National and International News Hi-Lights of the Week

President Truman's plan for a co-equal Army-Navy-Air Defense Arms under a single cabinet officer will be ready in a few days for its first test in a bitterly divided congress.

But whether actual passage will be attempted before adjournment is doubtful unless the administration elects to insist. The lawmakers' tendency now is to do necessary chores and get home where election campaigns are warming up.

President Truman got a pledge of wholehearted support of this merger plan from Secretary of War Robert Patterson but a parallel expression from Secretary of the Navy Forrestal was missing.

A shakeup of the supreme court by means of a constitutional amendment forcing four Roosevelt appointees off the bench, was proposed by Senators Eastland of Mississippi and Bridges of New Hampshire.

The senate military committee recommends that general Mark Clark be promoted to the rank of major general despite the objections from some men who fought under him. The rank he now holds is temporary but this will promote him to permanent rank.

The U. S. has offered to destroy the store of atomic bombs and share the atomic secrets for peaceful use if the world would set up adequate safeguards to make sure the weapon will never be used again as an instrument of war.

The safeguards included:

1. Surrender of the veto power by the five major nations on all matters pertaining to atomic development.

2. Creation of an international atomic development authority with absolute power over atomic raw materials and production.

3. Adoption of international laws providing for severe punishment of violators on a basis to be determined by the United Nations.

The U. S. position was outlined by Bernard M. Baruch.

A senate-house conference committee agreed on a nine-month extension of the draft until next March 31 but it remained deadlocked on the question of drafting teen agers. If an agreement can be reached on this question final settlement will be a mere matter of form.

The house banking committee has urged ratification of the $3,750,000,000 British loan saying it would aid world peace and prosperity. An alternative of the world economic blocs, with trade warfare that would doom to failure the United Nations' efforts for cooperation in maintaining peace. The senate has approved the loan 46 to 34.

The heroism of Sgt. Alejandro R. Ruiz of Barstow of Owinwara a year ago gained him the congressional medal of honor from the president on the White House lawn.

"I would rather have this than be president of the U. S.," President Truman whispered as he fastened the blue ribbon, on which the medal was suspended, around the sergeant's neck.

Principals in the foreign ministers conference arrived in Paris last Thursday amid reports in American circles that the U. S. and Russia were just as deadlocked on the peace treaties as when the ministers left a month ago.

A skeleton proposal for a treaty with Rumania was reported by American informants as being ready for submission to the foreign ministers council resuming discussions in Luxembourg palace. The treaty was understood to include recognition of the transfer to the Soviet Union of Bessarabia, which was occupied by the Russians in 1930 and annexed in 1944 in a bilateral League officials request that all spectators remain in the bleachers during a game. There is room for all so please don't go on the field during a game.

Rowie Settling Down To Status As Inactive Camp

(Brownwood Bulletin)
Camp Bowie is settling down to its status as an inactive military installation, with transfer of personnel and inmates of the U. S. Disciplinary Barracks, Southern Branch No. 2 to North Camp Hood about completed.

The Camp Bowie branch of the disciplinary barracks was inactivated as of June 10, Col. Alexander Adair, post commander, said today.

A small detachment of honor prisoners still is at Camp Bowie to aid in turning in the property of the disciplinary outfit. These men are scheduled to be moved to North Camp Hood about June 25.

Personnel of the remainder of the camp is being reduced materially and by July 1 only a handful of army caretaker personnel and around 120 civilian employees will remain at the military installation.

A post engineer detachment will remain for maintenance work, and there will be a quartermaster officer responsible for the property to be retained at the camp.

Sufficient housekeeping property for one division is to be left at the camp. This property is being concentrated into a few warehouses so that the other warehouses can be fenced off.

The future of Camp Bowie from July 1 on is up to the War Department. It could become entirely surplus, or if a substantial military training program is adopted, it could be reactivated.

Of the officer personnel remaining at Camp Bowie, some are being discharged and others are preparing for foreign duty.

Col. Adair said that military police will be on duty at the main gate at all times. The highway 10 gate into the eastern section of the camp will not have a full time guard, but a patrol will be active in this area to keep unauthorized personnel out of the military reservation.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Simmons have gone to Texas City to be with their daughter who is quite sick there.

Lions Club Holds Ladies Night

Monday night, June 17, the Lions Club entertained their ladies with their annual Ladies Night Affair. In the past years Ladies' Night has been in the form of a banquet, but this year it was decided to hold a barbecue instead. The barbecue was served to about 175 Lions and their ladies, on the football field. After the barbecue was served, everyone went into the high school auditorium where a fine program was rendered.

The program consisted of the following: Three songs were sung by everyone; Miss Ires Kirk played two numbers on the accordion; Neal Oakes gave the welcoming address to the visitors and then each Lion introduced his guests; several numbers were rendered by Misses Ann and Ruth Schoenfeld of Miles; Lion George Johnson introduced Lion Governor J. E. Wilkins, who gave the main address of the evening. Gov. Wilkins spoke on "Americanism"; Lion Neal Oakes introduced the past presidents of the club. Only four were present, Lions Ford Barnes, Jack Woodard, George Johnson and Bill Griffin. Everyone sang "God Bless America" for the closing song.

There was plenty of barbecue for everybody and all reported a good time.

The regular Tuesday meeting of the club was not held this week, but next week the regular schedule will be resumed.

Great Scarcity Of Home Sugar Present Shortage Is Likely To Continue Two Years

With the canning and preserving season at hand, housewives and commercial canners are again confronted with a great scarcity in the supply of sugar.

This condition is likely to continue for another year or two. Some top government sugar experts are of the opinion that present controls should be kept in force until after the 1948 Cuban and Puerto Rican crops are harvested, in order to prevent uneven distribution of limited supplies.

Home rationing might be ended next fall, they say, but is more likely to be carried into the spring of 1947. Control of sugar inventories of industrial users will have to be kept in effect until the spring of 1948.

Domestic sugar beet growers are encountering great difficulty in getting labor to handle the crop. Comparatively few Mexicans are being brought in for this purpose. Before the war the Philippines used to ship us about a million tons of sugar a year, but it is not considered likely that any supplies can be secured from that source for perhaps two or three years.

L. R. Glenn Still In Race For Commissioner

Mr. I. R. (Rollie) Glenn, a candidate for commissioner, precinct 2, states that he has not withdrawn from the race, contrary to rumor.

During his recent illness a rumor was circulated to the effect that Mr. Glenn had withdrawn but he has advised us he is still in the thick of the race. He wishes to advise all citizens that he is still a candidate and will appreciate their vote and influence.

Vets. Reps. In Brownwood June 24 - 25

A new field service that will mean much to veterans of World War II throughout Coleman county was announced today by Hamilton Morton, regional director of the War Assets Administration in Ft. Worth.

Monday, June 24 and Tuesday, June 25, two representatives of the veterans' division of the Ft. Worth WAA office will be in Brownwood for the purpose of certifying veterans and providing them with factual information concerning purchasing of surplus property.

Clay W. Smith and Finis Brown, both World War II veterans, are the WAA representatives to be in Brownwood next Monday and Tuesday. Through arrangements completed by Hugh McFarland of the Veterans' Service office, headquarters will be established at the Memorial Hall, Baker and Hawkins streets, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. each day.

John H. Quick, veterans contact representative for the Veterans' Administration, and E. C. Alford, American Legion commander in Brownwood, both were contacted regarding the new plan and have expressed full approval.

Veterans of World War II should bring with them their honorable discharge or certificate of satisfactory service in order to enable Finis Brown to complete the necessary papers certifying the veterans for such surplus property as they desire to obtain.

All veterans today hold a No. 2 priority, second only to federal government agencies buying for their own needs on all consumer goods. In addition, many items, such as trucks, tractors, farm and construction machinery and medical, dental, surgical and veterinarian equipment are on a "set aside" list exclusively for veterans.

Candidate May Run For Office That Does Not Exist

A candidate may run for an office that does not exist in an admitted effort to test the Texas redistricting law.

The Nueces county democratic executive committee voted to place the name of Phillip A. Schraub on the primary ballot to run for the office of representative of Nueces county. No such office exists.

At present, Nueces is in a district that also contains Duval, and Jim Wells counties.

An attorney, Schraub said that if elected he will present himself to the legislature when it convenes and demand to be seated on the ground that Nueces county is entitled to a legislator under the state constitution.

Grain Season Heaviest In Many Years

All during the grain season Santa Anna has had more than its normal share of grain. M. L. Guthrie Grain Co., J. E. Watkins Grain Co., and Lewis Bobo and Tom Simpson have made a record breaking movement of grain. All together, approximately 250 cars were moved by train and truck. One hundred cars of grain were moved by train and approximately 150 were moved by truck. The grain movement has slowed down to a mere dribble now but for a few weeks the streets of Santa Anna were crowded with trucks being unloaded and loaded.

M. L. Guthrie Grain Co., using the conveyor type elevator, moved at capacity speed all during the season. J. S. Watkins Grain Co., using the blower system of loading, was also operating at full speed. The movement of grain by Tom Simpson and Lewis Bobo was done to a certain extent by labor but they moved at a very fast clip.

The total movement of grain establishes a record that has been unequalled in the past. With the modern facilities that the city can afford should mean that Santa Anna will be one of the busiest grain centers in this section. It is estimated that more grain was loaded here than at any other point in the surrounding territory.

Tom and Hardy Stewardson reported that they made a 29 to 25 bushel average wheat yield per acre on 550 acres. Total yield a little over 10,000 bushels. This should establish a record in the wheat fields of this area.

Everything considered, Santa Anna has had a good grain season and expects to have the same in the future.

Texas Trackmen Compete Against Nation's Champs

O. E. Latimer, chairman of the sports and athletics committee of the San Antonio chamber of commerce, announced that top Texas trackmen will compete against the nation's champions in the National AAU Field and Track Championship Meet, to be held at Alamo Stadium, San Antonio, June 28 and 29. He declared that many of the leading stars of the Lone Star State have already entered the meet.

Pete Watkins of San Antonio, formerly of A. & M. College, who was national jump champion in 1943 and Pete Owens of Cotulla former McMurray College hurdler will appear during the meet.

Many Texas men have entered almost all events and Texas notables will be represented.

Jones, 93, Archer City, Tex.; Noah Armstrong, 93, Coleman; W. H. Roberts, 85, Big Spring; C. M. Grady, 92, Brownwood and Col. Crimmins of San Antonio notified the secretary that they are planning to attend. We hope a few others can be present also.

Any courtesy extended to these "four score" boys of the pioneering age of our country and state will be highly appreciated.

Staggering Figures Show Cost Of War

Possibilities Of Another Unthinkable

According to figures compiled by the Treasury Department, the total expenditures of the United States, the United Kingdom, France and Russia in connection with World War II amounted to $605 billion.

The total outlay of the United States was $339 billion; United Kingdom, $113 billion; France, $25 billion, and Russia, $128 billion.

It should be noted that the expenditures made by the United Kingdom do not include those for the rest of the British Empire, and that the figures for France do not include expenditures made by the Free French Forces and the territories controlled by them.

On a per capita basis, for the theoretical part that each man, woman and child must pay to figures are as follows:—
United States, $2431; United Kingdom, $2351; France, $613; and Russia, $662.

Of course, these figures do not include the costs of destruction and damage to property, for which the countries concerned will be paying for many years to come. Nor is any mention made of the interest that will have to be paid on debts incurred in the prosecution of the war, the disability allowances that are properly due to the maimed and disabled, and the pensions that will have to be paid to veterans and their dependents.

Who can doubt that another global war in the lifetime of this generation would wreck and pauperize every nation on earth.

By Congressman FISHER

The Case Bill Vetoes
 Hope for legislation this year of a permanent nature to protect workers and the public from the unbridled power of labor bosses went up in smoke last week when President Truman vetoed the Case bill. That bill, which infuriated certain irate labor leaders to the boiling point, failed of passage over the president's veto. The house vote to override was 255 to 135, a few short of the required two-thirds. All Texas members but three — Combs of Beaumont, Lyle of Corpus Christi and Thomas of Houston — stuck by their guns and voted for the Case bill over the president's veto.

The president, in his message, contended the Case bill was enacted in haste and should have further study. Last January, in a broadcast to the nation, Mr. Truman, in referring to labor legislation, to deal with labor-management problems, said: "I had hoped that congress would . . . at least propose a solution of its own".

The fact is that the Case measure was introduced last December and was considered by committees for months and then debated and amended at length in the house and senate before finally being passed. It is hard to know how many months or years of study the president would require before deciding a bill has been sufficiently studied. What The Case Bill Provided

It is interesting to note just what the Case bill, which the president opposes, provided. Here briefly, are its provisions:

1. It would create a new federal mediation board, and authorize it to try — by mediation, conciliation and voluntary arbitration — to secure peaceful settlement of disputes, and prohibit strikes for 60 days while mediation is going on.
2. It would authorize a fact-finding procedure for disputes affecting public utilities, with a maximum of 65 days in which strikes and lockouts would be prohibited.
3. It would authorize labor unions and employers to sue each other in federal courts for breaches of contracts, imposing on both the responsibility of living up to signed contracts.
4. It would prohibit secondary boycotts by unions as a weapon in their battles with employers or with other unions. This would give protection to the public and to employers against boycotting of goods produced by innocent employers and employees who have no connection with the controversies.
5. It would subject to federal anti-racketeering act penalties unions found guilty of obstructing commerce by robbery or extortion. The need for this is in eastern cities, like New York for example, where the Teamsters' Union has followed a practice of waylaying innocent farmers with trucks of produce and by violence and threats extorting money from them before allowing them to enter such cities and sell their produce.

6. It would require joint union-employer control over use of health and welfare funds contributed by employers through production royalties or pay roll levies. John L. Lewis demanded that he have exclusive control over such funds.

7. It would allow foremen to join unions but leave employers free to refuse to recognize unions as bargaining agents for foremen. Foremen are supposed to represent and be responsible to management in the supervising of workers.

These are the simple provisions of the Case bill. Many other changes in existing laws are needed. The president's objections cause one to wonder if it would be possible for congress to pass permanent legislation to curb the power of labor bosses and regulate responsibilities of both labor and management that would be acceptable to the president.

From this you can get an idea of some of the obstacles we are up against in trying to get fair legislation enacted into law.

Trickham News

By Mrs. Beula Kingston

Mrs. Albert Carlile of Lubbock and Mrs. Elna Yow of Mexia and James Hintner of Bangs, spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brown and family. Mrs. Brown and her aunt, Mrs. Yow had not seen each other since 1927.

Mrs. Yow and the Brown family spent Saturday night with another aunt, Mrs. J. D. Hintner of Bangs. Then all went to Talpa to visit with Mrs. Brown's father, Mr. A. D. Pitts and brought Betty and Shirley Brown home. They had spent the week-end with their grandfather there.

Mrs. Kingston and Mrs. Zona Stacy spent part of Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Boenicke and canned quite a few beans given to Mrs. Kingston by Mrs. Boenicke.

Mr. and Mrs. Boenicke and Mrs. Shield spent Sunday at Pear Valley with Mrs. Nora Shield, who is staying with a daughter while under medical care of a Brady doctor.

Mrs. Carl Sheffield and Mrs. Edward Bailey spent the week-end in Dallas visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben McIver had most all their children with them sometime Sunday. It being Fathers' Day, each came to let Dad know they appreciated and loved him. It seems there is a tendency to overlook Fathers' Day. Losing my mother when I was a small child, naturally my affection all went to my father, and how I loved that silver gray hair, I can never forget the farewell word, he spoke to each of us when he knew the end of his life had come. So let's not forget Dad.

Doyle Laughlin spent last Wednesday with his grandmother Laughlin.

Mrs. Ona Robertson of Houston spent the week-end with her mother and her daughter, Nan returned home with her, having spent two weeks here with her grandmother, Mrs. Lee Vaughn.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Burney and Wilho Evans spent Sunday with her father, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Page.

Mrs. Talley, Vada, Mydena and baby, Joe Fred, Peggy and Judy Ford, Mrs. J. Y. Seward were callers with Mrs. Kingston Friday afternoon.

Mrs. A. J. Martin's sister, Mrs. A. J. Petrie of San Antonio and her cousin, Miss Mattie Corder of Sinton came Saturday for a visit.

The Coleman Chronicle last week gave an account of the wedding of Miss Christie Douglas of Santa Anna and Mr. James Morris of Sonora. The Douglas family lived here for a number of years and we still have an interest in the family. They will be at home in Denton.

Mr. and Mrs. Talley attended church at Whon Sunday and Vada spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Shields.

Mrs. W. D. "Ma" James and children gathered on the creek for a week-end family reunion. Those who came together were Mr. and Mrs. Ben James, Francis and W. D. of Corpus Christi, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Holland and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bolding and children, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Holland and little son all of Ft. Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Wamon Matthews and family from Concord, Gene James' family, Mr. Charley James, Mr. Harley Stearns and family. They caught plenty of fish and all had happy time together but Ma became very ill early Saturday morning and had to be brought home. At this writing late Monday afternoon she is much better. May I again remind you that if you are interested in a singing school, see the committee, Mr. Dean, Walter Stacy and Grady McIver.

My but we were glad to see Mr. and Mrs. Homer Goodgion and Reba come in Sunday night for singing. Come again.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Thompson were happy to have their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn McClatchy and family of Temple with them last week, also their granddaughter, Miss Ida V. Ellis of Dallas.

Mrs. C. F. Shield is counting the days now when they are to have their family reunion. I believe it is the 4th and 5th of July. They think now all the children will be here but Charlie who now lives in Alaska. Ruth and part of her family will come in this week-end and the rest will come in time for the 4th and 5th. Here's hoping nothing will happen to keep any of them from being here.

Peggy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Ford, with several invited friends went to Bangs Saturday afternoon for her music recital. If I understood her correctly, she had finished her second year music book. Mrs. Early of Bangs is her teacher. Nancy Jo Haynes, Roberta James and Minola Martin are pupils of Mrs. Early too, and each one is making good with her music.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Haynes spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Grady McIver and family.

The latest news received here from Mrs. Marion Whitley, who underwent surgery in the Memorial Hospital last week, is that she is recovering nicely and will soon be able to come home.

Mrs. Albert Dean and Ruth were hostesses to the H. D. club last Thursday.

Can you begin to imagine how Mrs. Sue Stacy is feeling today? She leaves Brownwood this afternoon for Ft. Worth where she takes a plane to New Orleans, La., changing there to an army transport plane to Panama, and if weather conditions are favorable, in 14 hours she will be with her husband, M-Sgt. O. T. Stacy. Here's hoping you won't be air sick, Sue.

Mrs. Leta Price and Truman spent Sunday p. m. with Mrs. Downs and Polly.

We hear that Willie Calcote has made arrangements to go to A. & M. College this coming school year. Best wishes for you, Willie.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Mitchell and family are leaving today, Tuesday, for Corpus Christi.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Haynes and Nancy Jo are in Brownwood today and Mrs. Harry Wilson is acting as postmistress.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Martin spent all day Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McClatchy of Coleman. All the other children came in the afternoon. They were Wiley and family, Tal and family, Stafford Steppenson and family, Hilburn Henderson and family. They all took in a lot of ice cream. Mr. McClatchy said he wouldn't mind if Fathers' Day came twice a week if they would bring in ice cream.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Miller and their three children of Cross Plains visited several days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Upton.

New Social Security Book Is Now Available

Although most workers know that their social security tax deductions are building up a retirement fund for them, many do not realize that they also may have some very valuable family insurance protection under the old age and survivors' insurance system.

This system, according to a statement made today by Ralph T. Fisher, manager of the social security board office in Abilene, provides monthly payments to several classes of dependent survivors. These include minor children up to the age of 18, the young widow with these children in her care, the widow at age 65, and — under certain conditions — the dependent parent at age 65. In many families, particularly in those homes where the children are small, the insurance protection under social security is equal to a $10,000 or $15,000 policy.

The social security board now has available a new booklet which describes the survivors' insurance features of the plan, as well as the retirement provisions. A copy of this booklet may be obtained by calling at the social security board office, 205 Alexander Building; by telephoning that office, Dial 6303, or by sending in a postcard request. A Blazing Nation

Fires in the United States are now taking a toll of 10,000 lives yearly in the most horrible kind of death — burning.

The nation will suffer the largest fire loss in history in 1946, says Frank A. Christensen, president of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, unless united effort is made nationally to check present excessive burning which is due largely to carelessness.

"The appalling rate of increase in our national fire losses calls for the attention of everyone interested in the general social and economic welfare of our country. If the present rate goes on through 1946, the toll of our real wealth, much of it productive wealth which our people can ill afford to lose today, will surely pass $600,000,000. That will make 1946 the worst year of reckless burning our nation has ever known.

"Equally shocking and appalling is the loss of life. A few months ago newspapers and radio news periods had extensive reports of a 'blazing Sunday', on which 26 lives were lost in a few spectacular fires. That seemed unusual but it was not. An average of 27 lives are lost in fires every day."

"Too many people still feel that fire prevention is something the other fellow should practice. The fire loss will never be controlled until every individual becomes conscious that fire is dangerous and helps eliminate fire hazards.

Mr. Christensen, in asking public cooperation fire prevention, is merely asking the people to help save their own lives and their own property. Fire insurance can replace some property but not lives. It can never cover many of the effects of fire such as lost jobs, irreplaceable articles, the tragedy of being without a home, not to mention articles of sentimental value.

Don't Keep Old Medicine In Home

There are many persons who naturally hoard anything and everything including old clothes, boxes and other useless articles, some of which constitute no greater danger than a possible fire hazard, but a very real danger is present when this tendency is applied to hoarding old medicine in any form.

Most medicine finds itself into the home through a doctor's prescribing it for some specific illness. For the sake of safety, left over medicines should be destroyed immediately when they have fulfilled their purpose and never be stored in the medicine cabinet for future unprescribed use in case of another illness, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer.

"Self-medication with the use of left over drugs which were of great benefit to some previous illness can sometimes turn a simple ailment into a very serious condition of actual poisoning", Dr. Cox said. "This is particularly true of the indiscriminate use of sulfa drugs which have been prescribed for some previous specific condition.

"It is wise to use medicines as indicated for the illness for which they are prescribed by your doctor, and when they are no longer needed, destroy the remaining medicine immediately," Dr. Cox said. "Even if you expect a return of the same condition at some future date, it would be better to obtain new medicine if the condition recurs than to retain this old medicine in the cabinet and subject the members of your family to the danger of using it unwisely."

The American Way

By George Peck

Lady Luck has not been smiling upon us lately. She's a bit puzzled and annoyed at the way America has been behaving since V-J Day, and small wonder. She just can't understand why a formerly industrious people is exhibiting such a reluctance to get to work.

The present situation brings back to mind a motto which I saw some years ago on the office wall of a business executive. It read:

"I am a great believer in luck. I find that the harder I work, the more I have of it."

A few days after reading this brief essay on luck and work, I was the week-end guest of a friend at his shooting lodge. There above the immense fireplace extending across the end of the living room was another motto. It seemed to go hand in hand with the one seen a few days before. It read:

"He who chops his own wood gets warmed twice."

Those two mottos, it seems to me, most tersely and eloquently describe the America that was, an America that we must revive to make it once again a land where men work and take pride in doing their jobs well.

It has been the American concept that the man who worked a little harder and a little better deserved a little larger reward than his less industrious and less skilled fellow worker. Until recently no one in this country had even thought of denying to that man his right to a larger compensation. It was the competitive spirit between Americans, whether they were bosses or workers, which was largely responsible for making America the greatest country the world has ever known, with the highest standard of living for all classes.

In recent years, sad to relate, certain individuals and groups have been trying to disrupt the American scheme of things which justly rewards individual effort, initiative, ability and thrift; they would have us abandon our right to pursue individual opportunity as it presents itself, or we seek it out; they would deny the individual the right to share in the profits of personal accomplishment; they demand that we set up here in America a different system under which there would be no incentive to work and to create.

For lack of a better name we call this great American system "Free Enterprise." Under it for a century and a half, as a nation and as individuals, we made great progress. If we cast out this system, our forward progress will cease, decay will set in, and we will lose our place in the sun as the world's greatest nation. Our defeat of Hitler and Hirohito will have availed us naught if we lose at home those things for which we fought so valiantly and so successfully abroad.

Let us, therefore, turn deaf ears to the defamers of our American system of Free Enterprise. There is nothing fundamentally wrong with that system. True, it has its shortcomings, but for 150 years we were gradually eliminating those flaws. Let us resume with that refining process, to make better the best economic system ever devised in all the history of mankind.

Let's have done with the something-for-nothing schemes; let's quit looking for a daily visit from Santa Claus instead of his time honored annual pilgrimage. Let's recognize again the old truth that "he who chops his own wood gets warmed twice." Let's get back to work — hard work brought us luck in the past and hard work will bring us even better luck in the future. Let's wipe that frown from the face of Lady Luck.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wofford and Mrs. Hessie Ford of Oakland, Cal., are here visiting relatives and friends.

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D., of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for June 23

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

STRENGTHENING BONDS OF FELLOWSHIP

LESSON TEXT—Luke 22:14-20; John 17:9-3, 20, 21.

MEMORY SELECTION—A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another, as I have loved you, that ye also love one another.—John 13:34.

Fellowship is a word which comes to its full meaning only in the relationship between the Lord and believers, which also brings them into just such a relationship with one another.

The Lord seeks his people and gives himself in friendship to them, even to the full devotion of death. Shall we do less for one another?

Our lesson presents four ways in which Christ fellowshiped with his disciples.

I. The Fellowship of the Passover (Luke 22:14-18).

It was late on Thursday, of what we call Holy Week, that Jesus and his disciples came to the upper room where Peter and John had already made preparation for the observance of the Passover (Luke 22:8).

This feast had (since that great and awful night of Israel's redemption out of Egypt's bondage) pointed forward to the Christ and to his cross as the fulfillment of the type of redemption by the shedding of blood.

Our Lord looked forward with intense desire to the Passover which he now observed with his disciples, for it was the last celebration of that feast recognized by God. All that it had foreshadowed of deliverance and hope was fulfilled in him who now sat at the table. He had moved forward with resolute purpose to this day when his mission on earth was to be accomplished, and he was to become the Christian's Passover lamb. (1 Cor. 5:7).

The Passover was a solemn feast of remembrance of God's deliverance from the bondage of Egypt, but it was now to be replaced by a new feast of remembrance of eternal significance. They went on into

II. The Fellowship of the Lord's Table (Luke 22:19, 20).

Taking the unleavened bread and the unfermented wine of the Passover which had just been observed, Jesus established the Christian feast of remembrance, which we call communion, or the Lord's table.

His words are significant, "For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till he come" (1 Cor. 11:26). At the Lord's table his followers find spiritual strength in recalling his death for them, but they also find joy as they remember that he is to come again. They thus testify to the world that they believe and cherish these truths.

Our Lord also spoke of the cup as "my blood of the new testament." The word "testament" means covenant. The Lord's table, therefore, speaks of our allegiance to him, of our loyalty to our Lord, and of our devotion to his service. That is why the Christian church speaks of communion as a sacrament, a word from the Latin sacramentum, meaning oath, and essentially an oath of allegiance.

III. The Fellowship of God's Word (John 17:6-8).

John gives us a blessed account of the fellowship of Jesus and his disciples in the upper room, and then takes us into what is indeed "the Holy of Holies" of Scripture, our Lord's intercessory prayer. Here "the High Priest of our profession" (Heb. 3:1) brings us into the very presence of God.

At the very beginning of his petitions for them and for us (see v. 20) he speaks of the word which the Father had given him and which he had given to them.

This little company of men had been given to Christ, drawn out of the evil world and set apart for God's work. But note that the thing which distinguished them in the eyes of the Lord was that they had "kept" the word of God, even as they had received the living word, Christ, as the one whom the Father had sent.

That kind of fellowship with the Lord makes a man strong and useful. Life and testimony both ring true because they exalt Christ.

IV. The Fellowship of Prayer (John 17:20, 21).

Christ prayed for his disciples, not only those immediately present, but all who should through the ages since that day believe in Christ because of their witness.

That puts each one of us, who in a true disciple, right into the center

Register Your Souvenir Firearms

The Alcohol Tax Unit, Bureau of Internal Revenue, is charged with enforcement of the National Firearms Act. This Act deals with the importation, registration, possession, sale or transfer by any means of certain types of firearms, imposes a tax of $200.00 on each transfer, and provides a penalty not to exceed $2,000.00 or imprisonment not to exceed five years, or both, in event a person is convicted on a charge of violating any provisions of the Act. Failure to register weapons covered by this law or the transfer of such weapons without payment of the transfer tax is a violation of the Act.

The basic purpose of the statute is the regulation and control of the traffic in machine guns, semi-machine guns, fully automatic pistols, or any type of gun that will expel more than one shot or bullet with a single pull of the trigger. It also includes rifles and shotguns with barrels less than 18 inches in length and all firearms equipped with a silencer or muffler, and is aimed at preventing firearms such as above described from falling into the hands of gangsters, racketeers, bank robbers and other criminals.

Until our armed forces were deployed over the world in connection with prosecution of World War II, guns of the type mentioned presented no particular hazard to law enforcement officers, or the public of this country. In October, 1943, the Bureau of Customs outlined a procedure which permitted members of the armed services to import into this country as war trophies certain enemy equipment, including firearms of the type described in the National Firearms Act. Such importations were permitted providing certificates were first obtained from the service man's commanding officer and presented to the Customs Officer, before whom the service man would appear and execute what is known as Form 6 (Firearms), which is an application for importation of firearms. In cases where the weapon was mailed or shipped by a member of the armed services to a friend or relative to be held until the owner returned to this country, the Bureau of Customs procedure permitted the friend or relative to file the Form 6 (Firearms) on behalf of the actual owner. Under this procedure, the execution of Form 6 (Firearms) covering the importation of a weapon is construed as the registration of same.

It has been determined that great numbers of firearms falling within the scope of the National Firearms Act have been imported into this country with and without officers' certificates and in many instances, due to the lack of knowledge of the registration requirements, the possessors of the weapons have not yet executed Form 6 (Firearms). The existence of such a large number of these weapons in the custody of private individuals is materially increasing the hazard of their falling into the hands of the criminal element through illegal sale, gift, transfer or theft, thereby weakening or even defeating the purpose of the National Firearms Act. The government believes this hazard can be reduced to a great extent by accomplishing the registration of the weapons and requesting the possessors to have firearms of the type described rendered permanently unserviceable. As long as machine gun or firearm subject to registration remains in serviceable condition, it constitutes a hazard to the owner's family as well as to the general public and, in particular, to law enforcement officers. The government appreciates the trophy value of weapons of this type brought or shipped into this country by the veteran. Methods have been evolved for making such weapons inoperative, without in any material way interfering with their appearance or value as a trophy or souvenir. Firearms which are made inoperative may be transferred between persons without payment of the tax, but merely upon execution of the proper form (Form 5 (Firearms)).

The Alcohol Tax Unit in each state functions under the direction of the Investigator in Charge. Each of those officials has a group of Investigators under his supervision stationed at various posts of duty throughout his state. The Investigator in Charge for the Northern and Eastern Districts of Texas is:

Mr. James M. Shields, 583 Terminal Annex Bldg., P. O. Box No. 5566, Dallas 2, Texas.

In this part of the state there are investigators of the Alcohol Tax Unit stationed at the following posts: Dallas, Tyler, Texarkana, Marshall, Beaumont, Abilene and Nacogdoches.

Each of the posts mentioned is located at a county seat and the investigator may be located through the office of the sheriff of the county. Each investigator under Mr. Shields' supervision has been trained and instructed to assist veterans and others in the registration of firearms if the weapon is of the type and kind required to be registered by the provisions of the National Firearms Act.

If you possess a firearm covered by the National Firearms Act, or are holding one pending the return of the owner, you are required to communicate promptly with the Alcohol Tax Unit office nearest you. The investigator stationed at that post will promptly contact you, explain how the weapon can be rendered permanently unserviceable and assist in the execution of the proper forms and in such performance as will have the effect of legalizing the possession of the firearm and affording protection to the public at large. This service is furnished at no cost to the possessor of the weapon.

Go to Church Sunday.

of the greatest prayer fellowship of all time. He, the eternal and omnipotent one, prays for us. Why then should we be weak and faltering in our testimony or have failures in our life? Can it be that we have failed to count on his prayer and have tried to walk in our own strength?

The prayer for unity (v. 21) does not speak of an outward uniting of religious bodies such as is much favored and promoted in our day. Certainly where such unity can be attained without the sacrifice of principle or compromise with false doctrine it is desirable. Real unity is that of the heart.

WHAT TO DO

IF POLIO STRIKES

If infantile paralysis (poliomyelitis) breaks out in your community, follow these suggestions.

Avoid new contacts. Try not to mingle with crowds unnecessarily. (Schools and other gathering places, however, may remain open).

Watch these symptoms. Headache, unexplained fever, a cold, even upset stomach may be the first symptoms of infantile paralysis.

Call your doctor immediately if any of these symptoms appear. Expert medical care may help prevent crippling.

Remember. Carry on your normal activities. Infantile paralysis cannot be prevented but few of those stricken develop serious illness and, with good care, the majority will make a satisfactory recovery.

Don't worry about expense. If polio strikes, get in touch with the Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis close to your home.

Quick Action Often Prevents Crippling

June through September is the danger period when these simple rules should be followed.

Don't get overtired. Extreme fatigue makes you an easier victim.

Avoid chills. Don't stay too long in cold water.

Keep clean. Wash hands before eating. Keep flies and other insects away from food.

Help keep your community clean. Waste and exposed garbage may be sources of infection.

Don't swim in polluted waters.

Avoid removal of tonsils or adenoids prior to and during polio epidemic season.

There is no known cure for infantile paralysis. Good medical care will prevent or correct some deformities. But in every fourth or fifth case there will be permanent paralysis that cannot be overcome. Do not believe those who for one reason or another promise to cure these cases. Be guided by sound medical advice.

Your doctor, your health officer and your county Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis will do everything in their power to see to it that your community is ready to meet an epidemic.

Year-round services provided by the National Foundation Chapter in cooperation with local health authorities include:

Hospitalization, transportation, care and treatment of polio patients.

Purchase of artificial respirators (iron lungs), orthopedic appliances and other special equipment.

Payment of fees, of physicians, nurses, physical therapists and other professional personnel.
