Keeping You Informed About Our Schools

By Gerald Brister

Accreditation Team To Be Here Thursday

Members of an accreditation team from the Texas Education Agency will be available Thursday, November 17, 1988, to meet with parents and persons who have an interest in expressing their views and opinions about the Santa Anna Independent School District. Interviews will be conducted by team members beginning at 10:00 a.m. in the board room of the administrative offices located in the Junior High building.

Every school district in the state is required by law to be visited by an accreditation team from the Agency to evaluate the quality of its educational programs and to determine what progress the school district has made since the last visit.

During interviews, emphasis will be given to the quality of instruction and community support on each campus in the district. Areas to be evaluated by the team include planning, curriculum, instruction, services to students, instructional resources, personnel, governance, community conditions, and physical facilities.

last week that read something to the effect that it was illegal for wagons and buggies to obstruct passage on the streets. The wording was changed to include cars, trucks (or motor vehicles).

Applications for the position of City Policeman left vacant by the resignation of officer James Morris, were tabled until the next regular meeting.

The Council took care of some insurance matters and reviewed and approved accounts for payment before adjourning.

Chief of Police Ken Brixey told the group that the City of Coleman has passed a similar resolution and to his understanding, the City of Coleman and Coleman County would be in a centralized dispatching unit.

If the City of Coleman accepts the proposal and Santa Anna does not, the problem arises as to who will man the phones in Santa Anna for the emergency 911 calls to police, ambulance and fire department. Although no action was taken it seemed to be the consensus that if the County went with the 911 service, that the City of Santa Anna would most likely do the same.

The Council has been reviewing some ordinances and changing wording as needed to update the ordinances. They took action on one

Smoking Still Top Health Problem

Some Smokers To Go Cold Turkey Thursday

If you are planning to quit smoking Thursday, you are not alone. The American Cancer Society says one-fifth of the USA's 50 million smokers will stop for the 12th Great American Smokeout November 17.

"You may think you can't but you can" says talk show host Larry King. "My secret tip was a heart attack".

Some easier tips: Hide ashtrays, matches; stock up on sugarless gum or carrot sticks; ask a friend to quit, too.

According to statistics in the United States alone, 350,000 people die annually from diseases caused by tobacco use. That is the equivalent of a collision, with no survivors, of two jumbo jets every day.

Ninety percent of everyone who ever smokes starts the habit before the age of 20, according to statistics furnished by the office of the U.S. Surgeon General C. Everett Koop. In fact, 60% start before the age of 14 or 15. So we are talking about a very addictive behavior that is initiated in the childhood years.

Although tobacco is still the major health problem in the United States, the battle against smoking can be won. The fight against tobacco use is still the number one public health problem in the U.S., if you talk about the number of people affected.

Surgeon General C. Everett Koop says that AIDS has taken our attention because of the great potential for death, but he places the comparison between the two major health problems in perspective by pointing out that tobacco kills as many Americans every month as have died of AIDS in the past seven years.

One of the experts who believe the war against tobacco is winnable is Dr. Kenneth E. Warner, chairman of the Department of Public Health Policy and Administration at the University of Michigan. "In the developed world, tobacco is on its

Burglary At Rockwood Post Office Under Investigation

R.E. Bartlett, Postal Inspector from Fort Worth, has been in Coleman County investigating a burglary at the Rockwood Post Office on the night of November 7 or early morning of November 8.

The burglar broke through the plywood liner of the cashier window inside the unlocked lobby, reached through and unlocked the door, then pried open the cash drawer and desk drawers and took $45 in cash, according to Bartlett.

The U.S. Postal Inspection Service is offering up to $5,000 for arrest and conviction in the case. Anyone with information should

Local Scouts To Be Scouting For Food Saturday

Local Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts will be taking part in the National Good Turn, when they scout for food for the needy on November 19.

"If there ever was a good time to do something about hunger in America, the time is now. If there was ever a time for the Boys Scouts of America to conduct a great National Good Turn, the time is now," stated Chief Scout Executive Ben Love.

The 1988 National Good Turn, Scouting for Food, will be one of the most dramatic opportunities for others to see the basic worth of the scouting movement in action.

The Scouting for Food campaign will involve a door-to-door food collection effort by Scouts on Saturday, November 19. Residents should note that the scouts will be in at least partial uniform and carrying green plastic bags with the Scout insignia on them along with other identifiable scouting information concerning the food drive.

The food will then be made available to the needy through various agencies.

Post Office Box Lobby To Be Closed Saturday Afternoon

The box section lobby of the local post office will be closed Saturday afternoon for floor maintenance. If you have need to pick up your mail on Saturday afternoon, please contact the postmaster before Saturday at 348-3781.

Arena Complete-Roping Planned

The new arena of the newly organized Santa Anna Rodeo and Youth Association has been completed and a team roping planned for Sunday afternoon, November 20. Class C team ropers of amateur status are invited to come to Santa Anna for a jackpot roping to begin at 1:30 p.m.

The organization has leased 15 roping steers to be used for the event, and all team ropers in the area are encouraged to attend and take part. There will be three go-arounds, with the leaders advancing to the final round.

The Arena has been constructed by members of the new organization, with materials being purchased from membership funds and from donations. Dozens of people have donated labor for the project, and the facility is one of the finest community arenas in the area.

A concession stand has also been built and will be open Sunday.

Other activities are being planned for local and area cowboys and cowgirls, with special emphasis on youth activities. There is no admission charge for the Sunday afternoon roping, and all local people are invited to go out and watch the roping. Since there are no bleachers, spectators may wish to take folding chairs for seating.

Scout Committee Meeting Tuesday

There will be a Scout Committee meeting Tuesday evening at 6:30 at the Civic Center (Armory). All interested adults are invited to be present. If you are interested in helping with scouting in any possible way, you are especially encouraged to be there.

Contact the Coleman County Sheriff's office, 625-2030, or Bartlett at 817-625-3411, a 24-hour number in Fort Worth.

City Fathers Have A Look At 911 Emergency Service

Mayor Brooker called the council meeting to order last Thursday with the following city officials present: Quinton Daniel, Derriel Warnock, Susie Voss, Alex DeLeon, Laura Thornton, Rusty Wells, Ken Brixey, Max Eubank, and Alys Pelton. Several interested citizens were also on hand for the meeting.

The minutes of the last month's meeting were approved with the changing of one financial figure. Seems the damage done to the pipe at the sewer farm was $390 rather than $300.

Collier Watson was not present to review the audit ending in March, as had been planned, so the group moved along to other business, including the opening of bids for a lot that had been advertised for sale. Two bids were received but both were rejected. Clint Day had bid $501 and Edd Hartman had bid $400 on the lot which is adjacent to Hartman's home.

The Council approved Texas Municipal League Retirement System Ordinances. Council members had had an opportunity to review the ordinances before hand.

A discussion was held on the possibility of a 911 service in Santa Anna. A resolution sent to the City by the West Texas Council of Governments to start 911 service, estimated the cost at 50 cents per phone access line. The proposed service would not be put into service until 1989, if the plan is approved. Councilman Quinton Daniel, a service manager for the Coleman County Telephone Co-op, felt that the cost would probably be more than the proposed amount.

City Administrator Max Eubank emphasized that the resolution does not bind the City to approving the 911 service, but simply states that they are interested in having the service.

Friendship Luncheon

Contributed
The Friendship meal was well attended this past week. One regular, Maudie Fields, was absent. It was reported she was in the hospital.

A good number of our Coleman friends were present. They have evidently taken the word back to Coleman about the friendly atmosphere of this group, because the Coleman National Bank sent us a good will package of paper goods consisting of napkins and cups. This was generous and thoughtful of them and everybody expressed their gratitude for their generosity.

Anniversary greetings were sung to the Rip Koenigs. Rip asked the blessing of the food, then was later seen up to his arms in dish water. Thanks go to Rip for all the duties he helps with at the luncheons.

Thoughts From Our Pastors

James Ford
Assembly Of God

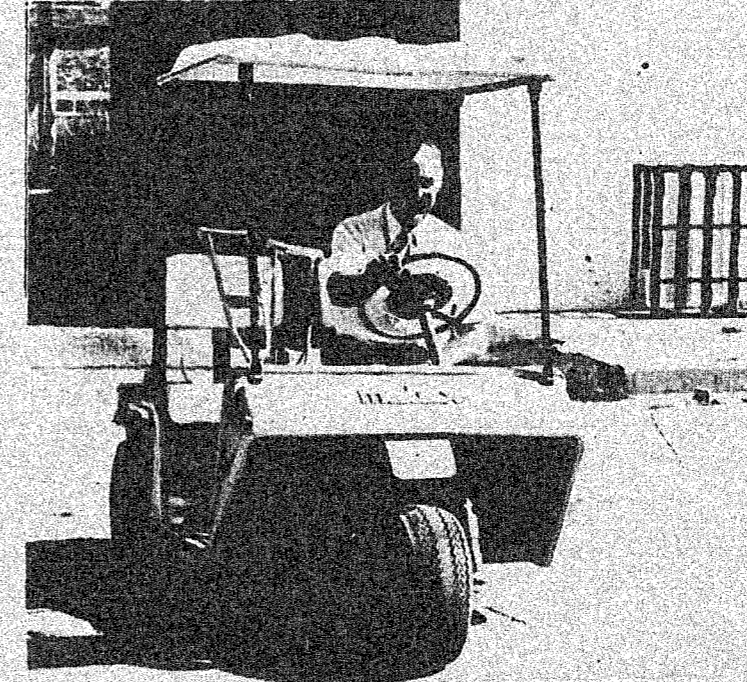

Psalms 95:2... "Let us come before His presence with thanksgiving, and make a joyful noise unto Him with psalms".

As we enter into this Thanksgiving season I want to stop and think of the many things we have to be thankful for. We have just had an election for president. It was an open election without armed conflict. Many countries would give anything to have that privilege. We live in a land that is free. As I write this no one tells me what to write and I am thankful I can say what I want to say. I am thankful for the freedom to worship as we want to. I read of many countries where there are limits set on their worship. We live in a country where we are free to go to church any time the doors are opened.

So as we think of all the good things we enjoy we need to think of "why". James 1:17 says, "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom there is no variableness, neither shadow of turning." As I realize how much we have to be thankful for and where the blessings come from I want to show my gratitude to Him by being faithful to Him; by letting Thanksgiving be more than just a holiday, a day off from work. Let's make it a day of a real season of Thanksgiving that lasts on and on. Let it be a time to dwell on the good; a time to be happy and rejoice; a time to put God first.

Let's make a time for Jesus, our Saviour, the one who has done so much for us. We can tell the world by telling our neighbor and our friends why we are so thankful. Let us all do our part for no one can do your part for you.

Around & About

R. C. Smith was seen getting around town on his golf cart Monday. The cart has been Smitty's mode of getting around and about since knee surgery a couple of weeks ago. Not quite like being on the golf course, but sure helps in getting around the school.

Ruby Wenzel's guests recently have been Phil and Rita Wenzel from Wisconsin and Elva Jacobs, Lillian King and Carol Summers of San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. B.N. Myers have returned from a visit in Euless with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bell. They went to see the beautiful fall colors in the forests of Broken Bow, Oklahoma State Park. In another week or so they should be at the peak of perfection, well worth the trip.

Jasper and Jean McClellan have purchased the "Barnes" house at the west end of Ave. A. and will be moving into the grand old home soon. Mr. McClellan is the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Santa Anna and a Santa Anna High School graduate. He is the son of the J.W. McClellans. Jean is the former Jean Stewardson, daughter of the late George Stewardsons and is also a SAHS graduate. They have most recently made their home in Abilene following McClellan's retirement from the U.S. Air Force.

Barbara Kingsbery returned home last Thursday from a week's trip to California with a friend, Edna Taylor of Brownwood. They flew to California to attend to business and for sightseeing in the Los Angeles area, then they drove home by way of Phoenix, Arizona, spending one night with her niece and husband, Bond and Ann (Kingsbery) Womack.

Planning a special activity? Let the Santa Anna News help you spread the word. Call 348-3545.

Coleman ASCS Office To Close Each Tuesday

Coleman County ASCS Office will be closed each Tuesday until further notice.

This is necessary in order for the office personnel to process paper work and get payments out for the drought disaster crop program and the emergency feed program. There are approximately 400 applications for payment under the drought disaster crop program and 225 have applied for emergency feed assistance.

Gettysburg Address

It was 125 years ago, on Nov. 19, 1863, that President Abraham Lincoln delivered perhaps the most famous speech in American history. The occasion was the dedication of a national cemetery, on 17 acres of land near Gettysburg, Pa., where 43,000 men had been killed or wounded in a three-day battle four months earlier.

Newspapers of the day devoted most of their coverage of the ceremony to a two-hour speech given by a noted orator, Edward Everett. But it was the two-minute address by Abraham Lincoln that became famous throughout the world.

"Four score and seven years ago, our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal," began the president.

He concluded by saying that the

The Varsity girls lost to Eden 39-35, a fine first game for the young ladies, coached by Gerald Brister. Kristi Morrow led the scoring with 9 points followed by S. Brown with 8, T. Morrow 7, D. DeLeon 6, S. Castillo 3 and M. Moreno 2.

The JV girls also lost by a score of 21-14 and were led in scoring by 10 points from T. Frausto, S. Michon and P. Frausto had 2 points each.

The varsity boys team, fresh off the football field had a very good effort against a strong Iraan team that went to regional last year with a record of 20-9. They boast of a 6'4" starter and two at 6'3", while Santa Anna's tallest is about 6 foot. Reece McIver had 21 points for the night and James Hartman was next with 12.

The JV boys lost by a score of 51-31. Jerry Magin is the SAHS boys basketball coach.

The boys and girls teams will be in Rising Star Friday with the JV games beginning at 4 p.m.

Eddie Odom Talks To Local 4-H About Rattlesnakes

The Santa Anna 4-H meeting was held Monday evening, November 14 with thirteen members present.

Plans were discussed for the County 4-H Christmas Party which will be held December 15 at Skateworld in Coleman.

The program on rattlesnakes was given by Eddie Odom. He described how the snakes are hunted by finding the dens and then gasing them to get the snakes to come out in the open to be caught. They are sold at the various rattlesnake roundups in the area. Venom is extracted from the snakes and used for medical research, especially in cancer research.

Odom also explained what to do if you come upon a snake while walking outdoors.

Citizen Of The Week

Robert Duus, a junior at Santa Anna High School, has been named Citizen of the Week. Robert is a good sport, has an inquisitive mind, and keep abreast of what is going on in the world.

He was a Regional qualifier in track this past season, a member of the Regional One Act Play cast, and was recently inducted into the National Honor Society.

Santa Anna High School is proud to recognize Robert as Citizen of the Week.

He is the son of Roland and Bettie Duus.

Stockshow Entry Deadline Dec 1

The 1988-89 stockshow season is fast approaching. Many young FFA and 4-H members will be exhibiting the pride of a lot of hard work. Stockshows enable the youth to extend on the projects they have raised to to gain a sense of responsibility. Many hours of hard work and training have been spent with a lamb, pig or steer for a time when they can proudly show-off their accomplishments.

Time is here for the youth to decide on the shows they will exhibit their animals. The deadline for all entries to major stockshows is December 1, 1988. These entries can be obtained from the local Agriculture Teacher or the County Extension Agent.

TEEN NOW!

Where were you ten years ago? Can you remember what you were doing back then? Take a peek back into the not-so-distant past.

THEN: Back in 1978, a pretty blonde named Vanna White was doing a stint as a sample girl at a national bottlers convention, promoting a new orange soda carrying the name of some well-known orange growers, the Sunkist Growers. A Georgia peanut farmer named Jimmy Carter was president, and John Travolta was disco dancing to the beat of Saturday Night Fever in the movie by the same name.

NOW: Things have changed from the 70s, but some old favorites are still with us. Vanna White is now the nationally acclaimed hostess of TV's Wheel of Fortune. The soft drink company she once worked for, Sunkist Soft Drinks, Inc., is celebrating its tenth anniversary and has achieved amazing success with its orange soda, now one of the country's top selling beverages. An ex-actor from California is leaving an eight-year stint as President of the United States, and Patrick Swayze is thrilling audiences with his dancing in the new hit movie, Dirty Dancing.

Learn To Use Child Safety Belts Correctly

COLLEGE STATION: Safety seats can save children from injury or death in automobile accidents, but only if they're used correctly.

Since passage of the Texas child safety seat law in 1984, public awareness of the need to use child safety seats has increased. However, studies conducted in urban areas during 1988 show that only half of Texas children under age four actually ride in safety restraints.

Concern that this use rate may be even lower in rural areas has prompted the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Department of Highways to initiate a year-long program in rural child passenger safety education.

"Extension agents and volunteers in about 85 rural counties will be conducting observational studies of child safety seat use over the next several months", said Dr. Peggy Owens, an extension home economist and the project supervisor.

"Since there is no data on whether rural residents are using child safety restraints, we hope to generate some benchmark information for measuring the effectiveness of educational programs", she said.

Owens said county extension programs throughout the state will also be offering educational programs on the selection and correct use of child safety seats.

According to Department of Highways figures, car accidents are the leading cause of death and serious injury for children. Infants under six months of age are at greatest risk of being killed in an accident.

The most common causes of death and injury to unrestrained children in auto accidents are being thrown into the dash or windshield, being thrown from the car or being crushed by the adult's weight while being held.

Car safety seats, when used correctly, reduce deaths more than 90 percent and serious injuries by almost 80 percent.

Owens said the most common mistakes that lead to misuse of child safety seats are as follows:

*Not reading the instructions and installing the seat incorrectly. Incorrect installation may cause the seat to collapse or not function in an accident. When instructions are not provided with a used safety seat, you can write the manufacturer and obtain another set.

*Non-use or misuse of tether straps which allows the safety seat to fall forward in an accident. Tether straps must be attached to the rear seat belt for front seat installation or to an anchor bracket installed behind the seat for rear seat installations. If you do not want to use a tether strap, do not select a seat that requires one.

*Seat belts routed through or around the seat improperly so the seat may tip over, fall apart or move too much even in normal driving.

*Facing an infant seat forward. Infants up to about 20 pounds must ride rear-facing so that crash forces can be distributed across their strong backs.

*Not using seat harnesses or adjusting them too loosely, which allows children to be ejected from seats in an accident.

President Grover Cleveland had more than one "first" to his credit. He was the first president to marry while in the White House. He wed Frances Folsom in 1886. He is also the only president to have served two non-consecutive terms. Both records have yet to be broken.

Murphy Goes Deer Hunting

"If something can go wrong, it will go wrong." That statement and its variations, known as Murphy's Law, have touched our national paranoia and found instant favor. Following the Murphy lead, pessimists and cynics of all persuasions have compiled lists of bleak and fatalistic pronouncements which speak to those whose lives never turn out quite right. As that includes just about everyone, Murphy is famous and the photocopy companies are rich. Since fate displays its perverse and fickle nature so often in the hunting field, we have some Murphy-style philosophy for the busted-luck deer hunter.

- The best buck sign will be just out of sight of your permanent deer stand. If you use a portable stand, the best sign will be where you were last week.
- The best buck of the season will come from an area you scouted and rejected.
- Sighting-in always requires one more box of cartridges than you have.
- The last half-inch adjustment to perfectly align your scope will move the group 2 1/2 inches.
- To determine the direction of the prevailing wind in a real buck hot-spot you've just discovered, go to the best spot for a stand and look in the direction of the best deer trail. That is the direction the prevailing wind blows.
- When meeting a friend to hunt his area, the map he has drawn will omit at least one major crossroad and a critical right turn.
- If you have spent all season figuring out a trophy buck's pattern and have chosen the ideal stand, he will be killed on doe day by a first-time hunter with a borrowed rifle from the stand you used at the beginning of the season.
- The chance of your hitting a 2-inch sapling at 100 yards is directly proportional to the size of the buck standing behind it.
- You will not have to "go," unless you have forgotten the toilet tissue.
- If you drop your rifle, the sights will not be knocked out of alignment unless you are going to get a shot at the biggest buck you've ever seen the next morning.
- The squirrel that has played peacefully around your stand all morning will panic and loudly scold you as deer approach.
- If you want to see deer, light a cigarette, eat your lunch or take a nap—they will appear as if by magic. If you want to see a buck, get into a situation from which you can't possibly shoot.
- When you've killed a decent buck and have a pretty good story to go with it, there will be a bigger deer and a bigger lie waiting back at camp. lll

Texas First Lady Rita Clements decided last year and again in 1988 that the Governor's mansion should be a collection point for a campaign to aid the Battleship Texas. Texans are being urged to donate Aluminum cans to the Battleship's restoration fund. Del Schulzke, Southwest district manager for Alcoa Recycling Company, shows Mrs. Clements some promotional materials being used throughout the state to collect the cans and also to provide the "Save Our Ship" hot line number, 1-800-64-TEXAS. Texans who wish to help the Battleship as she prepares to go to a shipyard for major structural repairs may call the toll-free number for their nearest recycling center.

What Is Wrong With My Pecans?

The 1988 pecan harvest is under way and as usual, not all of the nuts look as good as we would like them to. Insects and drought are the major problems that limit quality. Disease and inferior varieties are also culprits in certain cases. Some of the common problems are discussed below.

HOLES IN THE NUTS

These are made by "redheads" - the larva of the pecan weevil. The weevil larva eat the pecan nutmeats during September and October and then bore a small (1/8" diameter) exit hole to escape to the ground to overwinter. They can be controlled by properly timed insecticide sprays. Pecan weevil are one of our worst pest problems but damage has been much lighter than usual this year.

PECAN SHUCK WON'T OPEN

The hickory shuckworm, a small white worm about 3/8" long, tunnels in the shuck and causes extensive damage to the shuck tissue. This can cause the shuck to remain tightly closed, or to only open partially if the damage is only at the base of the shuck. The shuck damage also results in poorly filled nutmeats. Properly timed insecticide sprays are essential for control. Destroy or plow under infested shucks to reduce the population of overwintering shuckworm larva.

A condition termed "sticktight" can also result in failure to the shuck to open. Sticktight shucks gradually blacken as the nut approaches maturity in August and September. Affected shucks do not open and the nuts are very difficult to shake from the tree. Nutmeats in sticktight pecans are poorly developed. Sticktight is associated with tree stress - both drought and heat. Shuck disease is also a possibility, but no disease has ever been clearly linked to the disorder. Failure of shucks to open can also be caused by an early hard freeze that kills the shuck before it opens.

PECAN KERNELS ARE POORLY FILLED

Several factors can be involved in this. Drought stress can be a major cause. Poor nutrition especially inadequate nitrogen and zinc fertilization also play a role. Insect damage such as the shuckworm damage described above can cause the kernel to fail to develop fully. Aphids sucking sap from pecan leaves during the summer and fall also rob nutrition and the black mold that grows on the "honeydew" secreted by the aphids blocks sunlight and thus photosynthesis. Any such problem that interferes with energy production by the trees will result in poor nut.

Certain varieties also fill poorly. Large varieties like Mahan and Mohawk are notorious for poor kernel development. Overbearing also can cause poor nutfill because of excess competition for nutrients. Few trees are overcropped this year.

NUTS SPROUTING IN THE SHUCK

This problem is most often caused by drought stress during the fall. Certain varieties like Burkett and Wichita have particularly bad problems with this. Nut sprouting can also be triggered by excessive rainfall when the shucks are opening. This is unlikely to be a problem this year unless our weather changes drastically soon.

BLACK SPOTS ON THE KERNELS

Black spots or streaks on the nutmeats are usually associated with stink bugs and related sucking insects that feed on the nuts. Feeding before shell hardening causes the nuts to drop, but nuts fed on after shell hardening remain on the tree and develop the black spots on the kernels. The taste of the nutmeats is usually not affected. The recommended spray schedule for hickory shuckworm and pecan weevil will usually keep this problem at a minimum.

MOLDY KERNELS

Certain fungal organisms sometimes gain entry into the pecan - either through cracked shells or insect feeding - and develop on the nutmeats. High moisture content in the nut makes conditions for mold growth more favorable. To minimize molds, gather the nuts promptly and air dry them for a couple of weeks in a shady, well ventilated place. Discard any moldy nutmeats.

DARK KERNELS

Tanning in the seed coat determine the kernel color. Certain varieties such as Wichita and Mohawk are darker naturally, while others such as Sioux and Cheyenne are naturally light colored. Prolonged wetness at maturity will result in kernel darkening so harvest promptly and air dry the nuts for at least 2 weeks in a well ventilated, shady location.

Oxidation of the tannins will also cause darkening of the kernels so for longer storage (especially of shelled pecans) store them in tightly closed containers - preferably in the refrigerator or freezer.

RANCIDITY

Steps that slow darkening will also slow rancidity. Pecan kernels contain 60 to 75 percent oil (95 percent unsaturated). Oxidation of the oils causes the bad flavor associated with rancidity. Rancidity will be minimal if the nuts are promptly dried as indicated and stored in tightly closed containers in a freezer.

How Much Will The Tax Decrease Be?

Dear Commissioner Nabers: You recently stated in your column that unemployment taxes, at least for minimum-rated employers, should be going down in 1989. Is there any dollar figure attached yet to this projection?

-S.H.
Del Rio, Texas

Dear S.H.: The PRELIMINARY projection for the minimum 1989 tax rate is .74% of the first $9000 of each employee's wages. That adds up to $66.60 per employee per year. This is down from $112.80 per employee per year in 1988.

The maximum tax rate cannot be calculated until all of the third quarter wage reports have been processed. It is also possible that the final minimum rate will vary slightly from the projected .74%. I will keep employers posted.

TEXAS BUSINESS TODAY

Dear Commissioner Nabers: I have been doing part-time maintenance and yard work for my neighborhood church to supplement my social security, but the church officials recently told me they would not be able to pay me anymore. My question is: Can I draw unemployment benefits?

-B.R.
Oleander, Texas

Dear B.R.: No, unemployment benefits are not available to you because the wages you have earned from the church are tax exempt under the Texas Unemployment Compensation Act. This means that the church is not supposed to report your wages or pay taxes to the Texas Employment Commission. Without reported wages, an individual is not covered under the unemployment insurance system and therefore cannot draw benefits.

Gau Trivia Quiz No. 265 - The first horse shoes were invented (a) when Romans began paving their streets in 200 B.C., (b) when iron was developed in London around 1256, or (c) when the Spaniards began crossing mountains in the U.S. around 1500.

Our wildlife expert, Ray Sutton of the International Wildlife Park in Grand Prairie, Tx., confirms the correct answer is (a). "Romans really paved their streets, and their poor steeds had trouble with their traction," he explained. "However, horses aren't the only domesticated animals to need foot protection."

Blacksmiths have been challenged to create unique shoe designs for some animals. Oxen, for example, have split hooves and require double shoes on each foot. "In Italy and Portugal, oxen still

BREAST CANCER DETECTION UNIT AVAILABLE TO AREA WOMEN

CALL 348-3887 FOR APPOINTMENT

Thursday, December 8, 1988
Santa Anna, Texas
A Service of City Hall

$50.00

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as the result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97 percent 10 year survival rate.

A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, even before it can be felt.

APPOINTMENTS MAY BE MADE BY CALLING 348-3403.

The American Cancer Society has established guidelines for mammography in symptomatic women. (Women who have no symptoms of disease.) Those guidelines have been adopted by the American Academy of Family Physicians, American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, and The American College of Radiology. Those guidelines are:

- I. 35-40 years of age - One baseline mammogram.
- II. 40-50 years of age - A mammogram every 1-2 years depending on breast type and risk factor.
- III. 50 years of age and over - An annual physical examination and annual mammogram.
- IV. Asymptomatic women under 50 years of age with significant high risk factors should be examined at appropriate intervals. These risk factors include previous breast cancer and family history of cancer.

V. A symptomatic woman should have a mammogram at any age when she experiences a mass, nipple discharge, skin changes or unexplained breast pain.

A screening mammogram is an x-ray of the breast using extremely low dosages of radiation (usually comparable to dental x-rays) and is designed to find very early cancers.

A female technologist who is highly trained in mammography will perform the examination.

The charge for the screening mammogram is $50.00. The Unit accepts cash, check, Visa, MasterCard and American Express.

For more information or to make an appointment call 348-3403.

TEXAS TRIVIA

When a suspension bridge officially opened in Waco in 1870 (13 years before the Brooklyn Bridge in New York City), it was not only the first suspension bridge in Texas, but at the time was the only span across the Brazos River and perhaps the longest suspension bridge in the world.

I received some bad news Wednesday evening. My brother, Bryan Shield died with a sudden heart attack. He was planning to visit me this week end for a while. It was sure a shock to me. I have had lots of company this week since then, some of the ones who visited me were: The Church of Christ minister from Bangs and Doug Perkins came Thursday morning and Annelle Clark and Pauline Eubanks, Margaret Barton, Rankin and Natalie McIver, Daisy McClatchy, Sylvia and Doug Perkins, also got a number of phone calls. A former pastor, Bill Taylor and his wife Ann came Saturday morning and Saturday evening Lonella Roesch visited me.

I went home with Rankin and Natalie McIver after church Sunday morning. I had dinner with them and visited in the afternoon.

Virgil Newman died Sunday. His funeral will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday, at First Baptist Church in Santa Anna.

It's a good idea for women to quit smoking before they consider becoming pregnant.

This tasty Fudge Pecan Pie can be easy as, well, pie, even for busy homemakers.

What's cooking in America's kitchens? Not as much as there used to be, it seems. Lots of people would love to enjoy a freshly baked pie or cake for dessert—but few can afford to spend hours in the kitchen these days. What's a dessert lover to do?

To the rescue! A scrumptious recipe from the people at PET Kitchens—that's extra-easy and quick to prepare. Working mothers, busy homemakers and even those less than gifted with culinary talents will appreciate this recipe for Fudge Pecan Pie. The rich fudge filling makes it a chocolate lover's delight.

Fudge Pecan Pie
1 PET-RITZ Deep Dish Pie Crust Shell
1/2 cup butter
3 Tablespoons cocoa
3/4 cup hot water
2 cups sugar

1/2 cup flour
1/8 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 small can (5.33 oz.) PET Evaporated Milk
1 cup pecan halves
1 cup LA CREME Whipped Topping with Real Cream, thawed

Preheat oven and cookie sheet to 350°F. In medium sauce pan, melt butter. Add cocoa and stir until dissolved. Add hot water and stir again. With wire whisk blend in sugar, flour, salt, extract and evaporated milk. Stir until batter is smooth. Mix in pecans and pour into pie crust. Bake on preheated cookie sheet for 50 minutes or until custard sets. Remove from oven and allow to cool for at least 1 1/2 to 2 hours. Garnish with whipped topping.

Goodness Gracious
It's Good
Add Zest With Versatile Lemons

Cut into a bright yellow lemon and close your eyes. For just a second you might see yourself on the beach of a tropical island or you may be sitting in a rocking chair on a shaded porch sipping a cool glass of fresh-squeezed lemonade.

Wherever your thoughts may take you, chances are lemons just say "fresh," no matter how they are used.

SEASON: Available year-round.
LOOK FOR: Firm, bright fruits that are heavy for their size. Pale or yellowish-green lemons are higher in acid. Avoid soft, shriveled or hard-skinned lemons.
TO STORE: Keep lemons for a few days at room temperature. Refrigerate and use up to 2 weeks.

For a fresh treat anytime of year, try Iced Lemon Butter Bars. Full of fresh flavor and dusted with confectioners' sugar, these bars are perfect for snacks, showers, receptions or gifts.

Iced Lemon Butter Bars
1 1/2 cups sifted Martha White All-Purpose Flour
1 cup sugar, divided
1/2 cup butter, softened
2 eggs
2 tablespoons Martha White All-Purpose Flour
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Confectioners' sugar

Preheat oven to 350°F. Combine 1 1/2 cups sifted flour, 1/4 cup sugar and butter in bowl; blend until dough forms a ball. Pat into ungreased 9-inch square baking pan. Bake 15 minutes. Combine eggs, remaining 1/2 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, lemon peel, and lemon juice in bowl; blend well. Pour over partially baked crust. Bake 18 to 20 minutes, or until filling is set. Sift confectioners' sugar over top. Cool in pan on wire rack. Cut into bars. Makes 16 bars.

An all-time lemon favorite is Lemon Meringue Pie. For this and other old-fashioned favorites, write for "Pies to Please" at The Martha White Kitchen, P.O. Box 58, Dept. St. Nashville, TN 37202.

NEWS OF HEALTH

Why You Shouldn't Smoke If You're Planning A Baby

Here's an important health message for married couples who're thinking about starting a family: quit smoking today! It may make it easier to become pregnant and help insure a healthier baby.

According to a recent study by the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences, cigarette smoking, even in moderate amounts may reduce fertility. There's also evidence that a man's smoking may lower his fertility due to an association with a higher number of abnormal sperm. Once a woman becomes pregnant, smoking increases the risk of miscarriage, premature birth, low infant birthweight and even fetal death.

Cigarette smoke contains carbon monoxide and nicotine, both poisonous substances. When a pregnant woman smokes, even before she knows she is pregnant, these poisons get into her body and can affect the developing fetus. Quitting smoking now can help you create the healthiest possible environment for the first eight weeks of pregnancy, the most critical phase of fetal development. Many women don't even realize they're pregnant during the critical first eight weeks.
