City Office Seekers Make Statements To Voters; Will Hear From School Board Candidates Next Week

The Santa Anna News, as is the tradition, has asked Candidates for Mayor, City Council (two places to be filled) and School board to make a statement to the voters through the newspaper. This week we will publish statements of candidates for city offices. The remarks of the school board candidates will appear in next week's issue. We hope these statements will help you formulate an opinion before casting your ballot May 6.

The candidates were sent a questionnaire asking each to make comments on (1) why they felt they were qualified for the office they are seeking; (2) what they feel is the most important issue facing the City of Santa Anna at this time and how they feel it can be dealt with; and (3) what long range goals would they like to set for the City of Santa Anna. Using those questions as a starting place, the candidates made the following statements and also tell us something about their families.

THELMA BROOKER
INCUMBENT CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR

Incumbent Mayor Thelma Brooker, and employee at H & H Food Mart. Her husband, Mike, is employed at Kohler in Brownwood. Thelma is the mother of four grown children and the grandmother of seven.

She feels she is qualified to serve as she has two years experience in the office and feels she is aware of the problem areas.

Mrs. Brooker states she feels an important issue facing the city is the lack of communication between the City officials and the citizens, and also a lack of interest shown by citizens in not attending council meetings.

For a long range goal, Mayor Brooker would like to see "some kind of recreation for the kids, like a swimming pool or skating rink" and for the different organizations to work together in bringing progress to Santa Anna.

JOHN PEARCE
CITY COUNCIL CANDIDATE

John Pearce is and Emergency Medical Technician. His wife is Dr. K. A. Pearce and the couple has two daughters, Erica and Anna, and a son, Robert all of the home.

Pearce feels he is qualified to serve on the council as he has a master's degree in Resource Economics. He is an Environmental Health Specialist in the Army Reserves. Part of his job with the Army is inspecting water plants, landfills, sewer plants, etc. He feels this experience would be beneficial as a member of the council.

Pearce thinks the most important issue facing the City is that of needing to develop a better relationship with the surrounding communities. "We as a community need to work together and start rebuilding our community and make it a desirable place to live and become a part of."

As a long range goal, Pearce would like to see the preservation of the mountain and the renovation of the downtown area. He would like to see us get a handle on our utility bills, and would like to see the City utilizing all of the city, County, State and National resources available to us to help rebuild Santa Anna.

ATPE Will Sponsor Candidate Forum

There will be a candidate's forum next Thursday, May 4, at the school cafeteria featuring candidates for the Santa Anna Independent School District board of trustees.

The forum, to begin at 7:30 p.m., is sponsored by the Santa Anna chapter of Association of Texas Professional Educators, (ATPE).

Each candidate will make a brief

JOSEPH BAKER
CITY COUNCIL CANDIDATE

Joseph Baker is an automotive technician and operator of "Joe's World" automotive service. He feels he is qualified to serve on the city council because "I've always enjoyed working with the public, and if I get on the City Council, I could have more of a chance to work with people, and not against them."

In the matter of the most important issue facing the City at the present time, Baker says, "There needs to be other ways figured out to bring in more funds, business, or academic wise, instead of raising the water bill."

For a long range goal, "I'd like to see the town get back to where people would be wanting to move to, instead of away from, and to see all business pick themselves back up, and new ones began."

statement and answer questions from the audience. All citizens are urged to be present for this opportunity to hear the candidates address the issues that face the school.

GALE ALLEN BROCK
CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR

Gale Allen Brock, candidate for Mayor of Santa Anna is a retired insurance agent and teacher. She is married to Byron Brock and has one son, Sam Allen, who, with his wife Joy and children, Zack and Carly, makes his home in San Angelo.

Mrs. Brock feels she is qualified to serve as Mayor having previously spent eight years on the City Council from 1970 to 1978.

Mrs. Brock states she feels an important issue facing the city is abandoned property. She suggests a way to deal with the problem would be to render the property tax producing through a tax sale procedure, thereby selling the property to responsible people willing to upgrade it and subsequently pay city tax as assessed.

Mrs. Brock would like for long range goals to include upgrading of streets, reworking existing streets and curbing, and possibly the paving of unpaved areas.

CURTIS CRAIG TERRY
CITY COUNCIL CANDIDATE

Craig Terry is an assistant manager of Allsup's in Santa Anna. He and his wife, Joyce, have a dog, "Midnight".

Terry lists his qualifications as having lived in Santa Anna three years and "worked as Chief of Police here and I have listened to townsfolk and their wants, needs, and desires and I would like to try to bring some of these things about for the betterment of the town."

Terry feels the most important issue facing the City of Santa Anna at this time is that of getting more revenue for the City by going out and trying to attract new industry, business, and people to Santa Anna by offering the business free rent on City owned property or reduced water rates for a specified term. "Anything to draw the business here to generate tax dollars and employ local people to further stimulate the local economy."

In long range goals, Terry would like to see old buildings, houses, etc., torn down to eliminate

QUINTON DANIEL
INCUMBENT CANDIDATE FOR CITY COUNCIL

Incumbent City Councilman Quinton Daniel, a supervisor with Coleman County Telephone Cooperative simply asks you to "cast your votes for the City of Santa Anna when you vote for the City Council candidate of your choice on May 6th."

He feels since living in the city for 32 years people know him and know that he will work with the Mayor, other council members, and other citizens to make Santa Anna a better place to live. "Your support will be appreciated."

JAMES SPILLMAN
INCUMBENT CANDIDATE FOR CITY COUNCIL

James Spillman is an administrator and teacher at Central Texas Commercial College in Brownwood. He is married to the former Alice Anna Guthrie and the couple has one daughter, Monique, a graduate of Santa Anna High School, presently a student at the University of Texas at Austin.

Spillman has served one three-year term on the council and feels that experience coupled with various management positions in business, a BBA degree in

Southside Cleanup Saturday

Saturday is the day for the Southside cleanup. Heavy trash and other items too large and too heavy for regular garbage collection will be hauled away during the cleanup.

Items should be placed near your normal garbage collection site. If you have exceptionally large or heavy items to be hauled away, please call City Hall before Saturday and make arrangements.

This is an effort of the City to encourage its citizens to keep the city neat and clean, and you are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to have your heavy trash hauled away at no cost to you.

accounting and twenty two years in the Air Force qualifies him to serve.

Spillman feels the most important issue facing the city is a lack of participation, on the part of the citizens of Santa Anna, in city government or any of the various organizations or projects to help make Santa Anna a better place to live and to raise our families. President John F. Kennedy once said, "Ask not what your country can do for you, but rather what can I do for my country." Spillman asks you to substitute 'Santa Anna' instead of 'country' in this famous saying. "If we, the citizens of Santa Anna, all work together we can make Santa Anna the best little town in Texas."

A second major problem is "we don't seem to take pride in Santa Anna anymore. Just look around, buildings and old homes near collapse, vacant lots that need cleaning up, trash lying around in our streets and vacant lots, and it has been said that some places resemble used car lots." He adds that to an outsider it may appear that we don't care anymore. The City has been working to remove old, abandoned cars from the streets and remove dangerous abandoned buildings and clean up vacant lots. The City has regular North and South side clean ups days and extra

DESTRUCTION OF PUBLIC PROPERTY

Is depicted in the picture above which shows a stop sign on a farm to market road in the Santa Anna area which has been pushed down. According to Gene Christian, resident engineer with the Highway Department in our district, this is a frequent occurrence on farm to market roads in the area and costs the taxpayers monetarily and the Highway Department in man hours when they have to be replaced. He says the cost of replacing the signs totals about $80 each. The destruction of the signs is punishable by fines and since most of the time, the deed is done by a minor, the parents are the ones who must pay the price. In some cases where officials have been able to determine the guilty party, those guilty have also been charged with the cost of replacing the sign. Other than the destruction and cost to the taxpayer, the sign being down could cause a potentially dangerous situation for travelers who are not familiar with the roads. Parents are asked to talk with their teenagers about the consequences of such acts of destruction. (Staff Photo)

James Monroe Remembered

James Monroe, fifth president of the United States, was born on April 28, 1758, in Westmoreland County, Va. Monroe's political career in many ways mirrored the career of his mentor Thomas Jefferson. Like Jefferson, Monroe served as minister to France, governor of Virginia, secretary of state and, finally, as president.

During his two terms as president, from 1817-1825, Monroe made significant contributions to foreign policy. In a speech given in 1823, Monroe warned the governments of Europe not to interfere in the affairs of the North American Hemisphere. This was the foundation for the principles that became known as the Monroe Doctrine.

Monroe was one of three presidents, along with Thomas Jefferson and John Adams, to die on Independence Day. Monroe died on July 4, 1831, while visiting New York City.

WENDY WEATHERS, Six-year-old daughter of Jay and Sandra Weathers of Brownwood, recently competed in the Southern Beauty Pageant and received trophies for the Most Beautiful Face, Best Personality, Best Smile, Best Portfolio, Best Party dress, and Most Photogenic. She also won

Thoughts From Our Pastors

John Stanislaw
First Baptist Church

Every baseball player gets the idea now and then that he can force himself to hit homeruns. Players call it "swing for the fence". When they do it they promptly go into a slump.

Their coaches remind them, day after day, "Just meet the ball". The players know the fundamentals: If they meet the ball with their own natural rhythm, they will hit safely often enough. If they have power, homeruns will follow. Otherwise, nothing will. All of us have experienced the tendency to "force" results, even in our worship. Many times we find ourselves fretting because we cannot make some sweeping gesture on behalf of our Lord.

But He wants us to serve Him where we are, with what we are. We have been trained in His church, we have His words to sturdy, we have all of life around us. All He asks is our best. Nothing less, but nothing more.

Learn, study, and worship in the church you belong to every week. Whatever we are able to do follows from that, quite naturally.

If we just meet the balls that life throws at us with God's power we can make some homeruns.

I don't know about you but I find myself with more strike puts in life than homeruns. Many times as Christians we find ourselves fretting because we cannot meet the standards of living the Christian life as the Bible teaches us. Who can meet every standard that Jesus taught in the Sermon on the Mount. For example: "Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect." (Matthew 5:48) And who can keep all the Ten Commandments perfectly? Aren't you glad that our salvation doesn't depend on how well we meet these standards? As the song says, "My hope is built on nothing less than Jesus blood and righteousness."

When it comes to the kind of righteousness that God requires, I strike out. That's why my hope is in the Lord Jesus Christ who is the Son of God.

Now as far as living out the Christian life, I believe if we will just meet the ball we will be good examples, good Christians, and good witnesses. To meet the ball is to live by the Ten Commandments and the Sermon on the Mount. As long as you remember that they are not the basis of salvation. They are standards to guide us in living the Christian life. You will have some strikeouts, but that doesn't mean the game is over. Jesus completed the game on the cross and through the resurrection.

If you have accepted Christ as your Lord and Savior, the game has been decided. Regardless of how many strike outs you have, you win because of Jesus.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Habiger of Coleman announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol Leann, to Rodney Duus, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Duus of Rockwood. Grandmothers of the couple, are Mrs. Hiram Crawford of Coleman, Mrs. Mattie Y. Brown of Coleman, and Mrs. Hildegard Habiger of Waite Parke, Minnesota. Wedding vows will be exchanged in Coleman on July 14, 1989, 7:00 p.m. at the Elm Street Church of Christ. All friends and relatives are invited to attend the ceremony and celebrate with the families.

Citizen Hearst

April 29th marks the birth date of William Randolph Hearst. Born in 1863, Hearst became one of the most powerful newspaper publishers of his day. By 1925 he had acquired or established newspapers in every section of the country.

Hearst's methods, including exaggeration and some distortion of the facts, encouraged the growth of the so-called "yellow press." But his excess also inspired the use of greater restraint by other newspapers.

Hearst, who died in Beverly Hills, Calif., on Aug. 14, 1951, was immortalized in Orson Welles' classic motion picture "Citizen Kane." The central character of the film, Charles Foster Kane, was modeled largely after Hearst.

The Hearst Corp. remains a giant in the publishing industry today. H

Renovation Is Near For Proposed New Library Site

The Santa Anna Library Board met Thursday, April 20, to discuss activities for the spring and summer.

A report on the library building fund was given. The fund is nearing the point where renovation of the building can begin. It is possible that construction on the new roof could begin this summer. Donations are always welcome for the project.

A used book sale will be held in the building next door to Phillips Drug, which when renovated, will house the library. The sale will take place on Frontier Day, May 13. Proceeds of the sale will go to the Library building fund. Books donated for the sale may be taken to the present library or to the Jim Spillman residence before May 12. Workers will be pricing books on Friday, May 12 and books may be delivered to the future library building at that time. To have books picked up, call Alice Anna Spillman at 348-3644 or Betty Key at 348-3545 or 348-3393 by May 11. Books of all types are needed.

Dates for the Summer reading program were set for June 8 & 22, and July 6 & 20, with a party and awards program August 3. Adult leaders and junior leaders are needed for the program. Programs are being planned at this time.

International Wildlife magazine reports that the long hairs of the bear's pelt are transparent; they allow sunlight to penetrate all the way to the skin. And the bear's skin is black which absorbs the sun's heat.

Cancer Society Provides Many Services In Coleman County

In the fight against cancer, the American Cancer Society places great importance on cancer patient services, hoping to ease cancer's impact on people's lives.

The fact that more people are surviving cancer today than ever before--over 50% live at least five years--reinforces the need to help people get back into life's mainstream.

The hopeful side of cancer, the survivability, is why the ACS offers cancer support programs for patients and their families.

"The aim is to provide assistance that ranges from practical advice and emotional support to meeting the day-to-day needs for hospital beds, wheelchairs, transportation to and from treatment centers and for patients going out of town, for housing at treatment centers state wide," says Coleman County Unit Service/Rehabilitation Chairman, Victor Cardinas.

Services and rehabilitation programs involve aid that begins after the patient leaves the hospital.

In Coleman County, the following services and programs are provided without charge by the American Cancer Society:

Loan equipment, such as hospital beds, side rails, wheelchairs, shower seats, walkers, commode chairs, and crutches.

Gift items, including eggcrate mattresses, comfort pillows, micropore tape, room deodorant, sheepskins, ostomy supplies, laryngectomy stoma bibs, bed pans, urinals, emesis basins, dressings, and other material related to the rehabilitation programs.

Cancer information services, with information about ACS programs as well as other resources with the community. Also a variety of free educational literature is available.

Transportation to and from treatment centers through the volunteer Road to Recovery program.

Cancer patient visitation programs.

Patient/Family Support Programs for patients, their families and friends.

Clarification Of Complaint To City Officials

Dale Bradley has asked the NEWS to clarify the fact that his complaint before the recent City Council meeting was not directed toward the teenagers who had been "hot rodding" around town as earlier reported to the NEWS, but what he felt was "the inaction of the police" in regard to one hot rodding incident that could possibly, according to Bradley, have resulted in disastrous consequences.

Other persons at the meeting voiced complaints about the "hot rodders".

Along with being a successful writer of children's books, Ms. Goodwin is a valued employee of the City of Berkeley, Ca. and was recently honored as the Employee of the Month for February. She has been a Berkeley city employee since 1980 and works as a Senior Administrative Analyst in the Berkeley Housing Authority.

During her nine years of employment with the City, Robbie has worked in various departments. She began working as an Associate Administrative Analyst in the Mental Health Division. A year later she began her many stints with the City Manager's Office as the first coordinator for Public Services Committees Program. Again, she was assigned to the Maternal and Health Division of the Health and Human Services Department and later was assigned to work as an analyst in the Refuse Department. After two years there she returned to the City Manager's Office as a Senior Administrative Analyst.

Robbie left her employment with the City of Berkeley for a year and a half due to health reasons and to pursue her literary career. She returned to City employment and a position as Senior Administrative Analyst for the Berkeley Housing Authority. Berkeley officials explain when she returned, she came into a situation that was almost unmanageable for the existing staff. She worked tirelessly and endlessly both on the job and at home, to compose and produce a desk manual that increased enthusiasm, dedication, morale, job comprehension and responsiveness of the employees. A Ceremony honoring Robbie was held Feb. 28.

NEWS OF SAFETY

Tips for safer motorcycling.

1. Wear a helmet to protect you from serious head injury, and brightly colored clothing to increase your visibility. Put reflective tape on your helmet and jacket if you ride at night.
2. Since you're less visible on a motorcycle than in a car or truck, keep your headlight on while driving during the day.
3. Look around constantly so you always know what's going on in front, behind and on both sides.
4. Watch for oncoming vehicles turning left at intersections, the number one cause of motorcycle/car crashes.
5. Always use your turn signal so other drivers will know what you're going to do. Make sure signals are turned off after you change lanes or make your turn, and don't weave in and out of traffic.
6. Be alert for hazards such as potholes, gravel, wet leaves, oil patches, sand, ice and railroad tracks.
7. Don't drink and ride. Over 40 percent of all motorcycle fatalities involve a rider who had been drinking.
8. Take a training course to learn the special skills needed for safe, enjoyable riding. Call 1-800-447-4700 for a Motorcycle Safety Foundation recognized rider training course near you.

Presidential Limousines: Then & Now

The history of presidential limousines goes all the way back to 1903, when President Taft approved the first official auto fleet for White House staff and Secret Service use. In fact, the credit may rightly belong to Mrs. T who received a Pierce Arrow just before the inauguration.

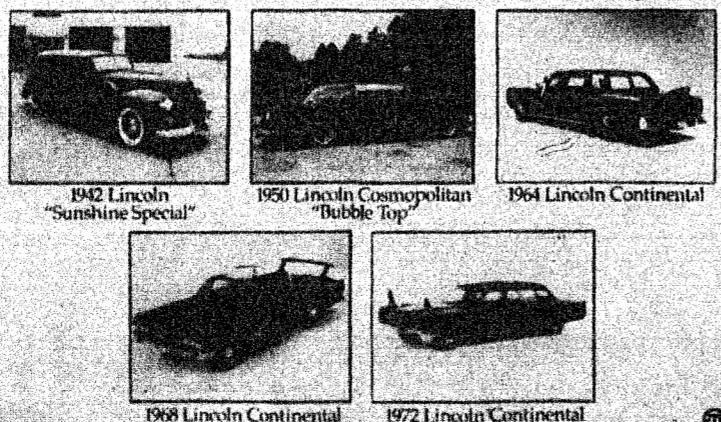

The practice of maintaining a White House fleet of loaned, leased or purchased automobiles continued through the terms of Presidents Wilson, Harding, Coolidge, Hoover, Roosevelt, Truman, Eisenhower, Kennedy, Johnson, Ford, Carter and into President Reagan's administration.

The Lincoln, which President Bush rode in on his inauguration, first became a presidential favorite during the 1920s because, according to one theory, President Coolidge had a high personal regard for Henry Ford. Lincolns either have been the exclusive car of U.S. presidents or have shared White House honors with other cars for all but a few years since that administration.

George Bush, who rode in a new custom-built Lincoln Town Car, was the 13th president to make the historic trip down Pennsylvania Avenue in an automobile for the inaugural parade.

He would have been the fourteenth, but Jimmy Carter chose to walk.

LAWN CARE UPDATE

To spray or not to spray

Liquid vs. dry fertilizer

It's spring, time to store the shovel and put away the icemelter. At the local home and garden center, boxes, bags and bottles of fertilizer are popping up all over. And the ultimate question hangs — To spray or not to spray — what's best for my lawn?

To choose the proper fertilizer, consider these points before you reach the store:

1. Know thyself — do you want to spend days grooming the yard or merely hours?
2. Know thy lawn — have you had recurring problems, how many square feet do you really need to cover? Remember to subtract the square footage of your driveway, house and large plants.

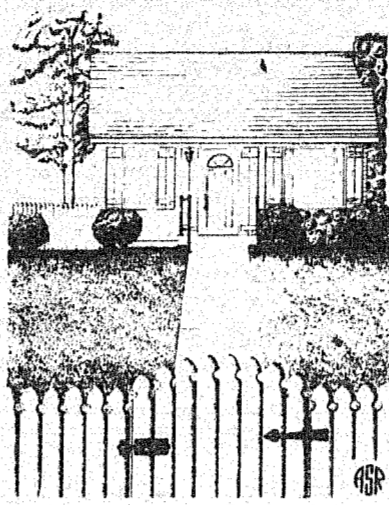

With these answers in mind, you're ready to compare products and packages.

As a rule, liquid fertilizers offer excellent quality when properly applied, but too often they're not used correctly. The fertilizer is sprayed, but the application does not necessarily coincide with the grass' growing cycle. Instead of being diluted by rain, the liquid may be absorbed by the ground at full strength, creating over-application.

Other questions arise when considering liquids, such as how much is needed to cover the lawn, and how fast should I walk to ensure that it's covered? It's often difficult to keep track of what has and has not been sprayed.

Ranges based on concentration appear on most packages. Some manufacturers have designed complete programs for specific lawn sizes, but with liquids, it's still hard to compare apples to apples.

Dry products, on the other hand, are easier to measure, especially for the novice gardener. You can see the product in the covered area, so overfeeding and burning are less likely to occur. Dry fertilizers are also diluted by rain, then absorbed into the ground. When choosing dry products, always look for:

1. Granular or ammoniated-type fertilizers — often referred to as homogeneous fertilizers, they reduce the risk of burning due to over-application and insure balanced turf feeding.

2. Slow-release nitrogen products — they are easily absorbed into the ground and prevent burning because of the timed release action.

3. Triamine™ — this ingredient is a broad spectrum weed control product, so it attacks a large number of weeds.

4. Self-spreading bags — these convenient applicators eliminate the need for spreaders, depending on the size of your lawn.

5. Complete year-round packages — these handy kits contain at least four applications for the entire year, and they're generally reasonably priced.

With checklist in hand, you should now be ready to make an educated decision between the myriads of liquid and dry fertilizers on the market.

Woman Discovers Shopping Mall in Her Front Yard

Finds hundreds of businesses on doorstep

Local resident Gladys Whirlee revealed on Monday that the city's largest shopping mall is right at her front door. "Every business in town, every bargain in town is right here," she proudly proclaimed while holding a copy of the local newspaper. "I don't have to get in the car to go shopping anymore!" Mrs. Whirlee remarked. "I read the newspaper, so I don't waste gas and my time driving all over town looking for the best bargains or finding what I need." She said all her neighbors did the same, and considered the newspaper the best shopping mall in town. The Newspaper Advertising Bureau indicates most people agree with Mrs. Whirlee, confirming 8 out of 10 shoppers find it easier to compare prices in the newspaper.

Mrs. Whirlee was later heard to comment "Without the paper, I wouldn't know where to get the best buy. I can't imagine shopping anywhere else." A recent Consumer Data Service report disclosed that the Whirlee woman was typical, with 10 times more people choosing the newspaper over radio or television for "Best Buy" shopping information. The report also revealed that almost 60% of shoppers decide where to shop from the newspaper, and 82% say newspapers allow them the best comparison of goods and prices.

"It's the smart thing to do," Whirlee said. "Why even my boss shops the paper. And he's wealthy." Mrs.

Woman confesses she would rather shop close to home with newspaper

"I found I could save time, and even more money, by making my shopping decisions at home with my newspaper."

Whirlee is employed by Clyde Perkins, a noted local philanthropist and businessman. When confronted with the fact that newspaper readership increases as income increases, Mrs. Whirlee replied, "About all Perkins does is read the paper. That must be why the rich get richer." Perkins was unavailable for comment.

Whon News By Mrs. Tom Rutherford

I will start off this week about myself and what a nice Sunday I had at my house. My grandson Todd came over and had lunch with me. Soon after lunch my sister-in-law and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alpha and Jack Haney of Temple came. Was so awfully good to see them. They came to Brownwood very early Sunday morning, mainly to visit with Jack's aunt who is 91 years of age. They also visited other relatives there. They drove to Whon to visit with me for a while. Thanks so much for driving those extra miles. And now that you can, come again. Then around 9 o'clock Sunday night my telephone rang and it was my brother-in-law and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bill and Gloria Rutherford, in California. Was so much of a surprise, and for sure was an enjoyable one. Bill suffered a stroke a few years past. He has recovered real well only his speech. He has taken a lot of therapy. Has helped, but seems when he gets excited, hard for him to say what he wants to say. Reports they are doing well in California. Don't hear from them too regular but when we do "it is great!"

Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Lovelady in Santa Anna are entertaining in their home this Monday night, April 24 with a special birthday party supper. The special guest is Myrtle Robertson, an aunt. Others with the ones mentioned will be Betty Beardon and Doris Stearns of Brownwood and Jaunita Minica. A very happy birthday wish to Mrs. Robertson.

Mrs. Pearl Avant of Santa Anna and her son Douglas Avant of Brady came to the Avant farm on Tuesday of the past week and were here until Saturday p.m. Mr. and Mrs. James and Helen Avant of Coleman visited them during the stay at the farm, and also myself and Patsy Smith stopped by and chatted a while. Douglas reported last Friday afternoon he was strolling on the south of the house in the pasture and suddenly he was reminded by a large rattlesnake that he was too close. He had not seen the snake until he heard the warning. He was successful in doing away with it. I don't know how many rattlers but 4 feet long. Saturday morning he was looking around and much to his surprise he walked pretty close to a large rattlesnake in not too many feet from where the one was on Friday. But it was four inches shorter than the other. So, a reminder, everyone be on the lookout.

Mr. Joe Floyd Morris of Oklahoma City came Sunday and will be with his parents until Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Morris of Whon.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Griffin and Mr.

and Mrs. Leon Griffin visited Mr. and Mrs. Amon Ottis and Yancy Tuesday p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Morris and granddaughter, Janet, were in DeLeon Saturday visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Jamie Lee Morris. They took the granddaughter home following being with her grandparents for a few days. Mrs. Elwayne Perkins, who lives no far away, visited with the family in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Danny Wheatly went by for their grandmother on Thursday afternoon and they drove to the Shields community and did some visiting with Mr. and Mrs. George Daniel Wheatly.

Mr. and Mrs. Amon Ottis and Yancy were with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Griffin and son Bryan on Saturday and visited their guests Mr. and Mrs. Jim Reeves and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Miller of Collyville, who were guests in the Griffin home over the weekend.

My daughter, Mrs. Bob Smith of Abilene was with me Tuesday and Wednesday night. They are really working toward getting settled back home again. My sons Hilary and Loyd Rutherford were with me Saturday.

Billie Lovelady, Loucille Sorrells, Doris Ruth Stearns and Betty Bearden spent the weekend in San Antonio. They were there and attended the Parade of Roses. Billy states is something you cannot tell about how beautiful it is. Just have to see it to know, for words cannot describe hardly anything going on. They reported a wonderful time.

Jeffrey Morris was with his grandparents over the weekend and was in Santa Anna on Saturday with John David Morris.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodger Blyth of Buffalo Gap visited with Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Lovelady on Thursday, also Jaunita Minica was with them.

Mrs. Maye McFarlin accompanied Mrs. Letha Martin to the Senior Citizen fish fry at the Coleman Park one day the past week. The Coleman Senior Citizens were also there combining the two groups. They stated lots of delicious fish.

Mr. Darwin Lovelady visited his son, Mr. and Mrs. Randal Lovelady and girls one day the past week.

Mrs. Amon Ottis and son Yancy were Sunday dinner guests with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Griffin and Bryan Sunday and in the afternoon visited her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Les Griffin.

Mr. Bruce Maedgen was a guest with Mr. and Mrs. Amon Ottis and Yancy Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

Mr. and Mrs. Frisby Bible and children of Sonora were weekend guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don Bible.

El Paso, the westernmost city in Texas, lies at the southern end of the Rocky Mountains known as the Franklin Mountains. Long one of the Southwest's major industrial cities, its sunny, dry climate and colorful historical and cultural attractions have also made it a favorite with visitors. Its sister city Juarez offers the flavor of Old Mexico with excellent opportunities for shopping and dining. Scenic mountain drives with spectacular views, three of the oldest missions in the United States, and the Tigua Indian Reservation make El Paso one of Texas' most colorful cities. ## Candidate Craig Terry Continued breeding areas for rodents, snakes, and animals. He says he would also like to see property, owned by people that aren't taking care of it, condemned and torn down, those properties that are "death traps and eyesores to the community". He adds, "I would like to see increased revenue and speed controlled better by the police department".

He would like to see a more efficient usage of City employees and "also the number employees, working for the City, to cut cost of City government and it's operations, instead of trying to figure out how to spend more money." Terry says, "The main thing above all—TO GET NEW BUSINESS/INDUSTRY HERE TO SANTA ANNA!" He also adds, "One last thing—clean up the drug problems and have new stricter housing requirements for low rent housing like they have in cities up north now—it can be done."

garbage service has been scheduled, but only the owners can clean up private property.

As for long range goals, Jim would like to see Santa Anna establish a 5, 10, & 20 year plan. "The City Council can not do this by itself", he says. "These plans will involve the whole community. We will need citizens to work on various committees and commissions to plan where and what can be accomplished in Santa Anna in the next decade and beyond".

No Trickham News This Week

There is no Trickham news this week as Mrs. Mary Boenicke, our correspondents for that community remains a patient in the Brownwood Regional Hospital as the result of injuries sustained in a recent automobile accident.

We are sure her she would enjoy greeting from her many friends and readers of her column. Her room number is 325.

The Santa Anna news would like to hear from anyone who might like to report the Trickham news until Mrs. Boenicke is able to resume her job.

A sour snack: At only six inches long, a newt would seem like easy prey for a hungry predator. But few animals pursue the small bite-size amphibians. National Wildlife magazine reports that when threatened, newts arch their bodies into a warning position with the tips of their noses touching their tails. This unusual warning reminds predators that the newt's blood and tissue contain a poison more deadly than strychnine.

If a company can't ship the item to you within that time, they must notify you in writing and give you the chance to cancel your order and get a refund. The Federal Trade Commission is looking at extending this rule to cover items ordered over the telephone.

8. True. As a rule, whole life insurance covers you for your entire life and accumulates a cash value which you can borrow against. A whole life policy for a younger family is normally more expensive than term insurance. That's because term insurance offers only temporary coverage (a term of 1, 5, or 20 years, for example) and has no cash value.

COLD FACTS & FANCIES

Do you catch cold from being cold? Doctors say "no" and "yes". While you can only actually catch the cold virus from another person who already has it, becoming chilled—or overheated, exhausted and under stress—can make you more susceptible to the germs with which you come into contact.

Who catches cold? Some people are more likely to than others, no one knows exactly why. Children are particularly susceptible. Colds are a major cause of absenteeism in schools.

National Consumers Week, April 23-29; Try This Test For Consumer Knowledge

The eighth annual National Consumers Week is April 23-29. Here's a chance to test your consumer knowledge and skills. Ask yourself if the following statements are true or false, then check below for answers.

TRUE OR FALSE?

1. If your credit card application is denied, you can see a copy of your credit report for free.
2. Credit card companies (banks, stores, gas companies, etc) must provide a 20-25 day "grace" period before charging you interest.
3. A bankruptcy will stay on your credit record for ten years, during which time it will be very difficult to obtain credit.
4. When you deposit a check in your account, you can usually use the money in a day or two.
5. When you're bumped from your flight, the airline must put you on another flight and give you a free round trip ticket for future use.
6. When you place long-distance calls through an operator from a pay phone or hotel, you can select an operator from the firm of your choice.
7. If you order a product by mail, it must be shipped within 30 days.
8. You can borrow against whole life insurance, but not against term life insurance.

ANSWERS: 1. True. If you are denied credit, you must be informed in writing and the notice must list the specific reasons why or tell you how to get an explanation. If the denial occurred in the last 30 days and was based on a credit report, you'll be told how to contact the credit bureau that supplied the report. That credit bureau must give you a free copy of your credit report.

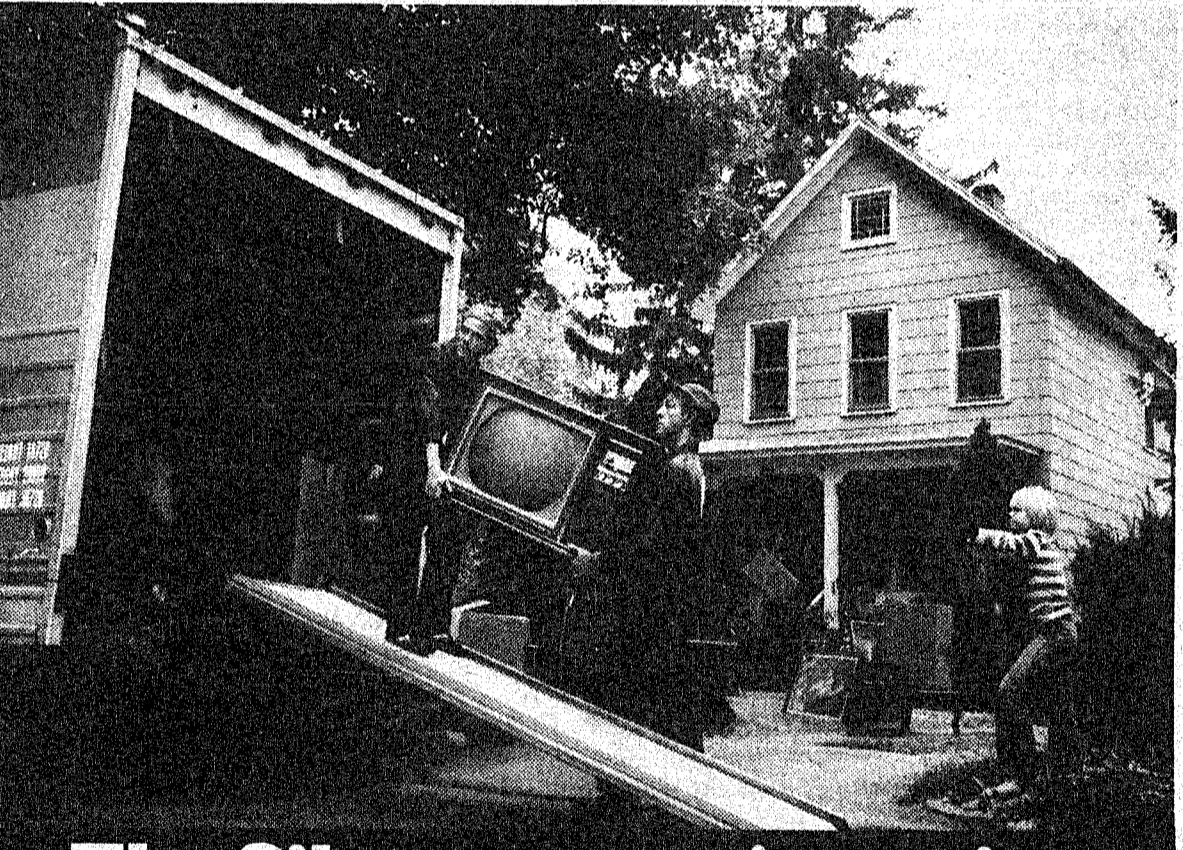

2. False. Most credit card companies offer a 20-30 day grace period, but some charge interest from the day the purchase is posted on your account. Lenders must tell you whether they have a grace period and if so, how long it is.

3. True for the first part. Although credit bureaus must delete most negative credit information more than seven years old, they may report a bankruptcy for ten years. As for the second part, your ability to get credit after bankruptcy may vary. For some lenders, it depends on whether your debts were discharged or you are simply taking longer to pay them. Other factors -- your ability to pay new debts and how long you've held your current job -- may also play a role.

4. True. A 1987 law will eventually limit to one business day the time banks can hold most checks before making the funds available to depositors. The law is being phased in gradually, and today, most checks can be held no longer than two or three days. Most out-of-town checks still can be held six days, but a shorter period is being phased in.

5. False. The airline must find you an alternate flight, but compensation for being bumped depends on the length of the delay. If the airline can get you on another flight scheduled to arrive within one hour of your original flight, no compensation is required. If the delay is longer, the airline must provide compensation of its choice. One to two hours, and you get compensation (usually, but not always, a free ticket) equal to the value of the flight from which you were bumped up to $200. Longer, and it's up to $400.

6. True. But most of us probably didn't even know we had a choice! In fact, many Alternative Operator Services (AOS) have cropped up recently. But some may charge higher fees than the long-distance

The Gilstraps aren't moving; they're being robbed.

The Gilstraps aren't home today. They're in Toledo on vacation. And these moving men aren't movers at all. They're crooks. They think they're pretty smart. They think no one will notice. They're wrong. Across the street, the neighbors are calling the cops. Because the neighbors know, if they don't call the cops now, the Gilstraps will have to call them, later. This neighborhood has learned how to prevent crime. Find out what you and your neighbors can do. Write to: McGruff, P.O. Box 362, Washington, D.C. 20044.
