New State Taxes To Begin Oct. 1

AUSTIN - State Comptroller Bob Bullock said last week that many new services will become taxable on October 1, when the state's sales tax rate increases from 5 1/4 percent to 6 percent.

The tax change will not only hit items which are now currently taxed, but a number of newly-taxable items and services as well, Bullock said.

The expanded sales tax was a major element of a $5.7 billion tax bill approved by the legislature this past summer.

October 1 is also the effective date of an increase in taxes on cigarettes, going up from 20.5 cents a pack to 26 cents a pack.

The legislature extended the sales tax to several broad categories of services such as real property services, including landscaping, janitorial, garbage collection and pest control; security services, including private investigators and armored car services; information furnished by credit bureaus; and debt services, such as adjustments and repossessions.

It will also include information services like financial research, and specialized information and insurance services including damage appraisals, investigations and claims adjustments, but not premiums paid for insurance.

The expanded tax base is expected to add more than 64,000 Texas businesses to the state's tax rolls, joining the more than 420,000 merchants and businesses already collecting state taxes.

Newly taxable items include custom computer programs, labor on installations to tangible property, some transportation charges on the sale of goods, telephone service and membership and dues to private clubs.

Businesses need to reprogram cash registers and alert workers and staff of the new rate taking effect October 1, Bullock said. There is no increase in the one-percent local option tax collected in some areas of Texas.

A fee for getting a sales tax permit and an increase in the state's motor vehicle sales and hotel-motel room taxes went into effect on September 1.

A rollback in the state's motor fuels tax from 15 cents to 10 cents a gallon was also cancelled on September 1.

Starting Jan. 1, 1988, the sales tax will be further extended to data processing services, including word processing, data entry, retrieval and search as well as payroll and business accounting, data production, time sharing and computer management.

Taxes will also be due on repair and remodeling services, except on new construction and owner-occupied residences, starting Jan. 1, 1988.

Coleman County Law Enforcement Is Investigating Chain Scheme

The County Attorney's Office has been notified by the local Sheriff's office of reports of an illegal chain scheme being conducted in Coleman County.

Section 32.48 of the Texas Penal Code which makes chain schemes illegal is shown in its entirety below.

§32.48 ENDLESS CHAIN SCHEME
(a) For the purposes of this section: (1) "Endless chain" means any scheme for the disposal or distribution of property whereby a participant pays a valuable consideration for the chance to receive compensation for introducing one or more additional persons into participation in the scheme or for the chance to receive compensation when a person introduced by the participant introduces a new participant.

(2) "Compensation" does not mean or include payment based on sales made to persons who are not participants in the scheme and who are not purchasing in order to participate in the scheme.

(b) A person commits an offense if he contrives, prepares, sets up, proposes, operates, promotes, or participates in an endless chain.

(c) An offense under this section is a Class B misdemeanor.

Under Texas Law, a Class B Misdemeanor is punishable by a fine of up to $1,000.00 and a jail sentence of up to 180 days or both fine and jail sentence.

"If sufficient evidence is submitted to my office by law enforcement officials, complaints against offenders will be filed and prosecuted", states Joe D. LeMay, County Attorney.

Get Them To School In October

Editor's note

The following is an important message from our school officials concerning school attendance during the month of October.

October is attendance accounting month for schools throughout Texas.

The attendance that we report to the Texas Education Agency for the four weeks of October, starting with the week of October 5th, will determine our state funding for the 87-88 school year.

For each day that a student is absent during this accounting period, Santa Anna ISD loses $120.00 in state funding. A student who is out for a week would cost the district $600.00.

Putting it in black and white, or in dollars and cents, we can't afford to have students miss school (for minor reasons) in October.

Attendance is always a necessary part of school but this month it becomes imperative. Money lost on attendance must always be made up from local taxes.

Please, for the benefit of all of us, get them to school in October.

1987 Tax Statements To Be Mailed Today

Tax Statements for 1987 will be mailed by the Coleman County Tax Appraisal District on October 1st. Taxpayers can take advantage of discounts and half payments if taxes are paid promptly.

Half payments can be made in October and November with second half of payment due prior to July 1, 1988 with no penalty and interest charged. Also a taxpayer can receive a discount of three percent in October, two percent in November and one percent in December for prompt payment. A taxpayer can receive only one of the alternatives. Discounts and half payments cannot be given together. One half payment will be calculated on the base amount of the tax. The statements sent to property owners will show the discounted amounts and the penalty and interest amounts based on what month the tax is paid.

As of August, 81 percent of the 1986 taxes had been collected, the same as this time last year. Total collections from October 1, 1986 to August 31, 1987 amount to $1,087,974.77. Delinquent taxes collected during same period total $253,370.00, which represents about 40 percent of what was delinquent on October 1, 1986. The total amount of delinquent taxes still owed is $641,053.53.

The Appraisal District will make every effort to help delinquent taxpayers. Payment plans can be set up, but the taxpayer needs to cooperate and make arrangements to pay these delinquent taxes. The amount of penalty and interest will go on indefinitely until the tax bill is paid.

The delinquent tax attorney usually does not get involved in a case until a property owner is six months behind on his taxes. At that point the attorney adds 18 percent to a delinquent taxpayer's tab. Court cost and abstract fees can also be added if case goes to court.

City To Make Survey

The City of Santa Anna will soon be making a TEXAS COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM SURVEY in order to gain information needed for applying for a grant with the TDCA (Texas Department of Community Affairs) for funds for the senior farm.

City billing clerk, Alys Pelton, and Louise Taylor are the two ladies who will be making the survey. All citizens are asked to cooperate when approached in order for the ladies to receive the necessary information pertinent for the City to qualify for the grant.

You will be asked for information such as: telephone number; how many persons including yourself live in your residence; number of persons in the family; income limit; and others. Though some of the questions asked may seem personal and unnecessary, the information requested is very necessary for the City of Santa Anna to qualify for the grant needed.

The need is for the survey to show a high rate of low to moderate income citizens.

The two ladies expect to start their survey the last part of this week and continue through the next week or however long it takes to gather the needed information.

CHECK IT OUT

Just Read

Today researchers in the field of education are seeking to find the secret of learning to read. No one knows. No one understands exactly how this complex process takes place.

There is one thing researchers are sure of. Children who come from homes where lots of reading materials (whether papers, magazines or books) are found and/or see their parents, brothers, sisters or other relatives reading frequently...feel differently about reading from those children who do not have this exposure.

This tells us something we're all keenly aware of...children imitate. What opportunities to read or be read to are your children having? Are you expecting your children to go to school and be taught to read by their teachers? Teachers are amazing people. They've been educated to teach and the vast majority do superior things with the students they have in their classrooms. These teachers can be good examples, but the most influential people in a child's life are his or her family.

What are you doing at home to prepare your child for reading? How are you supporting that young beginner reader in your home? Do your children see you reading? Frequently? Worried about the cost of reading material? Consider this paper. The news in it is about people you know right here in your community. How exciting it is to a child to see a picture and read about someone they know! Read it aloud to your children; study the ads with them or get your young readers to read the news aloud to the whole family! JUST READ!

Whirlybirds
Not Meeting
This Year

The Whirlybirds Club for children has been meeting for 10 consecutive years, but this fall it will not meet. Adult leaders of the group held a 2 1/2 hour meeting recently before making the decision to not sponsor the club during the 1987-88 school year. Due to a change in the school schedule, the bell rings at 2:30 p.m. and the buses leave at 3:12. Twenty minutes is required to move 60 or more students back and forth between the school and the Methodist Church where the meetings have been held. The remaining 15 minutes is not a long enough time to carry on a program. In the beginning years, there was an hour and 15 minutes available.

There has been an average of 60 boys and girls each year who participated in the Whirlybirds. Over 400 children learned The Lord's Prayer, Bible verses, Books of the New and Old Testament, religious songs and carols, Bible stories, how to pray and to apply the 10 Commandments to their lives.

If there are changes in the time schedules in the future, Whirlybirds will be revived.

The club included grades 1-3, boys and girls and met after school. Leaders from all denominations (as were the boys and girls) helped with the group. Whirlybirds is financed by private donations. The purpose of the club is to introduce the children to the Bible and the Christian life. Rewards are given when the children meet the objectives such as learning the books of the Bible. The rewards are patches. Refreshments are donated by participating churches.

A LETTER TO MY FRIEND

Dear Matilda,
Jest a line to let you know that I am still livin and not among the dead, tho Im gettin awful forgetful and more mixed up in my head.

Sometimes I can't remember when I stand at the foot of the stairs if I have started up after something or if I have jest come down.

When I open the door of my refrigerator my mind is filed with doubt. I stand and wonder if I'm puttin somethin in or if I was fixin to take somethin out.

Then there's times when its dark out and with my night cap on my head, I don't know iffen I'm jest a gettin up or if I'm ready to go to bed.

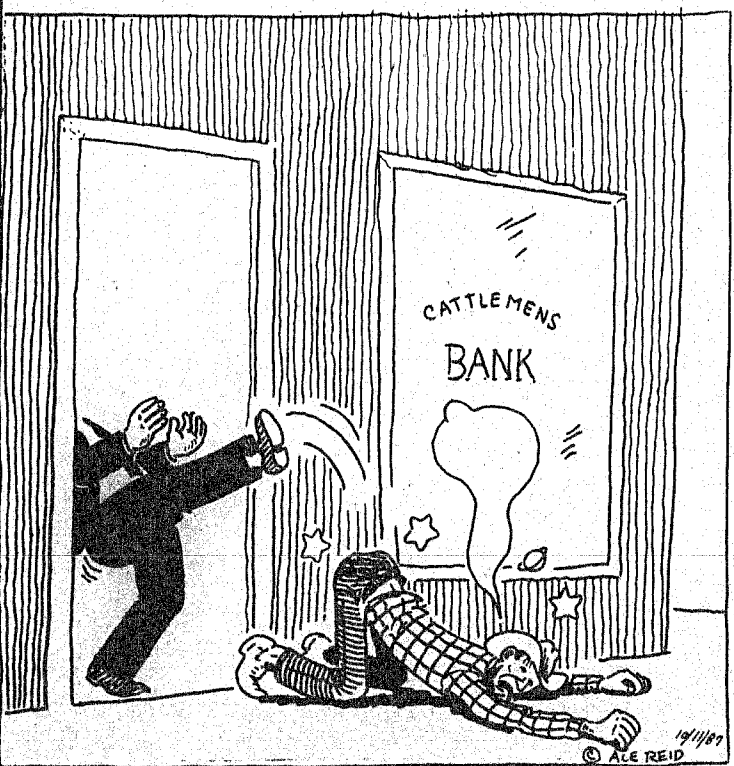

So if its my turn to write, don't git sore. I may think I have wrote and I don't want to be a bore. Remember I do love you and wish you was here and now its mailtime so goodbye my dear.

Love, Samanthly.
P.S. Here I stand beside my mailbox with my face so very red. Instead of mailing you my letter I have opened it instead.

Jeremy Hartman Commended In Merit Program

Santa Anna High School has been notified that Jeremy Hartman has been designated a Commended Student in the National Merit Scholarship Program and will receive a letter of Commendation in recognition of outstanding academic promise. The principal, Frank Gray, announced Monday during the high school assembly that Jeremy placed in the top 50,000 of more than one million participants in the 33rd annual Merit Program. A spokesman for National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC) of Evanston, Illinois which conducts the competition, pointed out that being designated a Commended Student in the Merit Program is an accomplishment of which both the student and the high school may be especially proud. High performance in this rigorous competition is indicative of exceptional scholastic ability, which schools play an important role in developing. It is hoped that recognition of these young men and women will add to their motivation to pursue a higher education and to become productive adult citizens in a society that values talents such as theirs. Participants entered the current Merit Program by taking the PSAT-NMSQT in October 1986, when most of them were juniors. Although their qualifying test scores were high, the 35,000 young people throughout the nation who are Commended Students scored slightly below the level for Semifinalist standing in their respective states. Only the 15,000 Semifinalists, whose names were announced on September 16, will continue in the competition for some 6,000 Merit Scholarships to be awarded in the spring of 1988.

is encouraged to be on hand to lend support for the Mountaineers as they aim for the district title. Game time will be 7:30 for all district games. Both teams had last week off. The Booster Club is encouraging everyone to wear Black and Gold. (Photo by Derriell Warnock)

High School Names Citizen Of The Week

Santa Anna High School is implementing a Citizen of the Week program this year. Counselor Nanette Newbern explained that a student is selected by the teachers, principal, and - or counselor for his or her attitude, for being polite, respectful and helpful to teachers and - or other students. The student's picture and name are displayed on a bulletin board for a week. Principal Frank Gray states, "It is an honor for a student to be selected as CITIZEN OF THE WEEK. These are usually students who go about their business with an unassuming attitude and who are pleasant to deal with as an administrator, a teacher or a fellow student."

Felicia Ellerbe In Shutout Of The Shootout

Although the Mountaineers were idle the past week there still was considerable interest in the Mountaineer Shootout football contest.

Felicia Ellerbe has been a faithful contestant each week of the contest and this week, that paid off when she was the first to win the contest with every choice correct. In doing so, she won a years free subscription to the Santa Anna News. She had already placed in the top three, although never in first place.

Charlie Barr of Brownwood was the second place winner of 5 classified ads. Barr picked 7 of nine and was the closest to the score of the game of the week.

Roberta Tomlinson won one free classified ad for her third place entry. Roberta also picked 7 of nine but was not as close on the game of the week.

Rob Cheaney also had 7 of nine picked correctly but missed the score on the game of the week by a greater number than the other two.

Water Lawns Properly

Although some turfgrasses might live through a hot, dry summer without any water, they all need water once in awhile to stay green and actively growing. Because water is fairly expensive and is limited in some parts of Texas, it makes good sense to water your lawn properly.

In much of Texas, clay soils develop rather impressive cracks—some several inches across and even a few feet deep. These cracks do not seriously affect grass plants, but may turn what started as a neighborhood football or baseball game into a medical emergency if a child steps into a crack and is injured. These same shrinkable clay soils also can do a great deal of damage to a home's foundation. A good irrigation program can help prevent these problems.

When watering a lawn, the "rule of thumb" is to soak the soil to a depth of about 5 or 6 inches. This sounds fairly simple but it takes some work. First, there are a lot of different sprinklers available. Those which spray water in an even pattern are more efficient. Ideally, a sprinkler should put out water at the same rate the water drains into the soil. However, often a sprinkler applies water too quickly, resulting in runoff. Put another way, some soils are so heavy they cannot absorb water as fast as it's applied by even the slowest of sprinklers.

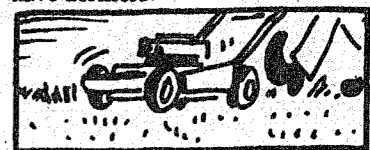

The absolute first step of running a sprinkler is to find out how much water it emits in a given period of time. This information should be available from the manufacturer or installer. If not, just set out some old coffee cans, run the sprinkler for an hour, and measure the amount of water collected.

In most high clay soils, it takes about an inch or so of water to wet the soil deep enough. If a soil is high in sand, as little as half an inch of water will do the job. Very likely the lawn will start to puddle or show runoff before the desired amount of water is applied. Stop the sprinkler just before this occurs. Allow enough time for the water to soak in and then start the sprinkler again. These on-off cycles must be developed through experience since few lawns are the same. Variables in soil type, slope and height of the lawn all affect the water infiltration rate.

If water infiltration is extremely slow, A machine called called an "aerifier" can be used to punch small holes up to about three inches deep in the soil. Many rental stores have aerifiers.

On the green scene: more than 20 million acres of lawns exist in the U.S.—representing one to two percent of our nation's land area.

Attitudes Influence Contentment

Contradictory attitudes about aging can often interfere with feelings of contentment in old age, says Dr. Judith Warren, a gerontologist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economics program. "Some elders feel that they ought to act a certain way or dress a certain way because of their age. These age norms can inhibit them from being themselves and being as outgoing as they might be." She observes that older people are also advised to "stay active" as the way to be happy in old age. "While this formula may work for some, many older people do not feel like being active, busy and responsible to others," she maintains. "They may want to pull away and will be more content not doing what they did in the past. Or unforeseen circumstances may require the older person to redefine what having an active life means. The formula for contentment in old age will remain individual to each person, but it certainly is possible to achieve."

Consumer Facts Coupon Books: A Lot Of Nothing?

Coupon books can be a good way for merchants to introduce their products to new customers and for consumers to enjoy some bargains. Unfortunately, coupon books can also be a ripoff.

In some cases, consumers have bought coupon books for $50 or more, only to find out everything was free. Some books offer goods or services from business that have shut their doors. In many cases, consumers have discovered too late that restrictions made things so inconvenient it wasn't worth the trouble. And in the worst cases, consumers have found that the vendor printed and sold the coupon books without contactation the merchants at all.

If you are offered a coupon book, examine it carefully. Note the names of several of the merchants and check to see they are providing what is advertised. Check the expiration dates, restrictions and all other conditions. And, of course, make sure that most of the services offered are services you would want to use.
