Farmers Gin Company Makes Change

The Farmers Gin Company of these parts, at a recent meeting, passed from a stock company to a corporation, W. E. Wallace and J. Ed Bartlett purchasing a controlling interest in the corporation.

Messrs Wallace and Bartlett are two well-known gin men, both having long and successful experience in the business, and nothing short of their very best efforts will be used to serve the ginning public in the right way. Both gin plants will be overhauled and put in perfect condition before the ginning season opens, and the farmers may rest assured they will find Santa Anna fully prepared, as is her usual custom to take care of their ginning needs the coming season.

SANTA ANNA LADIES ATTEND DISTRICT MEETING E. M. S.

Mesdames W. I. Mitchell, Tom K. Campbell and Sidney F. Martin accompanied Miss Minnie Alexander to Hamilton early Tuesday morning to attend a district meeting of the Baptist Women's Missionary Society. The delegates from here were instructed to invite the convention to meet with the church here next year.

Later Thursday morning, we are advised the Santa Anna delegation won out overwhelmingly at the convention. They won the attendance banner, the efficiency banner and captured the 1927 convention. This was all they went after, so it was all they got. Three cheers for the Santa Anna delegates.

Our good friend R. E. Mobley living just north of town, treated the News force to two fine bundles of his home-grown onions last Saturday. Mr. Mobley extended us an invitation to visit his garden several days back, but due to bad weather and poor health, we had not been able to take advantage of the opportunity, thus, friend Mobley proceeded to gather a lot and bring them in to us, for which he has our many thanks.

Lions Club Put On Entertainment in B'Wood

Wednesday evening, a party of about 50 in number went to Brownwood under auspices of the Lions Club, and put on a program of entertainment in the Memorial hall for the West Texas Automobile show in progress this week. All report having a nice time and the program was well received.

STEPS TO BAR BOLTERS MAY BE UNDERTAKEN

Dallas, April 6.—Steps to bar from the democratic primaries all persons who voted for the republican candidate for governor in 1924, after having taken the Democratic ballot pledge to support that party's nominee, may be instituted soon, if anonymous rumors here are borne out a story published in today's Times Herald says.

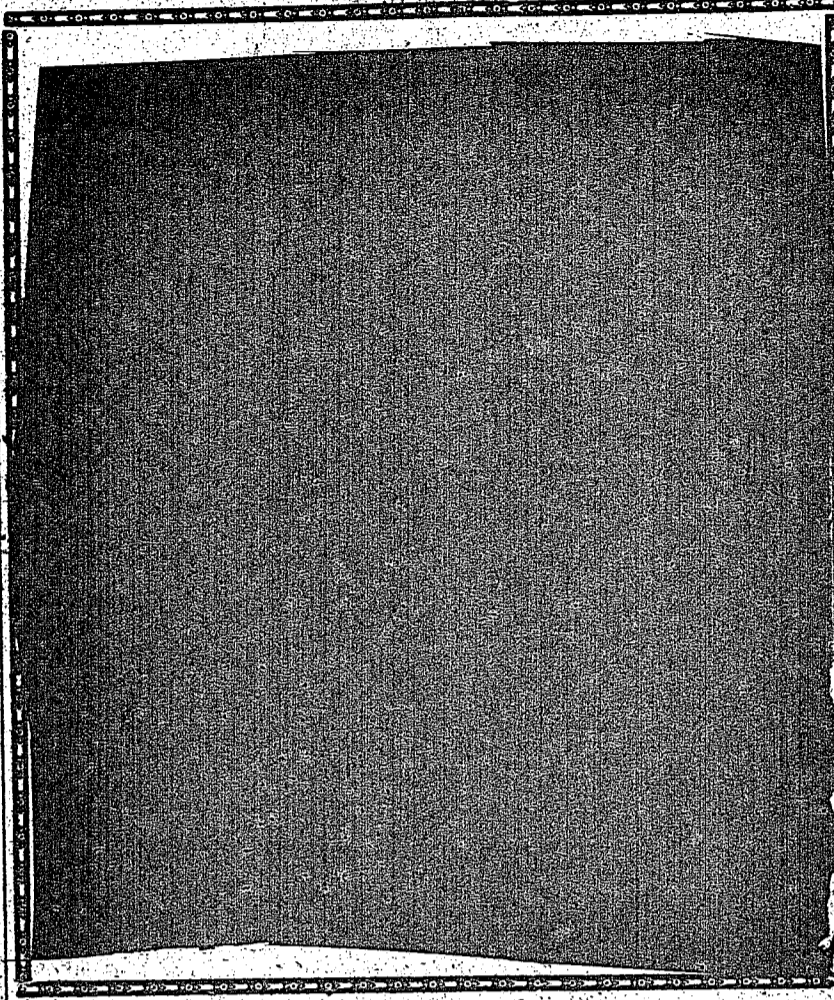

Persistent demands by party men in different parts of the state, protesting against "unpunished" breaking of the democratic pledge, are said to have such support as to result possibly in a called session of the executive committee to decide the issue.

If an order to bar the "bolters" of the 1924 democratic ticket is issued, it is estimated that more than 200,000 persons will be obliged to vote some ticket other than the democratic or be "partyless."

George C. Butte, the republican nominee for governor in 1924 received 298,046 votes, of which it is said, less than 100,000 were cast by republican party men. Governor Miriam A. Ferguson's winning majority was about 130,000.

C. E. Scott and G. J. Daniel of Cisco paid the News a social call Wednesday. Messrs Scott and Daniel are preparing to drill a well on the Burson or Bryant premises between Rockwood and Waldrip.

Thomas Campbell was home from Brownwood for the week-end.

Good Pioneer Woman Called By Death

Last Monday afternoon about 2:00 o'clock, the entire community was shocked by the sudden death of Mrs. W. W. Hunter, which occurred in the office of Dr. L. O. Garrett, shortly after having six teeth extracted, however, attending physicians stated that death was caused from heart failure, and would have occurred at any other place.

Mrs. Hunter was born April 13, 1856, in Erath county. In the year of 1865 she moved with her parents to Trickham, before Coleman county was organized, and has lived in the vicinity ever since. Had she lived until April 13, she would have been 70 years of age. In the year of 1871, she was married to W. W. Hunter, and together they endured the hardships of pioneer life in the days of the Red Men. To this union were born 14 children, two dying in infancy, and one daughter, Mrs. J. B. Howington preceded her to the grave by 4 years. Surviving children are Enoch Hunter, Brownfield; Byron Hunter, Fashandle, will, Ernest, and Jack, Santa Anna; Mrs. Clista Collins, Ballinger; Mrs. Pearl Curry, Santa Anna; Mrs. Iva Lawrence, Littlefield; Mrs. Nettie Lowe, Lovington, New Mexico; Mrs. Ruth Byrd, Waco, all of whom were present at the funeral, and to comfort their heart broken father. She also leaves two brothers, John Fivesash of this city and Dick Fivesash, of Grosvenor, who were present at the funeral.

The passing of this good woman, a pioneer in this section, brings deep sorrow to everyone who knew her during the three score and ten years she lived upon this earth. All who were acquainted with this good mother in Israel had the greatest love and respect for her. Becoming a Christian in early life, she united herself with the Missionary Baptist church, of which she was a devout and faithful member until her death.

Funeral services were held at the Baptist church, Wednesday at 2:00 o'clock p. m., conducted by Rev. J. R. McCorkle, who has known her for 40 years, assisted by Pastor Sidney F. Martin and Rev. A. M. Pleasant. Bro. McCorkle said many good things concerning the life of this good woman, among them being that she was one of the most devoted women to her family and home he had ever known, a true and loyal neighbor, and friend to her friends.

A large number of friends of the deceased and of the family attended the funeral in spite of the inclement weather. The floral offerings were many and beautiful, giving loving attest of the esteem in which she was held. Truly she will be missed by her loved ones, with whom many sorrowing friends deeply sympathize in this dark hour. Would say to the loved ones left behind to live as she lived before you, and meet her in a world where no more parting comes.

Pall bearers were V. L. Grady, S. H. Phillips, Dr. T. M. Hays, Dr. R. R. Lovelady, S. A. Neill, B. T. Withers.

Valera Bank Robbed Monday Afternoon

Monday afternoon just before the closing hour for the bank, three hold-up men drove up to the First State Bank at Valera, one remained in the car while the other two entered the bank, with revolvers drawn, covering the employees and patrons present, demanded the bank roll, and quickly disappeared.

It is said the three bandits were traveling in a Chrysler Coupe, looked as though it had been used several months. The two that entered the bank were small in stature, one a blonde and the other dark. Both were young men according to our information. After relieving the bank of about $4,000.00 the bandits left, headed east.

The robbery was just an open day light hold-up and get-a-way, with but little chance, apparently, of finding and bringing to justice the guilty parties.

COLEMAN COUNTY WORKERS CONFERENCE WAS SUCCESS

The Workers Conference of the Coleman County Baptist Association held at Rockwood Monday was reported a very successful meeting. A splendid attendance and a good program. One of the principal speakers was Miss Minnie Alexander, a Missionary from the interior of China, who is spending a few months at home, being called back on account of her father's illness. Her talk was well received and met with a ready response.

DEARMON BROS. SPURRED IN ON MARTIN-DAY LEASE

DeArmon Brothers spurred in Saturday on their Martin-Day lease near Whon, and are making good progress. This property was purchased by Martin and Day of Eastland, from the First National Bank at Comanche after the lease was made. It is said to be a good prospect.

TEAGLE-THAMES

Mr. G. W. Teagle and Mrs. Georgia Thames were married Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kitchen in Brownwood, Dr. W. R. Hornburg, pastor of the Coggin Avenue Baptist Church officiating. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The bride was dressed in a lovely ensemble suit of gray with accessories to match, the groom wearing a conventional black. Shortly following the marriage, the bridal party returned to their home here, where they have been constantly in receipt of congratulations from friends. The News joins in extending congratulations and best wishes for a happy life to follow.

Singing Convention at Burkett Next Sunday

The Coleman county singing convention will meet with the class at Burkett next Sunday, April 11, in the semi-annual convention. All singers and lovers of music are specially invited to attend, and all who can should prepare and take a lunch, as plenty of good eats about noon helps to make the convention a success. This, however, is suggested by the writer and was not mentioned by those requesting the announcement of the convention.

FORMER SANTA ANNA BOY MARRIED IN FORT WORTH

The News this week learned of the marriage on March 6, of S. Lee Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Russell of the Liberty community, to Miss Kitty Doyle of Fort Worth. Young Mr. Russell has been living in Fort Worth for some time, and is a regular reader of the Santa Anna News. We thought something when we received notice to change his address from the Y. M. C. A. to 3900 Ave. K. Fort Worth. We gladly join other friends in extending best wishes for a long and happy wedded life.

THE JENNINGS PLAYERS HERE ALL NEXT WEEK

The Jennings Players, a well known Comedy company in West Texas, will play here all next week in their tent. The Jennings family largely compose the cast, and it is said the plays they give are an entirely different set to those usually given on the stage. To advertise their show ladies will be admitted free Monday night. The opening play, according to Mr. Jennings, will be a 3-act comedy drama, and is a guaranteed hill. See their ad elsewhere in this paper.

Wedding Bells

Friends and acquaintances of Miss Emma Poe will perhaps be interested to know that she was married in San Antonio on Tuesday night, April 6, at the residence of Rev. Shan Hull, to Mr. Owen Ratliff. The Rev. Hull who is a brother-in-law of Mr. Ratliff performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Ratliff will make their home in Corpus Christi. Miss Poe has been reared in Santa Anna, and has many friends here who wish her much happiness in her venture in the sea of matrimony. Mr. Ratliff also was reared in Santa Anna, and is a nephew of Mrs. J. W. Collier and is well and favorably known to the old settlers.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Latham, Mrs. W. A. Kelley and daughter, Miss Marie of Winters, spent Sunday with their children, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Latham of this city. Miss Marie remained for the week.

The Human Side of BANKING

Thousands of persons come to this bank every year for help on all sorts of financial questions.

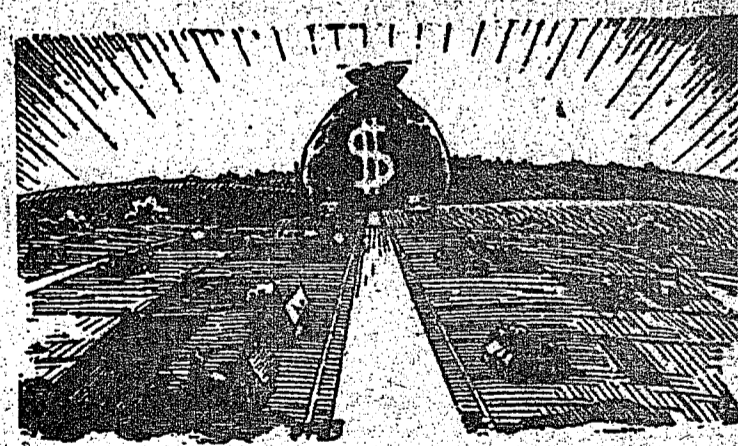

Some seek plans that will help them save money.

Some seek advice on investments, life insurance, home buying, financing the education of their children, budgeting their income, etc.

Some are depositors, others are not. That makes no difference to us. Our subject is to help them and to protect their hard earned money.

Don't forget to enlist in the Agricultural program being fostered by the Lions Club, which we heartily endorse.

Bridging the Gap

Intelligent Diversification often bridges the gap between success and failure.

In every state, farmers are finding that the difference between success and failure may now be bridged by Diversification—a program of LIVING AT HOME.

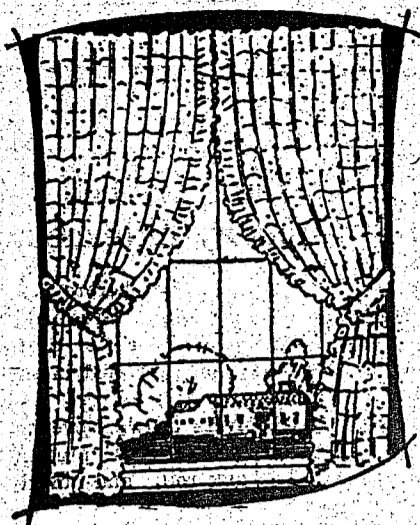

A garden, orchard, cows, hogs and chickens will supply many necessities, even when crops fail.

Make your plans for more intelligent diversification by entering the contest in the Agricultural program fostered by the Lions Club, endorsed by this bank.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS

By Wm. A. Black, San Antonio, Tex.

We are justly proud of our public school system. It is distinctly an American institution but like many good institutions it has not kept pace with social and economic changes. This is peculiarly true as to the country school, its organization and management. The District School was the only workable type in pioneer days. Those days are passed and the system must be changed.

The Texas State Teachers Association has made the first move. The Executive Committee of this Association in laying out a program seems to have sensed the really vital points to be attacked. Three subjects only are proposed; administration of country schools, financial support and a State Board of Education. It might be better still if there were only one subject at a time. Any material change in that system must meet with the approval of the people and the people in large are disposed to rest in things as they are. Mr. J. A. Robinson, speaking of this slow change from long established usages says that "a very small number of peculiarly restless and adventurous spirits did the work. The great mass of humanity has never had anything to do with the increase of intelligence except to act as its medium of transference and perpetuation." He observes further that the many thoughtlessly avail themselves of the creative intelligence of those highly endowed.

We are all interested in the schools and want them to meet the needs of every child. We are willing to be guided but we want to be consulted in that guidance. The committee announces that "proper financing of the schools will demand a complete study of the tax resources which will be made in cooperation with other organizations of that State that are entering this field." This announcement sounds hopeful. If there is any subject that needs study it is our "tax resources" and while studying tax resources it might be well to study the effect of taxes. It will be interesting to know what "other organizations" are going to cooperate with the teachers in this study. Heretofore most of the organized efforts in matters of taxation have been by groups endeavoring to be relieved of particular burdens. None of these groups have so far pointed out "tax resources" that could be drawn upon to take the place of those for which relief is asked. Just taxes should be the aim of every leader and when once found should be taught to our children from the primary grade up to the University graduate. Once we settle what is just in this primary need of Government most of our other problems will solve themselves.

Don't anchor until you are sure you have reached the right landing place.

Most of us believe in the jury system until we are called upon to serve.

If a pessimist followed his nose he would go through the floor.

Texas in Blossom Again.

The rebuds of East and Central Texas are fairly and make up for the position so close to earth by hiding the entire ground on which they grow. They have no advantages over the rebuds, and the rebuds are no prettier than the bluebonnets. They both typify nature at her best and are in no sense rivals. If Texans had a full appreciation of the rebud it could be made more famous than the peach blossoms of the orient, and so could the mountain laurel and the crepe myrtle and other blooming trees and shrubs. The bluebonnet could be made far-famed. Instead we prefer to remain absorbed in the more sordid things like politics. We should be interested in politics, but should not let life slip by without really seeing the beauties that are all about us.

Dividing Texas into Many Parts.

One can seldom pick up a sectional Texas paper, whether it be in East, West, North, South or Central Texas, without reading some slur at some other part of the state. Often these statements are merely in jest with no harm intended, but they create little antagonisms, and mislead the uninformed. There are people living in Texas who believe that dire poverty prevails in all other parts of the state than around their homes. I have just read a Fannin County paper's editorial that speaks sympathetically of the Texans who are not fortunate enough to live on the black, waxy soil of that county, but have to exist on sandy soil. I have just heard a sandy soil citizen tell how his neighbor has made more than $1,000 a year on an acre of land. There should be no more rivalry between the different sections of Texas than there is between the rebuds and the bluebonnets.

All Texas Needs More People.

Go into any part of the state and you will soon find that its greatest need is more people. Too much of the country is idle and being wasted. Capital, whether in money or in lands, that is not used is valueless as long as it is idle. Too much of Texas is not used and so it can't be until there are more people to use it. The only thing that is needed to bring people to the state is an organized organization of the state's persuasive resources should be formed to appeal to the public with all that all Texas has to offer. Kentucky's motto, "United We Stand, Divided We Fall" is more applicable to Texas than any other state in the nation. We have enough common sense to believe in a knock at any part of a thing is a blow to the whole.

Pardons and Paroles.

I have been asked frequently of late, "What is the difference between a pardon and a conditional pardon is there?" The difference is largely in the name. Under a conditional pardon, a convict is at liberty so long as he observes the conditions and does not violate the law. Under a parole he is at liberty so long as he does not violate the law and some friend pays him a fixed sum, say $15.00 a month, and assumes responsibility for his good conduct. Presumably the convict works for the man who paroled him and is paid for the work. Accordingly he does about as he pleases with the consent of the person to whom he is paroled. Therefore in practice the difference between a conditional pardon and a parole is about the difference between "twice-shades and tweedledum."

Fall Fairs in Texas.

Almost every Texas county is busy now arranging for a county fair next fall and in many of them county fairs will be held. This is about the best evidence of general prosperity in the state that could be shown. People who are very poor do not hold fairs, and if they did they could not make creditable exhibits. Fairs are costly and require many exhibitors. They stimulate industry and give the home people an opportunity to see the best of what can be done.

Evolution of Style for 25 Years in Movie

"Time, the Comedian," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, directed by Robert Z. Leonard, which will be shown at the Queen Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, shows the great changes in modes of life and style during the past 25 years. The tight fitting waists, large cumbersome hats and the full, trailing dresses made even fuller, due to the bustle, are contrasted with the masculine, short-skirted, form-revealing clothes of today.

SHOULD PAY PENALTY

If an offender of the law is fairly tried and convicted, either by jury or the court, and sentenced to a term of hard labor in the pen, let that criminal pay in full the penalty the law put upon him by the courts.

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

By John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

SCIATIC NEURITIS.

Sciatic neuritis is, of course, limited to the sciatic nerve. It is often excruciatingly painful. There is no swelling. Lameness is pronounced. Fever is absent in the majority of cases. Absolute rest is the best treatment, though other measures may go along with benefit. I find it very difficult to convince these people that they do not have rheumatism. Old-time physicians indeed, used to pronounce this disease "sciatic rheumatism" when conditions were not understood as they are now. An aged physician was one of the worst sufferers that I have ever seen. Medicines for rheumatism were absolute failures in his case. A plaster-paris cast which enforced absolute rest for two weeks cured him—without a drop of medicine. Rheumatism, so-called, is an inflammation of the joints. It is characterized by swelling, pain, limited motion, and fever in acute stages. The correct term is arthritis. Rheumatism is an obsolete name, or should be. Neuritis is an entirely different proposition, and requires entirely different treatment. Blood disorders and germs cause arthritis. Injuries, over-use, strains, and disease of adjacent organs cause neuritis. A rectal ulcer may cause sciatic neuritis, which treatment of the ulcer cures promptly. Women have sciatic neuritis from causes that escape notice, often the physician himself fails to locate the source. A bit of reflection ought to convince any one of the futility of using medicines for rheumatism in such cases.

KNOW TEXAS

The watershed of the Brazos River in Texas contains 41,700 square miles. The Colorado River watershed in Texas is 37,800 square miles in area.

Forty-six and two-tenths per cent of the population of Texas is engaged in agriculture.

Texas has 793,840 persons whose employment is farming and kindred pursuits.

Fuel resources of Texas include annual production of 130,000,000 barrels of petroleum, 112,000,000,000 cubic feet of gas, and lignite reserve of 38,000,000,000 tons.

A canvasser for a magazine house walked to the door of a prospect and knocked. A colored maid answered.

SELF-MADE MEN

Now and then you hear a man boast that he is a self-made man. Generally he sticks his thumbs in the armpits of his vest and swells up to the limit of his chest expansion when he makes the statement.

Any man who takes such an egotistical position does so without any understanding of our relations with others and the inter-dependency that must necessarily result.

We heard of a man who thought he was self-made. He thinks so because when he was five years old his parents died and he was placed in an orphan asylum. He had only a common school education and today he is the president of a railroad.

He thinks he is a self-made man, but what about the orphan asylum that took him and sheltered him and gave him a chance? What about the family that adopted him out of the asylum and gave him a chance? What about the chief clerk in the railroad company who took him in as office boy and gave him a chance? What about the various officials in the railroad company who took a liking to him and gave him chance after chance, moving him up, step by step? What about the board of directors of the company that elected him to the presidency?

There is no such thing as a self-made man. Just because a fellow goes out and works diligently and is accordingly helped by kindly people who appreciate him—just because he was not born with a gold spoon in his mouth—does not mean that he is self-made.

We are all dependent on each other, absolutely dependent on each other. It makes no difference who you are or what you are, you cannot rise and you cannot stay up except through the aid of those around you. The fact that you make yourself worthy of confidence and support does not at all lessen the fact that you are supported. You should be worthy.

It matters not how smart a man is, he cannot rise without opportunities. These opportunities have to be supplied by those with whom he comes in contact. High and low, great and small, they all have their part in lifting and pulling a man upward, no matter who he is nor how great his capabilities.

A man may be deserving of the help of the world—yes; but self-made, independent of it—no—Exchange.

WISE JUDGE

In the city of Miami, Okla., there is a wise judge. We don't know his name, but he's wise. Nineteen boys were arraigned before him for perpetrating a lot of petty thefts. Did he send them to the reformatory, to make criminals out of them in good earnest? He did not. He called in their parents and had each one given a good, old-time tanning with hickory. Then he turned them loose. It'll be a long time before those lads swipe any more milk bottles.

ALL-COTTON FARMER IS DOOMED

Farm and Ranch

Red River County, Texas.

Farm and Ranch:

I am a reader of your good paper and have come to congratulate you for the manner in which you conduct the editorial page. You strike straight from the shoulder without any discrimination whatever. You are a benefactor to the class you serve. If the farmer would heed your advice he would have less cause for standing on the street corners in the fall of the year "cussing" the reporting board.

I notice much favorable comment in the papers concerning the more cotton on fewer acres, but I fail to see where the farmers as a class have been benefitted. Is it not a fact that it is proving to be more cotton on more acres? Sure it is, 15,000,000 bales in 1925. The largest yield since 1914, with the biggest acreage ever known in the Southland. We have been growing too much cotton for fifty years, and for thirty years have been trying to reduce the cotton acreage. With about 25,000,000 in 1895, we built up to 46,000,000 acres in 1925, reducing every good year.

Why didn't the promoters of the "more cotton on fewer acres," reserve their year to start with and offer those handsome prizes for the most feed on five acres? Some smart man please answer.

Regardless of the intent of the sponsors of that move I fail to see where anyone except the fertilizer people, have been benefitted. The farmer's greatest elephant is the farmer himself. He is a wise guy who does not take advice nor profit by the lessons of the past. His ancestry graduated somewhere in the far past, and the diploma descended to future generations, who take no more instructions.

I am a farmer and grow my own feed. If farm and ranch could teach farmers that 10,000,000 bales of cotton are worth more to him than 15,000,000 the farmers' children would soon be in school for the whole term, instead of one-third of the term, and there would not be any market in old Texas for Northern corn. All the papers are giving the farmer good advice and he knows it. He thinks that the acreage will be cut this year and he will put one over by increasing his acreage, he will even plow his hog patch for cotton.

It is well to reduce, he says, but he wants the other fellow to do it.

"Oh," some one says, "you are too radical." All right, if you think so just mark time and come to see me next fall and tell me what you think of the guy that beats around the bush. Better look out Mr. .98 per cent cotton farmer, you are headed for the rock pile next fall with 8-cent cotton and $1.50 corn from the North; better hold on a minute.

M. C. Davis.

Some fellows think of community work as the ardent union man who refused to blow the quitting whistle because the blast ran a few seconds over the hour.

PENALTY OF FAME

Pity poor Luther Burbank, the California horticulturist. Everybody insists on writing to him. So he broadcasts this sorrowful plea:

"Always, until the past few years, I have been able to reply, with the aid of several assistants, to every letter received. Lately they have come by the thousands from every part of the earth and in every language, a continual daily stream, sometime 500 per day or 2,000 or more per week. It has become an absolute physical as well as mental impossibility to give even the most brief reply to the infinite number of questions asked. This is a matter of self-protection, but I shall as heretofore try to reply when I can be of real service and not endanger my own life. Please always be very brief if a reply of any kind is expected."

Burbank is paying one of the biggest penalties of fame. Every man or woman who becomes widely known is subjected to a deluge of communications of all kinds. The writers, usually mean well, but seldom think of the needless burdens they impose on persons whose time is more valuable than their own.

If anyone must write to a busy and useful person, it is only fair to heed that appeal, "please always be very brief." Indeed, this is good advice for letter-writing in general. A long letter is often an imposition, and seldom so effective as a short one.

HOW TO LIVE LONGER

Medical science can do many things but it cannot restore youth. That is the flat statement of Dr. Morris Fishbein, who speaks with authority, being editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Recent attempts to give back to old age the blessings of youth by operations and injections have been about as effective as the search of Ponce de Leon for the fountain of youth. Some allege these methods have been successful with them, but check-ups show such individual enthusiasm unwarranted.

But Dr. Fishbein does say that any man may expect to live longer than his father or grandfather did. The rules he gives are simple. Boiled down, they are: "Behave yourself and follow your doctor's advice." The first dangerous age, he says, is around 40, when obesity begins its deadly work, with its threat of Bright's disease, high blood pressure and heart disease. But any physician can prescribe a course of conduct which if followed will make obesity unprofitably harmless. However, the advice must be followed.

Hope isn't enough to insure longevity.

CLEAN UP

Now is the season of the year when Mother Nature gets busy and cleans her world by sweeping winds, gentle rains, and then beautifies it with green grass, flowers, and trims the trees and shrubs with leaves. It would be well for us to follow such an excellent example, and clean up our small world. Now is the time to rake up all the rubbish, burn it, or dispose of it in some way that it won't be an eyesore in your community. Now is the time to paint everything paintable so the buildings can present a shining countenance to the springtime world. Now is the time to plant flowers, shrubs, gardens, vines, some kinds of trees, to assist nature in beautifying the world. We are endowed with fine homes, surrounded with lovely old trees, and it is our inheritance, and our duty to care for them. Many of the trees are dying, or are being cut down along the old trails. If we would make our community more beautiful, and a better place to live, we should aim to replace them.

In the meantime let's get the spring time urge, and clean up, pick up, paint up and plant.

Up Jumps Dempsey

In the eyes of sportsmen and lovers of the manly art of thump and be thumped, Jack Dempsey may yet redeem himself. His lack of performance in several ways in the recent past caused the public to believe that he was a sport slacker. But now he has broken all precedent by putting up a cool quarter of a million to promote his own fight with Harry Wills on Labor Day. According to his promoter, the champion will fight solely on a percentage basis and without guarantee. Tho' he expects to clear a million, even those who would not care to see the match must admit that Jack has some sporting blood left, which will tell, even among prize fighters.

The only skeptical thing about the Prodigal Son story is that when he returned he found the old folks at home.

SPECIAL CLEAN-UP CALL

Only two more days of Clean-Up Week. May we specially urge you to help us during these final days. The judging will be early next week and all premises will be classified and judged according to appearance.

Unnecessary boxes and containers of any kind whatsoever on sidewalks or in alleys not in place or neglected will have a bearing on the judges; all places not cleaned and being neglected will be reported and complaints recommended. Every yard and place of business will be visited and classified. Be sure and get your premises cleaned-up this week. The city wagons will haul your trash off free of charge.

The following cash prizes will be awarded for the cleanest premises: $5 cash for the cleanest premises in the residence section or business section; $3 will be given as second prize, and $2 third prize.

P. T. ASSOCIATION

Better Towns—Better Business

A town which is vitally concerned about its growth and the prosperity of its people is one which is not self-satisfied so far as industrial development is concerned and is putting forth concerted effort both to acquire desirable new industries and to aid established ones to expand. Fortunately, there are few, in any town which should not be placed in the above class. It is true however that some are more active than others and the results accomplished are, as a rule, in direct proportion to the quantity and the quality of activity put forth. Too often it occurs that some business men become so engrossed in their own particular business that they depend on others to look after affairs which so affect the entire community and which require the united support of all concerned. No one questions the value of a large industrial payroll to every business or profession in a community. Hearty co-operation of all concerned should prevail in making this possible and it must prevail if a community is to fully capitalize its possibilities.

You can't lift people up by setting down on them.

Onward the Shovel Brigade

This is our annual spring clean-up editorial; have you done yours yet? The Santa Anna News never forgets this editorial; do you ever forget the cleaning?

Santa Anna is known as one of the prettiest towns in this section. This beauty is not automatic. It springs only from long hours of sometimes grubby toil on the part of the average citizen. It is up to every housewife and "yard husband" to do their part in keeping the city up to the high standard they themselves have set for it in years passed. Spring is nature's refurbishing period and it should be man's. The hoe, the rake, the shovel and the broom are the implements of "City Beautiful" cultivation. Let's all get "out back" and do the needful. It will help Santa Anna to keep her reputation for beauty; and most of us need the exercise, anyway.

J. T. Riley For County Commissioner

Added to our announcement column this week is the name of J. T. Riley, a good farmer of the Shield community, who is a candidate for Commissioner of Precinct No. 2, Coleman county.

Mr. Riley has lived here 21 years, has been more than successful as a farmer, and as we have said of many others, he is too well known to need any introduction from the press. He is thoroughly competent to attend to the affairs of the office, and if elected will give you his best service. He very respectfully solicits your favorable consideration and support in this campaign. He will make a personal campaign before the primary and place his claims further before you.

Come to our Tent Theatre any night next week and you will be pleased with the play—Jeannings Players.

14 BILLIONS! CHEAP. SOCIALISM DEFINED. SCIENCE USEFUL. ASHES OVER GOLD.

The Bureau of Industrial Technology says it costs the United States FOURTEEN BILLIONS A YEAR to buy automobiles and keep them running.

That's more than the amount lent to Europe during the war and it is also a better investment than the war loan. From Europe for our ten billions we get criticism, the accusation of meanness. From the automobiles for our fourteen billions we get national health, saving of time, much pleasure, millions of families united. At fourteen billions a year the automobile is a bargain.

If you haven't got yours yet, get it NOW, with the opening of Spring.

To use public moneys for the comfort of the prosperous class is "sound conservatism." To use it for the unprosperous class, their wives and children, is SOCIALISM.

We spend thousands on a fine health path in a great park, supplying soft footing for the horses as the well-to-do, that's WELL.

But when the Governor of New York suggests using public moneys to solve the housing problem for the poor, providing decent living quarters at reasonable rentals, that is denounced by indignant landlords as "rank Socialism."

The Rev. Dr. Thomas, president of Rutgers University, says all our progress is due to religion—"this nation forgets that through its faith in God. Science and education have been negligible factors in the progress of America."

Departing Grid Stars at Trinity Make Honor Roll

Four members of the Trinity football team of last year will be lost to the school by graduation in June, and all four of the gridiron stars are also honor students.

Captain Cecil Manning, recognized as one of the leading defensive players ever to perform in the Southwest; Albert Lowe, all-T. I. A. A. quarterback; Homer Spencer, halfback, and Arthur Gordon, center, all make the honor roll at Trinity during the winter term. Manning and Lowe played on the Trinity team four years, and both served as captain of the team in two of the most successful years Trinity ever had on the gridiron. Spencer and Gordon played football only during their senior year.—Waxahachie Daily Paper.

The Bridge Club

Mrs. Leman Brown was hostess to the Bridge Club on Friday afternoon. The house was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and pot plants, and there were four tables of players and several interesting games were played. Out of town visitors were Mesdames Wilson, Switzer and Walter Woodward of Coleman. Late in the afternoon plates containing chocolate russe, hot tea, cakes and mints were passed to the guests. Plate favors were pansies.

science and education all credit due to science and education. The radio, carrying sermons, including the marvelous Sermon on the Mount, to millions unseen by the speaker, would have interested him and the modern methods of protecting mothers and prolonging the lives of children would have delighted the heart of the great defender of children and women. Religion is the greatest thing in the world, because it deals with the infinite. Science and education are important also.

Eugene C. May, highly educated, has left this earth in disgust. Years ago he learned the location of a schooner sunk in a few fathoms of water on its way from the Australian gold fields with $10,000,000 in gold on board.

Trying to get that gold he fitted out two expeditions, spent all he had, more than $100,000, failed. He opened the veins in his wrists, died, and now his ashes will be scattered on the surface of the Pacific Ocean above the $10,000,000 in gold that he did not get. A good text for sermons.

A British scientist makes this most important announcement concerning cancer. He can detect, by analysis of a few drops of the patient's blood, the presence of cancer in its early stages. Cancer located and treated promptly in the beginning can be permanently eradicated. Cancers that kill are those ignored too long. Report any strange growth to your doctor.

Seven years ago, young J. E. Tucker, of Dartmouth College, owned just one dime and a watermelon. Now his life is insured for a million. That interests many who think money means happiness. Later Mr. Tucker won't have even the dime, and the worms will have him. But the crowd forgets that.

We have heard an unpleasant story of slave labor. A State is alleged to have made a profit of more than half a million dollars in 1925 by putting convicts to work in the mines as slaves, under conditions of dreadful cruelty.

Conditions are not as bad as they have been formerly, however; not as bad as when English laborers were branded with a red-hot iron on the cheek if they sought work outside of their own parish; not as bad as when men sent to the mines by Peter the Great lived and died chained to their wheelbarrows.

The Union Mission Study Class

The Union Mission Study class met with Mrs. W. R. Kelley in her beautiful home on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Frank Turner was leader and a very interesting lesson on Mexico and its people was recited. All on program responded with good talks. There were fourteen present. This work is very helpful and instructive, and we would be glad to have more of the ladies join in with us.

Judge J. R. Smith of Burnett and a party of supporters were in the Mountain City Wednesday in the interest of Judge Smith's candidacy for Congress, Seventeenth Congressional District, in opposition to Judge Thos. L. Blanton present incumbent, who is also candidate for re-election. Judge Smith states that, if he is successful in his campaign, he will zealously guard the rights of states in all legislation before the Congress, and use his best efforts against any further infringements of states rights. Judge Blanton will be heard from, however, he is a real man, just at time in Washington, D. C.

Achieving Success In Business

A book to interest young, wide awake, ambitious people—to inspire them to higher things in life—is "Achieving Success in Business." In this book illustrated with actual pictures of successes, the author has kept in mind that youth has a limitless ambition, that young men and young women reach for the stars, that they are hungry, insatiable for life with its rich experiences and sensations, that, for youth, life in all its fullness lies AHEAD.

It has long been known that the biggest incomes and the richest opportunities are to be found in the field of business; that young men and young women often achieve greater success before they are thirty than many men achieve in other callings in a life time. But, so far as any one knows, few books have been written telling why. "Achieving Success in Business" is one of the few.

The courses which are known to equip young people best for any position the business world offers are explained in the helpful book. Tyler Commercial College is the publisher of this book—the school that has used much care in choosing its faculty, its courses and its system of teaching. All of these are discussed in the book, "Achieving Success in Business." Reasons are given why the graduates of the Private Secretarial, General Business, General Railroad, General Western Union, General Civil Service, General Cotton Classing, Radio, Penmanship and many other courses are leaders and where the leaders are.

Tyler Commercial College wants every ambitious person to read "Achieving Success in Business." It is to your interest to send for the book if you want a good position; if you want to be well on the road to success long before you are thirty; if you want to accomplish all this in half the usual time and at less expense. New Way to Stop Night Coughing

Simple Method Brings Quick Relief

For almost instant relief from hacking, irritating, sleep-robbing night coughing there is a very simple treatment which, often with a single dose, stops all irritation and permits sound sleep the whole night through.

This treatment is based on the prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take one teaspoonful at bed-time and hold it in the throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of night coughing. People who have not slept well for nights are often surprised how quickly this simple method checks coughing and banishes the entire cough condition completely.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, sore throat, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children as well as grown-ups—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

May First National Egg Day

College Station, Texas, April 5.

Recognizing the magnitude and volume of the poultry industry, the National Poultry Council of the United States of America has issued a proclamation designating May 1, 1926, as National Egg Day. "The Extension Service of the A. & M. College of Texas, with its poultry husbandmen, and many county and home demonstration agents, is co-operating with the National Poultry Council in helping to bring about a keener appreciation of the value of poultry products; in increasing the demand for high quality eggs, and in helping to make poultry keeping a more profitable and stabilized industry," said V. R. Glazener, poultry husbandman with the Extension Service and chairman of the State Committee, said in discussing the action of the Council.

The proclamation states that "more people are directly interested in the production and consumption of eggs than any other single food commodity." It also points out that the value of the products produced by the American hen for the current year is estimated to be approximately a billion and a quarter dollars. The following comment was alone made by Mr. Glazener: "May 1 will be a day in which to spread the message of the peculiar protective properties possessed by eggs in the human diet, and a day on which every branch of the poultry industry can preach the importance of poultry husbandry and poultry products in the every-day practice of feeding our people."

ANOTHER BROODER EXPLODES

Last Wednesday morning at 5 o'clock, Mrs. J. D. Nabours' brooder exploded and burned her brooder house and 400 chickens from one to four weeks old. Mrs. Nabours says she has got a good hatch from the Santa Anna Hatchery and has had good luck in not having any sick ones. She also says she has had a better hatch at the Santa Anna Hatchery than any she tried last year, and has raised a greater percent of her chickens than she did last year, not considering the fire. She has hatched off to date 1851 chickens. She wishes to state she feeds Purina feed.

Albert May For Tax Assessor

In another column of this paper will be found the formal announcement of Albert May of Glen Cove, for the office of Tax Assessor of Coleman county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary in July. Mr. May, it will be remembered, made the race for Assessor two years ago, was defeated by a small majority, played the part of a good sport, accepted his defeat without a murmur, and announced immediately following the election his intentions to enter the contest again at this time. He is well qualified for the place, and if elected, will serve you to the best of his ability. His announcement has been expected for weeks, and probably would have appeared sooner if sickness had not interfered.

THE PASSING DAY

WILL H. MAYES
 Former Dean
 Department of Journalism
 University of Texas

The Boom Bomerang.

There is every indication of a rise in land values in some parts of Texas of a kind commonly known as a boom. It is a bit difficult to determine just where the line is between a legitimate increase in realty values and a fictitious price. It is safe to say that where prices are so high on real estate that it can not be used with profit for the purposes to which it is adapted when values have become fictitious and impermanent. Florida real estate has advanced to its present proportions, not because it is worth the price at which it sells, but because Florida has become the playground of the wealthy Easterners who can afford to pay high for their pleasures. Texas can hardly hope to attract enough rich people from the North to create any great competition among them in acquiring pleasure resorts or estates on which to spend their easily earned fortunes. The Texas resort area is too large for that to be possible. Besides, too large a number of them are already permanently settled in California and Florida. Florida would never have had its unprecedented boom but for its accessibility to New Yorkers.

Burned Children Dred Fire.

Large numbers of people have been attracted to Florida who are not rich and who could not afford to own Florida real estate permanently at the prices to which it has soared. They were waded through prospects for speculation. Many of these were able to sell while prices were still advancing and made money. Those who bought at top prices with the hope of reselling at a profit to lose money. They are numbered by the thousands. They will likely have to sell at whatever they can get, and many of them, scolding another boom along the Texas coast, will hurry to Texas to recoup their losses, buying in the hope of a repetition of the happenings in Florida. Should enough of these speculators come and put enough energy into their efforts to inflate prices, Texas coast real estate will advance perceptibly, for the speculative mania spreads like wildfire. Texas real estate, in almost all parts of the state, is as yet reasonably cheap. It is worth the prices it brings either for investment or for use. It should advance steadily in value in proportion to the increase in population throughout the country. A few favored spots may increase in value out of their due proportion. But wherever prices advance beyond a revenue producing point they are likely to make to recede and somebody will lose money.

Not Knocking Texas Investment.

What I have said may sound somewhat like a knock, but it is intended merely as a warning. Texas is too vast to become a playground for the wealthy from other states. In a small way we may reasonably hope to attract and hold tourists, but not in the vast herds that have gone to Southern California and Florida. We can't build values on a playground basis; we must do it on the basis of returns on investment. Where this can be done there is no better investment than Texas real estate; where it can't be done it is speculation pure and simple. If you have money with which to speculate and desirous to use it that way, no one objects to the use you make of it, and some speculators get large returns, but for every purely speculative gain there will be somewhere, sometime and to somebody a like loss. There is nowhere better opportunity for investment than in Texas, but speculation is risky and those who have been caught in its little elsewhere are likely to be a little chary.

Acquiring Knowledge of Values.

If all people were equally expert in knowing values there would be less poverty. Evaluation is a study unknown to most of us. As a rule we are inclined to place a low value on a property with which we are familiar and a high valuation on that which is less known. Proximity is likely to cheapen a thing in our estimation unless we are skillful in appraising values, and very few are. For that reason many people are constantly selling what they have at less than its worth and buying elsewhere at excessive prices, in that way keeping themselves impoverished. If you are seeking safe investment, as distinguished from speculation, it is a pretty good rule to study values close at home and invest there with discretion, rather than place your money in distant localities. There isn't a locality in Texas where good investments may not be made, but the places where profitable speculation may be done are few.

Abusing the Weather.

Most of us who were busiest in our complaints about the heat and the dry weather last summer are now just as busily complaining about the cold and the rains. The weather man, however, seems able to stand it.

Cleaning Up The Towns.

Texas newspapers are all appealing to the people to clean up the back yards and alleys. It is strange that such appeals have to be made, but most people appear indifferent to what is at the back of their places so the front is presentable. I know a man who has his front yard fastidiously neat and his back yard disgustingly dirty, who has good cement walks where he can see them from his front door, but whose neighbors have to wade in mud or take to the streets when they use his walks at the back of his luxurious home. "The Wanderer" Feature At Queen Theatre Wednesday and Thursday

Way back in the days when caravans were popular instead of automobiles and caravansaries were the forerunners of road houses, the prodigal son left home to become a self-made man—with the aid of his father's coffers and advice. The former he clutched and the latter he cursed as he mounted his mule and set out for the city under the villainous guidance of a wicked merchant. For then even as now, there were sirens and scoundrels, gamblers and pawn-brokers to make the road to the city attractive and easy going for the country boy. With this siren's help he saw the town—so thoroughly that he was soon hotfooting it for home, this time cherishing his father's advice and cursing the coffers. William Collier, Jr., plays the part of Jether, the country boy, Ernest Torrence is the professed protector and Greta Nissen entices as the beckoning city girl. Whether you are a willing or an unwilling twentieth century wanderer, or even no wanderer at all, you will be sure to be fascinated by this Paramount picture.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Don't forget the services next Lord's Day both morning and evening.

The Bible School begins promptly at 10 o'clock. Classes for all. All men who do not attend elsewhere will find an interesting class of men at this church. You are invited to attend this class. Subject of morning sermon "Come! Tarry! Go!"

At 8 o'clock p. m. the evening service begins. After a spiritual session of song and prayer, the following subject will be discussed: "How A Successful Revival May be Had."

The last two Sundays have been great days from every standpoint. Come and worship with us next Sunday. You need the inspiration.

A. L. Oder, Minister.

Come to our Tent Theatre any night next week and you will be pleased with the play.—Jennings Players.

When Business is Good

SATURDAY night is a mighty good time to ask yourself this question: "Is our community sending more money out of town than is coming in each week?" Of course the only safe answer is "NO!"

This means that we folks in this neighborhood must patronize local supply men and merchants if we expect our town to prosper and "stay on the map."

Frankly, it means that every citizen will find it most profitable to read the advertisements in this paper every issue, and to follow their good advice.

Our advertisers are all personally interested in this town—and in YOU. They are helping you build a better home community. When business is good, their profits are being shared with you in an endless chain of co-operative betterment.

Lesson for April 11

THE STORY OF CREATION

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 1:1-2:5. GOLDEN TEXT—In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth. —Gen. 1:1.

PRIMARY TOPIC—God the Creator of All Things.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Story of Creation.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—God the Maker of All Things.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—God in Creation.

Everything but God had a beginning. God the uncaused cause is the cause of all things. Let this fundamental truth, though beyond the power of the human mind to grasp, be believed and all our problems of philosophy and theology will be solved. I. The Origin of the Universe (Gen. 1:1).

It was created by God. All things came into being by the will and act of a personal God. Create means to bring into existence that which had no previous existence.

11. The Regeneration of the Earth (1:3-25).

Between verses one and two is clearly marked an interval of perhaps wide duration. The earth which was created by God was subjected to a judgment. The Hebrew word "was" might just as well have been translated "became." Instead, therefore, of the earth having been created a void or chaos, we see that it became no through a cataclysmic judgment. In Isaiah 45:18, the prophet declares that God did not create the earth a waste, but that He formed it to be inhabited. All that real geology has to say to us harmonizes with this view. The so-called six days of creation exhibit God's rehabilitation of the earth.

The cause for this judgment upon the earth is to be found doubtless in the judgment upon Satan, who is called the prince of this world (John 12:31).

Observe that God created the species and decreed that they propagate after their kind. Such a thing as one species developing out of another is unknown to the Bible and real science.

111. The Origin of Man (1:26-28).

He was created by God. He came into being through a special creative act of God. As to nature, he bore the image and likeness of God. This image and likeness is not physical or bodily, but intellectual and moral (Eph. 4:24, Col. 3:10). God's likeness is reflected in man's three-fold nature. Man is spirit, soul and body (1 Thess. 5:23). God made man with a personality capable of having fellowship with Himself—with whom He could share His glory.

IV. Adam Alone in Eden (2:7-9, 15-20).

He had a most beautiful place in which to live. God gave him surroundings in keeping with his nature. "Pleasant to the sight and good for food" describes his surroundings. It was to "dress and keep" the garden (v. 15), showing that work was God's primal thought for man. To this agrees the teaching of the New Testament. If any man would not work, neither should he eat (II Thess. 3:10). Man in Eden was desolate. Paradise with all its splendor could not satisfy his lonely heart. Animals of all kinds surrounded him, but no companionship among them was to be found for him. To make Adam conscious of his condition God caused the animals to pass before him, with the result that no helpmeet was found for him; man, being a personality, was differentiated from the animal.

V. The Origin of Woman (2:21-24).

To meet the need of man God made the woman. They had minds alike, therefore could commune together about the things that surrounded them, and about God. They had spiritual natures, therefore could commune together and with God. God took a rib from Adam's side and out of it made the woman. Man was made from the dust of the ground and woman was taken from his side—thus woman was one removed farther from the earth than man. Someone has said that the man was dust refined, but the woman was dust doubly refined. Matthew Henry says, "Woman was made of the rib out of the side of Adam, not out of his head to top him, nor out of his feet to be trampled upon by him, but out of his side, to be equal with him—under his arm to be protected and near his heart to be loved."

VI. The Origin of Marriage (2:24).

God made man—male and female. It was His intention that men and women should marry. Marriage is the most sacred of human ties. It is of divine origin; for God Himself performed the marriage ceremony.

Give Credit to God

This act of initiative and daring, this resolute step of entire confidence, is at the same time the most reasonable proceeding that a creature may undertake. Give credit to God; no wisdom, no prudent calculation could be safer.—Charles Wagner.

Killing Doubts

Every step toward Our Lord Christ kills a doubt. Every thought, word, and deed for Him, carries you away from discouragement.

CANDY AND PROSPERITY

Made-in-America candy, like American ice cream and soda water, is marching to conquest in world markets, while Uncle Sam's sweet tooth develops at an amazing rate.

The National Confectioners' Association is authority for the statement that the United States consumed 825,000 tons of candy last year. In 1910, the per capita consumption of sugar in this country was less than eight pounds. By 1924 it had reached 150 pounds. Between 1910 and 1918 the increase was only eight pounds, while the per capita consumption during the next six years was sixty-two pounds.

Hungry folks do not buy candy in preference to meat and bread, so the fact that the American people ate 1,650,000,000 pounds of candy last year may be accepted as another proof of the country's general prosperity. One must have money to buy candy, and an industry doing a business of more than a billion dollars a year must employ countless workers and maintain many factories.

Just to enumerate a few of the allied interests in the candy industry, there are the sugar plantations, and refineries, the cocoa plantations, and refineries, candy factories, box factories, the dairy furnishing milk and butter used in the manufacture of candy, manufacturers of flavoring extracts, the nut trade, the maple sugar producers, the paper mill, and the transportation system which welds them into a whole and then makes possible the world-wide distribution of the product of their combined efforts.

Vast as it is the candy industry is but a pygmy compared with some other great American industrial enterprises. It is only one of the many stones in this marvelous industrial and commercial structure.

The Power of Duplication

A striking advertisement in a recent issue of a well known magazine commands attention. The ad is about a book. It goes on to say that if only one volume of that book were produced the cost would run into many thousands of dollars. By the power of duplication, by means of printing, the expense is reduced in proportion to the number of copies obtainable plus the ratio of potential sales.

These facts bear a direct relation to the power of advertising; which is merely the multiplying of the advertiser's effort and accomplishment and which, when done in accordance with the rules of the game, unquestionably reduce the price of the commodity to the consumer. Advertising is the same "power of duplication" in salesmanship; and again it is the printing press that does the trick.

Any man who thinks he has no chance is right.

DEGREES IN HOUSEKEEPING

Fifty-three books on domestic science were written last year. There is a demand for this class of writing, else authors on the subject would not be so voluminous.

The housekeeper or homemaker is by way of being a scholar. In very recent years she has come to be regarded as something more than one who merely cooks and tidies up the house.

It is little short of being recognized as a learned profession for high schools generally are incorporating courses of domestic science and normal schools and colleges are turning out instructors by the thousands.

The schools have practically accepted the teaching of homemaking as a fundamental principle in the development of education. Homemakers make the schools and the teachings of the schools can never rise higher than their source.

All homemakers intuitively conduct their homes on the fundamental principle of life and growth. If that were not true, there would be nothing left of human life in a few years.

And it isn't only in the fundamentals that the good housekeeper or homemaker is sound. She is just as everlastingly right and erudite in details.

She has this superiority, too, over other learned professions which the schools, colleges and universities are teaching. Most of the others are scholarly in only one thing. The good homemaker has to know at least a dozen things very thoroughly, and not only know them but be able to apply what she knows with her hands.

Sooner or later we will be conferring college degrees of M. H. and D. H., meaning "Mistress of Homemaking" and "Doctor of Housekeeping."

We're expecting at any time to see someone dig up an old blue law that prohibits saying there isn't any Santa Claus.

Loyalty to city costs nothing but pays good returns.

YOU MAY HAVE PELLAGRA

AND NOT KNOW IT

EARLY SYMPTOMS—Nervousness, stomach trouble, despondency, shortness of breath, burning feet, sore eruptions, itches or rashes, skin tingling sensations, smothering spells, diarrhoea, loss of sleep, loss of weight, dizziness or swimming in head, general weakness with loss of energy.

You do not have all these symptoms in the beginning, but if you have any of them YOU MAY HAVE PELLAGRA. DR. FREE'S BUCKLE-TIGHTENING PELLAGRA will explain. My treatment differs from all others, and is endorsed by a State Health Department, physicians and hundreds who have taken the treatment. Write for Questionnaire and FREE Diagnosis.

Scripps Was Consistent

Nearly three years before his death, Edward W. Scripps, one of the great figures in American journalism, gave orders that in the event of his passing his body be buried in the sea without communicating with his relatives. Why not? Scripps loved the sea, and spent a greater portion of his retired life in cruising its waters. Many people dislike the idea of a watery grave because it can not afterward be identified. Yet whatever this or any other man may have accomplished will be marked by the records of achievement left, not by a shallow tomb of engraving on stone.

To avoid the idolizing mob, Mary Pickford can't go down town shopping like other women. But look at the sighs she saves by not having to look into the store windows at the things she couldn't get if she could go down town shopping.

100 PIECES OF STEEL TAKEN FROM MAN'S FACE

Amarillo, March 22.—More than 100 pieces of steel today were removed from the face of Roy Foster, oil worker, seriously injured when a pipe blew out while he was working on the Phillips Petroleum Company well on the Coble leases, Hutchinson county. He will recover, but doctors say he will probably be blind.

Necessity the Mother of Good Roads

Illinois now leads all other states in its 6000 miles of permanent type paved roads; and anyone who ever tried to drive thru the soft soil or sticky clay of that state in the old days knows how badly the paved highways were needed. Truly, no section of the country can boast of absolute immunity from rescue by chains or mule teams at times when the weather man does his stuff. But all hail to Illinois! There is system to its system.

To Those Who Judge Quality by Price

The quality of Ford cars cannot be judged by the prices at which they are sold—because Ford prices are made possible by conditions that are absolutely unique in the automotive industry.

From mine to market the Ford car is the work of a single organization. The Company owns and operates the mines and forests that furnish the raw materials for its products. This material is carried over Ford transportation routes, fabricated in Ford mills, manufactured in Ford plants—and the finished product is sold to the public through Ford dealers.

The following statement, previously made in an advertising message, is repeated because of its significance to the public:

"If any other manufacturer endeavored to produce a car similar to the Ford, according to the high standards of quality in material and workmanship used by the Ford Motor Company and with the same tried and proved design, it would be impossible to offer it at anything like Ford prices. And it is well to note that even with less costly design they have not met Ford prices."

LET US UNITE AND BUILD

Let us unite ourselves together for the purpose of building here in Santa Anna a community where life shall be truly worth while for all who come.

Let us build our best where nature has done her best to furnish the setting for an ideal community.

Let us build for beauty in our public buildings, business blocks, homes and places of pleasure, so that the work of our hands shall be worthy the work of nature all about us.

Let us build for health in our sanitary and hygienic provisions, supplementing the purity of our sunshine, air and water, with the conserving power of public cleanliness in all places where men and women eat and children play.

Let us build for prosperity through the capitalization of all our available resources of location, climate, land values, and the legitimate needs of the people for goods and service.

Let us build for character through schools that shall impart knowledge, include wisdom and develop individual talent, and through churches which shall exalt the spiritual over the material.

Let us build for justice through the application of the Golden Rule in all our dealings with each other and with strangers, so that the name of Santa Anna shall everywhere be in good repute.

THE MODERN GIRL

Those who have observed that the average girl of today is healthy, pretty and trained to work requires no defense of the modern young woman. Still there are some who, misled by the excess of talk about flappers, have the notion that the average of

Hooverizing Motor Traffic

If Herbert Hoover succeeds in establishing uniformity in state-vehicle laws and local ordinances affecting motor traffic he will have done the country a vast amount of good. Let's make the nation safe for tourists and all the rest. People shy at traveling in strange jurisdictions where traffic regulations are probably directly opposite from those they have been accustomed to at home.

the girls of today is not as high as in former times.

The girls of today probably do more work than those of any other time, for the reason that the modern world has brought more occupations suitable to them. Nor are all those called flappers to be thought of as light, flippant creatures; certainly not as being immoral. Of course there are extremes among them, as in all classes and in all periods. But no class should be judged as a whole by the few in it who may be unfortunate. However, the worst flappers of today could not possibly be weighed against more severely than were their sisters of ancient times.

Cato the Censor had his troubles with them, and the Bible also has many commentaries on their dress and conduct. What modern flapper could act in a more flippant manner than the daughters of Zion described in the sixteenth verse of the third chapter of Isaiah; daughters who were haughty, and walked with stretched forth necks and wanton eyes, walking and mincing as they went, and making a tinkling with their feet? The rest of chapter also has much to say of their dress. In all ages there has been extremes just as today.

THE WORLD BEAUTIFUL

By C. G. Denham

What a beautiful world this world would be,

If each of us sought only good to see
If we closed our lips, when we would condemn,
If our angry passions we would but stem,

If we turned deaf ears to the gossiping tongue,
If love filled our hearts when each day begun,
If we met a scowl with a cheerful smile,

If we pursued each day just things worth while,
If we turned our backs on envy and greed,
If we proved a friend to some one in need,

Let's cross out the "ifs" as we journey through life;
Blot out from our visions those things which cause strife;
Erase from our consciousness hatred and lust;

Forget and forgive those who've betrayed our trust;
Emerge from glass houses where faultfinding thrives;
Rebuke evil whisprings which enter our lives;

Deny every impulse which causes offense;
Be sure our endeavors are free of pretense;
By spreading the Gospel of Peace and Good Will,

The lowering clouds of Discord will become ill.

Letting well enough alone is all right if you are able to recognize well enough.

FIDDLING MINSTRELS

This fiddling business is coming to be taken seriously, since Henry Ford started the fashion with his veteran performer from Maine. Old-timers are coming forward everywhere, showing their prowess and proclaiming the superiority of the old-fashioned tunes and players.

They have just been holding a tournament in Cleveland, attended by half a hundred elderly performers, to determine the fiddling championship of the state. Soon, no doubt, we shall have interstate contests and sectional and national championships. A class of musicians long disregarded has suddenly come into honor.

It is a fine thing, too, as long as it isn't over-done. The violin is incomparably better than the saxophone, by any reasonable human standard. And most of us in our lucid moments will admit that the old dance tunes, sweet and lively alike, are better than this modern jazz stuff.

Government would be worth all its costs to some people if they didn't have to pay cash.

Run-Down gave out easily

"MY health wasn't any account at all," says Mrs. H. L. Cayton, of Washington, N. C. "I would start to do my housework and I would give out before I had done anything at all. I did not have any strength, and if I did the least thing it seemed to tax me so I could not finish. I was run-down sure enough. Several of my friends had taken Cardui and they said to me, 'Why don't you try it?' I knew I needed something to build up my general health and to increase my strength. Finally one day when I was recovering from a spell of sickness, I decided to try Cardui. I got a bottle and began to take it. I could notice that I was improving as my appetite got better and I did not give out nearly so quick. I took several bottles and I felt lots better. Two years ago I decided to take it again. It built me up and made me feel like a different person. It is the grandest medicine for women that I know anything about."

Caught in the Round-Up

Have some real values in hats and dresses.—Mrs. G. A. Shockley.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Walker spent Sunday with relatives in Cross Cut.

J. D. Center went to Coleman Tuesday.

W. R. Kimbling was a business visitor in the city this week.

Frank Newman has returned from a visit to Eldorado.

Get your Baccalaureate hat and dress at Mrs. Shockley's.

Miss Hazel Griffin of Iona, Okla., is visiting Miss Lena Fay Childs and other friends of this city.

Euel Meadow and sisters, Misses Addie and Lessie of Ovalla visited relatives here Sunday.

Come to our Tent Theatre any night next week and you will be pleased with the play.—Jennings Players.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Terry of Abilene visited the lady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Phillips here Sunday.

The Methodist Bazaar was quite a success. The total receipts netted the ladies something over $140.00.

Mrs. Joe Shield of Trickham who was operated on at the local hospital last week, returned home Monday.

Mrs. Ruth Secest of Hamilton, Assistant District Deputy of the Eastern Star Chapter, visited the Chapter here Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Babgy returned to their home in Fort Worth Wednesday after a several days visit with relatives here.

A very appropriate and interesting Easter service was held at the Methodist church Sunday morning. The choir rendered a cantata that would have done credit to a city choir.

F. A. (Albert) May Announces For Tax Assessor.

To the voters of Coleman County: Having made the race for Tax Assessor two years ago and being unsuccessful at that time I served notice to the good people of Coleman county that I would make the race two years hence, so I am back again thanking each and every one for the liberal vote and support given me at that time. Will say that my announcement would have come earlier but from circumstances over which we had no control have delayed me until now. In my former race I gave you my life's history and I think it only necessary that you look into my past life, it is an open book and you may sift its pages as you like best. I feel that my past experience gives me all the necessary qualifications to perform the duties of the office with credit and if elected I shall strive to be on the job at all times discharging the duties with "equal favors to all and special privileges to none." I intend to make a thorough canvass of the county and trust that I shall have the privilege of meeting each and every one personally, however, should I fail to see you, consider these few words as a most earnest solicitation. Again thanking the people of Coleman county for any support given me in the July primary, I beg to remain,

Respectfully,
F. A. (Albert) MAY.

Senior Class Presents April Fool Program

It has not only become a custom, but a tradition for the Senior class to present a program in costume on April Fool, and so all the talent of the Senior class was called into service to make this year's entertainment the best in the history of the event. The members of the class met at Mr. Withers' home and marched to the school building keeping step to the music played on such instruments as tin lids, rusty buckets, car numbers, and worn-out toy drums. The grammar school and all the teachers in the system were present to witness the hilarious event and Olivia Land, dressed after the style of twenty years ago, acted as master of ceremonies and announced the following program:

Introduction of the class—Lila Belle Smith.

Orchestra.

Dialogues—Otha Polk and J. E. Ford.

"Alcoholic Blues"—Gillette Banister.

Story of the Juniors—Obers Mercer.

A song by Frolicking Twins—Pete and Repete—Tom, Simpson and Jack Allen.

Charleston—Lanora Neil.

Selection by Fake Glee Club.

Song (sung backwards)—Clide Boho, Doris Center and Lila Bell Smith.

Orations by the "Noted Trio"—Wilbour Nabours, Francis Carroll and H. M. Smith.

Cracker Eating Contest—H. M. Smith and Charlie Burris.

Nursery Rhymes—Mondane Nabours, Ola Polk and Faye Atkinson.

When the program was over a photographer took a groupe picture of the girls in their freak costumes and to crown it all Mrs. Scarborough gave us a test in English!—Reporter.

Mesdames Frank Pearce, J. W. Pearce, Jim Newman, Frank Crum, S. W. Childers, J. Ed Bartlett and Miss Fatyma Bartlett attended a school of instruction for the Eastern Star in Brownwood one day last week.

Among the oil prospectors here this week is J. W. Keeling of Mexia, who is looking over the field with a view of drilling.

Save The Chick's Life By Feeding Like This

1st and 2nd day	Do not feed anything. To do so may cause death.
3rd day to 7th day	Keep Purina Chick Startena (mash) in front of chicks at all times in low troughs or feeders. Also keep clean sand or grit and charcoal on the floor or in low hoppers. Supply fresh water with the chill removed.
2nd week	Keep Purina Chick Startena in front of chicks all the time in low hoppers. Seventh to tenth days feed a small amount of Purina Baby Chick Chow at evening just before the chicks go under the hover. After ten days feed Chick Chow two or three times a day—all they will clean up in fifteen minutes. Give them some sprouted oats at noon. Supply grit, charcoal and clean water.
3rd to 6th week	Keep Purina Startena (mash) in front of them all the time. Feed Purina Baby Chick Chow (scratch) twice a day. Feed it in a litter so they have to scratch. Feed some green feed, grit and charcoal.
7th to 20th week, inclusive	Gradually change from Purina Chick Startena to Purina Chick Growena—the growing mash. Change from Chick Chow to Purina Intermediate Hen Chow. Take ten days to make the change. Supply grit, charcoal, greens, and fresh water.
