

US Protests UNRRA Sidetracking Issue Because Of Politics

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 26 (AP) — United States Delegate C. Tyler Wood bluntly and openly protested today that a Ukrainian-Russian move to sidetrack an UNRRA argument because it had political implications would be "the course of cowardice."

Wood took the floor immediately after A. M. Baranovsky, the Ukrainian delegate, arose to argue against an American plan to limit the practice of allied armies "living off the land" during periods of occupations.

The proposal was first advanced yesterday by the United States which argued specifically that the Soviet was acquiring large tracts of land in Austria which could be used for production of food.

The United States proposed to the 48 members of UNRRA's council that they adopt the principle that their military forces refrain from requisitioning foodstuffs—other than perishable fruits and vegetables—or using fuel "or other supplies" included in the UNRRA relief program.

Without mentioning the purpose, this country simultaneously advocated a barrier against use of relief supplies by liberating forces by proposing a ban against "impeding in any way the equitable distribution of imported and indigenous relief supplies."

To give force to the plan, the United States—financial source of approximately 75 per cent of UNRRA's supplies—proposed that violation of its plan to assure minimum living standards be met with a downward readjustment in the aid to the countries whose armies are responsible.

Military Group Splits On Vote To Extend Draft

WASHINGTON, March 26 (AP)—The senate military committee divided 8 to 8 today on the question whether to extend the draft for only six weeks or go ahead with a year's extension.

Two members were not recorded and the committee agreed to meet again late this afternoon.

Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.), acting chairman, told reporters after a closed session that this had developed.

Senator Austin (R-Vt.) moved to add to pending legislation a clause extending the selective service law for a year from May 15, the present expiration date.

Johnson offered a substitute motion to extend the law only until next July 1 and hold hearings, meantime, on whether there should be a further extension.

The members not recorded were Chairman Elbert Thomas (D-Utah) and Senator Wagner (D-NY), who are out of town.

Senator Bridges said committee attaches expected to reach Thomas, who has said that he favors the Johnson proposal, in Chicago. Wagner, recuperating in Florida from an illness, has not publicly expressed his views.

It was the general understanding, Bridges said, that even if the Johnson bill is approved by the committee, some member may offer before July 1 a resolution for a longer extension.

Father Of Brothers Who Died Of "Flu" In Amarillo Dies

BROWNWOOD, March 26 (AP)—L. M. Middick, 81, father of the two brothers who died in Amarillo last week of what was called a "mysterious malady," died suddenly last night in Amarillo.

His daughter, Mrs. Eloise Corbin of Brownwood, said they did not think his death was caused by the same type of illness, however. It was believed to be an intestinal disease, and not the "new type of influenza" for which his sons' deaths were attributed.

Mrs. Corbin had visited Amarillo Sunday and said her father was in excellent health then and had talked of a fishing trip. She returned here. He became ill Sunday night, and died yesterday. He is survived by his widow and two daughters.

Drastic Limits Put On Building

WASHINGTON, March 26 (AP)—The government, acting to speed construction of homes for veterans, today clamped drastic restrictions on building or repair of virtually all other structures.

The Civilian Production Administration issued a far-reaching order, effective at once, forbidding the start of any new commercial or industrial construction unless specifically authorized.

This applies to such things as stores, office buildings, roadhouses, theaters and factories. The objective is to make more scarce building materials available for the 2,700,000 new homes the government is aiming at during the next two years.

The measure, announced by National Housing Expediter Wilson W. Wyatt and CPA Administrator John D. Small, applies throughout the United States.

The order does not apply to construction, repair, alteration or installation jobs on which the cost does not exceed these allowances:

1. Houses designed for five or fewer families, also farmhouses or other structures, such as a garage, on residential property—$400 a job.
2. Hotel, resort, apartment house or other residential building designed for occupancy by more than five families—$1,000 a job.
3. Commercial or service establishment, such as office, store, garage, theater, warehouse, radio station, gas service station—$1,000 a job.
4. Farm buildings excluding farmhouses—$1,000 a job.
5. Church, hospital, school, public building, charitable institution—$1,000 a job.
6. Factory, plant or other industrial structure used for manufacturing, processing, assembling or carrying on of business—$15,000 a job.
7. Other structures—$200 a job.

Lewis rejected the operators' reply to his demands as "entirely unsatisfactory" and there was no indication that an agreement could be reached before midnight Sunday, when the present contract expires.

Greenwood retired from the supreme court to become a law associate of former Gov. Dan Moody. Funeral services for Greenwood will be held at Palestine, his former home. Rites for Mrs. Wooten will be held in Austin Wednesday afternoon.

County Shy Of Goal For Crop Insurance

The county is still shy of its goal for cotton crop insurance applications but M. Weaver, supervisor of the AAA, distributing agency, said he is confident the required minimum can be attained before the April 10 deadline.

A total of 36 policies covering 36 farms has been distributed. Weaver's records show. Fifty applicants must be taken before the county farmers become eligible for the protection.

The insurance is sold through the AAA office and by R. M. Weaver of the Moore community, who works the outlying communities.

"Denaturing" May Prevent Manufacture Of Atobombs

WASHINGTON, March 26 (AP)—An easier road toward world-wide sharing of atomic energy secrets appeared opening up today with reports that scientists have discovered how to render plutonium useless for bomb making.

This "denaturing" process as yet would not interfere with the release of atomic power for industrial purposes.

These reports were carried to the Senate's special atomic committee yesterday by Under Secretary of State Dean Acheson. Members said he presented a study which urged an international licensing system to control raw materials and the production of atomic bombs.

There was a feeling among senators, also, that the reported denaturing discovery may open the way for commercial use of atomic energy.

Police Scatter Jeering Crowd At Struck Plant

PITTSBURGH, March 26 (AP)—State police today cleared a street and sidewalks in front of Westinghouse Electric corporation's struck East Pittsburgh works where an angry crowd earlier booted and jostled supervisory workers entering the plant.

As the policemen rode up on sidewalks, waving long night sticks, the crowd scattered from in front of the horses but closed in behind the policemen, shouting taunts while a union public address system blared.

No one was injured. The police, part of a force estimated in excess of 200 were assigned to clear Braddock avenue which passes the plant's main entrance. The horsemen were followed by an additional force of police on foot.

The state police detail was headed by Lieut. Col. Jacob C. Mauk, who conferred on the scene with Allegheny County Sheriff Walter C. Monaghan.

Monaghan said earlier he would summon the state police, who had assembled at nearby Greensburg, only in case of a disturbance or "threat of disturbance" in the 72-day-old strike. The plant employs 24,000 workers.

At least 150 supervisory employees had passed through limited picket lines without incident before jeers and catcalls from the crowd lining Braddock avenue at the main plant gates. But as the crowd grew larger and more supervisory workers appeared, the situation grew tense.

CIO Officer Given Sixty Days In Jail

LOS ANGELES, March 26 (AP)—Philip M. Connelly, secretary-treasurer of the Los Angeles CIO council, has been sentenced to 60 days in jail after conviction of inciting to riot and disturbing the peace during a strike at the U. S. Motors last January.

Connelly, former state CIO president, gave notice of appeal, and is free on bond.

Sentencing Connelly, Judge Arthur Guerin declared: "It would have been far better for you to have tested the validity of the court injunction (against mass picketing) before encouraging people to violate it."

FORCE OF HABIT

SEATTLE, March 26 (AP)—Joe Shook, a bus driver, got a traffic ticket when he parked his car on a downtown street.

He left it in a bus loading zone.

There was a feeling among senators, also, that the reported denaturing discovery may open the way for commercial use of atomic energy.

Dr. Edward U. Condon, director of the government's bureau of standards and scientific adviser to the atomic committee, acknowledged that this was the "implication" of the discovery.

Condon said ways have been found to harness nuclear fission for industrial purposes. But the danger has been, he added, that a plant thus turning out atomic power might at the same time be making bombs as a by-product.

Hence, the physicist told a reporter, the big problem the new process will solve is that of "traffic in plutonium rather than its engineering use."

Miners To Stop Toil Unless New Contract Made

WASHINGTON, March 26 (AP)—John L. Lewis announced today that his 400,000 miners will stop work this weekend unless a new contract is perfected with bituminous operators before then.

Lewis rejected the operators' reply to his demands as "entirely unsatisfactory" and there was no indication that an agreement could be reached before midnight Sunday, when the present contract expires.

The operators' proposals include a wage increase of about 18 1/2 cents an hour and a joint union-industry survey of the possibility of setting up a "reasonable fund" to take care of victims of mine accidents.

Lewis told reporters that the United Mine Workers will "stay home with their families" next week. He said "there will be no miners' blood spilled" next week and that lives will be saved and injuries averted by the work stoppage.

"The mine workers will not trespass upon the property of the coal companies until they have a contract," he declared.

"You'll note," he said at another point, "that we're not calling a strike."

Declaring the miners "have been defrauded out of vast sums of money" by extending wartime contracts on a retroactive basis, Lewis made it plain that this time "there will be no extension of the existing contract on any basis."

Gromyko Asked To Explain Real Facts Of Evacuation; Two British MP's In Iran

LONDON, March 26 (AP)—A British foreign office spokesman said today Sir Alexander Cadogan had been instructed to ask Andrei Gromyko of the Soviet Union to explain "the real facts" of the Russian evacuation of Iran.

Sir Alexander and Gromyko are their nations' chief delegates at the New York meeting of the United Nations security council.

Sir Alexander also has three other questions on his list, including a request for a Russian report on negotiations leading up to the announcement of the Russian evacuation and details of the terms to which Iranian Premier Ahmed Qavam agreed.

Two members of Britain's parliament undertook today a trip by plane to the Middle East to make an unofficial inspection of Iran and to verify reports from Moscow and Tehran that Red army troops were withdrawing from that country.

The two—Brigadier A. H. Head, conservative, and Michael Foot, labor party member and writer for the Daily Herald—will be gone for two or three weeks.

Foreign Undersecretary Hector McNeill said he did not believe any "unreasonable barriers" would be encountered.

Prime Minister Stalin asserted today that so far as the Soviet Union is concerned, the question of the withdrawal of Red army troops "has already been solved" by an agreement between Russia and Iran.

Stalin's statement was made in answer to a cablegram sent from New York by Hugh Bailie, president of the United Press, who asked the prime minister whether he wished to "reply to Churchill's argument in favor of the necessity for rapid action by the security council of the United Nations organization on the question of Iran."

Meanwhile, a dispatch from Tehran quoted Prince Firouz, minister of state and propaganda, as saying that the Russian withdrawal began last Sunday night and was continuing.

Additional light on the Iranian situation was expected to be cast shortly by a report from the British ambassador to that country.

A British foreign office spokesman said the ambassador had been requested to submit a full report, and that the reply probably would include a statement on the status of oil concessions.

Water Connections Average Three A Day

New water connections are being made by the city at an average of three per day, Lee Knuckles, water distribution superintendent reported today.

The department installed three new taps Saturday and three more Monday, while extending lines at 17th and Owens streets and on East 17th to accommodate new customers.

At present new sewer lines and extensions are being installed by a crew working in Washington Place.

Russians Pull Out Of Iranian Town

KARAJ, Iran, March 25 (Delayed) (AP)—The Russians are pulling out of this ancient caravan stop—northern gateway to the Iranian capital of Tehran—with as little fanfare as when they entered it almost five years ago.

Last night, even before the Soviet government announced that the evacuation of Red army troops had begun, the garrison began loading trucks and moving tanks.

By midnight, 14 tanks—American built Shermans and Russian mediums—were thundering through the village streets toward Karzin and the north.

Karaj is 20 miles northwest of Tehran.

The tanks were followed by a column of canvas-covered trucks, estimated by national police to be transporting 1,500 men.

In Tehran the Iranian director of propaganda said "The Russians moved out 25 tanks, 100 trucks and 700 men last night, and the movement is continuing today."

At a rambling camp southeast of the town today most of the buildings were deserted. Crews of red-starred soldiers were completing the work of abandonment.

Russia Claims Matter Settled By Agreement

NEW YORK, March 26 (AP)—The United States and Britain insisted today that both Russia and Iran should report to the UNO Security Council the details of whatever agreement they have made—as reported last night by Prime Minister Stalin—for withdrawal of Red army forces from Iran.

NEW YORK, March 26 (AP)—The big three split sharply in the United Nations Security Council today, with Russia trying to block a council inquiry into the Iranian situation and in early afternoon the peace-enforcement agency recessed without reaching a vote.

Russia opposed having the council take up the Iranian case, at least in so far as it was presented by complaints lodged with the peace-enforcement agency by Iranian Ambassador Hussein Ala. In sharp opposition, Secretary of State Byrnes for the United States and Sir Alexander Cadogan for Britain, declared the case must be heard.

Gromyko said there was no need even to place the Iranian case on the council agenda for further discussion because it has been settled by an agreement between Moscow and Tehran.

Byrnes replied that if Russia had made such an agreement it should have informed the security council, and certainly, he argued, the council would not therefore deny Iran an opportunity to be heard.

Sir Alexander endorsed the Byrnes declaration. He cited a resolution adopted in London by the council two months ago saying that Iran and Russia should try to settle their troubles directly but that the council might ask them to report what they were doing.

"Then there is the other question—the maintenance of Soviet troops in Iran" beyond the March 2 deadline for their withdrawal, Cadogan said.

Byrnes, who had been taking copious notes on the arguments of Soviet Ambassador Andrei Gromyko, arose immediately after the slow-voiced Gromyko finished his contention that the troubles were already settled as a result of the Moscow-Tehran agreement for withdrawal of troops.

Gromyko told the council that Iran's letter of appeal for council help contained subject matter not "fit to be placed on the agenda" of the council.

Gromyko's argument appeared directed at having the council pass over the Soviet-Iranian controversy for the present.

Resident With Shotgun Stymies Police Chase

A blast from a shotgun, fired by a west side resident who apparently thought a "bunch of drunks" were shooting up the neighborhood, stymied police as they ended an auto chase on West 4th street at about 12:30 this morning.

Although two youths, believed to have been in the pursued vehicle, were apprehended later by state highway patrolmen, they were successful in eluding the law immediately after the shotgun episode. A third member of the party still is unaccounted for.

The chase started when Chief A. G. Mitchell and Capt. Pete Green sighted a car in the 1500 block of Gregg street, which answered the description of a machine reported stolen from Snyder only a short time earlier. The pursuit led over unpaved streets in the western part of town. Mitchell scored four hits on the auto, firing with his pistol, the last shot piercing the right rear tire as they neared the west end of West 4th street.

Mitchell scored four hits on the auto, firing with his pistol, the last shot piercing the right rear tire as they neared the west end of West 4th street.

Mitchell said one of the trio returned his fire after the car stopped, and then all three of the occupants started out on foot. Flinging a shot at the man with the gun, the police chief said the man fell back toward the auto and then crawled around in front of the machine, taking refuge behind shrubbery. At this time the shotgun fire entered the play, and the trio hastened from the scene as the officers sought to explain to the householder that the law was in on the shooting.

The car, which was returned to headquarters, bore four bullet marks, and stains believed to be blood found on the right door and running board indicated that the gun wielder had been hit.

The pair arrested by highway patrolmen both gave their age as 17, and told officers they lived in Sweetwater. They made verbal statements, and formal charges are due to be filed.

Introduced by Margaret Christie, county home demonstration agent, Eudaly spoke primarily to the farm women in HD work, giving them suggestions for maximum milk production.

He reminded that all elements are necessary in the cow's diet, ranging from water consumption to the amount of salt the cow absorbs. He added that with a little figuring on conditions of weather and food types, the dairy owner or the operator of home dairy facilities can receive more milk from the same animal.

The final chapter of the book, "Of One," by Dr. T. B. Maston, was reviewed by Mrs. J. C. Carraway, Jr.

Baptist Revival Attracts Crowd

One of the largest crowds ever to attend a revival on Monday night at the East Fourth Street Baptist church heard Dr. A. C. Donath bring his first week-night sermon last night.

Dr. Donath, who spent six years as a missionary for Southern Baptists in Africa, is now pastor of the First Baptist church in San Angelo, a post he has held for the past five years.

Monday night a special Brotherhood service was observed, and men attended in such numbers that seating capacity of the church was overflown. Rev. James Roy Clark, East Fourth pastor, said, "Tonight, the adult department of the Sunday School will be featured."

Dr. Donath will continue revival services through this week, speaking at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. each day.

The East Fourth Street church has set a goal of 550 for Sunday School attendance to climax the revival Sunday. More than 470 already have indicated that they will attend, Rev. Clark said.

SCOUT WORKER NAMED NEW HEAD OF BSA'S PHILLIPS PROPERTIES

Tens of thousand young men of the Southwest will be pleased to hear that James P. Fitch of Dallas has been promoted. Fitch has been closely connected with Boy Scout work in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and parts of Arkansas and Arizona for 36 years. He has been executive of the Ninth Region since 1919. On April 1 he will become managing director of the Phillips properties, owned by the Boy Scouts of America. He will move from Dallas to Tulsa, Okla. When he came to the Ninth Region there were only 12,126 Scouts and 14 councils. Today there are more than 90,818 Scouts and Cubs and over 200 full-time trained professional leaders in the area. But it wasn't an easy job. Fitch studied his territory in 1919 and found there were at least 7,000 towns capable of supporting one or more troops. But, if he visited each town, bucking the unpaved and unmarked roads of the era, he figured it would take approximately 19 years even if he spent just one night per town. So he worked out a system to organize and train local men to serve their own boys. The system worked.

"The interest and eagerness of men throughout the Southwest was immediate and stimulating," he said. It also necessitated a lot of travel on his part. But by 1928 the region was completely organized. The Phillips properties he will now manage consist of Philmont Scout Ranch, one of the country's best-equipped, of 127,308 acres, located in the mountains of northern New Mexico, and a large office building in Tulsa. The two properties are valued at $5,000,000 and were given to the Boy Scouts by Mr. and Mrs. Waite Phillips, then of Tulsa. Boys from all over the United States come there annually to camp and train.

Fitch was born in Johnson county, Missouri, and graduated from Central Missouri Teachers' College. He went to Oklahoma and taught in rural schools in the eastern part of the state and later in the public schools of Lawton, where he was also director of athletics. He first entered Boy Scout work at Vinita, Oklahoma, in 1910 as a scoutmaster. He served in many capacities, finally moving to Dallas in 1919 where he has been ever since.

Navy Requests Oil Production Raise

AUSTIN, March 26 (AP)—The Texas railroad commission today considers a navy request that oil production in the state be increased 200,000 barrels per day to meet a critical need for fuel oil. The navy's demands were expressed to Col. Ernest O. Thompson, a member of the commission, who is in Washington conferring on oil legislation. Thompson conferred with John L. Sullivan, assistant secretary of the navy, who said naval requirements are 150,000 barrels of fuel oil for the rest of March and April. Thompson gave this information to Commissioner Beauford Jester by telephone. Jester said it was suggested that allowances in the coastal fields and West Texas, where the needed oils are produced, be increased immediately.

Military police said the corporal was waylaid in a dark, rubble-strewn alley in Kassel at 4 a. m. March 20. He said he had been drinking and was set upon by five or six German youths.

What About The Statutes

Dallas has a juvenile problem. The Dallas News admitted it openly in promising to publicize offenders when charges are pressed. The incident stemmed from the wanton destruction of an old mansion by a group of young people, presumably from the "metter" families.

This was the thing which brought it to a head. What happens remains to be seen, for as the paper pointed out, there had to be charges against an individual for a specific offense before it could carry names.

Now Dallas is no different from Big Spring, from Chicago, from any other city, large or small. The problem is general. The News may be correct in its assumption that publicity would be a helpful deterrent in such cases. It is true among adults that many fear the publicity much worse than punishment. The psychology seems to be that the wrong is not in wrong-doing, but in getting caught at it and other people knowing about it.

All of which brings us to this point. Are the juvenile statutes of the State of Texas more well-meaning than they are effective?

The juvenile laws underwent an extensive over-hauling not long ago. Most of the changes were stimulated by social-minded people who assumed that to punish or publicize a juvenile offender's wrongs was to consign him to a career as an offender. Silence and special consideration would, on the other hand, restore the youngster to a useful place in society without any stigma.

This may be good in theory. As yet it has its weaknesses in practice. Our observation thus far has been that the juvenile statutes now contribute as much in aid and comfort to the youthful offender as they do toward his correction.

The reason for this is two-fold. 1) The deterrent of publicity and punishment is dulled or removed, and 2) the machinery for correction is indefinite and inadequate. Under the law, juvenile delinquency generally is a civil action. It is not really a conventional judicial matter. Frequently, the definition of a juvenile is so vague that those who fall below certain age brackets literally cannot be dealt with effectively.

Now boys and girls are not familiar with the technical terms of the law, but they are quick to learn limitations for immunity. They do not know why, but they do learn that in certain instances about all they can expect is a good scolding.

Moreover, in many counties, there is not—or will there be—adequate personnel set up to administer a juvenile program.

Thus, it seems to us that there might well be some serious study given the practical application of our present juvenile statutes. It is not impossible that some over-hauling should be done.

Washington—

Few More Now-It-Can-Be-Told Tales

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — We probably of the world's history have never will get around to all of the "now-it-can-be-told" stories of the war. Never in any similar period of the world's history have inventive genius and industrial expansion combined to flood the land with new gadgets, gimmicks, and machines. After the release of reports on atomic energy, rockets, jet propulsion, radar and electronics, the punch is gone out of most of the stories.

The Army's Chemical Warfare Service probably will never get out now the full story of its use of smoke in the war. When we went into this war, the Army didn't have one single smoke generator; yet when the Anzio beachhead was established the landing forces operated behind a smoke screen 15 miles long and capable of being maintained 14 hours a day.

Along the Moselle, Saar and Rhine whole armies were moving up behind smoke at the war's end. Perhaps before long similar generators will be protecting millions of acres of fruits and vegetables from the unseasonable frosts.

Another process that came out of the war was the cheap extraction of helium. Once helium cost around $2,000 a cubic foot. Now it costs one cent a cubic foot and there are new plants in Kansas, Texas and New Mexico.

Among the many new uses lately turned up for helium is its use in oversize tires.

Incidentally, if you have seen anything of a new "ingenious" German machine which may revolutionize the manufacture of condensers for radio, radar and other electronic equipment, notify the Army or the Department of Commerce. They've lost it.

Commerce recently announced that this new machine, which turned up in Stuttgart, Germany, was "enroute" and soon would be demonstrated publicly by Commerce and the Army Signal Corps. Army called Commerce and said the new machine already was "somewhere" in this country but could Commerce tell them where it was? Commerce couldn't.

Until it turns up, American condenser manufacturers will have to struggle along without the new machines, which Commerce says will cut production costs up to 20 per cent.

Chemical warfare says they already are making thousands of gallons of soap with "napalm," one of the fillers used in the fire bombs that rained on Japanese cities. So far, it has been used only in mess-hall dishpans and on barracks-room floors and isn't on the market commercially yet.

Russian palaces of former czars and nobles have been converted into workers rest homes.

WHAT A WORLD—

Along World's Byways— EGYPTIAN SAYS "GO" TO WIFE— AND SHE'S NO LONGER HIS WIFE

By HAL BOYLE

CAIRO, March 25 (AP)—Divorce is easy for men in Egypt. They just call in the wife, say "go" to her three times and they are free men again.

But for the ladies it is no such simple matter. "Here a woman not only can't say 'go,' one girl told me. "She can't even say come'."

For getting married to a man of her choice is of much more concern to the average educated young Egyptian girl than how she will dispose of him later, if she decides to change her mind.

Meeting the young man himself is the biggest problem in this old land where courtship has many more barriers in its path than marriage. This is because the old Moslem families don't allow their daughters the freedom girls have in western countries.

Girls sit in co-educational classes with men in the universities, but they can't meet them outside. At least theoretically they can't.

"We are totally different from our mothers," said one young university graduate who precipitated a crisis in her own family by taking an editorial post in a magazine where men were also employed.

"My own mother saw no man before or after marriage for years, except her brothers and her married uncles."

"Men servants in her household didn't see her. She didn't go to school. She was taught in her own house by women teachers. Now she does go out and she finally allowed me to go to school and later to work."

"But we can't dance or go out on a date with strangers. And all men are considered strangers to us except our brothers and our married cousins. Our social life consists of trips to cinemas and evenings at home."

Girls go to the movies in groups, never alone or with a boy friend. A girl usually can't even invite her boy friend to her home, because that would bring up the question of how she met him.

The telephone is playing a major role in breaking down these old standards, but a young man embarked on phone courtship can't simply ring up his girl at her home. He has his sister do the calling and then he takes over.

In 1930 the Egyptian government helped to make up a financial deficit by putting an overtime charge on phone conversations lasting more than three minutes. Love balanced the budget.

Elopement is practically unknown here. A few upper class fathers would force their daughters into marriage against their will, but virtually no girl would marry against her parent's wishes. It all works out in some sort of family compromise, but a remarkable number of young men seem to get caught.

The girls themselves feel that they have been born in an unhappy time for young love, when the old stern ways are bending under the impact of modernity but haven't been broken. They are freer than their mothers were, less free than their daughters will be.

"We are the victims of this generation," one girl sighed.

GE Irons Roll Again From Assembly Lines

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Lehman Resigns Because Of Hoover

By DREW PEARSON WASHINGTON. —The tight veil of secrecy which surrounded the resignation of Herbert Lehman as secretary-general of UNRRA can now be lifted.

The excuse that the former New York governor resigned because of poor health was mere "diplomatic double-talk." Actually, Lehman resigned because he was disgusted with the deceit and fraud which has surrounded the entire question of feeding a hungry world, plus Herbert Hoover. Hoover was the straw that broke Lehman's back.

More was involved than the fact that Hoover was given permission to make a food survey of territory which UNRRA had already carefully surveyed. Lehman was Franklin Roosevelt's close friend and Herbert Hoover was one of Franklin Roosevelt's bitterest enemies.

On the day after Hoover's appointment was announced, Lehman recalled to friends the way Hoover used relief for political purposes after the last war, and he was convinced that Hoover would repeat the same errors in 1946.

Lehman was not even consulted regarding Hoover's appointment. The one Roosevelt cabinet member who was consulted, Henry Wallace, protested vigorously. But in the end, he went along as a "good soldier" under urging from President Truman and Secretary of Agriculture Anderson.

Even before the Hoover appointment, however, Lehman was on the verge of resigning. For months he had been warning that world famine was imminent. He had appealed for the continuation of rationing and charged at inner government conferences that the administration had wept crocodile tears for the rest of the world while ducking rationing because of political expediency.

Lehman's experts estimated that another 5,000,000 to 7,000,000 tons of food could be exported by rationing, and that this amount would spell the difference between life and death for 10,000,000 people.

Another of Lehman's battles involved the combined food board composed of Canadian, British and American members, which has a virtual death grip on the assignment of food for export. Lehman felt that many of its decisions were frankly political, and that food was being used as a weapon to influence the politics of certain nations not friendly to England. Finally, when he saw he had lost on all these fronts, Lehman, a gentleman and a loyal Democrat, politely cashed in his chips, refusing to issue a critical blast against the Truman administration.

Diplomatic Victory During the heyday of the Roosevelt administration, Vice President Jack Garner gave a dinner for the late Will Rogers at which the cowboy humorist, commenting on a forthcoming international conference, said:

"This country has won every war, but lost every conference." Last week, however, one international conference closed at Savannah, Ga., at which the United States won every single round. It was the first world monetary conference, and the man responsible for the American victory was hard-hitting Fred Vinson, Secretary of the Treasury.

His chief battle was over the location of the international bank and the stabilization fund to be established under the Bretton Woods plan. The British wanted the bank and fund located in New York, but Secretary Vinson wanted them in Washington. When he finally tried to pin down Lord Keynes as to why he didn't like Washington, Keynes replied: "It's too political."

"But during the war," shot back Vinson, "when you had a large mission here working on lend-lease, you didn't find it too political." That ended the debate. When the vote was taken, there was only one vote against Washington — Lord Keynes' vote.

Stettinius Cashes Check

Harry Truman and Jimmy Byrnes are now paying off a blank check they signed last June. It was a check they gave Edward R. Stettinius when they made him American delegate to the World Security Council. Unfortunately it affects the future peace of the world and the lives of the next generation.

Here is the inside story of what happened: During the San Francisco conference, vivacious George Allen flew out a special emissary of President Truman to break the news to Stettinius that Jimmy Byrnes was to be Secretary of State. Allen told the then Secretary of State that Truman had nothing against him, but wanted his old friend with whom he had served in the Senate to step into this top cabinet job.

But as a sop, Stettinius was told that he could become American delegate to the United Nations. Stettinius asked for 24 hours to think it over, then agreed. Since then, both Truman and Byrnes have regretted the offer. Stettinius, who is one of the best-hearted and willing men ever to have served in government, simply doesn't have enough on the ball when it comes to delicate, difficult international negotiations. At the London conference, it was noticed that he read his remarks from statements previously okayed by Byrnes or Dean Acheson. About the only time he departed from a prepared text was when he proposed that the meeting adjourn.

About three weeks ago, Stettinius returned to Washington and asked Byrnes to name a deputy delegate to the United Nations, so he "would not have to carry the burden alone." Byrnes said he would think it over; but he did not think very hard. For, privately, it is hoped that Stettinius will ease himself out of the United Nations picture.

Touring Europe— These Months The Crucial Period

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

AP World Traveler PARIS, March 25. (AP)—Whenever two or more serious-minded folk get together these days the conversation almost inevitably arrives at a discussion of whether this war-torn Europe is headed for another conflict.

The danger of a further upheaval does exist. However, war not only isn't inevitable but the balance is on the side of peace at this writing.

And what has created such a threat as exists? It's due to differences among the major powers in connection with the realignment of the zones of influence both in Europe and in Asia.

The newborn might of Russia is pouring into much of the vacuum created by the disappearance of Germany, Italy and Japan as first class powers, and by the disability of France and Britain to defend their place in the sun.

Until that realignment is finished, peace will be in danger. There remains some highly delicate points to be settled—for example, Moscow's intentions regarding Austria, Turkey, Iran and Manchuria.

The degree of success of the United Nations organization will be in direct relation to the degree of agreement among the Big Three—Russia, Britain and America. Many competent observers here in Europe are greatly encouraged by the more positive stand being taken recently by the Big Three in their dealings with one another.

Military leaders and statesmen alike recognize that the moment has arrived when firmness and two-sided frankness is necessary. A soft answer still may turn away wrath, but the soft answer doesn't necessarily have to be the "yes" of appeasement.

The United Nations Organization has dangerous water to negotiate at the outset. Apart from the maneuvering of the European powers for position there are other problems developing out of the chaos caused by the war, hunger and inflation.

Still, none of the problems, serious as they are, need cause another global conflict—barring one contingency. That contingency would be the attempt of a major power to take advantage of a crisis to extend its own zone of influence. Give us another few months and we shall be able to say whether there is any power which has such unholly ambitions.

Those months are the crucial period for world peace.

JACK'S TIE TO THE PAST

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK—I noted the other day a story that commercial passengers again were taking the east-west Atlantic trip by steamer, the first since before the war. It brought back pleasant memories of the less serious days when the emphasis was on trivia and good times before the world turned to more intelligent, deeper, and unfortunately more frenetic topics.

I had a lengthy stint of ship news reporting, back before the war, and enjoyed it thoroughly, even those grim, rainy, freezing mornings when I'd have to get up after a few hours' sleep to catch the early courier which met the entering liners at Quarantine.

After September, 1939, things were different for the ship news gang. The same fellows covered the same waterfront. But the approach to news was different.

Everything had to have a war angle. I remember the first such story I covered. I was on a Swedish boat—the Gripsholm, Kungsholm or some such—and I recognized Lauritz Melchior, the Met's Wagnerian tenor. He rushed over to shake hands, pulling his tiny, dainty wife along as if she were some sort of kite, and he talked a mile a minute about what was happening abroad. He insisted that I come with him and meet a priest he had become friendly with on the trip home. The priest was an American who had his face slapped when he attempted to stop the beating of an aged Jew by a Nazi storm trooper. It was my first talk with anyone personally affected by Nazi brutality. My enjoyment of the trivial side of ship news reporting thereupon abated abruptly.

I thought of it one day last week when I looked in a mirror to tie my tie. I had read the day before about the return to some sort of normalcy of passenger traffic on the Atlantic, and as I wound my cravat about my neck, it occurred that I had learned to tie that particular knot on board a ship as it steamed into the East River.

I always had tied my tie in the usual, one-flip-over fashion, but sometimes, looking at pictures in the papers, had admired the wide, tapering effect accomplished by the Duke of Kert. So one morning on board ship I noted the fellow with whom I was talking, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., was wearing just that sort of knot. I asked him to show it to me, and he immediately, and with easy amiability, agreed. He took off the tie, put it on again and tied it several times for me, until I had learned the technique.

I still tie my ties the way Young Doug taught me and I wish the world were as peaceful as it was at that carefree prewar moment, when the largest problem seemed to be how to wind a cravat correctly.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With ANGUS LECHESTER
Somewhere around April 10, Jake Douglass and Stanley Wheeler take off for Buffalo, N. Y., and the American Bowling Congress.

Their itinerary will include stops at Chicago, Detroit, St. Louis and Toronto, Canada, where they'll engage in special kegling tests for the world series of the maples. They're scheduled to toe the line at Buffalo on April 17.

It will be the fourth ABC show for Douglass, the second for Wheeler.

Other Big Springers have made tentative plans to make the expedition. Our town will probably have a half dozen or so representatives at the convention, which has already been functioning about three weeks.

Several of the villagers, including Douglass and Wheeler, will invade Fort Worth Saturday and Sunday this week for the state meet.

Abilene high school's Harrel Steele, who negotiated the 880-yard run in 2:11 minutes, for a new Big Spring Relays record last week, climbed out of a sick bed to accomplish the trick.

Herschel "Mule" Stockton, who has brought his local high school tracksters along slowly, for the most part was pleased with their over-all performance in the games.

His two best bets for area and regional championships are Ernie Ache, century dash star, and hard-working Donald Webb, the welterweight miler who set a new record at his specialty.

Stock figures Ache can do better than the 16.3 seconds he accomplished in his sprint with Ted Hardin Saturday afternoon. He is of the opinion the youngster eased up just a bit in the last 25 yards.

Oilers Pushing Wasson Keglers For League Lead

Battered from pillar to post by the onrushing White Trucking gang, Elmo Wasson's brigade all but lost the lead in Classic bowling league standings here Monday night.

The Haberdashers absorbed a 2-1 reversal and wound up with a slim half game margin over the second place Cosden Oilers, who took advantage of a forfeit from First National Bank.

The Truckers are but two games off the pace.

Other results Monday saw Texas Electric flatten Lee Hanson's gang in all three games.

Tom Coffey, White's chief threat, crossed the finish line with aggregate scoring laurels, posting a 606 that had as a feature a 212 singles tally.

Charles Sholte, one of Coffee's kegling mates, ankleed off with a 223 for tops in singles.

Other respectable compilations were buried in the wake of those outputs. Leonard Morgan, agent of the Truckers, put together a 595. Luke LeBleu, Cosden, came along with a 586; Stan Wheeler, TES, a 543; Escal Compton, Wasson's, 562; and Milas Woods, Hanson's, 545.

The Truckers finished up a total of 2,721 pins, highlighted by a 936 second game, for the blue-ribbon best in team play.

Standings:

| Wasson | 30 | 18 | .625 |
| Cosden | 29 | 18 | .617 |

More Softball Teams Active

There are indications the Big Spring Softball association will be composed of 16 teams instead of 12 as originally planned.

Employees of the Big Spring Motor company Monday informed the unit's president, Dewey Collum, that a team was in the process of formation there and they would seek admittance in the circuit.

Collum previously announced that Wilkenson's Garage would also form a club and a representative had already asked permission to join one of the leagues that will function here.

No teams will be considered for sanctioned play after Wednesday, Collum said, due to the fact that schedules for both the proposed circuits will be drawn up then.

Next meeting of team managers is tentatively set for Tuesday, April 2. Play in both circuits will begin April 15.

ANAHEIM, Calif., March 26 (AP) The St. Louis Browns' regulars will try today to accomplish what their "B" team failed twice to do—beat the Hollywood stars of the Pacific Coast league.

Garcia Triumphs Over Grant, Pres Darnell Loses

NEW YORK, March 26 (AP)—Bob Foxworth, a 20-year old negro amateur light heavyweight with professional polish and a powerful punch, had the fight experts buzzing today over his impressive showing in the 19th annual inter-city Golden Gloves contests.

The Golden Gloves classic has produced its share of world's boxing kings including such as Joe Louis and Barney Ross; and the ringwise observers among the 19,215 customers who packed Madison Square Garden last night to see the westerners beat the eastern team 10-6 are agreed that Foxworth is the boy most likely to succeed among the 1946 contestants.

Showing plenty of class as he stalked Robert Isler of New York around the ring for the first two rounds of their championship clash, the 175-pound East St. Louis, Ill., typist caught up with his eastern rival in the third frame and flattened him with a dynamic right to the chin at 1:10.

The West also came up with the only other knockout victor in the 16 bouts and produced the upset of the night.

Herschel Acton, a hard-hitting Oklahoma City lightweight, stopped Marcelo Pacheco of Puerto Rico in 2:20 of the first round of their bout between titlists, while Eddie Dames, a lanky bantamweight uppercut specialist from St. Louis, outpointed Adolfo Calderon, another Puerto Rican and the only defending champion in the tournament.

The western champions and alternates shared equally in the conquest, each division winning five fights and losing three. The westerners swept the lightweight and middleweight bouts and dropped both welterweight settos to the easterners. It was the west squad's 11th triumph in 19 contests. Three of the tournaments have ended in 8-3 ties and the New Yorkers have won five.

The results: constants identified by home towns; squads represented, where different, in parentheses:

Local Golfers Invade Wichita Falls Today

Seven members of the Big Spring golfing family, including two professionals, were included in a field of 100 West Texans entered in the season's first Pro-Amateur tournament at Wichita Falls today.

Shirley Robbins and Warren Cantrell, professionals, are due to go on the firing line along with Sam Hefner, Burl McAllen, Sam McComb, Joe Black and Bob Satterwhite, all amateurs.

Foursumes composed of one professional and three amateurs will score their best ball for 18 holes of medal play. Amateurs will be allowed one-half of their club handicap.

The local entries get into the swim without benefit of practice on the Wichita Falls course, although both Robbins and Cantrell are familiar with the layout. They have as a contender, among others, Frank Baker, Pampa pro, who turned in a par 72 for the best practice round score.

Big Spring's country club will host the event in May.

Spikers Oppose Forsan Troupe In 7:45 Tilt

Forsan's girls volley ball team invades the village precincts this evening to do battle with Arah Phillips' Big Spring high school legions in two bouts, the first of which is booked for 7:45 o'clock. Scene of the skirmishes is the Steer gymnasium.

The eighth grade fens' spiking contingent, coached by Anna Smith, add to the evening's entertainment in a 7 o'clock go with Knott.

Miss Phillips' clubs have but two weeks of their 1946 season remaining. During that time, they'll see action against Courtney here at 10 a. m. Saturday, in Coahoma Monday and with Coahoma here Wednesday, April 3.

Finally, the Big Springers move on Midland for the area meet April 5-6.

The locals have shown tremendous improvement since they opened the campaign against Sterling City and absorbed a 101-19 shellacking.

Virginia Costello, who made the all-star team in the recent Big Spring invitational tournament, will be busy tonight along with Joyce Jones, Billie Jean Younger, Lavada Crudup, Ramona Weaver and Dot Cauble.

Cubs Battered, 11-0

ANAHEIM, Calif., March 26 (AP) Manager Charlie Grimm of the Chicago Cubs is not worrying over Phil Cavaretta's batting slump. "If he's going to have a slump, let him have it now," Grimm said after Cavaretta failed to hit in four times as the St. Louis Browns trounced the Cubs, 11-0, yesterday.

All Clubs Well Stocked

Texas Loop Primed To Open Race With No One In Driver's Seat

DALLAS, March 26. (AP)—If you expect to get a line on which club is going to be strongest in the coming Texas league race don't ask the managers or the club owners. They wouldn't know and they sure wish they did.

It'll be 30 days after the season opens before anybody can gain an idea of what the campaign has to offer. This is one time when even the sports writers will be timid about picking the pennant winner in advance.

The reason: This season the big league scouts are doing the selecting of ball-players. The managers have nothing to guide them except scout reports. Most of the fellows on their club rosters are players they never saw before or players they have known nothing about for some three years.

The Texas league didn't operate in 1943, 1944 and 1945, so if any of the fellows who played in the loop are back, it furnishes little information for the club owners and managers. In three years those guys may have been inactive in baseball while serving in the armed forces, if they have, have developed into 50 per cent better players by having participated. Thus the manager has to rely on the scouts' reports. The big league gumshoes kept in touch all right. They made it their business to do so.

The big question now is placing all the baby players. To go with the thousands that have been developed in the past three years will be thousands who were developed before they left for the service.

In this way the independent clubs this year are going to be as advantageously situated as those belonging to chains. There are so many ball players every club will have a bulging roster. The clubs that own them must do something with the surplus.

The Texas league is in a very good position. It starts the season from scratch. It has no players on its national defense service list since it has no national defense service list. When it discontinued operations it had to get rid of all players and couldn't sign any for the future. So the Texas league does not have to wire all over the country for waivers in order to dispose of unwanted players.

The league office here is being swamped with voluminous waiver lists from the leagues that operated during the war. Those clubs want to get rid of the overflow of manpower and waivers must be asked from all clubs of their classification and of higher classification.

Yes, more and more women are finding that bowling provides healthful relaxation and plenty of entertainment after a hard day's work.

Tarheels May Surprise In Battle For NCAA Casaba Crown Tonight

NEW YORK, March 26. (AP)—Seven-foot Bob Kurland, who developed from an awkward player four years ago into one of the game's most polished performers, wins up his college basketball career tonight as the Oklahoma Aggies battle North Carolina for the NCAA championship.

Principally because of Kurland, the nation's leading scorer at 620 points, the Aggies have been installed eight-point favorites over the Tarheels in this fitting climax to the first post-war campaign.

The Cowboys, winner of 38 of 39 games and with most of last year's championship quintet back, seem confident about their chances of becoming the first team to win the national crown two straight years.

"My boys are great competitors," explained Coach Hank Ibs of the Stillwater, Okla., aggregation. "Kurland has improved 30 percent in the last month." Ibs went on. "Until then he was a very poor tipper-in of rebounds and lacked confidence in his split shots. Now he has mastered both. Then, too, Weldon Kern's ankle is okay again. He hurt it against Arkansas on Feb. 15."

North Carolina, winner of 29 of 33 games, defeated New York University and Ohio State to win the eastern NCAA crown while the Aggies swept aside Baylor and Cal.

Sharing a party-line telephone!

If you're sharing a telephone party line, you're helping someone else here have telephone service now. Otherwise he'd likely be waiting his turn for service.

Party-line service is one way of stretching the telephone system here—to serve as many people as possible now instead of asking some to wait until we've had time to put in the wires and cables and switching equipment needed to serve everybody who is waiting.

It's a big job—catching up with four years of backed-up demand. But we're hard at it. As soon as possible, we'll bring service to everybody who is waiting for it. And, after that, we expect to be able to furnish one-family telephone service to those who want it.

"GOOD NEIGHBOR" SUGGESTIONS for party-liners

Before calling, please listen to see whether the line is in use. If it is, hang up gently and try your call again a little later.

When talking, remember your party-line neighbor—he may want to make a call—so please be reasonably brief.

Between calls, try to allow a little time so the other people on the line may have the opportunity to use it.

Ask the children to follow these good neighbor suggestions, too. Thanks a lot.

Census Recheck Being Conducted

Administrative staff members are checking census returns against existing rolls to help make complete the current enumeration, W. C. Blankenship, superintendent, said Tuesday.

Many children, somehow missed in the census, are being listed through the recheck.

At the same time, said the superintendent, there possibly are many others who should be enumerated who have not been included in the census as yet.

The district is anxious to include any child who will be six years of age on or before Sept. 1, 1946 and who will not have attained his or her 18th birthday before Sept. 1, 1946.

School attendance, marital status, etc., have nothing to do with the census. Each person within scholastic age should be enumerated, Blankenship pointed out.

Because it is impossible for census takers to conduct a perfect census, parents or guardians of children within the scholastic age who have not yet signed cards for the census are asked to phone 1206. A census taker will be dispatched to make the call. If this is not practical, a note may be sent to teachers by children in school, or may be sent directly to the school office.

Each scholastic merited the district a $30 apportionment payment the year. It may be even greater this year.

Here 'n' There

Merle Creighton says his new filling station at 301 Gregg street will be accepting business by May 1.

Spring must be here. W. F. Gent, who tends the lawn on the county's property around the courthouse, has been busy the past several days watering the grass and hedges.

The plot on the east side of the courthouse needs terracing before it can hold the water necessary for a thick carpet of turf.

Walker Bailey, county school superintendent, is visiting in Gall today checking on evaluations of school property between Vealmoor and the county line.

Remodeling and paint work is expected to be completed today in the city hall. A general improvement project has been in progress in the building for several weeks. The heating and hot water systems also are undergoing repairs at present.

In the absence of Jones Lamar, chief operator of the city sewage plant, who is recovering from surgery, E. L. Killingsworth, superintendent of city engineers, is supervising work at the plant.

Now a civilian, Henry Jones is back home after 26 months in the ordinance division of the Air Corps in India. He and Mrs. Jones are visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Jones, before returning to Lubbock, where they have their home. He plans to reenter Texas Tech in the autumn to complete his college career. Jones arrived in the states March 16 and subsequently was separated from the Army.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hilton, Tulsa, Okla., formerly of Big Spring, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. D. McDonald. Hilton has been with an aircraft warning unit and served in New Guinea and the Philippines.

W. C. Blankenship, Carl Blomshild, Charles Watson and H. D. Norris attended a council charter meeting for the Buffalo Trail council, Boy Scouts, Monday night in Sweetwater. The session was conducted by George Holland, deputy regional executive from Dallas.

Riley Loveless, one of the oldest city employees in point of service, returned Monday from South Texas, rejoining the city department as warehouseman.

Fund Appropriated For Homes For Vets

WASHINGTON, March 26 (AP)—A new $253,727,000 fund to provide temporary homes for war veterans was approved by the house appropriations committee today and sent to the floor for a vote probably tomorrow.

The legislation provides for 102,350 units of temporary housing for veterans and their dependents and completion of a previously approved program for 100,000 temporary homes for which congress has appropriated $191,000,000.

Martin Announces For School Board

Dewey Martin announced Tuesday that he had filed with Board Secretary Ira Thurman for a place on the ballot as candidate for trustee of the Big Spring Independent School district.

In entering the race, Martin said he was offering his services with the sole idea of working with others toward "bigger and better" schools in Big Spring.

"A number of friends have approached me to make the race for trustee," he said. "I have no bone of contention to pick. My desire, should the people accept the offer of my services, is to work open-mindedly toward the goal of better schools, and hence for the betterment of our community."

Martin has lived in and around Big Spring most of his adult life. For the past decade he has been associated with the Big Spring Hardware company, is an active member of the Lions club, and a member of the American Legion, having served in World War I. He is a home-owner and has children in the Big Spring schools.

Martin's announcement brought to five the number of candidates for two places on the board in April 6 balloting. His may be the last candidacy entered since the deadline for filing falls at midnight today. Others in the race are J. Y. Robb, W. W. Inkman, Justin Holmes and W. D. Berry.

Smith To Ask Stalin To Reassure America

FRANKFURT, Germany, May 26 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, the United States' new ambassador to Russia now en route to Moscow told reporters here today he would tell Prime Minister Stalin that the American people wanted a reassurance of the Soviet Union's motives.

Arriving at Eschborn airport near Frankfurt, Smith said that the strain in relations with Russia "definitely eased today" as a result of new developments in Iran.

He said he had no specific questions to take up with Stalin, but that he wanted "to make clear the change in the American attitude."

Aviation Industries To Begin Service Here

Aviation Industries of Dallas have made arrangements to land planes at the Big Spring air port and notified city officials that they plan to begin a charter-feeder service within the next few days.

The proposed route includes stops at Dallas, Fort Worth, Mineral Wells, Breckenridge, Abilene, Sweetwater, Big Spring, Midland and Odessa.

Permission has been granted the company to land planes here at present. City Manager B. J. McDaniel said, and arrangements for future operations will be discussed when the city assumes control of the landing field facilities.

Sum Provided To Run Down Eviders Of Tax

WASHINGTON, March 26 (AP)—A new $16,135,000 fund to help the internal revenue bureau run down approximately 40,000 tips on tax evasion won the approval of the house appropriations committee today.

The money was included in a $233,179,153 overall deficiency appropriation bill for miscellaneous agencies which the committee sent to the house floor for debate later this week.

The committee acted after hearing bureau heads explain results already achieved in crackdown operations against income tax evaders.

Allred Says Oilmen Suffer From Ceilings

AUSTIN, March 26 (AP)—Contending that there is no further need for oil price ceilings, now that supplies exceed the demand, former Gov. James V. Allred in a radio speech broadcast last night over station KTBC, Austin, said that Texas independent producers and royalty owners are suffering from the present low price.

Major companies, Allred declared, have made tremendous profits during the war years through their refining, pipeline, and marketing operations, while the independents and royalty owners have had no relief except for a recent 10-cent increase recently granted by the OPA.

"89 MEN"

heard Dr. A. C. Donath preach his first sermon at East Fourth Street Baptist Church. It was his statement that this was the largest Monday night crowd he had ever seen in a revival meeting. Dr. Donath will speak each night this week at 7:30 through Sunday.

The singing, under the direction of Brother George McLellan, was superb. East Fourth Street Baptist Sunday School has a goal for 550 in Sunday School Sunday. 470 people have already signed an agreement saying that they will be present Sunday.

Dog Owners Told Of City Ordinance

Complaints of dogs running loose in the city are increasing steadily, City Manager B. J. McDaniel said today, as he announced that rigid enforcement of the city ordinance concerning animal pets may be expected.

In some cases people report that they have been bitten by dogs, McDaniel said, and in these instances that animals are either picked up or the owner required to take them to a veterinarian for observation.

The ordinance provides that all dogs, regardless of whether vaccinated and tagged, be kept in the owner's yard or on leash at all times. Each call on such cases cost the city approximately $1, McDaniel said, and the department has been averaging as high as 15 calls per day recently.

SEA LION SHOWS HIS GRATITUDE

MANHATTAN BEACH, Calif., March 26 (AP)—Mrs. Ruby Bigelow has an admirer on her hands and can't get rid of him.

She gave first aid to a sea lion that had its jaws gummed up with tar, then dumped it back into the ocean. The animal jumped right out again and followed her home.

Every time she puts him back in the water the sea lion shows up a few minutes later at Mrs. Bigelow's home.

Twice Recently Shot Fired In Troop Train

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., March 26 (AP)—Sheriff Emmett L. Shay said today the army had notified him that for the second time in two months, a shot had been fired at a troop train carrying soldiers east.

Shay said the first incident was discounted by the army as a probable wild shot, and was not reported. The second, yesterday, entered an open coach window, narrowly missing several servicemen, then shattered a window on the opposite side as it passed through the car.
