Needed Improvements Listed By School Study Committee

The School Improvement Study Committee, a group of citizens appointed by the local Board of Trustees, gave their report last Thursday night listing a number of improvements needed in the local school system.

The 22-member committee, appointed in December, met several times during the past six weeks, starting with a thorough tour of the school campus and buildings.

Edwin Hipsher has served as chairman of the committee and presided at the Thursday meeting. Also leading the committee has been Elgean Harris, vice-chairman, and Mrs. Henry Newman, secretary.

Heading the list of needed improvements was repair to the roofs of all the buildings. Next on the list was replacing or repairing the worn steps on the stairs at the high school building.

One of the major needs for the school is replacing the old steam heating system. A ducted heating-cooling system was recommended by the committee.

Some air conditioners in the elementary building also need to be replaced, according to the tour findings.

A redecorating job for both school buildings was listed. Floor coverings are needed in the high school building, and many of the windows in the high school need to be replaced.

Improvements to the school lunchroom were suggested, and enlargement and updating of the high school science lab was listed. Improvements for the band hall were also given.

A complete renovation of the gymnasium or the construction of a new one was discussed by the committee. Costs of the other improvements would govern the committee's recommendations on remodeling or building a new facility.

The committee also made recommendations for curriculum improvement, improved maintenance, transportation, and other school needs.

Members of the board of trustees met with the committee Thursday night and heard the final report. It was suggested that the committee be called upon later to help with planning and promoting the school improvements.

Sandra Cammack, school business manager, gave a detailed financial report to the committee and presented information on the district's good financial status.

The local school board has been studying the needs of the local system and requested the committees help in planning the improvements. Action on the proposals are expected to be taken within a few months after cost estimates are available.

Others on the study committee are Bill Bryan, Charles Greenlee, Stanley Hartman, Roy Horne, Luther McCreary, Robert Robinett, Dawson See, B. A. Parker, Donnie Henderson, John Dockery, and David Horner. Others were Mmes. James Allen, Burgess Stewardson, C. D. Bruce, Wanda Klykendall, Robert Barton, Maurice Rendon, Bill Day and Miss Sandra Hosch.

FFA NEWS

By Cline Smith
Area IV FFA Vice President

This week, February 18-24, is known as the National FFA Week.

The FFA was founded in 1928 in the city of Chicago, Illinois. There a group of people who were interested in the youth of America and agriculture got together and formed the Future Farmers of America.

Since that day in Chicago the FFA has grown in number and strength, now being over 540,000 members in the United States, Puerto Rico, Guam and other U.S. territories and possessions.

At the first meeting in 1928 a motto was constructed:

Learning to do,
Doing to learn,
Earning to live,
Living to serve.

Also a creed was written:
FFA CREED

I believe in the future of farming, with a faith born not of words but of deeds -- achievements won by the present and past generations of farmers; in the promise of better days through better ways, even as the better things we now enjoy have come up to us from the struggles of former years.

I believe that to live and work on a good farm is pleasant as well as challenging: for I know the joys and discomforts of farm life and hold an in-born fondness for those associations which, even in hours of discouragement, I cannot deny.

I believe in leadership from ourselves and respect from others. I believe in my own ability to work efficiently and think clearly, with such knowledge and skill as I can secure, and in the ability of organized farmers to serve our own and the public interest in marketing the product of our toil. I believe we can safeguard those rights against practices and policies that are unfair.

I believe in less dependence on begging and more power in bargaining: in the life abundant and enough honest wealth to help make it so -- for others as well as myself: in less need for charity and more of it when needed: in being happy myself and playing square with those whose happiness depends upon me.

I believe that rural America can and will hold true to the best traditions in our national life and that I can exert an influence in my home and community which will stand solid for my part in that inspiring task.

Monday the local FFA showmen will be going to Houston for the show there. Those going are Ronnie Daniel, Cline Smith, Lane Guthrie, Carl Scott, Susan and Elaine Newman, David Horner, Randy Long, Mark Shambeck and David Cupps. Also Billy Riley, Tom Newman and Quinton Daniel will be accompanying the group.

Tuesday in observance of FFA Week David Edwards came and presented a talk to the Lions Club and the student body of Santa Anna High.

THE MAIL BOX

Dear Barbara,
Received the good old hometown paper from Mom this week as I do every week and noticed the article about the Senior Class choosing the Boarding House Reach for their senior class play. Needless to say, it brought back many memories. I got to thinking about the times we had when we were practicing for the Boarding House Reach when our Class of '49 put it on and just wonder if this class will enjoy themselves as much as we did. At any rate, please tell the Class of '73 that the man that played the part of Wilber Maxwell in 1949 wishes them all the success. I know that they will have as much fun as we did.

Sincerely,

In Our Opinion

By W. T. HAYS

CONGRESS AND THE ADMINISTRATION are in a battle over the budget and who will control the spending of the federal government.

The Constitution assigned the authority to set taxes and expend funds to the Congress, but at this time the congress is meeting some opposition because the Administration is trying to curb expenditures in order to stop a tax increase and to help curb inflation.

The President is talking the language of the people when it says it is time for big government to get off the back of the people and out of their pocket. He cannot keep Congress from making appropriations, but he can keep the departments from spending it all. That we understand.

There is a principal involved here. This country was founded on representative government and that is the Congress. But they are not receiving the support they would like when they continue to appropriate more and more money that sends the national debt soaring. As of now, a considerable amount of the appropriation is fixed in paying interest on the national debt, and still each year the deficit grows more and more.

When Congress is going to have to take a responsible stand on spending before they can get the backing of the people. First they need to determine what the federal government will receive in tax monies, then set the spending accordingly. Until they do, the people like what the President is doing.

Some have criticized the President for cutting welfare money, and for some other cuts in support programs. Usually it has been those who have been affected by the cuts. But if we are to have a balanced budget and responsible spending of tax money, then we all will have to tighten our belts a little.

As for the welfare program, it is long over due. There are so many drawing welfare that should not be on the rolls, that if it is not curbed, it won't be long until it will be the major expenditure of the budget. The rolls are growing by leaps and bounds, and it has been shown in many instances that the recipients are merely living on a government dole with no intention of even trying to support themselves. If they are physically able to work, they should be doing something to earn what they get.

There are still need for some price supports, but even they are subject to closer scrutiny.

It all boils down to the fact that the government, like any other business, needs to consider its income, then adjust its spending accordingly. If a business operated like the government has in the past, it would be closed down in a short time.

But we can't close down the government, can we?

HAYBUSTER STACK-EZE

Gentle Action Delivers High Quality Hay - Less Leaf Loss

This stack was used for creep feeding calves only.

George McKay, who runs 600 head of cattle on 6,000 acres near Orient, South Dakota, had this to say about Haybuster hay quality. "Overall, the quality of my hay has never been better. When you push your hay down the field with a buckrake, you lose maybe 25% of the leaves. Now, there's virtually no leaf loss."

Guy Frounfelter, who has a ranch in Granville, North Dakota, had this to say about the quality of hay put up with a Haybuster Stack-Eze. "Haybuster hay is of such high quality that the stacks are so tight and compact that my cattle feed directly from the stacks. Saves us a tremendous amount of time. Also, there is very little waste since the cattle eat the hay right to the ground. The stacks don't topple and fall apart. I think the reason the cattle like the Haybuster hay so well is because the leaves and stems are still in the hay the way they were in the windrow—they're not all blown apart."

One man and the Haybuster Model 1600A—16 ft. bed—can pack and stack 18 tons of hay per hour. Up to 6 ton stacks. Handles the hay gently and keeps stems and leaves intact. Few moving parts. No expensive blower to mutilate the hay. Unique constant packing results in rounded, weather-resistant, high-tonnage stacks. Just ask a man who owns one about the hay quality. New chain mover now lets you reload stacks without leaving the tractor seat.
