Local Voters Give Bush Narrow Margin

The margin was not as great for George Bush among Santa Anna voters as it was nation wide or even county wide, but the 594 local voters did favor him and his running mate Dan Quayle by 11 votes on Tuesday.

Here is how the vote went locally:

Bush/Quayle 299 to Dukakis/Benson - 289.
Ron Paul/Andre Marrou, Libertarian Party candidates, received 3 votes.
Apparently, three persons chose not to cast ballots in the presidential race.
In the Senate race, Benton led with 381 votes to 198 for Boulter and one vote for Jeff Daiell, the Libertarian Party candidate.

Charles Stenholm was unopposed for Dist. 17 Representative with 456 votes.
Railroad Commissioner: Jim Nugent, 429; Ed Emmett 127. Draheim, 2, and Lozano, 2.

Railroad Commissioner, unexpired term: Kent Hance, 286; Clint Hackney, 274.
Chief Justice Supreme Court, unexpired term; Robertson, 298; Phillips, 263.

Santa Anna's Pride Of The Month

This charming home at 704 Ave. B is the pride of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Turney and was selected as the Pride of Santa Anna for the month of November. The picture does not do justice to the lovely potted geraniums that grace the walk and porch and the other blooms that have been such a joy to behold for the past few weeks. The always neat yard is a source of pride for the entire neighborhood and for the community as well as for the owners. (S.A. News Photo)

Basketball Begins Tuesday For High School

The Santa Anna High School basketball schedule calls for the SAHS boys and girls to be in Eden Tuesday at 4:00 for their first basketball game of the season. Boys and girls varsity and junior varsity teams are slated to play. There is the possibility that a change will have to be made if Eden advances further into the football play-offs. Eden plays Rising Star Friday for bi-district at Early.

On Friday, November 18, the teams are scheduled to play Rising Star there, that is if there is no conflict with Rising Star advancing in the football play-offs.

Methodist Men Turkey Supper Tonight (Thurs)

The Methodist Men's Club of First United Methodist Church will be serving their annual Turkey Supper this evening at the school cafeteria from 5 to 7 p.m.

The meal will consist of turkey and the traditional trimmings. Adult plates will cost $4 and school aged children may eat for $1.50. Pre-school children will be served free of charge when accompanying their parents. Carry-outs will be available.

The event is held each year to raise funds for the many benevolences supported by the group. It also provides an opportunity to visit with friends and neighbors while enjoying a delicious meal.

Community Christmas Events To Remember

Commissioners Deny Request To Cut Through County Road

The agenda was short when the county commissioners met October 31. All were present except Precinct 2 commissioner Jake McCreary.

West Oil Company, represented by an attorney, requested a variance to allow them to cut through a county road rather than drill under it. The pipeline location is in Precinct 3 west of Valera. The estimated cost to drill under the road at that location was stated to be above $8,000.

After much discussion, the commissioners denied the request, suggesting that the company attempt to relocate the proposed line. Precinct 4 Commissioner, Max Horne, and others, explained that they wished to hold firm to the stated "drill under" policy while desiring to encourage production from oil and gas wells in the county.

There was another request for easement - this one for a pipeline near the Buffalo community. No action was taken because the request did not state how the pipe line crossing would be made.

Funding was okayed for a road hand position in Precinct 1 and the employment of Bill Trammell was approved.

The provisions of a new directive from the State of Texas about solid waste disposal sites has been received by the County. They are to businesses.

Sunday, December 11, the Chamber will sponsor a Mexican Luncheon at the Lions Club building. Make plans now to go by after church and have an authentic Mexican meal of homemade tacos, tamales, enchiladas, rice, refried beans, and a praline for dessert. Cost of the meal will be $5.

Beginning at 1:00 that Sunday afternoon, there will be a tour of homes at the cost of $3 per person.

Loaves & Fishes Ministry Extends To Santa Anna

It is estimated that 12-15 percent of the residents of Coleman County are numbered among those who receive food from the Loaves and Fishes Food Ministry Pantry in Coleman. Since the recently reported state poverty figures classified Coleman County in the 20-29 percent poverty group, this would suggest that quite a few additional residents of the county need the services of the Loaves and Fishes, and other programs providing assistance, but for whatever the reason, these people do not come for help in their need.

Assistance through the Loaves and Fishes Food Ministry is based solely on the perceived need of those who come for assistance. There is no charge for the food distributed or served through the ministry.

Grantland Groves, Coordinator of the ministry, informs us it needs to be emphasized that the program is actually a countywide project and not just for residents of Coleman. He adds that while the number of recipient households outside the city of Coleman is not known, records indicate that at least sixty-

Silver Haired Legislature Names Priority Resolutions

The top ten priority resolutions adopted by the Texas Silver-Haired Legislature include the following:

1. Resolution recommending to the 71st Texas Legislature that the Texas Medicaid Income Eligibility Cap of $687.15 be raised to 100% of the allowable, $1,062.
2. Resolution asking support of the Texas Department of aging's In-Home Community-Based Health Care, thereby avoiding or postponing care in institutions in which the cost to the state is much higher.
3. Resolution which states the opposition of the Texas Silver-Haired Legislature to any change in the present Homestead Act as it now stands in the Texas Constitution.
4. A resolution that supports the need for a program of instruction in public schools which will address the problem of teenage pregnancies.
5. Resolution urging the enactment of a law amending the constitutional tax imposed upon six family units are currently from Santa Anna, representing 210 people - 123 adults and 87 children. Santa Anna recipients of food represent over 15% of the total served. Over the past year 80 Santa Anna households have been assisted by the ministry. During the most recent four-month period of assistance, 32 of 91 new families receiving assistance from the program reside in Santa Anna. (35% of the total).

Two years have passed now since The Coleman Food Ministry began to transport food from the Concho Valley Regional Food Bank in San Angelo to fill a need in Coleman County for assisting those under the poverty level. As of last month the total poundage of food and other items brought from San Angelo to Coleman during this period exceeded 100,000 pounds - over fifty tons - mostly hauled in pickups by volunteers!

October was the most active month to date for the Loaves and Fishes Food Ministry of Coleman since the program's initiation by the Coleman Ministerial Association in 1985. Both the Boys Scouts and Cub Scouts of Santa Anna are holding their annual popcorn sales through November 15, 1988.

The popcorn comes in a bucket containing 2 - 1.75 ounce packages and makes over 63 quarts of delicious popcorn. It comes microwavable in 5 - 3.5 ounce microwavable bags and produces nearly 2 1/2 quarts each of butter flavored popcorn. The cost is $5.00 for the bucket or microwavable.

If you would like to have some delicious popcorn please contact a scout or call 348-3058 by Tuesday November 15, 1988.

Coleman City Council and the Coleman County Commissioner's Court have recently decided to assist the ministry with expenses incurred, and other churches, groups and agencies within the county may be approached soon to consider support for the Loaves and Fishes Ministry.

Location for the Loaves and Fishes is 515 West Pecan in Coleman. Meals are prepared and served each Tuesday and Thursday for those who are in need of the service. The meals are served during the noon hour at the former junior high lunch room, the same room in which food distributions are made on Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday, 9:00 to 11:00 a.m.

Work is done by volunteers and several Santa Anna people assist with the program. Food stuffs are also distributed to households with a once a month limitation for household distributions. In October the distributions to households were the most numerous to date, according to Groves, with 256 households receiving food distributions. Of this number 37 were households receiving food from the pantry for the first time, representing 111 people (64 adults and 47 children).

Those wishing more information about the ministry and its services may contact Grantland Groves, 400 West College Ave., Coleman, Texas 76834 or (915) 625-2672.

The community and residents of the county are reminded of the ongoing need for funds to secure food for distribution and food to prepare meals. Donations of meat are especially needed, including wild turkey and deer, but other food items are welcome. Checks for the support of this ministry, which is tax deductible, may be made out to "The Loves and Fishes Food Ministry" and sent to Rev. Larry Cyr, treasurer of the Coleman Ministerial Association, 303 E. College, Coleman, Texas 76834.

Payment for this will not be due until the popcorn is delivered after December 5, 1988.

Also anyone interested in purchasing popcorn to donate to the Ranger Park Inn residents, may contact Carol Herring at 348-3058 or Tex Wright at 348-3655. We are told the popcorn is very tender and of excellent quality for older persons or anyone with dental problems.

The major portion of funds raised from the sale of the popcorn will benefit local scouting.

Friendship Luncheon

Contributed

There were over thirty in attendance last week for the Thursday Friendship luncheon. The McCary's were missing. Seven friends were there from Coleman bringing along their favorite dishes. Virgil Priddy was back after an absence while having a checkup and treatment in Santa Fe Hospital in Temple.

Doris Griffin gave a treasurer's report, listing expenses and then stating there was a nice balance in the "kitty".

Birthday greetings were sung to Maudie Fields. The Rev. Claude Davison gave the table grace and later sang two beautiful old hymns for the pleasure of all.

Ray Owen asked that all bring their pastors to the meetings and they would be welcomed as reverend guests. He also emphasized there is never any smoking at these gatherings.

A card was passed for all to sign for mailing to Madara Gilmore, one of the regulars, who is temporarily confined to the local rest home recuperating from a cracked bone.

All are welcome to come and join the fellowship. The group meets for a covered dish luncheon each Thursday at the Mountain City Community Center at 11:30.

Far Reaching News

Tex Wright tells us that our recent publication of an article about the Parson family has resulted in his receiving a letter of inquiry from Mary Noble of St. Joseph, Missouri. Seems the friend of a friend sent the article to Ms. Noble as they were aware of her research on a Parson family tree. We are uncertain if there is a family connection there but would be interested to know what they come up with.

Approximately 30 singers from several Santa Anna churches were on hand for the Sunday afternoon rehearsal for the Community Christmas program. The interdenominational group meets each Sunday afternoon from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. to rehearse the program that will be presented on Sunday, December 11.

Patrick Hosch, a member of the First Baptist Church, is director of the cantata "Carol of Christmas" by John Peterson. The cantata is a favorite as it includes many of the favorite Christmas carols.

Others who would like to sing with the choir are urged to attend the rehearsals and take part. Sandra Guthrie is pianist and Lera Guthrie is organist for the cantata.

Thoughts From Our Pastors

By J. D. Ferguson
Northside Baptist Church

"LORD TO WHOM SHALL WE GO"

One day there was a group of disciples following Christ as He spoke to them some thing that they didn't like to hear. They said in John Chapter 6 verse 60, "This is a hard saying; who can hear it." Many of them turned back and walked with Him no more. In the 67th verse of Chapter 6 Christ asked His apostles if they too would go away? In verse 68 Peter answered Him and said, "Lord, to whom shall we go? Thou hast the words of eternal life."

Yes indeed, to whom shall we go if we cannot go to Christ? I am glad that He invites every one to come to Him. To bring all to Him. Some questions for us to think about.

To whom shall we go in our hour of trouble and sorrow? Many in Christ's day learned that there was no one like Jesus. Mary and Martha called for Jesus in their hour of sorrow, Stephen called for Jesus in his hour of trouble.

To whom shall we go when we need a friend? We are told in the scriptures that there is a "friend that sticketh closer than a brother."

To whom shall we go when we need a teacher? There is no teacher like Jesus. He knows the lesson and the pupil. He will teach us all things.

To whom shall we go for Truth? Jesus said, "I am the way, the truth, and the life." "Ye shall know the truth and it shall set you free."

To whom shall we go for salvation? Jesus said, "I am come to seek and to save the lost." "Ye must be born again." "I am the way, the truth and the life, no man cometh unto the Father but by me." There is no other name given under heaven where by ye must be saved.

Career, Family, Stress Examined In Working Women's Survey

Working women can enjoy their work while maintaining a quality home life, according to the No nonsense* Women's Attitude Survey. The Gallup Organization interviewed 1,000 working women, aged 18-54, about their attitudes toward their jobs and families, and the comfort or stress found at home. The sample represented the more than 55% of American women who work outside the home.

Dr. Harriet Braiker (a clinical psychologist and author of "The Type E Woman: How to Overcome the Stress of Being Everything to Everybody") developed the survey questionnaire and analyzed the results.

75% of the 1,000 working women interviewed rated the quality of their family relationships as "very good."

23% rated their family relationships as "fairly good."

Overall, these positive responses are evidence that households with working women are not suffering a decline in their quality of life," said Dr. Braiker. "In addition," she said, "the more satisfied women were with their jobs, the more satisfying their perception of their home life."

However, there seems to be a price attached to juggling a family and career. Dr. Braiker also found that 75% of all the women interviewed experience Type E stress. Not surprisingly, more mothers—married and unmarried—labeled themselves as having Type E stress than either DINKS (Dual Income No Kids) or single women without children.

"The stress that comes as a result of managing both a family and career is not necessarily bad. Rather, it can be a byproduct of high motivation and a strong sense of purpose," said Dr. Braiker. "Working women find support in their families."

80% of the women surveyed reported their families are a source of comfort rather than stress.

"Despite the fact that a high percentage of women report suffering from Type E stress, the women in the No nonsense survey seemed reasonably successful in 'having it all' by their own report," Dr. Braiker said. "However, too much stress can be a health hazard. Women who are Type E sufferers need to learn coping skills in order to avoid stress overload and its negative effects."

Library Notes

Check It Out
If you're like the average frequent reader, you probably read upwards of ten to 15 hours each week, and prefer reading to watching television as a leisure activity. That's what the nation's largest bookseller found out in a recent survey of 3,600 readers. The readers, all members of one of Waldenbooks' five readers' clubs, were given the opportunity to comment on topics directly related to their preferred book genre. Many of the results were rather surprising.

Over 80 percent of the mystery and espionage readers surveyed believe the president and vice president are covering up their involvement in the Iran-Contra affair.

Romance readers see romance changing in the 1980s, and are less interested in a night at the opera than in an evening at home with pizza and a rented movie.

Science fiction and fantasy readers rated the discovery of life on other planets as important to them, and believe alien life will soon be discovered.

Older readers are interested in learning new tricks, citing self-improvement as an important quality in a good book, and agreeing that one can never be too old to better oneself.

The focus of young readers is on the future, with over 80 percent agreeing that by the time they're adults, we'll have had black and female presidents.

The School And Community Can Be Proud Of The SAHS Band

The Santa Anna Mighty Marching Band is an organization that the community can be justly proud of, not only for their accomplishments but for their attitude and good sportsmanship.

As everyone knows by now the band advanced to the regional UIL marching competition in Austin recently but did not advance to the state contest. The Menard Yellow Jacket Band was one of the two bands chosen from this region to take part in the state competition.

Last Friday night at Menard the SAHS band showed everyone the caliber of young people that the band is made up of and indeed the caliber of young people that our local school produces. Their exemplary conduct has been noticed time and again throughout the year's activities.

As they took the field for their halftime show at the Santa Anna-Menard football game, the band director, Lonnie Baker, and the band saluted the Menard Band for their superior rating at the regional contest. Later in the evening, much to the delight of the Menard Band and fans, the SAHS band members via a card display from the bleachers, once again paid tribute to the Yellow Jacket band and wished them "Good Luck" in the state competition.

For all this was happening at the time the SAHS football team was suffering a stinging defeat from the Menard Yellow Jackets. This shows the world that we are certainly well represented by our students and we can justly take pride in them. They are this writer's nomination for "The Pride of Santa Anna".

We are proud of you, Mighty Mountaineer Band and director Lonnie Baker!

P.S.....You will find in the advertisements, a message from the folks in Menard.

Train and equip yourself to win the prize - let others explain why they lost it.

THE PLIGHT OF THE RED MAN: WHEN WILL IT MATTER ENOUGH?

by Holly Hoffman

"I have a dream." The immortal words of Dr Martin Luther King, Jr., still ring with the call for equality of all people. However, although the Black American has gained substantial ground in his fight for identity, the Native American still remains in much the same focus as the day the last one was put on a reservation. What have these people done to bring such outrage and disgust from the white community? The answer is simple: They have done the same as nearly anyone of us would do today -- protect what they consider their own.

The Native Americans were once proud, fiercely loyal people. Now, you ask? Now, they are a people broken and divided. The statistics of this tragedy are staggering: it is believed that 70% of all Native Americans teenaged and older are alcoholic and that the infant mortality rate is double that of the national average. The American Indians have been placed on reservations and forced to obey whatever "white policy" the government deemed necessary for their continued submission for years. What will it take for white society to finally be satisfied -- the bleeding heart and soul of the entire Indian nation?

There are agencies designed to help: The Bureau of Indian Affairs, for example. However, when the corruption is as great as it is in these agencies, and when the people supposed to be helped are as divided as the American Indians... there is little any small group or agency can do. It will take the foresight of a great many people to change this situation for the better. The question is: Who is going to care enough?

Are we -- white America -- so superior as to think that eventually these people will disappear and stop being our problem? We cannot! These people are our concern,

West Texans Honor Their Country Doc

The following article, shared by a reader, originally appeared in the Alumni News of University Of Texas Medical Branch.

Since 1947, the medical office of J.B. Stephens, M.D., class of '43, has been visited by almost everyone in Bangs, Tx. (population 1,700). "I've delivered two generations of babies in this town," he says.

The citizens of Bangs had some years ago recognized the doctor's loyalty to the community by naming J.B. Stephens Elementary School in his honor. He was also recently honored with an appreciation dinner and the proclamation of Stephens Day.

Residents of this small West Texas town know him as J.B., Steve, Doc, or Bill. But whichever name they use, they know him best as the man, who for years, was the only doctor in their community.

Sr. Stephens retired from his practice in Bangs in 1986 and now practices three days a week, nine miles away in Brownwood. He also treats patients in Bangs Nursing Home.

Dr. Stephens lives halfway between Bangs and Brownwood; but his practice is now closer to Brownwood Regional Hospital. "Being closer to the hospital makes it easier on me. I still see many of the same patients," he says. "They just drive from Bangs to Brownwood to see me."

After 40 years in practice, Dr. Stephens was looking for an opportunity to "wind down a little bit". That opportunity came when he was contacted by an osteopathic physician who was interested in practicing in Bangs.

"I could have retired and left the town without a doctor, but I felt too much loyalty to just walk out," he says.

A native of Bangs, Dr. Stephens enrolled in Howard Payne College with plans to go to medical school. He taught high school science courses for three and a half years to earn money for medical school. (Dr. Stephens taught a while here in Santa Anna). After he was graduated from UTMB and served in the U.S. Navy Medical Corp, Dr. Stephens returned to his hometown to begin his family practice.

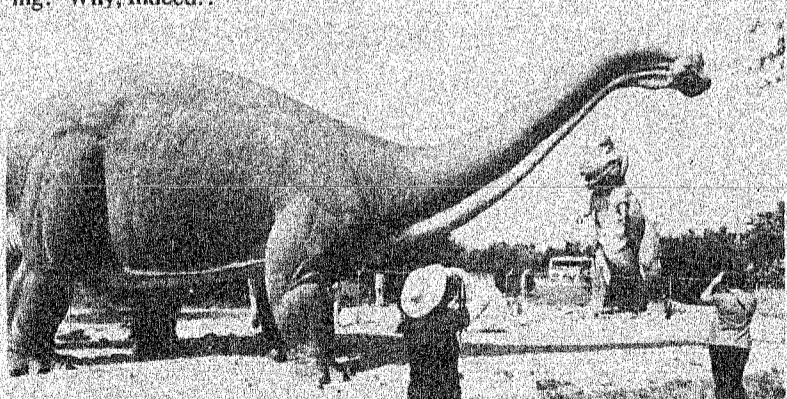

Dr. Stephens says he always new he wanted to be a doctor. "I wanted to practice medicine in the country, but didn't want to be a country doctor," he says. "I've always strived to keep up with advances in medicine."

Like his career in medicine, Dr. Stephens has also cut back on the time he spends on his other major interest, ranching. He leases much of his land now but makes his home on his ranch where he runs 25 head of polled Herefords.

"I'm real happy to be winding down in my practice and in my life," Dr. Stephens says. "I couldn't ask for a more pleasurable decline."

Mountaineers End Season With Stinging Defeat By Menard

At the end of the first quarter Santa Anna was ahead by a score of 8-7 last Friday night in Menard, but Menard put two touchdowns on the board in each of the last three quarters to bring an end to the season for the Mountaineers. It wrapped up an undefeated district campaign for the Yellow Jackets who will meet Cross Plains at Wall Friday night in a bi-district tilt. Rising Star and Eden will tangle at Early Friday night.

Even though the Mountaineers experienced a frustrating and troublesome season, they kept their pride in tact and represented Santa Anna High School and the community well, as the fine young men that they are. They ended with a 3-2 district record and 5-5 on the season. The coaching staff of Frank Gray, Jerry Magin, Randy Pool and Dean Bass are also to be commended for taking a bad situation and making things happen to help the Mountaineers handle themselves with pride.

Coach Frank Gray commented that the Mountaineers played extremely well for a quarter and a half against Menard but then two costly mistakes afforded 2 TD's for the Yellow Jackets and Santa Anna was just never able to overcome them. Menard took a 7-0 lead 4:32 into the game on a one yard run by Darren Pullen and Damon Lawson's PAT.

Santa Anna answered when Jody Purcell took the ball in from four yards out and James Hartman passed to Purcell for the two-point conversion giving the Mountaineers an 8-7 lead.

Menard pulled to a 19-8 halftime lead with runs from Jesse Ramon and Pullen. Both extra point attempts failed. Pullen scored again on a 36-yard run with 7:36 left in the third quarter and Russ Gonzales scored again for the Yellow Jackets with a 16-yard run.

Fourth-quarter scores for Menard came from a Ramon 58-yard pass to Clint Walker and a Amalio Ramon run. The Mountaineers came back with the final score on a run by Hartman with 1:01 remaining, but the two-point conversion failed.

The Yellow Jackets outran the Mountaineers 309 rushing yards to 126.

Herbert Jackson led Santa Anna with 74 yards in 10 carries. Pullen led all rushers with 139 yards for the night.

Bran And Fruit Combine For Luscious Lunch Box Treats

It's time once again for those empty lunch boxes to line up and wait expectantly to be filled. Dessert, of course, is a must but how to add something that's delicious and not just extra calories is always a challenge.

Faye Egan and her staff at the Nabisco Brands consumer food center have come up with the solution. Apple-Raspberry Crisp and Zucchini Apple Cake are unbeatable taste combinations with the healthy qualities of bran and fruit. Crunchy and sweet, either makes a deliciously satisfying end of the meal treat that can be easily shipped into a packed lunch.

Apple-Raspberry Crisp Makes 8 Servings

- 1 (10-ounce) package frozen raspberries in syrup, thawed
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 2 cups NABISCO 100% Bran
- 1/2 cup chopped pecans
- 1/2 cup margarine, melted
- 1/3 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 4 cups sliced apples
- Prepared whipped topping, for garnish

In saucepan, over medium heat, heat raspberries and syrup with cornstarch until mixture thickens and begins to boil; set aside.

Combine bran, pecans, margarine and brown sugar; reserve 1 cup. Press remaining bran mixture on bottom of 13 x 9 x 2-inch baking dish. Layer apple slices over crumbs; top with raspberry sauce. Sprinkle with reserved bran mixture. Bake at 350° F for 20 minutes. Garnish with whipped topping if desired.

Zucchini Apple Cake Makes 12 servings

- 1 1/4 cups NABISCO 100% Bran
- 1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 teaspoon pumpkin pie spice
- 1 1/2 cups firmly packed brown sugar
- 1 cup margarine, melted
- 3 eggs
- 2 teaspoons vanilla extract
- 2 cups shredded zucchini
- 1 cup chopped apple
- Cream Cheese Frosting (recipe follows)
- Apple slices, for garnish

Reserve 2 tablespoons bran. Combine remaining bran, flour, baking powder, baking soda and pumpkin pie spice.

With mixer, beat brown sugar, margarine, eggs and vanilla until smooth. Stir in zucchini, apple and bran mixture. Spread into 2 greased and waxed paper-lined 9-inch round cake pans. Bake at 350° F for 40 to 45 minutes. Cool in pans 10 minutes. Remove from pans; cool on wire rack.

Spread half the Cream Cheese Frosting on top of one cake layer. Place second layer on top; spread top with remaining frosting. Top with reserved bran and apple slices.

Cream Cheese Frosting: Blend 3 ounces cream cheese, 1/4 cup margarine and 2 cups confectioner's sugar until spreading consistency.

The Home of the 80s

Refrigerators

Quality results in the kitchen begin with fresh food, so it's vital that the primary food storage product—the refrigerator—do its job: keeping foods fresh and edible.

Meats have very particular storage needs. There is a "right way" to package and store meats, and home economists from Whirlpool Corporation recommend the following meat storage tips:

- store fresh meat in the meat pan in its store wrapping or in aluminum foil.
  - wrap or cover cooked meat with plastic wrap or foil and store immediately.
  - keep cured or smoked meats and cold cuts in their original wrappings. Once opened, tightly re-wrap in plastic wrap or foil.
  - store canned hams on the shelf or in the refrigerator, according to label instructions. Do not freeze.
  - wrap fresh poultry in plastic wrap, or store in the meat pan in original store wrapping.
- The home economists also note that refrigerator storage times differ by type of meat: 1 or 2 days for chicken and ground beef, 3 to 5 days for steaks, roasts and cold cuts; 5 to 7 days for bacon; and 7 to 10 days for cured meats. Fresh fish and shellfish should be used the same day as purchased.

Are your attitudes about mental illness still in the dark ages?

Our notions about mental illness have a long, dark history. Age-old fears, resentments and scorn still poison our perceptions. Sadly, these misunderstandings keep us from seeing mental illness for what it really is: a distressing medical disease. A disease that afflicts over 35 million Americans.

But the stigma of mental illness keeps most of those afflicted from seeking help. Which is tragic. Because today there's more hope than ever before. In recent years, medical science has begun to unlock many of the mysteries of mental illness and discovered new drugs and better therapies to treat it.

In fact, today, 2 out of 3 people who get help go on to lead productive lives. For an informative booklet about mental illness, contact the American Mental Health Fund.

Energy Saving Ideas

There are a number of low-cost energy saving ideas that are easy on the budget and can help consumers save money on utility bills, according to the American Gas Association.

1. Weather stripping and caulking. Look for air cracks around doors, windows and other openings, such as around pipes and ducts. Seal them by caulking, with weather stripping, or by stuffing insulation in the open areas that are letting in the outside air.
2. Thermostat. Set the thermostat between 65 and 70 degrees in the winter, at least 5 degrees lower when sleeping, and at 58 degrees when away from the house. However, warmer temperatures are recommended for homes with ill or elderly persons and/or infants. During the summer, set the thermostat at 78 degrees and 5 degrees higher when away from the house. Consider installing a clock thermostat to automatically control temperature settings.
3. Water heater. The water heater is a major energy user. Consider an insulation wrap, and be sure to follow manufacturer's directions. Install water flow restrictors in showerheads and faucets. They can cut hot water use without affecting family comfort. When replacing a water heater, choose an energy-efficient model.
4. Heating/cooling systems. Filters in heating and cooling units should be cleaned or replaced twice each year. Vents can be closed in unused rooms and the doors shut. Insulate ducts and pipes in unheated spaces. When replacing heating or cooling systems, choose a high-efficiency model.
5. Sunlight. Keep direct sunlight out in summer. Let it in during the winter. Drapes, shutters, awnings, shade trees, glass with reflective film and solar screens all help.
6. Appliances and lighting. Fully load dryers, clothes washers and dishwashers. Set dishwashers to stop before the drying cycle. Turn off unneeded lights. If replacing appliances, buy energy-efficient models. Look for appliance efficiency labels and compare operating costs.
7. Attic and ceiling insulation. Check to see if your attic has the recommended level of insulation. Remember to insulate the attic door.
8. Floors and foundation walls. Check for adequate insulation under floors, around the basement, crawl spaces and foundation walls.
9. Windows and doors. Consider storm or thermal windows and doors or double-paned glass to keep in heat and air conditioning. Some stores sell low-cost plastic sheeting for windows and doors, as well as insulated window blankets and shades.
10. Exterior walls. Consider adding insulation, particularly when remodeling or re-siding your house.
