Mountain Echoes

By Barbara Kingsbery

The most likely echo from the local mountains would be FOOTBALL as the Santa Anna boys gave an exciting performance Friday night to defeat the Hico team. The entire town is supporting the Mountaineers as they try for the Class B finale—the Regional championship.

Friends here received word from Eddie Jones, a member of the 1966 district championship team, wishing success for the 1971 team and joining in congratulations. Eddie is now in the Navy in California.

Among the former Santa Anna people attending the Friday night football game at Comanche were Rev. and Mrs. Raymond Jones of Cotton Center, Allyn and Bess Gill of San Marcos, Wyndell Sparkman of Houston, and several others. It's good to see former residents with a continuing interest in their home town.

The Santa Anna National Bank purchased and donated a large trophy for the Bi-District winner, which happily was brought back to Santa Anna. The local team also brought home the game ball which will be put on display in the trophy case at high school.

Frank Tolbert, noted author and writer with the Dallas Morning News, phoned us one day last week to check on a rumor. It seems a junior high schudent in Victoria wrote Mr. Tolbert to ask for information about Santa Anna changing its name!

Even kindergarten kids can show concern and interest in their little friends, according to Sue Newman, local teacher.

The entire class discussed the impending tonsillectomy of a little classmate, Paul Vasquez. Cute little Casey Anderson put her finger to her nose and said, "Paul is having his nostrils removed."

Christmas is just around the corner, despite all we can do. One of the most interesting features in the big Christmas edition are the letters to Santa Claus written by local and area children. Letters must in the NEWS office by Wednesday, Dec. 15, to be included in the special greeting edition.

Please help your children get their letters to Santa written and brought or mailed to the NEWS office right away.

JHS Basketball

The Santa Anna Junior High basketball teams have games on Thursday night (tonight) and Monday night. The games tonight will be at the local gymnasium with the teams from Blanket. Games will begin at 6:30 p. m.

The Monday night games will be at Early, also beginning at 6:30 p. m. The two teams are seeking their first victories as they have been defeated in each previous outing this year.

Pep Rally Set For Friday P. M.

Everyone in the community is invited to attend the pep rally at the school gymnasium Friday afternoon at 2:15 p. m. preceding the regional football game. The pep rally will last until about 2:35 p. m.

Supt. Cullen Perry has announced plans for school to be dismissed at the end of the pep rally Friday afternoon. The early dismissal will make it possible for the rural busses to make their routes and return to school in time to transport the band to Lampasas.

Parents of local children are asked to note the early dismissal time Friday afternoon.

Tentative plans call for the football team to leave for Lampasas at 4:00 p. m. and the band and drill team to leave at 4:30.

SA Girls Team In Tourney At Cross Plains

Santa Anna High School girls basketball team will be playing in the Cross Plains tournament this weekend. The first game for the Santa Anna girls will be, with Albany at 12:00 noon Friday afternoon. The game was rescheduled to an earlier hour so that it would not conflict with the regional play-off football game Friday night.

In recent games for the Santa Anna cagers, Santa defeated Richland Springs in two games last week with the B team by a score of 32-17, and the A team by 46-21.

Top scorer for the B team was Becky Allen with twelve points. Bobbie Strickland led the A team with 18 points.

At Comanche on Monday night, the Santa Anna girls were defeated in both A and B team games. Becky Allen scored 7 points in the B team 67-10 loser, and Sherril McIver and Bobbie Strickland each scored 7 in the 67-24 defeat for the varsity team.

The Santa Anna boys team will be organized and into the season next Tuesday night when Jim Ned High School will be the visiting opponents. Game time on Tuesday night will be 7:00 p. m.

Saturday, Dec. 4, is the big day set to take living color pictures of your children. The NEWS is having pictures taken of all children who are accompanied by their parents or other guardian to the NEWS office between 11:00 a. m. and 7:00 p. m. absolutely free of charge or obligation.

The NEWS wants to publish a picture of your child in a photographic series of local children entitled "Citizens of Tomorrow."

A professional children's photographer will take the pictures in direct living color. We emphasize, therefore, that you dress the children colorfully to take advantage of the color photography.

There is no charge or obligation for taking the pictures. Parents do not even have to be a subscriber to the NEWS, nor even a reader. You do not have to purchase pictures either. Play Academy Friday Night For Regional

The Santa Anna Mountaineer football team played their best game of the season Friday night to defeat the Hico Tigers 37-34 in the Bi-District game at Comanche. The game was not for faint hearts, as the outcome of the game was anyone's guess until the final whistle.

Muscle won out over speed and quickness as the big Mountaineers outscored the favored Hico team and won the first bi-district title for the school. The Mounties will carry a 9-2 season record to the regional playoff Friday at Lampasas.

Academy High School near

Santa Anna and Academy High School officials met in Lampasas Sunday afternoon to arrange the regional play-off between the two schools.

Santa Anna will represent the home team Friday night at 7:30 p. m. as the teams meet at Lampasas High School stadium. The Lampasas school will prepare the field, furnish tickets and programs and operate the concession stands. Each school will select two officials for the game.

Tickets for the championship game will be $2.00 for adults and $1.00 for students. As home team, Santa Anna will use the west side of the stadium.

Temple will be the opponents in the championship tilt, bringing an 8-3 season record including a 21-8 bi-district victory over the Bartlett High School team last week. Academy High School is a rural school between Temple and Belton and has an enrollment of about 130 students. They are representing District 19-B. Game time Friday night will be 7:30 p. m.

The Friday night game with Hico was the first loss of the season for the Tigers, ranked 10th in the state polls.

The Mountaineers netted 344 yards for the night, controlling the ball in the ground assault led by David Horner and Ricky Beal. The two tough backs racked up 275 yards. Beal, a senior co-captain, totaled 165 yards while Horner, the junior quarterback, had 110 yards and six extra points. Each team had five touchdowns.

The biggest lead of the night was 10 points by Santa Anna. The first score was made by Hico in the early part of the first quarter. Hico led 12-7 at the first quarter and Santa Anna was ahead 13-12 at halftime. Hico went ahead early in the third quarter after a TD on a long pass. Santa Anna regained the lead and stayed ahead the rest of the game. However Hico was on the Santa Anna 20 as the game ended.

The first score for the Mounties came on a 40-yard sprint by David Huggins after - See MOUNTIES, Page 10 -

The big Christmas parade and holiday opening for the community have been postponed for one week due to the regional play-off football game scheduled for the December 3 date. The Christmas opening will be held on Friday, Dec. 10.

The Santa Anna Lions Club postponed the pancake fiesta until Dec. 10 to coincide with the parade and other activities.

The drawings will be substantial ones as only two will be held. Also included on Dec. 24 will be a drawing for toys for children. Miss Hosch, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hosch is a junior at Santa Anna High School. She was appointed correspondent by Mrs. Winnie McQueen, her home economics teacher.

Selected for qualities of leadership and enthusiasm for home economics, Miss Hosch will serve as junior advisor to Co-ed editors.

BI-DIST. GAME NETS SA $982

Sandra Cammack, Santa Anna School District business manager, submitted a report on the receipts of the Santa Anna-Hico bi-district football game last week.

The total gate receipts were $2,122.25. Cost for the four officials and their mileage was $158.20, giving a net receipt of $1,964.05.

The receipts were divided by the two schools with Santa Anna receiving $982.02 from the one game.

Due to the revenue from the Friday night play-off game the Santa Anna schools athletic program will be operated this year solely on gate receipts. This is the first time in four years local maintenance funds have not been needed to help pay for the program.

Receipts from the Friday regional game will also be divided between the two participating schools after fees and mileage of officials are paid.

Local Youths On Program In Brownwood

The youth choir of the Santa Anna United Methodist Church will participate in a special Festival of Advent program in Brownwood on Sunday, Dec. 5. The special service will be held in the Brownwood Coliseum from 3:00 to 5:30 p. m.

Included on the program will be a guest speaker. Special music will be presented by the youth choirs from Methodist churches in the Central Texas District. The Howard Payne College choir will also present several selections.

Better Late Than Never... First Bale of Cotton Here

The first bales of cotton ginned at the Santa Anna Co-op Gin were taken to the gin on Monday, Nov. 29, and ginner on Tuesday, Nov. 30. According to Vernon Rowe, Co-op Gin manager, this is the latest for the ginning season to begin in our community and the poorest harvest to his knowledge.

Bert Cole of the Concord community south of Bangs is the producer of the first bales of cotton. The two bales are from early cotton which Cole defoliated and stripped from approximately 15 acres. Mr. Cole will have more cotton to gin but the remainder will be after frost and natural defoliation.

Mr. Rowe has made only an estimate of the harvest this year but expects no more than 50 bales for the entire season. What cotton is ginned will be quite late as more cold weather is needed for defoliation.

In Our Opinion

By W. T. HAYS

CHILE, AFTER a communist take-over, is once again demonstrating the fate of those that fall under the heel of a government of men. The men charge behave no differently than the kings of old who practiced thievery and murder with impunity.

Time magazine reports that dictator of Chile, although nominally acting within the due process of law, has succeeded in confiscating hundreds of millions of dollars of private property without paying a dime. The formula is highly complicated. The Chilean government will deduct nearly three quarters of a billion dollars in "excess profits" from the compensation due to two American companies for the seizure of their properties. As Time puts it, "In effect, that means that the two companies will receive not a penny for their properties."

Here is a classic example of the kind of "royal thievery" that men have committed in the name of government since the dawn of history. America's founding fathers foresaw the danger and sought to avoid it by limiting and dividing the powers of government. Those in the United States, who today, ask too much of government are asking for a return to the rule of men rather than the rule of law.

TODAY, AS FEW people are involved in the business of agriculture, it is more imperative than ever for young people to have some knowledge of what is takes to produce food and fiber for a nation of more than 200 million people. In spite of the need for such knowledge, and in spite of the fact that the professed goal of governmental planners is to encourage decentralization and a back to the land movement, there appears to be almost a conspiracy to drive youth off the nation's farms.

A law is now proposed to prohibit the employment by farmers of workers under 16 except under federal supervisory regulation. An official of The American Farm Bureau Federation, in expressing his organization's opposition to passage of the bill, observes that, "An imperative problem of the seventies is to provide more jobs for teen-agers — not to throw more restrictions and limitations around such employment..."

Current proposed amendments revising the minimum wage and hour provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act would also strike at employment opportunity in agriculture. Every time the minimum wage is boosted, it increases the ranks of the unemployed among unskilled and part-time workers, especially among the young. Of this, the nation's largest farm organization, The American Farm Bureau Federation, says, "We oppose any increase in the minimum wage and the extension of coverage to additional groups... Many farm workers are persons with handicaps which have prevented their obtaining permanent employment elsewhere. Minimum wage laws are pricing many such workers out of the market, curtailing their employment opportunity and leaving welfare rolls as their only resort."

Laws that literally drive people off the nation's farms make no sense at a time when the need is for greater population dispersal and employment.

DEBBIE HORTON, RODDY DEAN WED IN COLEMAN NOVEMBER 27

Miss Debra Dian Horton and Rodney Wade Dean were married on Saturday, Nov. 27, at 7:00 p. m. at the Emanuel Baptist Church in Coleman. Rev. Paul Hubbard, pastor of the church, read the double ring vows. Mr. and Mrs. Rondoe Horton and Mr. and Mrs. Rodney L. Dean are parents of the couple.

White wrought iron candelabras holding tall white tapers flanked a matching scrollwork archway. The archway was decorated with white gladiolas, blue carnations and greenery. Aisle markers were crystal votive lights atop clusters of flowers and tied with white satin ribbon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a formal dress of empire style in lace over peau de soie. Long lace sleeves came to points at the wrists. Her veil of white illusion edged in lace was attached to pearl and net petals.

The bride's bouquet was of pink sweetheart roses and white feathered carnations tied with white satin ribbon.

Darlene Matthews of Coleman, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Her gown was an empire style in baby blue velvet. Her headpiece was of matching color with a short veil of illusion edged in matching lace. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Gay Rutherford and Beth and Linda Dean, sisters of the groom were bridesmaids. They wore dresses of royal blue velvet identical to the maid of honor. Their headpieces were of matching colors and the bouquets were also of white carnations.

Rosemary Matthews of Coleman, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and attired in a baby blue velvet gown.

Rocky Dean served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Terry Watts of Ft. Worth and Kit Dean, cousins of the groom, and Billy Matthews, cousin of the bride.

Michael Montgomery of Odessa, cousin of the bride, and David Horner were ushers. Ernie Coyle and Steve Pollock, cousins of the groom, lighted candles. Ring bearers were Randy and John Casey, cousins of the bride.

Wedding music was provided by Jimmy Benton, who accompanied Nancy Baugh as she sang "The Lord's Prayer" er" and "The Twelfth of Never."

As the couple left the altar they each presented their mother with a red rose.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Horton chose a pastel blue princess style dress and white accessories. Her corsage was a cymbidium orchid. Mrs. Dean wore a three-piece ensemble in beige with beige accessories and an orchid corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride's parents were hosts at a reception at the REA clubroom. Janet Wells registered guests.

The bride's table was covered with a white bouffant cloth and centered with the attendants' bouquets. Appointments were of crystal.

Frankie Matthews, Betty Streng and Mindy Casey, cousins of the bride, served the cake and punch.

The bride and groom are both 1971 graduates of Santa Anna High School. She was cheerleader, vice-president of the student council, on the basketball team and annual staff, runner-up for both Most Beautiful Girl and Miss SAHS, and was football and FFA sweetheart last year.

Mr. Dean was student council president, football captain for two years, FHA beau, FFA vice-president, and Mr. SAHS and Most Handsome Boy his senior year.

The couple will reside at 302 South 2nd Street in Santa Anna. She is employed at Ranger Park Hospital and he is employed at a local service station.

Homemaker Test Will Be Given On December 7

High school senior girls here will be among more than 600,000 in nearly 15,000 schools across the country who will participate in a 50-minute written knowledge and attitude examination on Tuesday, Dec. 7. Scores in the test will provide the first basis for judging which will eventually award a total of $11,000 in college scholarships in the 18th annual Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow. Sponsored by General Mills, the Search is the only national scholarship program exclusively for high school senior girls.

Following grading of the examination, a Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow will be named for the high school here. She will receive a specially designed award charm, and will remain in the running for state and national honors.

State Homemakers of Tomorrow—one from each state and the District of Columbia—will be awarded $1,500.00 scholarships, with their schools receiving a set of Encyclopaedia Britannica. A runner-up in each state will be awarded a $500 educational grant.

Next spring, the 51 state winners, each accompanied by a faculty adviser, will join for an expense-paid educational tour of Colonial Williamsburg, Va., and Washington, D. C. On the basis of personal observation and interviews, the 1972 Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow and three runners-up will be announced at the conclusion of the tour. They will receive increases in their scholarships to $5,000, $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000.

New to the Betty Crocker Search this year is a special $1,000 nutrition scholarship. It will be awarded to a young woman who is planning a college major in nutrition or a related field, scores among the highest in her state on the overall Search examination and achieves the highest score among those meeting these first two criteria on the examination's nutrition items.

Deer Hunting Big Business For Hunters, Ranchers, Merchants

One of the largest businesses in Texas opens its doors in November.

Its 510,000 customers will spend about $88 million in about two months.

The business will utilize 37 million acres of leased land, and the processed product will be worth more than $6 million.

It's the annual fall deer season in Texas, an event anxiously awaited by hunters as well as hardware store owners, ranchers and packing house operators.

The economic impact of the deer harvest in the state is becoming well known to most Texans. But oddly enough, the impact could be greater yet if all the areas populated by deer were used properly, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials.

A total of 290,706 deer was legally taken during the 1970 season. That's a lot of deer, but the total represents only about nine per cent of the herd.

Biologists say under most conditions an annual harvest of 15 per cent to 25 per cent of the herd is appropriate. In fact, studies have shown that a higher harvest rate results in a healthier deer herd from year to year.

The acreage of lease land is expected to increase about 11 per cent this fall, indicating an awareness on the part of many landowners of the value of deer as a marketable resource. But department biologists note that many owners of large tracts of land fail to put enough gun pressure on their deer herds, resulting in stunted deer and over-grazed land.

The state's overall deer population is remaining fairly stable at around 3.2 million animals, but civilization's constant inroads on deer habitats are likely to reduce that number in the next few years.

Biologists say the annual deer kill in Texas accounts for approximately 7,500,000 pounds of boneless meat.

Robert E. Beal Born On Friday

Mr. and Mrs. Davey Beal are the parents of a baby boy born on Friday, Nov. 26. The baby weighed seven pounds, one ounce, and was named Robert Edgar.

Grandparents of the baby are Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. George Leonard all of Santa Anna.

Mrs. Onita Curtis of Coleman and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jones of Fisk are the great-grandparents, and Mrs. Lena Jones, also of Fisk, is a paternal great-great-grandmother.

HERE FOR WEEKEND

Holiday visitors in the home of Mrs. S. K. Moredock were her children, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tucker and three children of Odessa, and Kenneth Moredock and son of Houston.

The visitors arrived Wednesday and stayed until Sunday.

LODGE MEETING

Mountain Lodge No. 661 AF & AM will meet on Thursday each month at 7:30 p. m. Visitors are welcome. James F. Martin, Worshipful Master and James D. Rice, Secretary.

Figuring at the current price of ground chuck beef in the stores, at about 85 cents per pound, the value of the venison expected to be taken by hunters in Texas this year is $6,375,000.

This is a considerable dollar-value, but when the total average cost of a deer hunt is calculated it becomes obvious that the deer hunter pays dearly for that package of venison.

The deer season in most Texas counties opens Nov. 13, but prospective deer hunters should check the department's 1971-72 Hunting Guide for local seasons and regulations. The guides are available at locations where hunting licenses are sold and department offices across the state.

Social Security Helps Severely Disabled People

People who receive monthly disability benefits from social security are severely disabled, yet many are helped by rehabilitation, according to Don Austin, field representative in Santa Anna.

"Social security disability benefits are paid to eligible people with severe, long-lasting physical or mental impairments," Austin said. "Still one in five receives rehabilitation services paid for State, Federal, local, or private agencies. Of these beneficiaries, one in 10 receives financial help for vocational rehabilitation from social security."

Rehabilitation includes job training, physical therapy and similar services.

About 1.5 million disabled workers and 1.5 million dependents receive about $3 billion a year in monthly disability benefits from social security. About $24 million has been allocated by social security to help pay for rehabilitation services for selected disability cases this year.

"Since the social security beneficiary rehabilitation program began in 1965," Austin said, "more than 7,100 people who had been receiving social security disability benefits had those benefits terminated because they were able to return to gainful work."

Disabled workers with good potential for rehabilitation are referred to State vocational agencies by social security according to Austin.

Sorghum Shorts

Historical Briefs About America's Versatile Annual

Though no one knows for sure when and where man first grew sorghums, records show they were cultivated in Africa, China and India — 4,000 years ago!

While sorghum grain is similar to corn — it is higher in protein and lower in fat.

In some countries, people chew the sweet stalks of the sorghum — the way some people chew sugar cane.

Little things can mean a lot to modern sorghum growers, and many add small amounts of a minor element like Sequestrene zinc chelate to their soil — to break through "yield barriers" caused by micronutrient deficiencies.

When they hear the word "sorghum," a lot of people think of syrup — yet most varieties of sorghum do not have sweet stems!

MRS. GREGG'S GUESTS

Holiday visitors with Mrs. J. J. Gregg were her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Gregg of San Antonio, who arrived with a turkey and trimmings for the Thanksgiving dinner. They were joined Thursday evening by a daughter, Mrs. Mary Jo Schulle of Watonga, Okla. and a friend, Adolph Tennyson, who visited until Sunday.

VISIT FORT STOCKTON

WORDS FOR THOUGHT!

At age 20 we don't care what the world thinks of us; at age 30 we begin to worry about what it thinks of us; at age 50 we find it wasn't thinking of us at all.

ASC News . . .

by Joe K. Taylor

Farmers may make even more substitution of barley, feed grain, and wheat after a year's experience operating under the increased decision-making freedom of the set-aside programs. Such shifts should mean increased efficiency and better profit margins.

The major change in the 1972 Wheat Program over 1971 is the more liberal substitution allowed. Under the substitution provision, a farmer may substitute wheat for feed grains or feed grains for wheat.

Acreage planted to feed grain or soybeans will be considered planted to wheat to prevent loss of allotment. Acreage devoted to wheat or soybeans will be considered planted to feed grain to prevent loss of the feed grain base.

A producer with a feed grain base and a wheat allotment can plant his eligible cropland acreage to wheat, corn, grain sorghum, barley, or soybeans without loss of base and allotment. Also, he can receive both wheat certificates and feed grain payments if he signs up in both programs, meets the set-aside requirements of both programs and maintains his farm's conserving base.

Under the current program, the farmer may plant as much wheat or any other non-quota crop as he wishes after he has met his acreage set-aside and conserving base requirements. Or he can choose not to plant any wheat.

Producers are not required to plant wheat to obtain certificates. However, failure to plant or be considered to have planted at least 90 per cent of a farm's 1972 domestic allotment of either wheat, corn, grain sorghum, barley or soybeans can result in a reduction in the 1973 allotment as much as 20 per cent. If no wheat or substitute is planted for three consecutive years the entire allotment can be lost.

All allotments removed from farms will be reallocated to other wheat farms in future years.

The increased flexibility and management decisions permitted by the present farm programs should enable a farmer to base his cropping decisions almost entirely on his land, skills, equipment, and other capital resources. This should mean increased efficiency, lower costs, and more profits for the American farmer.

Open House Set Sunday, Dec. 5 At Brownwood School for Girls

Formal open house of the Brownwood State School and Home for Girls will be held at 2:30 p. m. on Sunday, Dec. 5, under the sponsorship of the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce and the City of Brownwood.

Bill Streckert, President of the C of C, and Truman Harlow, Mayor of the City of Brownwood, indicated that committees are currently at work on plans for the open house.

The officials indicated that the school and home already are "very much a part of the community, and that the open house is planned not only to mark the completion of the facility, but also to manifest the strong spirit of friendship and cooperation between the community and the Brownwood School and Home for Girls."

By authority of the Texas

Legislature, the Texas Youth Council established the facility last fall to "provide a middle-ground training facility for minor offenders." Ron Jackson, superintendent of the Brownwood operation, said the unit is "designed for the first-time offenders, most of whom are run-aways and truants." He added that the TYC's Gainesville unit is for the hardened, habitual delinquent, and that the Crockett installation is for "in-between" offenders — those whose behavior is more serious than that of young ladies at the Brownwood school and home, but less serious than that of the persons assigned to Gainesville.

Also located in Brownwood is the State Reception center. Every girl in Texas between the age of 10 and 19 who is declared delinquent for truancy, running away or other offenses, or who is removed from her family because of neglect, is channeled through this center. Typically, a girl's stay in the center lasts three weeks, during which time she undergoes a battery of medical, social, psychological and educational tests. At the end of these tests, staff members who have worked with the girl determine where she will be assigned — Gainesville, Crockett or Brownwood.

Capacity of the Brownwood unit is 240 girls, housed in six dormitories of 40 girls each. Currently, there are about 80 girls there, and Jackson indicates the figure will probably not go over 120 during this year.

When construction was completed this fall, Brownwood State School and Home for Girls and the State Reception Center included 22 buildings, constructed at a cost of some $4 million. At the facility are the reception center, administration building, school, six dormitories, laundry building, warehouse, maintenance shop, chapel, gymnasium and eight residences for staff members. The residences are built on a "rim" surrounding the facility, which has "no fences or institutional green." One visitor has described the Congratulations to our Mountaineer football team! After the game last Friday night we can all be sure that our enthusiasm had a lot to do with the Bi-district victory over the Hico Tigers. Desire and hard work, plus school spirit and a lot of determination on everybody's part helped the Mounties to win this game. Our thanks on behalf of the high school student body goes to the people of Santa Anna for their great support of the team. We really do appreciate this backing and we'll try to continue winning.

School holidays are great. There's nothing like four days away from books, teachers and homework. On the other hand, there may be nothing better than four whole days away from students, students and more students. The only thing wrong with the Thanksgiving holidays was that it just wasn't long enough! Another holiday is coming along shortly. The Christmas holiday is just 12 more school days away!

"Hark the herald angels shout, twelve more days till school is out!"

During assembly Monday morning the football captains, Ricky Beal, Mark Wise and Ricky Dean, presented the school with the Bi-District Football Trophy and the facility as looking like "sleek, college-type buildings, with a look of a city within a city."

Jackson, a 30-year-old University of Texas graduate with a master's degree in social work, is uniquely suited for his job. As a youngster, he was once a "run-away," and he lived in privately operated homes for neglected children in Kansas City and in Harlingen until he was adopted at age 13. He says the goal of the Brownwood school and home is to train girls to become productive citizens, and allow them to return to their communities as soon as possible.

"We don't want them to stay here so long they become dependent on the school or the social worker," he said. "The average time a girl spends here is 12 months. If she stays much longer than that, we haven't done our job well enough."

B'Wood Co. Opens Coleman Office

Smith Bell and Edward J. Haffner, partners of the Smith Bell Co., Realtors of Brownwood, have announced the opening of a new office in Coleman. The office will be located at 108 Commercial Avenue.

Sales associates with the new branch will be C. M. Huckabee and Maurice Kingsbery.

Mr. Huckabee is a graduate of Texas A & M and a Navy veteran. He served 10 years with the extension service and 12 years with the Coleman County Farm Bureau as service agent. For the past one and one-half years he has operated his independent insurance agency.

Huckabee married Becky Horne in 1958 and they live six miles west of Santa Anna where they are engaged in ranching. He is a member of numerous civic and community clubs and organizations and active in youth work in the county.

Maurice Kingsbery is a Santa Anna native, the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Kingsbery. He is a SAHS graduate and attended Texas Tech University, majoring in animal husbandry. After military service he was employed by Balston Purina Co. where he became a district sales manager.

In 1968 Kingsbery returned to Coleman to operate the livestock farming operation with his father south of Santa Anna.

He married Rosalyn Wilson of Coleman in 1953. They have three children who attend the Coleman schools. Mr. Kingsbery is active in several county civic and agriculture organizations.

New Medication Now Developing For Implanting

Taking medication is a daily routine for millions of people. Soon some of these medications may be implanted internally.

Today some TB patients must swallow as many as 30 pills a day to treat active disease. Some diabetics take insulin daily. People with allergies get weekly shots before each pollen season.

Now researchers are developing devices that can be implanted in the body to release chemicals at a steady rate over long periods. An ingenious, implantable pump about the size of a hockey puck has been developed by Perry J. Blackshear, a pre-med student at the University of Minnesota, who worked on the project with the departments of mechanical engineering and surgery. The pump, which is made of light stainless steel, releases medication through special tubes directly into a blood vessel or organ. Tested successfully on dogs but not yet on humans, the device, researchers predict, will be useful to administer potent anti-cancer drugs and insulin.

At the Alza Corporation in Palo Alto, Calif., researchers have already tested on humans a plastic water the size of a teardrop that is placed inside the lower eyelid of glaucoma patients to release medication.

Tomorrow the medication for many diseases, including TB, may be implanted directly in the body. But tomorrow may be far off. In the meantime, TB patients can help treat active disease and even prevent an outbreak of the disease by taking pills. To find out more about TB and

GRANT JONES
Senate Candidate

Tex. Rep. Jones Candidate For State Senate

Grant Jones, State Representative, announced this week he will be a candidate for State Senator in the district representing Santa Anna.

"Responsibility in state government is the number one issue," said Jones. "With state spending increasing at the rate it is, the needs and demands of the people will require responsible elected officials to determine the necessary programs with equitable funding."

As the campaign progresses, Jones indicated he will issue statements as to his beliefs on important issues presented to him by the voters in the new district.

"I am being told that ethics in state government will be an issue and I shall be working to create the type climate that will give the people of Texas full confidence in their elected officials," he said.

The new 24th Senatorial District is composed of 13 counties: Brown, Coleman, Concho, Coryell, Hamilton, Lampasas, McCulloch, McLennan, Menard, Mills, Runnels, San Saba, and Taylor. Abilene is in the northwest section and Waco is on the eastern boundary.

Farmers To Have More FHA Credit

Texas farmers will be able to tap the largest supply of supplemental credit in history this year through the Farmers Home Administration, State Director Lynn Futch announced today.

"We project that more than $81 million will be available to Texas farmers in fiscal year '72, as a result of cooperative efforts between the FHA and commercial lenders," he stated.

The cooperative effort involves having the commercial credit source and FHA make simultaneous loans to a borrower, with the private lender having first claim on the security.

"The farm ownership program is aimed to reach $30 million — $15 million of government money, with private lenders participating at a level of $15 million," Mr. Futch continued.

"Projected figures for the farm operating loan program is $51 million of which $22½ million — triple last year's figure — comes from regular commercial lenders."

Lending levels of FHA farm programs are also higher because of a substantial boost given the farm ownership program by President Nixon when he announced that national funding would be $350 million this fiscal year, $22 million above 1971 levels, Mr. Futch said.

The President also said the nationwide farm operating loan program would be raised to $360 million from its present $275 million level if congress would approve legislation changing the program from an appropriation basis to an insured basis.

If this legislation is passed Futch said, notes of farm borrowers for operating purposes would be sold to investors who, in turn, would be insured against loss on the notes. The investors money would replenish a revolving fund and would be available for more loans, as is the case now with farm ownership loans.

"It will continue to be our policy to assist people in finding the credit needed to begin farming or to help finance farm operations," he said. "We therefore commit government funds only when we cannot involve private money to serve agriculture's credit needs."

"To assure this, county supervisors of the Farmers Home Administration are required to contact another lender with respect to every application for farm ownership or operating funds."

"We are pleased with the fine cooperation extended by banks and other credit sources to make this plan work," he concluded.

RECENT WASHINGTON, D. C. TRIP DESCRIBED BY LOCAL WOMAN

by Mrs. M. R. Pollock

Park in your favorite easy chair and come with me on a trip to see part of this wonderful country of ours. My twin daughters, Leta and Cleta, and I managed to get our vacations at the same time to make the trip to Alexandria, Va., to see the other daughter and sister, Mrs. Leanna Hartman, and family.

Monday, Oct. 4, at 5:50 a. m., while many of you were still sleeping, we left Santa Anna. The weather was very threatening but we didn't let it cloud our enthusiasm.

After witnessing a beautiful sunrise between Brownwood and Goldthwaite, we stopped at a cafe in Gatesville for breakfast. While they were preparing our meal we spent the time looking over a huge collection of souvenir plates which covered almost every square inch of wall space in the large cafe. I was particularly interested in the plates as I also collect them. They had plates from everywhere, I think.

We took a little side trip off the highway to see the sleepy little village of Prairie Hill. I had heard a lot about this place through the years as my family moved there when I was about a year old and lived there one year. It is about the size of Trickham. The one general store had no souvenir plates but did have a few "antiques, so I bought a flowered saucer to add to my collection.

We were surprised to see so many oil derricks in Mexia until we remembered that east Texas had oil fields too. We began to see lots of tall pine trees near Nacogdoches.

At 3:05 that afternoon we bid a brief farewell to Texas when we crossed the Toledo Bend Reservoir on the Sabine River and entered the State of Louisiana at Logansport. We went north to Shreveport, then east across the state to Talullah, La. We decided to spend the night there because it was only 19 miles to the Mississippi River and we wanted to be sure to get a good view of the River in daytime as we had never been there before.

Tuesday morning we left the motel in heavy fog, much of which had lifted by the time we reached the river. The bridge at that point is so narrow it is unsafe for large trucks and other traffic from the opposite direction to cross at the same time, so we had to wait about 30 minutes for some large trucks to cross. (A new bridge is under construction.) There was just enough fog left to make the Mississippi Valley look the way you would expect it to look, with the large trees with moss hanging from them and thick underbrush; you almost expect to see ghosts or alligators behind each tree, but we saw neither.

From Jackson, Miss. we went south toward Mobile, Ala., crossing the Escatawpa River into Alabama. One thing that we found interesting in southern Mississippi and Alabama were huge fields of what we thought was blackeyed peas, but learned later that it was soybeans.

Mobile, Ala. is a beautiful city with large beautiful homes, old public buildings, and huge oak trees that overlap over the wide streets.

At 2:00 p. m. that afternoon we crossed the Perdido Bay to enter the panhandle of Florida. From Pensacola to Panama City we traveled on the beach drive-way enjoying the view of the Gulf of Mexico for about 100 miles. From Panama City we turned inland, arriving in Tallahassee at 7:00 p. m. only to find we had crossed a time zone, so now it was suddenly 8:30. We spent the night in Thomasville.

Traveling from Thomasville to Brunswick, Ga., we passed through the western edge of a large swamp which is a national game preserve. All of this area is heavily wooded with large trees and thick underbrush through which we could see large pools of dark murky water on either side of the highway. There is an alligator farm a few miles of the highway but we didn't go by to see it.

From Brunswick, Ga., which is on the coast, we drove out to Jekyll Island which has been made into a state park. It is a beautiful island with its thick growth of trees, grass and flowers, and paved drive-ways everywhere. We drove around the south end of the island to reach the east side, getting our first look at the Atlantic Ocean. The wind was blowing enough to make white caps on the waves, and we could see several ocean vessels in the distance.

From this point we traveled the Ocean Highway all the way into Delaware, much of the time within a few hundred yards of the ocean, but we only got occasional glimpses of the water because of the trees. We went through such interesting places as Savannah, Ga., Charleston, S. C., and Georgetown, S. C., spending the night in Wilmington, N. C.

We left Wilmington and stopped 50 miles down the road in Jacksonville for our breakfast. On the entire trip breakfast was the only meal we ate in cafes. We had an ice chest with food and drinks, and would stop in interesting looking places whenever we decided to eat.

At 8:30 we found ourselves in Pollocksville, N. C., which seemed to be a nice little thriving industrial town.

North Carolina is a very pretty state. It looks like it has just been hewn out of the wilderness. This was a new highway which we were on and all the houses looked new. Each place was a clearing of about two acres for the house and a vegetable garden. Otherwise it as all forest land. It looked like one would be hopelessly lost if they ventured a few feet into the trees.

At noon we arrived in Norfolk, Va., where we had one of the most interesting experiences of the trip. Here we crossed the mouth of the Chesapeake Bay, a distance of about 20 miles by bridge and tunnel. There are three spans of bridge connected by two spans of tunnel under the bay. One span of tunnel is about two miles and the other is five miles. This engineering feat is one of the seven wonders of the world.

We traveled the Ocean Highway up into Delaware, then turned west to cross the Chesapeake Bay again, this time by bridge, to enter Annapolis, Md., at 4:00 p. m. This is only about 30 miles out of Washington, D. C. We did not wish to try to drive on through Washington in the 5:00 o'clock traffic, so we took the loop that goes around Washington on the south, crossing the Potomac River on the Woodrow Wilson Memorial bridge and arriving at Leanna's apartment in Alexandria, Va., at 6:00 p. m.

We enjoyed four days of visiting with Leanna, Ronnie and Jeremy, and sight seeing in Washington. I can't begin to tell you all of the interesting things we saw in Washington, like the Washington Monument, the Jefferson Memorial, Pentagon, Smithsonian Institute, National Art Gallery, Lincoln Memorial, the Iwo Jima Memorial, the Kennedy grave site, and Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. We arrived at the latter in time to see the changing of the honor guard which takes place every 30 minutes day and night.

We went on a tour through the Lee Mansion, which is on a hill surrounded by the Arlington National Cemetery and commands a spectacular view of the cemetery, Potomac River, and the City of Washington. This mansion was the home of General Lee and his family and is completely furnished either with the original furniture, or furniture typical of the time. It is a very interesting place to

We did not get to tour the RECENT WASHINGTON con- White House since we went by there on a holiday and it was not open to the public, but we did go through the Capitol Building. Our guide started with the rotunda, calling our attention to the fact that this was where high government officials lie in state while awaiting burial. Then she took us through the Statuary Hall where each state is asked to place two statues of their own choosing. We had time to recognize only a very few of these. One from Texas was Stephen F. Austin, then we came face to face with our old friend from Oklahoma, the late Will Rogers. Our guide called our attention to the statue of the one and only king in the hall, former King "Whatchamacallim" from Hawaii. Another hall pointed out to us was a large hall where the walls and ceiling were painted with scenes of the natural birds and flowers of our country. The walls are painted in oils and the ceiling in water colors. It took the artist 11 years to paint this one hall.

When we went into the capitol building we left our car parked across the street directly in front of the building. When we came out two policemen were directing traffic there, one of them called out to us, "What part of Texas are you from?" One of the girls replied, and he said, "I'm your neighbor. I'm from Oklahoma."

Another "must" if you ever get to Washington is the wax museum. There they have scenes of our history from the time the new world was discovered to the landing on the moon. It is all so life-like. There was Betsy Ross making our first flag, Pocahontas saving John Smith from execution, Stephen Foster seated at a piano while you hear a medley of his songs on the sound system, President Truman playing the Missouri Waltz, George Washington Carver in his laboratory, Dr. Salk vaccinating a little girl for polio, Calvin Coolidge receiving the oath of office for president from his own father who was a justice of the peace, and many, many others.

On Tuesday we left Alexandria, bringing Leanna and Jeremy with us. A few miles out of Alexandria we entered Skyline Drive which is a 105 mile scenic drive along the crest of the Allegheny Mountains overlooking the Shenandoah Valley on one side and the valley of the Rappahannock River on the other side.

This is a beautiful time of the year to drive through the mountains. Part of the trees remain green while the others range in all shades from light yellow to deep red. Each time you go around a curve the view is different and breath-taking.

We completed the Skyline Drive and continued our trip through the mountains on the Blue Ridge Parkway which is a scenic drive through the Blue Ridge Mountains. This drive is not along the crest of the mountains as the Skyline Drive was. Part of the time we would be on the crest of the mountains, then a few miles farther we would be down in the valley. We crossed numerous mountain streams which were very cold and clear. Quite often could see someone out in the stream trout fishing.

We spent Tuesday night in Roanoke, Va. We had not covered many miles because the mountain roads were very crooked and the speed limits were from 25 to 35 miles an hour.

Wednesday morning we entered North Carolina again. We had gone up the Atlantic coast on the trip north, now we were coming back along the western edge of the state. Each clearing that was large enough for farming had large fields of cabbage. The people were out in most of them gathering the harvest.

This part of the drive took us through numerous tunnels. One of the most spectacular was called Little Switzerland RECENT WASHINGTON con Tunnel. Little 20-month-old Jeremy made these tunnels very interesting. As we would enter one he would look back at the entrance as long as he could see it, then quickly turn around and begin looking for the exit. When it was visible he would point and say, "There it is."

At 7:00 p. m. we reached the highest point of the Blue Ridge Mountains. Thus in a few days we had gone from one extreme to the other; from below sea level under the Chesapeake Bay, to the highest point east of the Mississippi River.

We spent Wednesday night in Cherokee, N. C., which is in the edge of a large Cherokee Indian reservation. On Thursday morning we arose early to make up some of the time we had lost, only to find the fog so thick we could not venture out on the highway until 11 o'clock. Upon leaving Cherokee we left beautiful Blue Ridge Parkway and turned west to go through the Great Smoky Mountain National Park. These are beautiful mountains with a smoky haze over the distant peaks at all times. We were told that the haze is fog, not smoke.

We arrived at Gatlinburg, Tenn., at noon. The main tourist attractions here are the shops where you can go in and see the people making the various handicraft items—such things as brooms of all sizes, jewelry, candy that is pulled and shaped by hand, blown glass items, rugs, furniture and many others.

At Serlerville, Tenn., we took a short trip off the highway to go through Forbidden Cavern. That is pretty much like most other underground caverns, except that it has two streams running through it, and gets its name from an old Indian legend.

Driving from the cavern back to the highway we traveled behind a school bus. The children on the back seat looked back, then there was a rush of children to the back and we could tell by the movement of their lips they were telling one another, "They're from Texas."

We passed through Rockwood, Tenn. Yes, Tennessee has a Rockwood, too, as all postal employees here and in Rockwood, know, from the numerous mixups in the mail. Here we re-entered our own central time zone. Here we had to re-arrange our watches.

We spent Thursday night in Nashville, Tenn., instead of at Hurst, Texas as we had planned before we left home. On Friday morning we came through the Hatchee Wildlife Preserve. There were bird houses in the trees alongside the highway near the Hatchee River. Maybe these were "bird motels" to use in the migration from north to south and vice-versa. Just an idea.

At 1 p. m. we crossed the Mississippi River again at Memphis, Tenn. This made us feel like we were getting close to home to be back on "our side" of the big river again.

At 6:00 p. m. we reached Texarkana, Texas. The girls insisted on staying in a motel on the west side of the street so we could be sleeping in Texas.

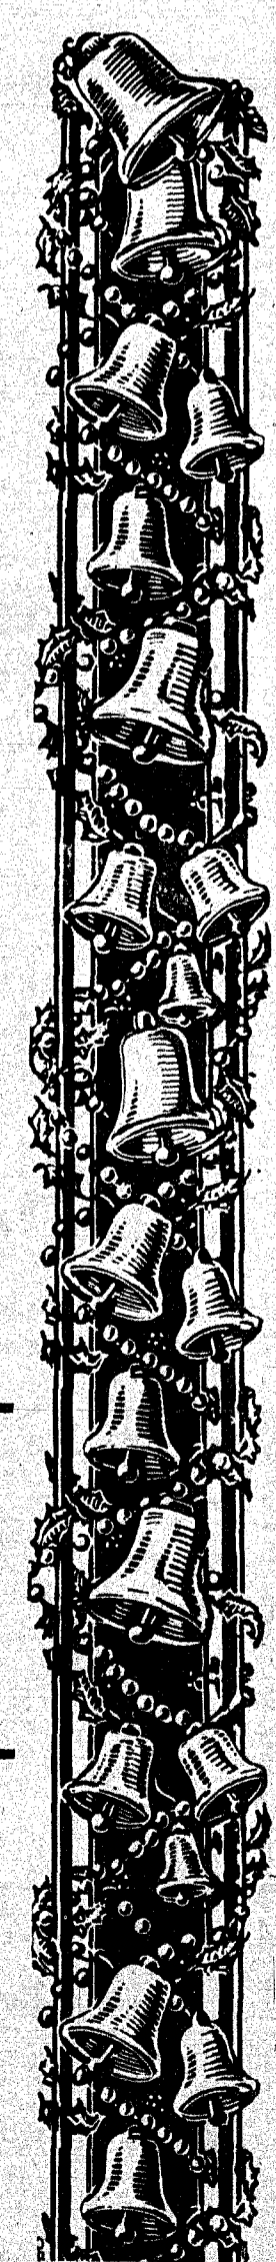

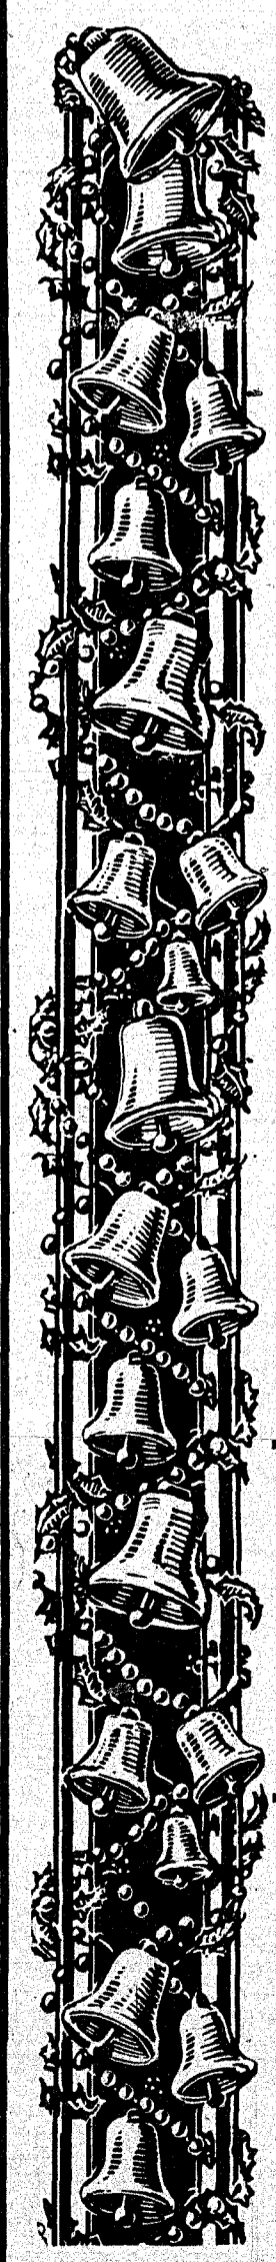

Saturday morning we drove in light intermittent rain from there to Dallas, the first rain on the entire trip. We stopped for lunch in Pecan Grove Park on the Nolan River just west of Cleburne.

At 4:30 p. m. we arrived home in Santa Anna, completing two wonderful weeks, a very interesting trip and 4322 miles. We saw many interesting things and met lots of wonderful people, but we were very glad to be back home.

This account has only skimmed the surface of the many things we saw, just as we only skimmed the surface of the things there were to be seen. I added 24 plates to my collection.

About 200 members and guests from the 19 counties which make up the Heart of Texas Girl Scout Council are expected to attend. Tickets should be secured from local Community Scouting leaders by November 24.

A business meeting will begin at 5:00 p. m. for the purpose of electing and installing new members of the Council Board.

The dinner meeting at 7:00 will feature a panel composed of Senior Scouts who have recently attended national events and the President of the Senior Planning Board, moderated by Mrs. Charles Houston of Stephenville, the Senior Planning Board Advisor.

In keeping with the Girl Scout motto, "Be Prepared," 34 girls from Brownwood, Ballinger, Coleman, Eastland, and Stephenville attended the first session of a training course for Program Aides conducted by the Heart of Texas Girl Scout Council at Stephenville, Saturday, Nov. 13. The three-session course is designed to teach the girls leadership techniques, child development, and skills that they can teach to younger scouts, such as songs, games, crafts, nature study and outdoor living, so that they can assist leaders of Brownie and Junior Scout troops at meetings, hikes and campouts.

The next session of the training will be at Coleman on Saturday, Jan. 3, 1972. Mrs. Donald Cole, Field Advisor for the Heart of Texas Girl Scout Council is instructor for the course.

The Santa Anna Girl Scout troop met at the Methodist Church on Tuesday, Nov. 30, from 4 to 5 p. m. The girls made plans for their Christmas parade float and worked on doll clothes which is the Christmas project of the group.

Each girl was given a list of supplies to buy for the project which will take the place of the December and January dues.

The Girl Scout Junior troop will meet Thursday, Dec. 2, at the Methodist Church. The members of the group will work on "Project Santa Claus," which will benefit the Volunteer Fire Department's toy collection and help the girls earn toy maker badges.

45 Years Ago In The News

The following stories are from the March 26, 1926, issue of the NEWS:

The 25th anniversary of the First Christian Church will be held next Sunday. All our folks are expected to come and bring dinner. There will be three interesting services—beginning at 10 in the morning, 2:30 in the afternoon and 7:30 at night. A number of former members and several visiting preachers are expected to attend.

A. L. Oder, minister.

In a triangular track meet that was held at Ballinger last Saturday Miles High School team came out best with 77 points. Santa Anna track stars piled up 60 points while Ballinger was able score only 11.

Santa Anna cinder artists took off five first places and many second and third places. Of these five first places, H. M. Smith took four and Charlie Burris won the other in the high jump.

Improvements are being made in Santa Anna.

A bunch of men are working in the Shield block. We understand several of the buildings are to be repaired beside the one that is to be used for the post office.

The State National Bank has had some repairs made on the north wall and the roof of their building.

W. H. Ragsdale is adding several hundred dollars worth of improved machinery to his bakery, and the building has also undergone some repairs.

The West Texas Utilities Company is completing several weeks job for a number of men, installing new street lights in the business and residential sections of town.

Residential sections of town. Taylor Wheeler is busy with a crew of men building a splendid brick veneer residence on West Main Street.

On Friday night, March 1, the juniors entertained the seniors with the annual banquet, given at the armory.

The building was decorated in the senior colors of gold and white.

Music was furnished by the "Gypsy Trio," composed of Miss Lois Adele Adams at the piano, Messrs. G. A. Ragsdale and Forrest Marshall with violins.

An enjoyable, peppy program was rendered. The toastmaster, Mr. Byron Joiner, announced each feature. Those present were Misses
