World War II Buddies Bring Reunion To Santa Anna

When members of the 28th Battalion of the 5th Marine Division got together last week in Abilene for a reunion to commemorate the raising of the American Flag on Iwo Jima during World War II, Clarence Hipp of Santa Anna decided to forgo the occasion. As he put it, "I don't like to live in the past".

However, on Sunday morning, to his surprise, a part of the reunion came to him when six of his old E

Company buddies showed up on his doorstep. After a time of visiting and reminiscing with his old friends, he has decided he will be attending the next reunion, which meets every two years in different sections of the country.

Of the six who visited here with Hipp, five are from out of state and he had not seen them since 1944. He keeps in touch with J. Kieth Wells of Abilene, who was their Lieutenant. Kieth is writing a

City Council In Called Meeting Last Friday

Members of the City Council met in a called meeting at 6:00 Friday evening, March 31 to give approval for City Administrator Max Eubank to attend a meeting of the Brownwood Water District that may possibly result in the revision of the City's contract with them.

The City had received a letter asking for the meeting. At this time the City of Santa Anna is required to pay for 50 million gallons of water each month, whether it is used or not. It is hoped that the meeting will result in a lower requirement of gallons to be paid for each month.

The 1989 American Cancer Society Crusade in Santa Anna began Saturday, April 1 and will continue through most of April according to Bettie Henderson who is heading the residential drive in Santa Anna. Rob Cheaney and LaVerne Evans will be in charge of the downtown drive.

Workers will be calling on their neighbors, leaving information about cancer prevention at each house. The educational emphasis this year will be on eating foods that will help prevent cancer.

In contrast to other organizations, the American Cancer Society in Texas spends only 5% of their annual income on management and administration. Last year, 50% of what was collected in memorials and in the Crusade came back to Coleman County in the way of services. Patient services are allotted 24%, research receives 37%, public education 30%, Crusade expenses total 13%, and professional education receives 10%, in each dollar donated. Texas receives 19% from the National Society research allocations.

A complete list of workers in the Santa Anna Crusade will be published at the end of the drive.

Seeking to return to the City Council are incumbents Quinton Daniel and Jim Spillman. Also in the race are Joseph Baker, Craig Terry and John Pearce.

Incumbents Dickie Horner, Gary Absher and Roddy Dean are each seeking another three year term on the Santa Anna School board. Others seeking three year terms on the board are Gilbert (Bubba) Jones, Ruth Ann Wise, Marty Donham, and Roy Joe Harvey.

FUNERALS

Earl Chapman

Services for William Earl Chapman, 86, of Santa Anna, were held at 11 a.m. Friday, March 31, 1989 at the First United Methodist Church with Rev. Claude Davison and Rev. J.D. Ferguson officiating. Burial was in Fern Cliff Cemetery, Springfield, Ohio. Santa Anna Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Chapman died Wednesday, March 29, at Brownwood Regional Hospital.

Born in Zaleski, Ohio, he moved to Santa Anna 14 years ago. He was a metal worker for Kelsey-Hayes Company in Springfield, Ohio. He was a Methodist.

Survivors include his wife, Myrtle Keplinger Chapman of Santa Anna; a son, Earl William Chapman of Springfield, Ohio; a stepson, Richard Chaffin of Clovis, N.M.; seven grandchildren two step-grandchildren; and a number of great-grandchildren.

Grady Lowe

Services were held in St. Louis, Mo. January 5, 1989, for a former Santa Anna resident.

Grady Morrison Lowe was born October 18, 1910 in Santa Anna to the late John and Vida (Glasscock) Lowe.

He was a 1929 graduate of Santa Anna High School, going on to attend Draughn's Business School and John Tarleton State. He moved to St. Louis in 1932.

Mr. Lowe retired in 1975 from the Robert Shaw Company where he was chief instructor of Gas Thermostat Division.

Survivors include his wife and two daughters of St. Louis, one brother, Connie Lowe of Corpus Christi; two sisters, Nell Beard of Coleman and Thelma Lowry of Santa Anna.

Irene (Rountree) Fancher

Word has been received by a reader that Frances Irene Rountree Fancher, 71, former Santa Anna resident, died in the late fall of 1988 at her home in Lakeside, California.

Born November 30, 1916, in Santa Anna, she attended Santa Anna schools and was an honor graduate of the class of 1934. She studied at the University of Texas in Austin and received her degree in anthropology from San Diego State University. She was in charge of public relations for a Los Angeles firm before moving to San Diego

Around & About

Next time you are around and about town, remember to stop by the newspaper office and drop off your spare drinking glasses or jelly glasses for the Loaves and Fishes Ministry. Although based in Coleman, the ministry serves many Santa Anna people each month.

Visitors with Jimmy and Felecia Ellerbe last Monday were Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Webb and son Jeremy of Lakeside, Arizona. The couple are old friends of the Ellerbes and the surprise visit was very much enjoyed.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C.C. Gilbert last week were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Knox of San Angelo, Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Ready of Waco, Mr. and Mrs. James Arrott of Tennyson, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Chance and new baby daughter, Brittany, of Abilene. Clarence and Fannie report they enjoyed the visits of these loved ones very much.

Erin Day has returned from an extended visit to Odessa with her daughter, Helen Slusher, and family.

28 years ago to marry her husband, Alva K. Fancher.

She was appointed to the Grossmont District Hospital Board in 1973 and was elected to the board in 1976. She traveled extensively and was known for her anthropological studies.

She is survived by her husband and a son, Gary McKay of San Diego; seven grandchildren; and six great-grandchildren. Another son, Ron McKay, died several years ago.

Lois Harper is back at her home in Santa Anna and doing well after a number of days in Brownwood regional hospital for surgery and recovery.

When mentioning the lovely red-bud tree blooming at the Robert Smith residence on Ave. C. last week, we made the statement the home was the former Gay home. A reader calls to remind us the Gay home is across the street east of the Smith residence. In fact, the former Gay home was for many years the home of the M.L. Guthrie Sr. family and now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rutherford. The Smith home is the former V.L. Grady home. Both are lovely old historical homes of Santa Anna.

We failed last week to recognize the job the Rockwood Community does for the Adopy-A-Highway Program. We were unaware of their involvement. Our hats are off to all the fine groups that participate.

Gladys Day is a patient in Brownwood Regional Hospital as the result of a broken bone and surgery which followed. Family members say she is doing well.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Howard have moved from their home on Ave. B. to Coleman to be near their son, Don. After having been residents of Santa Anna for over 60 years, they are at home at 716 College in Coleman.

Be sure to keep the NEWS informed about plans your group may have regarding activities or any

Library Notes

By Betty Key
Books are beginning to come in for the book sale. Carol Herring left another armload at the newspaper office last week. Others have left books at the library or given them to Alice Anna Spillman.

The more used books we can collect, the better our book sale will be.

As we sort the books that have been donated we are adding books to our library.

Five hardback books have been added to the children's section. Three are Sesame Street books; "Grover's Book of Cute Little Baby Animals", "I can Do It Myself", and "The Sesame Street Treasury, Volume 1". The other two are Wonderworld Books, "The House In The Hole In The Side Of The Tree" and "Coco's Candy Shop". Both are by V. Gilbert Beers.

Fifteen books in the Wagons other participation in Funtier Day. May 13, has been set for the annual fun day and we would like to help keep the public aware of any plans being made. So let us hear from you. We would also appreciate pictures that might support your activity.

K.M. (Smokey Mosley) who has been a patient in the Coleman Hospital since before Easter will be moved to San Angelo this week for rehabilitation from a stroke. He is doing much better and he and Velma Lee appreciate your concern.

West series have been added to the Library's paperback collection. This popular series of historical novels was written by Dana Fuller Ross. Begin the series with "Independence". Follow the wagons through "Nebraska" and "Wyoming", on to "Oregon". Wagon train members seek their fortunes and challenge the frontier in "California", "Colorado" and "Texas". A new generation settle the frontier and shape the nation in "Nevada", "Washington", "Montana", "Dakota", "Utah", "Idaho", "Missouri", and "Mississippi".

These books are in the library to be enjoyed. Come by and check them out.

Clean out your book shelves and decide what you can donate to the book sale. You will be helping yourself and your library.

All of nature seems to be telling us it really is spring! Bluebonnets are seen blooming around town, mesquite trees are putting out and the hummingbirds have returned.

Mr. Linwood Bishop is a patient in Overall-Morris Memorial Hospital in Coleman. The Bishops are former residents of Santa Anna and Mr. Bishop is minister of Northside Church of Christ in Santa Anna.

Betty and David Key were on their place near Mason over the weekend and report bluebonnets are beginning to bloom in various spots just south of Brady.

Alice Louise Walker is a patient in Brownwood Regional Hospital. The family appreciates your prayers and concern.

Thoughts From Our Pastors

John Howze

Full Gospel Fellowship Pentecostal Church Of God

The Necessity Of Faith

Though love is the most important christian virtue, we can never place too much priority on faith. It is our sustaining power, for faith touches heaven, moving the hand of God on our behalf.

Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen, Hebrews 11:1.

Without faith we cannot be saved. For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves, it is the gift of God, Ephesians 2:8.

We approach Godly faith, by whom (Jesus) also we have access by faith into His (God's) grace. Wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God, Romans 5:2.

We obtain faith through the word of God. So then faith cometh by hearing and hearing by the word of God, Romans 10:17.

We must have faith to please God, but without faith it is impossible to please Him: For he that cometh to God must believe that He is and that He is a rewarder of them that diligently seek Him, Hebrews 11:6.

They who are just live by faith. The just shall live by faith, Galatians 3:11.

To have the righteousness of God is to have faith. Even the righteousness of God which is by faith of Jesus Christ unto all and upon all them that believe: for there is no difference, Romans 3:22.

Justification comes by faith, Romans 3:28.

Faith must have works to stay alive. Even so faith, if it hath not works, is dead being alone, James 2:17.

Faith is the very basis of our christian life. Without it we have no sure foundation. This is the reason many are so self-centered, living only for those things that please their feelings of human emotions. Faith makes us staunch, steadfast human beings.

Looking For A Long Lost Picture?

We may have just what you are looking for. Here at the Santa Anna News we have a collection of pictures that have been used in articles through the years and someone may like to have them back. Many do not have names or identification of any kind with them. If you have been looking for a long lost picture, we just might be able to help you.

In our files are Senior Class pictures from the classes of 1981, 1984, and 1985. We have school pictures dated 1957 and 1958.

Wedding, engagement and anniversary pictures date back as many as thirty or more years. We also have pictures of service men dated 1945.

Baby pictures of people who are now in Santa Anna High School have been found in our files as well as school pictures of people who now have children in high school.

We also have a large box of pictures of school events, athletic events, stock shows, parades, Funtier Days, scouts, etc., from the late 1970's to the present.

We encourage our readers to come by and claim pictures that may have been loaned to the NEWS. Pictures that have been taken by SANTA ANNA NEWS staff may be purchased for 25¢ to 50¢ depending on the size.

Where Are The Wildflowers?

Wildflower enthusiasts will find the objects of their affections much more easily since the highway department's Wildflower Reporting Service began on the first day of spring, March 20.

Weekly, workers in all 24 highway districts note where flowers are blooming and, via computer, share the information with other highway department offices. Wildflower seekers can call department headquarters in Austin, one of the 12 Texas tourist bureaus, or the nearest district office, and talk to a person - not a recording -- about where the flowers are.

The program, now in its third year, is one way the department tries to make driving a more pleasant experience for Texas travelers. Through vegetation management, landscaping, and propagation of native plants, highway department experts cooperate with nature to avoid erosion, minimize "highway

Friendship Luncheon

(Contributed)
The Thursday Friendship meal was well attended last week. Our Coleman friends, the Williamsons were in attendance as usual and Mr. Williamson did his duty on the washing of the silver ware, during the clean-up session.

The group will miss Jim Ingram and the sausage he would bring from time to time. He has moved back to Coleman.

The Birthday Song was sung for Mary Lela Clifford. Frank McCary offered the prayer.

Pot luck was the menu last week and will be the same when we meet this Thursday, April 6. Y'all come!

Let Us Tell About Your Plans For Funtier Day

Funtier Day is approaching, scheduled for May 13, a little more than a month away. Now is the time to begin letting the public know what your group or organization is planning in the way of a special activity for that annual fun day in our community.

There will be another big Antique Farm Equipment Show in conjunction with Funtier Day. The Santa Anna Rodeo and Youth Association are also making special plans for an event to coincide with Funtier Day. Keep the Santa Anna News informed of the way in which your individual group may be planning to participate in the day's activities even if it is only a booth sponsorship. Let's all work together to make this year's Funtier Day another big success for our town.

The event is sponsored each year by the Chamber of Commerce and our hats are off to those who have worked so tirelessly to bring this special event to our city.

Poems By Ora Lee Niell

The following poems are shared with us by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Pearce. The first poem was composed, Feb. 13, 1926 and the second on April 10, 1926, both by the late Ora Lee Niell and dedicated to Mr. Pearce's mother, the late Mrs. John Pearce.

LIVE FOR THE ONE WHO DIED FOR YOU
Live for the one who died for you
Always to Him be true,
Jesus died and rose again
For salvation comes through no other name.

May you always follow Him
And to Him lead the lost for He died for them.
Follow Jesus both day and night
For His path is always right

Live for the Savior and always be true
Always his work for Him to do.
He who is always true to thee
Asks, "What has't thou done for me?"
You answer, "Master, I know I am weak
But give me power to bring to thee thy lost sheep.

Help me for Thy sake to be a blessing to all who cross my way
That I may give Thee praise day by day,
Blessed Savior, help me, I pray,
To lead the lost to love Thy way.

He answers thee, "Fear not, my child, I am with thee all the way
And will guide thee as thou dost work for Me each day.
Then you answer, "I thank Thee for hearing me
For my trust is always with Thee".

LEAD THE LOST TO CHRIST
Lead the lost to Christ for He died for them
And they need Him for they are lost.
Lead the lost to Him
For He died on the cross.

I shall never forget you, my friend,
For you are dear to my heart,
A helping hand to the lost lend
And never from Him depart.

May you always to Jesus be true
And for Him always do your best,
He is always true to you
Lead the lost where they will get sweet rest.

Social Security Enumeration At Birth

By Randall D. Stogner
Area Branch Manager,
Social Security Administration

Do you want to start a financial reserve for the future of your children? Education is expensive, and it helps to have a growing investment to pay for their schools and colleges when the time comes.

It is not uncommon for a parent to want to open a savings account, or to buy stocks and bonds under the child's name as soon as he or she is born. But the law requires that the child have a Social Security number before any financial transaction is made in his or her name.

A Social Security number is also required for eligibility for some kinds of government services. And the Tax Reform Act of 1986 requires a Social Security number for all dependents age 5 or older who are claimed on the federal tax return.

This means that parents should contact a Social Security office to complete an application form SS-5 and present all the proofs required, such as birth certificate, identity, U.S. citizenship, and-or legal residence of the child. And the parent must show proof of his or her own identity.

To make this procedure easier and faster, Social Security is making agreements with different states to provide a Social Security number to newborns by using the information of the state registration birth form provided by the hospital.

When parents complete the state birth registration form, they indicate whether or not they want a Social Security number for their child.

No matter which method is chosen, there is no charge; Social Security provides this and other services free.

If a number is requested by the child's parent on the hospital birth certificate form, the appropriate state vital statistics office will electronically forward the request to Social Security. There is no need to fill out the SS-5 since all the information required on the SS-5 is provided on the hospital birth certificate form.

This procedure was first tested in three states - Indiana, Iowa and New Mexico - with outstanding results. The pilot proved that the service could be provided from a technical perspective, and the parental participation rate was so high that it was decided to expand the program nationwide.

Once this service is implemented nationally, the workload in Social Security field offices will diminish substantially, and there will also be considerable savings in paperwork.

However, this service is optional. The newborn's parents can choose whether to get a Social Security number for their baby by just answering "yes" to the question in the birth registration form, or going to the Social Security office, taking a number, waiting to be called, filling out the Form SS-5 and presenting proof. It is up to them, but the service is there as another Social Security effort to serve the public better.

Those people wanting more information should contact the Social Security toll-free number of 800-234-5772, which is available 24 hours a day.

Emergency Feed Program Ends April 14

The emergency feed program feeding period ends April 14, 1989. All feed on hand, which assistance is paid, must be fed by the end of the feeding period, April 14, 1989. Receipts for eligible purchased feed must be brought in to the ASCS for cost share payment within 30 days after the feeding period closes.

If your small grains for harvest have failed because of the drought or other natural causes, you must file a disaster credit request and report such acres to the ASCS before making other uses of the crop. ASCS will make a field inspection and the county ASC committee will review the request before the crop is released for other uses.

CERTIFICATION OF CROP ACRES—The deadline to report all fall seeded crops is May 1, 1989. May 1 is also the final date to dispose of small grains in excess of the maximum permitted acreage of enrolled crops. Small grain on ACR or CU may be disposed of by baling before May 1. Vegetable transplants can quickly transform that bare plot of soil into a real, live garden. "Using transplants can get a vegetable garden off to a good start," Shropshire, County Extension Agent, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Field Day For County Swine Producers, Saturday, April 8

A reminder from the Coleman County Extension office to Coleman County and area swine producers about the upcoming Artificial Insemination Field Day to be held Saturday, April 8, at the Traweck Farm northwest of Bangs. Assistant swine specialist, Dane Gressette of Texas A & M University will give presentations on the following: Boar Collection, Semen Evaluation, Heat Detection, Artificial Insemination, prices, availability of products and techniques will be discussed, followed by a presentation on the economic feasibility of artificial insemination.

The program will begin at 9:00 a.m. and should conclude around 12 noon. A free lunch will be sponsored by Evergreen Feeds - Mark Williamson, territory manager.

The Traweck Farm is located 2.5 miles west of Bangs on Highway 67, take Salem Cemetery road (Co. Road #140) north 3.3 miles, turn west on County dirt road #142 for .7 miles. The Traweck Farm will be on the left.

setting them out. Select healthy-looking transplants at your local nursery or garden center when you are ready to set them out. Timing is critical for planting. Transplants of cold-hardy vegetables should be planted two to six weeks prior to the average date of the last frost.

Cold-susceptible vegetable transplants should not be set out before the frost-free date and should be protected by coverings when they are planted.

Before transplanting, get the soil in good shape by working in fertilizer and organic matter. At planting, dig a hole wide enough and deep enough to hold the transplant. Add water to the hole if the soil is dry.

Transplants in plantable peat containers should be soaked in water before planting to help the plant's roots penetrate the container. Transplants grown in plastic containers should be removed before planting. Place the transplant in the center of the hole and backfill with garden soil making sure the original growing materials around the plant is covered. Firm soil around the transplant to form a mound.

After transplanting, it is important to apply a water soluble fertilizer, high in phosphate, to keep plants healthy until their root systems can develop and spread out. Never let new set-out plants suffer from too little or too much moisture. Water plants individually for two weeks before starting a regular watering program such as furrow flooding, sprinkling or drip irrigation. Even with adequate moisture, transplants will probably wilt some in the early going due to their undeveloped root systems.

Protect your plants from strong wind and be aware of late-season cold snaps that might damage plants. Most of all—enjoy gardening.

The Slumberless Sleep-over

It often has surprised me how much better I like my own children than I do other people's.

It's not that there is anything inherently better about my children, or anything wrong with everyone else's. It's just that I'm more comfortable when the under-10 crowd is limited, preferably to immediate relatives.

So you can imagine how cheerful I was when my daughter announced she was old enough for a birthday party. She was 3 at the time. We purchased little hats, horns, ice cream and cake and had a swell afternoon.

Actually, the parties during those early years were not too bad because they were conducted at nursery school and supervised by a teacher and janitor. I stayed out of the way. The police were never called.

Besides, 3- and 4-year-olds are too young and innocent to be mean.

Not so of 7-year-olds, at least the ones who came to Julie's first at-home birthday party. These little guests hated the games we had planned, made fun of the presents and appeared generally to be bored with the whole concept.

I was in a near catatonic state by the time they left. Julie had a great time.

I'll skip Halloween 1988 and the 35 screaming 8-year-olds in our garage—it was not a pretty sight—and go on to Julie's 9th birthday.

To commemorate what she calls her last single-digit year, we had that ultimate in birthday parties. The Sleep-over.

They used to be called slumber parties but only the name has changed. The girls still eat pizza, watch TV, tell ghost stories and giggle a lot. Knowing slumber parties of bygone days, I cannot imagine why I thought the girls would sleep.

But I did. By midnight they were in their sleeping bags, watching a movie and looking rather bleary-eyed. I decided it was safe to turn out the light and close my eyes.

It was about two hours later that the party moved to the room next to mine, the bathroom. That's where the girls decided to brush their teeth, all together and vigorously.

I believe the next major event was the sleeping bag race in the hall outside our bedroom. I don't know if they were rolling their sleeping bags down the hall or jumping in them. I know only that they sounded like a herd of water buffalo, and it was my husband's turn to face off.

The last confrontation was mine. It came when I was awakened at about 3:30 a.m. by the sound of the vacuum cleaner. Our guests had decided to do a little cleaning up.

Just before I fell asleep for the last time, a strange thought crossed my mind. I had yelled at my lovely daughter twice on her birthday, once for brushing her teeth and the other for sweeping the floor.

Heaven help me, what will the rest of the year bring? lol

Lung Cancer Deaths Decline For Middle-Aged

Lung cancer mortality rates for men and women aged 35-44 are declining in Texas, according to a new report published in the March issue of "Texas Medicine."

The report shows that lung cancer mortality rates for white and black men and women aged 35-44 have declined significantly since 1970 and that the mortality rate among men aged 45-54 also is declining.

Lung cancer mortality for women aged 45-54 is continuing to rise, but is expected to begin declining by the beginning of the next century. Mortality rates for older men and women also continued to rise.

The report was based on mortality data for lung cancer for 1970 through 1986, which was provided by the Texas Department of Health's Cancer Registry and population estimates supplied by the Bureau of Vital Statistics and the Bureau of State Health Data and Policy Analysis.

"These patterns are consistent with profound changes that have occurred in the prevalence of cigarette smoking over the past 30 years," the report notes. "It is urgent to maintain the momentum by emphasizing smoking cessation and prevention programs."

The report concludes that the trend toward fewer lung cancer deaths among younger men and women is connected to the declining percentage of Texans who smoke and the introduction of low-tar and filter cigarettes since the 1950's.

Since cigarette usage peaked in the mid-1960s, the percentage of smokers has declined from 52.9 percent of men and 34.1 percent of women to 29.5 percent of adult men, 23.8 percent of adult women, and 15.6 percent of people 12 to 17 years of age.

The elderly still are experiencing increasing rates of lung cancer mortality because they "experienced the greatest exposure, especially to cigarettes of dense tobacco composition and high tar content," the article states.

"In summary," the authors conclude, "these data for Texas suggest that the reversal in historic trends of cigarette consumption has exerted a measurable impact on lung cancer mortality, particularly for younger groups and especially among men."

Pointers For Parents

From The Office For Substance Abuse Prevention

Children And Alcohol

Standing up against negative peer pressure to use alcohol or other drugs is hard for children. But the experts at the Office for Substance Abuse Prevention, of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, have found practical ways that parents can help children of all ages say NO loud and clear:

Make firm family policies that help your child say "no" to drugs.

1. Talk frankly with your child about alcohol and other drugs now. Parents can change mistaken ideas their children may have obtained from some peers and the media such as "everybody does it."

2. Let your child know that you are REALLY listening. Children of all ages are much more likely to communicate about peer pressure when they receive positive verbal and nonverbal cues that show their parents are listening with their full attention.

3. Help your child feel good about himself or herself. Self-regard is enhanced when parents praise effort, as well as accomplishments, and when they correct by criticizing the action rather than the child. And positive self-regard can help a child say "no."

4. Help your child develop strong values. A strong value system can give children the courage to make the right decisions. Also, some studies seem to indicate that children involved in activities sponsored by religious groups are more likely to say "no" to alcohol and other drugs.

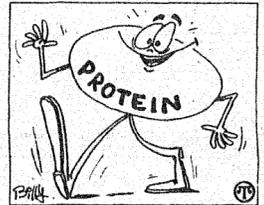

5. Make firm family policies that help your child say "no." Sometimes saying, "My parents would ground me for a month" is easier than telling peers "I don't want to do it."

For more information on how to help your child say "no," write: National Clearinghouse for Alcohol and Drug Information, P.O. Box 2345, Dept. NAPS, Rockville, MD 20852; or call (301) 458-2600.

DID YOU KNOW?

By Ann C. Grandjean, Ed.D. Director of The International Center For Sports Nutrition

• Approximately 15 percent of the calories of the average American diet comes from protein. 12% is the recommended allowance level. What may be surprising to some is that proteins are not the most efficient source of energy.

• There's no evidence that extra protein intake enhances athletic performance, supplies extra energy or increases muscle mass.

• While protein is a major component of all body tissue including muscle, unneeded or extra protein is in fact stored as body fat, as are all extra calories consumed.

• If not enough carbohydrates are ingested, the body will convert protein for energy, but carbohydrates are more easily utilized.

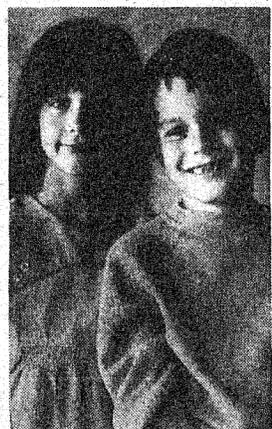

• Only proper training increases the size of a muscle. An athlete may need to slightly increase protein intake if he or she is large enough and

The most magnificent carpet ever made was the Spring carpet of Khusraw made for the audience hall of the Sassanian palace at Ctesiphon, Iraq. It was about 7,000 square feet of silk and gold thread, encrusted with emeralds.

The training is intense enough to add pounds of pure muscle a week. For further information on sports nutrition, write to ICSN, 502 S. 44th St. Suite 3012, Omaha, Neb. 68105.

Homemaking Trends

It is estimated that nearly 80% of U.S. households will have a microwave oven this year. This versatile appliance has captured the hearts of homeowners because of its quick cooking capability and easy operation.

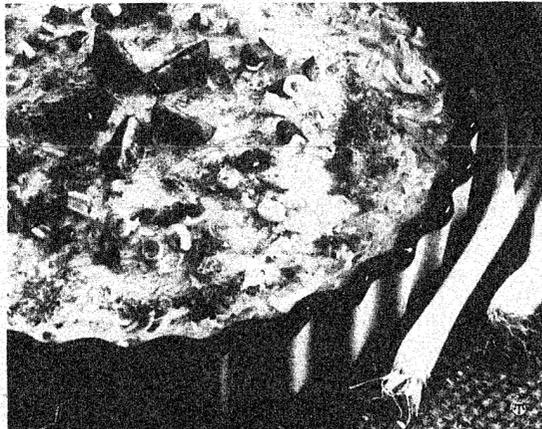

One of the best features a microwave oven offers is easy cleanliness. A simple wipe-up with a soft cloth or sponge takes care of most spatters. But, even more important than just keeping the appliance looking nice, is the fact that frequent cleaning also helps ensure the best cooking performance.

According to KitchenAid home economists, food soils in the oven absorb microwave energy that should be used to cook the food. In addition, unpleasant odors may develop if food soils build up on the interior surfaces. The home economists suggest you keep a roll of paper towels handy near the oven to wipe the oven's interior when you notice a spillover. If more than a quick wipe-up is needed, use a soft cloth dipped in mild detergent and rinse with warm water. For stubborn soils, boil a cup of water in the oven for two or three minutes. The steam will soften the soil for easy removal.

Search Underway For Child Heroes

That's how Webster's Dictionary defines a "hero." With this in mind, Hasbro, Inc. the world's largest toy company and maker of the classic hero action figure G.I. Joe, has begun a search for children who are real life heroes.

If you know a child who has performed a deed that showed courage and compassion, such as saving a life, performing community service for the poor or elderly, obtaining personal achievement in the face of unusual circumstances, or helping other individuals attain personal goals - he or she could be one of the "Real American Heroes" recognized in this nationwide search.

In 1987, the 10 national award recipients of the "G.I. Joe Search For Real American Heroes" were honored by President Reagan in a special White House ceremony and at an awards dinner with congressional representatives and other dignitaries.

This year, Hasbro, Inc. is conducting the second "G.I. Joe Search For American Heroes." Nominations are now being accepted for children, ages 5 through 12, who have performed noteworthy deeds within their communities.

"The G.I. Joe Search For Real American Heroes" is our way of acknowledging and honoring those children who have performed heroic deeds which often go unrecognized," says Wayne Charness, Associate Vice President of Hasbro.

One award recipient from each state will receive the official G.I. Joe Real American Hero medal. From the state award recipients, 10 national award recipients (and one adult each) will be selected to receive a trip to our nation's capitol where they will visit historic and heroic sites and be honored at various VIP awards ceremonies.

Parents, teachers, clubs and others may submit entries with a brief paragraph, up to 500 words, describing the child's heroic deed. If available, the deed, which must have occurred after January 1, 1988, should be documented by a witness account, newspaper clipping or radio/television transcript.

If you know a child who is a Real American Hero, send your nominations to: The G.I. Joe Search For Real American Heroes, 225 Park Avenue South, 17th Floor, New York, NY 10003. All nominations must be received no later than July 15, 1989.

Safety Tips For Operating Outdoor Power Equipment

Yard And Garden Safety Is Always In Season

Over 67% of American households own at least one piece of outdoor power equipment, be it grass trimmer, power blower, chain saw, lawn mower or other type of unit. But too many people have a cavalier attitude when operating outdoor power equipment, as evidenced by the over 200,000 power equipment-related injuries that the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission estimates occur annually.

When operating hand-held outdoor power equipment, safety should be of paramount importance in all seasons, from spring and summer grass trimming to autumn leaf clearing to winter wood cutting.

Seven Basic Safety Procedures

Surveys indicate that only 4% of outdoor power equipment users consistently practice all of these basic safety procedures recommended by manufacturers:

- Keep hands and feet away from moving parts.
- Operate equipment carefully.
- Handle gasoline cautiously.
- Clear the work area of people, pets, debris and obstacles before operating the equipment.
- Keep all shields and safety devices in place.
- Always wear gloves, goggles, work shoes, and snug-fitting clothing.
- Read the owner's manual thoroughly.

Trimmer Safety

Maintaining a clean, manicured edge along sidewalks, around trees and near flower beds and clearing tall weeds and grasses has become much easier with the development of power string trimmers. However, the nylon line spins at a great speed, so these safety precautions should be taken:

The Reciprocator reduces the risk of injury while trimming.

- Before trimming, clear away all debris that could become a flying projectile if it comes into contact with the line.
- Never operate the unit near power lines or electric cords.
- Avoid contact with the line while it is spinning.
- Never use the trimmer when bystanders are present.

Power Blower Safety

More and more homeowners are turning away from rakes to power blowers to clear away grass, leaves and other debris. While power blowers may look innocent, they can be dangerous if operated incorrectly.

• Never point the nozzle in the direction of bystanders. In fact, it is best to clear away all bystanders before using the blower.

• Most cleanup jobs can be done at half throttle, which minimizes the risk of creating fast-moving debris that could cause an injury or damage property.

• Never change blower attachments while the blower is running.

Chain Saw Safety

There is a rugged mystique attached to chain saws, but users should adhere to these chain saws safety tips:

- Check the work area so that the chain will not touch anything except the wood to be cut.
- Check the chain's tension and sharpness only when the unit is not running and make adjustments when necessary.
- Check for any damage to the guide bar.
- Check that the handle is clean and dry.
- Place the saw on the ground to start it. Never start the saw on your leg or knee.
- Do not carry the chain saw while the blade is in motion.
- Shut the engine off before setting the chain saw down.
- When transporting the chain saw, use the appropriate guide bar cover.

Q. Can I claim my ex-wife as an exemption for that part of 1988 in which we were still married?

A. No. Your marital status at the end of the year determines your filing status. You may deduct alimony if it was paid under a written separation agreement, even though no court decree has been obtained.

Q. I have several U.S. Savings Bonds and have elected to defer reporting the interest income from these bonds until they mature. Can I now change this policy and start reporting some of the interest income?

A. You might be able to, but you'll first have to get permission from the Commissioner of the Internal Revenue Service.

Q. My children are five and seven years old. Must I report their Social Security numbers on my tax return to claim as dependents?

A. Yes. The tax law requires parents apply for and receive Social Security numbers for children five or older.

Q. What's the standard mileage rate for cars used for business in 1988?

A. It's 24 cents a mile for the first 15,000 miles and 11 cents a mile thereafter. The rate per mile for charitable work is 12 cents, and 9 cents is allowed for medical transportation.

Whon News

By Mrs. Tom Rutherford

I have been thinking it would be easy to write about our annual picnic at Whon Saturday, April 1. Seems as time has arrived, it is hard to get into the right words to write. Will say we had a nice picnic, a large crowd, lots of food and seems everyone enjoyed themselves. Neighbors glad to meet neighbors, and friends of yesteryears seemed glad to see each other at this time. Our crowd seemed to be larger than usual, for which we are grateful. Ones of the community want to "Thank" each and every one who assisted in any way (if no other than your presence) to make the picnic a success. The ones who helped to prepare for the ones who at this time live long distance realize their efforts are not in vain when our friend arrive to enjoy the picnic with us. As we always say, would be not a very large attendance would only the ones in our community.

We missed those who usually attend and again this year we report those who were here for their first. And we did have some here for the first time. A Big Thanks to Randel Lovelady of Brownwood, who was unable to be here on Saturday, but he drove over Friday afternoon following a days work and brought his generator and with the help of others prepared the lights for the night. Again, thanks to Mr Zake McCreary for getting the meat together again for us. Sorry health conditions kept him from attending Saturday. When we try to thank every one or mention the names we usually leave some one out. Present during the night and preparing the meat were Don Bible, Grahm Fitzpatrick, Tommy Stansberry, Loyd Rutherford, Amon Otts and possibly others were at camp during the night. If we fail to get your name, Thanks anyway. Thanks to ones who assisted in cleaning the grounds. Also to Don and Wanda Bible, Loyd Rutherford and Floyd Morris for getting benches and tables back to the Community center. Was good seeing Mr and Mrs Cleburn Stanly, their two daughters and husbands. Several of the Bingham boys who were little boys and lived here, also Rev. and Mrs Howard Smith and daughter. Rev Smith, I really think, was born and raised here until marriage. He has retired from the ministry and he and wife live in Abilene. Was great to have Rev. Howard Smith "Give Thanks" at the noon hour.

I do have those who tell me they love to read where people come from to attend our Whom picnic. Here goes! Abilene, Amarillo, Bangs, Belton, Brady, Blanket, Brownsfield, Brownwood, Coleman, Cross Plains, Dalhart, Fort Worth, Garland, Granbury, Grand Prairie, Houston, Kilgore, Kelleen, Knox City, Longview, Lubbock, McCamey, Merkle, Monohan, Rising Star, Rockwood, Round Rock, San Angelo, Santa Anna, Snyder, Staton, Sweetwater, Temple, Willis and Zephyr. "Our Best To You!"

Mr and Mrs Floyd Morris were in Kerrville to the Veterans Hospital last Tuesday for Mr Morris to see his doctor. Glad to report he is feeling better.

Mr and Mrs Wayne and Pat Smith were guest of Mr and Mrs George Daniel Wheatly Saturday night following the picnic and Mrs May McFarlin joined them for the night. Wayne is Mrs McFarlins nephew, and the son of Mrs McFarlins brother, Mr and Mrs Carl Smith.

Mr and Mrs Darwin Lovelady and Juanita Minica visited with Mr and Mrs Wayne Baher and Oleta Moore of Lake Brownwood and also with Mr and Mrs A.L. Minica of Blanket during the past week.

Mr and Mrs Amon Otts and Yancy visited her parents, Mr and Mrs Leon and Billy Griffin of Gouldbusk area on Wednesday and enjoyed a birthday supper for Mrs Otts brother, Bryan Griffin.

Mr and Mrs Glen Bush and daughter-in-law Mrs Joe Bush and children of Brownwood and Mrs Barbara Morgan and daughter Lorraine and a friend of Fort Worth, visited with Mr and Mrs Floyd Morris Saturday afternoon after attending the picnic. Mrs Barbara Morgan and daughter have moved to Fort Worth where she is employed. Mrs Darwin Lovelady visited her sister, Mrs Elva McDaniel in Brownwood Wednesday afternoon.

Little Mr Yancy Otts was with his grandparents Mr and Mrs Leon and Billy Griffin from Friday to Monday. His parents were ill over the week end but report they are feeling better today (Monday).

Mr and Mrs Floyd Morris had their grand children Lejae, Janet Jeffery and Jennifer Morris over the week end. Mrs Morris and Janet drove to Brownwood Sunday afternoon and met Mrs Jamie Lee Morris whose daughter Lejae returned home. Janet Morris visited Thursday and Friday with her parents, Mr and Mrs Jamie Lee Morris at DeLeon.

Mrs May McFarlin and Mrs Birdie Drove to Coleman Monday afternoon.

My daughter, Mrs Bob Smith of Abilene was with me from Thursday night to Sunday morning. Her family joined us here on Saturday. Also other family members here were Mr and Mrs Hilary Rutherford of Coleman, Loyd Rutherford and Mrs Bobby Boatright and girls of Brownwood.

Mr Joe Floyd Morris of Oklahoma City was with his parents, Mr and Mrs Floyd Morris from Tuesday afternoon to Thursday afternoon.

Mr Darwin Lovelady visited with his aunt, Mrs Myrtle Robertson at Ranger Park Nursing Home Thursday afternoon.

Mr and Mrs Amon Otts and Yancy were transacting business in Coleman on Friday. And a Big Thanks to Mr and Mrs Amon Otts for furnishing the ice for the picnic Saturday. I understand they fur-

Car Care Corner

Clearing Your Car's Clogged Air Filter

When your nose gets plugged up, you find it difficult to breathe. You wheeze. You gasp. You sniff. You hiss. You feel miserable.

Your automobile cannot experience such human feelings as being miserable, but when that car's "breathing" passages are plugged, it can wheeze, and sniff, and gasp for air.

The air filter on your car might be compared with the human nose, according to Larry Koles, manager of technical services at Champion Spark Plug Company. It is through this passage that the vital air flows. If clogged, all other functions become less efficient, and if bad enough can stop other actions altogether.

"Replacing your vehicle's air filter at the start of cold weather might be as prudent as putting on a heavier coat and hat in winter to prevent a head cold," Koles said.

Vehicle studies have disclosed that more than one out of three cars on the road are running with air filters dirty enough to affect the car's performance.

The average passenger car's engine gulps up to 10,000 gallons of air for every gallon of gasoline it burns in the combustion chambers, the Champion technician said. That's 10,000 gallons of air that contains dust, dirt, road grit, and other contaminants that are virtually invisible, but nevertheless abrasive.

When the air filter is blocked, the engine actually begins gasping, or wheezing, for more air. It runs richer, or acts as if the choke were nished ice the past year which I did not know.

Betty Bearden of Brownwood visited with Mrs Darwin Lovelady and also her mother Juanita Minica in Santa Anna during the past week.

Your car may "breathe" easier with a clean air filter.

on. This means fuel economy is reduced, and if left in this condition long enough, the spark plugs may begin misfiring, causing additional starting and performance problems. Also, the plugged air filter results in higher emissions, or air pollution, spewing from your tailpipe.

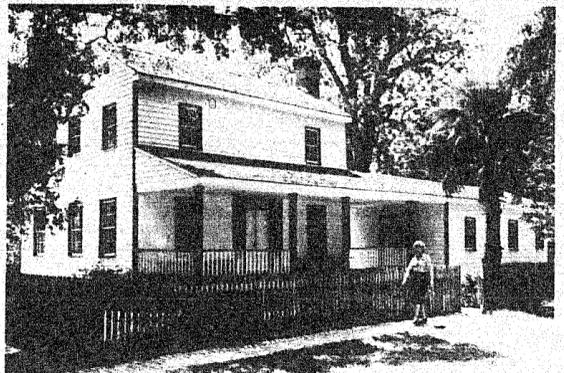

Most auto manufacturers recommend changing air filters at about 7,500 miles. If you drive in dusty areas such as on unpaved roads, the filters should be changed more frequently.

Champion, which markets a full-line of air filters, recommends that the air filter be checked, and if necessary, replaced prior to winter driving.

Most air filters are relatively easy to remove and examine, Koles said. After taking it from the car, hold it up to the light. If you cannot see light through it, the filter should be replaced.

Photocopy Tax Forms At Library

A reproducible federal income tax forms package, Publication 1132, which contains over 90 of the most commonly used federal income tax forms, schedules and instructions (which can be photocopied), is available at most neighborhood libraries. Many libraries stock the most often used tax forms and schedules, including the Form W-4. Check with your local library.

Beaumont, in Southeast Texas, was settled in the early 1800's by French and Spanish fur trappers and explorers who traded in the area. In 1845, John J. French built this frame building which served as a trading post and tannery. Today it is a museum of pioneer days with antique furnishings, clothing, and household utensils of the period. The Beaumont Heritage Society restored, and now operates the French Trading Post. Tourism Division, TX Dept. of Commerce photo.

Trickham News

By Mrs. O.R. Boenicke

We had a big day at Trickham Sunday. The Annual Cemetery Meeting was held. There was a big crowd here, lots of kind folks and friends we don't see very often. A big dinner was held at the community center. There were 200 or more here.

At the business meeting, Lou Vaughn and Rankin McIver were put back in. We had a special song by Chris Henderson and Orabeth McIver. George Haynes, our president had charge of the meeting and he did good.

Annelle Clark, my cousin, came and took me to the meeting.

Visitors with Rankin and Natalie McIver, Phil Johnson and Lola and Ethel Johnson, Sandra and Gene Allen, Roy Miller, Sherrie Blake and Jim sister and Joyce and Phil, they all visited after the meeting.

I was sorry to hear Carrie Stacy fell and broke her hip. She is in the Brownwood Hospital.

The 84 party was held Thursday night. There were 21 present and all had a good time. Edna Laughlin was hostess.

Visitors with Mary Lea Mitchell over the week end were Lea and Loyd Mock and family from Post and Betty and Damon Miller and family from Austin.

Mary Ola and Elmer Woods visited Lou Vaughn Saturday evening. George and Goldie Haynes visited Sunday evening.

OUR FISH & WILDLIFE

FACTS FROM THE DEPT. OF THE INTERIOR
U.S. FISH AND WILDLIFE SERVICE
Waterfowl For The Future

Reduced numbers of species such as mallards, black ducks and pintails are of special concern to conservationists.

They're for the birds: Concerned Americans, that is, who are working to ensure the survival of North America's waterfowl and other bird and animal species.

In our modern world, this precious natural heritage needs human help to survive and flourish. Numbers of some of the most popular duck species are significantly lower than ten years ago. Millions of acres of wetlands and other vital habitat for ducks and geese have already been lost.

The loss of the wetlands has far reaching effects. Wetlands are important nesting and foraging ground for birds, small mammals and invertebrates, and spawning areas for many important fish and shellfish. They also serve as storage areas for floodwater and buffers to storms, erosion and sedimentation.

Fortunately, there is still time to save the wetlands and North America's waterfowl. U.S. and Canadian wildlife biologists have outlined what needs to be done in a bold new conservation plan: The North American Waterfowl Management Plan. It provides a broad framework for restoring waterfowl population by the year 2000. "We can no longer afford these losses," says Frank Dunkle, director of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. "We must fight hard to save the wetlands."

Work has already started to preserve and restore key habitat areas across the United States and

The beautiful white-tail deer is another species dependent upon abundant wetland areas.

Canada that are essential to saving waterfowl and many other kinds of fish and wildlife. Federal, state, and local government agencies, private conservation groups, and industries have joined together to carry out this important task.

There is much you can do to help as well. You can buy Federal Duck Stamps, whether you hunt waterfowl or not. The money buys wetlands for the National Wildlife Refuge System.
