

snakes (mostly rattle The snakes) have it! And so far as we are concerned, we will keep a safe distance away as long as we know the rattler is around. Seriously, during the past several weeks an increasing number of rattle snakes have been killed in the residential area of Santa Anna. We have heard of some being as small as just over a foot long up to some being six feet or more. So far as we know, no one has been struck by one. but these things are especially dangerous this time of the year. So we advise each of you to be very careful when you are in or near any kind of obstruction they can hide in. They will strike with very little provcation.

It seems our efforts to get reports from various areas about unusual growth of anything raised in this area has about fizzled out. We have not even heard of any exceptional growth in the past several weeks. Going into the cotton gathering season, it seems most everyone is of the opinion the cotton crop has turned out to be very large stalks with a very small amount of cotton on the stalk. We have heard a number of our farmer a Club Sweetheart. The meeting friends make the statement that their crop last year was better than it would be this year. During the heavy rains that fell in late June and July it seemed in Santa Anna High School, was a certainty the cotton would elected Club Sweetheart. She make a bumper crop.

OUTCOME OF THE BATTLE over proposed labor regulations on agriculture workers remains In doubt following two days of hearings by a Labor Department Hearing Examiner last week.

At least two dozen Texans. maybe more, were present. speaking t^{5} for practically all farmers and ranchers in the State. I filed a statement in opposition to the proposed regulations.

I maintained the effect of the regulations would be to by-pass Congress and by executive order to impose upon agriculture controls that have been denied by Congress, and which are "unnecessary, unjustified, and unsound".

The proposed regulations would require all employers of farm and ranch labor, who make use of state and federal employment agencies, to pay the recruited labor prevailing wages (as found and determined by the Secretary of Labor); provide transportation costs of the emloyees (if so determined by the Secretary of Labor). The opposition to these unecessary and wholly unjustified attempts to regulate agriculture got a big asset from Se retary of Agriculture Benson who told his fellow Cabinet officer. Secretary of Labor Mitchell, he was attempting to bring about "undue and unnecessary regulation of the farm economy", which he described as "regimentation that is repugnant to agriculture"

War Orphans Not Taking Advantage Of Education Act One third of the eligible young people are failing to take advantage of the War Orphans Education Act due to a misunderstanding of the law, the Veterans Administration estimates.

VA says there are three major misconceptions:

(a) Many of the eligible young people fail to think of themselves as orphans while one parent is still living. But the law. regards the children of a parent who died from a war-time service-connected injury or illness as orphans even with the other parent alive.

(b) Eligible children who have married offtimes consider themselves no longer eligible for the educational privileges. Y e t marriage has no bearing upon eligibility under the War Orphans Education Act.

(c) Some eligible children believe that they must pursue training only at the college level under this law. VA pointed County in 1900 and moved to sium on nuclear fusion at the may be pursued for various occupations in the vocational and

Sept. 30 May Be Important Date To Retired Dependents

September 30 may be an important date for you if you were dependent on a working son or daughter who died at some time after 1939.

Before August, 1958, many parents who inquired about their eligibility for social security survivor's payments were told that they could not qualify because the son or daughter was survived by a widow, widower or child. Now a 1958 change in the law-makes benefits payable to dependent parents as well as to other survivors. If you are at retirement age and if you were being supported by your son or daughter at the time he or she died, you should inquire at your social security office before September 30 to get all of the benefits due you. September 30 is an important day because if applications are not filed with the social security oifice by that date, some back payments may be lost. Surviving parents, who are not yet of retirement age should also get in touch with their social security offices before too much time has passed. Proof of support must be furnished within two years of August 1958 or within two years of the son or daughter's death, whichever is later.

The mailing address of the octal security office which social services this county is Box 5168, Abilene, Texas.

New Scoreboard To Operate Friday Night

The new all-electric football storeboard will be in operation for the Santa Anna-Bronte game Friday night. Most of the equipment had arrived by mid-week and the remaining part was due to arrive anytime.

¹ > The scoreboard has been pur-chased by the Santa Anna Jun-for Chamber of Commerce and will be operated by them. It will be operated from near the board for the remainder of the season. Next year they will attempt to install fremote control opera-Klinn.

The bhard will be 15, feet high and 18 feet long. It, will show the score for both teams, who has possession of the ball, what down and vardage to go, the "quarter and time to be played in the quarter. Allyn Gill, presi-dent of the Jaycees said this was the Tinest scoreboard available at this time.

at this time. J The Cost of the scoreboard was $1:595. The Jaycees, have three years in which to pay the entire years in which do pay the entire amount. They are in charge of the football program and sell them at the gate for 10 cents each. A number of advert-isements have also been sold on the program. All the proceeds go to help pay for the new addi-tion to the football field.
