Southside Clean Up Saturday

Saturday has been designated as clean up day for the south side of the city. There will be collection of heavy trash, etc. on that day.

Residents of the south side of town, all areas south of Wallis Ave., are to place their heavy trash items, brush, tree limbs, etc. near their regular garbage collection site. Anyone having unusually large or heavy items should notify City Hall before Saturday.

Commodities To Be Distributed Tuesday

USDA surplus commodities will be distributed next Tuesday at the Armory from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Those participating are asked to bring identification needed for re-certification of eligibility for the new year.

Good Turn Out For Santa Anna Youth Fair

There was plenty of activity as Santa Anna young people showed their stock and pride in the local youth fair held Saturday at the show arena at the High School campus.

In conjunction with the show which is sponsored annually by the Santa Anna Livestock Association, the organization also served barbecue to approximately 500 people. The weather cooperated to help bring out a good crowd of spectators for the show and the youngsters and their sponsors appreciated the interest and support shown by members of the community.

Sixty seven hogs were shown and 36 lambs. Several pens of rabbits were shown and we are sorry that as of press time we had not been able to obtain the results of the rabbit judging. Of course, all these people were immediately involved in the County show as soon as they were finished with the local show.

Winners in the swine judging were as follows:

HEAVYWEIGHT (13 head): Joey Cupps, 1; William Loyd, 2; and Jason Dean, 3. Others were Joey Cupps, 4; William Loyd, 5; Scotty Herrod, 6. Others showing were Mark Yancy, Grady Clay McIver, Betsy McIver, Chris Simmons, and Julie Dean.

FOOD AND CLOTHING

In the food and clothing show, the following report was turned in to the News:

CLOTHING: Grand Champion, Rachel Phillips. Reserve Champion, Shannon Brown.

FOOD: Grand Champion, Amy Sauvour. Reserve Champion, Candi Daniel.

Although reports were not complete before our cutoff time for typesetting at noon Tuesday, we were able to find out some of the results of the County Livestock show involving some of our local young people.

A complete report will be published next week after all results have been obtained.

Bradley Wise showed the Grand Champion of Show lamb with a medium wool lamb. He also had the Champion finewool lamb and Champion Angus steer and Reserve Champion steer.

Nathan Wise showed the Champion crossbred lamb, the Champion Southdown, and Reserve Champion finewool lamb. He also showed the Champion steer of the OPB class (other pure bred).

Chris Cheaney showed the Reserve Southdown lamb.

In the hog judging, William Loyd showed the Reserve Champion OPB and Misty Bradley, the Reserve Champion of the crossbred division.

Hartman Named Finalist For Academic All-State Football

JAMES HARTMAN

James Hartman of Santa Anna High School is one of sixty hard-working high school seniors who have combined football with classroom success and active participation in school and community life, and who have been named as finalists for the 1988-89 Fina Academic All-State Football team.

The selection is based on his academic achievements and his participation and leadership in school and community activities. He is a candidate for selection as one of 11 members of the Academic All-State Team. Each team member will be awarded a $2,000 scholarship. Hartman is president of the student body and twice was president of his class. He also is president of the National Honor Society.

He received Academic Excellence Awards in business, English, math, science and social studies. Hartman is a two-time regional and district winner in UIL Number Sense, Biology and science. He worked on the annual staff and also was a member of FFA and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. He was vice president of the Science Club.

He is captain of the football, basketball and tennis teams. He

No Need To Pay For S S Services

People in the Brownwood area have been receiving direct mail solicitations asking that they pay $7 to join an organization that says it will provide many services related to Social Security. Randall Stogner, Social Security Manager in Brownwood said recently.

First, Mr. Stogner said, there is no need to pay any firm to obtain any services provided by Social Security.

In return for the $7 payment, this firm offers to provide a statement of a person's earnings covered by Social Security, a plastic card, and a guide to Social Security.

Any person can obtain a statement of Social Security covered earnings without paying anybody. All a person has to do is call any Social Security office and request a statement of earnings form. After completing the form and mailing it, the person will receive the statement in a few weeks. This firm can do no more.

In addition, there is no need for a plastic Social Security Card, Mr. Stogner said. It is of no use for Social Security purposes. The Social Security number card issued by the Social Security Administration is the only official card and should be used whenever a Social Security card is needed.

People can obtain many publications about Social Security free at any Social Security office. Just call any office and ask, Stogner said.

Free information about Social Security and free Social Security cards can be obtained at the Brownwood Social Security office. Just call 915-646-7355 for more information. Toll-free service is available for those who have to call long distance. The toll-free number is 1-800-234-5772.

Joey Cupp's crossbred hog was named Grand Champion of the swine show at the Santa Anna Youth Fair Saturday.

William Loyd's Hamp was named Reserve Champion of the Santa Anna Youth Fair swine show. William also brought home Reserve Champion of the OPB class from the County Show.

WTU Customers To See Increase On Electric Bills

West Texas Utilities Co. has received permission to recover the cost of a replacement fuel contract at its Rio Pecos Power Station. The station near McCombs Texas is one of nine power stations operated by the utility. The plant has been burning the higher-priced replacement gas since late December.

"A residential customer using 1000 kilowatt hours of electricity a month will see his average bill go from $78.42 to $82.77," WTU local manager Charles Wetzel said. The actual increase in a customer's bill will vary depending on usage level, the customer group and time of year.

The company has different summer and winter rates as directed by the Public Utility Commission of Texas. The PUCT regulates utility rates in Texas, and it was this state agency which authorized the price increase.

Although the average cost of fuel on the company's many fuel contracts has not changed significantly, the replacement cost on this pre-oil embargo gas contract were nine

Thoughts From Our Pastors

EDITOR'S NOTE: In the absence of "Thoughts" from one of our local pastors, we hope you will enjoy the following.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER
Michael A. Guido
Metter, Georgia

An usher asked a lady, "How far down do you want to sit?"
"All the way," she answered, "I'm very tired."
"Are you tired? Do you say, 'I can't take it any more...I've got more than I can bear...the load's too much for me!'"

Then hear the words of our Lord, "Come to Me, all of you who are exhausted and weighted down with your load, and I will give you rest."

The word "rest" means relief from above. Come to the Lord, and He'll give you relief from fear and its failure, guilt and its grief, worry and its woe, sin and its servitude.

You're coming to the Lord now, aren't you?

A man took his watch to a jeweler. As he handed him the parts, he said, "I made the mistake of dropping it." "No," he answered, "you made the mistake of picking it up."

A king shattered his life with sin. But David picked up the broken pieces and brought them to the Lord, saying, "A broken heart, You will not despise." The Lord accepted him, and he became a brand new person.
Got a broken heart? Bring it to the Lord. He'll solve your problems, undo your tangles, forgive your sins, and heal your heart. You'll come to Him, won't you? And call on me if I can help you.

A minister came home one afternoon and he couldn't find his little girl. He rushed to her room and he saw this note: "Dear Dad, I'm up at school jumping hurdles. Love, Karen."

I like that, don't you? There are obstacles in your life and mine. You can stumble over them or surmount them. It all depends on whether you have faith in God.

Faith in God turns obstacles into opportunities, and you'll soar, not sink.

Testified one, "I can do everything through Him who gives me strength."

With His strength, you can say with assurance, "I'm jumping hurdles."

Around & About

The Nutrition Program is sponsoring a Domino party in the Nutrition Room of the Armory from 5:30 to about 7:30, every Thursday evening. Refreshments will be served. Everyone age 55 or older is invited to attend and join the fun.

Velda Mills is a patient in Brownwood Regional Hospital recovering from surgery performed last week. She is getting along well and expects to be at home soon.

Several churches in the community will be having fifth Sunday dinner this Sunday. Be sure to check your church's schedule to see if you should be making plans for such an event.

Polly Warnock is happy to be back at work as editor of the NEWS after a couple of days off last week for some eye surgery.

Gladys Hunter is back in her home after spending several days in the hospital and then at Ranger Park Inn. We are happy to say she is back at her longtime job of reporting the Rockwood community news.

We do not intend to be too nosy.....but your neighbors and friends always like to know if you have been on a trip, entertained guests, celebrated a birthday, or an anniversary, caught a big fish, moved, eloped, had a baby, been in a fight, sold your sheep, cut a new tooth, sold out, had an operation, painted your house, had company, got married, received an award, been robbed, opened a business, struck oil, etc., etc., etc.

About Letters To The Editor

Letters to the editor are welcomed. Those that deal with subjects of general interest, and not longer than 250 words, are signed by the writer, and do not violate libel law and standards of good taste will be printed. Names may be withheld from publication upon request by the writer, but all letters must be signed. Please make your letters to the point, longer letters will be printed if pertinent and if space permits. Submissions should be typewritten, if possible, but handwritten letters will be accepted if legible. Please include your address and telephone number so we may contact you if a question arises. Submissions announcing support of a particular candidate or political issue during election season are not accepted for this column, but should be run as a political advertisement. Letters are not printed if the date of submission would prevent any timely rebuttal. This newspaper reserves the right to publish, edit, or reject any letter to maintain these standards. Opinions expressed in the letters are those of the writer; publication does not imply agreement, necessarily, with the opinions of the newspaper's management. Letters should be received in the NEWS office by no later than 4:00 p.m. Monday for publication in that week's edition. Send letters addressed to: Editor, Santa Anna News, P.O. Box 399, Santa Anna, Texas 76878 or bring them by the office on North Second Street.

Library Notes

Check It Out

by Alice Anna Spillman

The Blessings of the Christmas season began early for the library. Local friends of the library dug deep in their pockets to support the fund raising project. $518.00 was the total deposited in the Library Building Fund.

Ladies from the Methodist Church who devoted so many hours making a beautiful quilt probably never dreamed of the blessings it would bring to others. Their Church gained from the original sale. The very generous lady (she does not want herself named) who bought the quilt donated it for future good. The money raised for the library will help all ages. Future generations may be enjoying the fruits of the original laborers.

Jim Jones graduated from Santa Anna High School in the late 1930s. His life from here reads like an American success story. As an important business executive he is involved daily in world finances problems. But, Mr Jones has never forgotten his early years. A check of $400 expresses his desire to help his old home town.

Another gift came from the estate of Mrs M.L. Guthrie Sr. Her children honor her memory with this gift. She loved to read and encouraged her children and grandchildren to enjoy this pleasure. Most of the family remembers her using the Phillips Drug Calendar to teach letters and numbers.

Mrs Steve Malaer dropped by the library for books and left a gift "to help out". We need more of that kind of visitors.

These blessings total $1028.00 and bring the Building Fund total to $1939.20. Soon there will be enough to repair the roof of the building. Then - with EVERY-ONE'S help - work can be started inside the building.

Friendship Luncheon

(Contributed)

The Friendship luncheon group met at the regular time last Thursday with a very good number present. The hash Doris Griffin had promised was served with many dishes to enhance one's appetite.

All present spoke of missing the Ray Owens' who were absent due to Ann being hospitalized in Abilene. Frank McCary offered grace. Potluck was chosen for this week's menu. Fish had been suggested. However, no one seemed to be planning a fishing trip, so pot-luck it will be.

SAHS Students Share Their Writings

The following is one in a series of essays shared with us by students of Santa Anna High School. The essays were written during the 1988 spring semester for Mrs. Sandra Guthrie's Language Arts class.

HERMAN'S COMB
by Larue Powers

It was the same routine every morning with Herman Humple-up at 7:00, dressed by 7:15, breakfast finished by 7:50, then final grooming and off to work by 8:15. He always ran right on schedule and he never broke his routine.

On one particular morning though, something happened that not only broke his routine, it set his entire life in turmoil.

It was Monday morning, May 23. Herman woke up at exactly 7:00, dressed and ate breakfast just as he always did, but when he went to comb his hair, he couldn't find his comb. He looked in every drawer and behind every door in his bathroom. Then he searched the living room and even the kitchen, but he still couldn't find his comb. Noticing that it was already 8:25, he grabbed his glasses and rushed out the door. Just as he started to step from the porch, a tangled lock of unbrushed hair fell into his eyes. Unable to see where he was walking, he stepped from the porch into the flowerbed, where he proceeded to trip once again, this time landing flat on his back. His glasses flew across the lawn and landed in the street. Herman looked up just in time to see the garbage truck roll across them as it pulled up to the curb. Harry, the garbage collector, hopped down from the cab of the truck. "Mornin', Mista Humple. How're you?"

Herman picked himself up from the ground and replied, "Good morning, Harry."

"Ya know, Mista Humple, I almost didn't recognize ya w/out ya glasses. Why ain't ya wearin' 'em?"

"Well, Harry, I tripped and fell and my glasses flew off. Didn't you think it was peculiar that I was lying in the flower bed when you arrived?"

"Naw, not really. I just reckoned ya had a few too many drinks last night or somethin'. Heck, happens to me all the time."

"I don't doubt that, Harry, but the thing is you ran over my glasses. How am I supposed to get to work? I can't drive without my glasses, you see."

"Ya could walk, Mista Humple." "Don't be silly, Harry, I can't walk eighteen blocks."

Harry threw the garbage into the back of the truck and hopped into the cab. "Well, I suppose since it's partly my fault, you can ride with me. It's against regulations, ya know, and I can only take ya ten blocks 'cause that's as far as my route goes."

Herman wasn't thrilled over the idea of riding in a garbage truck, but he decided it was better than walking, so he climbed in.

They drove a block and stopped. "What are you stopping for?" Herman demanded.

"Well, I gotta get the trash, of course."

"Do you have to right now?"

"Yep," Harry answered, "unless YOU want to."

"No thanks, Just hurry up."

By the time they reached the tenth block, it was 9:45. With great relief and impatience, Herman jumped out of the truck and started off the conquer the next eight blocks on foot.

times higher than the old price. The old contract at 22 cents per million BTU's had saved customers $350 million over its 20-year life.

"We would like to have kept those prices and not changed any of out fuel costs to customers, but the contract expired," Wetsel said. The local manager added that WTU has lowered its fuel factor five times since 1985, and had six refunds totaling almost $50 million as the result of other contract changes.

Fuel is burned at power stations

As Herman walked, he thought of the horrible lick he'd had that morning. He was making his way down the thirteenth block when suddenly a tiny white poodle darted out of the crowd, dragging its chain behind it. It ran around and around Herman's feet until they were tightly bound in the tailing leash and then took off back into the crowd. In doing so the tiny dog jerked Herman off his feet and sent him crashing through the plate glass window that make up the front side of the office building he had been walking in front of. The chain unwound itself from Herman's feet and the poodle disappeared.

Herman could feel the blood running down his face as he lay in the pool of shattered glass. He opened his eyes to see a crowd forming around him. Millions of strange faces glared down at him. After what seemed like an eternity, a tall man with grey hair picked him up and carried him in his car to the nearest hospital.

Two days later Herman left the hospital with two broken ribs, a fractured wrist, a twisted ankle, and various cuts and bruises.

He took a taxi back to his home where he immediately retired to his bed. He slipped his hand beneath his pillow. To his surprise he felt something hard beneath it. As he lifted the pillow, a look of horror crowned his face, for there, beneath the pillow, lay his comb.

Local Ladies Hold Offices In Cattlewomen's Organization

The Central Texas Cattlewomen's Association recently installed officers for 1989, having just completed a successful year under the leadership of outgoing president Mildred Reeves of Brooksmith.

In conjunction with 1988 goals to have at least one project a month to promote, the Cattlewomen were very visible and much was accomplished for the beef industry.

In February 1988, Lou Anne Smoot from the Texas Beef Council in Austin spoke to the combined Cen-Tex Cattlewomen and Circle C. Cattlewomen of Coleman, at the Troxler House. She brought area cattlemen up to date on state and national goals and gave good ideas for area projects.

Mildred Reeves attended the Cattlemen's National Convention in Orlando, Fla., in February, bringing more input back to Central Texas.

In March 1988, two members of the Cen-Tex Cattlewomen appeared on Harry Holt's West Texas Today program on KRBC-TV in Abilene, promoting the Beef Check-off program and dispelling myths about beef. Informative literature was distributed during Ag-week through area supermarkets.

In April 1988, the Cattlewomen were actively working for the Beef Referendum. Mildred Reeves spoke for several groups of beef producers about the merits to all cattlemen of the check-off. The funds are used to inform consumers of the many healthful merits of eating beef.

Because re-education of consumers regarding beef was a high priority in 1988, the Cen-Tex Cattlewomen's Association has worked on a video which can be shown to area organizations as a program. It was completed by the Texas Beef Council and is available with a speaker on request. Call Ginger Locker at 646-0586, for more information.

Santa Anna Native to Preach Sunday at Methodist Church

Santa Anna Methodist will participate in the conference wide celebration of Women in the Pulpit Day on Sunday, January 29. Special guest speaker will be LaVelle Haynes of Blanket.

Mrs. Haynes is the daughter of Mrs. E.E. McClintock and the daughter-in-law of Mr and Mrs J.R. Haynes, all of Santa Anna. She is the sister of Earlene Scott, also of Santa Anna.

Lester Freeman To Be Honored On 88 Birthday

The family of Lester Freeman will host a come and go reception honoring him on his 88th birthday. The celebration will be held in the fellowship hall of the Central Baptist Church, 216 West Mesquite, in Coleman between 2 and 4 p.m. on Saturday, February 11.

Born in Johnson County on February 10, 1901, Lester came to Coleman County in 1905 and lived on the Freeman family farm. He retired in 1963 from farming and the Coleman County Electric Coop. He and his wife Jewel moved to their present home in Coleman in 1980.

Mr Freeman has a son, A.L. Freeman of Fort Worth; a daughter, Dorothy Bowland of Burleson; two step daughters, Laverne Peeler of Grand Prairie and Sue Neiswanger of San Angelo; and one step son, Walter Dyer of Los Angeles, California.

All his friends are invited to Mrs Haynes and her husband are both studying for the ministry. Her husband, Lyndon, is currently serving as pastor of the Methodist Church in Blanket.

She will be guest of honor at the 5th Sunday fellowship dinner following the service. Everyone is invited to attend the service at 11 a.m. Sunday and stay for the fellowship dinner at noon.

Presbyterian Fellowship Dinner

Wednesday, January 18, members of the Presbyterian Church gathered for a Fellowship Dinner. There were so many attending that extra tables were set up for the meal. Following the dinner there was a sing song which was enjoyed by everyone.

The local pastor, Jasper McClellan, also pastors the Cross Plains church and there were several from that congregation who attended the dinner. Visiting from Cross Plains were Eunice Starr, Ethel Sims, Sybil Worthing, Juanita Mays and the Rev and Mrs Bransford Eubank. The Rev. and Mrs. C.W. husband were hosted for steaks by the combined Cen-Tex and Circle C groups.

Dr. Red Duke spoke at the Cow-Calf Clinic on May 5 on the merits of eating beef. At this event, the Cattlewomen displayed the beef posters made by Central Texas fourth graders. First, second and third place winners in each school were given ribbons and a trophy was presented to the overall winner.

The cattlemen made and sold pies for dessert at the Cow-Calf Clinic. Those attending the clinic were invited to draw their brand on the burlap tablecloth in the Cattlewomen's booth. Two beef cookbooks were given away, too.

In June 1988 the club held a bake sale at the farmer's market to make money for the scholarship fund.

In September 1988 all members ordered beef stickers for their cars.

In October of 1988, Cen-Tex Cattlewomen presented trophies to winners of the best beef dishes entered in the Brown County and San Sabá food shows. A special event sur-

Boys Win Two, Girls Lose Two

Santa Anna started district play in Novice last Tuesday night with a win for the Mountaineers and a loss for the Ladies.

In the opener, the girls lost to Novice 66-49. Danette Bolten of Novice tossed in 13 field goals and was eight of nine from the free shot line to account for 34 points against the Lady Mountaineers.

Santa Anna started off strong and built an 8-2 lead before the Novice girls got going and came back to take a 13-10 first period lead. They played to a 17-17 tie in the final quarter, but Novice had done too much damage in their strong third period.

Coach Gerald Brister commented that Novice may be the best team his Lady Mountaineers have faced all season. "They are tall and they can shoot". He adds, "Maria Moreno had her best game of the season and overall we played well." Moreno led the Santa Anna girls in shooting with 17 points on the board and came down with 8 rebounds, followed by Shannon Brown with 12 points and 7 rebounds, Sylvia Castillo 9 points, Kristi Morrow 9, and Delia DeLeon with 2.

Novice is now 10-9 and Santa Anna is 8-9 for the season. The game was the district opener for both teams.

Jerry Magin's Santa Anna boys won 57-52 over the Hornets of Novice after having to come from behind late in the fourth quarter. The Hornets were hot from the three point area, hitting 10 in the game, but the persistent Mountaineers played tough and were able to manage a tough defense and clutch shooting in the last three minutes to pull out the victory. A very important one as they began their district quest.

The Mountaineers, with this win, have now posted 3 wins in a row and 6 of their last seven games.

Both teams travelled to Brooksmith Friday night where the Boys again took a victory and the girls fell by one point.

Coach Brister said the girls were inconsistent as they lost to Brooksmith in their second district outing by a close 47-46.

Moreno again led with 15 points for the Lady Mountaineers. Brown had 12 points and 11 rebounds. DeLeon tossed in 11 points, Morrow 6 with 12 rebounds and Castillo 2 points.

The girls are now 8-10 for the season and 0-2 in district play.

Magin says of his boy's 89-58 win over Brooksmith, "We went up early, all 16 players saw action and we played well enough to win handily".

He went on to say, "This week's game at Panther Creek on Friday night will be tough and we must come out strong in the first quarter".

Herbert Jackson led the Mountaineers in shooting at Brooksmith with 24 points. Reece McIver hit the basket for 18 points, as did James Hartman. Bobby DeLeon had 11 points and Scotty Anderson accounted for 8.

the lightweight division. She also showed the reserve champion crossbred at the county show. Candi's hogs placed 2nd in med-lightweight division and 3rd in lightweight.

Champion of the clothing division and Bobby DeLeon placed with his shorts and shirt outfit. We are sorry other winners were not available for the picture.

Tennis Tips

Topspin and Underspin

Helpful pointers on how to improve your game from the experts at Jeep/Eagle, sponsors of the $677,500 Eagle Tournament of Champions.

A shot hit with underspin stays low after it bounces.

By hitting the ball a certain way, you can give a shot topspin or underspin. Having these two shots in your arsenal can often put your opponent into a tailspin.

Spin causes the ball to react in such a way that it is difficult to return. A lob hit with topspin will dart toward the rear of the court after it lands. A shot hit with underspin barely clears the net and stays low after it bounces.

Alternating these with strong forehand and backhand drives can keep your opponent off balance and lift you into the winner's circle.

LOAN CONSOLIDATION MAKES STUDENT LOAN REPAYMENT EASIER

Faced with high student loan payments? Loan consolidation may be the solution. Under the nation's largest educational loan consolidation plan—Sallie Mae's SMART LOANSM Account—borrowers can cut their initial student loan payments as much as 40 percent by combining their existing obligations into a single new loan. The new SMART LOAN Account offers flexible repayment alternatives and, generally, a longer repayment term than the original loans it replaces. To be eligible, borrowers must have at least $5,000 outstanding in eligible student loans, at least one loan of which must be owned by Sallie Mae or held by institutions that do not offer loan consolidation.

If we had to pay a high price for the free advice we get most of us would suddenly discover an element of value in it.

If the world would stop moving for a while some of us might be able to forge ahead.

Texas A&M researcher says martial arts effective for juvenile delinquency

COLLEGE STATION — Court and juvenile center officials are expressing interest in a Texas A&M University researcher's findings that some traditional martial arts training can be effective in reducing juvenile delinquency. Several offices charged with addressing delinquent teens have even instituted such programs for dealing with the youths, said Dr. Michael Trulson, who taught neuro-science and psychology at Princeton University before coming to Texas A&M to join the medical faculty.

Trulson has found that delinquents taught the traditional philosophy and psychology of martial arts as well as the physical aspects for a period of six months showed less aggressiveness, lower anxiety, more self-esteem and increased awareness of social values even a year after completing training. Another group of students simply taught how to fight better showed generally opposite results, including more aggression, said Trulson, himself a holder of a black belt in martial arts.

"An estimated 10 million Americans have taken some form of martial arts lessons and another half million sign up each year," he said. "The majority of these clubs and schools teach only fighting and self-defense techniques. Our findings suggest that this type of training greatly enhances positive personality traits that already exist," he explained.

"Therefore, it is crucial that parents carefully check out a martial arts school before enrolling their children in such classes. The non-traditional or modern versions of the martial arts can be very harmful, while the traditional approach to training clearly leads to a number of positive personality traits," said Trulson.

Junior High Basketball Tournament Scheduled For Thurs., Fri., Sat.

There is a Junior High Basketball tournament on the schedule for this weekend, beginning Thursday evening, Friday evening, and ending Saturday, being conducted at Perry Gymnasium. Due to the fact the editor was out of the office a couple of days at the end of last week due to eye surgery and came back in the midst of the hustle and bustle of the local and County stock shows, together with teacher work day, we just failed to remember to obtain the pertinent information on the tournament. Please contact the school offices or Coaches Dean Bass or Marsha Pool if you have questions regarding the tournament.

Free Agency and the NFLPA

Well, we made it through the 1988 football season without a strike. But the issues that were the basis for the National Football League Players' Association (NFLPA) strike of 1987 remain unresolved, contributing to the possibility that there could be another strike in the future.

The biggest issue is free agency. I don't think out-and-out free agency would work in football.

First off, owners know that one man cannot win the championship in football. O.J. Simpson led the league in rushing for eight or nine years while at Buffalo and never won a championship. Walter Payton played 10 years without winning a championship until the Bears built a team with good offensive linemen, defensive linemen and defensive backs.

Free agency would create another problem for teams like the Green Bay Packers. Why would a player go to Green Bay unless he had to go? It's cold in Green Bay, they don't have a winning team, and a minority player really wouldn't find many other minorities in the town. So with unlimited free agency, I think we'd see an exodus toward the warm West Coast and toward the winning teams. I really feel that.

Lastly, I don't think the owners will ever go for it. Pro sports used to be a place where owners made a lot of money, but it's not that way anymore. If there were a maverick owner with eight zillion dollars who could buy up everybody, yeah, it would work for him. But I don't think that you have those kind of owners in the league right now.

Not that I have anything against the players' union. I don't am against striking. Why shut down the game? Too many players today want everything now, and it doesn't always work that way. I mean how can you feel sorry for somebody walking the picket line who's making $500,000 a year?

I actually enjoyed the "scab" games when the NFLPA was on strike last year. The union players kept saying "we are the game," but, really, players come and go. They're not the game. Players can be replaced.

Hey, a lot of those scab players did well, and many are still playing today.

When I started in pro football, I was playing because I wanted to play football, and I got paid what I thought I was worth. I was making $25,000 a year. Now you have a guy like Brian Bosworth, who said he wouldn't play for anybody on the East Coast or at all until someone offered him $11 million.

Sure, make some money while you can, but let's not kill the game!

|---------------------------------------|------------------------------|
| 1 pkg. (4 oz.) German Sweet Chocolate | 1 cup butter or margarine |
| 1/2 cup boiling water | 4 egg yolks |
| 2 cups sugar | 2 1/2 cups sifted flour |
| 1 teaspoon vanilla | 1/2 teaspoon salt |
| 1 teaspoon baking soda | 4 egg whites, stiffly beaten |
| 1 cup buttermilk | |

Melt chocolate in boiling water. Cool. Cream butter and sugar until fluffy. Add egg yolks, 1 at a time, beating well after each. Blend in vanilla and chocolate. Sift flour with soda and salt; add alternately with buttermilk to chocolate mixture, beating after each addition until smooth. Fold in beaten egg whites. Pout into three 9-inch layer pans, lined on bottoms with waxed paper. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes. Cool. Frost tops only.

COCONUT-PECAN FROSTING

Combine 1 cup evaporated milk, 1 cup sugar, 3 slightly beaten egg yolks, 1/2 cup butter or margarine and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Cook and stir over medium heat until thickened, about 12 minutes. Add 1 1/3 cups flake coconut and 1 cup chopped pecans. Cool until thick enough to spread, beating occasionally. Makes 2 1/2 cups.

| 1 teaspoon ginger | 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg |
| 1/2 teaspoon salt | 1/2 cup soft margarine |
| 6 oz. softened cream cheese | 1 cup powdered sugar |
| 1/2 teaspoon vanilla | 2/3 cup pumpkin |

Blend eggs, sugar, pumpkin, and lemon juice in mixer bowl. Add flour, baking powder, spices and salt; beat until smooth. Pout into greased and floured 10x15-inch jelly roll pan. Bake at 375 degrees for 12 minutes. Invert onto towel sprinkled with powdered sugar. Roll as for jelly roll in towel. Cool. Cream margarine, cream cheese, 1 cup powdered sugar and vanilla in mixer bowl until light and fluffy. Unroll cake. Spread with creamed mixture. Roll as for jelly roll. Place on serving plate.

Garnish with orange or lemon slices if desired.

Rockwood Extension Homemakers Club Meets

The Rockwood Extension Homemaker Club met for a called meeting on Tuesday, January 17, at the Community Center in Rockwood with Skeeta Cooper presiding over the business meeting.

New year books were distributed and filled in. Billie Weatherby gave the council report and discussed plans for the stock show. The club elected Pebble Ellis as the nominee as delegate to the district meeting.

A letter was read from the Texas Highway Department reminding everyone of the Great Texas Trash Off on April 1. Plans were made to pick up trash that day on the adopted highway and then to have lunch at the community center. Everyone in the Rockwood community is urged to help on this project.

Everyone was reminded to circle May 27 on their new calendars. This is the day for the 1989 Rockwood Homecoming and Celebration. Plans are being made for this event.

The treasurer reported a generous contribution to the Community Center from Mrs Lillie Box and Mr and Mrs Marshall Campbell.

Skeeta Cooper served refreshments of spiced cider, cookies and cheese crackers to Minnie Bray, Rose Cooper, Bettie Duus, Pebble Ellis, Billie Weatherby and Wilma Williams.

Porcelain Art Club Meets Saturday In Brownwood

The Heart of Texas Porcelain Art Club will meet on Saturday, January 28th at 9:00 a.m. in the Adams Street Community Center in Brownwood. Mrs Joy Ray will be the guest artist.

Mrs Ray works for the American Red Cross but still finds time to do her hand painted china. She also takes time to take seminars, as she is still willing to learn all she can about this fine art.

She has been china painting for eighteen years, during which time she has been a teacher and a demonstrator. She demonstrates for this club and also travels to other clubs. Over the years she has held many offices in the local club and is currently the Budget and Finance Chairman.

prised president Mildred Reeves when she attended the Texas Cattlewomen's meeting in Dallas. She was named Texas Cattlewoman of the Year.

Gifts were presented to Brown County's three extension agents at the County Program Planning Dinner in October.

In November 1988, Mildred Reeves and Martha Day attended the training meeting in Dallas in cooperation with the Texas Affiliate of the American Heart Association and will assist in the Neighbor to Neighbor Campaign in February. A highlight of 1988 is seeing the American Heart Association's literature promoting the merits of eating lean beef.

As a Christmas gift to the Brownwood community, CenTex Cattlewomen donated $60 in beef certificates to the local soup kitchen. And, individually, the members made donations to the Brown County Child Welfare Board to be used for Christmas gifts for foster children.

The Central Texas Cattlewomen's Association's membership is open to anyone who owns a cow or likes to eat beef. Meetings are every second Monday at 11:30 a.m. The next meeting will be held at Pass 'n' Biskits restaurant Feb. 13.

Rounding Off May Limit Mistakes

You may reduce the chance of making arithmetic errors on your tax return by rounding off amounts to the nearest dollar, the Internal Revenue Service says.

When you round off one dollar item, however, you must consistently round off all amounts. Amounts under 50 cents should be dropped. For example, $19.21 becomes $19. Amounts from 50 cents to 99 cents should be increased to the next higher dollar, so $19.50 becomes $20. If you do round off, do so for all amounts. However, if you have to add two or more amounts together to figure the total to enter on a line, include cents when adding the amounts and only round off the total.

By not having to work with decimal points, you may find you make fewer math errors that could delay your refund.

Income Tax Forms Are Available At P.O.

Postmaster Gary Absher reminds you that some Income Tax forms are available at the Santa Anna post office.

Forms that can be picked up there are 1040; 1040A; 1040EZ; and Schedule A. Instruction booklets are also available.

Options for Health

by

Dr. Scott White

DR. SCOTT WHITE is offered as a public service by Scott and White Memorial Hospital and Clinic in Temple. If you have a question please write to DR. SCOTT WHITE in care of your local newspaper.

Q. I recently suffered a cut from a tin can that required stitches. While in the emergency room, I received a tetanus booster shot. Since I'm now an adult, I don't really think about getting booster shots since I was immunized as a child. Do I need to update some of the shots to remain protected?

A. You are right. Many people feel that they are "protected for life" because of childhood immunizations. Such is not the case. To remain fully protected, adults should receive periodic boosters. Here are some guidelines for different immunizations.

Tetanus: Adults should get a booster shot every 10 years. If you get hurt and a heavily contaminated wound occurs, you may need a booster if you have not had the booster in the past five years. Tetanus boosters can be combined with the diphtheria booster.

Diphtheria: Because of widespread immunizations, diphtheria has almost disappeared in the United States, but a few cases still appear yearly. To remain immune, adults need a booster ever 10 years.

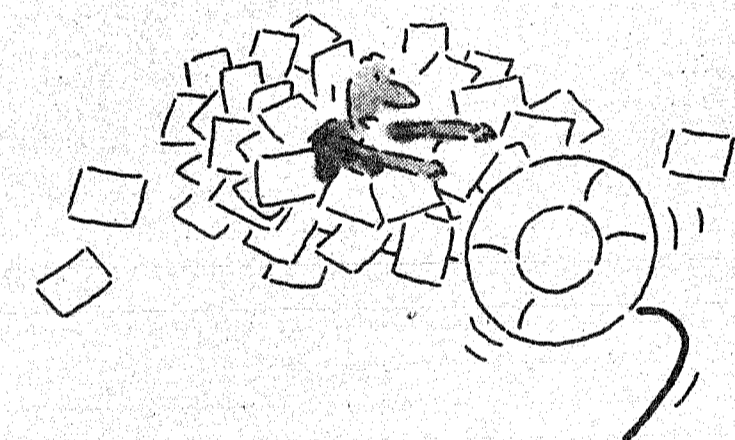

Measles/Mumps: Although you are likely to have already been infected by one of these, a substantial number of people born after 1957 have not been vaccinated and have not developed the disease. People vaccinated between 1963 and 1967 may have gotten a short-lasting vaccine and should be re-vaccinated.

Rubella (German Measles): Contracting rubella during pregnancy could injure the fetus and cause a miscarriage. Women of child-bearing age who have no history of vaccination should be tested for antibodies and, in their absence, should be immunized. Following the immunization, a woman should wait at least three months before becoming pregnant.

Special Situations: College students, military personnel, healthcare workers, veterinarians, teachers, travelers, and others who work in situations where they may be exposed to vaccine-preventable diseases (hepatitis B, rabies, typhoid) should ask their physicians about immunizations for these diseases as well as those listed above.

Also, a person's health status may determine whether a vaccine should or should not be given. Pregnant women, people with diabetes, cardiopulmonary patients, and people with other chronic diseases are among those to whom special considerations apply.

Doris and Les Aderholt, Wanda Wallace, Lorene Wynn, Neal Smith, Gladys Creek, Fannie Gilbert, Lorena Wells, Ivy and Edwin Pittard sang for an hour Tuesday afternoon to a large number of residents.

The birthday party was sponsored by the W.M.U. ladies of the Glen Cove Baptist Church. It was a beautiful party, as the theme was a winter scene with Mr and Mrs Snowman decorating the honorees table. The serving table was covered with lace and had a basket of ivy for the center piece that was given to Christine Sanders for a gift. Aunt Samantha (Fannie Gilbert) entertained with her funny sayings. Dottie Pond and Pat DeWitt played piano selections. Happy Birthday was sung to Doris Skelton, Christine Sanders, Cleo Canady, Mary Jo Lovell and Vela Plante. The Ladies Aux. of the Santa Anna Fire Department gave birthday gifts to the honorees. Baking cakes for the party were Viloa Pond, Dot Adams, Beulah Helm, Addie Lee Hinds, Betsy Davis and Jan Brixey of Delta Omicron Sorority. Lena Howard, Berniece Snedegar and Peggy Johnson baked cakes for Christine Sanders birthday that were shared with the other residents. Dorothea Johnson did the decorating. Serving cake and punch to the honorees and residents and guests were Viola Pond, Beulah Helm, Dottie Pond, Dot Adams, Dorothea Johnson, and Peggy Johnson. It is wonderful to have such a beautiful party.

Del Funderburg, Glenn Moore, Maxine Douglas, Jim Leavell and Fuma Masuda conducted a beautiful service Saturday afternoon.

The fourth Sunday service was conducted by the Assembly of God Church. Bro. James Ford preached the message. Helping with the singing were James and Jimmie Posey, Tracy and Mark Evatt, Charlene Caviness, Vicki Green, Bessie Parish and Gladys Day.

The 42 games were enjoyed Monday afternoon. There were three tables of players and a lot of watchers. We appreciate Wilmoth Russell, Lora Russell and Peggy Johnson for sharing their time.

Otha and Onita Bullock donated clothes to the nursing home. The residents will benefit from them so much.

The residents are enjoying the magazines John Gregg brought to them.

Arnold Alcorn knows how to make everybody happy as he brought pop corn for all to enjoy.

We are delighted to have Lucille Hale make her home with us. Welcome Lucille.

We are sorry Nestor Diaz is in the hospital. We hope he will be able to come home soon. We miss you Mr Diaz.

Also stopped by his sister place and visited briefly with his sister son Barry Smith who was home from San Angelo State for the week end. He missed seeing Barry sister, who was out of town at the time.

Ask Ann Richards

What ever happened to the super conducting Super Collider?

Editors Note: State Treasurer Ann W. Richards each week answers questions about personal finance and state government. These questions are compiled from various letters to the State Treasury. Answers are not intended to take the advice of reputable financial advisers or other professional counselors. If you have a question to ask, write to:

providing products to the collider facility as well as to its employees and their families. The state in which the collider is built will bring in about $300 million in revenue annually.

Texas is among seven states still in contention for the collider. The facility would be built in Ellis County in North Central Texas.

The final site selection is expected to be made this fall.

I know it sounds a bit premature, but my husband and I are trying to plan how to pay for our daughter's college education twenty years from now. Any tips?

It's never too early to start saving for the future, especially when it comes to your child's education.

In 20 years, one year at a public university could be as much as $22,000!

There are a variety of investment options, all depending on how much you can afford to contribute, and for how long.

Your first step should be to determine approximately how much money your child will need.

Check with the financial aid offices at several colleges or universities you are considering. You should be able to get projections there.

Then talk with an investment counselor at your bank or savings and loan. He or she will be best able to help you map out a plan to fit your budget and lifestyle.

If you don't give up smoking for yourself, do it for your kids.

For Americans, the convertible has always had a special mystique.

The Allure of the Convertible

By Tom Clifford
PM Editorial Services

When the final white-on-white bi-centennial edition Cadillac Eldorado convertible rumbled off the assembly line in 1976, it was seen as the last of a dying breed. Newspapers around the country carried pictures of "the last American convertible."

But what Chuck Berry called "cruising and playing the radio with no particular place to go" just isn't the same in a hardtop. The smart folks in Detroit eventually realized this, and by 1982, America was again producing convertibles. One thing is certain: America's love for hitting the open road in an open car will never die.

The flame for the ragtop burns bright in men like Robert G. Webster of Chevy Chase, MD. Webster loves convertibles so much that he owns 12 of them. His collection includes a pair of 1941 Cadillac convertibles, a 1940 Buick 4-door convertible, four 1976 Cadillac Eldorados and the world's only 4-door 1970 Cadillac Deville convertible.

"A convertible makes you feel younger, out driving with the top down and the sun in your face. It makes you feel great. If you drive up in a black 4 door sedan people think you're coming from a funeral home," Webster says, explaining his love for his automobiles.

Anyone who has ever driven topless down a country road in the spring, on an oceanside road on a moonlit night or driven to a football tailgate party on a perfect fall day understands Webster's passion. And while convertibles are now readily available at most new car dealerships, older convertibles continue to be the most desirable.

"They don't last long," says Jerry Ferguson, owner of the Classic Car Center in Warsaw, Indiana. Ferguson says that the demand for ragtops is so great that he has trouble keeping them in stock. "Even the cars that were marginal in terms of the make and style and model, if it's a convertible, it's a premium vehicle," he says. "The '50s convertibles are unquestionably the hot cars."

So hot, in fact, that vintage American convertibles are all the rage in Tokyo, where wealthy Japanese businessmen have shipped home restored classics they bought here in the states.

The few drawbacks of owning a convertible — even with the top up and heater on, they can be drafty and cold in the winter — matter little to those who love them.

"The only real way to see America is in a convertible with the top down sitting behind a V-8," declares Steve Riccardelli, 24, of New York City. Steve owns a red 1966 Ford Thunderbird convertible with a top that folds into the trunk. "I'm willing to sacrifice enough trunk room to travel a family of four because it's worth it," he says. ld

New "Premium" for Medicare Eligible

To help pay the cost of the new Medicare coverage for catastrophic expenses and prescription drugs, those eligible for Medicare Part A may now be subject to a supplemental Medicare premium, the Internal Revenue Service has announced.

Beginning January 1, 1989, if you are eligible for Medicare for more than 6 months of the taxable year, you will owe the supplemental premium if your adjusted Federal income tax liability is at least $150.

Generally, the supplemental premium for 1989 is $22.50 for every $150 of adjusted Federal income tax liability. The maximum premium is $800 ($1,600 for certain married taxpayers).

Special rules apply to married individuals. If only one spouse is eligible for Medicare for more than 6 full months during the tax year and the couple files a joint return, the income tax liability for the Medicare-eligible spouse is one-half of the joint tax liability and the maximum premium is $800. If both spouses are eligible for Medicare and the couple files a joint return, the premium is figured as if the couple were one individual, but the maximum premium is $1,600 instead of $800.

A married person filing a separate return, who lived with his or her spouse during the tax year, is treated as Medicare-eligible for more than six full months during the tax year if either the person or the spouse was eligible.

If you receive social security benefits, your Form SSA-1099, "Social Security Benefits Statement," will indicate whether you are eligible for Medicare. IRS Form 1040-ES, "Estimated Tax for Individuals," and IRS Form W-4P, "Withholding Certificate for Pension or Annuity Payments," may be used to pre-pay the premium so that you will not have to pay it all at one time when you file your tax return for 1989.

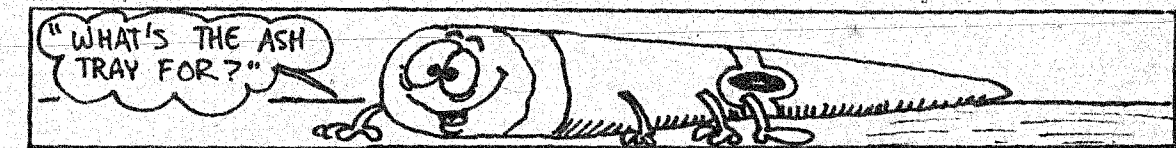

Older taxpayers who are eligible for Medicare may also get additional help through the Tax Counseling for the Elderly (TCE) program (free tax assistance sponsored by the IRS). Call the IRS to find out about the nearest TCE site.

The IRS also has an automated, toll-free service called Tele-Tax. By calling 1-800-554-4477, you can listen to general information on the Medicare premium requirement. Select topic number 223, "Social Security and Catastrophic Medicare Premiums."

For a complete explanation of the premium, get IRS Publication 934, "Supplemental Medicare Premium." You can get IRS forms and publications by calling the IRS toll-free number, 1-800-424-3676.

Statement of Nondiscrimination

*Coleman County Electric Cooperative, Inc., has filed with the Federal Government a Compliance Assurance in which it assures the Rural Electrification Administration that it will comply fully with all requirements of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and the Rules and Regulations of the Department of Agriculture issued thereunder, to the end that no person in the United States shall, on the ground of race, color, creed, sex, national origin, or physical handicap, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be otherwise subjected to discrimination in the conduct of its program and the operation of its facilities. Under this Assurance, this organization is committed not to discriminate against any person on the ground of race, color, creed, sex, national origin, or physical handicap in its policies and practices relating to applications for service or any other policies and practices relating to applications for service or any other policies and practices relating to treatment of beneficiaries and participants including rates, conditions and extension of service, use of any of its facilities, attendance at and participation in any meeting of beneficiaries and participants, or the exercise of any rights of such beneficiaries and participants in the conduct of the operations of this organization. Any person who believes himself or any specific class of individuals to be subjected by this organization to discrimination prohibited by Title VI of the Act and the Rules and Regulations issued thereunder may, by himself or a representative, file with the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, DC 20250, or this organization, or all, a written complaint. Such complaint must be filed not later than 180 days after the alleged discrimination, or by such later date to which the Secretary of Agriculture or the Rural Electrification Administration extends the time for filing. Identity of complainants will be kept confidential except to the extent necessary to carry out the purposes of the Rules and Regulations.

WEIGHT LOSS TIPS

Great taste and flavor seem to go hand-in-hand with fat and high-calorie levels. However, it is possible to achieve the same high aroma and flavor without the additional calories. Here are some low-calorie seasoning and snack tips from Dr. Susan Schiffman, director of the Obesity Clinic at Duke University and a member of the National Health and Sciences Advisory Board for Nutri/System, Inc., one of the world's leaders in weight loss and food technology.

- As a substitute for chocolate topping, sprinkle a mixture of cocoa and a non-caloric sweetener.
- To increase flavor for low salt chicken soup, boil and add only half of the recommended water.
- Top popcorn or vegetables with butter flavored Pam rather than real butter or margarine. One and a quarter seconds of spraying is only seven calories versus several hundred when you pour melted butter over food.
- Season foods with lemon instead of salt to cut sodium content.

Schiffman

• For low-cal french fries, cut potatoes into long pickle-like slices. Marinate in a bowl with one tablespoon olive oil. Spread on a cookie sheet and sprinkle with paprika or Italian seasonings. Bake at 450 for two minutes. You get high flavor, yet no salt or deep-fat frying calories.

together (to·geth'ər)

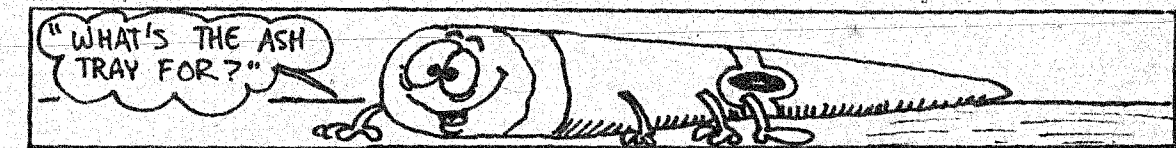

1. in or into one place, mass, collection, group.
2. in or into association or relationship.
3. as a union, by combined action, into agreement or harmony — as a unit.

Any way you define it, "together" is how our world should be. And the very best way to bring people together is to open our hearts and homes to visiting high school students.

In 1941, to celebrate his second inauguration, Governor W. Lee "Pappy" O'Daniel hosted a Texas-sized inaugural dinner. The governor invited all Texans to attend the dinner and more than 20,000 people took him at his word. They consumed 19,000 pounds of barbecue, 1,000 pounds of potato salad, 1,300 pounds of onions and 1,300 pickles. The guests washed it all down with 32,000 cups of coffee sweetened with 1,000 pounds of sugar.
