CHMN FRANKLIN W. FORT of the home loan bank board is ready to function. This after considerable talking. He is a financier and has a record as a successful man, He predicts that large numbers of banking institusoon as the system to be administered by his board is set up. He insicts most institutions are impress-ed by the need of remaining in a condition where in an emerassets. He is telling it to the American world that mortgages are not liquid. Consquently throughout the country it has become almost impossible to borrow on them. Speaking of the home toan bank ated by the congress he lets it be known that the plan of operaby member banks instantly liquid in the hands of those banks. He has no doubt that when the system is Miss Nora Drake. once set up many of these institu-tions will immediately re-enter the mortgage market. Then and very much to the point, Chmn. Fort made his observation: "They can't make money without lending it. When they find they can get money almost overnight they will recommence to loan." Moreover he said the banks might loan directly to individuals as long as government capital remained on their books. but borrowers would have to prove that they were unable to get the money eliewhere. Here is hoping for quick action. There quick action. There are theu sunds who are willing to borrow. They are home owners. They find money hard to borrow. If the home loan bank is the agency for relief then it is to be hoped that it will begin to function at an early date.

Third Indictment Returned In Greeg County For Illegal Voting; Many West Texas Counties Report Too Many Votes

AUSTIN—Discovery that more votes were cost for governor in July than there were pell taxes paid in 132 countles has followed the return of indictments for illegal voting in Gregg county.

Investigation by the Gregg county grand jury, under direction of District Attorney John E. Taylor was made on the non-partisan basis of upholding the purity of the ballot in Texas. In the 132 countles where illegal voting was indicated where illegal voting was indicated by the excess of votes over politaxes—in many counties even exceeding the exemptions, had every politax payer and exemptee voted—Ferguson carried 94 counties; Hunter 20 counties, Sterling 17 counties, and there was a tie for high place in one county.

VICTORY TO GO TO C. V. TERRELL SUPPORTERS SAY

Railroad Commissioner's Reelection Assured, State Reports Indicate

Carrying more than 185 counties, with ballot totals giving him an overwhelming lead over his closest opponent, C. V. Terrell is virtually assured of re-election as railroad commissioner, his supporters throughout Texas report. Mr. Terrell is seeking his second full term as a member of the important state body which has supervision of three billion dollars in properties and values in Texas. At neces ties and values in Texas. At pres-ent, he is chairman of the commis-

Following a strict program of ignoring personal attacks and draping mone of his opponents with political mud, Mr. Terrell has made thousands of friends in this state. state.

During his term of office, the commission has returned to the general revenue fund more than $500,000.00. The commission has tried more than 15,000 cause with only four reversals. This is considered a record unsurpassed by any similar body in the United States. It has made a record in Twee by similar body in the United States. It has made a record in Texas by having heard more than three times as many cases as any previous railroad commission and in its course passed on 5,000 truck and bus cases with not a single reversal. The official record of the commission shows that since Mr. Terrell has been a member of this body more new line railroad tracks have been laid in Texas than in all other states combined.

Early in his career as state official, Mr. Terrell inaugurated the half time plan in the state capitol, which has enabled thousands of young men and women of all walks in life in Texas to earn their way through school,

Recently, Roy L. Tennant, who can third place against Mr. Terrell in the first primary, amounced publicly that he would cast his peter for Mr. Terrell in the run-off election.
