SPOTLIGHT

CHAPTER XXII

Sheila could almost hear heart beating against her breast. "You're asking me to marry you and go back home?" she asked curiously.

Craig Abbott smiled. "Home for me," he said, "is wherever I hang my hat. I love Broadway. I've played up and down this street and played in luck, too. Every show I've been interested in so far has made money.

"Did you know 'Lucky Lady' was mine? It was, and it ran for six weeks. Now there are two companies playing it on the road. Your play, 'High Ho,' has been a big success. With you in the cast it will be even bigger."

He too Sheila's hand. "I'm sick of the life I've been leading, though. I'm sick of late parties, hangers, dinners and dancing. I want a home. Every man does, I think, in his heart. Every woman, too. I want a home, Sheila, and I want you."

Still she did not answer.

"You can have any part in any show you want!" he urged. "Your name shining in electric lights! You can name your own company—the 'Coast of Broadway'!"

"You mean that you'd be willing for your wife to keep on in the theater?" Sheila asked. She was incredulous for a moment and then she understood. This man was in love with what he believed would be her fame. He was the sort to sit in a theatre box and beam when his sweetheart appeared from the wings, admired and desired by all—but her charms reserved for him alone. He wasn't in love with Sheila at all but with the fame she might win. After that fame had dimmed and the glamour had passed his interest in her would fade as well, she would be like every other girl then.

"I'll make you the talk of New York," Abbott was promising. "I'll make you a figure in theatrical history."

"Another Duse?"

"A second Paviola! I'll make your name go down in history and—"

"And up in electric lights."

"Please, Sheila! I mean it!"

"I'm thinking," she told him. Her cheeks were flaming and her eyes burned like dark coals. Craig Abbott loved her no more than he loved the theater. Probably not so much, if she should accept his offer it would mean only that Marion Randolph had been supplanted by Sheila Shayne. There would be a wedding ring, of course. That would be the only difference.

The girl lifted her head suddenly. "Craig," she said, "when I marry I don't want it to be that way. I want to marry someone who loves me—not my stage career. I—I guess it wouldn't work out very well for either of us."

Abbott looked at her curiously. Fifteen minutes later she was saying goodby and hurrying toward the theater.

It was the next afternoon that Myrt asked Sheila with careful casualness, "How's the geranium boy friend?"

Sheila shrugged. "I don't know," she said. "I don't expect to see him soon."

The following evening the "High Ho" company set out on its road tour. Dick Stanley accompanied Sheila to the train. As they were crossing Times Square in a taxi he said to her, "You know how I feel about you, don't you, Sheila?"

"Yes, I know."

"And do you still feel the same way about this road tour? About living in the country and marrying one of the leading citizens?"

"You know I do, Dick." She said one hand into his confidently. "They say show business goes into your blood." Her eyes took in the glittering electric signs they were passing, the stands where fruits drinks were sold, the shop windows, the knots of men and women who would be homesick if they found themselves five blocks away from Broadway.

"Somehow I don't feel that way," Sheila went on. She shook her head. "Show business hasn't got me yet. I want a real home, Dick, and I'm going to have one."

"I wonder," thought Dick. He wondered, too, what would be this slim girl's reception in the world she envied so. There was no doubt that her beauty would receive its due of admiration. But Sheila Shayne was of the stage, born and bred. It was in her very marrow. Could such a girl make a place for herself in a small town?

To be sure Sheila was far from typical of Broadway. Her hands, though nicely manicured, were not gleaming with crimson dye. Her trim with crimson dye. Her trim little suit was simple and inconspicuous. Her face did not reflect the sophistication of the thoroughfare on which she was most at home.

Dick Stanley thought of small towns as he knew them. He thought of young girls sheltered but worldly. Inexperienced yet assured. Confident and also critical.

"Just how are you going to go about all this?" he asked bluntly.

Sheila laughed. "You mean how am I going to make some man marry me and give me a home? I'm not going to." She grew wistful. "It's just that in such an atmosphere I'm happier. I can't explain it."

"Don't cry, dear."

"How good, Dick was! Sheila's heart softened as she watched him, assured and worldly-wise, helping her from the cab, calling the porter and arranging about her baggage. He took her ticket, walked with her to the tables and gave it to the official. Then, the red cap following, he moved with her toward the train.

"I exchanged that ticket and got you a lower berth," he explained.

"That was nice of you but you shouldn't have—"

"Oh, surely I can do that little for you!"

They were standing now at the entrance of the car. The red cap, struggling with Sheila's baggage, had gone inside.

"Are you going to write me?" Dick asked.

"Of course."

"Going to miss me?"

"How could I help it?"

Dick halted a train man to ask how much time remained and was told there was barely a minute. Four tiny blond chorus girls came rushing down the stairs, laughing and waving at their escorts who had been debarred by a ruthless conductor. The girls spoke to Sheila as they crowded past. The comedian appeared, a red cap at his heels. A tall young man, pacing the platform, flicked ashes from his cigarette, preparatory to boarding the train.

"The leading lady seems to be having a party," said Dick. He and Sheila moved aside as a gay group of men and women emerged from the train, laughing and chatting. The leading lady, in evening clothes, appeared and bade them farewell.

"Well—" said Sheila hesitatingly. It was time to get aboard.

"Well—" Dick began and then his jaw squared. "Look pleasant, please! I'm going to kiss you. And lie on, young lady, it's not for good-bye either!"

"Not for what then?"

"For instance?"

He gathered her, unprotesting, into his arms. There was a moment of tumult, unforeseen, unexpected. Dick's first kiss! Another instant and he was gone.

As the train pulled out of Manhattan Transfer Sheila, cooly abed, watched the lights twinkling far beyond. Apartment houses. Factories. Crowded, hurried places as bustling as New York. But tomorrow there would be wide sweeping meadows, winding rivers, towns twinkling past, just waking in the early morning. Children would be flocking to school, herded into safety zones as the express thundred past.

Small towns with everyone knowing everybody else. Calling out good-morning. "Hello, Bill!" "Hello, Mary." Family groups bidding a cousin or sister farewell.

That was the world in which she would find herself tomorrow. She sank back with a sigh.

 volfe Lord Rothermere in the controversy and wangle some cash somehow. Lord Rothermere, half grata in Hungary. He is not too popular in England.

Spain
 The disorders in Spain are the result of efforts by reactionary and monarchist groups. A revival of the old reactionary order is hoped for. These hopes will not be realized.

All Spain and no small part of Europe is keen to see the results of elections which are to be held in April. The baiting will be to fill half the places in municipal councils in various Spanish cities and will be the first great appeal to Spanish public opinion since the founding of the republic. Furthermore, for the first time in any European Latin country, women will vote.

Of the present qualified voters women outnumber men in 42 out of 50 Spanish provinces. In Madrid there are 65,000 more women than men voters. Spain's population is 23,581,000 and the last census showed 31,000 more women than men.

Disarmament
 Chancellor von Schleicher has dropped the pretense of waiting for official agreement by the other powers to his plans of re-arming Germany. The "Schools for Physical Training of German Youths" established last November by President von Hindenburg under General von Stueppnel are now openly running sixteen officers training camps in each of which 200 men receive three wee a training courses in "terrain sports" or in plain English military science.

The universities of Braunsch-weig and Tuebingen will shortly establish chairs for military science.
 The Defence Ministry has drafted a law providing severe punishment for anyone "who in writing or speech impairs the desire of German citizens to defend their country." The law is assured of passage.

This new drilling for obedience and belief in constituted authority is worked down to the children.
 Beginning this month (January 1933) so-called "Open-air-sport exercises (meaning military exercises) have been introduced throughout the nation.

This course is headed by a manager named by the "Reich Cur-sors for the Physical Improvement of the Young." Teachers of the various school districts receive their orders from the manager. The National Institute of Education in Rostock has decreed for all those studying to become teachers the new course called "Military Sports"

with army instructors.

Colonization
 Germany is actively preparing for better times. One of the current projects which is now attracting wide interests there is the plan for the colonization of the State of Amazonas in Brazil and the state of Matto Grosso have an area about half that of the entire United States, but the climate is a atrocious and life is hard. The German General Kundt, reorganizer of
 the Bolivian army, is chief sponsor
 of the move. Germany can send out the colonists, engineers and organizers, but the chief need is
 for capital and the Fatherland
 has none to export.

Pre-War
 The German Consulate General
 in New York at the request of Berlin is to make a study of the financial condition of the more important New York newspapers,
 news agencies, syndicates, etc. Other
 consulates will do the same thing for their territories. In all countries where military attaches
 are located similar reports will be made.

The "division of competences" in German government agencies
 makes the purpose of this step
 clear. The military attaches will be in charge of gathering information
 and disseminating propaganda. The idea is that news agencies which
 are in weak financial condition can
 be most easily "reached."

Czarism
 Europe may have doubts about
 the future of Bolshevism but there are none about the future of Czar-
 ism. Amusement was general at the recent manifesto by Grande Duke Cyril, the head of the survivors of the Romanoffs, from his Paris headquarters. The Grande
 Duke appealed to the Russian
 army and navy to remain disciplined and united, ready for the hour when Bolshevism finally founders. The Grande Duke, among his small Paris circle, acts like an emperor. No political importance is attached to him or his group.

Japan
 Japanese propaganda is active in Europe. The effort is to impress labor groups and to secure favorable treatment by newspapers, especially in France. There is reason to believe that the presence of certain Japanese, liberally armed with funds, is not unconnected with the favorable attitude of certain French newspapers toward the Japanese point of view.

Bunji Suzuki, Japanese Socialist leader, has lately been traveling in Europe. His action have created the impression that he has a mission to accomplish for Tokio.
 The Socialist Workers International announced from Zurich that it
 "condemns in the most explicit manner the attempts made by Suzuki, in the course of his conferences in Europe, to justify the imperialistic policy of Japan." Suzuki issued a denial of activities which is not taken very seriously.

Sweden
 Europe has found that plenty of trouble results from the organization of private armies. Every European dictatorship has been based on military organizations outside state budgets. Steps were recently taken in Denmark to control private armies and now in Sweden Minister Gustav Moeller has created a parliamentary commission to study preventive measures.

Notes
 France has displaced England as the center of European politics and is likely to have the spotlight for some time to come. England is deeply preoccupied with domestic problems and Empire questions.
 Hitler's Nazis are 12 million marks in debt. He has lost heavily in financial support and politically

Colonization
 Germany is actively preparing
 for better times. One of the current projects which is now attracting wide interests there is the
 plan for the colonization of the State of Amazonas in Brazil and
 the state of Matto Grosso have an
 area about half that of the entire United States, but the climate is a
 atrocious and life is hard. The German General Kundt, reorganizer of
 the Bolivian army, is chief sponsor
 of the move. Germany can send
 out the colonists, engineers and
 organizers, but the chief need is
 for capital and the Fatherland
 has none to export.

Pre-War
 The German Consulate General
 in New York at the request of Berlin is to make a study of the financial condition of the more important New York newspapers,
 news agencies, syndicates, etc. Other
 consulates will do the same
 thing for their territories. In all
 countries where military attaches
 are located similar reports will be
 made.

The "division of competences" in German government agencies
 makes the purpose of this step
 clear. The military attaches will
 be in charge of gathering information
 and disseminating propaganda. The idea is that news agencies which
 are in weak financial condition can
 be most easily "reached."

Czarism
 Europe may have doubts about
 the future of Bolshevism but there
 are none about the future of Czar-
 ism. Amusement was general at
 the recent manifesto by Grande
 Duke Cyril, the head of the survivors of the Romanoffs, from his
 Paris headquarters. The Grande
 Duke appealed to the Russian
 army and navy to remain disciplined and united, ready for the
 hour when Bolshevism finally
 founders. The Grande Duke, among his small Paris circle, acts like an emperor. No political importance

Youngsters Entertain At Lions Club

Mexican Boy Scouts To Get Tools For Manual Training

Young people furnished the entertainment for the Lions Club Friday.

Under the direction of Mrs. E. E.
 Houser, Miss Frances Sampson sang a popular number accompanying herself on the uk'-lele. Encored, she sang a humorous ballad.
 Misses Mary Ruth Dittz and Eloise Kuykendall favored with a novelty number featuring song and tap dance. Mrs. Houser is also director of the pair.

Eighteen Mexican boys, members of the Boy Scout troop sponsored by the Lions, were present to sing for the club, giving many patriotic airs. John R. Hutto, scoutmaster, pleaded for support in a project for installing a manual training plant for the boys. Plans were adopted to gather needed tools.

Dr. J. R. Dillard spoke commending work done in the troop and said although he was not a Lion, he would aid in providing for the boys. Others pledged co-operation.

A membership campaign was outlined by Lion President B. T.
 Carewell, who announced it would start immediately. Lion Buchachacher announced an old clothes campaign, and Lion Pyatt added suggestions to the plan.

Marital Law Ordered For Rumania Tonight

BUCHAREST (AP)—Premier Val-davoedov announced marital law would be declared in Rumania Friday night. He said the measure was necessary to curb unret and agitation which reached perilous dimensions in recent days.

That an effort will be made to effect a compromise between the two sides in the Economic Act last year, members were given but $9-000 each in the bill.

Carney Rites Set For Sunday, 3 P. M.

Funeral services for P. E. Carney, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. J.
 I. Fritchard of Big Spring, will be held at the First Christian church beginning at 3 p. m. Sunday, the Charles Eberly Funeral Home, in charge of local arrangements, announced.

Mr. Carney died in a Fort Worth hospital a few hours after having been wounded at his home near Lake Worth. He was 39 years of age.
 Rev. D. B. Lindley, pastor of the First Christian church, will officiate, with music in charge of Mrs.
 Omar Pitman.

East Fourth Street Baptist Music Training School Ends Tonight

Final session of a Music Training School being held at the East Fourth Street Baptist church, under direction of the pastor, Rev.
 Woodie W. Smith, will be presented this evening at the church. The public is cordially invited to attend, especially those interested in good gospel music.

Rev. Smith announced that his sermon subjects for Sunday would be: morning, "God's Eight Covenants With Mankind"; evening, "A New Birth Means New Things."

Committee Plans More Cuts For Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress learned Friday that the house appropriations committee believes the legislative establishment can be run for $2,123,463 less in the next fiscal year than in the current period. In the legislative supply bill reported Friday, continuing the 10 per cent salary cut of congressmen and senators made effective in the Economy Act last year, members were given but $9-000 each in the bill.

West Ward Tacky Fete Big Success

Guests Ask To Have It Given Again—Date To Be Announced

The West Ward P.T.A. had such a jolly tacky party at the Crawford Hotel that many of the members requested that it be repeated. About fifty members attended and took part in the merriment.

The party began with an opening address delivered by "Tiny" Reed of Junior High, who was introduced by C. T. Watson. This was followed by a duet sung by Miss Madelyn King and Sonnyboy Holmes. They were dressed as pickaninnies and sang "In Coon Skin Where the Weather Suits My Clothes."

Little Miss Elizabeth Moody and Howardene Finley sang "If You Will Marry Me." Howardene was dressed as a boy. Mrs. Sam Miller gave two enjoyable readings. There were several games and contests. Among them was a waltz race in which six couples took part. The wrists of the men and women were tied together and each couple was given a walking cane. The couple who pushed the waltz around the room in the shortest time won the race. The winners were Mrs. Alfred Moody and Mr. Kin Barnett.

Vicks Chemists
Invite Tests of New Antiseptic

The makers of Vicks VapoRub have now produced an oral antiseptic. It is called Vicks Vaseline Antiseptic. They urge every user of a mouth-wash and gargle—for halitosis (impure breath), oral cleanliness, and other uses—to test Vicks Antiseptic and get personally acquainted with its quality and its economy.

Born in a depression year, Vicks Antiseptic is priced accordingly. The regular size is a large 10-ounce bottle—a usual 75c value—for only 35c. For your testing, Big Spring druggists are offering a special trial size. This is a 25c value, but is priced at only 10c—while the supply lasts. —adv

Get ready for DOLLAR DAY!

and FIRST MONDAY TRADES DAY
February 6, 1933

An old song contest followed this in which a clever way of selecting prizes was arranged. Mrs. Sam Baker and C. T. Watson won the prizes for singing two different songs as a duet without grinning. Tables were arranged for bridge and forty-two and seven tables of players took part in these games. The refreshments were cheese, crackers, pickles and punch. The party closed with a grand parade in which all the guests marched before the judges so that the tackiest costume could be decided upon. Mrs. John Tucker, president of West Ward, was the one who received the prize for her costume. Kin Barnett was winner for the men.

The P.T.A. will decide on a date for repeating the party at its next meeting to be held next Thursday at the schoolhouse. The date will also be announced in the paper.

Seven Guests Play With Idle Art Club

Miss Emma Louise Freeman was hostess to the members and friends of the Idle Art Bridge Club Thursday evening with a very pretty party.

Miss Thomas made club high and was given a flower bowl. Miss Wilke made visitors' high and was given a set of ashtrays.

The guests of the evening were: Misses Mary Alice Will, Zillah McFord, Vera Dehopper, Mary Vance Kennamer; Meses. H. Lytle, Hubert Rutherford and Fletcher Sneed.

The members attending were: Meses. Thos Fuller, Margaret Bettle, Lena Kyle, Imogene Runyan, Jamie Barley, Lennah Rose Black, Inez Mithewa, Maxine Thomas, Theresa Brooks, Veda Robinson and Mrs. Tommy Jordan.

Miss Brooks will be the next hostess.

Unique Bridge Club Is Organized For Charitable Purposes

A very enjoyable evening was spent recently when Mrs. Ruth Lewis Airhart entertained the new bridge club of which she is a member at the Crawford Hotel with three tables of contract.

The organization has a unique prize method. Each member brings a cash donation. This fund is used to buy something for an unfortunate family in the city. The highest scorer has the privilege of assisting the hostess make the donation each time.

The donation at this party was used under Mrs. Scott's supervision to buy coal and groceries for a needy couple. Mrs. Cravens was the highest scorer and she went with Mrs. Airhart to make the presentation.

Mrs. George Wilke and Miss Elizabeth Davis were guests of the evening. The members attending were: Meses. Timmy Turpin, J. L. Milner, Elmer Cravens, George Wilke; Meses. Emily Bradley, Letha Whitmore, Carrie Schultz, Ann Gray, Jessie Morgan and Alta Coleman.

Miss Bradley will be the hostess on Feb. 13.

Philatheas Have All Day Class Meet

The members of the Philatheas class of the First Methodist church Sunday School assembled at the church Thursday for an all-day social and business meeting.

The meeting opened with the reading of the first Psalm in unison. The members held a business session and planned a Valentine party at which the husbands would be their guests on the evening of Feb. 14 at the church parlors.

Mrs. Collings, group major, announced that 325 visits had been made during the month and 80 telephone calls. Meses. Wentz and Bolinger were named on the visiting committee for the month of February. The class voted to have a 42 party Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 at the Crawford Hotel.

The pastor, the Rev. J. Richard Spann, made an interesting talk on personal evangelism.

At noon a delicious luncheon was served by Mrs. Jake Bishop and her group.

The following members were present: Meses. J. J. Wooten, Morris Burns, O. R. Bolinger, C. T. Watson, M. F. Turner, M. E. Tatum, L. M. Pyatt, J. A. Bode, G. L. Schuff, Lucille Meeka, Birdie Sanders, O. M. Waters, E. W. Lowrimore, W. T. Roberts, J. E. Fridge, Bert Martin, L. S. Hargrove, Wayne Fox, Clyde Wails, Jr., V. W. Latsen, V. Stenographer Says Cicero Murray Received Money From Member Of Firm Involved In Illicit Oil Deals

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., (UP)—Miss Vera Sellers told the senate oil investigating committee Wednesday she saw A. C. Walker, her employer whom she said dealt in illicit oil, give Col. Cicero I. Murray a roll of 100 bills in front of a bank one day.

"I saw the money change hands and I know that Walker had obtained a roll of $100 and $500 bills before he went there," the attractive young secretary testified.

Two New Standing Committees Named By Federation Head

Mrs. W. J. McAdams new president of the City Federation, has announced that she will add to the standing committees of that organization two new committees, one on social service and another on recreation. The recreation committee will be divided into two groups, juvenile and adult.

Mrs. McAdams says that she has had unusual splendid co-operation in forming the social service committee. Women seem cognizant that a real need exists for activity along this line and practically every woman she approached was glad to co-operate with the Federation.

The committee will make a social survey of conditions, with the aid of Mrs. Scott, city welfare worker. It will seek to prevent duplication and to establish worthiness where possible. All funds and material donated to the Federation will be dispensed by this committee.

Mrs. E. J. Mary is chairman. Serving with her are: Meses. W. D. McDonald, J. C. Douglas, Wendell H. Bedichek, Ira Rockhold, E. D. Lang, C. W. Cunningham and Bernard Fisher.

Mrs. McAdams will announce the recreation committees as soon as possible.

Miss Marguerite Wood Hostess To Bridge Club

The members of the Delta Han' Aroun' Bridge Club met with Miss Marguerite Wood Thursday afternoon for a very pretty party and an enjoyable session of bridge.

Miss Allen made members' high score and was presented with a necklace. Mrs. Wails, Jr., made visitors' high and received a box of handkerchiefs.

The four visitors of the afternoon were: Meses. Tom Slaughter, Clyde Wails, Jr., W. B. Martin, and Miss Ine Barnett.

The members attending were: Meses. J. S. King, Emory Duff, Kin Barnett, W. G. Wilson, Jr., Graham Foshee and Meses Josephine Cole and Mary Allen.

Mrs. Foshee will be the next hostess.

Says CARDUI Seemed To Stop Cramping

"Several years ago, when I was younger, I was advised to take Cardui for cramping and irregular trouble," writes Mrs. Esther L. Dodson, of Lowry City, Mo. "It helped me and stopped the cramping. Before the birth of my baby, I felt I needed a tonic to give me strength and appetite. Knowing that Cardui was a good tonic, I decided to take it again. I took it for nine months. I feel that my good health is due to Cardui."

Take Cardui to build up against the nagging symptoms of ordinary womanly ailments. It has been in use for over 40 years. So many women praise CARDUI, it must be good to have the widespread use that it has today. Sold at drug stores.

Old Man Meneses has caught the following Miss Paul Kasch, Sonny Fuller, Calvin Boykin, Jr., and Betty Bob Diltz.

The new officers will be installed Saturday with a new ritual and better fitting robes.

Saturday's stage show will consist of: song and dance by an All-American girl, Marie Dunham; reading by Anna Belle Edwards; guitar and ukulele, playing "Swanee River" by J. L. Wood, Joel Frankler, Billy Danner, Justin Danner and Warren Woodward.

E. S. A. Plans Make-Up Program For Next Week

The Epsilon Sigma Alpha Literary Sorority held its regular meeting Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. W. J. McAdams and studied Greek culture.

Those attending were: Meses. Fox Stripling, Ira Driver, L. C. Dahme, Frank Etter, Frank Boyce, Meses. Marie Faubion, Edith Altheit and Elizabeth Owen.

The next meeting will be held next Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Ira Rockhold at which Miss Owen will be hostess. This will be devoted to a make-up program.

Smoking In Bed Causes Fatal Burning Of Man

SAN ANTONIO (UP)—Smoking in bed was blamed for the fatal burning of E. D. Southgate, 55, semi-invalid, and injuries to a nurse who tried to save him.

Southgate perished when his bed caught fire. It was believed a lighted cigarette caused the blaze. Mrs. M. J. Sonka, his nurse, was severely burned on hands and face in aiding Southgate.

Personally Speaking

Mrs. D. H. Rogers of Stanton has been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Rogers.

Mrs. J. T. Rogers left Friday for Denton where she will visit with her daughter, Jennie Dorine, who has been quite ill suffering from an attack of influenza. Jennie Dorine is a student in North Texas Teachers College.

Mrs. E. E. Crow and family left Friday for Pecos to make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Melear have been called to Waco by illness of Mr. Melear's father.

Miss Lucile Reggio, of New Orleans, La., has arrived for an indefinite stay with Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Mary.

Saddle Theft Ring Uncovered In Texas

GREENVILLE (UP)—The rare crime—stealing was laid to a group of men arrested here and taken to Dallas for questioning. Three of those detained later were released.

Six others held were suspected of membership in a saddle theft ring which had been in operation at Dallas. The practice was for members to rent steeds from riding stables, ride them away, strip them of saddles and bridles and release them with a sign, on the hindquarters.

Fritz Kreisler To Play Concert In Abilene Soon

ABILENE—The first visit and concert of Fritz Kreisler, world famed violinist, in West Texas is scheduled for next Friday evening, February 10, when he is to appear at the Simmons university auditorium. The concert will be under the auspices of the Simmons Artist Course.

Termed by one critic as "the world's most beloved musician," Kreisler has for three decades held preeminence among violinists of the world. He is not only known as a concert violinist, who has appeared in almost every large city on earth several times, but also is recognized as the chief contributor today to the violinist repertoire. His compositions, such as "Caprice Vennois," "The Old Refrain," and hundreds of others, are not only an important contribution to violin literature, but are popular as well.

"We feel that we have reached the height of our offerings to the music-loving public of West Texas in getting Fritz Kreisler," said the artist course management. "We have tried numerous times to bring out here several times, but also is recognized as the chief contributor today to the violinist repertoire. His compositions, such as 'Caprice Vennois,' 'The Old Refrain,' and hundreds of others, are not only an important contribution to violin literature, but are popular as well.

One Sure Way to End Coughs and Colds

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Cromulsion, an emulsified croscote that is pleasant to take. Cromulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth. Of all known drugs, croscote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Cromulsion contains, in addition to croscote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the croscote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Cromulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)
