occupations were definitely related to each other.

Roger Smith, on the other hand, did many odd jobs around his neighborhood and worked part-time at all sorts of jobs while getting a medical degree. Most of the early jobs were not related but depended upon circumstances and accidents. After getting his degree, Roger became a doctor in a small community, but after a serious illness, he became a doctor at a university health service and later director. Not too many years passed before he became director of research for a national drug firm. What will he do next? It is safe to guess that it will have something to do with medicine, but in what capacity? Whatever he does, Roger's career is the complete array of all his occupations.

It is important that parents realize that a pattern of occupations, or a career, cannot be predicted with certainty. Two children may be alike in most ways but react quite differently to the same experiences at school or eventually at work. In the same way, two students, who are very much alike, may find economic conditions affecting their chances for jobs in different ways.

The key to understanding vocational guidance rests upon an understanding of these lifelong careers. The target for vocational guidance becomes a series or pattern of somewhat related occupations rather than a single occupation, a mere speck among the 40,000 or more kinds of employment in the world of work.

Vocational guidance begins with a child's many experiences and decisions while he is still in school. It can eventually influence his entry into the world of work. Vocational guidance can also follow and assist in his progress once he is employed, but it is most important in his student life.

In order to see more clearly just how complex adequate vocational guidance really is, parents might like to look at one example. Be sure to remember that this is just one example—and each child's planning is usually quite different.

An organized program of vocational guidance provides a counselor with special skills who could talk over the student's ideas as well as those of his parents. These discussions occurred many times during the high school year and especially at those points when critical decisions and plans were important. Whether to take college preparatory courses or not? What courses to take? Or what school activities might be beneficial?

Periodically, the student's interests, abilities, aptitudes, and achievements were checked with tests of various kinds.

Records of school achievement, as well as other in-school and out-of-school activities were kept from year to year.

An up-to-date collection of materials provided the student with all types of information regarding vocational schools, colleges, occupations, the armed services, school adjustment, etc. He was exposed to many types of educational and occupational information through his regular classes, assemblies, home room, career days, college nights, the school paper, and other group activities.

In finding an appropriate college, he was assisted by receiving information, filling out application blanks, locating a scholarship, and other such activities. If he had decided to find a job or go into the armed services, he would have found an equal amount of assistance provided through the vocational guidance program.

In addition, while still in school and after leaving school, this individual was contacted from time to time in an attempt to offer further assistance in planning, preparing for, and progressing in his career.

Adequate vocational guidance requires special knowledge and skills. Take the above example and multiply him by a few million—you now can sense the size of the task ahead in guidance.

It is only good sense that a school which helps a student prepare for some career should help him explore, plan for, and progress at that career. Perhaps the years ahead will see less and less schools leave vocational guidance to chance.

Soil Conservation Postage Stamp Due In August

A 4-cent postage stamp saluting progress in soil conservation in the United States will be issued August 26 by the Post Office Department, said Lynn Pittard, Asst. extension soil and water conservation specialist.

The Nation's first soil conservation stamp will be formally released at the annual meeting of the Soil Conservation Society of America at Rapid City, South Dakota, August 26. It will go on sale the following day at post offices throughout the country.

The stamp, which was developed in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, portrays a modern farmland setting signifying that conservation farming brings beauty as well as bounty to rural living. Soil conservation practices portrayed include contour strip-cropping, terracing, pasture improvement, tree planting, and a farm pond. In addition, the silhouette of a city in the background symbolizes that urban as well as rural people are highly dependent upon the care and wise use of land as a principal source of food, water, shelter and clothing. The stamp will be printed in three colors, yellow, green and blue.

Issuance of the stamp, Pittard said, is a tribute to farmers and ranchers, their local soil conservation districts and to the professional agriculture workers who have helped make the United States a world leader in soil conservation.

First day "covers" containing the stamp are available through the Postmaster at Rapid City, S.D. Upon request and receipt of addressed envelopes and a remittance to cover the cost of the stamps, the post office at Rapid City will place the new stamp on the envelopes, cancel them with special cancellation mark used only on that day and at that place, and mail the envelopes on the first day of issue.

The pony express was established between San Francisco and St. Joseph, Missouri on April 3, 1860.

PREPARATIONS for the 1960 census are advancing. The Census taker comes around once every 10 years. The information obtained is varied and interesting.

The census will reveal the total population, broken down by age groups, sex, national origin, etc. And the census of agriculture will give the number of farms, total value of land and buildings, farms with tractors, farms with electricity, etc.

The 1950 census covered these subjects. In our own 21st district the total population was 268,894, including 80,055 households.

There were 18,801 farms (and ranches), and there were 10,905 tractors in use 10 years ago. REA served 87.5 percent of all day.

The Bert Fowler family visited Thursday and Friday in Ft. Worth with relatives.

Elaine McClure of Plainview is visiting this week with the Clinton McClure family.

Miss Ann Stewardson is spending the week in Odessa with her sister, Mrs. Leon Slusher and family.

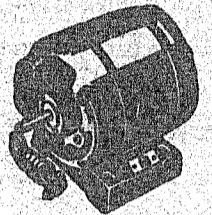

farms and ranches then.

The next census will contain current information covering all of those as well as other subjects. 1960 will be a busy year for the census takers.

BRACKETTVILLE is becoming quite a moving picture center. For two or three years now movie makers have been shooting pictures in that attractive hill country. And now comes the ALAMO, soon to get into production. Work will begin September 10, with hundreds of local people due to be employed for special scenes.

Industrial Worker Production Not What It Could Be

Eye doctors have long been plagued with the necessity of having to "guesstimate" the job visual requirements of industrial and other workers for whom they prescribe. This "guesstimate" sometimes does not work out very well (and often not as well as it could have) because the average eye doctor cannot know the individual requirements for a thousand and one different types of jobs. This is true even when the doctor is retained on a full time basis by an industry because a plant which would be big enough to retain such special talent would also be so huge as to contain an endless number of job variations.

This lack of understanding might sound trivial to the average individual on first thought. But if there is a sure way for an eye doctor to get himself in a jam it's to goof like to prescribe "arc" welding glasses for a "butt" welder—yet he might not know there was even a difference.

Industries have in their files job descriptions of the details of most work procedures engaged in by employees of their different departments. It should be standard practice to include in those descriptions measurements of distances needed for clear seeing on the job. For the eye doctor's information, this part of the job description should be brought in at the time of the worker's examination. Any particular type of bifocal, trifocal, or other occupational lens found by past experience to be especially suited to this worker's department could be noted on the copy of job visual requirements and distance measurements furnished the doctor.

Too often industry's attitude causes it to inquire and investigate into nearly every facet of a worker's qualifications and production in greater detail than his visual qualifications. Yet the employee's visual ability will have one of the greatest effects on his productive ability.

"Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment of the Visual System" published by the Committee on Medical Rating of Physical Impairment of the American Medical Association lists percentage of impairment of the whole individual as related to the percentage impairment of the visual system. Example: if the visual system is impaired by 10% the effectivity of the whole individual is impaired by 9%. Another: if the visual system is impaired by 25% the whole individual is impaired by 24%. Fifty percent visual impairment means 47% total impairment of the individual; Visual impairment of 100% means 85% impairment of the whole individual. Many workers are temporarily impaired by up to 25% from just simply lack of proper visual care and glasses. This temporary impairment has as much undesirable effect (until corrected) as the permanent type.

Even in the face of such authoritative findings many companies still do no visual testing at all and most companies do not do as complete a job as they should.

One method of reducing visual impairment and thus worker impairment to its lowest level would be for the companies to furnish the eye doctor such measurements and job description data as already mentioned. With this information the worker could then be provided with an occupational visual correction which would permit attainment of his highest efficiency.
