O YE JIGS & JULEPS! by Virginia Cary Hudson

O Ye Jigs & Juleps! is an adult's guide to the child's world of 1904. It is a humorous slice of Americana by a turn of the century pixie, aged ten. Virginia Cary Hudson was a sprite of ten back in 1904 when she wrote these essays for a very understanding teacher in her Episcopal boarding school. Discovered in an attic trunk, the essays are even more entertaining today because of their distinct, early American flavor. In them, Virginia expresses her naively trouncing concepts of school, the sacraments, church etiquette, everlasting life, spring, the library, personal appearance, strolling, and the religions of China (Mr. Confuscious', Mr. Tao's, Mr. Buddha's). At least she begins with these topics; childlike, she soon wanders merrily off to examine her friends. her parents, herself, and life in general.

It is a child's collection of impressions, it is an adult's hilarious comeuppance. It is a spicy slice of smalltown Americana in the early 1900's. This delightful little book has been placed in the Santa Anna Library for your reading pleasure. Come by and "Check it out!".

Thoughts From Our Pastors

Charlie Klinke

Seventh Day Adventist Church

Dear Friends

Making positive choices seems to be a real problem in our day and time. The term Christianity covers a broad spectrum from commercial to out and out evil. How does a Christian choose what is christian? David had some wonderful things to say. One of his statements gives us some insight.(Psalms 119:11)"Thy word have I hid in my heart that I might not sin against Thee."

A prayerfully surrendered attitude in studying God's word will reveal to us the difference between truth and error. Whenever we are motivated by the principles described in God's word we can know where we stand and not fall. One of our problems is our alters to Baal. We say "yes Lord" I want to serve you. At the same time we have in our homes, in our cars and on our persons little tokens or symbols of our allegiance to powers of darkness. Maybe you are saying, "But, Pastor, these are just little things." Not only do the foxes spoil the vines, but its the small decisions we have to deal with from day to day that decide whether we will go to Heaven or not. We don't just someday say I'm going to serve God and that's it. We sometimes like to do a "snow job" on ourselves. You know what I mean. We throw so much "stuff" into our lies that we have trouble discovering our goals.

One of the greatest fears of the pioneers was to get caught in a blizzard. Many a life has been lost as someone tried to get from the barn to the warmth of the house. Today we are struggling trying to get spiritually from the outer court into God's Holy Presence. There is every wind of doctrine to contend with, every evil eagerly striving for out attention. The question is "What shall I do?" Turn your eyes upon Jesus, look full in His wonderful face and the things of earth will grow strangley dim in the light of His glory and grace. Only from this prospective can we hope to find our way home to the promised land and the warmth of God's presence.

HOW TO DO AN INVENTORY

Do you know what you own? You probably think you do, but could you come up with a complete list of all your personal possessions if you had to—your furniture, appliances, clothing, valuables, and everything else you keep in your home?

Having an inventory of your possessions can be a huge help if your home is damaged by fire or wind, or if some of your possessions are stolen. Why? Because such a list is needed if a homeowner's insurance claim is to be settled fairly.

State Farm Fire and Casualty Company, a leading insurer of homes, suggests that now is the time to begin putting together a list, or inventory, of all your personal property. Get a clipboard, a pen and some paper and go from room to room recording key items of information for each item: when it was acquired; the serial number, if any; the purchase price; and what it would cost to replace it.

If you wish, take photos of your possessions also. Be sure to take close-ups of smaller items, and don't forget to photograph the contents of drawers and closets. Videotaping is becoming a popular way to do a home inventory. You can record information on each item on the audio portion of the tape. Audio tapes alone are a possibility Whatever method you use, keep your completed inventory in a safe place away from home, such as a bank safe deposit box, along with receipts for your major possessions. And keep your inventory up-to-date. When you acquire new things, add them to your list, photo collection or videotape.

Offering his talents will be R.W. Balke who will demonstrate the use of hand tools.

Also planned are a quilting display, sewing on an old treadle sewing machine, old fashioned cooking methods demonstration, churning, antique cooking utensils and other antique items.

The library board would especially like to include a Mexican-American contribution to the display. If you have something you would like to have considered for the exhibit or know someone who would like to demonstrate tortillia making, please give one of the library board members a call.

The Alcohol-related crash is still the American way to die or to be seriously injured for teenagers of driving age, says the National Commission Against Druck Driving in conjunction with the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration of the Department of Transportation.

It is the leading cause of death of young people (15-19) with more than forty percent of all teen deaths resulting from motor vehicle crashes. In 1986, 3,538 teenagers died in crashes in which alcohol was a afctor. Nearly 30 percent of the fatally injured 15-19-year-old drivers were intoxicated.

SURVIVAL OF THE FITTEST A 14-year study of finches in the Galapagos Islands shows that there is definite relationship between climate and bird size. "National Wildlife" magazine reports that, during droughts, more large finches survived because they had the strength and big bills necessary to crack open the large, hard seeds that remained after smaller seeds had been consumed. Small birds thrived in rainy years, because the dampness fostered growth of plants that produce small seeds. Larger

"The state's economy is on the upswing and growing. Texans are becoming more confident about spending their money," Bullock said. He added that only a part of the allocation increase across the state can be attributed to the additional tax and the widened tax base. "There's more money being spent in the state. Cities and counties are finally begining to reap the benefits of Texas' recovering economy,"Bullock said.

The overall increase for the entire state is 6.5 percent over this time last year.

magnificently supported by both corporate sponsors and individuals throughout the nation.

While in other countries governments fund their athletes, here in the United States the money needed to send athletes to the Olympics comes in large part from corporations. One such sponsoring corporation is Visa, which with its member banks has launched a nationwide fundraising effort to help support U.S. Olympians. And thousands of Americans are pitching in with their own donations.

Individuals can contribute by calling a toll-free number: 1-800-VISA-USA.

Thanks to everyone who supports our athletes, the 1988 Summer Olympics is expected to be one of the greatest Olympiads ever.

WHAT THE LAW SAYS

Under state law, the buyer and the seller must both sign a notarized statement describing the sale and the amount of sales tax due. This form includes a notation of the odometer reading. When this is filled out, the seller must give the form to the buyer, with the Certificate of Title. It is extremely important to remember to get the certificate. It is illegal to sell a car in Texas without transferring title to the buyer.
