City Council Meets

The Santa Anna City Council met on Thursday, April 9, 1987 at 7:00 p.m. at the Mountain City Community Center with all members present except for Mayor Joe Guerrero. Stanley Hartman, mayor pro-tem presided over the meeting. Minutes of last month's meetings were read and approved.

Rusty Wells, City Superintendent, gave a report to the council about the purchase of a water tank to make a water truck to wet down the streets as requested by Mayor Joe Guerrero at the last regular council meeting. The cost of just a water tank would be $750. The cost of a tank (100 gal.) with 50 foot of hose and boones on a trailer with a six month guarantee would cost the city $1250. The discussion to purchase a tank was postponed until the next council meeting.

Mr. Wells also stated that the garbage truck needed a new or rebuilt carburetor. The cost of a new one would be approx. $750 and a rebuilt one approx. $350 (these figures are from Rod's Auto Parts in Santa Anna). Councilman James Spillman suggested that the city check with Mahon Ford or another garage, other than the one where the truck was previously taken, to see if the carburetor could be adjusted or fixed, before purchasing a new or rebuilt one.

Councilwoman Susie Voss and Councilman Spillman discussed the Ordinance Workbook and suggested that the Council set up a workshop for the council to go over and set up the ordinances. This was postponed until the next council meeting.

Mr. E. A. Kelley approached the council wanting his money back for past sewer charges (for the past 16 years), as he has never been hooked up to the sewer. The council decided to suspend Mr. Kelley's sewer charge until documentation could be found stating that if a sewer tap is available, whether used or not, a sewer charge will be billed.

Mr. Loyd Taylor then questioned the council about his 2 two-month old puppies being picked up by the animal control officer. The puppies were inside a garage that had been boarded up so that they could not get out, meaning that the animal control officer went inside a fenced in area to pick up the two dogs. Mr. Taylor stated that he paid his $32 fine and picked up his dogs. He also stated that he was not trying to get any money from the city, he just wanted the council to be aware of what happened and to try to keep it from happening again or to anyone else. The council decided to investigate why this happened. The dog ordinance will also be published again in this issue of the paper.

Scott Patterson, President of the Chamber of Commerce asked that May 2 be deemed Funtier Day in Santa Anna. He also asked permission to block off the same street as last year for use during Funtier Day (2nd street between Ave B and Wallis Avenue).

Kathy Miller was next on the agenda to discuss the judges report and she asked to go into executive session for this discussion.

Craig Terry introduced Mr. Harold Casey from Brownwood who is interested in being on the reserve police force for Santa Anna. The council tabled this until the new council can decide.

The Council opened bids they had received on two vehicles one being a van and the other being a '72 Ford LTD. The City received one bid on the van from Mountaineer Plumbing Company for $140. The Council accepted this bid on the van. The City also received one bid on the '72 Ford LTD from Rusty Wells for $150. The Council accepted this bid also. Mr. Mike Makuta contested the acceptance of the bid from Mr. Rusty Wells as Mr. Wells is a City Employee. The Council stated that this had already been checked into and anyone could make a bid except council members.

The council then went into executive session. When they returned to open session accounts payable were approved for payment in the normal manner. It was discussed that all accounts payable records were open to the public at City Hall during regular working hours after each council meeting.

Burglars Busy Around Santa Anna

A burglar or burglars were busy two weeks ago around Santa Anna. Several buildings were broken into and considerable damage was done as well as some items and money being stolen on Thursday evening, April 2.

Seems they hit the First United Methodist Church, doing approximately $100 worth of damage breaking into the minister's office and two brass picture lights valued at approximately $50 each were taken from a chancelman in the annex. They also did some damage breaking into the Presbyterian manse (Sunday School building). An aluminum window screen was damaged during the break-in and $20 in cash and a $5 check were stolen. A storage area was also broken into at the Presbyterian Church doing approximately $10 worth of damage.

The High School building was also hit during this stealing spree. Entry was gained at the auditorium in the back of the high school. Once inside approximately $100 to $125 in money, candy, etc. was taken. The candy machine was broken into and all the candy was taken, as well as the money inside the office. The burglars then went to the Band Hall and took 29 compact discs valued at $36 each, two VCR tapes and a stereo light, coming to a total of approximately $600.

The thieves also broke into two post office boxes at the Santa Anna Post Office, costing the postal service approximately $20 to replace the two broken locks on the boxes. This matter has been turned over to the Postal Inspection Service.

Thoughts From Our Pastors

By Linwood Bishop
Minister of Northside Church of Christ

THE GOSPEL OF JESUS CHRIST

Just before he ascended back to heaven where he was crowned "King of kings and Lord of lords" and took his throne at the right hand of God the Father, Jesus gave the great commission to his chosen apostles. Mark records the great commission as follows, "Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned." (Mark 16:15-16). Then we are told in verse 20, "And they went forth and preached every where, the Lord working with them, and confirming the word with signs following." The Holy Spirit inspired Mark to record the fact that the apostles took this last commission of Jesus literally and seriously. We cannot afford to do less today. But, what does it mean to preach the gospel of Christ? A great deal more is comprehended than most people seem to realize.

Included in the gospel of Christ there are FACTS TO BE BELIEVED—the apostle Paul wrote, I Corinthians 15:1-4, "I declare unto you gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye have received, and wherein ye stand; By which also ye are saved, if ye keep in memory what I preached unto you.... I delivered unto you.... how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures; And that he was buried, and that he arose again the third day according to the scriptures." Now some seem to think this is all there is to the gospel, but there is more. In addition to the facts to be believed, there are commands to be obeyed, such as, (1) Faith or to believe in Jesus as the Son of God (John 8:21, 24), (2) Repentance (Luke 13:3; 5, Luke 34:46-47; Acts 2:38; Acts 17:30-31), (3) Confession of one's faith in Jesus Christ (Matthew 10: 32-33; Romans 10:9-10; Acts 8:35-37), (4) Baptism into Jesus Christ, for the remission of sins (Matthew 28:18-20; Mark 16:15-16; Acts 2:38; 22:16; Romans 6:1-5, 16-18), and finally (5) promises to be enjoyed, as those included in the passages already cited.

Dear friends, please read from your Bible and study all the scriptures cited here as well as other related passages in order that you may clearly see God's plan for salvation for your life.

AS I See It....

BY DON RUTHERFORD

As we celebrate Easter we often think only of that glorious Sunday as the whole story of Easter. Actually to see the full picture of Easter and its meaning to the Christian we need to look at Friday, Saturday and that Sunday.

Final or Frightful Friday would be a good way to describe that awful day Jesus died. That Friday actually began on Thursday night as Jesus had his final meal with His disciples. After this He went out into a garden to pray. It was here in the garden that Jesus was arrested and carried away to be falsely accused and go through a mock trial that was illegal in every sense of the word. This trial was before Pilate and Herod and back before Pilate again.

During the very early hours of that final Friday Jesus was beaten and made sport of by the soldiers. At last Pilate made that awful pronouncement that Jesus must die. Pilate became, in a sense, a victim himself as he fell away to mob influences.

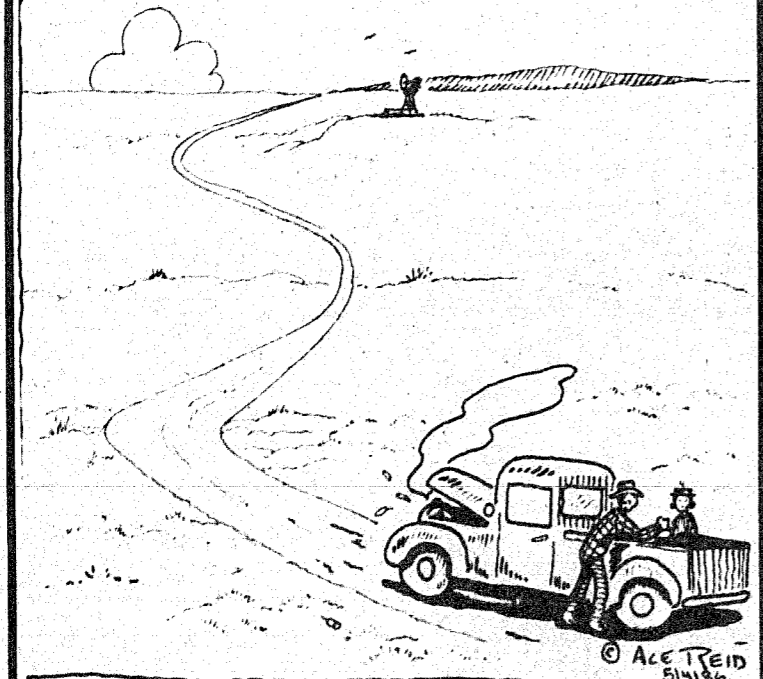

Sometime before nine in the morning of that final Friday Jesus was forced to take up His cross and make his way down the road of sorrows and on out of town to the execution spot. It was during this time, Jesus fell time and time again. It was simply because of the weight of the cross and His terrible physical condition after the beatings and scourging and being kept up all night during His trial.

A stranger is forced to take up His cross as Jesus fell still another time. Then they came to the hill of execution, or Golgotha which means the skull. Near by are two crosses that already have their victims attached. These two were to die that day for crimes against the state.

In the picture of Jesus being crucified we can see almost all human emotions: agony, love, grief, curiosity, indifference, hatred, doubt, remorse and even dawning faith. Jesus has now said His famous last seven words. The last one being, "into thy hands I commend my spirit," and with that Jesus leans His head back as in a peace and dies!

The deed is done, the final Friday has taken its victim. That frightful Friday has taken the life of Jesus and He is buried in a borrowed tomb. We now find ourselves in Silent Saturday. Dazzled with blinding sor-

Make Sure Easter Eggs Are "Good" Eggs

It's Easter time again. During the month of April, more than 190 million eggs will be sold in the U.S.—about 20 percent more than at any other time of year. The Texas Medical Association says it is important to know the best way to store eggs before and after they are cooked, and to know if an egg is safe to eat.

Here are some answers to some common questions about eggs:
 -How many minutes does it take to be certain an egg is hard-cooked? Fifteen minutes is the recommended time to make sure that the egg is cooked but not overcooked.
 -Is dyeing Easter eggs a hazardous tradition? There is no reason to worry about the safety of packaged dyes used to color eggs.
 -How long do eggs remain safe to eat after they have been hard-cooked and decorated? When you put eggs in the refrigerator after hard-cooking, they remain safe to eat for a week to 10 days. It is important, however, that the eggs be promptly refrigerated. Once an egg is cooked, its natural defenses against bacterial contamination break down. If left at room temperature, these bacteria can multiply and cause food poisoning.

-Are brown eggs more nutritious than white? It's common belief that brown-shelled eggs are more nutritious than white-shelled, but the only difference is that they are produced by different breeds of hens.
 -How should raw eggs be stored? It is best to store eggs in the covered containers in which they are bought because they readily lose moisture and absorb odors from other foods. For best taste and freshness, they should be used within five weeks after you bring them home.
 -How many eggs would you have to eat to reach the American Heart Association's recommended daily limit for cholesterol? One large egg has about 275 milligrams of cholesterol, which is just 25 milligrams shy of the 300-milligram daily limit. All the cholesterol is in the yolk, however, so people watching cholesterol intake can safely substitute two egg whites for a whole egg in casseroles and meat loaves.

VA News

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Following are representative questions answered daily by VA counselors. Full information is available at any VA office.)
 Q-I own a manufactured home on a rented lot. I would like to purchase a lot for it. Can I do this using the VA guaranteed loan program?
 A-Yes. A VA guaranteed loan may be used to buy and improve a lot on which to place a manufactured home you already own and occupy.
 Q-I heard that Congress passed a law authorizing special life insurance dividends for World War II veterans. I understand that veterans are entitled to this dividend even if they haven't kept their policies in force. Is this true?
 A-No. The VA does not pay dividends on lapsed insurance policies. An insurance loan that has plagued the VA since 1948 is refunded every few years by a distribution of "applications" that claim that Congress has authorized the dividends. There has been no such action nor is there any pending. Annual dividends on current GI insurance policies are paid by the VA to veterans who continue to pay premiums. Dividend payments are made automatically, usually on the anniversary date of the policy, and no application is needed.

The monthly session of Coleman County Tax Appraisal District Board was held Monday, April 13, at the Tax District office in Coleman. Barbara Kingsbery, chairman, led the meeting that was attended by Jake McCreary, Billie Wright and Lang C. Martin. Dwight Nanny was absent.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved, and bills and accounts for the month were reviewed and approved for payment.

Chief Appraiser Bill Jones reviewed the status of the budget and monthly reports.

A report of collections showed an average of 84 percent through April 1. This is one percent lower than the same time last year. Leading the collections were the City of Novice with 86 percent collections and City of Santa Anna with 85 percent.

Tax appraisals for the year have been completed, and the new tax roll is being printed. Information on taxable values will be available to the taxing entities early next month.

Mr. Jones reported that after protests, the Coleman County tax base was raised to more nearly comply with the state ratio study. Changes were made where needed to show that the county appraisals are within 76 percent of actual market values.

The first quarterly review of the 1987 budget was given, and preliminary study done on the 1988 Tax District budget that will be completed within a few months.

After other items of information, the meeting adjourned. The next session will be Monday, May 11, at 5:00 p.m. Visitors are welcome to attend any meetings of the group.

Mediterranean Sea Tide Is Turning

The tide is turning for the Mediterranean Sea. After serving as a dumpsite for decades, it's now coming clean. INTERNATIONAL WILDLIFE magazine reports that, under a multi-nation agreement, treatment plants have been built, and governments have cracked down on dumping of toxics by ships, planes and industries. The latest agreement calls for national governments to create protected areas for some 500 threatened wildlife species.

Yellow-bellied Sea Snake

The yellow-bellied sea snake is the only reptile in the world that spends its whole life in water, according to RANGER RICK magazine. These sea snakes are so suited to water that if they wash up on shore, they can't even crawl!

Stephanie Turner, 4-year old daughter of news editor Danna Turner, stands beside one of several oak trees that were recently placed around the new administrative-Junior High building at the local school.

The trees were given to the school by Armando Mata, whose sons, Paul and Armando, performed the task of planting the trees. Paul is a junior at Santa Anna High School and Armando is an 8th grade student.

School officials are grateful for the gift of the trees which will be enjoyed by many for years to come, and express their appreciation to Armando Mata and Sons. (News Photo by Polly Warnock)

MANAGING YOUR MONEY

CARS AND CREDIT

What you do before you shop for a car can have a big effect on how much you have to pay after you find it, experts advise.

For instance, points out the Credit Union National Association, there's one car financing strategy that considerably improves your chances of getting a good car price. It's now new, it's not fancy and it's not a gimmick. Your object is to arrange financing before you shop for the car. That way, you can walk into a showroom and negotiate the best price by dealing in cash. You maintain your bargaining position and save money, both on the cost of the car and on your loan.

Understand that you pay one way or another for the discounted rate on special offers. It may be on the total cost of the car, on options or on such charges as dealer preparation, additional dealer markup

You may be able to pay less than you think for a new car. (ADP), "availability" charges or a combination.

By offering cash, you often can get a better car, a lower price, more options or all three. Say you're looking at an $11,000 car and dealer financing of 7 percent. Assume you can get a four-year credit union auto loan at 12 percent. You can still come out ahead. A discount on the purchase price of only 9.1 percent, or $1,001 will equalize the financing. In addition, you will save money on sales tax when you reduce the price of the car by bargaining.

Another way to plan ahead is to start putting money away for the down payment in advance. That way you can finance less of the car and save on interest paid.

These suggestions can help you drive down the cost of driving a new car.

Sanitation For Farm Workers

AUSTIN - The availability of toilets for both men and women; an adequate supply of clean water for drinking, for first aid, and for washing up; and a place to have lunch out of the sun are hardly luxuries to most working people. But to farm workers in some states, these basic amenities are sometimes nonexistent.

In Texas, though, the Texas Department of Health has established minimum sanitation standards to protect farm workers from the spread of disease and infections.

These comprehensive standards, much the same as federal regulations for industry and other businesses employing large work forces, are under consideration at the U.S. Department of Labor for application nationwide.

A federal court recently ruled that the U.S. Occupational Safety and Health Administration, or OSHA, should guarantee farm workers sanitary protections similar to those for workers in other industries. The court cited OSHA's failure to extend such standards to farm workers nationwide as "a disgraceful chapter in legal neglect."

The Texas standards have been effective since 1983 and are enforced through on-site inspections of farm field facilities by local health departments and TDH regional personnel.

According to Troy Lowry of TDH's General Sanitation Division, inspectors investigate an average of six or seven complaints by workers each month, primarily in the Rio Grande Valley, where agriculture is concentrated.

Briefly, the regulations apply to employers of more than six persons at "temporary work places" such as fields or orchards. The employers must supply sanitary toilet facilities for both men and women within a quarter-mile or five-minute walking distance of the work area for each 30 employees in the field.

Besides toilet facilities, there must be a clean water supply for washing hands and at least two quarts drinking water per person per day, kept at no higher than 80 degrees Fahrenheit. Also, if no natural shade is available, artificial shade must be provided for rest and lunch breaks.

Employers who are uncertain whether they are in compliance with the minimum standards should contact their local health departments for information or may write to TDH for a copy of the regulations, Lowry said. He added that nationwide guidelines to be issued by OSHA will supersede state regulations.

Inquiries should be addressed to Texas Department of Health, General Sanitation Division, 1100 West 49th Street, Austin, Texas 78756.

Public Prefers Use of Air Bags

A new survey conducted by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) revealed that 60 percent of all respondents had never heard of automatic safety belts. Conversely, over 90 percent had heard of air bags.

The survey asked if they would prefer a rental car equipped with manual seat belts and air bags, compared to a car equipped with automatic safety belts, or manual belts. Fifty percent said they would prefer the car with air bags, compared with 37 percent who said they prefer manual belts and 13 percent who said they want automatic seat belts.

Birds of a Feather Stick Together

Birds of a feather stick together for a good reason. According to NATIONAL WILDLIFE magazine, cliff swallows nest in large colonies in order to share information about locating food. The birds feed on swarms of insects that are temporarily sucked up into the air by convection currents. By following individuals that have located a swarm, colony members are more successful in finding food than if they foraged alone.

Chameleons Provide Clues To Origin Of Caribbean Islands

American chameleons are providing clues to the origin of the Caribbean islands. According to NATIONAL WILDLIFE magazine, these tropical lizards have been around since the first islands were formed. By studying the tiny creatures, scientists have concluded that many of the islands are far older than previously thought, dating back as far as 100 million years. They also believe the lizards weren't washed ashore from elsewhere, as has been suggested, but were descended from common ancestors that were present when the islands spread apart from larger land masses.

We are sorry to report Mr. Darwin Lovelady was a patient in the Brownwood Regional Hospital for several days and was a surgical patient. We are so glad to report Darwin was dismissed from the hospital Monday and is at home in Santa Anna; he will be in clost contact with his doctors and in hopes he will not have to have more surgery later. He is doing well, only he is weak. He was visited by friends and relatives while a patient and so thankful to be home. Mrs. Lovelady was with her son, Mr. and Mrs. Randel Lovelady and girls and also with Mrs. Doris Stearns when she was not at the hospital with Mr. Lovelady. My daughter, Mrs. Bob Smith came this Monday afternoon to be with me a few days. My son, Loyd came over for a visit Monday night. Mrs. Smith will probably return to Laredo before too long; she has been in her home at Abilene for a while.

I enjoyed a nice visit with Mr. and Mrs. Gene and Catherine Watts in the home of Mr. Loyd Rutherford Thursday afternoon. Loyd Rutherford enjoyed supper with the Watts Thursday night in the home of the late Mr. and Mrs. Cooter Fellers. The Watts live in the Fort Worth area.

Seems the "weatherman" is still giving us surprises; Sunday afternoon was a very warm day, then a norther blew in during Sunday night and Monday the wind has been rather cool from the north.

Thanks for your news. Will be looking forward to being with you this time next week. If you have guests in your home or visit remember "that is news."
