Lake Sealy Full; Santana Almost

IT HAS BEEN A LONG TIME SINCE many Santa Anna residents can remember the two Santa Anna lakes being as full as they are at this time. Lake Santana (the south lake) is 8 ft short of the spillway. Fishermen from as far away as Abilene have been coming to fish at the lakes since the water level has risen.

Sealy Lake (north lake) IS FULL and ran over the spillway during the recent heavy rains. According to City water pumper Tommy Blanton, the City is now pumping it's water from the lakes and will continue to do so until another hot dry spell hits. Fishing activity has picked up and according to one fisherman, crappie, bass and channel catfish have been the catches.

Bull is Mutilated in Burkett Area

A re-occurrence of cattle mutilation in Coleman County on Monday of last week has aroused suspicion that cults may be involved in the action, according to Coleman County Sheriff, H.F. Fenton.

Last week's occurrence took place south of Burkett, on the Vernon Boyles Ranch, where a mature bull was mutilated. Although officers could not determine the exact cause of death, the bull's sex organs had been removed, leading the law officers to believe that some type cult was involved.

"There have been about six of these cases here," said Fenton, "with the last one occurring in 1985." Many reports of such cattle mutilation have appeared throughout the United States.

"The investigation here is still in progress, but there is little to go on," said Fenton, who requests that everyone in rural areas be alert to any suspicious situations; reporting any activity to their local sheriff's department.

Best decorated bicycles will be awarded $10 for 1st place, $8 for 2nd, $6 for 3rd, $4 for 4th, and $2 for 5th place.

Anyone wishing to enter the parade should contact Coleman Chamber of Commerce by July 7.

Reminders From Police Officers

We are reminded by our police department that it is against the law to use shoot off fireworks within the city limits.

Bicycle riders are reminded to have lights and reflectors when riding their bikes after dark. The law reads (A) Every bicycle when in use at nighttime shall be equipped with a lamp on the front which shall emit a white light visible from a distance of at least five hundred (500) feet to the front and with a red reflector on the rear of the type approved by the Department which shall be visible from all distances from fifty (50) feet to three hundred (300) feet to the rear when directly in front of lawful upper beams of head lamps of a motor vehicle. A Lamp emitting a red light visible from a distance of five hundred (500) feet to the rear may be used in addition to the red reflector.

(B) Every bicycle shall be equipped with a brake which will enable the operator to make the braked wheels skid on dry, level, clean pavement.

It has been observed that many youngsters are out riding their bikes at night without the proper lighting and this can be very dangerous. Parents are cautioned to warn their children of the dangers and to see that the proper lighting is afforded them.

Quail Dobbs On Tap For Library Program

One of the most popular personalities on the rodeo circuit, Quail Dobbs, will visit the Library reading club for next week's meeting at the Telephone Cooperative building

Thursday July 9th. The program is planned for 9:30 a.m..

Quail Dobbs is a clown and a barrel man and has a number of specialties.

Dobbs has been in the rodeo business as a clown, bullfighter and barrel man since the early 1960's. For the past several years, he has left the cowboy-saving chores in the bull riding event to the young bullfighters.

Quail holds the distinction of being one of two men to ever work the National Finals Rodeo as a bullfighter and as a barrel man. He holds honorary memberships in a number of rodeo related groups, including the Coleman Rodeo Association. He has been named Rodeo Clown of the year by the P.R.C.A.

Aside from his rodeo appearances and appearing in the rodeo parade, Quail devotes time to the young people. Last year he put on a program for a large number of youngsters at the Coleman Public Library.

Local children are encouraged to be present for this interesting and fun program.

Dobbs will be participating in Coleman Rodeo to be held next week.

Letter to The Editor

Dear Editor,
This is directed to the person or persons who dumped a pickup load of trash out on a country road. This trash will wash across the road and into a stock tank when the next big rain comes.
I simply can not understand a person so inconsiderate of the other person to say nothing of the ugly sight of trash around in the country. No Wonder Americans are considered the worst litter bugs in the world.
It is too bad such litter bugs can't be caught and assessed a heavy penalty.

Thoughts From Our Pastors

By Anthony Thibodeaux, Minister
First Christian Church

The great need of the day is for the church, God's children to take a timely step in a movement to restore an interest in a proclamation of faith in the Bible as the inspired Word of God. And being able to divide it rightly.
We can rejoice in the faith and conviction of many American leaders of past generations. Our beloved and first President, George Washington said, "It is impossible to rightly govern the world without God and the Bible." We also recall the words of Abraham Lincoln, when he said, "I believe the Bible is the best gift ever given to man. All the good from the Saviour of the world is communicated through this book."
As we consider the subject of rightly dividing the Word of Truth, we cannot but remember the admonition of the Apostle Paul to his young son in the faith, a young preacher, Timothy when he said, "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the Word of Truth." (2 Timothy 2:15). It must be our constant study and purpose to be approved of the Almighty God. As Dr. Goodspeed translates it, "Do your best to win God's approval."
We must be honest and sincere in this endeavor. Unskilled workmen, or unfaithful workmen, or lazy workmen have need to be ashamed. The Apostle Paul says that our task is to "rightly divide the Word of Truth". Our business is not to invent a new gospel, or some new scheme of redemption, but rather we are to study rightly that which has been committed to our trust.
Bible study is extremely interesting to those who love God. A Young lady once laid down a book which she had read saying, "It is the dullest book I ever read". Then some time later she fell in love and became engaged to a young man, to whom she said one night, "I have a book whose author's name is the same as yours; isn't that a coincidence?" An he answered, "No coincidence, I wrote the book". That night the girl read the book once more. This time the book was very interesting. WHY? Because she knew and loved the author. When we love the Lord we will delight in His Word.

If you find more pleasure in Reading your Sunday paper than your Bible, there is something wrong with your heart. We do not ignore a message from one we love, and the Bible has a message of love for you.

The whole Bible is built around this beautiful story of the Christ and His promise of life eternal to every one who accept Him. The Bible was written that men might believe, understand, and know and love, and follow Christ. Jesus Christ is the center and the heart of the Bible. He is the center and the heart of our lives. Our eternal destiny is in His hand. Our acceptance or rejection of him determines for each of us, eternal glory or eternal doom; one or the other.

Every Christian ought to be a Bible reader. It is the one habit, if done in the right spirit, will make a Christian what he ought to be in every way. The best and greatest thing any church could do would be set itself to ENTHRONE GOD'S WORD IN THE LIVES OF ITS PEOPLE.

40 Persons Expected To Die In Traffic Accidents During 4th of July Holiday

AUSTIN--The Department of Public Safety estimates that 40 persons will die in traffic accidents in the state during the upcoming Fourth of July holiday period.

For counting purposes, the National Safety Council has designated the 78-hour period from 6 p.m. Thursday, July 2 through midnight Sunday, July 5, as the holiday period.

Last year, during the Fourth of July period, 41 persons were killed in Texas traffic accidents, with four others subsequently dying of injuries suffered during the time frame.

"Even through the 1986 and 1987 holiday periods are the same length, we're hopeful that fewer persons will die this year, in keeping with the steady decline in traffic deaths we have been observing in recent years," said Col. Leo Gossett, director of the DPS.

Though the number of holiday vehicle deaths varies from year to year, the causes of fatal accidents do not.

"Last year, slightly more than 6 out of 10 traffic fatalities resulted from accidents in which either speed or driving while intoxicated were listed as contributing factors," Gossett said. "The message is clear--high speed or driving under the influence of alcohol, and often combination of both, can kill motorists. It's also very important to remember to wear that safety belt and make sure very young children are in child safety seats."

As in past years, the DPS will conduct its Operation Motorcade program during the Fourth of July period, with periodic reports on the number of traffic deaths occurring during the 78-hour counting period.

Additionally, as part of Operation Holiday, DPS Highway Patrol commanders will be assigning added personnel to patrol the state's highways during the period.

Fannie's Funnies

By Fannie Gilbert
 BETTER DAYS

I've heard people complaining about the time when they were poor. They say they remember when they needed a new hinge on the outhouse door.

They didn't have modern plumbing; they drew water from a well.

And I smiled as I listened to the sad stories they would tell.

For they were rich compared to us, and old memories flooded my mind.

We didn't have an outhouse, only a tree to get behind, and when the cold winds would blow and the cold rains started to fall.

You can bet your boots that the time Mother Nature decided to call, And when I'd get back to the house frozen from my toes to my head,

I'd find there was a new leak above my bed.

With very little money and wild rabbits for my meal, also being a long way from town, we seldom had enough food to eat.

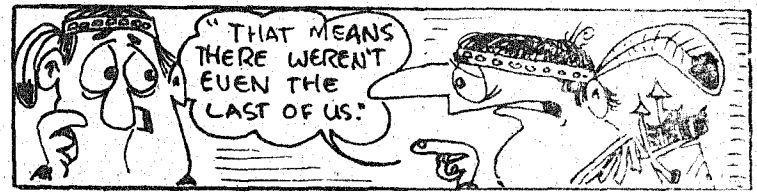

Now when someone starts complaining and I hear them say things can't always be this bad, there's got to be a better day.

I just smile and remember when I had to go behind that tree and no matter how bad things get, I know these are better days for me.

Frank Mills: West Texas Lawman

(Editors Note—For the next few weeks we will be running a series of articles from a book written by Billy Mills, son of the late Frank Mills. Billy Mills has been sheriff at Ozona for over thirty years and writes of his father who was a sheriff of Coleman County. The book has been loaned to us by Ray Owens.)

The Old West had its share of colorful figures, both lawmen and desperadoes. Pat Garrett, Wild Bill Hickok, and Wyatt Earp are well-known lawmen and gunmen to most students of history. However, West Texas can lay claim to a twentieth century peace officer who was just as courageous, just as loyal, and just as well-known in the law ranks as the Old West characters mentioned. Frank Mills was such a man—a man who dedicated his adult life to serving his fellow man in preserving law and order; a man who had a colorful career as a Texas Ranger, county sheriff, chief of police, and special investigator. This man was involved in many sensational cases during his years as a lawman. Though most of the cases involved important lesser known criminals and crimes, he was indirectly involved in cases dealing with such criminals as George (Machine Gun) Kelly and Bonnie Barker and Clyde Barrow.

It is not the purpose of this paper to trace Frank Mill's life completely, but rather, to focus our attention on Mr. Mills' career as the sheriff of Coleman County.

Frank Mills began his career as a lawman in 1920 when he joined the Texas Rangers in Presidio where he was stationed until 1928 at which time he became sheriff of Coleman County. It was during this time (1928-1937) that Mr Mills gained such an outstanding reputation as a law officer.

With the following statement Frank Mills launched his campaign for sheriff of Coleman County:

"In placing my announcement for the office of sheriff of Coleman County before you, I wish to state that I have no special promises to make except service if elected. I was born and raised in Mills County, Texas, came to these parts ten years ago and have made this my home ever since. During this time I have served on the State Ranger force under Capt. Jerry Gray, Capt. BAuldin and others stationed mostly on the Mexican border. I know the duties of a sheriff and feel capable of filling them to the satisfaction of the law abiding public. The only promises I care to make is, if elected, I will do my best to see that the law is enforced without fear or favor, and all violators are brought to justice. I earnestly solicit your support and influence during the present campaign, and assure you the same will be appreciated. For your further information I am 34 years of age. a farmer by reason of being reared on a farm and a peace officer by profession and desire to have our country freed from violators of the law. Againsurring you of my appreciation of your friendly and favorable consideration, I am,

Yours truly,
Frank Mills"

In the ensuing election Mills won by a wide majority over his opponents. On January 1, 1929, he was bonded for $5,000 by Southern Surety Company of New York. Thus, with a lot of confidence, enthusiasm, and a salary of $83.33 per month plus fees, Frank Mills began the first of several terms as sheriff of Coleman County.

One of Mr. Mills' first important assignments came in delivering O.C. Wells to the State Penitentiary at Huntsville. Wells was sentenced to die for the murder of J.A. Mitchell, Prominent Coleman grocer. The deed was committed on the night of February 27, 1927, at Mitchell's store on South Commercial Avenue. Wess was tried in district court of Coleman County and sentenced to death by a jury on October 21, 1927. He was sentenced to the penitentiary to serve a sentence from Taylor County pending appeal of his case in Coleman. During this interim he made his escape from Huntsville but was captured by a Negro Squire hunter.

Though Wells was granted two reprieves from Governor Dan Moody, his appeal was turned down. Wells' death warrant tells of his own fate and the first of many duties for Sheriff Mills in a series of murder cases of which he would play an important role.

...It is the order of the court that the defendant O.C. Wells who has been found guilty of murder and whose punishment has been assessed by the verdict of the jury at death, shall at any time before the hour of sunrise on Friday, the 31st day of May, A.D., 1929 in the penitentiary of the State of Texas at Huntsville, Walker County, Texas, be put to death by causing to pass through the body of the said O.C. Wells..

....The said O.C. Wells is hereby remanded to the sheriff of Coleman County, Texas, who is ordered immediately on receipt of the death warrant in this case to deliver the said O.C. Wells into the hands of the warden of the State Penitentiary at Huntsville, Walker County, Texas, to await the execution of this sentence....

The Coleman Democrat-Voice on June 20, 1929, said:

O.C. Wells, convicted...for the killing of J.A. Mitchell of this city in the night of January 27, 1927, paid the penalty in the death chamber of the Huntsville prison today, Thursday at 12.27 a.m.

Frank Mills had thus closed the doors on the first of eight murder cases in Coleman County during his tenure of office.

AARP Taking Volunteers

DALLAS - The American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) is currently accepting applications from volunteers interested in helping the elderly with their income tax in 1988 through a Tax-Aide Program co-sponsored by the Internal Revenue Service.

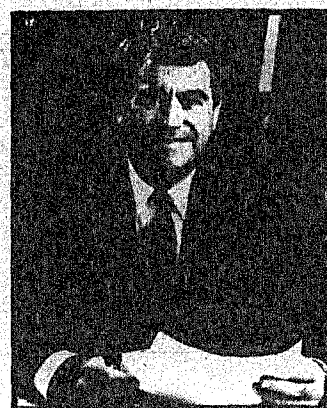

Each year the IRS trains thousands of volunteer tax counselors who later spend about four hours per week providing free income tax preparation assistance to older adults in their community at sites such as libraries, churches and seniors centers from Feb. 1-April 15.

Volunteers of all ages perform this service, and AARP membership is not required. Last year, 1.3 million persons were helped.

AARP also offers a variety of educational and advocacy programs for older workers, who make up one-fourth of AARP's membership.

"Gentle" Exercise Good For All Ages

Here's good news on how the "gentle" sports: walking, fishing and bicycling may help you to feel better and be healthier. These gentle sports are the most popular activities among those 55 and older. In 1985, over 40 million Americans described themselves as exercise walkers.

Membership Campgrounds May Promise More Than They Deliver

Camping with the family can be a lot of fun, especially if you can find a pleasant location. Many people have chosen to take their vacations in recreational vehicles and Texas has lots of parks and other areas for these, too. If you are a camper or an RV owner, you may have been solicited to join a "membership campground."

salesperson to put all the promises in writing.

Too many consumers have believed that they would soon be riding horses and swimming in Olympic-size pools, only to be disappointed as the months drag on and no such amenities appeared.

Does the salesperson say or imply that you will be making a good investment? Some sellers will tell prospective customers that resort memberships now selling for $7,000 sold for only $5,000 a few months ago, for example. If you check with people who purchased earlier, you'll usually find that the sales price actually hasn't changed at all. However, by getting you to believe that the price has already gone up, it's easier to make you believe it will go up even more in the future.

As in timesharing, the salesperson may try to win you over by promising that you can go camping in hundreds of other locations nationwide and may even promise special rates abroad. Be skeptical. Popular campgrounds and resorts fill up quickly and often have long waiting periods. Don't join a resort just for the privilege of exchanging for another.

If the salesperson promises to help in reselling your membership, make sure that promise is in writing, too. And, as always, remember that any deal that's good TODAY ONLY should be avoided.

FOR MORE HELP

If you need more help or information on this or other consumer problems, contact your nearest Attorney General Consumer Protection Office (in Austin, Dallas, El Paso, Houston, Lubbock, McAllen and San Antonio). The Attorney General's Office is the people's law firm. We're here to help you.

WHY PEOPLE JOIN

Those who buy into these private campgrounds don't acquire ownership interest in land. Instead, they pay charges for the right to camp at certain private locations for a specified number of years. Many of the member families say they joined because they were tired of crowded and unfriendly public parks. Others say they joined because of the amenities offered, such as tennis courts and showers.

HIGH-PRESSURE TACTICS

Like the timeshare industry, the membership campground industry has been plagued by overly aggressive salesmen who make big promises they cannot fulfill. These campgrounds also frequently use the lure of expensive prizes, such as cars and boats, in order to get consumers to listen to their high-pressure pitch.

WHAT TO WATCH OUT FOR

If you do end up listening to the sales pitch for a membership campground (often called a ranch or resort by the promoters), here are some things you should look out for:

Does the salesperson offer you lots of amenities, such as stables, clubhouses or swimming pools, with the promise that those will be built in the near future? If so, ask for a construction timetable and ask the

THERE WAS A LARGE GROUP ON HAND FOR LUNCH Sunday at the Buffalo School and Community reunion held at the Community Center in Santa Anna. There were 130 persons who registered for the event. The reunion has been held annually since it was organized in 1980. People travel from all over the United States each year to be present for the gathering. One of the highlights of this year's meeting was the presentation of a metal sculpture of a buffalo to the organization, given by Sybil Gilliam Nichols of Casper, Wyoming, who is a member of the group and one of the persons instrumental in organizing the group.

TIPS ON TRIPS
Travelling abroad can be an exciting experience as you enjoy a new culture and explore new sites. However, if you break the law in a foreign country, it can ruin more than your vacation—it can ruin your life. The U.S. Dept. of State warns you that carrying an American passport won't prevent you from being arrested overseas if you break the local law. An American consular officer can't simply come and get you out of jail or pay your legal fees. All he or she can do is visit you. Give your passport to your embassy, and notify your family.

Heart Association To Hold Meeting

AUSTIN - "A Pledge for Progress" is the theme of the American Heart Association, Texas Affiliate's 52nd annual membership meeting July 10-12 in Dallas.

Over 200 volunteer leaders serving as delegates, officers and board members from across the state will gather to review the policies and goals for the coming year and to elect officers and directors for 1987-88.

A leadership conference will be held Friday, July 10 to help volunteers sharpen leadership skills as officers, directors and chairmen on the local level. Participants will learn how to conduct successful fundraising activities, market AHA community service programs and inform the public of AHA activities.

Truck Registrations Improved

AUSTIN - New truck registrations in March increased 2.6 percent over the same month in 1986, indicating an upswing in the new vehicle market, according to the Texas Automobile Dealers Association.

Factory-sponsored incentive programs and a soft Texas economy the past several months have resulted in drops in new car and truck registrations. The increase in new truck registrations - specifically in the registrations of new Dodge and Ford pickups and Chrysler minivans - supported economic forecasters' predictions of an improving Texas economy.

March new truck registrations were 27,440, 717 units more than the 26,723 new trucks registered in March 1986. Year-to-date new truck registrations were 74,460 units, compared to 94,383 registered during the first three months of 1986.

New car registrations were down 11.9 percent, but the decline was much less than the drop recorded in previous months. Texas registered 38,598 new cars in March and 116,528 new cars during the first three months of this year.

In 1986, Texas registered 43,831 new cars in March and 154,961 new cars during the first three months.

4th of July Safety Tips

WARNING--Fourth of July Holiday fireworks are dangerous to your eyes. It is estimated that 4,000 people will suffer eye injuries, with 1,000 of these resulting in permanent vision loss, according to the American Academy of Ophthalmology.

"Bottle rockets are responsible for more than half of these injuries," says Richard D. Cunningham, M.D.,

Director of the Division of Ophthalmology at Scott and White in Temple, and professor at Texas A&M University College of Medicine.

"I cannot describe the tragic feeling when we have to remove eyes from children or adults and know the injury was preventable. Wearing protective goggles or glasses will prevent most eye injuries," notes Dr. Cunningham.

He emphasizes that children should never be allowed to handle or ignite explosive fireworks.

The most frequently injured person is a ten-year-old boy setting off bottle rockets, according to a three-state fireworks injury survey in Arkansas, Georgia, and West Virginia.

Nationwide, more than half the states have adopted a model law which limits the use of fireworks to licensed displays or relatively safe fireworks such as sparklers. The three-state study indicated that there were ten times more fireworks injuries where no model law was in effect.

Another recent fireworks eye injury survey, being conducted by the American Academy of Ophthalmology, is designed to gain comprehensive information on eye injuries caused by fireworks.

More than 11,600 ophthalmologists in the United States are being asked to participate by reporting how many injuries occur, the severity of injury and the type of fireworks involved.

SOME TIPS FOR AVOIDING EYE INJURIES DURING 4TH OF JULY HOLIDAY:

+Always wear safety goggles or glasses when setting off fireworks.
+Only adults should handle or ignite fireworks.

+Adults should be present to supervise children during the use of relatively safe fireworks such as sparklers.

+Do not put fireworks in a bottle or tin can, or under a clay pot. When such objects shatter, the fragments are often propelled into the eye, causing serious eye injury.

IN CASE OF EYE INJURY:
+Immediately rush child or adult to a hospital emergency room for treatment.

+Never press, rub, or touch the eye.

Summer Clothing Features Wrinkles

COLLEGE STATION - The new summer fashions are out in local stores, and the comfortable, casual look is "in."

According to Dr. Ann Beard of the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service, the trend this summer is toward denims, khaki and other casual fabrics. Beard said the "wrinkled" look is also back.

noon to visit Mrs. Tavy Ford.

Mrs. I.E. Hartman and Winnie Blanscett of Midland and Ruby visited Wednesday with Velda Mills. Doug and Doris Penny of Robert Lee visited. Candi Daniels visited a couple of times the past week. Mrs. Crump of Coleman, Garland DePrang of Olton also visited. Pete and Ina Moore dropped by for a few minutes Sunday.

Dutch Campbell visited the C.E. Wises Sunday. Also the Smiley Suduths of Eldorado visited Monday. Cathy Ellis helped to direct vacation Bible school sponsored by the First Methodist Church and the Presbyterian Church.

Barbara Henderson and children of Bangs visited Sunday evening with the Junior Hendersons. Bill Henderson visited the Junior Hendersons a while. He is from Richardson. The C.C. Goulds visited Sunday.

Mrs. Winnie Haynes went to the Dana Evans family home Saturday and spent the night. The Doyle Evans went for her Sunday. Mary Neal Jennings and Cathy visited Winnie Friday evening.

Carmoleta Brandstetter of Brownwood is in a Fort Worth hospital and will have surgery some time this week. I talked with Carrie Cupps Monday morning at Bangs. Carmoleta is Carrie's daughter.

Lois HAVner of Bangs has been up to visit her mother Lora Russell. Lora went up Thursday and got her sister Mattie and Walker Stovall Thursday. They spent the night. Lora took them home Friday afternoon back to Coleman.

Be cheerful. Of all the things you wear, your expression is the most important.

Hope all of you have a nice weekend.

Wrinkles aren't found only in cotton and cotton blends this summer, she said, but are also showing up in silky-looking clothing. These wrinkles are heat set into the fabric so they won't come out after washing. Wrinkles make garments easy to care for, and cooler since less fabric touches the skin.

Puckered seersucker is coming into vogue and is popular for many of the same reasons as the "wrinkled" look.

Denim is showing up everywhere this summer, Beard said. "It's no longer a fabric just for jeans, and it isn't being restricted to its traditional colors. The soft, washed look seems to be very popular, but some of the stronger colors are being worn more often," she claimed.

Color combinations are also changing. Summer fashions will bring olive and khaki together as well as olive and peach. These combinations are enhanced by the primitive-looking prints that are part of the new trend, the specialist said.

The hip slimming effect of shoulder pads also is featured in summer fashions, and the oversized look is still popular though the sizes aren't as exaggerated as in the past, she added.

According to Beard, boutique prints will always be fashionable, but this summer the primitive look is what's selling.

So be prepared for cool, comfortable summer fashions and give the iron a rest - unless, of course, wrinkles weren't intended by the manufacturer.

A Better Way To Save?

All too often, a large percentage of the interest you receive on your hard-earned savings winds up in the hands of the tax collector. Many large savers avoid this loss by investing in tax-free municipal bonds. But for the small investor, high sales charges and poor liquidity make municipal bonds less than ideal investment vehicles.

An alternative that's popular with many New York residents is a triple-tax exempt mutual fund called The New York Muni Fund, as seen in a recent Reader's Digest ad. It's a mutual fund providing income that is free from federal, New York State and New York City income taxes. Your money is invested in carefully selected investment-grade bonds rated creditworthy by Moody's and Standard & Poor's. It's a no-loan fund, meaning there is never a charge when you buy shares nor a penalty for withdrawal. You can find out more about the Fund by calling toll-free: 1-800-528-6050 (ext.1516).

The harvest is on and The Emporium's Produce Department is chock full of sun-ripened fruits and vegetables. Now is the time to can and freeze fresh vegetables to enjoy next winter. Now is the time to make jams and jellies and preserves from our abundant supply of plump, sweet fruits. C'mon in today and take home part of the harvest!

EMPORIUM RECIPE CANNED PLUMS

Wash the plums, cut them in half, and remove the pits, or prick the skins and use them whole. Heat to the boiling point in medium or heavy syrup. Pack in clean, hot jars and cover with boiling syrup, leaving 1/4 inch headspace. Close the jars and process in a boiling-water bath, allowing 20 minutes for pint jars and 25 minutes for quarts.

Sugar Syrup: Each quart of fruit requires from 1 to 1 1/4 cups of sugar syrup. Sugar syrup is made by cooking sugar in water or fruit juice until it dissolves. Use the following proportions:
Light Syrup: 2 cups sugar to 4 cups water = 5 cups syrup
Medium Syrup: 3 cups sugar to 4 cups water = 5 1/2 cups syrup
Heavy Syrup: 4 1/2 cups sugar to 4 cups water = 6 1/2 cups syrup (Allow 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 pounds to reach quart jar)

EMPORIUM RECIPE BAKED TUNA STEAKS WITH BACON

4 thick tuna steaks
8 strips lean bacon
2 green onions, minced
1/2 cup dry white wine

Generous milling of pepper
1 teaspoon paprika
1 Tablespoon minced parsley

Fry bacon until half cooked. Remove 4 strips and set them aside. Cook remaining bacon until crisp, drain on toweling, and reserve. Discard all but 2 tablespoons bacon fat; in it saute green onions until soft. Remove from heat and stir in wine.

Preheat the oven to 425°F. Wrap each tuna steak in a slice of half-cooked bacon and secure it with a wooden cocktail pick. Sprinkle generously with pepper, and with paprika. Arrange steaks in a single layer in a buttered baking dish or casserole. Heat wine-onion mixture to a boil and pour it over the steaks. Scatter in crumbled crisp bacon, cover with lid or foil, and bake for 10 minutes per inch thickness of fish. Remove cocktail picks, sprinkle with parsley, and serve.
