Grass Fires Will Soon Be Very Dangerous

Tuesday afternoon the Santa Anna Fire Department was called out to extinguish a grass fire near the home of Mrs. Ione Caton on the Rockwood Highway. The fire was put out soon after the fire fighting equipment arrived and so far as we know, no damage resulted.

During the heavy rains in July, grass and weeds took on a tremendous growth. In fact everything that needs water and hot weather to grow, really grew several times as much as normal under the weather conditions that were enjoyed for about two weeks.

Now all this growth that has not been kept under control, is beginning to dry out, and within a few days will be a major fire hazard for everyone, in town and in the rural areas alike. Everyone must be exceptionally careful about fires.

With as much undergrowth as there is, and when it gets good and dry, just a spark can set off a major fire that could get out of control in a hurry. If you want to burn off a lot of for that matter, just a small plot of ground, you are urged to call a member of the fire department and request they bring a truck and stand by while the growth is being burned. However, if you decide to burn something off without calling a fireman to stand by for you, and your fire gets out of control, do not attempt to bring it under control yourself without proper equipment, but the minute you see the fire is getting away from you, call the fire department immediately.

Grass or brush fires can cause lots of damage if they are allowed to get out of control. The Volunteer Fire Department is here for your use when you need them. Use them, and protect your life and property and the lives and property of your neighbors.

Some Big 'ens

We seem to have a pretty good contest underway for the biggest peach this year — and your editor is all for it as long as the contest entry is brought to The News Office (and left). If you have some extra large peaches you would like others to know about, or any other product, bring us a sample. We will tell our readers about it.

Last Saturday Arlie Welch brought in three fair sized peaches. Not wanting to be outdone, Saturday Mrs. Bob McMinn brought in three peaches and each of them measured an even 10 inches around and weighed nine ounces.

Then on Monday, Mrs. Jewell Owen sent your editor three even larger ones, with the largest weighing a full 12 ounces and measuring 10 and three-quarters inches around. Another one measured 10 1/2 inches around and weighed 10.5 ounces. And they were good eating.

GOOD CORN

Also on Monday, Mr. F. C. Mosier, who lives just below the county-line hill between here and Bangs, brought in three of the nicest developed and largest ears of yellow corn we have seen in a number of years. Known as Texas Hybrid Corn No. 28, the ear left as a sample (this we didn't eat) measures 7 1/2 inches around and just over eight inches long.

Mr. Mosier said he has 25 acres of this corn and this is a random sample. He raises hogs and has been planting this type corn for the past 12 years. He said he had made some corn every year, even in the driest years, but believes this will be the best year for this corn. He has a sandy-loam soil where the crop is planted.

SKEPTICAL

It seems some are kindly skeptical about maize making 5,000 pounds to the acre. We have known of this happening in this area in previous years, and believe there are several fields in this area that will produce nearly that much or more this year. Harvest is going to get underway within a few days. If you get over the 4,000 pound per acre mark, please let us know. Someone is going to hit the 5,000 pound mark.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Riley were in Waco Sunday where they attended a showing of a new line of drug gift items.

High Speeding Persons Caught Here Recently

Justice of the Peace W. Earl Trick Sr., reports two cases of excessive speed has been filed in his court recently, that are a little out of the ordinary. One case was filed against a Bangs man for driving 115 miles per hour and another case was filed against a Brownwood man for driving 120 miles per hour. Trick said the man charged with driving 115 miles had already answered his summons by letter, and he fined him a total of $130.50. This makes the third time this year this same person has been in court here for excessive speed.

The Brownwood man still has several days to answer his summons.

Trick said his report for the year ended on June 30, 1959, showed he had collected a total of $6,350.45 in fines during that time. Most of this was for speeding, but various other charges were also collected on during the year. His July total was $850.50, and most of this was for speeding.

$951 Remains To Be Paid On New Band Uniforms

After several local business firms and individuals purchased complete uniforms and made other contributions this week, a total of $3,349.00 has been raised toward the goal of $4,300, to purchase new uniforms for the Santa Anna Mountaineer Band. This leaves a balance of $951 needed to be raised. If you have not made your contribution toward the new uniform fund as yet you are urged to do so now. It would be nice to have the uniforms paid for by the time they are put into use.

The Santa Anna National Bank contributed two complete uniforms on Tuesday. Others who have contributed a complete uniform this week are Santa Anna Tile Co., Santa Anna Silica Sand Co., Thomas Hays Jr., family, Mr. and Mrs. Ozro Eubank, and the band students, with money made through previous fund drives.

New members in the Band Boosters Club and other donations this week are: M. L. "Rat" Guthrie, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Yarbrough, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mabley, Mr. and Mrs. Dawson See and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Bartlett.

The Band Boosters will give away a clothes hamper filled with linen at the first home football game. Tickets are on sale now by all members of the organization for 50 cents each. The hamper will be given away the night of September 4, during half-time activities.

New Aisle To Be Convenient To Reserved Seat Section

A new aisle is being added to the seating section on the home side of the bleachers at Mountaineer Stadium. The aisle will be at the end of the reserved seats that end with the number 24, or on the south side of the reserved seat section.

A platform is to be erected in front of the bleachers for the band, thus they will not be near the reserved seat section either. Everything is being done to make the purchase of reserved seats as attractive as possible. They are a good buy, and will save you money if you plan to attend the Junior football games as well as the Senior football games.

The street leading to the field has been paved this summer, which will also help considerably.

The reserved seat tickets are on sale by several businessmen and others in town. If you know what section and row you would like to have, you can either purchase your reserved seats at the school office or find out where the ones you want are being sold. Reports indicate the seats are going good this year. You might better check in about yours now.

JOHNNIE HOYT

Word was received here last week that Johnnie Hoyt, son of J. B. Hoyt, drowned in the Sabine River near Rockdale, Texas. He was a nephew of Mrs. Vernon Buse.

Mrs. J. W. Price, a resident of Santa Anna since 1915, passed away in the Underhill Rest Home in Bangs Friday, July 31 at 1:50 p. m., after an illness of nearly six years. Mrs. Price was 80 years, 4 months and 12 days of age at the time of death.

Funeral services were held in the First Baptist Church Monday, August 3 at 4:30 p. m. The Rev. J. S. Sheppard, pastor of the North Side Baptist Church and the Rev. Maurice Smith, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated. Burial was in the Santa Anna Cemetery under the direction of Hosch Funeral Home.

Greta Bell Hardin was born March 19, 1879 near Jamestown, Ark. She was married to John W. Price, December 31, 1893. There were 17 children born to this union, 10 of whom survive. All those who preceded her in death, passed away in early childhood. She had been a member of the Baptist Church since early childhood.

The family moved to Santa Anna from Perry, Arkansas in December, 1919. They were farmers by nature and lived on their farm north of town until the retirement of Mr. Price several years ago. The couple would have been married 66 years the last day of the present year, 1959.

Survivors include the husband, J. W. Price of Santa Anna; six daughters, Mrs. Allie Woodard of Santa Anna, Mrs. Cora George of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Elmer Woodard of Cache, Okla., Mrs. Velma Woodard of Bakersfield, Calif., Mrs. Thelma McClure of San Francisco, Calif., and Mrs. Bobbie Burbank of San Francisco, Calif.; four sons, W. C. (Bill) Price of Santa Anna, Collin Price of Abilene, Max Price of Bakersfield, Calif., and Jack Price of Fort Stockton, Texas; two sisters, Miss Alma Hardin of Dallas, and Mrs. Ethel Hand of Memphis, Tenn. WINS A RACER

When Tomy, Susanna and Kathy Hays returned from a trip to Florida and Georgia last week, they found a big surprise waiting for them, a Midget Vanguard Racer. Before leaving on their vacation, they submitted a card to the Big Eight Sweepstakes. Their card was the second one drawn. The first card was for a 1959 Pontiac.

Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Rutherford and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Rutherford and boys visited in Fort Worth over the weekend with their son and brother, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Rutherford and other relatives.

Keep An Eye On Your Cotton

Jim Williams, local county agent, visited through this section of the county recently and checked through several fields of cotton. He said he found several that needed attention immediately. Mr. Williams urged farmers to use the following information to determine whether your cotton needs to be treated.

HOW TO CHECK FOR BOLL WEEVILS

Examine cotton weekly for boll weevils. Pull 100 squares, at least one-third grown, at random, removing a few squares at several representative places in the field. If 15 to 25% or more have weevil punctures, begin treatment. Two or more applications of insecticides are required to control boll weevils. DDT is included in these mixtures for bollworm control and may be omitted where bollworms are not a menace.

HOW TO CHECK FOR BOLLWORMS

Examine the terminal buds (upper 3 to 4 inches of the plant) of 100 cotton plants and 100 consecutive squares and bolls at each of several points in the field. Begin treatment when bollworm eggs and 4 or 5 young worms are found per 100 terminals or 5% of the small squares and bolls have been injured by small bollworms. Use of DDT alone for bollworm control greatly increases possibility of aphid infestations. Both calcium arsenate dusts and toxaphene spray may be used for boll weevil control but they are less effective for bollworm control than other listed materials. During heavy weevil infestations, shorten intervals to 4 days.

Lions Club Soap Sale Will Be Something New

On Tuesday, August 18, members of the Santa Anna Lions Club will canvass every house in town in an effort to sell soap. All profits from the soap will be used by the club for some of their worthwhile work in the town.

And new it is. It was ordered from the factory two weeks ago and is due to arrive here just a few days before the sale gets underway. It will be fresh. Made by a nationally known manufacturer the soap is known as Royal Bouquet. Completion soap and contains cold cream and lanolin. The soap is described as very mild.

There are six bath size bars of the soap to a box. This will sell for $1.00 per box. You are invited to purchase as many boxes of the soap as you can conveniently use.

Remember the sale will be held the afternoon of Tuesday, August 18. Make your plans now to purchase a box or two of the soap.

Coach Rucker said just before leaving that regular football practice will get underway Monday morning, August 17. About 35 boys are expected to report for practice. All boys who plan to come out for football this fall are requested to have their affairs in order so they can begin practice at the announced time.

There will be two practice sessions daily. The first one will be from 8:00 to 10:00 a. m. and the second one will be from 4:00 to 6:00 p. m. Rucker said a lot more emphasis was going to be placed on blocking in the early training period this year, and all through the season.

The Mountaineers are expected to use a T formation this year, Rucker said it would be a T, alright, but there would be some variations used. They do not plan to use the single wing as they used the past year.

State Capital NEWS

Austin, Tex. — With the bottleneck broken on a tax bill for regular spending, legislators began to look down the road.

Rep. Murray Watson of Mart proposed a resolution that pointed up the lawmakers' uneasiness about having more rough decisions before the year is out.

Watson's resolution called on Gov. Price Daniel to say immediately whether he would call another special session to raise money for the Hale-Alkin school improvement program.

Hale-Alkin proposals, which include an $800 a year salary boost for teachers, would cost an estimated $120,000,000 a year. There have been repeated rumors that the governor will re-call the Legislature next fall to enact Hale-Alkin. Also floating around is the rumor that a 1 cent per gallon hike in the gasoline tax is being "saved" for that purpose.

Watson charged, "I think there's been a definite deal made with the Texas State Teachers Association... Somebody else should know what's going on here instead of just the governor and the teachers' lobby."

Governor Daniel's supporters called this unfair. They declared that the governor, like everyone else, couldn't tell how it would be until after the dust settled from the fracas over raising money for the budget. AT LAST

When the Legislature finally voted out the new $185,000,000 tax bill, it voted it out in a big way. Tally was 29-to-2 in the Senate and 115-to-24 in the House.

This is well over the required two-thirds to make the bill effective immediately on the governor's signing.

House, which had been hamstrung for seven months on the tax issue, came unstrung so suddenly it surprised the bill's advocates. Voting ended good naturedly with "yea" votes re-echoed in the atmosphere of an old-fashioned revival meeting.

Most talked-about feature of the new bill is a severance beneficiary tax of 1.5 percent on natural gas. It was the first time the Senate had approved this tax. Many House members had said they would not vote for any bill that didn't include it. It will bring in an estimated $15 to $18,000,000 over two years if not ruled unconstitutional.

Three-fourths or more of the bill's revenue will come from selective sales taxes. Newcomers are a 3 percent tax on jewelry and furs, a 3 percent tax on hotel and motel room rentals, 3 percent on boats, motors, cameras, air conditioners, 25 percent on tobacco products other than cigarettes.

Taxes on cigarettes will go up 3 cents a pack; liquor and wine, 20 percent; motor vehicle sales, from 1.1 to 1.5 percent.

Utility gross receipts will go up 20 percent, and the corporation franchise tax will go up by 75 cents per $1,000 capital for one year, 50 cents per $1,000 thereafter.

LADIES DAY

Senate debate on the tax bill was enlivened by the arrival of a women's march on the Capitol.

Gallery was filled with flowery hats and excited chatter as some 40 to 100 women (estimates varied widely) swept in "to show those lobbyists what's what."

Leaders were Mrs. Jud Collier of Mumfords and Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham of New Waverly, both workers in the militantly liberal Democrats of Texas Clubs.

They were, according to Mrs. Collier, "infuriated by the scandalous lobby which has blocked action on the tax bill." Specifically, they favored a bill heavy on gas taxes and light on selective sales taxes.

LEGISLATING ENDED ABRUPTLY

Tax bills have had a lot of attention during the current special session of the Texas Legislature. But there were more eyes on charming Miss Carol Ralph when she stopped in for a capitol building visit than ever looked at a tax bill.

This fetching miss from Far-ron, Utah, whose theme song is "Remember the A-La-Mode", is America's Miss Diary Princess. She was accompanied by Mrs. Anne Reeve, whose husband, Lew, is publisher of the Ocala (Wis.) Sun. Mrs. Reeve is the chaperone for Carol's journeys about the country.

Miss Diary Princess was introduced in the House, addressed the Senate, and was the recipient of complimentary resolutions from both branches of the legislature.

Then the lawmakers settled down to work again.

71 NEW PATROLMEN

A total of 46 new patrolmen now are manning Texas highways. These trainees have just graduated from the Law Enforcement Academy of the Texas Department of Public Safety. Also graduating were 20 drivers license patrolmen and five license and weight patrolmen.

Presenting diplomas to the group was Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the department. He announced that there still are 73 openings on the force. Eligible to fill these posts are young men 21 to 35 years of age — and they are badly needed.

CITY BUSES LOSE OUT

Another cause, apparently lost for this year, is that of exempting city bus systems from the state gasoline tax.

Rural area senators, led by Sen. Wardlow Lane of Center, voted it down.

City spokesmen say the buses, needed by low-income people, can't stay in the black unless they get tax relief. San Antonio's transit system went to the wall, was taken over by the city.

Senator Lane made a scathing attack on "taking care of Highland Park" (a swank Dallas suburb) when the state is having a hard time finding money "to pay the old age pensioners."

DANIEL OPPOSES FEDERAL TAX

Governor Daniel asked the National Governors Conference to join him in opposing an increase in the federal tax on gasoline.

Congress is considering President Eisenhower's recommend 15 cent per gallon increase to pump new life into the federal highway building program.

Governor Daniel charged the federal government would have plenty of money for the highway program if it would quit using gasoline tax money for other purposes. He said further gasoline taxing should be left to the states, which need the money worse.

Earlier this year the governor mentioned the gasoline tax as a possible source of additional future revenue. State gasoline tax is presently 5 cents a gallon; federal tax, 3 cents a gallon.

Dividend To Be Paid On National Service Insurance Policies

A special dividend of $4,000,000 will be paid this year to 85,000 national Service Life Insurance policy-holders who carried the $5 total disability income provision, the Veterans Administration said today.

This provision provides the insured veteran a monthly income of $5 per month for each $1,000 of insurance in force in the event he becomes totally disabled, and costs him an additional premium.

Payments will start in July and eligible to receive the dividend are those veterans whose disability rider was in force on December 31, 1958. The amount of the dividend will depend on the age group, plan and number of months the insurance was in force, the VA explained.

Because their group has not accumulated any surplus, those who were issued disability riders prior to January 1, 1950, by virtue of waiver of good health requirements due to service-incurred disability, will not participate in this special dividend.

VA officials pointed out that there are more than 5,000,000 veterans eligible to apply for disability insurance benefits. Information and rate schedules can be obtained at any VA office.

TEXAS PEANUT GROWERS won a victory when the Department of Agriculture last week announced a revision of U. S. Standards for shelled Spanish peanuts and for shelled Virginia type peanuts. Many of us who represent peanut growers have been fighting for that concession for months, even years.

Southwestern growers have been discriminated against for years. The new directive on grades is not all we wanted but reduces the discrimination.

The conference is sponsored by the Texas Livestock Auction Market Association and the Texas A & M College System and will be conducted by Miller's department.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

Letter

ALL STOPPERS have been pulled out in the battle over a labor control bill in the House this week.

The lines are drawn between those who want no legislation — or virtually none — and those who feel that as a result of disclosures by the McClelland committee some additional laws are needed to curb corruption and racketeering by irresponsible labor leaders.

The House has before it two choices: one, a bill reported by the House Labor committee, and two, a substitute bill by Congressman Landrum of Georgia and Griffin of Michigan.

The committee bill is a pitifully weak and meaningless excuse for a labor bill. The substitute measure is a middle-of-the-road, fair and moderate bill. It will have the support of those who really want something done and who do not need the Hoffa threats. It has my support. It would outlaw secondary boycotts, "hot cargo" contracts, blackmail and extortion picketing, etc. It would do nothing to hinder or interfere with legitimate activities of honest labor unions, and would in fact provide security and protection for the rights of union members.

But it will be a tough battle, with a sizeable amount of politics mixed in. Observers claim it will give an indication of the effect of CIO-Cope's activities in last fall's election, following which COPE announced 221 of the 436 members of the House and 53 of the 98 Senators were beholden to them and their legislative desires.

All singers and those who enjoy hearing this type singing are invited to be present.

MRS. EVA CONLEY HAS SURGERY

YOUR EYES and VISION By A. L. SPERRY, O.D. Director Public Education Texas Optometric Association

It's Suicide With Sunglasses

The fact that history tells us Nero in his hey-day used a cut emerald for a sunglass indicates that man has long recognized the fact that in some circumstances the eye is made much more comfortable by shading out some of the existing light.

Most of us in indoor work have an average of 25 to 75 ft. candles of light under which we spend the greater part of our day and this as much as anything is the reason so many of us desire outdoor sunglasses help when we do come out of our "holes."

Now, a few pointers on proper sunglass wearing (1) do not—repeat, DO NOT wear sunglasses at night. I know the approaching headlights are bright on the highways.

Every safety organization, every authority on lighting and our vision will positively advise against this fairly common suicidal practice.

Do Not use sunglass tints for constant wear. In an emergency-like while riding glasses are being required for while recuperating from a shin splint.

New Bush Type Watermelons On Way

College Station — The production of watermelons per acre may soon be doubled by planting the "bush" types, which have most of the desirable characteristics of present vine types. The bush melons appear capable of producing a normal number of melons of size comparable to those produced by vine plants, but only half the space is required, reports H. C. Mohr, associate professor, Department of Horticulture, Texas A & M College.

Most of the present bush bred lines, some produce red-fleshed melons which vary from New Hampshire Midget size to Black Diamond size. Also Mohr adds, disease resistance is equal or superior to that of the Charleston Gray in many of these lines. These new type melons are being further tested and no seed are available at present.

STUDENT GUIDANCE: Occupational Information

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fourth in a series of articles concerning the need of student guidance in American schools.

By Dr. Edward C. Roerber

In this fourth article of a series on vocational guidance, we are putting the spotlight on the importance of knowing something about the educational and vocational worlds which surround all of us. Because we come in daily contact with a part of these worlds, it is easy to form opinions without seeing the total picture. Or because we assume that there are none.

What is it about a job that pleases you or causes you to be unhappy about it? Your answer and that of your neighbor would probably be quite different.

One farmer says, "I like farming — it's out-of-doors and a healthy job!" Another disagrees, "Farming's OK, but the outside work is the worst part of it — and it's unhealthy, too."

Students also show different reactions to school and work. It is important that sound career planning does not overlook this fact. Students need reliable information about schools and jobs. They also need a chance to talk over how they feel about schools and jobs in relationship to their own growing interests, talents, and personality.

For many years, I have had some fun talking to adolescents about occupations. Interestingly enough many of them have definite notions. Workers in some of the occupations, though, might not always like these opinions. And their statements in these impressions are common to many adolescents. They explain why it is tough to find good careers in the occupation. Three recent comments were:

When I think of librarians, I always think of a quiet, mousey little person sitting in a pile of books, and answering foolish questions.

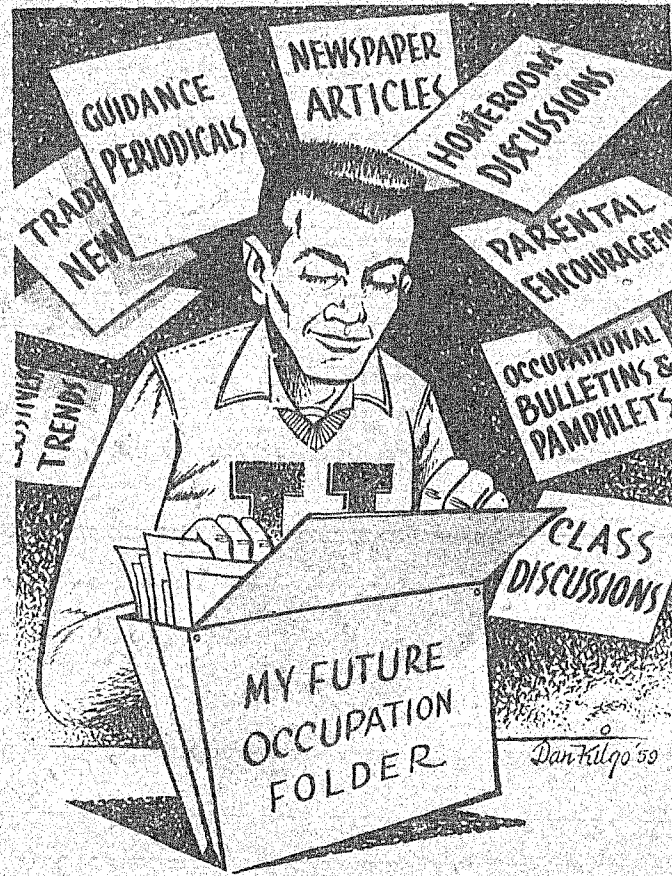

When I think of a scientist, I think of a sort of an odd guy fooling around with test tubes, not paying much attention to anything else.

When I think of a college professor, I think of some absent-minded character trying to cut his front lawn with a vacuum cleaner.

Anyone who has observed librarians, scientists, and college professors at work would know that these descriptions were not based upon careful study. Instead, they were pictures which these adolescents developed without reliable information. You can see what reaction you might get if anyone suggested that the first student become a librarian.

In helping boys and girls with educational and vocational planning, counselors and teachers have to begin many times with these distorted pictures. As soon as possible, they introduce students to reliable forms of information. Even the boys and girls may not wish to accept the information and instead may make only minor changes in their attitudes.

Counselors and teachers need more knowledge and skill to use information than most people recognize. Once again it is important to emphasize that counseling can help students understand how their needs can be met in school, at work, and during leisure-time. The opportunity for students to talk over their attitudes toward school achievement, vocational aspirations, and how they plan to make the best possible use of their talents cannot be stressed too much. They should be encouraged to start a collection of helpful occupational information when they enter high school. This practice should be continued until graduation.

A typical counselor's day demands considerable knowledge, as well as resources of information, if he is to satisfy all inquiries by students and parents. Cal is soon leaving junior high school and must choose among various senior high curricula and subjects. As he prepares to make these choices, he wants information about the curricula and what he can do with each one. He may also want rather definite information about the content of the school subjects in these curricula. Because he intends to graduate from senior high school, he must understand the graduation requirements.

Marsha is about ready to graduate from high school. Over a period of time she has been thinking about three possibilities after high school: beautician, school, airline hostess training, and nurses' training. She has needed much information, such as description of the occupations themselves, the kinds and descriptions of schools and training available, as well as how she could best use her high school program to prepare for them.

Henry has wanted to go into a branch of the armed services for a long time. He spent a lot of time looking over the materials furnished by the services. He was searching for training in electronics. In addition, the many reserve and enlistment programs were carefully examined and discussed with the recruiting officers.

Joan has taken a college prep course. She has been undecided about attending a small college or a large university. She wanted information concerning entrance requirements, cost, kinds of courses and instruction available, housing facilities, and other resources. It was largely a matter of weighing one school against another, visiting a couple of them, and finding the one which would best meet her needs. Furthermore, she eventually wanted information and help in completing admission blanks.

While in high school, Russell developed an interest in the printing trades, taking the printing courses offered by the school. In addition, he sought information about apprenticeship programs, unions, two-year college programs in printing, trade schools, and the general outlook for finding jobs and getting ahead in the trade.

Celia has never wanted to go to college and so she took commercial courses. She was particularly interested in the kinds of jobs available in her home town. This information included duties, salaries, fringe benefits, employment interviews and testing.

There are many kinds of materials, some free, available to students and their parents. To aid them in locating printed occupational materials which meet acceptable standards, they may wish to secure the NVGA Bibliography of Current Occupational Literature from the American Personnel and Guidance Association, 1605 New Hampshire Avenue, N.W., Washington 9, D. C.

Current occupational information is made available to many students through semi-monthly guidance publications. In addition students see films which show men and women at work, or they observe and talk with college students and workers themselves. Every community is a laboratory of educational and occupational life. In most instances, young people need only the proper leadership from counselors and teachers.

About Your HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. HOLLE, D. D., Commissioner of Health

We don't know how you feel about it, but we're watching out this year for those nasty Megalopyge opercularis. For those of you who don't have an entomology textbook handy — that's a moth, commonly called "asp" or "puss caterpillar", in the larval stage.

These brown or grey, semi-crescent shaped larvae may become extremely abundant, feeding on the foliage of a variety of trees and shrubs.

Schools have experienced difficulty in the past as a result of the prevalence of the insects on school yard trees. They represent a very real problem to householders during warmer months.

The large number of requests for information concerning the "puss caterpillars" now being received by Texas State Department of Health entomologists indicates a population peak of these insects.

Everyone should familiarize themselves with the appearance and medical importance of these stinging caterpillars. Children, in particular, should be warned to avoid them.

Individual reaction to the sting varies greatly, dependent upon many factors such as age, sensitivity status, size of caterpillar, area of skin involved, and the amount of pressure on contact.

A mature larva dropping from a tree into a person's shirt or blouse and mashed against the skin in several places before being retrieved would likely cause a much more painful condition than the simple act of brushing an exposed arm or leg against a small specimen.

A burning pain is felt almost immediately on contact. Small, raised whitish spots appear, later becoming red. The inflamed area may spread for several inches, accompanied by swelling.

The resulting skin reaction frequently lasts for several days. Further systemic symptoms may arise of an allergic nature.

If illness develops, a physician should be promptly consulted. For localized reactions a sodium bicarbonate soak or one of the many soothing lotions and ointments may help to relieve the itching.

If you need to kill them out, a spray made up of lead arsenate (two tablespoons per gallon of water) or 50 percent wettable DDT (two tablespoons per gallon of water) will probably prove successful.

LOCAL TILE CONTRACTOR ATTENDS HOUSTON STATEWIDE MEETING

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Horne, of the Santa Anna Tile Co., attended the statewide quarterly meeting of the Texas Ceramic Tile Contractors in Houston, held at the Ben Millam Hotel, recently.

The two-day meeting heard talks on better standards of ceramic installation and promoting tile sales to the public.

"Many industry-wide problems and developments were discussed at the meeting," said Mr. Horne.

REUNION FOR FORMER PATIENTS AT GONZALES

Gonzales — Former patients of the Texas Rehabilitation Center of Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation who reside in the Santa Anna area are invited to attend the third annual reunion of former patients Sunday, August 23, at the Center.

As far as officials of the Foundation know, this is the only hospital in the United States which holds reunions for its former patients.

Only with the permission of Congress may an officer in the U. S. Government accept a title of nobility or order of honor from another country.

Today's MEDITATION from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room
© THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read Hebrews 12:1-6.
When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child. (Corinthians 13:11.)

When I was a little girl, my parents often entertained visiting ministers. My brother and I enjoyed having them in our home and loved to listen to them as they relaxed and visited. Having both a grandfather and an uncle in the ministry, I was less shy with ministers than with other folks.

One time I remember especially, although I could not have been more than six years old, I was introduced to a visiting minister. He put his hand on my head and said, gently, "Tois, may you grow up to be a blessing like Lois, the grandmother of Timothy."

I know I went to church and heard the sermon that good man preached, as nothing but illness kept any of us from church. I confess, however, that I cannot remember any of his sermon. But his one act of laying his hand on my head and those words he spoke to me have been with me all my life.

This is part of my precious Christian heritage.

PRAYER:

Our Father, we remember with deepest love and gratitude all those who so gently led us through our childhood days. We thank Thee for Thy watchful care and the deep love that cherishes us. Use us to bless those whom we meet and to help them follow Thee. In Jesus' name we ask it. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

The world is a school where God would teach us to love one another as Christ loves us.

CATTLE MARKING STILL THE LAW

The practice of branding livestock was brought to America by the Spaniards over 400 years ago.

The Spanish government granted and recorded brands which guaranteed the exclusive ownership of such marks to certain individuals. This system was adopted in Texas by the early settlers, and brand records were kept in the court-houses as they are today under present State laws.

The purpose for branding livestock is to establish proof of ownership. Tattoos and ear marks have been used alone and with brands, but brands have proved to be the most effective means of identification.

Brands and marks were designed to discourage theft of livestock by providing a ready method of identification. Today Texas brand inspectors have estimated that only 25 percent of all cattle now going to market are branded.

As early as 1848, Texas cattlemen realized that a brand inspector was needed to cover movement and marketing operations to prevent theft of cattle. The state enacted legislation which authorized such an inspector to operate in each county. The Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association and other livestock associations hired their own brand inspectors to protect the herds of their members. These men today do most of the brand inspecting, since the number of county inspectors has declined.

In 1943, a statute was enacted to bring about a current record of all legally used brands and marks. Therefore, at the present, all marks and brands recorded since the first day of October 1943 are the only legally used brands and marks in the state.

The Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association provides field inspections for livestock belonging to their members before departure from farms, ranches or shipping points. The field inspectors carry special commissions as Texas Rangers, which gives them full authority for law enforcement. They search for strayed or stolen animals, check shipping points and try to locate thieves when theft is reported. They are present at the loading of cattle moving out of their areas. And they inspect brands to determine whether the shipper has title to all cattle offered for shipment.

In order for the country dealer or trader to legally take possession of the livestock he has bought, he must have a written transfer or bill of sale. The bill of sale requires that the brands and marks be listed and recorded in the county clerk's office. The seller and the country dealer or trader must inspect the animals exchanged to obtain all the marks of identification for this required record.

Although some of the brand laws in Texas are obsolete and the enforcement machinery in most cases is inadequate, the wise stock raiser would do well to brand or mark his stock to prevent any future question of doubt as to ownership.
