Santa Anna 4-H Stays Busy

4-H for the Santa Anna kids didn't stop for the summer vacation. In July the Coleman County 4-H clubs held a county camp at Big Six Ranch. In August the officers attended a leadership camp at Hords Creek Lake for Coleman and Runnels County officers. Both events were not only learning experiences, but allowed 4-H'ers to meet new friends and have fun County camp was in fact a camp out. The exhilararation of putting up your own tent and the education that comes from using the outdoor restroom(no running water) in the middle of the pasture on a dark night, made for a memorable experience.

County Agents, Kerry Shropshire, Debbie Reber and Barry Cooper along with Big Six Ranch managers Mike and Debbie Bodenchuck led the campers through setting up the campsite, preparing and cooking their food, and fishing, swimming and shooting sports. Parents of the campers wereinvited out for a hamburger supper and skits were presented in groups by the campers for the evening's entertainment.

Kit Horne, a representative of West Texas Utilities and a former Coleman County 4-H member instructed the group in making lamps, the bases being aluminum cans. Each camper took a lamp home to use in his or her room to "study" by. Those attending from Santa Anna included Corey Brown, Cheree Halmon, Erica Pearce, Becky Simmons, Mika Gore, Bryce Ellis, and Jamie Ellis. Jane Gustavus attended as the adult leader from Santa

Gounty Commissioners Approve Air Strip

The Coleman County Commissoners Court last week approved a proposal to build an air strip to be built adjacent to the Stacy dam site just off the extension of the county road being built to access the construction site.

As approved, the air strip, which will handle private planes including jets, is to be built by the Colorado River Municipal Water District which will later deed it to the county.

The Water District is to procure the land, build the strip and an access road, and will also fence the property. When deeded, the county will assume maintenance. The landing strip will be built with a 10" base "of the best material available in the area" and the county may inspect the work in process, and must approve the construction before voting for acceptance of it.

In another matter, Jack Strickland, Precinct 1 Commis-.. sioner, informed the court that he had agreed to furnish road repair materials to the Lake Coleman Community Center Directors. The roads around the lake are "dedicated to public use" and the lake residents are to provide the labor required to put the county furnished materials into the potholes.

Judge Skelton informed commissioners that he had sent out 5 copies of the approved specifications on the county ambulance service. Bids are to be opened at the regular meeting of the Commissioners Court on September 14 at 10 a.m.

Thoughts From Our Pastors

I confess it is hard for me to maintain a discipline of prayer, not because prayer is hard, but because discipline is hard. Like many another person,

I'm the victim (or maybe the cause) of cluttered, busy, and unfocused life, I discovered some time ago that when I become discouraged or weary, it's simply because all I know is what I see or read or witness...and that is not enough to make anybody discouraged. But in those rare, illumined moments when discipline has been maintained and the unseen becomes real to me, then what has appeared to be insurmountable is put into it's proper prospec-

Let me share a couple of stories that illustrate this. A man came to a Rabbi

A woman once came to St. Teresa of India and asked, "What would you do if some terrible calamity came into your life?" She replied, "All I would need is a place to kneel, and five minutes, then I would be all right." I guess St. Paul said it best of all when he wrote: "Do not hold to the things that are seen, but to the things that are unseen, because the things that are seen are transient, but the things that are unseen are eternal." For that reason, he went on to say, even though "WE are afflicted, we are not crushed, when perplexed we are not driven to dispair, when persecuted we are not forsaken, when struck down, we are not destroyed." (2 Corinthians 4:8-9)

CABLE TELEVISION SALES TAX

... State Comptroller Bob Bullock Tuesday said a new law should clear up confusion over sales tax rebates to cities from taxes on cable television.

"Lawmakers have untangled the web of confusion that resulted from cities attempting to split sales tax revenue from cable television subscriptions," Bullock said.

The new law states that tax collected on cable service will be rebated to the city where the service is received, instead of where the service orginates or is billed.

"This bill will insure that each city gets its fair share of the tax rebate," Bullock said.

The law, effective September 1, will apply to the first regular monthly bill for service received on and after that date. The law affects only the optional one-percent city sales tax portion of
