Christmas Play Presented By SAHS

The first and second year Theatre Arts Classes of Santa Anna High School are in the final states of preparation for what has become an annual Christmas Play, to be presented on Friday, December 19th, the final day of classes before the Christmas Holidays.

The play chosen for this year's presentation is a comedy entitled A HILLBILLY CHRISTMAS CAROL, by LeRoma Eshbach Greth, and is a parody of A CHRISTMAS CAROL by Charles Dickens.

Cast of the one act comedy is as follows: Joshua Frunheiser, a modern Scrooge played by Robert Duus; The Widow Hinkley, with a roving eye, played by Jetta Rutherford; Hiram Hinkley, her lazy son, played by Scotty Anderson; Cora Belle Hinkley, her daughter, played by Nikki McGough; Lizzie Anna, Minnie Sue and Ossie, Joshua's nieces and nephew, played by Kallie Gray, Jackie Weathers, and James Hartman. Two performances are scheduled for December 19th, one for Elementary School and Junior High at 1:00 p.m. and a second for High School at 2:00 p.m.

Even teenagers like to tell Santa Claus what they want for Christmas. This teenager, Jeannie Langford, a Santa Anna High School Senior, told Santa what she wanted for Christmas during the Christmas Band Concert held last Sunday afternoon. Santa was a big hit with all the kids as they went and sat on his knee and whispered in his ear. (SA NEWS PHOTO BY DANNA TURNER)

Rachel Phillips In All-Region Band

All-Region Band Auditions were held Saturday, December 14, at Brownwood High School. The competition began at 1 p.m. and ended shortly after 5 p.m. Students from over 30 school districts vied for the honor to become one of the top 100 band students in Region VII.

Santa Anna's Rachel Phillips was selected from 33 trumpet players to perform with the All-Region group. Miss Phillips had previously been a member of the All-District Band, that competition being held earlier in November.

The Region Band Concert will be held on January 24, 1987 in the Ballinger High School Auditorium. Time for the concert is 7:00 p.m. No admission will be charged. Clinician for the rehearsals, which include Friday night and all day Saturday, will be Rey Meza of San Antonio. Following the Friday night rehearsal, the Ballinger Band Boosters will host a dance for all the Region Band members.

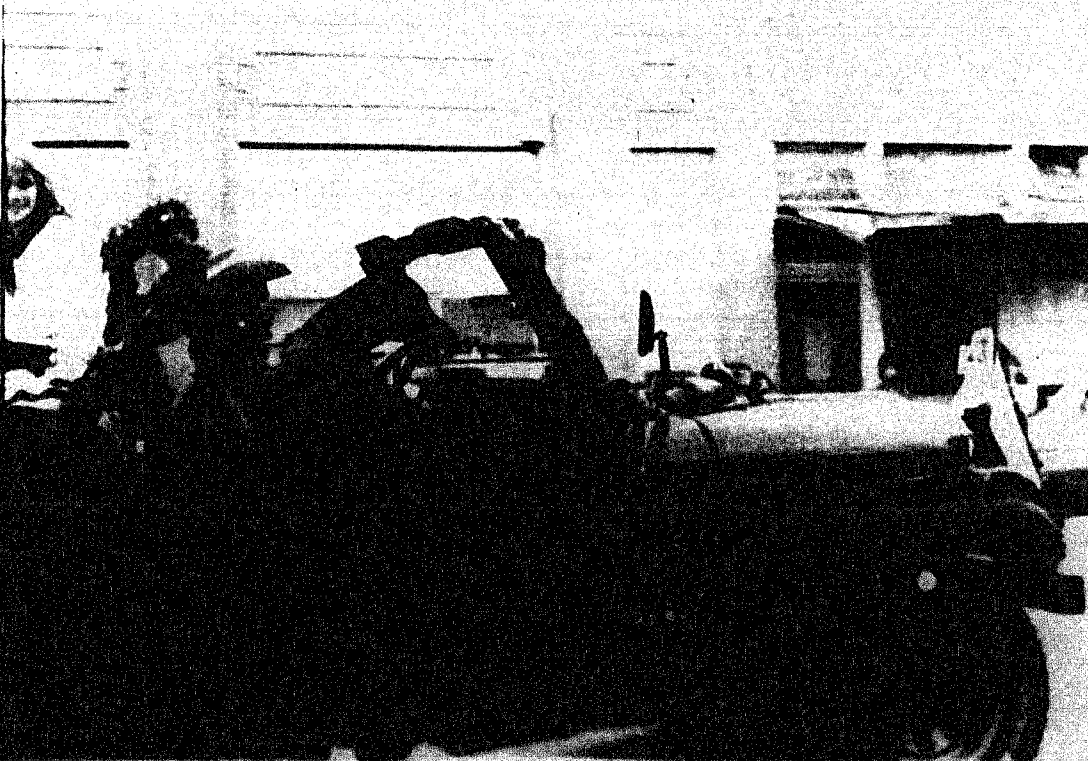

Santa Anna Scoutmaster Tex Wright was one of four recipients of the District Award of Merit in the Chisholm Trail Council. To receive this honor one has to be nominated. There were 16 nominations for this award in a 5-county area including Abilene. Mr. Wright was nominated for his outstanding service to the youth of our community and in the district, as he has served as Scoutmaster of the Local Troop for 10 years and has acted as Scoutmaster for the Provisional Troop at Summer Camp for the last three years. ## Another WTU Refund

West Texas Utilities Co. plans another refund to its retail customers early next year.

The Company was to file a request Wednesday, December 10, with the Public Utility Commission of Texas requesting permission to refund a total of $4.9 million in retail revenues collected in excess of actual fuel costs during October and November. The total includes $4.7 million actual fuel cost savings, plus $3 million in interest.

Charles Wetsel, WTU local manager, said recently negotiated contract revisions reflecting the continued soft price of natural gas makes the refund necessary.

"As our cost for boiler fuel went down, we simply over-collected under the fuel rate approved by the PUC," Wetsel said.

This will be the fifth refund made to WTU retail customers since the summer of 1985. With each refund, the fuel rates charged to customers have been adjusted, but the price of natural gas, WTU's main power plant boiler fuel, has continued to decline.

WTU's base rates have not changed since December 1984. However,

Company officials have said that a base rate increase will be necessary after the new coal-fired Oklahoma Power Station near Vernon is completed and placed in service. The assured supply of coal under a long-term contract is expected to stabilize WTU's power plant fuel costs and to partially offset the necessary base rate increase.

The refund will be made through one-time credits to retail customers in January or February depending on when the PUC approves it. The typical residential customer will receive about $8.00.

Ann Owen as back with us after her stay in the hospital, a bit pale but with her usual smile. Also Ruby Box was back. Cards for the crowd to sign were to be sent to Madora Gilmore for her birthday and a card to Edna Estes, who had by-pass surgery in West Texas. She had been such a bright and lively one at the meals, none had guessed that she ever had a pain.

Ollie Pembroke announced that the group would have the usual meal of Thursday, which would be the Christmas dinner and further stated that it would not be Turkey, so it is hoped to have the usual number with the group on the 18th. ### Self Culture Club Meets

The Self Culture Club met on Wednesday, December 10, in the home of Earlene Scott. The home was beautifully decorated in all the attributes of the Christmas Season. The refreshment table featured many foods of the season: cranberry bread, butter cookies, sugarplum bread along with wassail, spiced tea and coffee. Carmen Donham assisted with the hostess duties.

Evelyn Scott from Wichita Falls, was a house guest in the home for this occasion. Bettie Henderson, president, asked for roll call with each person to answer with a favorite holiday ornament. Many unusual things were listed, some dating back to their childhood and had been preserved for their own children and now on into the grandchildren's yule time decor.

Mrs. Hardy Blue had been chairman for the selection of a book to be presented to the Library in the name of Leona Bruce. Mrs. Blue stated that with the help of the attendants at the library, the selection was CAPTAIN BILL McDONALD, TEXAS RANGER, by Paine Albert Bigelow. The Club was pleased with the selection, remembering as all did the close ties Mrs. Bruce had with the Ranger Service.

The study of the month was given by Carmen Donham, and dealt with the religions of Texas. Mrs. Donham spoke of the early missions of Texas started at El Paso and moved to South Texas and then on to the coast. She further stated that Christmas was and is primarily a religious festival, a joyous celebration with the founder of this season.

Earlene Scott, chairman, stated some of the welfare needs in our community which the Club might be able to do for some needy family in our community. The needs are great and a bit heart rendering. The members closed the meeting with a song, "Jingle Bells" and each went home on a joyous note.

Christmas songs started off the program after which Mrs. Crews gave a rundown of the early life of J. Frank Dobie with his memories of the Christmas season, the early decorative candles being lighted, the cranberry and popcorn strings for decoration on the tree from their own river bed. Many present had the same kind of memories from their own youth. Mrs. Baugh gave an insight to customs of other lands and their mode of remembering the special glow of anticipation of the Holy Season. Those present from the Nitia Daniell Circle were the above mentioned and Laura Carpenter, Hettie Scarborough, Mildred Galloway, Dorothy Watson, Thelma Upchurch, and Lucile Wylie; from the Martha Group were Ora Hunter, Doris Griffin, Mae Blue, Lucille Smith and Ethel Williams.

THE GREATEST CHRISTMAS GIFT!

It is not found in shopping malls. It is not found in the bottle. It is not found in Santa Claus. It is not found in presents. These and many more are based on who you are or what you can give in return, and how good you are.

The greatest Christmas gift is based on who and what God is. It is unconditional love through Jesus Christ. You can't earn it, buy it nor do you deserve it. It is a gift.

God is saying to you and me at Christmas that he loves us no matter who we are or what we have done in the past. This Christmas we can have a new beginning in life by accepting his gift of eternal life through Jesus Christ.

Living With... Giants

BY DON RUTHERFORD

I have just finished a tremendous book entitled WALKING WITH THE GIANTS. This 300 plus page book is full of biographies of great preachers through out history.

It was amazing to me that many of these great men had "giants" to deal with in their ministry and in their personal lives. These giants had to be dealt with. Some of these were banishment, depression and sickness.

Samuel Rutherford (1600-1661) was a Scottish preacher of great report. He has been called a "little fair man," but he was not slight in his preaching or in what he thought was right. In 1636 he was banished from Scotland because he stood up for what he thought was right. He wrote against the weak theology of that day and was punished for it. But history repeated itself in his life. Out of his exile came one of the greatest devotional books ever known.

Out of Paul's imprisonment came Ephesians, Colossians and Philippians. Out of John Bunyon's imprisonment came PILGRIMS PROGRESS, and out of Rutherford's exile came THE LETTERS OF SAMUEL RUTHERFORD. In March of 1638 he was able to go back to his home in Anwoth.

Out of his "giant" came some great writings that live on.

Another man who had to deal with a giant was R. W. Dale (1829-1865). A dark thread of depression ran through his life and often he spoke of "the strange morbid gloominess," that he had to battle for weeks at a time. His struggle with the duties of being a pastor were for the most part his "giant."

One day Dale was in a depressed mood walking down a Birmingham street when a lady passed by and said "God bless you Dr. Dale." He asked her name but she refused. "Never mind my name," she said, "but if you could only know how you have made me feel as you have given me a bright look, God bless you."

As she hurried away she seemed to take the dark cloud with her. Dale said, "The mist broke, the sunlight came, I breathed the free air of the mountains of God."

Pastors, your pastor carries a burden many of us do not know of. They are human, they have their "giants." Church members take time to thank your pastor. It will do him well!

W. E. Sangster was a brilliant Methodist preacher. He lived from 1900 till 1960. In 1957 he found out he was dying from progressive muscular atrophy. When he found this out he made four resolutions. (1) I will never complain; (2) I will keep the home bright; (3) I will count my blessings; and (4) I will try to turn this into gain. Later he wrote "There have been great gains from my sickness. I live in the present. I am grateful for little things. And I have more time for prayer." For the next thirty months he experienced the slow paralysis of his muscles finally being able to use only two fingers. He continued to communicate through writing. He wrote fifteen books during his lifetime and some of his greatest works came within these last thirty months of his life.

We all have our "giants" we must face them. The difference is how we face them. A man came into my office today and right out of the blue he said, "If it is to be then it is up to me." And you know he is right. If we are to conquer then it is up to us and the strength we find in Jesus.

THINK ABOUT IT: "I can do all things through Jesus who gives me the strength." Philippians 3:14. Paul was in prison when he wrote this verse. The word for strength is the word from which we derive the word dynamite. Paul was saying "Jesus gives me the dynamite" to overcome.

Danger--Parking Lot

During the Christmas season, the parking lots at shopping malls and centers are overflowing with thousands of shoppers carrying many packages to their vehicles.

If accidents are to be avoided in the parking lots, a little extra care is required. You will never know when a child or someone may step into your path.

Watch for people walking near your car, especially in rainy or snowy weather or darkness. People rushing to get to their cars may be hurrying, or their vision may be obscured.

Slow down! Do not speed in parking areas.

Don't park in restricted areas or fire lanes. Protect yourself and those you love. Buckle Up Before You Drive.

Holiday Hints

More men, it seems, are learning what women have known for so long—you can make an indelible impression on people with what you wear. Some use that wisdom this—and every—holiday season to determine their gift-giving selections.

You can help the men in your life—father, brother, husband, boyfriend—get ready to climb higher with a gift said to possess the scent of success. Millionaire cologne and matching stick deodorant by Men-pen appeals to the sophisticated and elegant man.

When Medicare Is Secondary Payer

Medicare beneficiaries may think that once their Medicare protection starts, it will always pay first for hospital and medical bills. This isn't always true. There are times when Medicare is the secondary health insurance payer—that is, when it pays AFTER other sources pay for services.

There are three major situations where Medicare is the secondary payer.

If a beneficiary is entitled to Medicare SOLELY on the basis of permanent kidney failure and is covered by an employer group health plan, Medicare is the secondary payer for an initial period of up to 12 months. The employer health plan pays first for kidney treatment and other health services during that time. If the employer plan doesn't pay in full, Medicare may make secondary payments to supplement the amount paid by the employer plan. Medicare becomes the primary health insurance payer at the end of the 12-month period.

Medicare also is the secondary payer for beneficiaries 65 or older who have employer group health coverage through their employer or through their spouse's employer. Under a special rule, employers with 20 or more employees must offer workers and their spouses 65 or older the same health insurance protection that is available to younger workers. THIS ONLY APPLIES IF YOU OR YOUR SPOUSE ARE CURRENTLY WORKING AND COVERED UNDER AN EMPLOYER GROUP INSURANCE AFTER AGE 65.

The workers can accept or reject the employer health insurance plan. If the worker accepts the employer plan, Medicare becomes the secondary payer and can only help pay for any Medicare-covered services that are not paid by the employer plan.

Beneficiaries who have employer group health coverage should be sure to tell hospitals, doctors, or others who provide medical services so that the services will be billed correctly.

In addition, Medicare is the secondary payer when health care services are covered under automobile medical insurance, State no-fault insurance, automobile liability insurance, or other liability insurance. This is true even if State law or the private insurance contract says that the automobile, no-fault, or other liability benefits are secondary to Medicare's. If the automobile or no-fault insurance refuses to pay for services, Medicare payment will be conditional. This means Medicare will make payment on the condition that the Medicare patient will refund the money if the automobile or liability insurer later pays for the services.

If a beneficiary receives medical services as the result of an accident, he or she should tell the health care provider about the accident and furnish information about all insurance policies or other parties who may be liable for medical expenses.

Another rule beneficiaries should remember is that Medicare cannot pay for services which are payable by any workers' compensation plan, the Federal black lung program, or the Veterans Administration. Payment from these sources is considered payment in full and Medicare has no liability.

It's Cold Outside

Winter driving requires a little extra care on your part. Here are some tips that you may use:

- +Keep your gas tank on the full side so that you don't get condensation in the gas lines.
- +If you can, park your car out of the weather or where there is some shelter. A warmer car starts easier.
- +Clean your headlights regularly. A dirty lens can lose as much as 50 percent of its lighting capacity.
- +Accelerate slowly on snow, ice, or rainy road surfaces. Spinning wheels can cause havoc with your mind and can ruin your whole day.
- +Take an extra few minutes to arrive at your destination safely. And Use Your Safety Belt.

About Kangaroos

Watch out America's Cup hopefuls—the Australians may have a secret weapon—kangaroos! While kangaroos have long been regarded as "natural athletes" for their leaping and boxing abilities, they are also great swimmers. According to RANGER RICK magazine, kangaroos have been spotted swimming across rivers and even in the ocean! A "roo" swims with its head and back above water, pumping its strong hind legs one at a time. So that's what those Aussies have under their yacht this year!

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Following are representative questions answered daily by VA counselors. Full information is available at any VA office.)

Q-I am 72 years old and I receive a VA pension. Do I still have to make an annual report of income?

A-Yes, everyone receiving VA pension benefits, based on age or a nonservice-connected disability, must make an annual report of their income. Any change in income should be reported immediately so that adjustments can be made.

Q-I am currently eligible to receive benefits under Dependents Educational Assistance. If I enter the military may I use my benefits while on active duty?

A-No. VA benefits are not payable under this program while an eligible person is serving on active duty in the armed forces.

Q-I am a World War II veteran with a service-connected disability. Am I exempt from the new eligibility assessment procedures for VA health care?

A-Yes. Service-connected veterans have priority access to VA's medical services and are exempt from these procedures.

Q-I have questions about my recent Agent Orange examination. Whom should I talk to about my concerns.

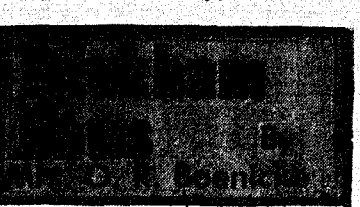

A-If you have any questions about your Agent Orange examination, contact the environmental physician at the VA medical center where you had the examination.

Another Christmas Season is here again. Doesn't it seem that Christmas comes a lot faster than it did years ago. Time is passing so fast we hardly get over a Christmas until another is here again. It doesn't seem possible that I have been writing the Whon Community News since June in 1941, and I have thanked each one so many times for their help to me and for all the nice things you have did for me and as I have said each year I could not do the work without each one, those who help with the news and those who take time out to read our county papers for all your help and a Merry Christmas to each and everyon.

OKLAUNION

STILL OUR BEST CHOICE!

WTU's new power station will soon be on line! The Oklaunion Power Station near Vernon, Texas, will be WTU's first coal-powered plant.

A coal-powered plant was our best option back in the 70's when WTU first began planning for a new power station. At that time a new federal law known as the Fuel Use Act prohibited the use of oil or gas as boiler fuel for new utility plants.

Coal is still our best choice, especially over the long haul. The unlimited supply of clean-burning coal means more stable fuel prices and a continued reliable supply of electric energy for WTU customers.
